Market Stir Indicates Rise in Agricultural Prices

ADVANCES IN WHEAT, CORN REGISTERED

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Price levels stirred today in the grain pit of the Chicago Board of Trade, nerve center of America's agricultural empire, while observers watched hopefully There was a chance that wheat corn and other farm commodity prices have started a rise from the depression depths that sank them to levels untouched since the days of Queen Elizabeth. Wheat has advanced 5 to 6 cents from the season's low price. Activity sharpened suddenly. Future sales last week totalled 92,000,000 bushels, nearly a third over the previous week and almost equal to last year's Millers are buying wheat freely.

December flour mills' output showed a gain over the 1931 month. Experts believe passage of the domestic allotment farm relief measure may run wheat prices up to the 75-cent level.

Hog prices are up strongly from the lowest levels in 54 years touched recently. Wholesale pork prices are the highest since November. The lamb market has held steadily above last year's prices for several weeks. Butter and eggs are selling at good prices with indications demand

This declining capitalization accounts for the increase in the number of firms with authorized capital stock of less than $5,000 from 512 in 1931 to 626 in 1932. The number of firms with authorized capital stock of $100,000 or more dropped from 113 in 1931 to only 68 in 1932.

Of the firms receiving charters in Bandit Is Shot 1931, 487 were organized to do business in some phase of merchandising, and 434 were engaged in the oil industry: 248 were manufacturing concerns, and 191 were firms operating real estate and building

HIGH SIGNS ON PROSPERITY HIGHWAY.

There are optimists in this land of the free—and the hungry. R. Stanley Dollar of San Francisco, famous in the American shipping world, predicts that the United States is going ahead with a firm steady stride which eventually will lead to the goal of good times. Indeed, he said the present rate of gain shown in American shipping is indicative of a material upward trend in the business of the world. G. F Swift, the head of the Chicago packing firm, is optimistic. He has his viewpoint. He would give business a chance by lowering taxes and broadening foreign markets. He emphasizes the urgent need of sound government policies. He stressed that reduced taxes would help everybody and particularly the farmer, "who is suffering from low purchasing power and the need of a broader foreign outlet for his sur-plus products." Well, perhaps the needed reforms are on the way. Away down here in Texas $12,000,000 has been sliced by the board of control and Gov. Sterling from the two-year budget applications of state departments, colleges, eleemosy nary institutions and courts. Total of the biennial budget was estimated at approximately $46,000,000. As provided by the new budget law the recommendations will be passed on to Gov.-Elect Miriam A. Ferguson, who is required by the By HUGH NUGENT FITZGERALD same law to write in her recommendations and to transmit the executive budget to the legislature. It is said that the incoming governor will recommend a 25 per cent cut all down the line. Unless all the signs are misleading, there will be "a ter, is serving a second term of four cut to the bone" policy inaugurated in response to the vigor- years' as national committeewoman ous demands of taxpayers in every section under the Texas for Texas. She was named for the "Lighten the load" is their demand. "No increased taxation" is another demand.

OKLAHOMA LAWMAKERS BEGIN GRIND.

Oklahoma lawmakers are grinding. Gov. Murray's followers dominated the house by a large majority, elected the large contributors to the campaign speaker and will control all the house committees. As for the chest. Four years later she was on senate, those who do not think as Gov. Bill thinks all the time control the organization by a scant majority. First and Garner as the choice of the Texas to the point, a drastic reduction of $11,793,899 in appropriations for state departments and institutions for the next bithrown his hat in the national ennium, in order to balance the budget, was recommended by arena. She was elected for a second the unofficial state economy committee in a report made public by the governor. These recommendations called for abolition and consolidation of many boards and institutions, a reduction of from 10 to 15 per cent in salaries, elimination of structed to vote for John N. Garner many positions and an average reduction of 30 per cent in institutional and departmental appropriations. Murray has made a very emphatic declaration that he will veto all bills which might increase expenditures. And why not

CONGRESSIONAL LEADERS RESUME.

Now the house agricultural committee, headed by Marvin Jones of Texas, has declared for the establishment of a minimum price on four great agricultural commodities. Their bill is based on the domestic allotment principle and would include wheat, cotton, tobacco and hogs. Efforts to include dairy products and rice failed, and the motion to eliminate hogs was rejected 12 to 10. Big packers led the opposition to the plan. They demand that hogs shall be eliminated from the measure. If not, that a corresponding fee be levied on competing meat and poultry products. All concede that there must be protection for the great agricultural staples and a market found for their sale in order that the purchasing power of the many millions who are growers shall be restored to a former level.

The tidal wave of new legislation state and national being passed a year ago by Justice Louis D. arly dissenting opinion in the Oklahoma ice case was a plea with his associates to face the coming problem with fortitude and above all, 'an open mind."

Already the court has indicated it will go part way in meeting the new conditions. How much farther they will go is one of the questions perplexing lawmakers.

Oil Legislation

The court already has approved egislation by California and Oklahoma to restrict oil production in a time of over-prduction.

Although it recently condemned the use by Gov. Ross Sterling of Texas of his state troops to enforce his own ideas as to oil production, the court did not in that instance rule on the state oil propration law. The law recently has been changed to conform to the Oklahoma statute and in that form is likely to meet the court's approval.

Other's of the court's decisions affecting the Lone Star state involved questions of growing economic importance. The most recent was the ruling upholding the state's right to impose rigid restrictions on private contract truck carriers. Chief Purpose

The chief purpose of this law was to relieve the congestion on chier travelled highways of the state. The wish to relieve the railroads and other common carriers of serious competition was also given as a reason for the legislation.

It is in this latter aspect that the ruling may prove important. For years there has been agitation to put carriers competing with the roads under similar regulation. The supreme court ruling is at least a technocracy's only function in solv- resources fit her for industrial-lead- straw showing which way the judicial breath may blow.

The cry from business for liberation of the anti-trust laws also has been heard by the court. So far it has indicated that it will continue to interpret the present law literally

SEISMOGRAPH FOR TEXAS U. IS PERFECTED

AUSTIN, Jan. 9. - A seimograph of his own making, calculated to eliminate errors of others, is to be installed at the University of Texas by Arnold Romberg, professor of Old seimographs at the university were little used because of recording errors, attributable in main to the tilting of the instrument caused by reactions of parts of the device to temperature and weather conditions.

Excessive magnifications and recording errors resulted from the expansion and contraction of component parts under influence of the

Dr. Romberg's seismograph built on a new principle of "tilt compensation" which eliminates these errors. It has been in various stages of usage and experimentation in the basement of Main building since 1922 and now will be set up in the new Physics building.

The new seismograph, to record earthquakes and shocks in the earth's crust, is fundamentally the same as others. Its basic principle is the suspension of a heavy mass by a flexible cord attached to a mast. When the mast is disturbed, the heavy mass moves slowly, oscillating in the manner of a clock pendulum.

Recording of these movements is delicate. The instrument is placed in a dark room. A shaft of light passes across its surface to a mirror which moves with the heavy mass The mirror reflects the light through a spherical condensing lens reducing the light to a point.

The light point strikes a drum covered with bromide paper, changing the color of the paper wherever it falls, thus leaving its own record. The drum turns at a speed of 16 millimeters a minute causing the light to trace a line on the paper. Longitudinal waves are the first recorded. The time of arrival of each set of waves is recorded. The speed earthquake from the seismograph is Sandler, and other relatives here.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9. - The medical and dental professions, faced with a two-fold problem of giving aid to the sick under all circum-stances, and receiving some compensation for that effort, appears here on the verge of harmonizing medical costs with ability to pay.

Plans to place medical and dental care on a periodic payment basis, eligible to persons of definite income and specific assets, rapidly moved forward is Southern California.

The virtual socialization of the professions long regarded as zealously individualistic, was fostered by recent publication in New York of a report by the National Committee on the Costs of Medical Care, concluding a five-year study. May Lead Nation.

California medical and dental as-sociations have approached the problem with a zest and avidity which may make this state a forerunner in the nation of adjusting the inexorable demands for medical attention with reduced financial cir-

Chesterfields, taste Better"

WE HAVE been telling the public for a good many years that Chesterfields taste better. They satisfy!

That wouldn't mean a thing if smokers found out that it wasn t so. Nobody can fool the people very long.

But a great many smokers have smoked Chesterfields for a long time, and they know that they taste right. And so they say to their friends, "If you want a cigarette that really tastes better, try Chesterfields!"

Chesterfields taste better because they are made of mild tobaccos that have been aged for two years. And there is just enough Turkish in them ... but not too much.

We are sure that you, too, will enjoy their Mildness and Better Taste.
