GARNER IS ROOSEVELT'S RUNNING MATE

Lake Cisco Mecca of Fourth of July Crowds Tomorrow

REVUE, WATER MEET, ORATORS WILL FEATURE

Tomorrow Cisco will be a focal point of July Fourth interest for this section of the state with a program ranging from political debates to a bathing revue and including a variety of entertainment features popularly associated with the great American holiday.

The scene of the picnic and celebration will be the parks and swimming pool below the big dam at Lake Cisco.

The celebration will begin in the morning with a band concert by the Lobo band, directed by G. W. Collum followed by announcements of county and district candidates for public office and then by addresses by a number of prominent state and congressional candidates, concluding with a two-hour debate between Tom Blanton, congressman from the 17th Texas district and Joe H. Jones, Eastland county district attorney who is seeking his place.

George Armstrong, of Dallas, candidate for governor has been added to the list of speakers, it was announced. He will probably be heard during the morning.

Bathing Revue
A baseball game in the afternoon and the Oil Belt Bathing revue will be other features on the program that has been prepared under the auspices of the Cisco chamber of commerce.

The bathing revue, featuring a score of beautiful young women from as many cities and towns in this section of the state will begin at 9 o'clock in the evening, following a band concert at 8 by Mr. Collum's Lobo high school band.

The revue is under the direction of the Lake Cisco Amusement company and the girls will parade before the stands upon a decorated platform to be erected over the waters of the large swimming pool. Floodlights from the roof of the big pavilion will play upon the scene.

The girls will be honored at a dance in the pavilion afterward.

"Miss Cisco"

Miss Zona Miller, representing the Southern States Finance corporation, was awarded the title of Miss Cisco and the right to represent this city in the Oil Belt revue in contest with six other girls in the pre-revue Thursday evening at the lake.

Miss Miller will represent Cisco at the Mineral Wells revue Monday afternoon, returning to participate in the Oil Belt revue Monday evening.

Miss Evelyn Blazek took second place. Other contestants were Misses Joudre Armstrong, Florence Jensen, Lucille Jensen, Virginia Buris and Dell Frances Miller. Judges were Mr. and Mrs. Abner Mayhew, Dallas; Mrs. Rogers, Los Angeles, and Miss Frances Connelly, MacGregor, Texas.

Swimming Contests

During the afternoon the first Oil Belt A. U. swimming meet will take place at the swimming pool under the auspices of the Texas division of the A. A. U. W. F. Jacoby, Dallas secretary of the Texas division of the A. A. U., or one of his representatives will personally conduct the tournament.

Entrants from swimming clubs and from many towns in this section are slated to contest for the 13 medals and the 26 other awards that will be offered. Manager E. B. Butts, of the amusement company, said.

The speaking from the platform to be erected in the Lions-Rotary park by P. L. Ullom, of the Burton-Lingo lumber company, will present such figures as Tom Hunter, candidate for governor; Julien C. Hyer, president of Lions International and candidate for congress-at-large; C. V. Terrell, candidate for re-election as chairman of the railroad commission; Clem Calhoun, candidate for attorney-general; and Lee Satterwell, opponent of Terrell, as well as those already mentioned.

Band Concerts

It will begin in the morning with a band concert by the Lobo Band directed by Mr. Collum, at 10 o'clock. An intermission for picnic lunches to be spread under the groves of the

The name of the institution has been changed from Randolph college to Randolph Junior college.

RED SOX AND ALL-STARS IN 3-GAME SERIES

This afternoon the Red Sox will open a three game series with the Ft. Worth All-Stars at 2:30. A double-header will be played this afternoon and the last game will be played Monday afternoon starting at 4 o'clock. The All-Stars are bringing to Cisco the strongest combination of amateur players that can be secured from the various teams of Cowntown. Included in their lineup will be a Class A pitching staff consisting of Sweet, knuckleball twirler who pitched a one-hit game to shut out the Red Sox last year 1-0. Moody, A. & M. College pitcher who has twice defeated the locals; Leisinger, a former Western League hurler will be making his first appearance in Cisco. Connolly, ex T. C. U. baseball and basketball star will be ready in case any of the other three run into trouble. Paschall, star infielder will cover short with Flemiken, All-American football star on second. Pug Carelon, brother of the famous Tex Carelon of Houston and St. Louis fame will do the receiving. Other men of equal ability will complete the line-up.

Manager Perry has added two to his twirling staff and outside of those men the Cisco line-up will be the same that defeated Magnolia of Ft. Worth last Sunday. Fans are promised three games of bang-up baseball.

Admission prices will be twenty-five cents to everyone and a large crowd is anticipated with Coleman, Rising Star, Eastland, Ranger and Baird sending large delegations over.

FLEMINGTON JURY FINDS CURTIS GUILTY

FLEMINGTON, N. J. July 2. — A verdict of guilty was returned today in the case of John Hughes Curtis, Norfolk boat builder who was tried for obstructing justice in the Lindrogh kidnaping investigation.

The jury reached its verdict after four hours and five minutes deliberation. Judge Adam Robbins was recalled from his home to receive the verdict of the jury of seven men and five women.

The bell on the 102-year-old courthouse was rung to indicate the jury ready to report. Curtis was brought in from a grand jury room by the sheriff.

The verdict was returned at 2:42 p. m. Judge Robbins had instructed the jurors that in order to find Curtis guilty as charged they would have to accept the evidence that he had been in actual contact with the kidnapers and slayers of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr. Otherwise, the judge said, it would be impossible to find that he had obstructed the hunt for those who perpetrated the crime on last March 1.

Judge Robbins deferred sentence until July 11. Curtis threw up his hands in a gesture of despair. The sheriff tapped him on the shoulder and led him away to jail.

The penalty of Curtis' crime is three years in prison or $1,000 fine or both. Miss Leila Alpaugh, forewoman who has become a bride since the trial began announced the verdict. When asked if the jury had reached a decision, she replied: "We the jury in the case of the state versus John Hughes Curtis find the defendant guilty."

"Must Be Roosevelt"

Judge John E. Mack of New York is here shown in a striking closeup as he spoke from the convention platform, nominating the governor of his state for the party's candidacy for president. "The candidate of this convention shall be, must be, and will be Franklin Delano Roosevelt," said Judge Mack, and the demonstration was on.

FIRE DEPT EQUIPS ITS CLUB ROOM

The Cisco fire department is gradually making a portion of the new quarters of the department, in the building just across the alley from the rear of the city hall, into a model club for the members of the department. Until recently checkers and domino tables were the only recreational facilities available but recently a pool and billiards table has been added. The boys provided the equipment themselves, paying for it out of their own pockets.

THIRD WEEK OF REVIVAL IS BEGUN TODAY

The congregation of the First Baptist church enters the third week of a series of revival meetings this morning. W. V. Pond, state Baptist evangelist, Dallas, has been leading the local forces in their united effort for the past two weeks. His untiring work, his condemnation of evil, and his fearless spirit have won the admiration of the many who have followed him through the services. There have been 38 additions to the church to date besides a number of others who have professed faith. Some of the latter will probably unite with other local bodies.

The day will begin with regular Sunday school study in all departments. The evangelist will speak at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. The B. T. S. will meet at the regular hour, 6:45 p. m.

"We desire," said the pastor, E. S. James, "that every person shall put this meeting first, throughout this last week. There is much to be done. Many souls are lost in Cisco, and it behooves us to be very much about our Father's business while the opportunity is here."

TORRENTIAL RAINS FLOOD SOUTH TEXAS

KERRVILLE, July 2. — A 12-inch cloudburst along the upper reaches of the Guadalupe river marooned two youths in a tree today and caused $300,000 damage to low-land property. Reports from San Antonio that five persons had been drowned in the river could not be verified immediately. The boys were rescued Saturday afternoon unharmed after a long battle with the torrent.

Hall Prior, 16, and Cooper Fletcher, 17, were the youths marooned. Prior climbed the tree when the rushing water trapped him as he was rounding up horses in the river bottom.

Searchlights were turned on him and hundreds of people gathered along the banks but were powerless to aid. Early today his friend, Fletcher, jumped into the torrent, 25 feet higher than normal, and swam with a water-proof bag of food to Prior's precarious perch.

Thirty or 40 houses in the bottom section of the town were washed away, but apparently without loss of life. The water was receding at noon today.

Warned several hours in advance, most residents were able to take their belongings as well as themselves to higher ground.

FLAGMEN WARN MOTORISTS

AUSTIN, July 2. — Flagmen were stationed at strategic points on state highways in south and southwest Texas today to warn motorists from attempting to pass flooded pits. Eighteen inches of rain had fallen at Kerrville in 26 hours. Unofficial reports to J. B. Early, state highway maintenance engineer, said low points in state highways in that area were submerged by 20 to 25 feet of water.

UVALDE THREATENED BY RIVER RISE

UVALDE, July 2. — Swollen far out of banks by a torrential rain estimated at 13 inches since midnight last night the ordinarily dry Llena river today threatened Uvalde. Street were flooded and although no casualties had been reported firemen were called upon to rescue the occupants of several houses.

All of the three railroads serving Uvalde have suspended service due to flood damage.

EIGHT INCHES AT BRADY

BRADY, July 2. — Rainfall estimated at eight inches today washed out several yards of Frisco tracks and disrupted service from Fort Worth for several hours.

APPEALS FOR AID OVER RADIO

HOUSTON, July 2. — Radio appeals for aid saying at least 40 families were destitute and some lives were feared lost were received today from Legion, flood-swept American Legion tubercular camp near Kerrville, by E. M. Flake over his short-wave station, W5WL.

MAROONED AT FREDERICKSBURG

J. B. Hunter, Daily News shop foreman who is on a few days vacation with his family, telegraphed friends here Saturday that his party was marooned by high water at Fredericksburg. The message said they hoped to leave that place tomorrow. They are en route to Houston.

Three Dances on Lake Program

Three dances are offered at Lake Cisco over the week-end, terminating in a Fun and Feature dance honoring bathing revue entrants Monday evening.

The first was a novelty dance Saturday evening at 9 o'clock. Sunday evening at 11 o'clock there will be a free orchestra concert with a German dance beginning at 12:15 a. m. Monday. The dance Monday evening will end the series.

Ray Judia and his Personality Orchestra will play.

Demonstrating After Roosevelt Nomination.

As New York delegate John E. Mack placed the name of Franklin D. Roosevelt before the Chicago convention as candidate for president, Roosevelt delegates let loose their ovation.

Big banners bearing Roosevelt's picture appeared, and a wild parade was started through the aisles on the convention floor. This picture shows the demonstration at its height.

Article Helped Texans to Vote Right On Repeal Says 81-Year-Old Ciscoan

W. H. Kittrell, Sr., Cisco claims that the following article written for the express benefit of the Texas delegation to the democratic national convention at Chicago, and published in the Chicago Tribune made a great deal to do with the Texas delegation's stand on the repeal issue. Mr. Kittrell, pastor of the Church of the Living God, is a forthright opponent of the 18th amendment, which he declares violates the states' rights fundamental doctrine of the democratic party.

OBLIGING A TEXAN.

CISCO, Texas, June 21.—Will you grant a little space to an eighty-one year of age Texan to express his views to the democrats now assembled in your city to determine the momentous questions which now confront this nation?

His forbears first came to America in 1640 when George Kittrell landed on Edenton, an island off the North Carolina coast; removed to the mainland and built his house next spring, "Kittrell spring," bearing his name, and now Kittrell, N. C. In 1805 his father, P. W. Kittrell, was born there, and was at 25 years elected to the legislature as a democrat; removed to Alabama, and at 40, as a democrat, represented that state in the legislature; thence to this state (Texas) and at 49 elected to the legislature as a Jeffersonian democrat. This state has sent to Chicago a (so-called at least) democrat delegation of which my son, W. H. Kittrell, Jr., is secretary.

What will this convention do? Will they uphold Jeffersonian principles or as the republicans did, "dussey-foot"? Will they, as Jefferson did, fight centralization of power in Washington, put an unequivocal plank for repeal of the eighteenth amendment in their platform, or make a cowardly surrender of the rights of the states, as their opponents did?

If they do then, as a great Texas senator, Joseph W. Bailey, said, "It is suicidal to our government to forsake these rights and to abandon our fundamental principles of government."

He voluntarily retired from the senate with this explanation: "This sentiment (of centralization) is now in the ascendancy, even in my own party; and knowing I cannot overthrow it, I cannot bear to sit here and see our representatives commit national suicide." So in private life again he engaged, to the last lamenting conditions in the party and government.

Were Joe Bailey there to dictate the platform it would be unequivocally for the rights to be restored to the state of which it was robbed by the eighteenth amendment.

Texas democrats, will you have the courage to do what that greatest of Texans would counsel? If you do, victory is yours. If not, this republic is in danger of being destroyed by the cowardice of her children. A few days will give the answer.

W. H. KITTRELL, SR.

NOMINATION AT CHICAGO UNOPPOSED

CONVENTION STADIUM, Chicago, July 2. — John N. Garner, Texas, speaker of the house of representatives, was nominated today as the democratic candidate for the vice presidency.

A democratic national convention surging on a wave of enthusiasm that followed Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt's sweeping victory on the fourth presidential nomination ballot last night, swept the doughty Texan into the place of Roosevelt's running mate with a shout of acclamation after Garner's only opponent, Gen. Matthews Tinley, of Iowa, had withdrawn.

Garner was offered to the convention by Rep. John McDuffie of Alabama, who addressed the convention shortly after it had reconvened at 1:54 p. m.

"The almost unanimous vote that nominated Gov. Roosevelt here last night shows the republican error in predicting disunion among the democrats," McDuffie said. He predicted victory in November.

"Whenever the people have been in distress they have always turned to the democrats—Jefferson, Jackson, Cleveland and Wilson—for relief," McDuffie continued.

"In almost every crisis the democratic party is called upon."

Secured Garner
New York seconded Garner's nomination while the organ roared through the vast and cheering stadium with "The Eyes of Texas."

At a press conference in Washington today noon the speaker indicated that he would accept the vice-presidential nomination. He had been offered to the convention as a presidential candidate in opposition to Roosevelt by both the Texas California delegates, who had instructions from the democrats of their states to back the speaker to the end. On the third ballot of an all-night session Friday Garner picked up 11 Oklahoma votes to add to the 90 pledged him from California and Texas.

Friday afternoon Garner released his delegates who promptly went into the Roosevelt column. McAdoo's announcement of the California vote from the platform as the roll call of states began Friday evening, started a band wagon rush to the

Seek Gang of Mexican Bandits

MERCEDDES, July 2. — Texas and Mexican authorities are seeking a gang of seven Mexican bandits who crossed the Rio Grande and looted a service station and store at Santa Maria, a few miles southwest of here recently. The same gang is believed responsible for looting of a store at La Feria few months ago.

At Santa Maria, the bandits surprised "Dad" Taylor as he was closing for the night and at the point of a gun forced him to help load practically his entire stock of goods into sacks and march with them as far as the Rio Grande. The loot, merchandise and groceries valued at $500, was taken across the river near the village of La Palma.

Before leaving him the bandits stripped Taylor of most of his clothing, shoes, watch and $15 in cash. He wore his undershirt into strips with which he bound his feet to prevent them from the snags and made his way back to his store, two and a half miles away.

Taylor's daughter, asleep in a back room of the store, was not disturbed by the raiders and knew nothing of the affair until the return of her father.

CALIFORNIA CRUDE PRICE GIVEN A HIKE.

Dollar oil is back in the California fields. The price was boosted 25c a barrel by Standard Oil of California to a scale for crude oil ranging from 55c a barrel to $1.28. A San Francisco dispatch says that in the past others have followed the lead of the Standard and "indications were that they would join in raising the price of crude." California output was cut down to a daily average of 459,430 barrels last week. This is far under the allowable production, the lowest mark reached in years and represented less than half California's potential output. Also, the Standard of California has advanced the retail price of gasoline at all stations. Other major companies followed suit. Federal and state levies on gasoline makes it interesting all around for consumers. Well, why blame the companies? Why not place the responsibility where it belongs? "On existing economic conditions the nation over."

GEN. DAWES ON HIS BANKING JOB.

Gen. Charles Gates Dawes resumed chairmanship of the $28,000,000 Central Republic Bank and Trust company in the city of Chicago and in a single day saw its stock plunge from the $47 bid and $49 asked of the day previous to $1 bid and $4 asked. Then it was that Gen. Dawes had an inning. He announced that his bank was in an "impregnable cash position" through recent loans; that it was not going to be merged with the $75,000,000 Bank and Trust company; that the loans negotiated are for current requirements and to pay depositors and for the purpose of liquidation.

It is understood in Chicago banking circles the Central Republic asked and obtained the co-operation of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, New York correspondent banks, and four Chicago banks.

Even the big bankers of America have their own worries. Melvin W. Traylor had his other day. He is the president of two banks—a $35,000,000 bank and a $10,000,000 bank. Scandal-mongers, mischief makers regardless of consequences, started a campaign of whispering against his banks. Traylor is a financial gamecock. He faced the issue. He spiked the rumors. He did not employ the language of diplomacy. He drew his remarks from the vocabulary of "a fighting man in the streets." Well, the trouble makers were squelched and 24 hours later the Illinois delegation declared that the votes of the delegates would be cast on the first ballot for this former Texan who is president of two big banks and knows how to run them. A malicious liar has a bark as venomous as the teeth of a mad dog.

MURRAY AND THE PRO LAW.

Alfalfa William H. Murray, governor of Oklahoma, doesn't give a hang what happens to the pro laws or the proposals of their repealers. Oklahoma has constitutional prohibition. Oklahoma has a federal statute providing severe penalties under the following clause: "Introducing liquor into Indian territory." This federal law never has been repealed. It is almost as old as the two-thirds nominating rule. In bygone days it covered Oklahoma and the Indian territory. Amalgamation of the two territories into state of Oklahoma did not serve as a repealer. Violation of the musty old statute carries a maximum penalty of three years in prison and a $200 fine. Federal dry agents resurrected the statute. They made a series of raids in the oil city of Tulsa. They arrested 11 violators. A man and woman taken in had 50 quarts of bootleg. They bowed to the law. They were given the maximum of three years in prison and a $200 fine. All this is a reminder that Texans should not run amuck over repeal amendments or referendums in state or nation. Texas has constitutional prohibition. Texas has the Dean statute. It carries more severe penalties than the Indian Territory statute which has been resurrected by those responsible for the enforcement of the pro laws under the skies of Oklahoma. Constitutional prohibition isn't a statute. It required the work of years to place it in the constitution of Texas. Now how long will it take to vote it out of the constitution? It requires an anti-prohibition governor, an anti-prohibition senate and a repeal house to eliminate or abolish the Dean act. Why not get down to the acute economic issues and strive to do something "for all the people now on earth?"

Through the Editor's Spectacles

By GEORGE

City Comm'r Clements has seen to it that there won't be any dust fogging over the July Fourth holiday crowds tomorrow at Lake Cisco. The street department has given the zoo road and other thoroughfares at the lake a thorough oiling.

"I don't want Joe Jones or Tom Blanton to get any dust in their throats," he explained. "I want those fellows to have clear vocal organs so that they can pour it on and pour it on right. I've had to take my share of it and I want to see the other fellow get his believe me."

Through the mail this morning I received a newspaper, neatly wrapped and addressed from Alpine, Texas. I opened it, wondering for what reason I should be the recipient of such a piece of mail, and discovered heavy pencil marks emphasizing an article on the front page.

Now the sender of that mail implied compliment of my linguistic talents. He took it for granted that I could read Spanish. The masthead of the paper, as my limited knowledge of the Spanish language divulged, showed it to be "The Voice of Chihuahua." It proclaimed the sheet as a diary of information and the article marked for my attention had to do with the great satisfaction got out of the visit of some Texans to the city of Chihuahua.

Mexican reporting has as much regard for the facts as American reporting for, according to Leon Manner, who jabs the heathen tongue with as much facility as a parrot. It seems that the Texans got as much fun out of the visit as did the Mexicans obtain satisfaction in entertaining them. The entertainment is described in detail even to an instance where six visiting teachers having a wonderful time in front of a cafe, commandeered a one horse snay and whipped the startled horse up and down the street while the overloaded vehicle creaked, rattled, groaned and protested to the point of going to pieces.

I was puzzled why anyone should be so much interested in sending me an article dealing with the hospitality of the city of Chihuahua, until I suddenly remembered that Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Stamey have been visiting in Mexico.

Whether or not they were in the one-horse snay I, of course don't know, but the fact that I was mailed the Mexican paper containing the account indicates that at least there was a desire to establish the authentivity of the celebration.

Here's hoping that everybody has a wonderful time tomorrow. For the past year most of us have been about as glum as it is safely possible to be glum. There was some little relief from this disposition at Christmas time, but unfortunately the ideal spirit of Christmas has been commercialized to a point that we feel that the Yuletide isn't a happy occasion at all until we have spent a lot of money and incurred a lot of obligations which we spend the next year paying off. But a few nickels and a dime or two can make a wonderful July a large occasion. A nickel package of fire-crackers and a bottle of soda-pop is about all the equipment one needs to stage a real Fourth celebration. Entertainment is free, with politicians to go at each others throats and pretty girls to parade in beach costumes.

If we can go out to the lake tomorrow and really forget ourselves in a good time maybe the next day we can go back to the old job feeling a lot better. The democratic convention will be over by that time and there'll be nothing to interfere.

This was the origin of the salary to commissioners based on common labor plus the attendance allowance — On this same basis it would be today about $80.00 and with the cost of everything down over 50 per cent a man would be making more than I did at the $150.00. Mark you, we were in a period of heavy construction, opening streets, paving, laying sewer, and water mains, and building the dam. I would have at times 75 to 80 men at work. Not only did I see after my own department but assisted when and where I could when asked by the other department heads.

The commission debated on this question and Mayor Williamson made the remark, "It is alright to pay a practical man for service performed, but I fear some day the precedent will be abused."

To this remark I answered, any time the commission sees proper to dispense with my services they may do so.

I had no voice in voting unto myself a salary, only accepted the offer. So that is the beginning and how the first commissioner drew a salary — based on common labor plus the attendance fee.

Just a few words about the chamber of commerce as Herbert Hoover said about prohibition, it was "a noble experiment." A few of our noted business men who could see further into the future than some of us lesser lights, upon the death and burial of the citizens chamber of commerce conceived the great idea of a municipal chamber after much discussion and fair promises to bring factories and pay rolls to our fair city. I, with the other members, voted to give them the grand and glorious opportunity. They wanted only $25,000 a year to transform our little village into a great commercial manufacturing center. We granted the appropriation based on two mills on the taxable valuation. I made a remark that cost me my position, and have since been relegated to the backwoods.

Remark—"If you don't make a good showing and bring industries here I will fight to have you annulled." Where are the factories?

Where are the payrolls to show for the hundreds of thousands of dollars that went to the chamber of commerce?

Yes, a noble experiment it was. Just a word of comfort and sympathy to my old friend Bob Mancill in the sad disappointment he received by not being placed on the board of equalization.

Well, Bob, lots of us are out of jobs and don't know how we are going to come out of this Hoover prosperity. I have been promised jobs ever since I was defeated. I got to calling these promises "soothing syrup" and got a dose every now and then, so don't take anything to heart these days. Men do not know themselves. They are perplexed, knowing not what to do on account of the distress in the land. Be of good cheer. He who feeds the fowls of the air is able to take care of men. You are in better shape than men with children to take care of. J. B. BLITCH.

Did You Ever Stop to Think?

By EDSON R. WAITE Shawnee, Oklahoma.

A. C. Buss, publisher of the St. Marys, (Ohio) Leader, says:

That the people of a community that is sold on advertising usually have something worthwhile to expect. They are not backward in letting others know about it. If there is anything good to be shared, they are willing to share it with others. They let their light so shine that their neighbors about them may join in the benefits accruing therefrom. Considered in this way, advertising has an unselfish and altruistic purpose.

It stimulates trade and a stimulated trade is a blessing. It pops up circulation, the life-giving property to all well regulated systems of motivation. It is a doctor's prescription to keep the body healthy, so that the greatest efficiency might accede to the tasks undertaken.

Anything worth doing at all is worth doing well, and the greater the efforts towards tactful and methodical methods of sustaining the functional order of trade, the better will all fare. Inertia is disintegration and disintegration is death. The push required for the uplift of a prestrate form is an injection of vitality that will set the organs of life to natural office. A hypodermic injection of serum to help supply the sheens of resistance will help a lot. That serum is advertising.

When the gates of barter and trade are ajar, affording a ready exchange of merchandise at prices consistent with the times, results are far greater, even if returns are less, than if they were closed. Advertising keeps these gates ajar, beckoning all who enter into fields of action and life. To keep business active is tantamount to preserving the potentiality for endless possibilities. When business is performing in a natural way all out-lying dependencies are in harmony with it. We are linked together in a great totemic cosmos of inter-relationship. The one cannot thrive without the other thriving with him.

Business is dependent on the free interchange of commodity. We would never get anywhere by isolating ourselves from everyone else. The agency contributing to the happy condition of mutuality of consideration is performing a mission unattained by selfishness or greed and is ever watchful at the crossroads of public weal. That agency is advertising.

Letters From Our Readers

Editor Cisco Daily News:

After reading the controversy of the chamber of commerce and city commission I feel constrained to say a few words that may shed some light on this subject. In regard to salaries of commissioners I was the first one to draw a salary. In arriving at the compensation it was based on the superintendent's wages and the attendance fee which were respectively $125.00 and $20.00, a total of $145.00 per month; as the city had no car I was allowed $5.00 more, making a salary of $150.00 per month. Mind you, this was when common labor was $5.00 per day and teams $10.00 per day. I served 6 months without one cent of pay. Went out daily with the men and assumed all the responsibility.

I had no voice in voting unto myself a salary, only accepted the offer. So that is the beginning and how the first commissioner drew a salary — based on common labor plus the attendance fee. Just a few words about the chamber of commerce as Herbert Hoover said about prohibition, it was "a noble experiment." A few of our noted business men who could see further into the future than some of us lesser lights, upon the death and burial of the citizens chamber of commerce conceived the great idea of a municipal chamber after much discussion and fair promises to bring factories and pay rolls to our fair city. I, with the other members, voted to give them the grand and glorious opportunity. They wanted only $25,000 a year to transform our little village into a great commercial manufacturing center. We granted the appropriation based on two mills on the taxable valuation. I made a remark that cost me my position, and have since been relegated to the backwoods. Remark—"If you don't make a good showing and bring industries here I will fight to have you annulled." Where are the factories?

Sunday School Lesson

Moses' Childhood

Text: Ex. 2:1-10; Ac. 7:22 The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for July 3.

BEGIN HERE TODAY CHERY DIXON, pretty 19-year-old daughter of wealthy parents who lives with DAN PHILIPS, newspaper reporter.

she wore a shabby pair of shoes because they were comfortable. It was hard work ironing. She had finished three shirts and her shoulder ached.

"It's going to take my last cent," Dixie admitted matter-of-factly. "I've bought a new evening dress—white lace, don't you think that's pretty?"

WE KNOW CHEVROLETS—YOU KNOW US!

Right in the Swim

We heard a few days ago that a certain lady in this town called her husband a "blockhead." We asked him when he dropped in if it was true.

THE heat wave came. It arrived with scorching sun and days that seemed breathless from early morning until late at night.

The heat wave began the second week in July. The third week came and it had not diminished. The fourth week opened and still there was no rain, no breeze, no sign of cooler weather.

SHE felt something against her foot and looked down. Pinky, the kitten, had been lying at full length on the floor before the window.

Dixie dropped her bundles on the table. She wore a brilliant green silk sport dress, ruffled now and the worse for wear.

DAN telephoned later to say they had an invitation. Casey, the news editor, had rented a cottage at Willow Lake, 40 miles away.

With a sudden cry she put the iron on its stand. There on the sleeve of one of Dan's newest shirts was a yellow-brown scorched spot.

Roosevelt banner and swept the New York governor into the position, of standard-bearer with 945 of the 1,148 votes cast. Texas and Garner, McAadoo told the convention, were in thorough accord with the California action.

They Wanted Garner

Immediately it became known that the jubilant Roosevelt leaders wanted Garner as the logical running mate for their candidate, agreed in platform and principle, to sway the southern and western vote to the democratic cause, and provide a source of strength in quarters that were weakly favorable to the New York governor.

At his press conference prior to the vote today noon Garner told news representatives:

"I'm willing to serve my country to the limit of my capacity."

"Be sure and meet Al Smith," a person in the crowd that watched the take-off yelled.

"This is a perfect day," the governor explained as he posed for cameramen and the sound reel photographer.

"I am very happy going to Chicago and everybody knows the reason why."

HOLY ROSARY CHURCH

Mass will be at 9 a. m. by Rev. M. Collins. This is the Seventh Sunday after Pentecost and the Gospel read today is taken from St. Matthew VIII. 15-21. In this gospel we are told that Jesus said to his disciples, "Beware of false prophets, who come to you in the clothing of sheep, but inwardly they are ravening wolves." This applied to the false leaders in spiritual matters then and now; but we can also apply it in this country to the so-called politicians who make all sorts of promises when asking our votes but seem to forget what they promised when they are in power. Let us all in our own way pray on Monday, July 4th, that the spirit of Washington may descend on the country and give us leaders to all.

ENJOY A COOL KITCHEN ON HOT SUMMER DAYS

Modern Electric Cookery assures a cool, comfortable kitchen — even in the hottest weather. Perfect oven insulation keeps the heat in — none escapes into the kitchen. As a matter of fact, the heat is so effectively confined to its job of cooking that delicate flowers will thrive and bloom on the oven top!

Thus the modern Electric Range takes the unpleasantness out of warm weather cooking — And an accurate temperature control and an electric-timing device permit you to enjoy outdoor hours while your meals are cooking automatically. Whole meals are done to perfection without hours of watching and waiting!

In addition to these superlative hot-weather advantages, Electric Cookery produces more attractive, more tasty and more healthful meals. Meats are done to perfection, in their own juices! Vegetables are cooked the modern "waterless" way, with all the precious vitamins and minerals cooked in! Biscuits, bread and pastries are crisply and perfectly browned!

Why hesitate? You need the many time, money and health-saving advantages of the modern Electric Range. A trained representative will be happy to arrange a complete and interesting demonstration... and to show you how modern Electric Cookery pays for itself. Take advantage of our convenient payment plan... TODAY!
