ROGERS, POST KILLED IN CRASH

Famed Flier and Cowboy Humorist Die When Plane Cracks Up In Sight Of Goal at Point Barrow, Alaska

(BY UNITED PRESS)

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 16. — Wiley Post and Will Rogers were killed when their plane crashed enroute from Fairbanks to Point Barrow, Alaska, the Army signal corps was informed today.

The crash was reported to have occurred when they were virtually within sight of Point Barrow. Post and the cowboy humorist were on a rambling tour of Alaska. They left Fairbanks intending to visit the farthest north outpost of Alaska, and officials said they had received a bare report of the crash and had no details.

"Please notify relatives," the message said.

The crash occurred at 5 o'clock yesterday, Alaskan time, the message said:

"Post and Rogers crashed 15 miles south of here. Both killed. Crash at 5 p. m. Have recovered the bodies and placed them in care of Dr. Greist. Standing by."

NEW DATA ON JOAN OF ARC DISCOVERED

BEAUREVOIR France, Aug. 16 — New facts about Joan of Arc will be revealed through excavations in and about the Chateau de Beaurvoir. The research work is being made under the direction of Monseigneur Jean Plateau, priest and archeologist, who is considered the greatest authority on that subject in France today.

One of his finds is a head in stone of a little girl with hair cropped short as it is believed that Joan wore hers. It is not established yet whether this is a long-lost bust of the French heroine, but Plateau hopes to uncover much new material about the French saint.

Joan of Arc was imprisoned in this chateau in 1430 and in trying to escape she jumped from one of the towers. Her enemies trumped up the charge of "attempted suicide," which swerved the judges against her, although it was obvious that she had no intention of killing herself. She merely was trying to escape.

Old Tower Found Plateau has delved 30 to 50 feet below the surface and has found the remains of three towers part of a staircase, a vaulted roof, a portion of the drawbridge and remnants of the ramparts. When the research is finished, it is planned to reconstruct the Beaurvoir chateau as it was in 1430 and turn it into a Joan of Arc museum. It is hoped that this will be completed for the national holiday of Joan of Arc in 1936.

History of the Maid of Orleans was enriched further recently when it became known that the grave of the chief judge who condemned Joan had been found and that the bones had been reburied. Bishop Pierre Cauchon was laid in a nameless grave five centuries ago. The spot was found by Etienne Deville a scholar whose studies convinced him that Cauchon was buried under the chapel in the cathedral of Lisieux. This edifice was erected at the judge's expense and was dedicated to the Maid to atone for her death, according to legend.

Cauchon Died Suddenly Cauchon died suddenly at Rouen, where Joan was burned, while a barber was cutting his beard, just seven years before Charles VII, king by the grace of Joan, made his triumphant entry into the city where he had allowed her to be burned. There is no record of his burial though, despite his condemnation of the Maid, at his death he was still considered a worthy man and a benefactor of Lisieux, of which he had formerly been the bishop.

Deville in his researches discovered that Cauchon had requested that on his death his body should be transferred to Lisieux and buried beneath the chapel which he had given to the cathedral. He obtained permission to exhumate and seek the body. Deeply buried, it was found in a plain coffin bearing no name but when the coffin was opened a skeleton was disclosed with a ghip's ring still thrust on one bony finger while Cauchon's crozier lay beside it.

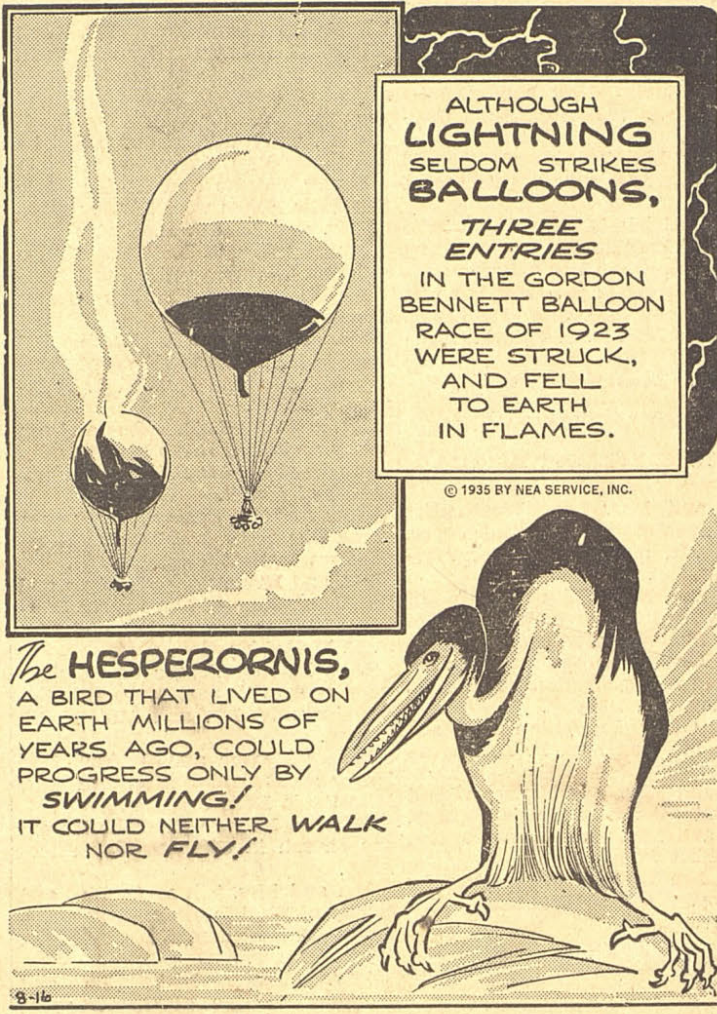

The crozier and ring were placed in the Lisieux museum, and Cauchon was reburied in the same spot and just as the fifteenth century, although recognizing his good works had refused to perpetuate the name of the head of the count which condemned Saint Joan so the twentieth century confirmed a judgment 500 years old, and lowered Cauchon's bones into the unmarked grave.

TOWN MINUS "SMITHY" INDEPENDENCE, Mo. — Old-timers and the Chamber of Commerce were reluctant to admit it, but the truth is out — Independence outfitting point for covered-wagon trains making the perilous Santa Fe trail journey — has no blacksmith shop.

NEAR TRAGEDY AVERTED EUGENE, Ore. — Forest rangers and state police had to work fast to save a fisherman from an explosion. The man had his lantern filed at a service station. After he had left the attendant discovered he had filled it with gasoline instead of kerosene. The troopers found him before he had a chance to use his lantern.

ALARM IRK TOWN EUGENE, Ore. — For an hour on Sunday afternoon the First National Bank's burglar alarm annoyed the downtown district. The caretaker had accidentally tripped the trigger. Only bank officials had the combination to turn it off, and they could not be found.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

ALTHOUGH LIGHTNING SELDOM STRIKES BALLOONS, THREE ENTRIES IN THE GORDON BENNETT BALLOON RACE OF 1923 WERE STRUCK, AND FELL TO EARTH IN FLAMES.

THE HESPERORNIS, A BIRD THAT LIVED ON EARTH MILLIONS OF YEARS AGO, COULD PROGRESS ONLY BY SWIMMING! IT COULD NEITHER WALK NOR FLY!

THE hesperornis, a bird which depended on water for its very existence, once lived in what is now the state of Kansas. It had stout legs, but they were so placed that the bird could not walk, and its wings were so small as to be entirely useless. As the earth's waters gradually disappeared, the hesperornis likewise vanished.

Hitch Hikers Credit Personality For Their Luxurious Trip Across America

TOLEDO, Aug. 16 — Hitch hikers extraordinary, Tom and Clarice Allen of New York are touring the country, staying at the best hotels and finding royal entertainment wherever they go without spending a cent.

In Toledo, they were given accommodations and meals at one of the largest downtown hotels. Then they were on their way to Detroit, confident of equally good treatment.

A jobless world holds no terrors for the young couple. Tom, who is 21, was graduated from Brown University a year ago. He majored in English and wants to act or write. Clarice, who speaks five languages and was graduated from Pembroke about the same time, wants to teach. They were married shortly after their graduation.

"The only thing we possess is our personalities," said Tom and Clarice. "Let's see how far they will take us."

So they decided to go to California, where Tom hopes to enter the movies. But they determine the lot of ordinary hitch hikers was not to be theirs.

After being given a farewell dinner by Jack Dempsey, who signed the scroll, they "bummed" to Washington. There they were entertained by the Portuguese embassy and Senator Robert F. Wagner, of New York.

They presented themselves at a well known hotel, told their story and received a room and restaurant privileges.

In Cleveland they were guests of Carl Hanna, of the financially and socially prominent Hannas. Tom and Clarice found the doors of an exclusive hotel open to them. At Columbus, Gov. Martin L. Davey added his name to the rapidly growing list of well-wishers.

"It's amazing how cordially we are received everywhere," Tom said. "I was offered a position by Senator Wagner and another by Mr. Hanna, but refused because we are determined to go through with this venture—reach the coast and live there."

SHUN AGRICULTURE MOBERLY, Mo. — There is a strange lack of interest in vocational agriculture in this Randolph county town, center of a wide farming area. The school board proposed to install a vocational agriculture department in the high school, but because of lack of interest the plan was abandoned.

TURKEY DEFIES FIRE SILVERTON, Ore. — Workmen turned a patch of tall grass near here. When the fire was out they discovered a turkey hen grimly sitting on the blackened turf over a group of eggs she was hatching. Her feathers had been mostly singed off, but she survived.

HEARING OVER YOWLING CATS ENTERTAINING

DALLAS, Aug. 16 — Fly cats were the subject of a bitterly contested trial in Corporation court here the other day as their pretty-housewife owner defended their honor and actions against charges of neighbors that they were just plain alley cats which were never fed and worried the neighbors to death.

"Senator and Senator, Jr." two black cats, along with "Mitzi", the prettiest one in her owner's opinion and two others are as nicely mannered, as well fed and as well loved as any five children, their owner said.

Starving, yowling, prowling beasts, "as thin as shafts" and want to climb over roof tops and dislodge bricks from the chimney was the description given them by the complaining neighbor.

Questions by attorneys as to how witness could tell the difference in Tom cats and the other gender, how they could know the difference in alley cats and house cats and other questions concerning the felines' habits provided an hour's entertainment in the courtroom. Even Judge King Williamson could not restrain a smile when the complaining witness said, "Don't be a fool — I'm 75 years old and of course I can tell a Tom cat when I see one."

"You teach voice lessons, don't you," the defense attorney parried in asking about the howling of the cats. "I don't suppose you could be mistaken in the source of the sounds?"

Judge Williamson dismissed the complaint.

Spanish Governors Faced Hopeless Task

AUSTIN, Aug. 16 — The hopeless task of Texas' last Spanish governor, who sought to civilize the Southwest with Anglo-American colonists has been revealed in transcripts of official documents by Mrs. Mattie Austin Hatcher, University of Texas archivist.

Antonic Maria Martinez, a lieutenant colonel of the imperial Spanish army, arrived in Texas in May, 1817, and left five years later with the rumblings of revolution behind him.

The distinguished soldier Martinez had three tasks in Texas: protection of the territory against Indians, foreign invasion and against further revolution. (A Revolutionary uprising had been crushed in 1813).

Lack of money and military reinforcements were given as the cause of Martinez' disappointment. The Indians were uncontrollable, being incited both by foreigners and revolutionists.

In 1821, Martinez signed his own doom by permitting Moses Austin and 300 Louisiana colonists to settle in Texas. Then Texas fell to Mexican revolutionists, who ruled for 15 years.

At the end of that time — 1836 — Stephen F. Austin, son of the man brought to the Southwest to aid the Spanish cause, led Texas in its successful revolt against Mexico.

"HANGING" ADVICE ASKED SPRINGFIELD, Mo. — Sheriff Scott Curtis is much sought after by Missouri sheriffs who have "hanging" problems. Curtis' experience with the doomed Frank (Sonny) McDaniel received such wide publicity that he has received numerous calls since then from officers who want to know what kind of rope he used, who built the scaffold and other questions.

LIVERS NET PROFIT BLOCK ISLAND, R. I. — Block Island fishermen are making a handsome profit by selling swordfish livers to a Gloucester firm and they have science to thank for it. The current demand for the livers results from the discovery by medical authorities that anemia patients benefit by adding this delicacy to their menu.

Texas Topics By RAYMOND BROOKS

AUSTIN, Aug. 16 — Liquor license and taxing bills will be before the special session of the legislature whether the repeal amendment on the Aug. 24 ballot carries or not. It appeared doubtful that prohibition will be repealed, but also seemed probable the legislature will be called to consider tax bills and to act under any of the amendments, such as the old-age pension plan, which may be adopted. At least two plans for legal sale of liquor in Texas under the present dry amendment have been suggested. One, by former Sen. T. H. McGregor, would extend the drug store prescription plan to general use, making liquor plentiful and getting rid of the cost of prescriptions. This would make liquor legal, and permit taxation.

Another plan was proposed by former Assistant Attorney General Elbert Hooper is the administration of James V. Allred as attorney general. Mr. Hooper showed an individual importer license system would provide legal liquor to those who wanted to buy it, and who paid the taxes and license fees.

If the session is called, new revenue and taxation is certain to be submitted as one of its primary subjects. Under that heading, any measure that proposed the taxing of legal liquor sales by license fees or otherwise would be within the call and could be considered at the special session.

If the old age pension plan is adopted, it alone would necessitate a special session, and call for the raising of a tremendous volume of new taxes. Through it, the state would take over, matching federal funds, a major part of the present relief fund.

The textbook amendment would require legislation to extend use of state free textbooks to parochial schools also to abolish abuses of the scholastic census system of paying the state school apportionment.

If the fee system of paying local officials is abolished a session will be required to provide a salary basis of compensation. It has been held unofficially that the fee officers could not draw any more compensation until the legislature had passed laws providing and fixing salaries.

Gov. Allred's utility regulation bill — strengthened by numerous recent gas and electricity rate contests and by the Washington utility lobby disclosure — would be submitted for action. The bill would give the state power to regulate and control utility rates, earnings, salaries and general practices.

A measure to create a public state-profit gas pipeline system to supply Texas gas to northern and eastern markets likely also would be submitted.

Says Patch Budding Not New Type Here COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 16 — Patch budding is not a new system in this country, according to F. R. Brison, budding and grafting expert here.

Records have been found as far back as 1852, he says, describing the patch budding system.

While the method is slow, it is sure, and especially recommended for pecans, he said. Budding done at this time of year should be done on wood grown this year. Brison explained, pointing out that the trees should first be skeletonized, all but about six of the lower branches being cut back.

The strings should be cut two weeks after the budding the expert advised. Special live buds should be secured, preferably those that have been on ice since spring, he said.

FIRST AID SAVES CHILD THREE FORKS, Mont. — A rancher's knowledge of a crude but effective remedy saved the life of his daughter here. L. B. Weaver thrust the hand of his daughter, Ellen, 8, in the warm body of a freshly killed turkey when she was bitten by a rattlesnake. Doctors said the treatment drew sufficient of the poison to save her life.

CITY SEEKING ESTIMATE ON TWO BASINS

The city Thursday was working toward an estimate on the cost of settling basins for Lake Cisco, with a view of filing a WPA project for them, it was announced by City Attorney R. E. Grantham.

The announcement came after a group of Ciscoans attended a West Texas Chamber of Commerce meeting at Abilene yesterday and heard a general discussion of requirements for the projects.

Grantham said he did not know whether the city will be able to obtain the project. The basins must cost less than $25,000 in order to come under the WPA project classification. He was trying today to get in touch with the city's engineer.

The city had some estimates, Grantham said, on a filtration plant for the lake, but now is seeking to estimate the filter and construct by settling basins. It was brought out at yesterday's meeting in Abilene that projects run under the old setup will require a new application by their sponsors before work upon them will resume.

There was no discussion of individual projects at the meeting, which was held to give the various clubs and their chambers of commerce an insight into the work and plans of the Works Progress Administration.

Those who attended yesterday's meeting were Mayor J. T. Berry, secretary J. E. Spencer of the chamber of Commerce, the city attorney, and Superintendent R. N. Luck.

Lobo Band Plays At Cross Plains Picnic

The Lobo band today was representing Cisco at Cross Plains, where the fifty-third annual Old Settlers' reunion was being held. The band, which made the trip in a school bus, left at 8:30 this morning. Director L. Maddox had charge of the group.

Other Ciscoans who attended the reunion included Secretary J. E. Spencer of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. King, Mrs. B. E. Morehart, and Mrs. F. Clark.

Killer Strolls Out of Prison

In an escape that rivaled in audacity John Dillinger's "wooden gun" getaway, Henry "Midger" Pennek, above, murderer of five men and notorious bank robber, strolled out of Joliet, Ill., state prison. Wearing civilian clothes and dark glasses that had been smuggled in, he posed as a visitor and calmly walked to freedom as guards opened doors for him.

Texas Company Men To Have Stag Party

The Cisco and Abilene districts of the Texas company sales department will hold an all-day party at the Country club here Saturday, it was announced today by William Reagan, Cisco distributor.

The two zones have been conducting a contest, he said, the loser to entertain the winner at the party. So far the winner has not been announced. H. P. Wiley is zone representative for the Abilene zone and A. B. Hubbard, until his transfer to Lubbock, was head of this zone.

About 40 persons, from the two districts are expected to be present, it was estimated.

Young People's Program Given At Lions Club

Bringing a program designed to emphasize the importance of enlisting the young people in Lions club activities, T. C. Williams presented Alton Wilson, Wanda Robertson, and Crandall Jones in music, dancing, and a description of travel.

Alton Wilson, "Peaches" as he is called in school, sang with an accompaniment by himself on a guitar. He was encored liberally. Little Miss Wanda Robertson, whose home is in Grand Saline, gave a syncopating dance, which was also encored for a repeat performance. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Troy Powell.

Crandall Jones, son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Jones, gave a graphic and interesting account of his recent trip to Alaska. His account showed an alertness of mind and an interpretation of travel that would do credit to a more mature person. His talk was interspersed with anecdotes of a humorous nature that made the talk very lively.

President E. L. Smith announced that the board of directors had endorsed a plan of starting a campaign for getting money for the convention for next year in Cisco. Since it would mean much to Cisco, some 400 guests being expected, and since the further fact was evident that clubs all over the district were looking forward to a visit here in 1936, it was necessary to make this an outstanding event to uphold the fame of Cisco as a place of inter-entertainment and that therefore, the club wanted funds necessary to put over a convention long to be remembered.

The club voted unanimously to uphold the action of the directors and endorsed their plans. The 18 members present underwrote the plan to the extent of $5 each. Finance Chairman J. A. Bearman said that since this matter was of such vital importance to the whole of Cisco, he wanted the active cooperation of every Lion member.

Barefoot Boy Is Skeet Shoot Wonder

BROWNSVILLE, Aug. 16 —Bobby Batsell, 13, hailed as the "barefooted skeet shoot wonder" of this section, is being groomed for national competition.

Bobby scarcely is larger than the guns he shoots, but he has entered the select class of those who have scored their first string of 25 targets.

Bobby prefers to shoot in his bare feet because his toes can get a "grip on the ground." He scored his perfect 25 after only three practice rounds and little previous knowledge of guns.

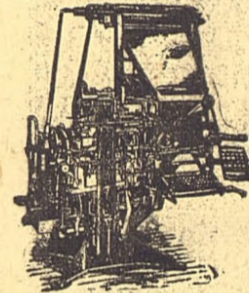

Using a standard gauge shotgun, his first score was six out of 25, his second 11, third 16 and then jumped to 21 out of 25. He consistently goes above 20 now.

Recently he scored 20 the first time he ever used a .410 gauge gun.

OUT OUR WAY

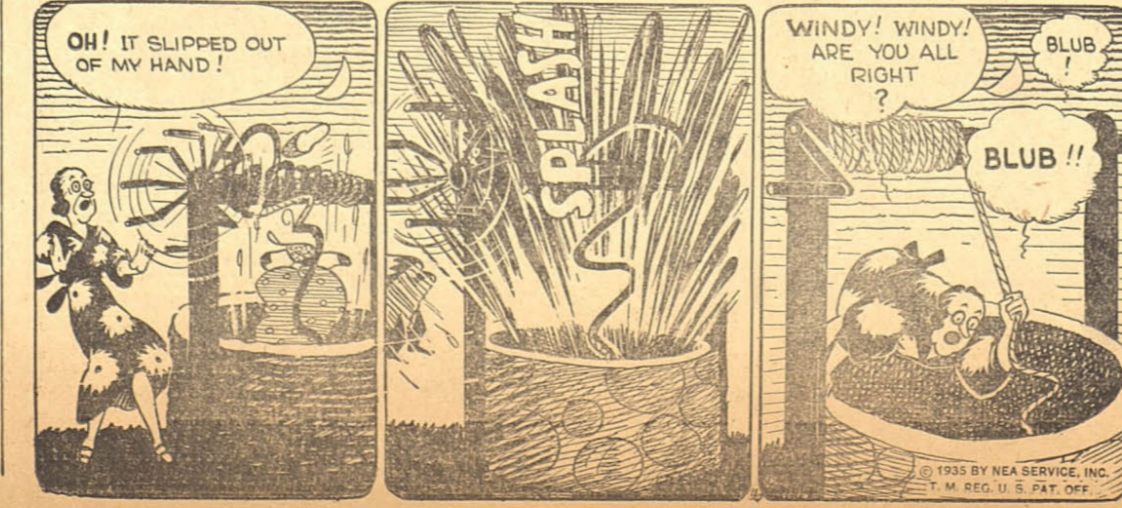

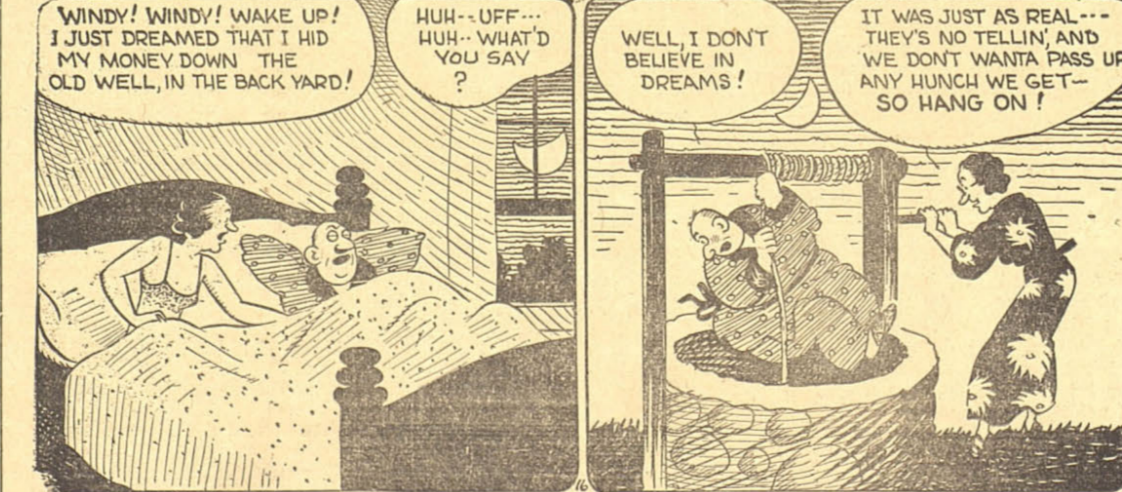

MORSE CLAIMS FEWER DRUNKS UNDER REPEAL

AUSTIN, Aug. 16. - In the cities of the United States with populations between 100,000 and 1,000,000, there were 10,539 arrests for drunken driving in 1931, the last full year of prohibition, while in 1934, the first full year of repeal, the number decreased to 9,795, according to figures received from Washington by R. Emmett Morse, chairman of the Texas Repeal Forces.
"Strange to say," Morse said, "but the increases noted in arrests for this offense were recorded in the most parts by the police departments in cities in dry states, where they have not yet repealed their prohibition laws."
In Houston, the police charged 183 drunken drivers in 1934, while in wet San Francisco, where the population is much larger than in the Texas city, only 151 arrests were made for this offense. In wet Cincinnati, only 48 arrests were made, but in dry Atlanta, 1,070 drunken persons were arrested while driving an automobile.
Houston's arrests fell from 201 in 1931 to 183 in 1934 and wet Denver decreased from 547 to 156 in the same years. Wet Jersey City decreased its arrests for this offense from 74 to 44, while in dry Wichita, Kansas arrests for drunken driving increased from 233 to 272 and in dry Fort Worth arrests increased from eight to thirty-two.
"We find from the figures received from Washington," Morse said, "that the average number of drunken drivers arrested during prohibition years was 10,249 for the cities between 100,000 and 1,000,000 population. The average in these same cities in beer and repeal years has decreased to 8,869, despite the increases noted in the cities of many dry states of the union."
"This seems to me one of the most convincing facts that repeal will increase temperance throughout the entire country. And at the same time we are practicing temperance in Texas, a huge industry which mounts almost to the $100,000,000 mark can be regulated and the liquor which is now sold can be taxed."

KANSAS FARMS GAIN
WICHITA, Kan. - Kansas has shown an increase of six per cent over last year in the number of farms in operation, it was announced here recently by P. H. Stephens, FCA statistician. Most of the increase was noted near the larger cities and in the poorer rural elements.

Former Slave Will Take Third Husband

PALESTINE, August 16 - Aunt Liddie Jackson, 93, slavery-time negress, is soon to be married for the third time. In a cabin on Highway 43, four and a half miles west of Palestine, plans for the elaborate wedding are going forward. The ceremony takes place Aug. 20 and Aunt Liddie has invited all her friends, white and black, to attend the rites which unite her with Jim Kinsey, negro wood chopper, who is "up in his eighties." The aged negress is still active for her age and until this year, friends say she did farm work regularly. She no longer eats three meals a day, but subsists mainly on a diet of corn bread which she eats once a day. Aunt Liddie, who was born in Richmond, Va., was sold as a slave at the age of 10 and was 19 at the time Lincoln issued the emancipation. The aged woman has outlived two husbands, the last dying in 1930.

LUMBER OUTPUT GAINS

PORTLAND, Ore. - Lumber production in Oregon and Washington during 1934 increased about 1 1-2 per cent over that of 1933 and nearly 41 per cent over 1932's output, a survey of the Pacific Northwest Forest Experiment Station revealed. Douglas fir production was first with 3,886,102,000 board feet and Ponderosa pine second with 919,006,000 board feet.

Negro Prefers Jail Sentence to Fine

HOUSTON, Aug. 16 - Albert Wilson, 45, negro, pleaded guilty before Judge Frank Williford to charges of carrying a gun. "I've got to give you some sort of punishment," the judge said. "Would you rather spend 30 days in jail or pay a fine of $100?" "I got more time than money, judge," Wilson said grinning. "I think I'll just take 30 days in jail if you don't mind." The "judge" didn't mind. PATIENT YODELS MEMPHIS, Tenn. - George R. Powell, 75, took a local anesthetic for an operation. During the ordeal he cracked jokes with the doctors and "yodeled" at the nurses. "They almost forgot what they were supposed to do when I started yodeling," he said.

BEAUREVOIR France, Aug. 16 — New facts about Joan of Arc will be revealed through excavations in and about the Chateau de Beaurvoir. HEARING OVER YOWLING CATS ENTERTAINING
DALLAS, Aug. 16 — Five cats were the subject of a bitterly contested trial in Corporation court here the other day as their pretty-housewife owner defended their honor and actions against charges of neighbors that they were just plain alley cats which were never fed and worried the neighbors to death.

Barefoot Boy Is Skeet Shoot Wonder
BROWNSVILLE, Aug. 16 — Bobby Batsell, 13, hailed as the "barefooted skeet shoot wonder" of this section, is being groomed for national competition.

BOWL IDEA
FILL your cereal bowl with Kellogg's Rice Krispies. A great luncheon dish. Just the thing before bedtime.

Rice Krispies crackle in milk or cream—a sound that children can't resist. Fine for the nursery supper. They promote restful sleep. Nourishing and easy to digest.

Antonic Maria Martinez, a lieutenant colonel of the Imperial Spanish army, arrived in Texas in May, 1817, and left five years later with the rumblings of revolution behind him.

The distinguished soldier Martinez had three tasks in Texas—protection of the territory against Indians, foreign invasion and against further revolution. (A Revolutionary uprising had been crushed in 1813).

Lack of money and military reinforcements were given as the cause of Martinez' disappointment. The Indians were uncontrollable, being incited both by foreigners and revolutionists.

In 1821, Martinez signed his own doom by permitting Moses Austin and 300 Louisiana colonists to settle in Texas. Then Texas fell to Mexican revolutionists, who ruled for 15 years.

At the end of that time—1836—Stephen F. Austin, son of the man brought to the Southwest to aid the Spanish cause, led Texas in its successful revolt against Mexico.

One of his finds is a head in stone of a little girl with hair cropped short as it is believed that Joan wore hers. It is not established yet whether this is a long-lost bust of the French heroine, but Plateau hopes to uncover much new material about the French saint.

Joan of Arc was imprisoned in this chateau in 1430 and in trying to escape she jumped from one of the towers. Her enemies trumped up the charge of "attempted suicide," which swayed the judges against her, although it was obvious that she had no intention of killing herself. She merely was trying to escape.

Old Tower Found
Plateau has delved 30 to 50 feet below the surface and has found the remains of three towers part of a staircase, a vaulted roof, a portion of the drawbridge and remains of the ramparts. When the research is finished, it is planned to reconstruct the Beaurvoir chateau as it was in 1430 and turn it into a Joan of Arc museum. It is hoped that this will be completed for the national holiday of Joan of Arc in 1936.

History of the Maid of Orleans was enriched further recently when it became known that the grave of the chief judge who condemned Joan had been found and that the bones had been reburied. Bishop Pierre Cauchon was laid in a nameless grave five centuries ago.

Cauchon died suddenly. Cauchon was buried in Rouen, where Joan was burned, while a barber was cutting his beard, just seven years before Charles VII. king by the grace of Joan, made his triumphal entry into the city where he had allowed her to be burned. There is no record of his burial though, despite his condemnation of the Maid, at his death he was still considered a worthy man and a benefactor of Lisieux, of which he had formerly been the bishop.

Devil in his researches discovered that Cauchon had requested that on his death his body should be transferred to Lisieux and buried beneath the chapel which he had given to the cathedral. He obtained permission to excavate and seek the body. Deeply buried, it was found in a plain coffin bearing no name but when the coffin was opened a skeleton was disclosed with a gishop's ring still thrust on one bony finger while Cauchon's crozier lay beside it.

The crozier and ring were placed in the Lisieux museum, and Cauchon was reburied in the same spot, and just as the fifteenth century, although recognizing his good works had refused to perpetuate the name of the head of the court which condemned Saint Joan so the twentieth confirmed a judgment 500 years old, and lowered Cauchon's bones into the unmarked grave.

35,000 FISH RESCUED
CARUTHERSVILLE, Mo. — This town's candidate for an Isaac Walton League medal is Otis Popbarn, field warden of the state fish and game department. He rescued and released in fresh waters more than 35,000 fish that were left stranded in drying ditches when high waters receded.

Questions by attorneys as to how witness could tell the differences in Tom cats and the other gender, how they could know the difference in alley cats and house cats and other questions concerning the felines' habits provided an hour's entertainment in the courtroom. Even Judge King Williamson could not restrain a smile when the complaining witness said, "Don't be a fool—I'm 75 years old and of course I can tell a Tom cat when I see one."

"You teach voice lessons, don't you," the defense attorney parried, in asking about the howling of the cats. "I don't suppose you could be mistaken in the source of the sounds?"

Judge Williamson dismissed the complaint.

Demand GOOD LIGHTING

NOT THIS WAY
Inadequate and improper lighting conditions cause near-sightedness and eyestrain in children.

BUT THIS WAY
The STUDY LAMP provides light of the right quality and quantity for reading or studying.

More than half the boys and girls who fail in their studies have defective vision!

That puts it squarely up to parents to provide proper lighting conditions for study and reading. For poor lighting is the chief cause of eye strain and near-sightedness, in children.

If your child holds his book abnormally close to his eyes when reading, or if he squints, or complains of headaches... beware!

To make sure that your child will have proper lighting when the duties of the new school year arrive, let one of our representatives make a free survey of your home. The sightmeter will tell you the results. Your local office will be glad to tell you when our lighting representative is available.
