K. N. Greer Recovering From A Broken Leg In Hospital

K. N. Greer, manager of the Palace Theatre, is recovering from a broken leg at the Graham Sanitarium at Humbletown. The accident that caused the injury from which he is suffering was rather unusual in its nature, though disastrous in its results. Thursday evening, Sept. 1, while walking along the street in front of the J. C. Penny store, Mr. Greer fell while attempting to pass some boys at play, and either stepped off the curbing, or the decline in the sidewalk tripped him, causing his fall in such a manner that the bone of his right thigh snapped just above the knee. An ambulance was summoned and he was conveyed to the Graham sanitarium where the bone was adjusted, but where he must remain for several weeks yet, the attending surgeon says, until the new bone substance can be formed that will give him his healing.

There were no casualties in this section, so far as reported, but a considerable stretch of the Texas & Pacific Railroad was washed out west of the overpass at the Harrell crossing, delaying all railroad traffic for several hours. The Southern Pacific, which had been detouring its through passenger trains west over the Texas & Pacific, as well as the trains on this road, were tied up at Cisco until the damaged track could be repaired.

Record Rise in Lake Cisco

A new record of the surface of Lake Cisco of slightly over 81½ feet was recorded by the gauge at the lake, and the headwaters took in considerable new territory by the inflow. The surface of the lake was raised nine feet by this precipitation that fell during the period from Monday night till Wednesday evening, and many of the private boats at this resort were submerged. Others could be seen with only the prow sticking above the rising water.

Probably the most serious damage was in the section around Lueders, where the Clear Fork of the Brazos covered the lowlands, and where the Baptist camp grounds were reported to be several feet under water. It is believed that at least some of the camp houses will be washed away, and reports said many of the farmers have lost heavily in farm crops and some classes of livestock. Most of the cattle and horses were driven to higher ground, where families living near the river also had to take refuge in the more elevated spots. But many marooned people had to be taken out in boats.

The summer home of Col. R. L. Penick was surrounded by water Thursday, with himself and daughter, Miss Lillias, and a neighbor, Charles O'Brian, marooned in his country home. Rescuers had not been able to reach them Thursday afternoon. Alex Spears and A. C. Green left here Thursday for that vicinity. Mr. Spears had his motor boat taken there by the Ever Ready Transfer company with the intention of attempting to rescue those in the Penick home. Several attempts had been made to rescue the marooned trio, resulting in the capsizing of a boat and the loss of the motor. Reports stated that the trio were seen standing in water up to their armpits at one time. However, little uneasiness was manifested for their safety, as it was said the building was on solid foundation, and the attic was safely above any possible high water mark. But the windows and doors of the building were reported gone Thursday morning.

In the hope of reaching the marooned people parties have gone to the scene from Cisco, Abilene, Stamford, Anson and other places, and it is believed the rescue will have been affected late Thursday or early today.

Four Drown Near Abilene

The only fatalities reported were a mother and three children, who lost their lives by drowning when they were swept to their death in the swift currents of Little Elm Tuesday afternoon. Their bodies were recovered early Wednesday morning, a short distance from where they abandoned their automobile on the Bankhead highway. They were a Mr. and Mrs. Mullens and their three children, tourists, from Havana, Ark., where they had been visiting, and en route to their home in Ontario, Calif.

Mr. Mullens, the only survivor of the family, was rescued Tuesday night from a tree where he had taken refuge from the raging water after the others had been washed away. He was being treated at an Abilene hospital when the bodies of his wife and children were recovered.

Relating the cause of the family leaving their car and attempting to wade to higher ground, Mr. Mullens said that when a short distance out of Abilene they encountered rising waters, and attempted to turn back when they encountered another head-rise on Little Elm. Then, he said, Mrs. Mullens became hysterical and panic-stricken, and attempted to leave the car. Seeing he could not prevent her doing so he secured a rope and attached it to himself and wife, while he took the two larger children, and she the younger, and attempted to reach higher ground. But the rapidly rushing waters washed them apart, the rope breaking, all were swept along with the current's swift flow. That was the last he saw of either his wife or children until their bodies were recovered. He was washed under a tree, and grasping a limb succeeded in pulling himself out of the water to safety into the tree, where he remained until rescued.

JOHN ELKINS RECOVERING FROM PARALYTIC STROKE

The many friends of John Elkins, pioneer citizen, were sincerely glad to again greet him while down town Thursday. Mr. Elkins suffered a severe paralytic stroke about six weeks ago, and considerable uneasiness was felt for his recovery at one time. He was looking fine, and all hope his complete restoration will be rapid, now that he has recovered sufficiently to be out on the streets again.

Death of Pioneer Ciscoan Due To A Fall Last Winter

J. C. Talley, early and continuous citizen of Cisco since the founding of the city, passed away at his home near Twin Lakes Wednesday at 2 p. m., and was buried in Oakwood cemetery Thursday afternoon following the religious services at the home, conducted by Rev. E. L. Miley, pastor of the First Christian Church of Cisco.

His death was the culmination of an injury received last February when he fell while returning to his home, sustaining an injury to his hip, which confined him to his home and bed ever since.

Other than he was born in Tennessee none of his most intimate acquaintances could tell anything of his antecedents, even the date of his birth remained a secret that was buried with his body. But he was supposed to have been about 85 years of age. Up to the time of his accident he had manifested unusual activity, walking erect and briskly as he made his daily trips to the city from his suburban home.

Previous and since the death of his wife early in 1930 he had lived the life of a semi-recluse, spending most of his time at his home, varying only by his daily visits to the city. Supposed to possess a comfortable fortune that would have enabled him to enjoy all the comforts of life, yet he preferred his humble home on the outskirts of the city, rather than a modern residence. He had lived alone since the passing of his life companion, with the exception of being administered unto by his nieces, Mrs. W. C. McCleskey, of DeLeon, and Miss Edith Talley.

He was one of the earliest settlers of this vicinity, and during his active life had engaged in various business enterprises, and took a prominent part in local political activities. Other than the two nieces mentioned little is known of other relatives, though some of the older citizens remember his having been visited by a nephew during previous years.

The Green Funeral Home had charge of the burial arrangements.

MANDAMUS APPLICATION IS FILED BY FERGUSON

Having received approximately 4,000 more votes than the Standard Oil candidate, and to forestall any probable plans of defeating the will of the people, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson has filed an application for a writ of mandamus in the state supreme court to compel the state convention to declare her nominee of the Democratic party.

The application is set down for a hearing today, and if granted the court will simply direct the state committee to certify the candidate receiving most votes as the nominee of the party.

The executive committee will meet Monday to canvas the returns.

Organized August 31, 1932, at Austin, Texas. Sympathisers: Highway Department, Texas Rangers and Appointees. Slogan: "Ma Shall Not Pass." Justice Shall Not Prevail.

A PROCLAMATION:

I, Ross S. Whirling, Grand Howler for the "Die Hards" of Texas, and Guardian Angel of the "Special Interests" of those who recently "Poofed off" a million grand in an effort to re-elect me to a four thousand dollar job, do this day, declare the voice of the people to be null and void and refuse to bide by the will of the majority who defeated me on August 27.

I further proclaim and demand that all brother "Die Hards" rally to the cause of MIGHT and assist me to manufacture, collect and assemble rumors and other artificial evidence, by means of which MIGHT can "Legally" over-ride RIGHT, to the extent that the nomination of "Ma" Ferguson may be declared illegal.

I further declare that it was never intended for the common masses who elected "Ma" Ferguson, to control the politics of this State, and my "clients," the Special Intrests, have demanded that "They Shall Not Pass."

Therefore, I command all eligible "Die Hards," including my great Hi-Way Army, my Rangers and My Martial Law forces, together with the vast herd of political grafters who will be kicked out by "Ma" to fall in line and fight to overthrow the will of the people who so ungratefully repudiated my "Big Business Administration."

Sincerely yours,

COMMUNITY FAIR DATES TO BE HELD NEXT WEEK

The community fairs were initiated with the Olden community the first to be held. Scranton's fair date was Thursday, but on account of the heavy rains the first of the week, it was probable the fair was postponed, though the Citizen has received no information regarding the matter.

The communities of Dothan and Friendship, which will combine in one exhibit will be held next Tuesday. This will be followed by the Reagan community Wednesday, and Pleasant Hill next Thursday. Elaborate preparations are being made for these community exhibits, which have appointed committees to take care of every feature of exhibits that will be shown. Other dates will be announced later.

The best of these community exhibits will be assembled for the county fair, which will be held September 21-24. E. H. Varnell, vocational agriculturalist, says the excessive rains will make the gathering of agricultural exhibits rather difficult, and was a little apprehensive that the fair this year might fall short in quality of previous years. Eastland county has won prominent places in the state fair exhibits at Dallas in other years.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Elliott and son visited in Vernon Manday, returning via Wichita Falls and Breckenridge.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him and will manifest myself to him.—John 14:21.

The angels of God's presence prompt
The sweet, unselfish deed,
The pure and tender touch of love
Which helps another's need.
—Eleanor Trehane Norton.

It will be well for us all to remember that Godliness is not a gift that can be wrapped in precious fabric and put away for future enjoyment. It is a quality that is to be used in our daily lives and conduct, and is valuable only as it is used. Its use not only increases its beauty and its strength but it enlarges the capacity of the one who possesses it.—Santa Barbara Press.

IS THE RAIDER PREPARING TO STRIKE?

Though nothing has been done in the past two months to hike the gas rate in Cisco by the Community Natural hijackers, yet there is every reason to believe that this apparent inaction is but the pause previous to the raid that will surely come when its helpless victims are least prepared. Evidently the raiders are biding their time till their victims are lulled into a sense of fancied security only to be rudely awakened after the blow has fallen and the hijackers demand that they stand and deliver.

But it is intended to soothe the blow when the raid is made, for Mr. Chester May, the chief brigand of the hijackers, is now on a missionary tour over the district, with smooth words attempting to convince his victims that these legal bandits are their benefactors, and are preparing to give them cheaper gas. However, he is finding some difficulty in convincing the communities he is visiting that $1.50 rate is cheaper than the present rate of 67 1/2 cents. His graduating scale would give the people in the communities the Community Natural hijackers serve a 50 cent per 1000 cubic feet for the next 20,000 feet after the first 5,000. But before the average man can enjoy this benevolence (?) of these legal bandits he must first consume and pay for 5,000 cubic feet, at the proposed cheap (?) sliding scale of $1.50 for the first 1000; $1.25 for the next 1000, then he must consume and pay for the advantage of the 75 cent present rates.) And Mr. Chester May believes the people are swallowing their cheaper rates.

Probably we wrong him by putting this rot over with the notion when he was attempting of the city commission here, and he was making his talk of hijacking. He could not look the members in the eyes. Instead he constantly attitude was one of insincerity.

But if he does not believe his own argument there must be some other reason that compels him to keep on repeating his parrot tale to his intended victims. Probably he, too, is a victim of his own gang of high-binders, and is compelled to fare forth and attempt to lull his victims into an hypnotic sleep to convince them that they are "being done good."

But it seems that his persuasive powers have lost their charm, if he ever had a charm, for Abilene failed to grasp the idea that $1.60 was cheaper than the present rate of 67 1/2 cents; nor could Sweetwater see where it was to their interest to allow the "sliding scale." Over at Handley, a suburban city of Fort Worth, those people are broadcasting their opposition to the proposed raid of the Community Natural hijackers. In fact, Handley is not even satisfied to pay the present rate of 67 1/2 cents. They want the rate cut to 50 cents, which is the rate Cisco established, but the legal pirates appealed to the federal court where the matter now awaits action of the railroad commission hearing after the report of the engineers on the valuation of the Lone Star properties in Oklahoma. The railroad commission deferred the Texas hearing until the Oklahoma valuation was made, but just what bearing this should have on the rates in Texas is not apparent.

But the Community Natural hijackers are not consistent in their "sliding scale." The rates proposed for Cisco and Abilene are $1.60 for the first 1000; $1.35 for the second 1000; 85 cents for the next 3000, and for the next 20,000 they get real liberal and will charge only 50 cents per 1000. Isn't that nice? Every unemployed man in those two towns, whose family is living from hand to mouth—who doesn't know where his next meal is coming from—is expected to fawn at the feet of the brigands and praise them for their generosity.

But in Eastland (where the increased rates are already established) and in Sweetwater where the same rates are proposed, these legal bandits exact a lesser tribute. In those two towns the rates in the higher brackets are 10c cheaper.

Cisco people who expect to keep warm next winter had better make arrangements for their firewood. Don't think the raiders will leave you in peace. You are sure to be held up when the weather gets cold unless Commissioner Ernest Thompson protects you from a gang of as ruthless bandits as ever scuttled a ship. They are now making a round-up of their victims preparatory for the most brazen hold-up ever staged under legal sanction in Texas.

They heed no appeal of a helpless people. They care naught for suffering humanity. Greed is their god, and 10 per cent their goal, depression or prosperity. The ability of their consumers to pay is nothing to them. Beat them to it. Lay in your winter wood.

TELEPHONE STRIKE SPREADING

The Citizen last week editorially mentioned the telephone strike that had been called by the people of Hutchinson, Kan. A report sent out last Friday by the leader of the movement in that city to force the telephone company to give a reduction in rates, stated that 1300 subscribers have pledged to join the movement, and that a large number had already ordered their phones discontinued.

But the Hutchinson movement is spreading. Fort Worth is one of the latest of the major towns to join the move for lower telephone rates, and it is probable the boycott will be the weapon to fight the telephone monopoly. The Riverside civic league is sponsoring the boycott in Fort Worth, and a city-wide campaign to induce 5,000 subscribers to discontinue their phones was proposed by Henry G. Wills, chairman of a special rate investigating committee, who declared the rates should be cut to $4 for business and $2 for residences.

The Texas constitution declares that monopolies should never be allowed in this state, yet the telephone monopoly is operating brazenly, and despoiling the people with impunity, and never a hand is raised to restrain them. Perhaps Jimmy Allred will take some action against the telephone and gas monopolies as soon as he has finished with the Standard Oil trusts. But in the meantime, the people need relief, and need it now. The boycott is the most effective weapon, and is one that every citizen can use, if they are fortunate enough to be able to afford this convenience. It will be a hard matter to induce the business people to take the initiative. It must come from the homes of the city, and should be instituted in Cisco. If a large percent of the residents would discontinue their phones, and resolve to refuse to patronize those merchants who kept phones in their business houses, it would only be a short while until one operator could take care of all the business of the Cisco exchange.

The boycott is a harsh remedy, but it seems it will take harsh remedies to bring monopolies to reason. The telephone is a convenience, but it can be dispensed with.

Official Vote In Primary Election Saturday Aug. 27

With no material changes in the results from those published last week, the official count of the vote in Eastland county was announced last Saturday by the county Democratic executive committee. The vote as declared by the executive committee has been certified to the state committee, and those receiving a majority for the county offices have been declared the nominees. These will have their names printed on the official ballot for the general election in November. The only district office that was dangerously close was that of representative of the 107th florial district. In Eastland county Lotief received a majority of 454 votes. In Callahan county Russell's majority was 336, giving Lotief a majority in the two counties of 68 votes. Ed T. Cox, chairman of Eastland county committee, is also chairman of the 107th florial district. The chairman of Callahan county has certified the vote to Mr. Cox, which gives Russell's vote as 1,631 and Lotief's in that county as 1,245.

FIRST SOCIALIST SPEECH DELIVERED HERE FRIDAY

"The Cause and Cure of Panics" was the subject of the first Socialist speech heard in Cisco in a decade, delivered by William Busic, under the auspices of the national Socialist headquarters, at the city hall Friday night. Mr. Busic spoke eloquently as well as logically, and entertained his audience of about one hundred men, adult thinkers, who attended the speaking for the purpose of gaining information. None were there for mere curiosity, but having heard the Socialists have a message for the cure of the present economic ills, went to learn. Nor were they disappointed, judging by the comment of those attending the speaking. All were favorable, and many were loud in their praise.

Arriving here the day previous to the speaking many of our citizens had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Busic, who was taken in charge by our own fellow-countryman, Mr. W. B. Starr, perhaps one of the most highly esteemed citizens in the Cisco country. Those who met the visitor soon learned that he was a cultured gentleman, fully informed on the political and economical issues of the day, and were forewarned that his address would be instructive as well as entertaining.

Local Cannery Will Only Take Chickens Today For Canning

The Cisco cannery is now operating only on Tuesdays and Fridays, E. H. Varnell informed the Citizen. Today the cannery will have a special chicken canning, when nothing but chickens will be taken care of. From now until about the first of October, or until the weather gets cool, chickens will be the only class of meats that will be canned, but all kinds of vegetables, fruits, etc., will be canned.

Through the winter months the cannery will take care of all kinds of meats, when it is anticipated many will take advantage of this local institution to provide their winter food. Already there have been between 15,000 and 20,000 containers turned out of the local cannery, most of which have been vegetables and fruits, and now the people are expected to can their meats and winter products to add to the supply already preserved. This vast quantity of canned food represents the food supply of several hundred families, demonstrating that the people of Cisco country will be fat this winter, even if they are ragged. More people are planting fall crops, Varnell said, which gives promise of an abundant yield, owing to the amount of rainfall throughout this section.

Canning of the products of their farms will insure a live at home policy of our people, and is a material economic saving to the country, as only the cans represent any considerable cash outlay. Instead of consuming canned goods produced elsewhere, and canned in other localities, they will save the cost of production, canning, freight and profit to the dealer. Even the containers can be had at less cost than previously as there is sharper competition by reason of the fact that more dealers carried these containers in stock, as nearly all business houses have had cans on their shelves.

Yes, we may be ragged, but we will have plenty to eat.

DID THE 24th DISTRICT EVER RE-ELECT SENATOR?

It is stated that the 24th senatorial district, in defeating the most conscientious and faithful representative the district ever had when it retired Oliver Cunningham, a true representative of the people, only followed a precedent yet unbroken. It is said the 24th never has re-elected a senator. I don't know. Do you? Anyway, we know the voters failed to appreciate the man who has done most for the masses in not breaking this precedent, if so be it, when they turned thumbs down on Cunningham. Such is politics.

Increased Acreage In Improved Grain Sorghum Feed Crop

Carrying out a program that started three years ago to improve the grain sorghums in this area, when a few farmers secured pure bred seed from the government experiment farms, the movement has gained momentum until there are pure seed growers in practically every community in the trade territory south of Cisco. In 1931 15 farmers in this section, according to E. H. Varnell, vocational agriculturist of the Cisco chamber of commerce and high school, secured improved grain sorghum seed from government experimental farms for five-acre plots, and from this start seed has been distributed to others in this territory. These seeds include milo, kaffir, fetereta and hegarl. This year farmers in several communities have a nice start of these improved feed crops in the communities of Word, Shady Grove, Pleasant Hill, and the German community. Among those who have secured additional seed this year from experimental farms include, men and boys, Bobbie Thurman, Forrest Noble, Edward Callerman, Woodrow Seaborn, W. E. Harris, W. E. Wood, R. A. Latham, J. L. Smith, R. W. Zeihr, Alvin Wende, A. H. Lockhart, J. P. McCracken, Aubrey Holt and W. B. Starr.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH SERVICES

"Substance" is the lesson-sermon subject in all churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, September 11.

John 6:27 furnishes the golden text. "Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: for him hath God the Father sealed."

The lesson-sermon embraces the following verse from the Bible (Zechariah 2:13): "Be silent, O all flesh, before the Lord: for he is raised up out of his holy habitation."

Included in the service is the following from page 278 of the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:

"That matter is substantial or has life and sensation, is one of the false beliefs of mortals, and exists only in a supposititious mortal consciousness. Hence, as we approach Spirit and Truth, we lose the consciousness of matter."

Death Overtakes Man Sheltered From Rain At Fleming's Home

After granting permission to a stranger to stop in out of the rain Monday, M. H. Fleming learned that his guest was a corpse only a few minutes after he had procured him a chair and comfortably seated him to await the passing of the shower which drove the man to request shelter from the first home available. Hardly had the stranger taken his seat before he slumped to the floor of the porch, his life extinct. Heart attack is believed to have caused his sudden death. Mr. Fleming summoned an undertaker and had the body conveyed to the Green Funeral Home, where the stranger was later identified as H. J. Crandall, Pine Island, Minn. It is said his widow, is in Houston, while his mother lives at Pine Island.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Holt, of Clovis, N. M., are here visiting the parents of Mrs. Holt, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Blitch. They will probably remain several weeks before their return to New Mexico.

Rare Collection Of Firearms Displayed In Hardware Store

One of the most unique displays of firearms may be seen in the show window of the McDonald Hardware Co., ranging from the ancient derringer and five-shot revolver of early post civil war days, up to the most modern hammerless shot guns and automatic pistols. The inspiration of this display is the opening of the dove season, and the festive dove is said to be as thick as the legendary fiddlers in the nether regions.

Perhaps the smallest gun in existence is included in this assortment of firearms. It is a tiny shooting iron, one and one-half inch in length, of 510 calibre, and carries a ball somewhat smaller than a woodpecker's eye. This curio is the property of Red Caldwell, special traveling officer of the Texas & Pacific Railway.

Then there is a 41 calibre double barreled derringer, a weapon rather common in the late sixties. It fires a rim fire cartridge and was deemed a dangerous weapon when men carried this brand of artillery.

Another weapon of 1860-odd vintage is also a rim-fire, single barreled derringer, which was contributed to the display by Mrs. Lila Hendricks, wife of Patrolman E. O. Hendricks. The possession of this weapon accounts for Mrs. Hendricks not being afraid to remain at home while her husband is patrolling the streets at night. This weapon is of 41 calibre, also, and when fired at close range is always fatal to any live target if the aim is accurate.

Then there is an ancient Winchester rifle—the kind the cowboys used as walking canes following the six-gun law that prohibited the cow hands from packing a big Colt 45. It is a 44 calibre shooting iron, contributed by Joe Wilson, and was found at Round Mountain. It is supposed to have played a part in Cisco's first bank robbery in 1888.

Another "toy" is the five-shot revolver, affected by the dudes of the southwestern states right after the civil war. They were considered harmless by the he-men of those times, but many of the dudes carried them during the period mentioned. An old army bayonet stands sentinel beside an Enfield rifle that probably played a part during the days when the Indian was a menace to the early settlers of the Southwest.

In contrast with these ancient weapons of defense and offense—are modern automatic pistols of varying calibre, repeating rifles shot guns—the kind that McDonald will sell or rent you to bag your limit of the festive doves while the season is open.

You will be interested in this display, but if you want to get the low-down on "Tiny," the smallest gun in captivity, you had better carry a magnifying glass if you wish to examine in detail the intricate mechanism of the piece of artillery in miniature.

JOE BURKETT THANKS FRIENDS

I take this method of sincerely thanking my friends in all Texas, and this county in particular, for their unselfish and splendid support in my recent campaign. Though defeated, yet I am glad I made the race and am happy, indeed, over the nearly four hundred thousand votes I received.

I know I am blessed with the best and truest friends of any man in Texas. I believe in my friends, I appreciate them—I love them, and no man can rob me of their friendship, I shall always remember them kindly and never forget.

Sincerely yours,
JOE BURKETT

BILLION AND QUARTER BARRELS OIL CONSUMED

NEW YORK, Sept.—The world's consumption of petroleum and its products in 1931 is estimated at 1,373,000,000 barrels by Henry L. Doherty & Co.

Gasoline, gas and fuel oils represented about 83 per cent of the total consumption, it was calculated.

Total consumption per capita was placed at about 29 gallons, distributed as follows: Gasoline 11 3-5 gallons, kerosene 2 3-5, gas and fuel oils 12 1/2, lubricating oils 4-5 of a gallon and miscellaneous products, 1 1/2 gallons.

Based on approximate 1931 prices at American refineries, the value of petroleum products was estimated as follows: Gasoline $806,280,000, gas and fuel oils $211,887,000, lubricating oils $119,940,000, kerosene $100,584,000, and miscellaneous products, $74,405,000.

Retail prices were said to have ranged two to four times higher than refinery prices.

Most of your suffering from common every-day aches and pains is unnecessary and unwise.
