UNITED STATES WILL SHORTLY HAVE ONLY EXACT REPRODUCTION OF FAMOUS PARTHENON OF ATHENS

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 26.—Within a year the United States will have the only exact-to-the-inch reproduction of the Athenian Parthenon, the so-called Parthenon at Regensburg being merely an adaptation of the great temple. That masterpiece at Athens, conceived and built by Phidias, the sculptor; Ictinus, the architect, and Callicles, the statesman, is being reconstructed here in a more enduring form than was the original.

Whether the original Parthenon had an open roof or whether there was some structural arrangement with side lights masked by the cornice has never been determined. The Nashville Parthenon will have a flat skylight following the slope of the roof and so arranged as to obtain the best possible light within. The art museum will be located eventually. Probably the exterior of the building will be completed by the autumn of 1922.

Here's True Story of Transaction Involving County Road Bond and Sale to Bank In Chicago

When the facts are known there is nothing particularly mysterious about the $50,000 county road bond deal involving the National City Bank of Chicago and the Security State Bank & Trust company of Eastland.

But when the amount had been shaved to $124,000 it was in the dull summer months and the bonds were not moving. And from this point on what happened is partly verified fact and partly a general surmise, regarded as unquestionably correct.

The bank for this loan, agreeing at the same time to credit Eastland county on the bank's books with $42,000 which was done. Then Fleming-Stitzer got a $35,000 loan and the deposit was held.

RAISE YOUR RIGHT HAND, AND ANSWER, 'PRESENT,'

The Daily News is about to make a roll call of the people who live in and believe in Cisco!

The result of this roll call, the Daily News believes, will emphasize the fact that Cisco is just turning the corner and is on the ascendancy to its rightful, permanent place, as the healthiest community, with the brightest prospects and the biggest public projects of any city in Central West Texas.

The opportunities in Cisco today are greater than ever before. Bids have just been called for the completion of the largest dam and the greatest lake of pure mountain water ever created by the efforts of man in any part of the state.

What these new schools will mean to Cisco it is hard to estimate. In the opinion of the Daily News they are but the nucleus of an "Athens" in Eastland county—Cisco, the great future educational center of Central West Texas.

What the new reservoir, impounding fifteen billions of gallons of pure water, forming a lake set in the beautiful valleys of the nearby mountains—a lake 35 miles in circumference, and less than three miles from the city hall—what this reservoir means to Cisco in the way of future prosperity, happiness and recreational facilities for her people, cannot be told in a few words.

All these things, as well as the many facts concerning our substantial buildings, our miles of paved streets, our modern hotels, our splendid churches, our fine women's clubs, our civic organizations, our transportation advantages, the Daily News believes should be spread broadcast, should be made known to thousands, and hundreds of thousands of people everywhere.

To this end the Daily News will, on Friday, October 6, issue a special educational and business number, large enough to include, in detail, all the important facts about our city that people ought to know.

In order to make this great newspaper number as effective as possible—and therein lies its value—the Daily News will see that a copy is not only placed in the hands of its present subscribers—more than 3,000 of them—but in the hands of an extra thousand persons whose names have been furnished the Daily News and paid for by the merchants of Cisco.

But that is not enough! The Daily News wants this special number to reach thousands of readers in other parts of the country—in the frozen north, in the humid south, in the arid west, where there are many dissatisfied people yearning to find a clean, healthy, wholesome, progressive up-to-date city to which they may bring their children for a good education, and where the conditions will guarantee a good livelihood.

And so the Daily News is going to take into partnership every man, woman and child in Cisco. Every man, woman and child will have the opportunity, and the privilege of sending to the Daily News office the name of one or more persons whom he or she thinks will be interested. This gives to every man, woman and child in Cisco the opportunity to do something concrete for the city.

In order that there may be no waste—for the print paper alone in the special educational number will cost ten cents to say nothing of the printing costs, postage, wrapping, etc.—in order that every paper sent out may count, it will be required that with each name sent in for this mailing list at least ten cents must be enclosed. That ten cents makes you a legal business partner in a great public enterprise—the effective spreading of information about Cisco to every section of the country.

The women's clubs, the churches, the schools, the business organizations of Cisco, as well as individuals are asked to co-operate to the fullest to make this plan a success in every particular.

Raise your right hand, and answer, "present!" Use the coupon. Do it now.

To the Editor of the Daily News, Cisco.

AVERSION TO WORK (Kansas City Star.)

Aversion to work, James M. Beck, solicitor general of the United States, calls the "greatest evil in the world today." The less a man does, he remarks, the less he wants to do, and he regards this as the cause of the economic catastrophe of 1914.

FEDERAL COURTS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Department of justice agents are going to school to read books and learn how to be detectives.

The curriculum of the school, just started by the Bureau of Investigation, includes study of such technicalities as the law of search and arrest, rudiments of evidence, rights of citizens and preparation of cases for prosecution.

William J. Burns, chief of the bureau, explained that establishment of the school was the first step to do away with hit or miss methods.

"We are going to teach our men to get results," he said. "Shipshod investigation, making discoveries only by chance, is going to stop. And men who cannot be taught to be effective will be dropped."

ULTIMATE FATE OF WRANGEL'S ARMY IS STILL MYSTERY; IS BEING FED BY FRENCH PEOPLE

ATHENS, Sept. 26.—The ultimate fate of General Wrangel's Russian army in exile of whom 20,000 officers and men still are encamped on the Gallipoli Peninsula still continues one of the unsolved puzzles of the Near East.

General Wrangel has held together the best of his officers and men from among the refugee army which fled from Russia before the victorious bolsheviks. He has hoped that his forces would be again needed in Russia to maintain a new government "when the soviet regime collapsed."

Major Jean de Roover, chairman of the league of nations commission for the exchange of populations between Greece and Bulgaria, has visited the Russian camp and brought away a very favorable impression of the officers and men. He knows something about the Russian fighting man for he was formerly the Belgian representative with Wrangel's army when it was the bulwark of the anti-bolshevik strength in the Crimea.

"In this camp, besides 1,500 women and children, there are 8,000 officers, 10,000 soldiers and 2,000 cadets in the military schools. These troops have kept their military organization. Their morale is of the highest and they voluntarily submit to the most stern discipline; for in all their hardships they are buoyed up by an unquestioning faith in their chief, General Wrangel, and in the greatness of their mission."

"They are encamped under canvas, or in old huts that have no doors or windows, but are always in an irreproachable state of cleanliness.

"They are fed by France. In addition, General Wrangel is paying them, from the little money he still has—about a dollar a month.

"Wrangel, who succeeded in getting employment as labor crops in Serbia and Bulgaria for nearly all his Cossack troops, is trying to get Serbia to receive his Gallipoli army corps. Five thousand of them are going to be used by Yugoslavia as a frontier guard.

"As for the other regiments, the government at Belgrade is prepared to offer them its hospitality if funds are put at its disposal which will cover their upkeep for two years. The Russian Ambassador at Washington has still several tens of millions of dollars, the remains of funds that were sent him from Russia before the bolshevik coup d'etat, to pay for the orders for war material. Wrangel is making every effort to get the few million dollars necessary for the carrying out of his scheme raised out of these funds and transmitted to the Serbian government.

"If he succeeds, what will be the ultimate role of this legion? Will it fight again as an army? Probably not. The general opinion in Russian circles is that bolshevism must go under in an internal convulsion of the country and that the tyranny of bolshevism will be succeeded by anarchy. It will be then that elements of order, a framework of administrative and police organization will be needed by the new government to restore calm for the convocation of the Constituent Assembly. This is where the survivors of the National Russian Army hope to be of service to their country."

ITALY SHOWING LITTLE UNEMPLOYMENT AS PROBLEM GROWS HERE

ROME, Sept. 26.—While the United States seems to be in a crisis of unemployment with the number of unemployed persons amounting to millions, Italy, which is generally an overcrowded labor market, had but 388,744 this summer.

At the same time, there are a great many sporadic labor-crises in various parts of the country and, from time to time, whole industries seem to close their doors at a moment's notice. The metallurgical industries of Turin have faced crisis after crisis but manage to tide them over. The textile industries of northern Italy, too, have had their periods of slackness. The workers recently accepted a reduction of 15 per cent in their wages.

At Trieste, there is much unemployment. A reduction of 20 per cent in wages was accepted by the workmen so that orders could be obtained. The workmen were told that by next July there would be gradual reductions until the total would reach 50 per cent.
