U. S. Warships Speeded to Complete Circle About Cuba

FAULTY GOV'T MAY OCCASION TROUBLE, FEAR

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 — American warships were speeded today toward completion of the naval encircling of Cuba as the state department received authentic reports that many parts of the island were without effective government. The reports expressed doubt that the lack of effective government could long continue without serious disorders. Simultaneously the navy department revealed new orders, the first of which dispatched the battleship Mississippi to Havana. The navy department said eight destroyers now assembling at Hampton Roads, Va., would be sent to Cuban waters as soon as all hands and equipment are on board. At his press conference today Secy. of State Hull implied the United States was holding Cuba responsible for maintaining order. He took the position Cuba's fate lay in the hands of her own people. Hull did not mention intervention.

INTERVENTION THREAT USED FOR HARMONY

HAVANA, Sept. 9 — Cuban opposition to American intervention solidified today. The executive committee government sought to prevent any excuse for it, but used the possibility of intervention as an argument to win the support of political leaders and army officers. Havana was completely normal. It was perhaps even more calm than in the days when the secret service men of Gerardo Machado ruthlessly maintained order. Yet the situation was one of utmost delicacy.

Texan Leaps Seven Stories to Death

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 19 — Fred S. Robie, 47, San Antonio, Texas, leaped to his death today from the fifth floor of the Allegheny general hospital where he was admitted Thursday. Robie, credit manager of the Alamo Iron Works, San Antonio, who suffered from a nervous condition, climbed to the window sill when his nurse left the room. Three other nurses standing in the hall-way were unable to reach him before he jumped.

22 Counties Have Not Reported Vote

AUSTIN, Sept. 9 — Nolan county today was listed as one of 22 which had not forwarded returns of the August 26 election. Secy. of State W. W. Heath indicated that if the returns are not in by Thursday the canvass of the state election will proceed without reports from the delinquent counties, thus, in effect, disfranchising voters of those counties. Without the 40,000 votes cast in the 22 counties there was a possibility state beer revenue may be lost and relief bonds delayed, Heath said.

TO MATCH RELIEF FUNDS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 — Texas unemployment relief funds will be matched by the federal government dollar for dollar, it was said today by Relief Administrator Hopkins.

Soldiers Escort Relief Train Into Valley

This picture shows one of the first relief trains reaching the stricken Texas valley storm sector and was taken as the train pulled into Harlingen. The three soldiers are from Fort Sam Houston and accompanied the train from San Antonio. In the storm area the soldiers placed the stricken towns under military rule under orders of Gov. Ferguson.

TWO SERVICES CLOSE BAPTIST REVIVAL TODAY

"Five Steps to Christ" will be the subject at 11 a. m. today of Dr. W. R. Hornburg who will then preach his final sermon in the revival meeting now in progress at the First Baptist church. The Rev. E. S. James, pastor of the church, will conclude the series with a sermon at 7:45 p. m. on "The End of the Harvest" followed by a baptismal service. The baptismal hour was changed from 2:30 in the afternoon to immediately after tonight's sermon. E. L. Carnett, of the Southwestern Baptist seminary at Fort Worth, in charge of the music and young people's work, will remain through tonight's service. The goal for the Sunday school today at 9:45 a. m. is 425. B. T. S. will meet at 7 o'clock. Miss Louise Karkalis is director.

In a sermon from the text Hebrews 2:25 Friday evening Dr. Hornburg said that salvation is through Jesus Christ and Him alone. Christ, he said, is the only one who has the power and who will save. "Neither the church, nor any of the ordinances of the church will save," he declared, "nor will good deeds save. It makes no difference how many or how great the sins of a person, Jesus will save to the uttermost if that person is only willing to come."

Admiral Byrd to Use Old Methods

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 9 — Oil prospector's scientific methods, with a Tulsa geologist in charge, will be used by Admiral Richard E. Byrd's Antarctic expedition in measuring ice caps found in the frozen southern polar regions. Charles Gill Morgan, Tulsa, seismologist for the Geophysical Research corporation and former geology professor at Southern Methodist university, will be geologist for the expedition, which sails from Boston soon. Morgan said he would take along instruments perfected here for mapping petroleum reservoirs, as Byrd has decided to use the same procedure in trying to establish thickness of ice caps and whether they rest on rock or water. "This is the seismic method," Morgan explained, "in which the paths of sound waves artificially produced by dynamite explosions are used as measuring devices."

The Tulsa geologist is a member of eight technical societies, including the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, the Society of Economic Paleontologists and Mineralogists, and the Seismological Society of America.

FULL PARDON. AUSTIN, Sept. 9 — Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today granted a full pardon to A. J. Campbell, convicted in Johnson county in November, 1932, of violating the liquor laws and sentenced to three years.

Ten-Year-Old Girl Found Slain

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 9 — Apparently kidnaped, assaulted and strangled, the body of Margaret McCarthy, 10-year-old Somerville school girl, was discovered today in a clump of bushes near the Harvard divinity school. Margaret went on an errand for her mother, Mrs. John J. McCarthy, shortly before noon yesterday and never returned. The body today climaxed an all night search. The victim lay on her back with one leg bent under. Her features were contorted. There was evidence of a criminal attack.

SHELL MEETS NEW SCHEDULE OF OIL PRICES

HOUSTON, Sept. 9 — The Shell Petroleum Corp. joined today in the general upward revision of crude oil prices. The top price under its new schedule was 90 cents a barrel for east Texas and Livingston crude. SI OIL IS NOW A REALITY. DALLAS, Sept. 9 — Oil prices moved upward today in the wake of enforcement of the national production curtailment order of Secy. Ickes. Gasoline prices rose one cent, with the Texas, Humble and Sun companies posting prices of $1.09 per barrel in the Conroe field, the much talked of one dollar oil was not realized but surpassed. At Tulsa reports were current that another and fourth increase since Administrator Ickes set domestic production at 2,409,700 barrels a day was due early next week. A top price of $1.12 for Oklahoma and Kansas 40-degree gravity crude was mentioned as the next step.

Victim of Wreck In Critical Condition

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Collum Saturday received a telegram from Mrs. H. H. Tompkins at Altus, Okla., saying that the condition of her husband, who was hurt in the same car wreck that cost the life of Dr. John W. Tyndall, had become worse and asking them to come to his bedside. Mr. and Mrs. Tompkins formerly lived in Cisco and are close friends of Mr. and Mrs. Collum.

Macon Ordered to Search for Balloons

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 — Chief of Navy Operations Admiral William Standley announced today the Lakehurst naval air station had been ordered to use the dirigible Macon and her other lighter-than-air craft in a search along the New England coast for two balloons missing since the beginning of the international balloon races.

LOBOES OPEN WITH GORMAN SEPTEMBER 13

By FRANK LANGSTON The Cisco Loboes will raise the curtain on a stage set for the 1933 grid season when they meet Gorman on Chesley field here Saturday, Sept. 23. It was announced by Coach Dexter Shelley yesterday. The following Saturday the team will journey westward to play San Angelo, he said. The first official oil belt game for Cisco will be at Brownwood on Oct. 13. This and the traditional Turkey Day clash with Abilene are the only district games Cisco is scheduled to play away from home. Following are the games which have been scheduled so far: Sept. 23 — Gorman at Cisco. Sept. 30 — San Angelo at San Angelo. Oct. 6 — Open date. Oct. 13 — Brownwood at Brownwood. Oct. 20 — Open date. Oct. 27 — Breckenridge at Cisco. Nov. 4 — Eastland at Cisco. Nov. 11 — Ranger at Cisco. Nov. 18 — Open. Nov. 30 — Abilene at Abilene. Lost Only Two The Loboes will return to Oil Belt league football after a season of out-laws during which they played strong junior college and senior college freshman teams, losing only two during the entire season, to the Ranger college and Terrill Prep elevens. The two outstanding games of the season were the one in which the Terrill Prep team of Dallas turned back an inspired Cisco team here by an 18 to 6 count and the 15 to 13 victory for the Loboes over the strong Corpus Christi Academy Cavaliers in Corpus Christi. This year the team will miss the heavy and fast charging line that was the envy of Oil Belt fans whose teams were playing in the district league. The Cisco coaches could use some more men of the caliber of Hagen McMahon, Roy Lee Garrett, Stroud McMurray, Frank Aycock, Beasley Hammarford, and Buck Cearley.

The first string line will probably be a strong one, but it will be light and there will be little reserve material for it. Indications are that Claude Blackburn and Gerald Merket will be the choice for the guard positions, Capt. Leonard Latch and perhaps Big Red Timmons the tackles, provided Timmons is not shifted to center. The pivot position appears to be in need of more material than any other. The Loboes lost two good centers, but in the intra-squad game last fall Norris Littlepage showed on well. Bill Rutledge, with his weight and natural ability, should make a good end, provided he will hustle. He will probably have as a running mate Donald Moffett or Tipton Page. So far the squad is unusually small, only 25 reporting the first day. With school starting tomorrow, however, more may turn out and provide greater reserve strength.

JUDGE DENIES BAILEY PLEA FOR RELEASE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 9 — The plea that Harvey J. Bailey, notorious outlaw, is subject to "inhuman" treatment in his Oklahoma county jail cell today failed to secure his release on bond. After hearing the plea of James Mathers, attorney for the accused kidnaper and slayer, U. S. District Judge Edgar S. Vaughn promptly and vigorously denied the requested writ of habeas corpus. Bailey was not present in the court room. Glad in "shorts" with federal agents guarding him closely, he sent word from his cell he would like to show the court proof of his alleged mistreatment. After Mathers had made his statement Judge Vaughn said: "Mr. Bailey, with a gun, escaped from a jail a few days ago. I regard Mr. Bailey as a dangerous man and I don't think he would hesitate to murder anyone in order to escape. * * * I think it is the duty of the U. S. marshal that he be securely held and from your application I presume Mr. Bailey is being securely held." Sam Sayre, Fort Worth, attorney for R. G. (Boss) Shannon, his wife and their son, Armon, accused with Bailey in the Charles F. Urschel kidnaping, presented three petitions to the court. He entered a demurrer to the charges. Judge Vaughn overruled the plea and then overruled a request the three Shannons be given a severance of trial. Sayre asked for a bill of particulars to be presented by the district attorney outlining in detail the allegations against the Shannons. The court set next Friday as date for hearing on this request.

FLOOD DANGER PAST; RELIEF WORK PUSHED

RIO GRANDE CITY, Sept. 9 — With the crest of the latest Rio Grande rise safely handled by new floodways, the lower valley resumed hurricane relief work today. Reports of five additional deaths sent the unofficial toll of the Gulf hurricane to 29 in this vicinity. Richard Allen Douglas, 2, of LaFeria, died of injuries sustained during the hurricane. Ruben Flanders, 65, civil engineer, was killed 15 miles south of Matamoros. Gilbert Gutierrez, 40, was found dead in his wrecked home near the same city. The body of a man was found beneath a wall at Brownsville. Albert Derrick, 35, Brownsville, died of heart attack caused by the storm, physicians said. Red Cross workers continued to distribute food and medicine at headquarters in Harlingen.

30-Day Reprieve Granted Mexican

AUSTIN, Sept. 9 — A 30-day reprieve was granted by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today for Pantaleon Ortiz, Mexican citizen awaiting death in the electric chair at Huntsville Sept. 12. The reprieve was issued at request of A. G. Dominguez, Mexican vice-consul at San Antonio.

Two Mail Robbery Suspects Captured

LAKE CITY, Minn., Sept. 9 — Two mail robbery suspects, one of them critically wounded, were captured today after a gun battle. A third man escaped, but may also have been shot. The wounded man was not identified. The other prisoner gave his name as R. Peterson, Rockford, Ill.

WEATHER

West Texas — Partly cloudy east, probable local thunderstorms Sunday. East Texas — Partly cloudy Sunday.

Orphaned as Father Runs Amuck

Survivors of the murderous ax of a father who ran amuck in a religious frenzy, three of the orphaned children of Nelson Hansard, a farmer, residing near Knoxville, Tenn., are shown above. The two boys, Arthur, 11 and L. A., 7, were awakened by smoke when Hansard tried to cremate the beheaded body of his wife, Stella, 16, below, dodged when Hansard tried to kill her in bed, as he had killed her mother. Hansard was killed by a neighbor when he tried to invade nearby homes.

Some Changes Occur In School Faculty

Although there has been no increase in the faculty of the Cisco public schools, some changes in the general complexion have been occasioned this year by resignation of two instructors, leaves of absence granted two others and return of another who has been away two years to pursue studies. Miss Nellie Yunk, teacher of science in C. H. high school, returns to resume her place with the schools after a leave granted her two years ago. Granted leaves of absence for a year are Mrs. Edward Lee and Mrs. James Moore. New faces on the faculty are: J. M. Bird, teacher of vocational agriculture, succeeding E. H. Varnell, resigned; Dexter Shelley, head coach, succeeding Wilson Elkins, resigned to accept Rhodes scholarship; Miss Elizabeth Daniels, teacher of English in the high school; Frank Langston, with the Grammar school, and Mrs. Juan Mason, to be assigned to a place in the elementary schools. Miss Daniels has an M. A. degree from the University of Michigan and Mrs. Mason a similar degree from Peabody. High School. Assignment of teachers in the high school was announced by Principal Brandon as follows: H. Brandon, principal, mathematics. M. Bird, vocational agriculture. Dexter Shelley, head football coach and history. W. C. Hodges, math and assistant coach. Miss Elizabeth Dial, commercial work. Miss Juanita Bounds, home economics. Miss Lucretia Irby, librarian. Miss Lucretia Irby, librarian. Miss Marion Chambless, English and algebra. Miss Lucille Robinson, history. Miss Travis Watson, English. Miss Ella Andres, Spanish. Miss Elizabeth Daniels, English. Elementary Schools. No assignment of teachers in the elementary schools has yet been made, Supt. R. N. Cluck announced.

Stanolind Company Official Resigns

CHICAGO, Sept. 9 — Officials of the Standard Oil company here today confirmed the report George H. Jacques, vice-president of the Stanolind Oil and Gas company, has resigned effective September 12. Jacques, whose office is in Caspar, Wyo., is resigning to enter a private business, officials said.

Texas Petroleum Council Summoned

AUSTIN, Sept. 9 — Directors and committees of the Texas Petroleum council today were asked to meet here Sept. 15 to plan cooperative steps in the application of the national code to this state's oil industry. The meeting was called by President A. W. Walker, Jr., of Austin. The council also will plan its assistance in prosecution of suits in damages over $9,000,000 in fines claimed due the state for violation of oil regulations. The cooperation of the citizens in giving employment to students is doing much to bring fine young people to our community and to make it possible for a number of boys and girls to attend. Work is still needed for girls and boys who had expected to be able to make part or all of their expenses. "While we are overwhelmed by our great loss, we are determined to press on, inflamed by his ideals and great faith, and are determined to do all in our power to carry out his plans in letter and in spirit."

BOTH PUBLIC SCHOOLS AND COLLEGE OPEN

After three lazy months of silence, school gongs will ring again in Cisco tomorrow. Both Randolph college and the public schools will begin new terms, sending hundreds of students into a class room regimen of book and bell and re-awakening the atmosphere of fall with its snap and bustle. Monday, in both institutions, will be devoted to registration. In the high school, Principal H. Brandon said, there will be hurried assignments Monday afternoon. He urged that all students who expect to attend the high school report Monday, whether or not they will be prepared to begin work there immediately, so that the school's program may be more effectively planned. Assignment of teachers in the institution was also announced by Mr. Brandon. These, together with the remainder of the public school faculty, are named in another article. Effect of Tragedy. Randolph college undertakes its new term in an air of solemnity such as no previous opening has witnessed. The tragedy of the death of its president, Dr. John W. Tyndall, only last week, hangs over the institution which is carrying on its program without change and, as school officials put it, "as Dr. Tyndall would have wished." Prospects for a large enrollment this year are excellent, said Dr. Lee Clark, vice-president. He said that numbers of students had already arrived Saturday ready to matriculate Monday. Some of these came from long distances. A notable instance was that of a young ministerial student who drove his "flier" all the way from North Carolina to resume studies that he undertook last year. He is Grove Hartsen. One hundred and 25 students registered at the high school Friday. All were upper classmen. Prospect was, said Principal Brandon, the enrollment will exceed that of last year. Parents Asked to Come. Freshmen are to appear Monday. He asked that parents accompany these new classmen and assist them in selection of their courses. "We are insisting," he said, "that beginning with this year, parents undertake a language course. We feel that the language will be of greater help to them if they will plan to complete the course near the time of graduation. "We trust that it will be satisfactory with both parent and pupil for them to select either home education, general science or vocational agriculture. "Pupils who have attended high school before will be scheduled in accordance with the work they have completed. Monday morning will be given over to the completion of registration and to issuing textbooks. In the afternoon we will hurriedly run through our daily schedule for the purpose of making assignments. Enrollment will begin at 9 a. m. at Randolph college tomorrow. The first chapel exercises will be held Tuesday at 10 a. m. Patrons and friends of the school are invited to attend. New Faces. Two new faces appear on the faculty for the school. Mrs. Mary A. Thomason is the new matron of the girls dormitory. James Dacus, who did not accept re-election, has been succeeded in charge of the department of business administration by P. L. Kelly, formerly of the Cisco high school. "Owing to the financial conditions throughout the country," said Dr. Clark, "no great increase in attendance can be expected. Some of our largest institutions will be satisfied if the attendance is equal to that of last year; but Randolph will not be satisfied unless there is an increase. Last year showed a marked increase over the year before, and this year we must have an increase over last year. The cooperation of the citizens in giving employment to students is doing much to bring fine young people to our community and to make it possible for a number of boys and girls to attend. Work is still needed for girls and boys who had expected to be able to make part or all of their expenses. "While we are overwhelmed by our great loss, we are determined to press on, inflamed by his ideals and great faith, and are determined to do all in our power to carry out his plans in letter and in spirit."

ECONOMICAL ENTHUSIASM.

The enthusiasm with which Texas voters in the August 26 election authorized the legislature to issue bonds to match federal relief has caused the federal emergency relief administrator, Harry L. Hopkins, to raise the federal ante. Instead of augmenting state funds one dollar for two, the federal administration will match these funds dollar for dollar, Mr. Hopkins has informed the state authorities. This generosity was occasioned by the fact that the people of Texas supported the relief bond amendment by a majority that was far in excess of the expectations of the most optimistic. Under the new policy the federal administration will send into Texas funds equal to the amount of state bonds issued by the legislature under terms of the amendment and sold.

This does not mean that the legislature or the officials charged with distribution are given any more license than they already had. It does not mean that any more funds than are necessary to take care of the emergency should be authorized and spent. On the contrary, it means that Texas will have to spend less money and, consequently, issue less bonds than would have been the case had the original federal basis of allocation remained unmodified. The new basis is proof that the federal emergency relief administration is standing by its pre-election declaration of policy. Texas has shown a willingness to cooperate, and has made such an impressive showing of it that the administration is eager to meet it half-way.

The enthusiasm of the August 26 vote has proven economy.

A VOTE WITHIN A VOTE.

Regardless of the fact that Lamb county, as a whole, refused in the August 26 election to permit the sale of the newly legalized 3.2 per cent beer within its borders, the voters of the city of Littlefield Saturday held an election to authorize the sale within its limits. The wets won over the dries within the Littlefield environs at the general election by a margin of 46 votes. But the humidity of the Littlefield atmosphere quickly succumbed to the general aridity of the west Texas plains about the town and the triumphant wets were left with a tasteless victory, a situation familiar to Cisco, Eastland and Ranger of our own county.

Now Littlefield would ignore the rest of the county and live its own life. In spite of the fact that the attorney-general of the state of Texas has ruled that an election for the sale of the brew in an area within a county that has voted dry cannot legalize the forbidden beverage in the particular area, because the county vote is precedent and binding upon the dissenting sector, Littlefield wets petitioned the county commissioners court and the court assented to their request that an election be called. Dries protested that the election was illegal. They had plenty of authority for the protest. However, there is no law against voting and no doubt the people of Littlefield may vote as often as they wish. It may save a chagrin that the majority of 46 was nullified by a non-resident population, but it is not likely, under a rational interpretation of the local option laws, that the legal result will be a foaming actuality.

One does not have to proceed theoretically very far to conceive of the chaos that would follow a system of authority under which a political unit would be permitted to nullify the mandates of the political whole. Such a doctrine would inevitably tend to sanction of individual rebellion against the public will as expressed in law, and the sanctification of the criminal.

The argument that the community that favors sale of beer ought to be permitted to sell it regardless can reach its perfection only when the dries are separated into one community and the wets into another. Even in that event it would probably be necessary to district the wets according to the degrees of hardness of the libations they require.

We may dissent from the theories underlying the organization and functions of the legal machinery, but, unfortunately, it is still necessary to have laws and prescribed methods.

UNDER THE DOME AT AUSTIN

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, Sept. 9 — The Texas senate which spent many weeks of the regular session of the 43rd legislature in a battle with Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson over confirmation of her appointees, will pass upon a new list of appointees at the special session.

Appointments made since the regular session and due for confirmation or rejection are:

Member and chairman of the state highway commission, John Wood of Timpan.

Member state board of control, Henry C. Meyer of Rockdale.

State banking commissioner, E. C. Brand of Sweetwater.

Member state board of education, Chas. Sanderford of Belton.

Commissioner to assist the court of criminal appeals, Charles G. Krueger of Bellville.

State auditor and efficiency expert, George Simpson of Corpus Christi.

State reclamation engineer, A. M. Vance, Austin.

Meyer, who does not look to be within ten years of his 72, has temporarily taken over the portion of the board of control work that was handled by Adrian Poole of El Paso whom he succeeded.

That part is budget preparation and supervision of eleemosynary institutions.

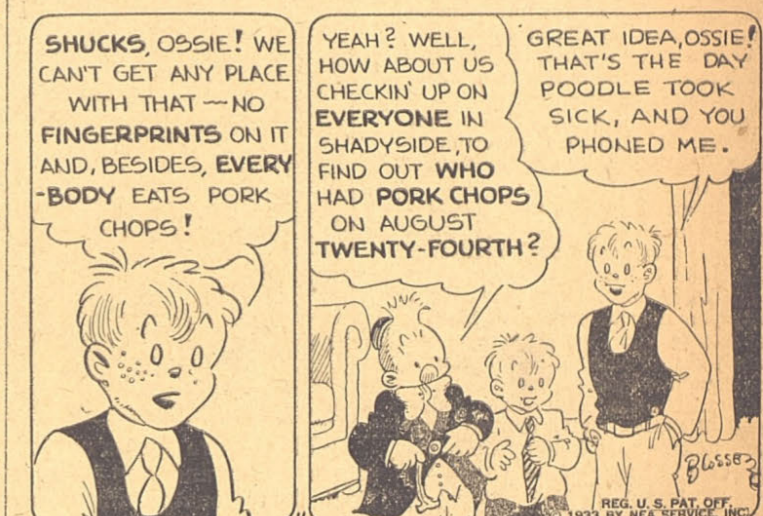

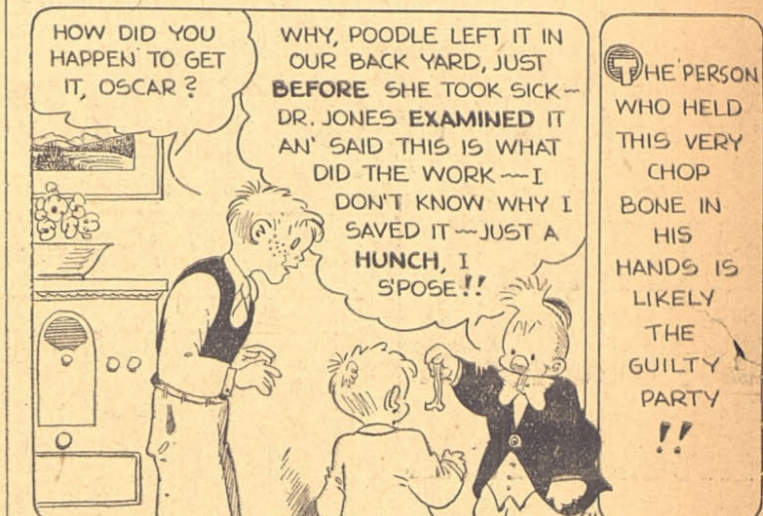

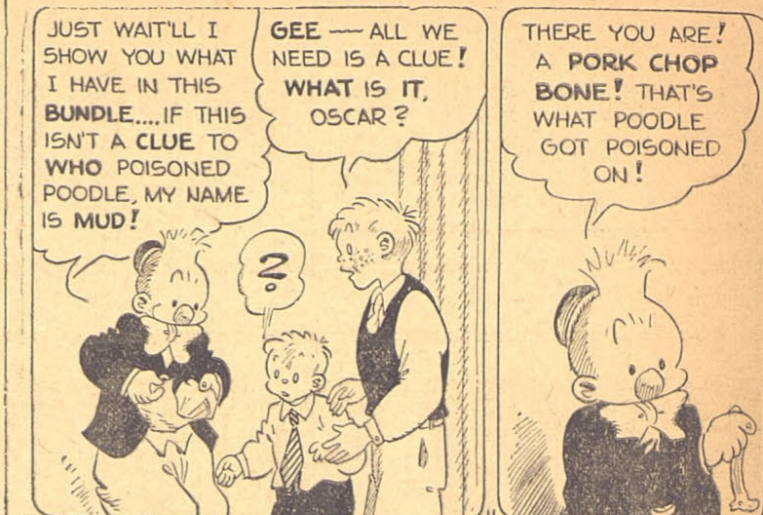

Meyer has received many congratulatory messages on his appointment.

"You one brickbat, too," he said. Then he displayed a telegram from F. J. Chudej of Austin, former president of the Ferguson Forum Publishing company. Chudej had been mentioned as possible appointee to the place given Meyer.

Chudej complained while the Bohemians had been loyal to the Ferguson through all campaigns, appointments were going to the leaders of German-Americans, who Chudej said, had not stuck with Ferguson in the past. He mentioned specifically Meyer and Judge Krueger.

"But I can take it on the chin. I congratulate you," was Chudej's final word.

Freckles and His Friends.

For the LOVE of EVE by Lucy Walling

BEGIN HERE TODAY

EVE BAYLESS, pretty assistant to EARLE BARNES, advertising manager of Bibby's department store, marries DICK RADER, a construction superintendent temporarily working in Lake City. Dick wants Eve to give up working but she refuses.

SAM HOLDRIDGE, an advertising man employed by another store, becomes infatuated with ARLENE SMITH, stenographer at Bibby's, but she fancies herself in love with GEORGE BLISS, Handsome THERON REECE has been forcing unwelcome attentions on Eve.

Unknown to Dick, Eve has been playing the stock market on money borrowed from her mother MONA ALLEN, copy writer, dislikes Eve and tries to make trouble for her. When an error costing the store $2,000, appears in an advertisement Mona is really responsible but the blame falls on Eve.

One day at the office Eve receives a telephone call from the brokerage house telling her she must raise $200 immediately to protect her margin. She telephones Dick to meet her at the bank at noon. When she arrives there she is horrified to see he is wearing his working clothes.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXX

EVE tried to conceal her dismay. "Dick," she said nervously, "I need $200 and I must have it today. This noon if possible!"

"I'm sorry," he told her, "but I haven't that much in the bank." "But I must have it!" she insisted.

Dick did not embarrass her by asking questions. "I've just paid an insurance premium," he explained. "I could take up my policy but that is made out for your future protection."

"I'd be afraid to have you do that!"

"Well," he went on, "I might borrow on it—"

"Oh, Dick, please do!"

"It will take about 10 days to complete the loan," he explained. That made the plan useless. Eve had to have the money immediately. She was sorry that she had said anything to Dick about it. Her only remaining recourse seemed an appeal to her mother.

Eve put through a long distance call to her home. It was Esther who answered and told her that their mother had fallen from a step ladder that morning and wrenched her back, hence she could not come to the telephone. And it was Esther who offered to lend Eve the $200 she needed without telling their parents. Esther would go to the bank in the morning and send the money by telegraph. Eve resolved to do something handsome for her sister as soon as she was able in order to show her gratitude.

to Mother each week and she paid my expenses. But I put up such a good sales talk for handling my own money a year ago that I finally won out. Since then I've paid board at home and occasionally make wild prophecies about my bright financial future."

"I truly believe Atlas Copper will recover and we will be glad that we hung on, Arlene. Why don't you tell your father about it? I think he'd see you through."

"My father! Oh, that's precious. My father only believes what he sees. So he goes in for houses and lots—one at a time. Real estate is the thing, he says. It's real to him because he can lay his hands on it. He thinks the little investor has no chance at anything else and he'd think it was a good lesson for me to lose what I've put in stocks so far," answered Arlene.

She took her loss like a good sport. Eve conceded, but she could not shake off the feeling of guilt because it was she who had introduced Arlene to margaling on the stock market.

It was a great relief to Eve when Esther's money came. She took the $200 to the brokerage office and protected her stock for the time. Eve tried to save all she could in order to pay Esther in a lump sum. She recalled the contempt Dick had expressed for people who borrow a sum and pay it back in dribbling amounts. "The person who made the loan has difficulty getting the original amount together again and it is just about a total loss to the lender who saved it in the first place," he had said.

Soon Atlas Coupler recovered and gradually went on to a new high for the year.

Eve was worried about her mother's health. She was anxious for her vacation to arrive so she might be with her.

AND Eve was concerned about Dick, too. The building which housed the theater was completed and Dick left for Chicago to clear up some loose ends of business in connection with the building. He was in conference at the company headquarters for several days and the time until his return seemed to Eve interminable.

Much would depend upon his next job, Dick had made clear to her before he left. It was scarcely likely that the Chicago firm would have another long contract in Lake City immediately. Dick's next job might be in another city or even another state. Eve again refused to consider this possibility until she faced the actual facts.

She met Dick at the station the June morning he returned from Chicago.

"Hello, sweetheart!" he greeted her.

"Darling," she murmured, kissing him regardless of bystanders. And in the taxi riding home she asked many questions except the one uppermost in her thoughts—where he was to work next?

Dick had brought her an ivory cloisonne compact and she was delighted with it. Always, she told him, she had wanted a really beautiful compact and this was doubly precious because he had chosen it for her.

Dick unpacked his bag and Eve poured a cup of coffee for him. Then it was time for her to go to the office. He drove her down in the roadster.

"Guess I can chauffeur for you for some time to come," he remarked. "That is, if you still insist on going to work."

"What do you mean?" asked Eve, her heart pounding with suspense. "I'm not going to have anything to do for a couple of months," he answered.

MARYA and Ray had returned from their honeymoon and twice Marya had lunched with Eve and Arlene when she was down town on shopping trips.

That morning she telephoned to Eve at the office. "Now that we are settled," Marya said, "we want you and Dick to come out and have dinner with us. We're inviting Arlene and Sam Holdridge, too. Ray and I both like Sam."

When Eve repeated this invitation Arlene protested. "But Sam is likely to be three sheets to the wind! I wish Marya would ask George Bliss instead. I can't think of a greater inducement to matrimony than submitting a man to the influence of Marya's romantic bungalow. And I'm going to wear my rose chiffon too."

Arlene wore it, entrancing Sam who called for her in a long, powerful roadster.

"Want the top down?" he asked. Arlene agreed enthusiastically and they sped along Lake road, hatless and windblown, with laughter on their lips.

Marya, in bouffant pink tulle, was a delightful hostess. The dinner table was laid with light green damask, ivory dishes, amethyst glassware and Marya wedding silver. The food was delicious.

Sam praised Marya's skill as an artist and then offered to arrange for the sale of her batik work at the store where he was employed.

"I hadn't planned to do much of that sort of thing," Marya said, "but it would give me the opportunity to earn some money for art lessons. My ambition is to specialize in child portraiture. Oh, I know I'll have to study years and years and work very hard—but I don't mind that!"

Later when the three girls were together Eve said, "Marya, this is a story-book house! I expect to waken any moment and find out that I've been dreaming. Surely you have nothing to wish for!"

Marya, smiling serenely, answered, "Nothing but a cradle with a cherub in it."

The office term of T. T. Kimbro of Lubbock, member of the state industrial accident board, expires during September. Should his successor be determined, that appointment would also go to the senate during the special session of the legislature for confirmation.

A winter concentration camp for many of the unemployed is one of the projects under consideration by the state rehabilitation and relief commission. Facilities for such a camp near Palacios have been investigated by a commission representative.

A popular accepted political myth is the Ferguson do not call special sessions of the legislature.

Records disclose when James E. Ferguson was governor he called three special sessions. Governor Ferguson called one during her former term.

The 41st legislature (1929-30) had five called sessions called by Governor Dan Moody. The longest, continuous session was the regular session of the 43rd legislature which opened January 10 and ended June 1, this year.

Frank Lanham, who was chairman of the state highway commission in Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson's former administration, called upon the governor here recently.

Lanham had the highway department star, bituminous road topping now widely in use. Then was subject of attack.

"I was just eight years too soon," said Lanham laughing. "An engineer employed by the highway department then testified that it was like putting wall paper on a road. Now, they have caught up with the idea. Most of the highway work is of that type."

"But they are still eight years behind me," said Lanham. "Highway construction has been improved and there are still better methods I could tell them about."

Lanham, a paving contractor before his appointment on the highway commission, is a son of former governor S. W. T. Lanham, and a brother of Congressman Fritz Lanham.

The Temple-Belton "one track" highway was another road experiment of the former Ferguson administration. It uses a concrete strip for wheel tracks. Differing elevations were to keep the wheels on the concrete strips and thus throw all the road wear on a strongly constructed small area.

Sheriff's Young Son Spots Counterfeit

PECOS, Sept. 9 — Billy Cole Roberson, 12 son of Louis Roberson, Reeves county sheriff, is starting young to follow in the footsteps of his father. Recently a car bearing a New York license drove into a local filling station. The driver bought gas, tendered a $10 bill in payment, receiving $5.50 change.

The boy, playing nearby, examined the bill.

"That's a counterfeit," he said. The owner of the station summoned the sheriff and the department of justice agents who proved the counterfeit.

"The Man's Store"

Henry Ford Dearborn, Mich.

The Ford V-8 will go 80 miles an hour. But how many people wish to drive 80 miles an hour?

Hardly any. The speed is there for another purpose. If a car is to be alert and comfortable and economical at 50 or 60 miles an hour, it should be capable of going faster than that.

A car, like a man or a horse, should have reserve power to do ordinary things well, without showing strain or effort.

When you drive at your usual moderate rate, and yet to keep up that rate your car runs at nearly its top speed, you are not getting an easy ride and your engine is not doing an easy job.

That is why the Ford V-8 is built to precision standards and engineered to do 80 honest road miles (not speedometer miles) an hour—so that it might go 60 or 70 miles an hour all day with the utmost ease, and with no strain on car or driver.

It is the margin between what you have and what you use in an engine that makes for comfort, longevity and economy.

It is much safer and far more economical to run 60 or 65 miles an hour in a car built to do 80, than it is to run at the same speed in a car built to do 65 or 70.

The benefits to the customer of having a Ford V-8 able to do 80 miles an hour, are numerous. In the first place, such a car must be extra strongly built. It must have a better steering gear.

In the second place, a car thus built for the higher speed ranges proves most alert in the lower speed ranges. In traffic it is not speed you want so much as quickness.

The advantages of a high speed car are not in the speed alone. You may never drive at high speed. Few people do.

Everything must be up to the 80-miles-an-hour standard to give you superlative performance at the lesser speeds.

5 FINE SONGS ARE HEARD IN 'GOLD DIGGERS'

Whether it's Warren and Dubin or Dubin and Warren makes all the difference in the world, according to Al Dubin, senior member of the famous song-writing team that turned out the song hits for Warner Bros. stupendous musical and dramatic spectacle, "Gold Diggers of 1933," which comes to the Palace theatre on Tuesday for a four days run.

"If you see it 'Warren and Dubin' on the billing," he said, "It's still us, but it doesn't mean anything. But if it's listed 'Dubin and Warren' it's our show and it's a hit." Harry Warren corroborated his partner's statement, but turned the names around.

"If it's 'Warren and Dubin'—it's a hit," he said.

And so it has been for the past ten years, and so it probably will be for the next ten with this pair who turn out so many song hits. Al Dubin writes the lyrics and Harry Warren the music.

Dubin has been writing lyrics for fifteen years. He wrote the lyrics for the original "Gold Diggers of Broadway," for "Hold Everything," for "Sally," for "The Crooner," for "Blessed Event" and for "42nd Street."

Writing 12 Years
Harry Warren has been writing songs for twelve years. He wrote the music for Ed Wynne's "Laugh Parade," including the world-famous "You're My Everything," for "Crazy Quilt," and for "42nd Street," including "42nd Street," the title song, "Shuffle Off to Buffalo," and "You're Getting To Be a Habit With Me."

Their songs and lyrics for "Gold Diggers of 1933" include the sensational "Remember My Forgotten Man," "The Shadow Waltz," "Pet-tin' in the Park," "We're in the Money," and "I've got to Sing a Torch Song."

This group of songs are said to be the biggest hits they have ever turned out.

The girls were chosen from 10,000 applicants by Busby Berkeley, noted for his creation and staging of beautiful dance specialties and who had charge of the musical numbers in the sensational "42nd Street."

The initial selections were made in various Warner Bros. theatres throughout the country. The most promising of the candidates who presented themselves were then sent to the Warner Bros. studios in North Hollywood, where they were sorted out and eliminated until 1,000 were left.

Thousand Beauties
The thousand beauties were then segregated and given screen tests and gradually eliminated until the required two hundred were picked. No one standard of beauty was used. The girls represent every ideal of beauty—pulchritude to suit every taste.

There are blondes, brunettes and red heads, tall girls and short girls, slim girls and plump girls, peppy girls and languid girls, but each and every one with personality.

These were drilled and trained for weeks by Berkeley until they could carry out with perfection the song and dance numbers in some of the most unique, novel and spectacular ensembles ever staged. The girls form the setting for the beautiful musical numbers which are in intricate part of the gigantic dramatic production.

"Gold Diggers of 1933" carries an all-star cast, which includes Warren Williams, Joan Blondell, Alie MacMahon, Ruby Keeler, Dick Powell, Guy Kibbee, Ned Sparks and Ginger Rogers, besides 200 of the most beautiful chorus girls ever assembled. Beautiful dance ensembles were created and staged by Busby Berkeley while Mervyn LeRoy directed the picture. The picture is based on Avery Hopwood's play.

Jobless Salvage Logs From River

BEAUMONT, Sept. 9 — Slim Martin and Collin LaBlue, who are otherwise unemployed, have managed to eke out a fair living recently by salvaging sunken logs from the mud of the Neches river.

The logs, which have been kept for years in a perfect state of preservation by the water, are sold for $8 per thousand board feet. They have recovered about 200 logs and expect to get about 400 more.

Some of the recovered logs are estimated by Martin to be about 65 years old, dating back to the earliest days in the lumber industry of the Sabine district. The manner of cutting indicate their age.

Martin and LaBlue carry on all their salvaging operations by hand labor. The logs are located by the use of "sinker flats" or frame-works built across two rowboats. A line is strung across the river and the "sinker flat" moves along the line while the men aboard probe the bottom of the stream with long poles.

When log is located logs are lowered to grasp it. It is then raised with a windlass and hauled ashore for the trip to the mill.

OUT OUR WAY

"Thy name, O Lord, endureth for ever; and thy memorial, O Lord, throughout all generations." Included with other passages from the Bible is the following from Proverbs 22: "By humility and the fear of the Lord are riches, and honour, and life." The lesson-sermon also includes citations from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Take away wealth, fame, and social organizations, which weigh not one jot in the balance of God, and we get clearer views of principle. Break up cliques, level wealth with honesty, let worth be judged according to wisdom and we get better views of humanity. To ascertain our progress, we must learn where our affections are placed and whom we acknowledge and obey as God. If divine Love is becoming nearer, dearer, and more real to us, matter is then submitting to Spirit. The objects we pursue and the spirit we manifest reveal our standpoint, and show what we are winning" (p. 239).

Old Document Lists "Public Enemies"

AUSTIN, Sept. 9 — Long before organized crime had placed the word "gangster" in the modern dictionary, Texas had its own list of "public enemies."

During the days when civil war shattered the peace of the Old South, John H. Reagan, postmaster general of the Confederacy, compiled a list of "alien enemies" in 21 Texas counties and issued orders for the confiscation of their property.

The document, found in east Texas, is one of more than 150 recently purchased by the University of Texas as a nucleus for its collection of material pertaining to southern history.

Letters written and received by President Jefferson Davis during the Civil War comprise a major part of the collection, purchased from Dr. Prichard van David of San Antonio.

It includes Robert E. Lee's original order of surrender to Grant, and his farewell to the army technically known as General Order No. 9.

A document describing verbally and in pen and ink sketches a sub-water gun to be used in defending the Mississippi against Union gunboats, and bearing notations by Jefferson Davis also is included in the collection.

The documents were paid for from the $125,000 endowment given 15 years ago by Major George W. Littlefield for the purchase of southern history material.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLUB HAS LUNCHEON

"See America First", the subject of the year's study course of the First Industrial Arts club, was woven into a decorative theme for luncheon appointments on Thursday, when the club had its first meeting of the year at the Laguna hotel. American flags and baskets of lilies were used in an artistic way to adorn luncheon tables which were arranged in a triangular shape. "Dry hand-colored" maps of the United States and miniature American flags marked covers for twenty-six members. A delectable three-course luncheon was served. The program was opened with the singing of "America", followed by the salute to the flag. Mrs. J. Stuart Pearce led in prayer. Members responded to roll call with jokes and humorous incidents which occurred during the vacation months. Two minute talks were given on vacation trips as follows: "California," Mrs. E. J. Poe; "New York," Mrs. Allen Crowover; "Old Mexico," Mrs. J. Stuart Pearce; "Christ Church in Virginia," Mrs. H. L. Dyer, and "Galveston," Mrs. J. D. Barker. Varnell, who is leaving to make her home in Arlington. Mrs. Hubert Seale gave the president's message, and the program was closed with the reciting of the club collect. Mrs. N. A. ## XXTH CENTURY CLUB HAS INITIAL SESSION

The Twentieth Century club had its initial session of the year on Friday, when the club was entertained with a delightful luncheon on the roof garden of the Laguna hotel. Golden-glow and clematis were profusely used in an attractive floral theme, giving emphasis to club colors of gold and white which were used in every detail of decoration. Place cards suggested to study course for the year, which is "The United States as Seen Through the Eyes of Modern Writers." An elaborate four course luncheon menu was served.

Mrs. J. R. Burnett, who was president of the club last year, acted as toastmistress for the occasion. During the luncheon hour, Harry Schaefer, accompanied Mrs. Schaefer, gave two violin selections. He also gave two short readings. Several jokes were given by Mrs. J. C. McAfee. The incoming officers of the club were presented by the toastmistress, Mrs. Burnett, and each made a short talk.
