CISCO BLOOD DRIVE Wednesday, October 30th at CJC Sub 9:00 a.m.--5 P.m.

The Cisco Loboes will host county rival, the Eastland Mavericks, this Friday night in Chesley Field. Kick-off will be at 7:30 p.m.

Cisco Head Coach Dovle Walker stated Tuesday morning that there will be no Junior Varsity game this week, since the entire squad of players will suit up Friday night with the Varsity. There will be only one game played Thursday night.

It will be a combination game of seventh and eighth grade players, since Eastland does not have enough for two teams. It will begin at 6 p.m. in Eastland.

The Mavericks are leading District 11-AA so far this season with no losses in district play. They have only lost one game this season.

Cisco is 2-5 for the season and 1-3 in district play following their loss last Friday in Winters to the Blizzards. Cisco's Robert Rains sustained a dislocated shoulder which makes his playing this week questionable.

In the Winters' game, Cisco scored two touchdowns in the first quarter and one in the final quarter. Winters scored one touchdown in the first quarter, three in the second quarter, and one in the third quarter.

Cisco gained only 155 total yards in the game, 121 on the ground and 34 in the air; while Winters ran up 168 on the ground and 171 in the air for a total of 339 yards.

Winters scored on the opening possession of the ball. Cisco kicked off to Winters and they moved the ball from their own 40-yard line to Cisco's 30 in seven plays. On fourth down, quarterback Doug Wheat completed a pass to Sam Smith in the end zone for the first score. The extra point kick by Eric Belk failed giving Winters a 6-to-0 lead with 9:04 left in the first quarter.

Cisco's first score of the game occurred on Winters' second possession of the ball when Lobo James Berry intercepted a Wheat pass and returned it 25 yards for a touchdown. The extra point kick by James Deadman gave Cisco a 7-to-6 lead with 5:52 remaining in the first

On Winters' next possession of the ball, Cisco's defense recovered a fumble to set up the Loboes next scoring drive from their own 17-yard line. Five plays later, and one first down, Roy Boykin took the handoff from quarterback Jarrod Jeffcoat for a one-yard touchdown run. Boykin also scored two extra points on the conversion attempt, making the score 15-to-6 with 1:05 left in the first quarter.

But, Winters came back in the second quarter and scored on a 69-yard pass play from back Steve Delacruz to Sam Smith. The extra point kick by Belk was good, narrowing the gap to 15-to-13

Presentation Of Slides Set

A slide presentation of of Jesus, will be shown at 7 p.m., Sunday, October 27, First Baptist Church, by Buddy and Carolyn Sipe.

The presentation will include scenes of the Dead Sea, Sea of Galilee, Jerusalem, Nazareth, Calvary, and the Garden Tomb.

"We are grateful for the opportunity to take such a trip. It has revolutionized our Bible study and understanding of many things which can come only from being on the scene."

The public is welcome, as in previous showings. The presentation promises to be informative and inspirawith 7:20 left in the first quarter.

Winters recovered a Cisco fumble on their first play from scrimmage at the Loboes 16-yard line and two plays later scored again on a pass, this time for 21 yards from QB Wheat to Eric Belk in the end zone. The extra point kick by Belk was good, giving Winters back a 20-to-15 lead with 7:00 left in the second quarter.

Not finished, Winters scored again before halftime following a recovered Lobo fumble on Cisco's 13-yard line. On their first play, QB Wheat handed off to Delacruz who covered 13 yards for the touchdown. The extra point kick by Belk was good for a halftime lead by Winters of 27-to-15 with 1:36 left in the first half.

In the second half, Winters came out and put their final points on the scoreboard with a 32-yard run by Robert Baker. The extra point kick by Belk was good for a third quarter score of 34-to-15 with 5:06 left in the quarter.

Cisco seemed to get fired on up on their next possession of the ball and marched downfield 81 yards in 18 plays gaining five first downs. Roy Boykin scored on another one-yard run, but Steve Abbott failed to gain two extra points on the conversion play after the reception for 69 yards; and

'Harvey' Starts Off Fall Season Of Local Theatre

BY HERREL HALLMARK The 1985 fall season of Cisco Junior College's Roof Garden Theatre got off to a good start here Monday night with the premiere performance of "Harvey", written by Mary Chase. Playing before a house full of Clyde High School students, the cast of eleven performed quite well and managed to keep the attention of the students throughout the night. The facial antics and speech of the actors and actresses kept the audience laughing.

The person receiving the most applause was Fred Mullinax who does an excellent job of portraying Elwood P. Dowd, an apparent alcoholic who likes to be "pleasant" rather than smart. He also has an unseen friend, a "6 foot, 11/2 inch" white rabbit.

One performer who also seemed to be a big hit with the crowd, although she only had a small part, was Pam Welch who portrays Mrs. Betty Chumley. Her facial expressions seem to say more than her words. Also turning in excellent performances were Joan Fariello and Lou Jane Qualls who play Myrtle Mae Simmons and Veta Louise Simmons, respectively. The two do a believeable job of acting as daughter and mother. Others in the play include Jana Meyer as Mrs. Chauvenet; Kelly Arm-There will be a Retail their recent trip to the land strong as Ruth Kelly, R.N.; David Kanady as Duane Wilson; Tony Cox as Dr. Lyman Sanderson; Jim Means as Dr. William Chumley; Paul Means as Judge Omar Gaffney; and Craig Warren as E.J. Lofgren.

> The three act play lasts approximately two hours, but it does not seem near that long due to the quick scene changes and easy involvement with the play. The audience becomes caught up in the play and loses track of time.

Those behind the scenes include Caroll Price-Brown as director; Chase Payne as stage manager; Tom Brown, set design; Mr. Brown with Tony Cox and Jim Means, set construction; Paul Means, lighting design; Tony Cox, sound design; Charles Fisher, light and sound technician; Jim Means and Paul Means, make up design.

Buelah Cummings is in charge of properties; Yvonne Burson is wardrobe mistress; Doug Duncan, Frank Troub, Heidenheimer, and Wayne McMillan are the running crew; Blue Jackets Service Club and the Student Government Association of CJC are ushers; Gus Smothers is in charge of the box office; and Sue Mullinax, is in charge of programs, posters, and por-

If you have not already made reservations to see "Harvey", then you might have a difficult time getting in since Monday evening the college answering service said Wednesday night had the only seating left. The tape-recorded message said you may leave your name and phone number and they would get back to you, if there was a cancellation. Numbers to call are 442-2567 betweem 8 a.m. and 4 p.m., or 442-2589 after The play was scheduled to run Monday thru Wednesday, Oct. 21-23, as a premier (with no meal) and Thursday thru Saturday, Oct. 24-26, as a regular Dinner Theatre production.

Nancy Masters Enraptures AARP Audience Oct. 19

By Lela Latch Lloyd

"People like you make me let the dishes set and the housekeeping wait," Nancy Masters, Abilene Reporter News aviation columnist, told members of Cisco's AARP October 19 at a dinner at the Laguna Hotel Senior

"I like older people. I married a man twenty years my senior. He understands when I fly all over the world with servicemen aboard Air Force planes. Let me tell you that you, the tax payers, do not pay my way. I fly free, that's true, but only when there's a vacancy on a plane. My food and hotel bills are my own expenses." The speaker continued with, "I have flown all over the world, 'Down under' and 'Up over.' Tonight I want to take you with me to the continent with the fewest people, the least improvements. and the richest source of protein known. I refer to a

Mrs. Masters told her listeners that when she arrived in Antarctica, that she was placed under quarantine immediately for hepatitis testing. Her only food for 3 days was works -krill- and water. She was given frozen worms and worms cooked in every way known to make the krill (worms) a bit more appetizing. In three days her quarantine was lifted and she was free to explore the four remaining days of her

"As soon as the scientists find a way to market those worms in a feasible manner, all of us will be eating krill,' she assured her listeners.

"Before I went on this trip, I was warned that we might be weathered in for a year; that the temperature would be minus-100 in midsummer: that living would

"Antarctica is populated with scientists from 31 different nations. Until 1991 when the present treaty ends, there will be peace. Watch out for the world scramble that will begin six years from now when every nation will want that continent for its krill and its fresh frozen water. Already Brazil is towing icebergs to its homeland for water."

Mrs. Masters who was born in Stamford and finished high school there, illustrated her lecture with pictures she had taken at a stop-over in New Zealand en route, and with slides made at the South Pole. She concluded with, "From your committee reports, I see that you are participators, not

Routine business brought these reports:

Walt Knowlden pointed out that Cisco AARP Chapter sponsored the founding of the Albany one. After 15 months of working they now have a most active club with more than 200 members, their charter and a new slate of officers which the Knowldens and the Cartees helped to install the previous evening.

Knowlden, tax advisor for the county, also cited that there would be a tax guidance school in the DFW Metroplex and the Cisco chapter would be sending 3 or 4 more from the local chapter for training.

Louise Allison, legislative chairman, said that each AARP member would soon receive a listing of 12 bits of legislation from the state department and she urged that each member rank four of the 12 he or she deemed should have priority in the next session of the Texas legislature.

Mrs. Fay Davis was appointed by President Gilbert Copeland as the new community service chairman.

Thelma Bosworth, chairman of the nominating committee, explained the rules of the AARP concerning election of officers: "In October the committee presents a slate of officers. Tonight other nominations may be made from the floor provided the one you name has been previously contacted and agreed to serve in November we vote on the nominees. In December, they are installed.'

No additional nominations were made and the report of the committee was received unanimously. Nominees are: President, Gilbert Copeland; President Elect, Louise Allison; Vice-President, Maurine Thompson; Secretary, Beryl Estes; Treasurer, Lois Holder; Chairman of nominating committee, Sue Taylor. (New members of that committee are Grace Garrelson and Willie Wheatley. Unexpired term members are Ima Thompson and Patti Mertl.) If you're outdoors and smell gas, you should call your local Lone Star Gas office.

If you're indoors and detect faint whiffs, check to see if a pilot light has gone out or a burner valve has been left partially open. These are corrective steps you can take yourself.

It can rain in West Texas and at Putnam. As of now (Friday afternoon), guages here have meausred over three inches and its still raining! All tanks are full, and I just hope that Cisco Lake has caught a lot of water. That's where we get our water supply, and it seems all the hard rains have missed it so far. Hopefully not this time. It's not so good for cotton and peanut farmers, but great for those who have small grain sowed. We are always thankful for rain.

Halloween can be a fun time for the entire family, but the real trick is to get everyone involved. Visiting in homes, hospitals and community centers can be arranged for a worthwhile family Halloween. This can be a real joy to shut-ins and senior citizens if it is properly planned in advance.

For a community or neighborhood activity, try a progressive party. The children can have a special trick-or-treat at each home along the way. Each stop should be different. The final stop could be "special treats" with several - neighbors working together to provide the refreshments.

A ghost-story time can take place almost anywhere - in a large room, a grove of RECIPE FOR THE WEEK: trees or in a yard. People attending this activity should come prepared to tell stories, and a prize should be given for the best Halloween

A costume party is another favorite way to celebrate Halloween. Each person comes to the event in a special costume and is allowed time to parade in front of the group. Prizes can be awarded in different categories such as most original costume, scariest costume or funniest costume.

When planning your Halloween celebration, remember to make sure it is appropriate for the age group in attendance. Just because something is fun for adults doesn't mean it will be for children.

If parents and other adults take the responsibility for planning and supervising Halloween activities, the occasion should turn out to be safe and happy for the entire family.

It's time to go through your spice cabinet and pull out all the holiday flavors. Cinnamon, cloves, ginger, allspice, and more are baked into those special cakes, pies, breads, and other holiday treats. Fresh apple muffins are a delicious treat whether its for breakfast or after school for a nutritious

Josephine Cleveland Receives China Invitation

Mrs. Cleveland recently received a call from S.K. Sung and his wife, Nora Lam Sung inviting her to accompany them to The People's Republic of China in December. They have been invited by the officials of the government of China to minister the gospel in the State Church in Shanghai. Already accepting this official invitation is Dr. Paul Crouch and wife, President of Trinity Broadcasting Network, Herb Ellingwood, a former National campaign manager of President Ronald Reagan and now Director of the Merit Selection Board in Washington, D.C., and Mrs. Carolyn Sundseth of the White House. As far as they know this is the very first invitation to any outsider to minister in China since the Communist takeover in 1949. Having visited and assisted in ministering in The Far Eastern countries including China in August, Mrs. Cleveland saw that China is reaching in paradoxical directions to shape its future. Leader Deng Ziaoping, 81, is eager to promote more young and better-educated leaders, while employing the lure of material wealth to build his country into a world power. S.K. and Nora Lam Sung expressed to Mrs. Cleveland that this is a surprise move on the part of the Government, long opposed to Christian teaching, but God obviously has opened a new door on the China Mainland.

The group plans to visit not only Shanghai, Beijing. formerly Peking, Canton and Hong Kong before returning to the States. Mrs. Cleveland is presently considering the invitation.

The U.S. Consumer Safety Product Commission has some Halloween safety tips for parents and guardians of children who plan to go trick-ortreating this Halloween:

- · Warn children not to eat any of their treats before they get home. Examine all treats carefully before allowing children to eat them.
- · Look for costumes, masks, beards and wigs labeled "Flame Resistant." Although this does not mean these items won't catch fire, such labeling indicates that they will resist burning and should extinguish quickly once removed from the ignition source. Flimsy materials and outfits with big, baggy sleeves or billowing skirts should be avoided to minimize the risk of contact with candles or other sources
- of ignition. · Make or buy costumes light mask which might restrict breathing or obscure vision. If a mask is used, however, make sure it fits securely and has eyeholes large enough to allow full vision.

- Swords, knives, and similar costume accessories should be of soft or flexible material
- · Smaller children should always be accompanied by an older responsible child or an adult. All children should use the sidewalk rather than walk in the street, and they should WALK not run from house to house. Children should be cautioned against running out from between parked cars, or across lawns and yards where ornaments, furniture, or clotheslines present dangers.
- Children should only go to homes where residents have outside lights on as a sign of welcome. Children should not enter homes or apartments unless they are accompanied by an adult.

 Those receiving trick-ortreaters should remove anything that could be an obstacle from steps, lawns, and porches. Candlelit jack-o'-lanterns should be kept away from landings and doorsteps where costumes could brush against the flame. Indoor jack-o'-lanterns should be kept away from curtains, decorations, or other furnishings that could be ignited.

For further information on product safety, consumers may call the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission's toll-free hotline on 800-638-CPSC. A teletypewriter number for the hearing impaired is 800-638-8270 (Maryland only, 800-492-8104).

A STABILIZING IN-FLUENCE

A young man was interested in mechanics. He often visited a garage where he watched engines being repaired. "Why does a combustion engine need a flywheel?" he asked a mechanic.

The mechanic told him, "A fly-wheel makes the engine operate smoothly, helps eliminate vibrations, and gives stability. It also provides reserve power. Without a fly-wheel your automobile would be destroyed when driven a short distance. Some observers would say the flywheel is dead weight. If they knew its real significance they would know differently. It is one of the heaviest parts of an engine. Sitting alone it is dead weight but when used according to the designer's plan it becomes one of the most important parts of an engine."

Observing that the man was pleased with this explanation of the flywheel and not eager to leave, the mechanic continued, "In our lives we need a stabilizer. Many lives are flying apart these days. Jesus was sent into the world to be our stabilizer. What a difference it would make in their life if they realized this design was available to them. Glancing at the young man the mechanic spoke directly to him, "It would be well, son, if everyone were aware of this and let Jesus be their stabilizer."

Today I will discuss Propositions 11 and 12.

instead of letting federal Proposition 11: The Texas courts decide what Texas law should be. It would help Constitution guarantees anyone accused of a crime litigants in the cases that the right to know the nature give rise to certified questions since a federal court's and cause of the accusation and to have a copy of the acinterpretation of Texas law is binding even if the state's cusation. It also states that highest appellate courts no one can be tried for a later interpret Texas law diffelony offense unless indicated by a grand jury. If ferently. They do not feel this proposal is passed, the answering any questions Legislature would be allowcertified by federal courts ed to set practices and prowould over burden the state courts because the state cedures concerning the contents, amendments, recourts would choose not to quirements, etc., of the answer any question they felt was not determinative of documents, i.e., indictments the outcome in the case or and informations, charging for which there is no clear a person with an offense.

Supporters say the Legislature should set the standards governing the process of charging people with crimes. They feel Proposition 11 would still protect the defendants but could prevent the reversing of convictions based on technicalities that no prosecutor or grand jury could anticipate. Supporters agree that defendants deserve notice of the charges against them, but feel it is not necessary for all details to be included in the indictment itself. They say if there is a defect in the indictment, the defense should object before trial. If they fail to do so, then they should be deemed to have waived the right to base an appeal on the defect. Objections should be made early enough for the state to make needed correc-

Opponents say if the proposal is passed, the guarantee that prosecutors give people accused of crime sufficient notice of the charge to defend themselves would be wiped out. It would give the prosecution unfair advantage and would go against the principle that defendants are innocent until proven guilty. Opponents feel if the Legislature allowed vague, general charges to be filed, the prosecution could hold back key allegations until the case came to trial. If the prosecution were allowed to correct a "mistake" in an indictment at the last minute, and make significant changes, the basis for the defense could be destroyed.

Proposition 12: Presently, in a federal law suit, if the outcome of a case hinges on the interpretation of state law for which the state courts have not yet ruled, the federal judge in the case has to guess as to how he feels the state courts would rule. There have been cases where the interpretation of the same federal court was contradicted by the state court when the same issue finally did come up on appeal from a lower court. If Proposition 12 passed, Texas' highest appellate courts would have the same power to answer state-law questions certified by federal courts as they do to rule on questions which come up on appeal from lower state courts.

The road to a classic. Many times we hear of anglers who may qualify for a prestigious event such as this. November 7th shall be the next meeting of the Eastland

Bass Club. County Ceremonies shall begin at 7:30 p.m. Don't forget those big bass of the month slips. November 9th is slated for the final tournament of the 1985 year. A close race for angler of the year is underway, and consists of 6 anglers. Eddie Green, Terry Wilson, Tommy Maynard, Ira Pennington, Don Flowers, and Herman Dunlap. But even the next 3 or 4 men on the list have a shot. With some good catches this tournament should prove to be a nerve wrecker.

Spotlights and Sidelights by Julia Worthy

A SLICK SUBJECT "The squeaking wheel gets the grease."

This re-statement of an ancient and obvious fact surfaced while I was dividing my concern between the seam I was stitching to make Mandi's Halloween costume and the noise the sewing machine was making.

(Note: I was tempted to use "cacaphony" instead of noise," but I always think of cacaphony as an adjective for disturbed chickens' sounds. It is perfectly all right, of course, to use it in settings other than hen roosts.)

Even before the machine, it was the hair clippers. I expect they really started it all. They were not only making little nippy, growly noises, they were pulling hair. "How about a little oil?" Walton suggested.

"Oil on troubled waters."

Yep, that's an oldie, too. The squeaking wheel I heard most often, when I was a child absorbing all this quaint folklore that I thought was the way everyone talked, was a wagon wheel.

Papa applied gobs and gobs of thick, viscous, green grease to wagon wheels, buggy wheels, cultivator wheels-and one year when he raised cane (literally), the same repulsive, but effective grease was slapped on the whell the shaggy, gray donkey turned to crush the juice from the sugar cane to make sorghum syrup. (Note: As far as I know, the donkey was perfectly healthy and free from vermin or other forms of wild life, but for sixty years that donkey is what I "see" whenever I encourter "motheaten"

"fleabitten.") The sewing machine's clatter, whether nervous cacaphony or plain noise, drive me in search of the 3-in-1 oil. My mother and both grandmothers used 3-in-1 oil on their sewing machines. What else could I

In fact, I had used it on those snarly clippers. They prompty threw off the guard, but I didn't stop quite as promptly. That's what it looks like Kojack is working The Pizza House these days.

But oil does calm things down. My Singer subsided to a pleasant hum, although the clippers had a smirky sound. They were quiet, and they didn't pull any hair after oiling. They just cut off at the roots.

No matter what you call it, a little "oil" on the squeaking "wheel" does wonders.

If the boss has really been pushing you on a rush job, doesn't a, "Hey, you've done well to get this in such great shape!" soothe your ruffled feathers? It doesn't have a thing to do with the fact that the job was what you hired out to do in the first place! If Junior Miss and Mister's pup has torn up the flower bed, won't everyone feel better if the Chief Gardener says, "Help me get these new plants in before dinner, and we'll figure out a place for the pup." ("A soft answer turneth away wrath." Anyway, is pumping up your blood pressure going stormy weather is one things. Oil that entraps birds and sickens marine life is another thing.

Soothing words have an effect and a place, but meanings not too pleasing have attached to "oily voice", and "snake oil" is not for the prudent householder's medicine

Yep. The squeaking wheel gets the grease. That may be all that is ever needed, but it may not. Asprins often will reduce a fever, but it's only sensible to find out what caused that fever.

Prudence indicates finding out why that wheel is squeaking.

The Bible Baptist Church women met in the reception hall of the church for their fellowship meeting and there was much joy at this meeting after Mrs. Wanda Payne gave thanks for all the good food.

Winter Bird Feeding: Do It With Suet

foods is suet, and a winter suet feeder in your yard invites birds you might never play host to-if it were not for Many birds love suet, and so it's a valuable addition to your bird feeding the feeder (a pie tin may do). Unlike program. Suet is dense beef fat and it nuthatches, chickadees and such, starcan provide birds with the extra energy they need to stay warm in winter. From late fall through early spring I like to buy two or three pounds of suet at a time and freeze it in halfpound chunks. That way, my suet feeder never runs low. You can usually find suet at a supermarket or (if you want to be sure you're getting real beef suet) at a butcher shop.

Most suet feeders are wire mesh cages. The mesh needs to be just large enough for a bird's bill to reach through, but not so large that a crow or raccoon could make off with large pieces of suet.

A suet cage (bought or hand-made) should be constructed of plastic-coated wire rather than uncoated metal, even though it's highly unlikely that any part of a bird or other animal would freeze to the uncoated surface. The cage needs a back door for inserting the suet.

Hang your feeder from the trunk or branch of a tree. A suet cage 6 or 8 feet off the ground will regularly attract woodpeckers, titmice, chickadees, nuthatches, perhaps brown creepers, and other birds that find suet a good substitute for their natural high-energy foods (insect eggs, larvae, etc.). The good height will keep the feeder out of reach of dogs, foxes, skunks and other poor climbers, though it won't guarantee that a raccoon or an opossum won't raid the cage.

European starlings are suet-loving birds who are all too apt to take over ton, D.C. 20036-2266.

One of the best cold-weather bird your whole yard once they've lined up your suet feeder. If you live in starling country, there are two ways to starling-proof a suet cage, thereby discouraging an invasion:

(1) Suspend a baffle or dome over lings are not very good at hanging vertically or upside-down to feed; they prefer to perch on the top.

(2) Buy or make a double-mesh cage. The wire mesh basket that holds suet fits inside a larger-mesh (1 to 11/2-inch) cage. The small birds can hop in and reach the inner basket but the larger birds (including starlings) cannot.

On the coldest of days your suet feeder may draw birds that rarely visit any kind of feeder. During such weather, we receive reports of redshouldered hawks, pileated woodpeckers, American kestrels, Carolina wrens, juncos, thrashers, and yellow-rumped warblers visiting suet feeders.

So, don't let frigid weather get you down. Put out the suet and watch the ensuing spectacle of birds vigorously energizing themselves.

IT TOOK 16 turkey toms to provide enough meat and giblets for the dressing and gravey that more than 400 people ate at the First United Methodist Church's Lord's Acre dinner last Saturday noon. And there was enough food left over for a good many folks to eat at noon Sunday.

They reported at church Sunday that profits from the Lord's Acre project amounted to more than $6,000. It was a nice affair in all respects, we've heard a good many folks say.

A group of local Methodist went over to Baird last Sunday afternoon to attend a service in the new Methodist church there. There were several coins, a list of

WENT OVER TO Glen Rose last Friday to attend a weekend travel trailer gathering, and it rained about 2.5 inches Friday night and early Saturday ... Ran into an interesting (and delicious) supper menu. You took a handful of corn chips and spread them over your plate and then piled homemade chili over that and moved on to the toppings, which include onion, chopped tomatoes, chopped lettuce, chopped olives, chopped pecans, cheese, and shredded coconut. The Saturday program included a tour of the big electricity nuclear plant under construction there. They hope to have part of it in operation by the end of the year. They've been experiencing a lot of delays due to trouble complying with the complicated EPA regulations.

Saturday afternoon, everybody went to Granbury to see the play at their Opera House. It was "The Sunshine Boys" and it was a nice comedy. They opened the program with a lady at the piano, a man with a bango and a man with drums. They conduct a 30-minute singsong featuring old favorites. They recognized people who were celebrating birthdays and anniversaries and asked folks from out of town and out of state to hold up their hands. There were people there from several states and two foreign countries. Next month they'll present a musical, "The Best Little Outhouse in Texas.' Granbury's downtown was absolutely full of cars and people. They were having flea market day and the streets and sidewalks were full of flea market stalls and stands and, of course, the regular stores were open and doing a lot of business.

It was an interesting gathering ended with a breakfast meeting and church service.

Lake Cisco Is Expected To Gain One To Two Feet Of New Water

Lake Cisco was expected to gain between one and two feet of new water as the result of rainfall last weekend in this region, City Manager Mike Moore reported Tuesday. Area rain guages registered up to four inches for last Fridy night and Saturday morning.

Battle Creek was running bank full when checked by city water department on it Monday morning, and it was expected to run for several days without more rainfall. Lake Bernie was full and outing. The travel trailer - spilling into the creek that connects it to Lake Cisco.

The heavy rians, general throughout the county, were not expected to damage the county's peanut crop, which is now being harvested. County Agent Dee Gordon reported. He estimated that between 15 and 20 per cent of the approximately 24,000 acres planted in the county have already been harvested.

Some of the early peanuts have had problems with mold that has hurt their grade, Mr. Gordon reported. The rain should help in fields with mold as the bad nuts will fall off in harvesting he said.

Late peanuts will benefit, particularly if warm and sunny weather returns for a few weeks, the county agent believed. He said the 1985 crop is considered "low average" in the county.

Grading of harvested peanuts has been "pretty good," he added.

The winter grain crop situation is "real good," Mr. Gordon said. Most grain fields had been seeded and were ready for the good rains. Stock tanks are full running over everywhere, the county agent said.

The outlook for the pecan crop was described as "way above average and we expect the price to be close to what it was last year," Mr. Gordon said. Orchard men are hopeful for a few weeks of dry weather as pecans are ready to fall, he added.

Wranglers Lose Saturday; Ready For Navarro J.C.

The Wranglers of Cisco Junior College, who lost their first game of the season to Tyler JC by a score of 24-to-10 at Tyler last Saturday night, began preparations Monday for a conference game at Corsicana this week against Navarro County JC.

This week's contest will be played at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, and the Wranglers are expected to be at full. strength for the game.

At Tyler, the conference contest was played in a quagmire of water and mud as some eight inches of rain fell there Friday night and Saturday morning. The sloppy field made running difficult and passing almost impossible.

The Wranglers had a 3-0 half-time lead when Raymon Hernandez, sophomore kicker from Wichita Falls, booted a 37-yard field goal. In the third period, Tyler kicked a field goal and scored a touchdown to lead, 10-3, at the end of the quarter. Early in the fourth, James Dixon, freshman from Vernon, broke loose and raced 70 yards for a Cisco touchdown and Hernandez converted to tie the terception instead of batting the ball. Near the end of the contest, Tyler intercepted a Cisco pass deep in Cisco territory and ran for a TD and the final score.

Late in the game, Tyler completed a long pass for a touchdown when the CJC

David Smith, fleety running back from Dallas, had 117 yards for the night. Dixon carried four times for 78 yards. Cisco had 13 first downs to Tyler's 10. Cisco gained 193 yards on the ground to 210 for Tyler.

Passing was not one of Cisco's better nights. The Wranglers threw 22 times for seven completions and a net of 34 yards. Four Cisco passes were picked off. Tyler completed two passes and had two intercepted.

Coach Rick Frazier reported that the Wrangler defense was outstanding. Wayne Hutchinson, sophomore defensive back from Knox City, had the best night of his CJC career, the coach said. He was credited with 20 tackles, a personal high that tied him for the alltime mark set by a Wrangler defender.

The Wranglers expected to continue stressing the passing game in workouts this week, the coach said.

There were no disabling injuries in the game.

A large delegation of fans accompanied the Wranglers
