WILL ROGERS, WILEY POST DIE IN CRASH

Only $800 in Fire Losses Here This Year

FAMOUS PAIR MEET DEATH WHEN PLANE WRECKS IN LONELY ALASKAN TUNDRA

Tragedy Occurs 15 Miles South of Point Barrow; Natives Reported to Have Said Motor Failed in Bank at Take-off

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 16 (AP)—The Seattle headquarters of the Alaska Telegraph system operated by the United States army signal corps, advised today that Will Rogers, famous humorist, and Wiley Post, noted aviator, were killed when their plane crashed 15 miles south of Point Barrow, in the northmost tip of Alaska.

Signal corps advised the Associated Press that Sergeant Stanley Morgan, operator at Barrow, had recovered the bodies of the famous pair, who were on an aerial vacation, and brought them to Barrow. The plane was en route from Fairbanks to Barrow when it crashed.

Sergeant Morgan advised headquarters that Rogers and Post were both dead when he reached the wreckage. The famous pair left Fairbanks last night for the 500-mile flight to Point Barrow. Morgan gave only the barest details in his report.

Post had planned to fly later to Siberia. Whether Rogers would go with him was undecided. He did not know when he left Fairbanks.

The plane was equipped with pontoons for landing on water but the tundra country in which the wreck occurred had little water suitable for plane landings.

The bodies were taken to Point Barrow and cared for by a missionary doctor there. The coast guard cutter Northland, which left Point Barrow yesterday, was ordered to turn back and pick up the bodies.

At 10 p. m. CST Sergeant Morgan said that the accident occurred at 5 o'clock, Alaska time (10 o'clock Central Standard Time) last night.

The coast guard cutter Northland will transport the bodies home and it is probable that a plane will be sent to fly the bodies to the Pacific coast.

When Post and Rogers left Fairbanks, in the interior of Alaska, yesterday in their pontoon-equipped plane, dense fog, low clouds and rain were reported at Barrow. The tragedy ended a jaunt which was to have taken Post and possibly Rogers to Siberia, where Post planned to hunt.

Mrs. Post had considered accompanying the famous pair but at the last minute she changed her plans and returned to California.

Second Crash It was Post's second crash in Alaska. On his first round-the-world flight the "Winnie Mae" made a forced landing and was damaged near Flat, on the Yukon river. Repairs were made and he continued unhurt.

From all over the world today came expressions of sorrow over the loss of Rogers and Post.

"Just two mighty good men have been lost to the world," said Vice President Garner in the capital, where Will Rogers was loved as few others of his time. Garner said it was "awful."

Sergeant Morgan reported that the plane was a complete wreck, submerged in two feet of water.

Natives Saw Wreck "Natives camping at a small river 15 miles south of here," said Morgan, "claim that Post and Rogers landed and asked the way to Point Barrow."

"Taking off, the engine misfired on a right bank when only 50 feet over the water. The plane went out of control and crashed, tearing the right wing off and toppling over, forcing the engine back through the body of the plane."

"Both were apparently killed instantly. I recovered the body of Rogers. Then it was necessary to tear the plane apart to extract the body of Post from the water."

NEICE BY MARRIAGE Mrs. Karl Armstrong of Tulsa, Okla., who is visiting in the W. J. Armstrong home is a neice by marriage of Will Rogers' neice, Mrs. Jim Neal of Tulsa, Okla. Mrs. Neal is the daughter of Will Rogers' sister.

Through the Editor's Spectacles

By GEORGE

The epidemic of boils that has afflicted Ciscoans this summer has its explanation, according to one scientist, in the probability that the victims are too sweet.

It takes salt in the system to make one immune to these eruptions, says this scientist, who points out that athletes, who should be the healthiest of people, are generally the worst afflicted.

The explanation is: Athletes in profuse perspiration lose salt from their bodies and if this loss is not replaced the way is paved for the boils. The story is:

"As the blood sugar rises, the sugar in the skin increases three times as fast. This means that the athlete who lost salt if not fully replaced develops what may be called today a "sweet skin."

"It is sweet from the point of view of staphylococci, the bacteria which causes boils. For sugar is a food on which they thrive. Extra skin sugar gives them an added opening."

"Salt stands guard against them. In laboratory experiments these pus germs failed to thrive on media containing too much salt."

"As a result of these studies common table salt was tried out at the hospital as a remedy for boils and abscesses. The salt was injected either directly into the pus or into the blood stream. It was injected in the form of water mixed with seven-tenths of a percent of common salt."

"In all cases in which pus was present, the report states, the treatment brought improvement."

"The report points out also that diabetics are often subject to boils. It suggests that the increased sugar in diabetics accounts for this and that a salt metabolism treatment should bring relief."

The answer to the boil situation, then, is that the victims had best take steps to unsweeten themselves.

The death of Will Rogers in an airplane crash in Alaska today was to most people as much of a shock as if some intimate friend had been tragically removed. So well was he known and so universally liked that his death will be mourned with genuine grief in almost every household of the land. Everybody knew Will Rogers, and his good humor, sharp wit and good will.

I had the privilege of hearing him twice on the stage. He came to Breckenridge twice and both times he convulsed capacity audiences who were captivated by the marvelous personality of the former Oklahoma and Texas cowboy who made good in a big way, making people laugh down doses of salty wisdom that left them something to think about for days to come besides the enjoyment they had of listening to him.

When he first came to Breckenridge the society element had prepared for him a "pink tea", as he called it, at the country club, thinking to do him honor. But Rogers came unobtrusively into the city, took a room at a hotel and spent the day writing articles for his syndicate, admitting no one but an old cowboy friend with whom he had worked on a Texas ranch many years before. After his appearance that

SINGLE ALARM IS TURNED IN DURING JULY

Record Is In Sharp Contrast to Those of Other Years

O. Gustafson, city fire marshal, reports the fire losses to date this year to have been only $800 on which insurance was collected for the present year. Only one alarm was turned in during July.

"For the first seven months of 1935, the $800 loss, compared with that of previous years, makes a splendid showing, and if maintained for the remainder of the year, should materially reduce the city's key rate," Gustafson said.

Following is the record the fire marshal reported for previous years since 1931:

The year of 1932 of fire losses were $25,750; for 1933, $9,900; for 1934, $8,465, and up to the present time of 1935, only $800.

"This reduction in fire losses is largely due to the cooperation of the people of Cisco in eliminating fire hazards and thus preventing fire losses. While the city officials appreciate this cooperation in reducing the fire losses, yet it is to the interest of the property owners, as the less fires the cheaper are the insurance rates," the fire marshal stated.

Conferees Still at Stalemate On Utility Bill

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 16 (AP)—Compromise offers submitted by the house and senate conferees on the public utilities bill failed today in another vain effort to get together on the provision for compulsory abolition of "unnecessary" holding companies. Senator Wheeler, insisting upon some form of dissolution of surplus holding companies, asserted, however, that the prospects for agreement were "a little brighter."

Relative of Rogers, Visiting Here, Recalls Him as Popular Boy

Mrs. N. B. Foreman of Siloam Springs, Ark., visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. D. Roberts, here on her way to California, remembers William Penn Adair Rogers (Will Rogers) a distant cousin, with whom she grew up in Oklahoma, as a fun-loving, witty youngster over whom people made a great deal of fuss.

Young Rogers, who had Cherokee Indian blood in his veins "and was proud of it," according to Mrs. Foreman, used to visit in their home a great deal. He was always making wise cracks and doing trick roping stunts, she remembered.

He was born November 4, 1879, at Oolagah, Oklahoma, near Chelsea, Oklahoma, where Mrs. Foreman grew up.

Will's father had a ranch near Oolagah and raised cattle and Will "grew up on a horse," said Mrs. Foreman. He was not a prankster, Mrs. Foreman recalled, but he was full of his fun and everybody liked him.

His parents sent him to the Kemper Military school at Booneville, Mo., but he left the school and went to Texas where he worked on a ranch. From there, Mrs. Foreman said, she lost track of him, but knew that he went to South America where he worked his trick rope stunts in the theaters and went over big. From there he went to New York where he made a hit on the stage and subsequently starred in the follies.

15 DETAILED PAGES ON WEST WARD PROJECT

Application Reflects Weeks of Work; Calls for $15,000

Fifteen pages of itemized specifications and estimates, representing two weeks work by one engineer and weeks of investigations and gathering of information, will go forward today to the division engineer of the Works Progress administration, in the application of the Cisco public school board for a project to strengthen the foundations of the west ward building.

The project is for removal of the sand cushion under the building and for replacing this with a re-inforced concrete "mat" designed to act as a "spread footing" to take the weight of the building off the soil and prevent further settling.

Every detail of the proposed construction is minutely covered in the application. Pages of specifications and estimates down to the last penny are included in the project proposal of which there are four copies. Four large blue prints, in addition, have been prepared.

The application also includes tables showing the decrease in tax valuations, a certified statement of the financial condition of the schools, and operation costs and tax income for every year since 1921, in order to show the necessity of securing a WPA grant if the work is done and the impossibility of voting further bonds to finance the project.

Two Months The project would cost about $15,000 and provide 9,721.22 man-months of labor. Two months be required for its completion.

The application going forward today, it was said, is the final one, incorporating minor changes requested by the WPA engineers, who praised it as the most complete that had been prepared and filed with them in connection with an application.

The specifications, estimates and drawings were prepared by Wesley Harrell. R. L. Ponsler, school board president, and Supt. R. N. Cluck assisted. Several weeks were spent in collecting data before the preparation of the project proposal began.

Relief Officials Demand Pickers Off Relief Rolls

AUSTIN, Aug. 16—As the cotton picking season gradually spreads over Texas, relief commission officials are re-emphasizing their demands that every available cotton picker be taken off the relief rolls and told to get a cotton sack.

Distret administrators have been told to see that no able-bodied relief client be allowed to stay on the relief rolls so long as there is a job for him in the cotton fields.

Despite pest infestation, the cotton crop in Texas apparently will be appreciably large, it is indicated, and relief officials insist that there be a commensurate drop in the relief load in cotton picking areas.

What effect getting off Federal Emergency Relief administration rolls now to pick cotton will have on a client's chances of being certified to the Works Progress administration rolls late in the fall when the cotton picking season is over, has been explained thus:

It will not jeopardize his chances at all. An unemployed able-bodied person who was on the FERA rolls in May this year and is registered with the National Reemployment Service is automatically eligible for a job with the WPA. The minute a cotton picker or anyone else who was a relief client in May has worked himself out of a job in private employment, he becomes eligible to work on WPA projects.

In view of this and the sharp reduction in relief funds, Relief Commission officials are insisting that relief rolls in heavy cotton producing areas should be reduced by as much as 50 per cent if not more during the cotton picking season.

$25,000 for Leases on Relief Farm Land

GONZALES, Aug. 16 (AP)—More than $25,000 has been expended in Gonzales county for leases on land to be used for sustaining farming purposes in accordance with the Rural Rehabilitation program in Texas. Leases on 1,265 acres have been recorded to date, involving 45 separate tracts, all being made into Texas Rural Communities.

Recording of the leases is not complete and indications are that several hundred acres more will be included in the federal government's relief farming project in Gonzales county.

Owner of Cotton "Lost" 23 Years Ago

GAINSVILLE, Aug. 16 (AP)—Arthur Nall, Cooke county farmer, was looking through some old papers recently and discovered a cotton ticket, obtained from the North Texas Compress company when a bale of cotton was placed in storage.

The tag was 23 years old and upon investigation Mr. Nall discovered that he was the owner of a "lost" bale of cotton stored at the compress nearly a quarter of a century ago.

Storage charges exceed the present value of the bale and Mr. Nall hasn't decided whether to pay the charges or turn the bale over to the compress.

Appeals Sentence for Tax Evasion

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16. (AP)—William D. Chadick of Hidalgo county, has appealed to the supreme court from a sentence of two years and a fine of $2,000 on a charge that he evaded federal taxes for 1929.

The United States charged that Chadick in his tax return filed at Austin for 1929, attempted to evade payment of taxes of about $9,000. Pointing out three deposits which had been made in the Edinburg state bank and trust company in January and February, 1929, in the name of Chadick. Two were for $4,000 each and one for $3,696.

Chadick contended A. Y. Baker, president of the Edinburg bank, had deposited money in the bank in Chadick's name and had withdrawn it without his knowledge or consent. He further contended the government had failed to show that these deposits had been made by him or with his knowledge and consent.

Continuation Of AAA Program Is Group's Demand

The Texas corn-hog advisory committee, duly elected representatives of about 33,000 Texas corn-hog producers in 225 counties, while in session at the Farmers' short course at Texas A. and M. College, issued the following statements, according to E. F. Altom, chairman of the Eastland county corn-hog association.

"We wish to go record commending the national administration for its untiring effort to give the farmers an opportunity to receive parity prices for the commodities he produces and markets, and to give the producers of agricultural commodities a protection similar to that which has been given manufacturers and other commercial interests. Texas farmers are keenly aware of the fact that this is an unprecedented consideration given them.

"We insist upon the continuation of agricultural adjustment programs and processing taxes, without which Texas farmers and Texas business would suffer.

"We express the determination of Texas farmers to hold our adjustment programs regardless of attacks made on them, and serve notice that we shall insist upon some kind of farm program no matter what legal difficulties may arise in connection with the present one.

"We heartily endorse, and are ready to assist the Texas Agricultural association in its effort to expose the unconstitutionality of high protective industrial tariffs which have been of great damage to the majority interests of farmers, and we call on all the people of Texas to assist us in our struggle for a fair deal which is of great importance to the people in all occupations just as well as to those engaged in farming.

"We wish to commend and endorse the corn-hogs section of the Agricultural Adjustment administration in Washington for the splendid way they have carried out the program in Texas and in the manner in which they have helped the corn-hog contract signers of Texas to meet each problem that has come up in carrying out the program.

"We want to express the appreciation of the farmers we represent, to the extension service of the Texas A. and M. college for the capable way the program has been handled and the fair, impartial decisions that have come from the officials in charge.

"We endorse the actions of the members of the present corn-hog review board and the way they have handled the job of al-

Medical Examination for Relief Workers

AUSTIN, Aug., 16 (AP)—Medical examinations soon will reveal how Texas relief clients fared physically during the depression.

As men are transferred from relief rolls to jobs in the Works Progress administration, said Mrs. Val. M. Keating, social service director, they will be examined under direction of advisory committees of the various county medical societies.

Those immediately in line for WPA work jobs will be examined first. Physical condition of others will be determined as the WPA increases its activities.

ment that has been their duty. The board has been fair an djust in all its decisions and rulings, and contract signers appreciate its impartial allotments.

"This committee feels that the corn-hog program has been efficiently and fairly carried on in Texas. The county agents, all corn-hog committeemen and others connected with the program have worked hard in putting it over. The contract signers have been harmonious and have cooperated with the officials, and this committee wants to express its appreciation to all connected with the program for the manner in which it has been

This Is Age of Competition Chamber of Commerce Reminds

"This is an age of competition, an age where the things that survive in the business world are the things that must prove their merit," says the Cisco Chamber of Commerce. "Anything that is useless or inefficient soon loses out in the strenuous race for supremacy. So when you view your successful business establishments in your home community you are viewing those who have proven their merit and a right to your patronage and consideration.

"The business field in the small towns especially, is not exclusive to anybody. The game is open to anybody who desires to enter and cares to risk the necessary capital. Nobody faces fiercer competition on every hand than the country merchant. A dissatisfied customer does not have to trade with him and he knows it. There are the competing stores across the street or next door. Or, of those do not suit there are usually towns within a very short distance that invite his patronage. So the country merchant must find a way to black skinners nesting on the is- only meet them by giving the service, the goods and prices that do satisfy the customers. "Most people expect and receive accommodation from the home merchant which they would never receive in a thousand years from the mail order concern. Just this feature of accommodation should be a strong point in favor of the home merchant, but that is not all. There are the churches, the schools, the various public activities that are only possible because the home merchant and business man is doing a successful business. All of these things are inseparable and if anybody would trade out of town, the town would decay and public activities would soon cease. There is no way that a prosperous town can be maintained and at the same time have a large part of the business of the town sent elsewhere.

"Many people do not realize what it means to send money out of town. Of course a few would not matter, but when it begins to mount up to thousands of dollars per month then one can see the vast damage to the town caused by the loss of this liquid capital. The banks find their business cur-

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

One thing have I desired of the Lord, that will I seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to inquire in his temple.—Ps. 26:4.

Come unto me! Thus does the Christ invite Nor those alone who heard the words of old,
But they who, meekly, yet with courage bold,
Accept, and, leaving all, receive God's light.

One cannot have genuine religion without living it daily before men—three hundred and sixty-five days in the year. It touches upon all the fringes of life.

A Pathetic Case

THERE are few more pathetic cases than that of Albert B. Fall, secretary of the interior under President Harding, who this week faced eviction from his ranch home near Three Rivers, New Mexico.

IT must be a humiliating life that the aged ex-secretary leads in this virtual exile into which he has retired. Marked with the brand of having betrayed a high public trust and with the stigma of a prison term upon his record, Fall is an example of the extremes that a man's life can encompass.

Inexperienced Squad for Maverick Team

EASTLAND, Aug. 16—With only four letter men to return this fall, the Maverick football squad will as a whole be inexperienced, Johnny Kitchen said Tuesday while talking of football prospects for the fall and the ten day training encampment scheduled for the latter part of this month.

Junior high material and some squaddies will compose the team principally, Kitchen said. Although the boys are rather small, he said, a fast team is anticipated.

Buffalo Gap had been definitely decided upon as the place for the encampment. The routine of the encampment will consist of two practices daily, one in the morning and one in the afternoon with blackboard drills in between times, it was found. Transportation to Buffalo Gap was the main problem now, the coach said. "Those who are curious to look the place over will be welcome to go along and take some of the boys," he said.

Hagiography is that branch of learning which has the saints and their worship for its object.

In no part of America has the language of early Scotland, Ireland and England been so well preserved as in the Southern Appalachians.

Not to Be Taken Lightly

MR. HUEY P. LONG, otherwise known as the Kingfish of the political kingdom of Louisiana, has a magnanimous opinion of his political appeal. He graciously includes Texas among the states he lists as subject to that appeal. It is the usual strategy of the politician to claim everything in sight, and Huey is past master at the art of politics.

The Booster Breakfast

THE first early morning swim and breakfast for the Cisco Boosters at Lake Cisco proved so successful that a repetition of the event will take place next Tuesday morning. The first breakfast drew about 60 for a program that was entirely satisfactory both from the standpoint of the entertainment provided and its brevity.

Death of Rogers

DEATHS of Will Rogers and Wiley Post in an airplane crash in Alaska today shocked the entire globe. In Rogers the world lost one of its outstanding humorists of all time and America her greatest ambassador of goodwill. No man outside of official position has exerted more influence upon the American mind than Will Rogers. That influence, in all its homely genius has been one of the most healthful elements of the recent depression.

CHRIST CHURCH COMMUNITY

Rev. and Mrs. Steyer had as their guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Herschbach and little daughter, Betty Lou, of Dallas; Rev. A. B. Wagner of Albany; Miss Doris Smith of Troup, Tex.; and Miss Vera Burgdorf of Red Bird, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jost and children of Coppas Cove, are visiting in the home of Mrs. Jost's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Reich.

The Eifert and Weiser families had visitors from Fayette county. Our ball team lost to the Albany team 12 to 11. Sunday, Aug. 18, the base ball team of this community is going to Albany to make an effort to defeat the Albany team on their home grounds.

'PARTY' GIRLS SCREAM IN COURT AT VERDICT

The screams of Florence Jackson (center), her sister, Loretta (center), and Jean Miller (right), threw this Detroit court room into confusion as they were convicted with William Lee Ferris (in light suit, lower right), of the $104 holdup-murder of Howard Carter Dickinson, New York attorney. The ex-burlesque dancers collapsed and were carried to their jail cells. They must serve life terms. (Associated Press Photo)

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

New York—Somewhere today in this massive city a mother is perturbed. And she doesn't quite know what to do about it. It concerns her son, who is in a military school in Virginia, and the boy's father, who, although a loving parent who would give his shoes for his son, is also stern where discipline is concerned and does not hesitate to use harsh measures when occasions call for them.

Her dilemma came from a photograph, or rather a news picture which was emblazoned across the face of a morning traffic accident and in the crowd of morbidly curious which always springs up around the bodies of traffic or underworld victims, she recognized her son.

He had gained permission for a leave of absence in some way and come to New York for a secret spree. Now she doesn't know whether to tell his father, who would no doubt cut his allowance and penalize him in other ways, or trust that the youth will behave himself in the future. She doesn't even know whether to accost her son by letter, to let him know she is on to his escapade, or just to wait and hope that he doesn't do it again.

The doggy days, having completed the cycle, are with us again—the dog being a form of dance that two decades ago was the rage in New York. It was, I believe, Mrs. S. Stanwood Menken who organized the first public tea dances in New York. This was 20 years ago at the old McAlpin and the doggy, or dog trot was the principal terpsichorean movement of the day.

It was the occasion of these first tea dances 20 years ago that sent the press agent of the McAlpin into a flurry of activity. He caused stories to be sent out to the effect that all female employees of the hotel had been schooled in all the intricate movements of the dance and that they stood ready and waiting should transient guests desire partners.

It was this same enterprising young man, too, who threw New York into hysterical excitement with his announcements of "diamond mines" when the spot where the hotel now stands was being excavated. His ballyhoo flowered in a gullible age and he was imaginative enough to make good his boasts.

Emperor Hadrian reigned over the Romans from 118 to 138.

Eastland P. O. Bldg. Is Nearer Reality

EASTLAND, Aug. 16—Telegrams received Wednesday morning by Mayor C. W. Hoffmann and Attorney John D. McRae from Senator Tom Connally kindled Eastland's hopes for a new post office anew. The wire read: "Pleased to advise your city has been designated by joint committee for federal building and site."

night, he turned the "pink tea" down with the remark that he hadn't come to Texas to be entertained, but to meet his friends, and for two hours that night, in a little chilli joint, at an informal little dinner arranged by his poor cowboy friend, he talked in a serious, heart-to-heart way or many personal things that he would not discuss on the stage. That little dinner party, in the course of which Rogers consumed two enormous bowls of chilli, gave his listeners an insight into a character that was truly great, an insight that all who heard will recall with inspiration and respect.

Human and Other Nature

By W. F. BRUCE

One may see himself in some ancient specimen of human nature sometimes. When Jacob went to "the land of the children of the east," to visit his mother's brother's family he came upon a well in the field. From those at the well he learned that the daughter was coming with her father's flock. Then "Jacob saw Rachel, the daughter of Laban and the sheep of Laban."

But the bargaining trait ran in the family. Laban saw opportunities. He got seven years of service out of the young man, and liked it so well that he said of Rachel, "We will give you the other girl also for the service of seven other years." It is no wonder that the girls finally complained that they had been sold. There is considerable bargaining in the matrimonial market today. Girls are an attraction in themselves of course, but the prospect of falling heir to something adds to the attraction. The difference today is that the girls have more power in the deal. They offer beauty and winsomeness for the best bid in bank balance or limousine or flowing oil well. They seek the hand of some offshoot of European royalty, for what is in the hand or what it is able to get hold of in goods. As long as marriage is looked upon as that kind of a deal one party or the other or both are apt to get a bad bargain and will want to unload their trade in the divorce court.

Torso Murderers Get 180 Years

Mrs. Blanche Dunkel Evelyn Smith
"A living death" sentence of 180 years each was imposed on Mrs. Blanche Dunkel and Evelyn Smith by Judge Cornelius J. Harrington in Chicago for the torso murder of Ervin Lang. Mrs. Dunkel, shown at the left as sentence was passed, and Mrs. Smith, shown at the right behind the bars of her cell after being led from the court, escaped the death sentence only because the judge believed death would be "a merciful end to you." Mrs. Dunkel, mother-in-law of Lang, and Mrs. Smith, former burlesque dancer, confessed to the plot of killing Lang for which Mrs. Dunkel agreed to pay Mrs. Smith $500.

Although police believed that Mrs. Mary James, above, 27-year-old La Crescenta, Cal., matron, fainted and fell into the shallow pool at her home where she was drowned, authorities proceeded with an autopsy. ## LOBO GRIDIRON PRACTICE WILL BEGIN SEPT. 2

With only fair prospects for the season, the Cisco Lobos will begin football practice Monday September 2.

Equipment will be issued the squadmen the preceding Saturday and it is probable that two practice sessions will be held daily during the week intervening between the start of workouts and the opening of the school term on Monday, September 9.

Coach Dexter Shelley is due to arrive in Cisco next Sunday after a summer spent away in study. Ass't Coach Clyde Van Sickle has been here all summer.

Boys reporting for spring practice were uniformly light, and with a dearth of heavy material, the outlook for the season is not altogether promising.

GARNER TEAM SPRINGS UPSET OVER GASSERS

Playing heads up ball all the way through, the John H. Garner's team of the city soft ball league last night sprang an upset with a 7 to 3 defeat of the loop-leading Community Natural Gassers. The defeat spoils a perfect Community record and puts the team's second half victory, which seems assured, in doubt.

The Nance Motor company team with two defeats chalked against its record, meets the Community Monday evening with a chance to even the standings. These two teams have a "rained-out" game to play and should Nance win Monday evening the outcome of the second half would hinge on that contest.

Garner's team won the first half of the season. A play off between this team and the second half winner will determine the season winner.

Following are the team's standings:

Community	6	1	.857
Nance	4	2	.667

Return of R. R. Shops to Piedras Sought

EAGLE PASS, Aug. 16 (AP)—President Lazaro Cardenas, replying to a petition of Piedras Negras businessmen and the Municipal council, telegraphed that he would do all in his power to have the Mexican National railway shops moved back to Piedras Negras. He advised the director of the Mexican National Railways at Mexico City to that effect.

The railway shops were moved from Piedras Negras December 15, 1929, by an order of President Plutarco Elias Calles, who gave no reason for his action. The machinery was dismantled and sent to other shops in Monclova, Monterrey and Gomez Palacios, leaving the huge shop buildings in Piedras Regas empty. The shops employed an average of 800 skilled workmen and sustained approximately 5,000 people.

Piedras Negras businessmen are inclined to believe Calles' action was a retaliation for an indiffer-

Green Island Pretty Bird Sanctuary

HARLINGEN, Aug. 16 (AP)—Green Island, just off the coast of the Lower Rio Grande Valley, has been described by Alexander Sprunt, Jr. of the National Association of Audubon Societies as one of the prettiest bird sanctuaries under his jurisdiction. Sprunt visited the Valley sanctuary, more commonly known as Bird Island, this year.

Among other things he found black skimmers nesting on the island for the first time. It also was noticed that birds arrived earlier and departed and returned so that there will be nesting on the island probably later than usual. It is expected that birds with young will be found until September.

Several hundred roseate spoonbills were to be found until recently when water became shallow and they sought other feeding grounds. The bird is often mistaken for the flamingo because of its coloring and shape.

The redish egret is one of the rarer birds protected at this sanctuary. John Larson of Harlingen who is the caretaker, spends each season on the island protecting the nesting birds from animals, reptiles and man. Coyotes often swim to the island from the mainland but snakes are found rarely. eba22 ayth

SWIMMER FOUND 160 MILES AT SEA

Walter Robillard, 32, of Boston, said he jumped overboard from a fishing vessel, 160 miles off Boston, on a "dare" from men prominent in public life. After swimming a half hour in his shoes, trousers and sweater, he was dragged forcibly from the open sea by members of the crew of another fishing ship. He is shown upon arrival at Boston airport in a coast guard plane. He was taken to a psychopathic hospital. (Associated Press Photo)

Anne Lindbergh Tells Of Spill Into Flood of Yangtze

By JOHN SELBY
NEW YORK, Aug. 15 (AP)—“And for three weeks, I thought, ‘I’ve been brushing my teeth in boiled water.’”

Which was the first reaction of Anne Morrow Lindbergh to the spill which almost changed America's Public Hero No. 1 and his wife into muddy corpses floating down the flooded Yangtze river in China. Mrs. Lindbergh tells the story of her 1931 flight to China with her famous husband in “North to the Orient,” her first book, published today.

The Hangkow Spill
Before China was reached there had been adventures with her radio sending and receiving set, nights spent in isolated Canadian cabins or anchored off odd bits of Alaskan coast, visits to Russian homes, a dangerous forced landing in the Japanese archipelago, and an adventure near Nanking when an errand of mercy almost sacrificed the Colonel and two doctor companions to sullen Chinese flood sufferers.

The spill was at Hangkow, where the British plane carrier “Hermes” had arranged an emergency hoisting apparatus and had taken the Lindberghs’ “Sirius” abroad to protect it from the flooded Yangtze, and marauders who might be afloat on its boiling yellow surface.

Not Enough Slack
There was not enough slack to detach the plane from the derrick rope when it was returned to the water.

“My husband, opening the throttle, tried to work back upstream. But the plane had already swung in the wind sidewise to the current. . . . Out of control. Current pulled against cable. . . . Down went the wing. . . . It acted like a paddle, too, that large flat surface stemming the stream, forcing us over.

“Better get ready to jump, My husband's voice shot at me tersely from the front cockpit. I climbed out. . . . ‘Jump!’

“I looked down into the muddy current. In that fleeting second. . . . I thought only, with incongruous complacency, ‘Now I will find out how this new life preserver works. . . .’

“For not only did I have no fear, I had no sense at all—no realization of going under water or of getting wet or of my clothes being heavy to swim in, or even that the life preserver had not worked. Quite typically I had not pressed the lever far enough.

“It did not matter, I had come up and was swimming along easily with yards of deflated life preserver dragging after me. . . . I saw my husband just behind. . . . We were swept downstream to the lifeboat, where we climbed on board and wiped our faces. I coughed up some Yangtze water.”
And then thought about that tooth-brushing matter.

The body of Poland's Marshal Josef Pilsudski was buried in the cathedral attached to the royal castle at Cracow.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt have been invited to attend the sesquicentennial celebration of Lincoln, N. C.

According to tradition, Schenectady, N. Y., stands on the site of the chief village of the Mohawk Indians.
