The committee voted to increase the automobile sales tax from three to four per cent. It voted against increasing tobacco taxes.

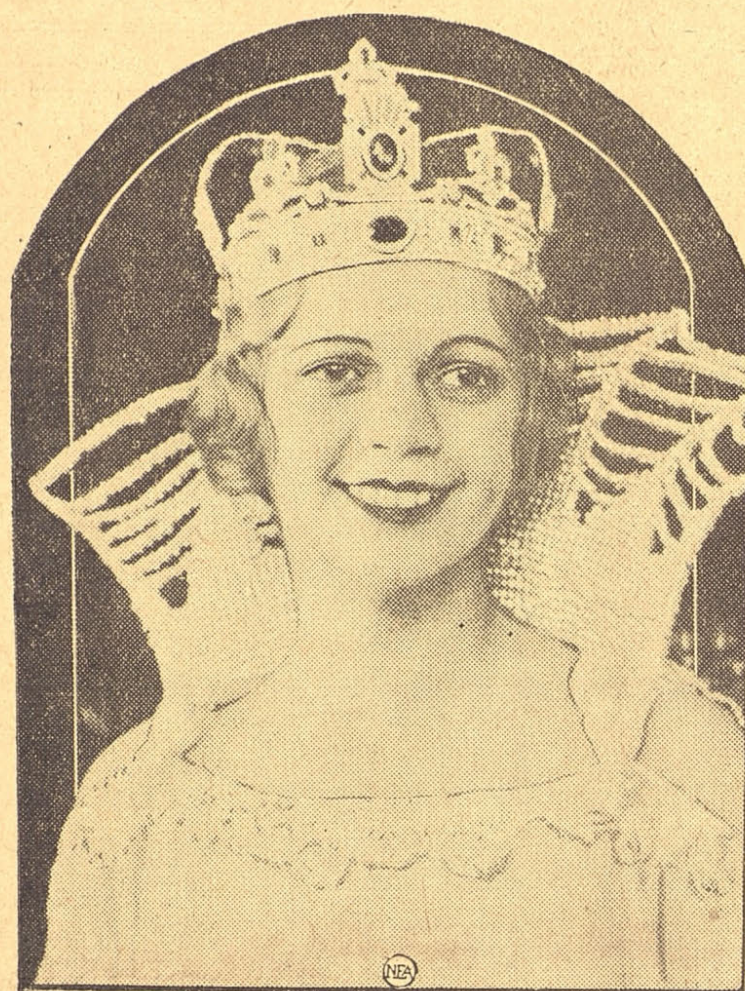

Sec'y of Treasury Mills pleaded with the committee today to "eliminate atrocities" from the new tax bill. Following up the rebuke which President Hoover administered to congress yesterday, Mills told the committee it had "dealt a disastrous blow to public confidence" by some of its actions.

County Jail Needed to House Delegates To District Christian Endeavor Meeting

The county jail, the top floor of the city's leading hotel and the homes of the Albany citizens were needed to house the hundreds of Christian Endeavor delegates, representing 14 counties, who attended the 28th annual convention of the Abilene district which was held in Albany on April 29-30 and May 1.

The banquet on Saturday night, presided over by Harold Lovitt of Dallas, field secretary of Christian Endeavor in Texas, and which was attended by additional numbers from the neighboring cities, proved to be the most enthusiastic gathering of the three day session.

The program featuring the theme "In Jesus' Conquering Name" was well presented by Rev. H. G. Markley, pastor of the Breckenridge Presbyterian church who spoke Friday evening on "Prayer" and by Gordon Weir, Abilene, who spoke Saturday evening on "Prayer Plus." Saturday afternoon addresses from Rev. J. W. Tyndall, dean of Randolph Bible college at Cisco, on "How to Win Young People to Christ" and Rev. H. C. Markley on "How to Make Our Communities Better Places in Which to Live" were heard.

The conferences on recreation, missions, literature, extension and various other phases of Christian Endeavor work, which extended throughout the day Saturday, were conducted by very capable and efficient district and state leaders.

MOTORCADE TO BE HERE SUNDAY P. M.

The Broadway of America motorcade, headed west from Broadway, New York City, for San Diego and the annual convention of the Broadway of American Highway association, will reach Cisco Sunday afternoon about 1:15.

Although Cisco is not sending a representative on the motorcade this year, the chamber of commerce is anxious that a cruising welcome be given the trippers as they pause here for 15 minutes. The Lobo band will play.

Citizens are urged to turn out in large numbers to greet the visitors during their brief stay.

The motorcade left New York City at 6 a. m., Tuesday May 3. It is scheduled to arrive at San Diego, California, at 5:15 p. m., Thursday May 12. The convention will open Friday morning, May 13 and continue through Saturday, May 14.

The motorcade is headed by President F. O. Mackey, of El Paso. Mr. Mackey and L. C. Townsend, secretary of the association, drove the pilot car from El Paso to New York to start the motorcade, stopping over for a few minutes in Cisco about two weeks ago on this trip.

They predicted a train of 100 cars by the time the convention city is reached and announced a program of entertainment such as no previous motorcade has enjoyed.

Fire Damages Glenn Residence

The home of R. S. Glenn at H avenue and 17th street was partially destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. The alarm was received by the fire department at 1:30 and the flames extinguished in short order but not before most of the furnishings of the home had been ruined and the greater part of the family store of clothing destroyed.

The fire started when a pan of grease was overturned on a hot stove, it was reported.

The house contained seven rooms and the loss is partly covered by insurance.

GRAND JURY DEFERS ACTION IN MEANS CASE

WASHINGTON, May 6. — The United States grand jury heard from Mrs. Evelyn Walsh McLean today the story of how she charges Gaston B. Means defrauded her of $100,000 on representation that he could obtain the return of the kidnapped Lindbergh baby.

The jury deferred action on an indictment until Tuesday. Means is held in jail in default of $100,000 bond.

So the Governor of New York Said To the Governor of Maryland---

Maybe one had called the other "Mr. President" just to hear how it sounded. Whatever the jest was, it brought smiles to the faces of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt (left) of New York and Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland. W. N. Porter, Who Once Operated Flour Mill in Cisco, Dies at Aransas Pass

W. N. Porter, formerly of Cisco where he lived for many years and operated a flour mill, died Thursday morning at his home in Aransas Pass at the age of 87 years. Mr. Porter, an uncle of R. T. Porter, of this city, was here last fall when Mrs. Porter went to Fort Worth where he was attending the Confederate reunion, and brought him back to his former home for a visit.

His death removes another of that fast diminishing circle of old-timers who helped to build Cisco from a railroad junction into a flourishing west Texas trading point. Besides operating a flour mill here which drew trade from a wide area, Mr. Porter also once conducted a lumber yard here as well as other businesses.

Burial will be at Aransas Pass. Illness of a long duration preceded his death.

W. L. MOORE IS GIVEN "RIDE" BY CUSTOMERS

W. L. "Whitey" Moore, of the Red Front Drug store, got the worst end of one deal last night. He came out of the experience with a blackened eye, a pair of trousers and a shirt ruined, sore bones and a financial deficit of 40 cents.

About 8 o'clock two men and a woman drove up to the store and called for two packages of cigarettes. "Whitey" carried the cigarettes to the car. It started away and he hung on the side. The clerks at the store are used to such pranks, but the pranksters usually carry them around the block, return to the store and pay for the merchandise.

But in this case the object was serious and as the Ford coupe narrowed speed down D avenue, narrowly missing a car driven by Mrs. C. E. Yates, Moore struggled with the occupants and shouted for help. He was struck in the face just about the time the car hit the concrete base at Eighth and D where the flag-pole formerly stood, and a block further on either jumped or was thrown from the speeding machine. Except for bruises and abrasions and a blackened eye where one of the men struck him as he clung to the side of the car he was fortunately unharmed.

Home Burglarized During Absence

Burglars who entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Lewis at 1508 D avenue sometime during their recent absence of two weeks while at Desdemona, practically stripped the family of their stock of bed and table linens. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis returned from Desdemona last week. They had left the house apparently securely locked but they discovered the back door to have been forced, and investigating found sheets, pillow cases, five counterpanes, table cloths and other linens carried off wholesale. One counterpane had been stripped from the bed.

Residents Are Warned of Mad-Dogs

The first case of a mad-dog in Cisco this year was reported by police today. H. S. Stubblefield, desk sergeant, yesterday killed a bull-dog at 610 W. 12th street said to have been afflicted with rabies. The dog was confined in a yard and had not been free to infect other dogs he said.

Citizens were warned to watch their dogs carefully and to guard against a possible outbreak of the menace. The dogs should be vaccinated and when there is danger of being infected by other dogs should be kept up.

RANDOLPH IS GOING FORWARD SAYS ISAACKS

Randolph college, financially speaking, is in the best year of its history regardless of the depression, Dean E. B. Isaacks, of the institution, told the Rotary club yesterday noon. Mr. Isaacks addressed the club as the guest of P. P. Shepard, program chairman for the day.

He pointed out that although the school has been unable yet to take care of the indebtedness of past years, its operations this year are within the budget established and prospects based upon its showing in the most difficult period of its history, are promising. In spite of the small student body — caused by the uncertainty of last year and the delayed opening — a larger number of paying students are attending the school and practically all local bills for operation have been taken care of. A few such bills now owed will be taken care of by the closing of school, he said.

Scholastically the school has made a very creditable showing, its students who have transferred to other universities not only making the honor rolls of those schools in a majority of cases but doing well enough in their work to give the Cisco school rank among the highest class of institutions represented by all transfers.

JURY PROBE OF OIL THEFT IS RECESSED

LONGVIEW, May 6. — The Gregg county grand jurors investigating theft of oil in the east Texas field recessed today until next Tuesday. District Attorney John Taylor asked for the recess to allow the assembling of additional evidence. James P. Casey, special counsel for the state, presented a mass of evidence to the jury just before it adjourned. Officials predicted sensational developments when the jury returns.

GETS COPIES OF OIL RECORDS.

AUSTIN, May 6. — Ass't Attorney General Fred Upchurch returned today from the east Texas oil field with photostat copies of oil company records to be used in filing penalty suits for alleged violation of proration orders. Upchurch said application will also be made for injunctions to prevent repeated violations. Duplicate sets of books were used in some instances. Upchurch said, one set showing a run of oil within the commission orders and the others showing the actual run.

RUSSIAN, SAID TO BE CRAZED, IS ARRESTED

By RALPH HEINZEN U. P. Staff Correspondent PARIS, May 6. — President Paul Doumer was shot and critically wounded by a crazed Russian at an afternoon charity fete today.

He was considered by his physician tonight to have a "fighting chance" to recover although the outcome was in doubt after two blood transfusions.

At 9:40 p. m. (10:40 a. m. CST) the following official bulletin was issued at the Beaujon hospital. "The president received two balls, one at the base of the cranium and the other under the right shoulder. There were no hemorrhages but serious shock. Already there have been two blood transfusions. His condition is still most grave."

The interior ministry issued the following official statement. "Grappled With Assassin. "President Doumer was shot twice while attending a "book afternoon" by a Russian anarchist, seemingly without full mental faculties. The function was being held at the home of Solomon Rothchild. It was one of a number being held over France during the week to raise funds for the families of needy authors.

The municipal director Paul Guchart and Claude Farrere, president of the Authors League and well known novelist, both grappled with the assassin and were slightly injured.

The assassin was Paul Gorgoulous 37, a Russian, who lately practiced medicine in the Latin quarter of Paris. A howling throng gathered outside the nearby police station where the assassin was chained behind bars.

Doumer, because of his reputation for kindness and the loss of his four sons in the war, has increased greatly in popularity since he became president last June. He always remained above political quarrels and apparently had few political enemies.

In appearance he resembled Charles Evans Hughes, of the United States supreme court.

TEXAS GRANTED A HEARING.

The supreme court of the United States has granted a hearing in the appeal of the state of Texas from an order of the East Texas federal court enjoining enforcement of martial law to restrict oil production and the case will now be set for oral argument.

Regardless of the coming decision of the court of last resort, martial law and the conservation orders which followed saved the day for all those who are vitally interested in these famous fields. Crude was selling as low as eight cents a barrel when martial law was declared.

For years and years oil waste and gas waste in Texas has been nothing short of criminal. For years and years conservation of oil and gas has been made well nigh impossible. Now the lawmakers of state and nation should place legal curbs on those who would be responsible for another period of criminal waste of the natural resources of the country in the petroleum and gas producing states of America.

GRAND JURORS BUSY IN EAST TEXAS.

An oil conspiracy in the East Texas fields is the sensation of the hour in petroleum circles. Col. L. S. Davidson, commander of the national guard unit with the proration force, has promised to show a grand jury records to prove wholesale thievery has been going on for several months. Also that 25 to 40 additional persons, "including certain men of prominence," will be arrested.

"Where children cry for bread, justice may be tempered with mercy, but if you find that men of position and influence, whether they operate as independents or for large companies or corporations, have allowed greed and avarice to take from our oil fields that which does not belong to them, spare neither time nor expense in running down every clue."

PROTECTING THE WIDOWS AND ORPHANS.

There is a presidential campaign on. There is a congress in session. There is a house that is democratic by a majority of 20. A pension bill for widows and orphans of World War veterans which will cost the taxpayers $100,000,000 within five years was enacted by the house and sent to the senate. This was the vote: For 316; against 16.

PHILPOTT FLORIST

Is This How the War Debt Problem Will Be Solved?

In the Political Arena

By HUGH NUGENT FITZGERALD In a five to four decision the supreme court of the United States held that the Texas law giving the state democratic executive committee power to bar negroes from party election is invalid.

It will be recalled that the ruling was handed down in an appeal brought by L. A. Nixon, of El Paso, testing the validity of the law which gave the democratic executive committee power to prescribe qualifications for primary voters.

National Committeeman Jed Adams of Dallas is of the opinion that the decision will have little effect on voting. This is the Adams viewpoint: "Negroes are not going to attempt to enter the primaries whatever the law. The situation will be taken care of somehow, if necessary, I am sure."

Whenever there is a bond election up in the municipalities of Texas, negroes who are qualified are urged by the leading citizens to go to the polls and vote for or against the bonds. This has happened in every leading city of the commonwealth.

Now the court of last resort holds that the lawmakers are impotent, that their barring acts are unconstitutional but the state convention of the party may prescribe the qualifications of a voter and if his skin is black or brown or yellow it is entirely proper to shut him out and keep him out. Paul D. Page, Jr., was an assistant attorney general when the original Nixon case arose in 1927.

There is a Terrell election law. It should be thrown in the ditch. It should be made a penitentiary offense to pay a poll tax for another. It should be made a penitentiary offense to steal or deface ballots. Thomas B. Love and his followers are responsible for many of the laws regulating or attempting to regulate the affairs of political parties away down here in Texas.

It was a sorry day for the black man when the slave traders invaded the coast of Africa, seized their victims, threw them in the hold of a ship, and finally landed them on the shores of North America.

In many of the southern states east of the river they are victims of state statutes and in Texas they have been disowned by their republican leaders and warned by the democratic leaders that they are not wanted in the wigwam first erected by Thomas Jefferson.

Of course, it will be a knockout for the 14th amendment, but who cares for the 14th amendment while the row is on for the repeal or the retention of the 18th amendment? Those who would change the 18th amendment are branded as nullifiers.

Did You Ever Stop to Think?

By EDSON R. WAITE Shawnee, Oklahoma.

That it takes time for any business to build a reputation strong enough to insure a steady growth. The success of every business depends on its gaining a reputation by honest advertising and living up to its advertisements.

The reputation of a business concern comes from satisfied customers. Satisfied customers come as a result of honest goods and honest advertising. Today people do not seek a store—the store must seek the public by advertising!

Business concerns that have enjoyed a prosperous business year have been constant advertisers. The business that has grown from a small business into a larger business has been a heavy advertiser. The growth of these concerns has been due to giving service, carrying standard goods at standard prices.

and linked with truthful advertising. The right kind of advertising means quicker sales, better profits, increased demand, and satisfaction to both buyer and seller.

The greatest asset of any business is satisfied customers. Satisfied customers mean more customers. More customers mean a better and more profitable business.

20 YEARS OF ILL HEALTH

Then Mrs. Duke Discovered Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Of her own accord, Mrs. Duke sat down and wrote us a glowing tribute to Kellogg's ALL-BRAN: "I have been constipated all my life, which has been about 20 years, up until last year when I started eating your ALL-BRAN. Since I have been eating it, people tell me I am looking better, and I am sure that I feel a great deal better."

Constipation is usually caused by lack of two things in the diet: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines; Vitamin B to help give them tone. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides both of these dietary necessities, as well as iron for the blood.

Within the body, the "bulk" in ALL-BRAN forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

How much more natural it is to enjoy this delicious cereal than to risk taking pills and drugs—so often harmful.

Just eat two tablespoons daily—serious cases with every meal—for most types of constipation. ALL-BRAN is not habit-forming. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Sold in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

ANCIENT "CRIB" FOR CHINESE EXAM FOUND

CHICAGO, May 6.—An ancient "crib," or "pony," used to pass a civil service examination in China hundreds of years ago has been received by the Field Museum of Natural History from Edward Barrett of New York.

Lazy students of the present era would recognize it at once. It is a silk handkerchief 35 inches long by 14 inches wide and contains 24,365 finely written characters in 443 lines, copied from the work of Mong-Ste. The latter was the most gifted of the disciples of Confucius and a pioneer in statecraft whose writings frequently were the subject for an examination.

"Crib" Explained In identifying the crib as belonging to the Kang-hi period, about 1662-1722, Dr. Berthold Laufer, curator of anthropology and eminent Orientalist said: "Up to 1905, toward the end of the Manchu dynasty, China was the classical land of examinations. The country always was guided by an aristocracy of intellect rather than birth; in fact, there was no hereditary nobility. There was free competition for all in obtaining official positions, and a complex but just system of civil service examinations held by the government recruited the best talent from all ranks."

"The object of these examinations was not, as with us, a test merely of knowledge, but instead a test of culture and literary ability. Elegance of style, in conformity with ancient recognized models, was the primary condition of the essays to be submitted. Perfect mastery of literature, a formidable memory, and a highly disciplined mind were required, as quotations from the classics had to be given with rigid accuracy. Degrees were conferred upon successful candidates by the state without intervention of school or college."

Official Rank. "They opened the way to official rank and service, but were bestowed on only two or three per cent of the average number of 2,000,000 applying at examination time." Examinations were held in large examination halls containing thousands of individual cells in rows. They were held once every three years. Candidates remained almost prisoners in these cells for nine-day periods, eating, sleeping and writing on a rough plank. Four soldiers searched each one, fraud being severely punished.

Sister Writes Of Longworth

PARIS, France, May 6. — Ciera Longworth de Chambrun, native Cincinnati, sister of the late Nicholas Longworth and wife of General Comte Adelbert de Chambrun, now in charge of French troops in Tunis, is completing the final chapters of a book about her brother, The Making of Nicholas Longworth, which is to be published in America early this fall by Ray Long. The Countess de Chambrun already is recognized as one of the world's best authorities on Shakespeare. Her book entitled Shakespeare: Actor-Poet, originally presented as a thesis at the Sorbonne, is a literary gem and won her, not only personal laurels and the admiration of ancient and contemporaries in the field, but also a degree of Docteur es Lettres from the Sorbonne. DIZZY HEADACHE RELIEVED

A dizzy, sickening headache often is a warning sign of constipation. Poisons which constipation dumps up in the intestines are beginning to get in their dangerous work. There's refreshing relief in a dose or two of Theodor's Black-Draught. "I first began taking Black-Draught for biliousness and constipation," writes Mrs. Alonzo Rothrock, of Illinois, Mo. "I would have sick headache and dizziness so I could not stoop over. I did not get any better until I began taking Black-Draught. After using it for some time, I quit having sick headache."

the MAN HUNTERS BY MABEL McELLIOTT

BEGIN HERE TODAY Susan Carey, pretty secretary, is in love with Bob Dunbar, young millionaire she met at business college. At a party given by Denise Ackroyd, society girl, Susan realizes Bob is not for her. Bob fights with Ben Lampman, another admirer of Susan's. Ernest Heath, Susan's employer, happens along and escorts the girl back to the Ackroyd's house. Mrs. Heath, bitterly jealous, later threatens to sue Susan for alienation of affections. Jack Waring, Heath's assistant, is able to prevent this by producing an incriminating letter. Mrs. Heath goes to Reno instead. Susan tries to forget. Bob, Ray Flammyer, stenographer in the next office, confides to Susan she is heartbroken because "Sky" Webb has married another. Susan's chum Rose Milton, plans to give up a career for the man she loves. Bob comes to the office but Heath interrupts his conversation with Susan.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXX Ben came occasionally to see Susan. By tacit agreement the night of Denise's party was never mentioned. Susan's attitude toward Ben was by turns friendly and then remote. She was sorry for him. Usually he was to serious but there were times, as for instance the night they popped corn in Aunt Jessie's immaculate kitchen, when the girl almost liked him. "This is the way boys and girls should be together," she thought afterward, remembering their foolish laughter. She had forgotten that evening to be self-conscious with Ben. He had seemed more like a brother than a suitor. After Ben had gone Aunt Jessie got up from her rocking chair, where she had been darning stockings, and followed Susan into her bedroom.

"That's a real nice young man," she said with unwelcome approval. Susan was brushing her hair and did not reply. Aunt Jessie seated herself on the edge of the bed. "Isn't every girl has a young man give up a chance to get ahead just for her," she commented. Susan tossed back her cloud of dark hair and stared her astonished aunt. "I don't know what you're talking about," she said. "Aunt Jessie continued to look mysterious. 'Do you mean to tell me,' she demanded, 'Ben hasn't told you about that offer to go to California as a band leader?' 'Oh, that,' Susan murmured. 'Yes he did mention it once or twice but I thought it was all in the air. Anyhow what have I to do with it?' Aunt Jessie sniffed. 'Plenty, I should say. He doesn't want to go so far away from you and get a satisfaction to me to see you settled.' 'Let's not talk about it,' Susan said with weary patience. She was angry at Ben for having confined his hopes to Aunt Jessie. How like him she thought! She was bewildered. 'Every one seemed to be

Ben tilted her face upward. She was a tall girl but he towered above her. His eyes were dark with emotion that looked like rage. Susan was conscious only of a sense of outrage, not of fear. 'I'll let you go—all right,' Ben panted. He pressed his lips to hers. It was all over in an instant. Then he was flinging himself out the door. Susan put her hands to her hot cheeks. She tried to laugh but discovered she was trembling. She was desperately afraid she was going to cry. Aunt Jessie called from the other room, 'Ben gone already?' The girl staidied her voice to reply. 'Is he coming to dinner tomorrow?' Susan waited a fraction of a second. Then she answered, 'No—yes—I don't know.' (To Be Continued)

ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON, WILLED HIS BIRTHDAY (NOV. 13) TO A LITTLE GIRL, BECAUSE HER OWN FELL ON CHRISTMAS. WALRUSES ATTAIN A WEIGHT OF 1/2 TONS. IN ST. JOHNSBURY, VT., lived a little girl named Annie Ide, whose birthday came on Christmas. Robert Louis Stevenson realized the inconvenience of such a birthday and willed her his own, which came on Nov. 13. The will was written out in document form and is considered a literary classic. SCIENTIFIC TESTS made with butterflies have shown that these insects taste with their legs, and their taste is 1600 times as sensitive as that of the human tongue in detecting the sweetness of sugar. WALRUSES make an easy target for hunters, who hunt for their skins,ubber, and ivory tusks.

FORD'S RUBBER PLANTATION ON AMAZON GAINS

DETROIT, May 6. — More than 600 miles up the storied Amazon seed is being sown by between 2,000 and 3,000 men which Henry Ford hopes will mean the economic rebirth of one of the richest areas in the Western Hemisphere.

Since the first announcement by Ford that he would grow Para plantation rubber in the Amazon Valley four years ago, it is estimated that he has spent more than $8,000,000 on the project.

The jungle has been pushed back at the rate of 1,000 acres a year, and since the first rubber tree was planted in 1929, more than 4,000 acres of orderly rows of trees have replaced the tangled vegetation.

3,600 Miles From New York

Boca Vista, just 610 miles from the port of Para and 3,600 miles from New York, is rapidly taking form in modern streets, homes and factories. But, it will be at least four years yet before any appreciable amount of rubber is produced.

For 100 years this province of Para was the chief source of the world's rubber supply. It reached the peak in 1908 when the Amazon Valley, including Para and other Brazilian states, as well as portions of Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru and Bolivia, exported a total of 40,164 tons.

The crash in the South American market came in 1910. There suddenly appeared in the New York market, clean, evenly graded cheaper Para rubber, taken from scientifically cultivated and operated plantations in Malaysia, 13,000 miles away. This was the beginning of the rubber monopoly which during and after the World war shot prices sky high, and probably had a part in Ford's decision to enter the field.

Other Commodities

While practically all of the 5,000 acres already cleared have been planted with Hevea Brasiliensis, Ford does not intend to use his entire clearance for rubber. Engineers have reported that every acre so far surveyed is ideal for production of other marketable commodities such as numerous varieties of oil and edible nuts, tropical fruits, cocoa, a high grade of cotton, rice, beans, sugar and the useful mandioc, from which natives secure tapioca as well as their own national food, farinha meal.

A railroad has been built and a saw mill, freighted in pieces from Michigan, treated the trees felled into temporary dormitories, mess halls, a warehouse, blacksmith and carpenter shops. A power house and a deep-water dock are among the oldest creations.

Engineers have completed plans for schools for the children of the native laborers, whose population is expected to range between 6,000 and 10,000 when the plantation is completed.

RHUBARB is invaluable as a fruit extender, a "stretcher," so to speak. Strange as it may seem, this common garden plant with its characteristic tartness has the peculiar quality of increasing the bulk of jams and conserves made of delicately flavored fruits without materially changing the flavor.

Strawberry and rhubarb jam is delicious and hard to distinguish from all-strawberry jam but the rhubarb increases the quantity and makes for economy.

Strawberry and Rhubarb Jam
One pound rhubarb, 2 pounds strawberries, 2 pounds granulated sugar.

Wash and skin rhubarb. Wash and hull berries. Put rhubarb through the food chopper, catching the juice that drips from the crank case. Combine rhubarb and sugar. Add berries and let stand until sugar is dissolved. Stir frequently to prevent sticking and to crush the fruit. Cook until a spoonful tried on a cold plate jellies. Turn into sterilized jelly glasses and cover with paraffine when cold.

Rhubarb and Pineapple Marmalade
Two cups finely chopped rhubarb, 2 cups shredded pineapple, 4 cups hulled strawberries, 6 cups sugar, 1-2 cup blanched and shredded almonds.

Cook pineapple in its own juice for ten minutes. Add strawberries cut in small pieces and prepared rhubarb. Bring to the boiling point and sift in sugar. Cook, stirring to prevent sticking, for about 40 minutes. Add nuts and cook ten minutes longer. Turn into sterilized jelly glasses and cover with paraffine when cold.

A few glasses of these preserves will help to replenish the store left from last autumn's work. Served with tea and toast or hot rolls, they will add new interest to plain pound stoned and chopped dates, meals.

Rhubarb Relish
Two pounds rhubarb, 1-4 pound seeded and chopped raisins, 1-2 pound stoned and chopped dates, teaspoon ginger, 1-2 cup chopped English walnut meats.

Combine raisins and dates and let stand in vinegar for one hour. Skin rhubarb and cut in half-inch pieces. Add to first mixture with all the remaining ingredients except the nuts. Cook slowly, stirring frequently for two hours. Add nuts and cook ten minutes longer. Turn into sterilized jelly glasses and cover with paraffine when cold.

Rhubarb and Strawberry Conserve
Two cups finely chopped rhubarb, 2 cups shredded pineapple, 4 cups hulled strawberries, 6 cups sugar, 1-2 cup blanched and shredded almonds.

Cook pineapple in its own juice for ten minutes. Add strawberries cut in small pieces and prepared rhubarb. Bring to the boiling point and sift in sugar. Cook, stirring to prevent sticking, for about 40 minutes. Add nuts and cook ten minutes longer. Turn into sterilized jelly glasses and cover with paraffine when cold.

A few glasses of these preserves will help to replenish the store left from last autumn's work. Served with tea and toast or hot rolls, they will add new interest to plain pound stoned and chopped dates, meals.

Cisco Girl Takes Part in TCU Sports

(Special to The Cisco News)

PORT WORTH, May 6. — Miss Lillian Shertzer of Cisco is one of 178 girls participating in 13 sports at Texas Christian university. Miss Shertzer is signed up for tennis and basketball.

"A game for every girl and every girl in a game" has been adopted as the aim of the Woman's Athletic association this year.

Tennis is the most popular sport with the girls, 28 having signed up for this activity. Golf is next, with 24 girls participating. Other popular sports include horseback riding, archery, hiking, volleyball, basketball and track. The girls also participate in handball, swimming, dancing and skating.

Athletics for girls at T. C. U. are encouraged with the emphasis upon play for play's sake rather than upon the turning out of a small group of basketball, tennis or track stars. Each sport has a manager who gives instructions under the direction of Mrs. Helen Walker Murphy, director of physical education for women.
