MID-AIR NAVY PLANE CRASH TAKES 11 LIVES

Through the
Editor's Spectacles
By GEORGE

Connie Davis greeted a section to the local newspaper fraternity this morning with an unkind dig attributed to Sam Jones, famous evangelist of a generation ago who was noted for his ready repartee and his wit along with his ability to inspire sinners with the fear of God. Sam Jones' stories are still among the choicest morsels of the Americana of his day, and his genius in putting opponents in arguments to discomfiture commanded the admiration of friend and foe alike.

One evening at service he noticed a group of newspaper reporters at the front of the auditorium where he was speaking and greeted them with this sally:

"I've heard that newspapermen have two faces. That may be true and it may not be, but if it is and if I were you boys, I'd wear the other one."

I maintain that Jones' thrust is just as applicable to other professions as to the newspaper fraternity, because the ability to wear two faces is not an art on which the men who collect and print the news have a monopoly. But I'll bet it got the evangelist effective attention. He knew how to do it.

The significance of signals used by officials in football games were explained to members of the Rotary club today by Coach Petty. Petty was chairman. The club charges each chairman for the meals eaten by entertainers he presents, and Petty refused to secure outside talent, telling the members they could put up with him so he could save a dollar or so. And, he did right well by the assignment, presenting an interesting program and one that was educational in view of the great interest that football has attained.

Descriptions of the various formations used offensively and defensively in the game were very interesting. So few of the most ardent fans know anything about these formations that the finer points of the game are lost on them while boys, compelled to think instantaneously in terms of what they are to do under any one of a score of different situations, are often blamed unjustly for their failure to carry out assignments.

Two members were introduced. "Dizzy" Dean of the Merchants Fast Motor lines was one. Ralph Barton, director of diversified occupation at the high school until his promotion to a regional position in the state organization, was the other. C. C. Duff, who takes Mr. Barton's place in the Cisco system was a visitor as was V. A. Andrews, who assumes the principalship of the grammar school in Mr. Duff's stead.

Bureau Blames Gas Leak at New London

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—The bureau of mines today blamed a gas leak rather than seepage from surrounding lines or wells for the disastrous New London school explosion last March that claimed nearly 360 lives. The report said it was quite possible that the leakage had developed from a broken service connection.

Gets Fellowship

Rev. Elwin Skiles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Skiles of Cisco, who has been awarded a fellowship in church history at the Southern Baptist Theological seminary, Louisville, Ky. Mr. Skiles has completed his work for the degree of master of theology and is now at work upon his Ph. D. degree. Award of the fellowship means that he will spend three more years at the institution in advanced study. He is an assistant instructor there in addition to his other duties, which include the pastorate of a church near Louisville.

Small Business Men's Conference Adopts Program

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Delegates of "little business" adopted today over many shouted protests a program of advice to the Roosevelt administration which included the recommendation that the government supply financial aid by stimulating private credit.

Without a formal debate, a standing vote was taken by Chairman Fred Roth, Cleveland, despite the insistence by some that minority reports be heard and insistence by others that any contradictions between various recommendations should be composed.

Because of pressing business, a White House aide said the scheduled conference with the president this afternoon had been postponed until tomorrow.

The business conference finally was adjourned as the uproar continued.

During the pandemonium two delegates forcibly were tossed out of the auditorium in a vain effort to restore order.

Despite shouted protests, however, the conference adopted the reports of nine committees.

Father-in-Law of Boyce House Dies

FORT WORTH, Feb. 3 (AP)—Funeral services for C. S. Jamison, 63, former merchant at Gorman and Eastland, will be held Thursday at 3 p. m. in Normandie and burial will be in the family plot there.

Mr. Jamison died of a heart attack Tuesday night at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Eoyce House, 1410 Hurler Avenue. Mr. Jamison recently had made his home at San Angelo. He and Mrs. Jamison came here several months ago for a visit. Mr. Jamison, a native of Madison county, formerly was deputy sheriff of Eastland county and later was a peace officer in the Big Lake oil field.

Besides his wife and Mrs. House, he is survived by another daughter, Miss Mamie Pearl Jamison of Fort Worth, and two sons, W. F. Jamison of Lodi, and M. M. Jamison of Odessa.

COMMITTEE TO RULE ON CAGE CONTROVERSY

Decision on Carbon Game Due After Lobo-Eastland Go

The question of whether or not Cisco will be awarded the Eastland County Interscholastic league basketball championship without a play-off is due to be determined this evening at Eastland—provided that the Lobos defeat the Eastland Mavericks at Eastland in the final schedule game of their conference card.

After the game the disputed two points which will either give or lose to Cisco the decision in the Lobos' game with Carbon Tuesday night at Carbon, will be placed before the county executive committee for a ruling.

If the committee rules that Cisco won the game, it will give Cisco the clear title to the championship. If it rules that the Lobos won the game then the Lobos must meet Carbon in a play-off game. It may result that the committee will order the game played over, which would have the effect of giving Carbon opportunity to tie the Lobos for the title and, in that event necessitating a play-off.

At the Cisco gymnasium last night, the Lobo second string defeated the Moran high school team 32 to 21, various of the Cisco boys showing promise of developing into talented hardwood performers. Starting lineup for Cisco was Bailey at center, who scored eight points; Culp at forward, nine points; Bacon at forward, five points; Warren at guard, eight points and Burnsides at guard. Reames was a substitute, scoring one point.

Friday night both Lobo teams will see action against teams from Breckenridge on the local court. The first string teams meet at 7:30. Breckenridge showed strength recently in defeating the touted Cross Plains five 23 to 20.

District Meet for VFW To Be Held at Eastland

A committee to make preparations for a district-wide meeting of Veterans of Foreign Wars to be held in the court house at Eastland at 7:30 p. m. on February 16, was named at the meeting of the Cisco post last night. An outstanding speaker will be secured, it was announced.

V. O. Hatcher and K. K. White of Eastland, A. L. Clark of Cisco, H. H. Pullig of Gorman and J. M. Howell of De Leon were named on the committee. White will serve as chairman.

The meeting will be open to all ex-service men, regardless of their affiliations with any ex-service men's organization. It will be of special importance to those who do not belong to any such organization, it was announced.

Milton P. Herring was elected to membership in the Cisco post at the meeting last night.

ON RESCUE MISSION

MOSCOW, Feb. 3 (AP)—Dr. Otto J. Schmidt left Wednesday for Murmansk to take command of the expedition aboard the steamer Taimy to rescue the four Soviet scientists adrift in stormy Greenland sea on a cracking ice floe.

NEW HELIUM PLANT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Bureau of mines officials said Wednesday negotiations were under way for the purchase of a helium plant at Dexter, Kas. At present the federal government owns but one helium plant—that at Amarillo, Tex.

Scenes From the Mitcham and Son Ranch Where The First Annual Mitcham Auction Sale Will Occur Tuesday, February 8

Outstanding event in the beef cattle industry of this section this month will be the first annual auction of the Mitcham and Son ranch, 12 miles northwest of Cisco, which will take place on February 8. Twenty-eight bulls and 26 heifers will be offered for sale when Earl Gartin, auctioneer, picks up his hammer shortly after noon, following a beef barbecue which G. P. Mitcham, Sr., and G. P. Jr., will prepare for the hundreds of cattlemen expected to attend the selling event at the brand-new sale barn which has been built on the old Qualls ranch on the Katy railroad. If bad weather prevails, the Mitchams have arranged with the M. K. and T. railroad to stop its 11 a. m.

train of that day from Cisco at the ranch to accommodate buyers and also to halt its 4 p. m. train to Cisco to return these buyers to town.

Football Schedule to Be Made Sat.

Band Members Will Go to State Band Clinic

Director and Mrs. R. L. Maddox of the Lobo band will leave at 4:30 in the morning with 13 members of the band and several band parents for Fort Worth where they will attend a two-day state band clinic in charge of band directors of national recognition.

All contest music to be used this year will be played by a selected state band and the contest number for the state contest will be announced.

The party will return to Cisco Saturday night.

Members of the band going with the director and Mrs. Maddox were announced as:

Bobbie McWhorter, Clyde Hansen Isaacks, Margaret McDonald, Spurgeon Parks, Alton Lomax, Roy Little, Louise Lawson, Morris White, Glenn Boyd, Glenn Tableman, John James Haynie, Jesse Lelia Haynie and Billy Butts Wright.

Mrs. F. D. Wright and Rev. and Mrs. E. B. Isaacks will also go.

Mr. and Mrs. George Christie and small son, Joe, spent Wednesday in Breckenridge.

The executive committee of the Oil Belt Class A football district will meet at Abilene Saturday afternoon to plan the schedule for the 1938 football season, it was announced today.

One of the foremost issues expected to come before the committee at this session is the question of dividing the district into two regions, each with an independent schedule. Eastern area schools are clamoring for this division in order to relieve the membership of the excessively heavy conference schedule which they will otherwise be required to play.

Seeks Committee to Probe Monopolies

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Representative Dies of Texas, introduced a resolution for the creation of a congressional committee to investigate any existing monopolies in the United States and to recommend remedial legislations.

Sheriff's Son Killed by Freight Train

Heath Says Not Requested to Aid McDonald Get Job

AUSTIN, Feb. 3 (AP)—W. W. Heath, assistant attorney general until a few months ago, testified today that Tom C. Clark, Dallas, did not request him to help procure the receivership job for Land Commissioner William McDonald or anyone else.

Clark, now assistant United States attorney general, was Attorney General William McCraw's partner before McCraw took the office. His name has bobbed up occasionally in the current senate committee investigation of McDonald.

The committee, still unable to obtain the attendance of several witnesses, indicated it would call a long recess in the investigation later today or tomorrow.

Among those for whom the committee said it was searching was George Davison, Sr., of Eastland. E. D. David, vice president of the bank at Gorman in McDonald's home county, testified that the land commissioner had not had an account in his bank since 1932, didn't carry one in his wife's name and had no lock box.

Ten Mexican Planes To Scout Border

MEXICCO CITY, Feb. 3 (AP)—Ten Mexican army planes were sent today to watch for contraband shipments of arms recently reported by the government.

TWO BOMBERS COLLIDE WHILE ON SCOUT DUTY

Disaster, Worst in US History, Occurs in Rain Squall

SAN PEDRO, Feb. 3 (AP)—The death toll of the mid-air collision of two giant bombers—worst plane disaster in the American naval history—rose to eleven today as a search was made for the missing bodies of ten airmen. They were rescued from the water after the bomber 11-P-4 fell last night.

J. B. Hester, a radioman from San Diego, died aboard a hospital ship. Three of his companions were safe, seriously injured but expected to recover.

Three more of the bomber's crew and seven men from its sister bomber, 11-P-3, were lunted, but navy sources admitted there was no hope that they survived.

The bombers, scouting for a theoretical enemy, collided during a rain squall within view of maneuvering surface ships.

One of the bombers fell in flames.

Missing were: Lieut. Elmer Cooper, Erwin Koch, Maurice Fitzmaurice, George Griffin, Joe Walton, Paul Landgrebe, Julian Rawls, Lieut. Charleton Hutchins, Marion Woodruff and John Niedzweicki.

Lone Star Head Takes Issue With Comm'n Statement

DALLAS, Feb. 3—The statement of the Texas Railroad commission yesterday regarding authority of the commission to fix gas rates in incorporated cities and towns was termed "misleading and deceptive, and apparently issued for political purposes," by President L. B. Denning of the Lone Star Gas company. "This is political year," reminded Denning, "and the railroad commission is starting early to use the gas industry for its own political ends, since the gas industry is the only public utility in Texas under state regulation."

"We deny," he said, "that the railroad commission has the authority to exercise any original jurisdiction in incorporated cities and towns. Original jurisdiction over gas rates is vested in the cities and towns by statute. The commission can only exercise appellate jurisdiction in such cases. This proposition has been definitely settled both by statute and judicial decisions in Texas. The procedure suggested by the commission will result only in extravagant litigation and useless waste of the funds of both the taxpayers of the state and the gas consumers."

"The commission's investigation into the rates of the companies comprising Lone Star Gas system have in many instances resulted in increased rates. In some instances the increases were put into effect pursuant to court orders and in others by the commission itself. "In all cases where the commission has attempted to reduce the company's rates, extended litigation has resulted. Only three cases have been tried to date. In one, the federal court held for the company. In the other two, juries in the district court at Austin found the orders of the commission unjust and unreasonable."

During the past week two meetings of the Methodist Missionary society were held at the church. On Friday after on the spiritual life group met and had a very helpful program led by Mrs. O. D. McDonald, group leader. The prayer letter from Mrs. C. A. Boaz, conference superintendent of Spiritual Life, was read by the leader. Several songs, prayers and Bible readings with comments were included in the program. At the close, the president, Mrs. Preston Sparks, called special business meeting during which by unanimous vote the little son of Mrs. Travis Hilliard was selected for the baby life member for this year. Visitors present were Miss Vala Whitworth and Mrs. Caldwell and little daughter. On Monday the regular meeting was held, presided over by Mrs. Sparks. Every member was present except Miss Mollie O'Rear who could not come on account of the illness of her sister, Mrs. Annie Daniel. During the business session it was voted for the society to take a membership of $1.00 in the Red Cross, of which Mrs. W. H. Davis is local chairman. The program for the afternoon was led by Mrs. Travis Hilliard who gave a splendid discussion of the second chapter of the book "Life as a Stewardship." Those present were Mmes. Preston Sparks, Charles Lee, S. E. Snodgrass, G. S. Bruce, Travis Hilliard, O. D. McDonald, W. C. Bedford, W. H. Whitworth and daughter, Valla.

A big bonfire was built and around the fire, various games were played until all grew tired. Weiners and marshmallows were roasted. All reported a good time.

A large crowd of Desdemona business men went to Lingleville Friday night, to attend a road meeting. Commissioners from Eastland and Brath counties were there and plans were discussed which will likely result in making the road from Stephenville to Eastland not only a state highway but also a national highway. It has already been designated as a state highway to form a link in the route from Austin to Wichita Falls.

On Tuesday of last week the "21" Study club met at the club house and had a program on "Government." The president, Mrs. Charles Lee, presided. During the business session, it was voted to take one Red Cross membership for the club. Mrs. W. H. Davis is local chairman for the Red Cross. Roll call responses were the names of judges of the U. S. supreme court. Mrs. C. A. Skipping was leader of the program and the first number was a very interesting sketch of "Franklin D. Roosevelt," by Mrs. V. H. Davis who gave many facts about the early life of the man whose birthday was recently celebrated all over our nation by people uniting in a noble work for the benefit of sufferers from outstanding paralysis. She also sketched the outstanding features of his administration as president of the U. S. The next number was the "U. S. Supreme Court," Past and Present, by Mrs. W. C. Bedford who gave an account of the changes in the court since the early days. Mrs. S. E. Snodgrass gave a most interesting talk on "The Social Security Act," giving the several different parts of the act and how the states unite with the federal government in carrying out the provisions of the act. She also gave some figures as to checks received by people in another state as a result of the unemployment relief part of the Social Security act. The next number was a Better English drill given by Mrs. Skipping who gave a list of the 40 words most used by everyone. She also mentioned the fact that in his writings Shakespeare used fifteen thousand words and that Woodrow Wilson in his speeches used sixty thousand words. The last part of the drill was the spelling of words, often incorrectly spelled, and pronouncing words often mispronounced. The program was closed with the singing of "America." The thought for the day as given in the year book was, "There's glory enough for any man to live and die an American."

The year books also noted that January 28th was Child Labor day.

"Lots of other independent buyers, auctioneers, and warehousemen I know smoke Luckies for the same reason."

Yes, sworn records show that, among independent tobacco experts like Mr. Barnes, Luckies have over twice as many exclusive smokers as have all the other cigarettes combined.

$21,000 Cash Is Paid for Lease Near Eastland

EASTLAND, Feb. 3. — L. R. Smith, superintendent of the Aarco Oil and Gas company of Baltimore, Md., said Saturday that the firm for $21,000 cash has purchased the Dorothy Oil company, Eastland, 120 acres Holcomb heirs lease three miles northeast of Eastland.

On the property are two producing wells. One, the No.1-B Holcomb, was completed by Aarco Oil and Gas company following its purchase from the Dorothy Oil company. No. 1-B Holcomb was tested for 2,000,000 cubic feet of wet gas daily from a sand, 1,285-1,300 feet. Total depth of the well was 1,625 feet.

Arab Gas company of Eastland has contracted with Aarco to take one-half of the gas production of the No. 1-B Holcomb.

Completed some time ago on the property was the No. 1-A Holcomb which is capable, it was said, of producing 25 barrels daily but has a railroad commission allowable of 13 barrels daily.

The property involved in the transaction is in section, 1 block 4, H. & T. C. survey.

At the head of the Aarco Oil and Gas company is Aaron Cohen of Baltimore, Md., who has extensive oil interests in Texas. The purchase of property in Eastland county, however, does not mark Cohen's first investment in the county. Cohen has production in the Pumpkin Center area south of Eastland.

Smith stated that recent developments in this section promise more for the future, referring specifically to oil pay from deeper horizons and from depths passed up in the rush for production of great volume years ago. Smith is to make headquarters at Rising Star in the immediate future, he said.

Tattooing Clew in Torso Death

Baffled by a series of 10 "torso" murders in two years, most of them in lonely Kingsbury Run, Cleveland detectives have sent this novel sketch to police departments over the entire country. It combines a death mask of the killer's never identified fourth victim and a description of his tattooed body. Hoping to identify the victim by this means, police believed clews to the slayer might be found

We have made a thorough and painstaking investigation of practically all matters brought to our attention from the various parts of the county, and have tried to perform our duties faithfully and in compliance with the law. six members present. The president, Mrs. Eugenie Ford, called the meeting to order, and after the club motto, pledge and prayer, followed by the minutes of the previous meeting, small matters of business were disposed of as quickly as possible in order to make way for the main program.

The subject was "Planning the Daily Food Budget," and Miss Ramey presented charts and other material on nutrition, meal plans and foods, of interest to the homemaker who wishes to feed her family wisely and well.

At a previous meeting it was decided that the club would not have quilting at the fourth Tuesday meetings because Miss Ramey attends at that time, and the interest in quilting might interfere with what she has to say.

The club has been much interested in quilting lately. On January 21 it had an all-day meeting with Mrs. Gill Walker and quilted one quilt. There were 18 women present, including visitors. One January 18 it met with Mrs. J. B. Webb, with 15 present, and finished two quilts. It was remarked that the dinners are the

Influenza May Lead to Case of Pneumonia

AUSTIN Feb. 3 (Spc)—Influenza, while not of such prevalence as last year, it still occurring frequently enough to cause alarm, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer.

In its present form, its symptoms may range from a common cold to best part of the all-day meetings, but the keenest interest is shown in the work, and the club has helped quilt 12 quilts since summer.

The next meeting will be February 8, when the club will quilt at Mrs. Webb's again; then on February 22 it plans to meet with Mrs. C. A. Carmichael, when Miss Ramey will make a test of the accuracy of the pressure-cookers. All those interested are urged to attend, and visitors are always welcome.

high fever, backache and prostration. However, pneumonia as a complication represents the real hazard. And, as is well known, pneumonia is an exceedingly dangerous foe. The remedy is bed on first appearance of a cold, and remaining there until advised by the physician that one can safely get out of it.

Everyone should realize that in its mildest form influenza can easily become a very serious matter. Of course, prevention is better than cure. While influenza seems to be no respecter of persons, the careful observance of a few common sense rules will materially strengthen one's resistance to an attack. Some of these rules:

Insofar as possible, avoid intimate contact with members of the family who have colds or influenza. Keep the feet dry. Wash the hands thoroughly before meals.

And if you do develop influenza, see your doctor at once.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear; because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love.—I John 4:18.

Pray, frightened one, be calm, and know your fear. For the frail thing it is and see it flee, As clouds before the sunshine disappear,
To leave your heart at rest, from bondage free.
—ALVIS C. ARMSTRONG.

Faith emphasizes the unseen, hope the realized, and now love exalts the unselfish. The world has grown proud of its advances in the idea of service, in humanitarian endeavor, in governmental responsibility for human welfare.—Dr. Frederick H. Knobel.

A Texas "Warm Springs"

A prominent Cisco physician has directed criticism at the set-up of the national organization for combatting infantile paralysis to be financed with funds from President Birthday celebrations which, we believe, is meritorious. Instead of sending all of the funds raised in Texas to a national institution, such as the Georgia Warm Springs foundation, he said, why should not this money be used to found a Texas "Warm Springs" for the treatment of Texas children stricken with infantile paralysis.

It is a fact that, despite the worthy character of the program, the opportunities for infantile paralysis-stricken children in Texas to receive the treatment to which they are entitled on the basis of contributions made by Texans are minimized by the distance and the consolidation of the program in one national unit. The appeal and prestige of the more populous centers of the nation will give those centers a prior claim on attention, no matter how earnestly the founders and administrators endeavor to distribute the benefits made available.

THE need of such an institution in Texas is demonstrated by the demands made upon the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children at Dallas. There could be no worthier use of the money realized from the annual celebrations in Texas than its investment in an institution, devoted to the treatment of Texas crippled children, whose welfare would certainly get a more direct attention from such an institution than would be the case when their appeals must compete with appeals from 47 other states of the union.

Wise to Expect More Bad Weather

WHETHER or not there is any real basis for the superstitious belief in "groundhog day," the practical mind will continue to plan its seasonal program in accordance with experience. We are constantly hearing long-range weather forecasts and prognostications of severity or mildness based upon observations of natural phenomena, such as the thickness or thinness of the bark of trees, the condition of the fur of animals and so forth. But at most these are mere guesses, while the phenomena which are cited in support of them are more often found to be due to conditions which have little or no direct connection with the weather. In the case of the groundhog tradition, we wonder what explanation will reconcile its forecast with the fact that in some areas of a section, affected by a uniformity of weather, February 2 may be cloudy while other areas there will be sunshine? Northwest Texans know that if a norther strikes the panhandle, it will reach Fort Worth, and yet over that expanse of country cloud conditions often differ materially. On February 2, the day that the groundhog is supposed to return to his burrow for six more weeks of bad weather if he sees his shadow, it is nearly always the case that some areas of this section are cloudy while others are bright.

It is simply wise, in this country at least, to hope for early spring but to prepare for further spells of wintry weather before the normal turn of the season is reached.

The city of Endicott, N. Y., has had no bad crimes for two years. No major crime is a minor miracle.

For Love of Polly

By RACHEL MACK Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.

CHAPTER I
A TALL lithe girl in a brown coat and bonnet stood knocking on old Oliver Dart's oaken street door in the heart of London while a summer storm blustered and the sperm-oil street lamps were being lit. She had come three thousand miles by sailboat across the Atlantic and a hundred miles by coach from Bournemouth, and she was only just losing her patience.
The door opened a crack to let a plump red-faced woman in a starched cap peer out. The girl said to her, "Let me in, please! I'm wet to the skin!"
"Who be you?"
"Polly Chelsey. Great-niece to Mister Oliver Dart. I've come from Connecticut to see him."
"Where be Connecticut? In Yorkshire?"
"In America."
"Lud!" There was a gasp, and the door opened.
On the threshold the girl turned to call to the driver of a gig that had brought her to the door: "Cabby, bring my trunk, and mind you don't drop it!"
The driver lumbered up the steps with a small doekin trunk studded with brass nails and deposited it on the hall floor.
"How much do I owe you?" asked Polly Chelsey.
"Two shillings, eight pence, Miss."
"You're a robber, but here 'tis. And good night to you."
"Good night to you, young Miss. Journey's end be bright!"
"Bright!" echoed Miss Polly Chelsey forlornly after the street door had banged shut. She looked across the narrow wainscoted hallway which was decorated with nothing, as far as she could see, but a winding staircase and a fat old woman holding a candle.
"Well," she said a little uncertainly, "could I see my uncle now?"
"It'll fair lay him out, Miss. The surprise."
"But I wrote him a letter before Christmas and told him I'd be here this summer on my cousin's brig, the Trim Yankee out of New Haven. He let me come."
"There was no letter, Miss."
"WHAT? He never got it?" The girl stood pondering a moment while the wet cloak clung to her in sculptured lines and her dripping bonnet sent small rivulets down her surprised young face.
"Well, that's a pretty pass! — But never mind. Take me to him and I'll recite the letter like a magpie."
"I'm Mrs. Broggs, Miss—cook to Mr. Dart. I'd advise you not to see him. No good can come of it. Let me make you comfortable in the house unbeknowns to him, Miss!"
"But there's no sense to that," cried Polly impatiently. "I've come to see him on business. If you mean he's a cross old man, so be it. I've known many such in our town of Lyme."
Still Mrs. Broggs demurred, shifting her feet uneasily and saying "Lud!" both under her breath and aloud. Presently she said, "He's above stairs in his study, Miss—supping. Follow me, if you must, but don't say I didn't warn you!"

Up they went, and Polly Chelsey was ushered into a well-furnished sitting room where a thin-featured, pale-eyed old man in a frilled shirt and high stock was having cold cuts and tea before a fire.
The serving woman made a bobbing curtsey and said, with the watchful look of a child bursting a paper sack: "Your great-niece from Americky, sir!"
Old Oliver Dart looked at his eyes and ears had deceived him. Then, when he saw that she was an actuality, his face seemed to narrow and close in on itself, so that Polly thought she must be looking at a gnome instead of a man.
She gave a shaken little laugh and explained, "I'm Polly Chelsey from across the Atlantic—daughter to your niece Mary that married the American seaman in Connecticut, and died there."
"To what circumstances do I owe your visit?" asked Oliver Dart.
"To my lodgings?" repeated Polly uncertainly. "Why, sir, I'm in this predicament: my cousin Tim Chelsey put me ashore at Bournemouth and took his cargo over to Cherbourg. He'll not be back to pick me up for several weeks. I expected to stop here till then."
"Indeed," replied Mr. Dart. "Most peculiar . . . Mrs. Broggs, set another cover and bring a pot of tea for the guest. Draw up, Miss Chelsey, and tell me what the dastardly Yankees are up to now."
"What the Yankees are up to?" explained Polly coloring. "The English Navy, you mean! They're stealing men off our ships till half the seagoing lads in America have stripes on their backs from British whips."
She stopped suddenly and smiled, to lighten her words, for she was hungry and needed a shelter. Polly Chelsey from Connecticut was nobody's fool.

Home Demonstration Agents in This District Reach 15,000 Farm Families

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 3 (Epc)—The county home demonstration agents of District 7 of the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. college reached 15,031 families in 1937, according to the annual report of their district agent, Miss Maurine Hearn.
District 7 is composed of 19 counties, of which Brown, Callahan, Coleman, Eastland, Erath, Gillespie, Jones, McCulloch, Mason, Palo Pinto, Rannels, San Saba, Shackelford, Stephens, and Taylor have county home demonstration agents.
In the district there are 187 home demonstration clubs for women and 119 4-H girls' clubs with the joint membership representing 5,192 rural families. These two groups, together with the home demonstration agents, have reached an additional 9,839 families, or 56.5 per cent of the 26,783 rural families residing in the district.
The principal phases of activity carried to these families include bedroom, yard, and kitchen improvement, food production and preservation, and clothing. Miss Hearn said.
The 497 4-H club girls who carried on bedroom demonstrations spent a total of $2,039.16 for improvements. For this amount they made or purchased mattresses, linen, bedspreads, and woolen covers, and bought springs. Many added windows and screens, provided bathing centers, and refinished furniture. The cash expenditure also included cost of painting or papering walls, material for rugs and curtains, and similar items. An additional 2,447 bedrooms were improved by women.
The 616 girls who specialized in clothing made 1,499 cotton dresses; 1,594 cup towels; 1,210 undergarments; and equipped 1,659 sewing boxes. A group of 559 women also engaged in this activity. Of these 238 kept individual clothing accounts and 113 family accounts. They built 392 clothes closets and made 1,039 foundation patterns, from which 3,909 adult patterns were made. These women also made 2,485 garments for children.
Kitchen Improvement
Kitchen improvement demonstrations were carried on by 596 women in three counties. Random items selected from this work show that 231 women had all kitchen doors and windows tightly screened, 159 refinished their kitchen floors, and that 58 water systems, 107 waste systems, 94 refrigerators, 69 cook stoves, 217 cabinets, and 65 cleaning closets were added. The total cash expenditure for this type of work was $8,342.55.
Four counties featured yard improvement work, with 493 women participating. These women sodded 113 lawns and planted and have living 4,132 nursery shrubs, 921 native shrubs, 816 shade trees, and 1,706 rose bushes. Human and Other Nature

By W. F. BRUCE

Not long since I had conversation in passing with W. T. Rutherford, who has been many years in Texas and considerable time in the Scranton neighborhood. He is decided in his opinions and expressed himself especially concerning the present state of affairs in our industrial life. Mr. Rutherford has read the Bible too, or heard of it. The head of our nation he compares to Pharaoh of Ancient Egypt, and his policies to those of the times of Joseph when grain was set aside for famine years. During the administration of the plan, we remember, the government, through Joseph, bought up the land and later rented it to the people for one fifth. The plan was to save the people from starvation, and it did that, as they gratefully acknowledged. But it resulted in a sort of paternalism (fatherly control) by the government, and tended to make the people dependent. So, thinks this Scranton observer, is the present policy resulting today.
I must have appeared a little fidgety, for Mr. Rutherford said half apologetically, "Maybe you don't like what I'm saying." But my restlessness was in consideration for a number of other interviews along the road into town. But I hastened to assure him of my agreement of some of the things he was saying. The doctrines of government ownership, rights of labor, farm organization for marketing, and a number of other right principles for the last half century have created a sentiment that is affecting the present political situation. It is not likely nor desirable that we go back to all the ways of the old political parties and he old laissez faire business methods. But in swinging into a new freedom we might unintentionally drift into a new slavery, to bureaucracy and other organized control agencies, that would take away human initiative. We had better have some bungling and botching among the masses as a whole as they try to work out their own economic and social salvation than to have a state of lock step uniformity of regimented industry that is under the control of technologists, a so-called "brain trust" and its tendency of intellectual aristocracy.

Funeral Thursday at Eastland for Mrs. H. S. Slaton

Death of Mrs. Mary Sue Rumph Slaton, 30, wife of H. S. (Pete) Slaton, formerly of Cisco, occurred here at 10:30 Tuesday night following a brief illness which began suddenly while she and her husband were on a visit to Eastland last week. Death was attributed to pneumonia and complications.

Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock Thursday morning at First Methodist church at Eastland, with the Rev. Hamilton Wright, Methodist pastor at Baird, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Philip Walker, pastor of the Eastland church.

Burial will be in Mount Olivet cemetery at Fort Worth, beside the body of her father, Dr. S. P. Rumph, following a brief service at the home of an uncle, Dr. D. M. Rumph, 1321 Grand Ave., at 4 o'clock Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Slaton were married at the home of Dr. D. M. Rumph on June 14, 1931.

Mr. Slaton and two children, James Hoyt, 5, and Linda, 3, are survivors in the immediate family. Other survivors include the mother, Mrs. S. P. Rumph, who made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Slaton at San Marcos; a sister, Miss Folly Rumph, teacher in the Putnam schools; two aunts, Miss Mary Pumph of Fort Worth and Mrs. Cla Best of Fort Worth; three uncles, Dr. D. M. Rumph and Dr. T. G. Rumph of Fort Worth and Dr. John Rumph of Cross Plains, and the following cousins: Mr. and Mrs. Maxie Melton, Dr. Mal Rumph, Mr. and Mrs. Osburn Linguist and Travis Rumph, all of Fort Worth. Body to lie in State Room at Carbon.

Mrs. Slaton was born at Carbon on October 12, 1907, and spent most of her life at Carbon and at Eastland where she taught for a number of years in the public schools and also as an expression teacher, for which she was widely known in the county.

She became ill at Eastland last Thursday shortly after she and her husband had attended funeral services for an infant of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Kinard, with whom they were close friends. Her condition quickly became serious and she was removed to Cisco for treatment.

The father of Mrs. Slaton, Dr. S. P. Rumph, died at Baird March 13, 1937.

Mr. Slaton, known to Cisco people as "Pete," was a star member of Cisco Lobo football teams of the Chapman regime here, entering the mercantile profession shortly after completing his Cisco schooling, in which profession he is engaged at San Marcos.

THE EIGHTY-EIGHTH DISTRICT COURT (Judge Patterson, Presiding) Cases Pending

The following are causes of action filed in the district clerk's office for trial in the 88th court: Leah May Lloyd vs. Silas Lloyd, divorce and custody of minor children. Mayhew Bros. vs. Ben E. Keith et al, injunction. Employees Casualty Co. vs. J. W. Cummins, appeal from award of state industrial accident board. To set aside order dismissing the case and restoration of suit. This cause of action was filed originally as an appeal from the award of the state board, in which the defendant contested the case through Alma Cummins, next friend, and on motion of the defendant, Cummins, he was permitted to prosecute the claim in his own behalf. Previously, the petition recites, J. W. Cummins filed suit against the same company for personal injury in the 78th court at Wichita Falls, where a judgment was entered in his favor, and according to the transcript of the judgment from the 78th court the defendant was awarded a judgment for his damages, which the transcript showed, had been paid by the insurance company, and the attorneys for both the plaintiff in the court requested the case pending in the 88th court be dismissed. Now comes the defendant Cummins and says it was the 78th court litigation to which the dismissal order should have applied, as his compensation in that case was awarded for an injury received in 1928 of which he has recovered, and now seeks judgment for a subsequent injury by the restoration of the 88th court case.

Judge Patterson, of the 88th court, has been assigned to preside over the 119th court at Coleman this week. A judgment was entered in the 88th court last week in which an annulment of the marriage relations were decreed in the case styled Anna Louise Daniels vs. Irvin Van Daniels. Cases Reassigned Judge Patterson the past week ordered a reassignment of two civil cases, set for hearing last week. The case of Commercial State bank of Ranger vs. Mrs. Norma Conway, note, was reset for Feb. 24. In the case of Mrs. Winnie Lee Cox vs. Clyde Hepler et al, damages, for the death of her husband, M. D. Cox, set for last Saturday, to hear pleas of privilege, passed, date of hearing to be by agreement of parties.

THE NINETY-FIRST DISTRICT COURT (Judge Davenport, Presiding) New Term Begins Feb. 7

The February term of the 91st court will convene Monday, Feb. 7. Judge Davenport, in anticipation of rather large criminal docket, has appointed a jury commission with instructions to draw 40 names for each of four weeks of the term. For the weeks beginning Monday, Feb. 7, Feb. 14, Feb. 21 and March 14. The commission, composed of I. C. Underwood, Gorman; J. F. Driehof, Ranger, and Eugene Day of Eastland. The body was summoned, sworn and empaneled, and proceeded to execute the orders of the court by drawing the lists as instructed.

New Cases Pending The district clerk has docketed for hearing in the 91st court the following causes of action: W. E. Tyson et al vs. Reuben E. Brown et al, partition. Norma Faye Plumlee vs. Francis H. Plumlee, divorce and custody of minor child.

Judgments and Orders The following orders were decreed of the 91st court the past week:

Nell Grifface vs. S. L. Grifface, alimony pending action for divorce. It was the order of the court that defendant pay the sum of $50 per month to plaintiff for support and subsistence during the pendency of the divorce suit until the final decree in the case.

City of Ranger vs. P. J. Coughlin, et al. Petition of intervenor, Land-Title Bank & Trust Co., trustee, showing recent change of name, and petitions the court to be given leave to file an amended plea of intervention that name and to be made new parties as defendants in the case. Similar petition and orders were issued in a companion case styled City of Ranger vs. Mrs. Dora Leveille, both of which were granted.

X-Ray Gas Co. vs. Lone Star Gas Co., action for unrecovered oil and gas. Judgment for defendant. This case is one of three similar actions against the Lone Star, in which the allegations, all similar, alleges the violation of contract on the part of defendant for oil and gas it refused and failed to take from the lands leased by plaintiffs to defendants. The cases were filed nearly two years ago, and this case just decided went to trial early last year, but was postponed for final adjudication in the 91st court last week. Notice of appeal was filed.

The cases of Connally vs. The Coca-Cola Bottling Co., and that of Mrs. Maude Hittson, is set for hearing some time this week of January.

The grand jury, in recess and final session for the December term, had returned no bills up to Saturday morning, but "grapevine" reports from the grand jury room indicated 18 felony bills had been voted.

Alaska Proves Again It's Good Investment

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, Feb. 3 (AP)—Alaska's 1937 mineral production was worth nearly four times the sum the United States paid Russia for the territory 71 years ago. Philip S. Smith of the Alaskan branch of the geological survey said a preliminary estimate placed the value of last year's mine products at $27,440,000, compared with $23,694,000 in 1936.

The United States purchased Alaska from Russia in 1867 for $7,200,000. Gold production last year was valued at $20,834,000, highest since the boom days of 1906.

ATWELL

Driving across the country this morning I noticed that in almost every field along the way, a farmer could be seen, leisurely riding along on a sulky, clucking to his team, as he watched the turning sod, or perhaps walking briskly along behind a "middle buster," keeping pace with a swift gaited "Pete" and "Jerry." Regardless of the type of plow or speed of man and team, the purpose was the same. Each was in his own way, getting ready for spring planting.

Fifth Sunday services were held at the Baptist church here, in charge of the pastor, Rev. Ivie of Cisco. Regular church services are held each fourth Sunday and Sunday night.

The Callahan County Singing convention will be held at Atwell Sunday, February 6. A number of good singers are expected to attend. Everyone is invited to come and bring "ye old singing spirit" with them.

Smiles, almost as the good basket balls they wear, may be seen on the faces of Juanita Foster and Charneel Hutchins, when you mention those two shining trophies Juanita placed on the first all tournament girls' team at Rising Star last week and Charneel placed on the second all tournament team at the same place.

The Atwell girls will play the Scranton basketball team at Cisco Tuesday night February 8. We anticipate a good game.

Etiquette Pick Mate Slowly, Girls Told, Then Marry Quickly

By JOAN DURHAM AP Feature Service Writer Valentine's Day brings romance to the fore—and that turns the mind toward engagements. How long should engagements last, how should they be announced, what responsibilities does the engagement put on the couples concerned?

At parties given for the couple the young woman is seated at the right of the host and the young man at the right of the hostess. At dinners at which they are not guests of honor it's "natural and likely he'll be placed next to her," says Mrs. Boardman.

Poll Taxes for This Year Near Total for 1936

(By Associated Press) Texans seem almost as anxious to cast votes this year as they did in 1936, when they had a chance to vote for a president. The high excitement of a Roosevelt-Landon political tug-o-war is lacking, but the potential vote for 1938 primaries stands at close to 500,000 in 20 Texas cities.
