FIGHTING PLANES TO ESCORT KELLY

Four Killed in Wichita Falls Refinery Blast and Fire

3 OF VICTIMS ARE TRAPPED BY EXPLOSION

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 28.—Four men were killed in an explosion and fire which razed the $250,000 Taxman Refinery here today. Charred bodies, dragged from where the men had been trapped in the cracking plant, were believed those of Bob Finley, chief mechanic, Ralph Spetel and Clyde Holland, insulators. Fred Arbuckle, chief operator, died in a hospital several hours later from the effects of burns. His clothing was burned when ignited by spraying gasoline as he stood outside the plant. Clyde Griffin, assistant operator, and C. B. Ward, electrician, were seriously burned. The explosion which started the flame occurred in a cracking plant tower. Flames swept immediately over the entire refinery.

J. B. (Boney) Smith To Be Buried Here

J. B. (Boney) Smith, old-time resident of Cisco who died at Fort Worth early this morning, will be buried in Oakwood cemetery tomorrow afternoon, it was announced today. Mr. Smith, who made his home here for many years, was widely known and admired here. He left Cisco for Fort Worth about 10 years ago. His age was above 75 years. Following funeral services at Fort Worth tomorrow morning the funeral cortege will drive to Cisco, scheduled to arrive about 3:30 p. m. At the grave in Oakwood there will be a brief service conducted by the Rev. E. S. James, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Mail Theft Loot Reported as $5,000

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 28.—Pouches of registered mail stolen by bandits early today contained money and valuables totalling only about $5,000, the head of the registry of mails announced. Authorities until that time have estimated the loot at $60,000 to $100,000. Four bandits stole three pouches from the registered mail shed at the terminal of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad. Half a dozen mail workers and ironies on the streets caught glimpses of the bandits, who took only 60 seconds to carry out their theft in the misty darkness.

PUPILS COST $85 EACH
HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 28.—Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction has estimated that the average cost per pupil in public schools run $86.73 per year. The Pennsylvania annual cost is about one to five dollars a year less than the average for the United States.

PAID FOR MEAL
HARRISBURG, Ore., Sept. 28.—Recorder W. E. Wadsworth received a letter from San Francisco containing 25 cents. It was sent by a transient, who was given a meal ticket at the police station here last February. The wayfarer thanked the town for its hospitality and said he had since found employment.

THREE GUESSES

ANSWERS ON PAGE SIX

Captured Gang Linked to Sensational Kidnaping

Charged with robbery and suspected of the kidnaping of John J. O'Connell, Jr., of Albany, five gangsters and their two women companions here are shown in New York police headquarters. A series of raids by Federal agents, state troops and city detectives rounded up the band and their arsenal, and a pair of rusty hand cuffs which were believed to link them with the O'Connell abduction case, in which $42,500 ransom was paid. Left to right the men are: Fred Prentiss, Philip Ziegler, Leonard Scarnici, Charles Herzog and Anthony Relno. The two women are Emma Relno, left, and Eleanor Scarnici.

LOBOES WILL MAKE ANGELO TRIP BY BUS

The Cisco Lobo football team will make its trip to San Angelo where it will play the Bobcats next Saturday by bus, in all probability, it was said today.

Efforts are being made to provide transportation for the band and the pep squad, also. Supt. E. N. Chuck said. This can be arranged only by the offer of individual citizens to go in their cars and provide room for members of the two school organizations to ride with them, he said.

The Lobos will play their second game of the season when they meet the Bobcats. They defeated the Gorman high school eleven here last Saturday night, 12 to 0, in the season opener.

San Angelo strength is not known here but the Tom Green county teams are always able to give the Cisco boys a battle, and it is not unlikely that a defeat is in store for the home boys this week-end.

After meeting San Angelo, the Lobos take the trail for Pampa where they will engage the latest potent Harvesters in a pre-conference battle. Between these two engagements, however, there is a vacant week-end, and it is likely that a contest will be arranged at home. If such a game is not secured, Cisco will not see the home team in action on home soil until late in October. Brownwood, the first conference foe of the Cisco eleven will be played at Brownwood.

383 Bales of Cotton Are Ginned in Cisco

To Wednesday night the gin of the Bankhead Feed Mill had ginned 383 bales of cotton, Manager J. L. Thornton said. The figures are running behind those of last year, he said, due to the government's cotton reduction program which removed a large part of the planted acreage from production.

Thornton estimates that the heavy season will last about three more weeks, that the gin will process between 600 and 700 bales of cotton as compared to 800 last season. Had the cotton reduction program not been carried out he estimated that around 1,500 bales would have been brought to Cisco for ginning. He also said that the condition of the Leary road is causing at least 200 bales, normally to be brought here, to be taken elsewhere.

FORD PLANTS BEING PUT ON 40-HR. WEEK

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 28.—Henry Ford is quietly putting his nationwide industrial empire back on a five-day, 40-hour week so his employees can make a living wage, the United Press learned today.

Ford had ordered a 32-hour week for a six-week period, intending to go back to the 40-hour week later and thus average 35 hours weekly to conform with the automobile code which he has refused to sign.

He discovered, however, that thousands of workers were able to earn only $16 a week under the 32-hour schedule, despite recent wage increases. The manufacturer intends to conform to the automobile code by closing his factories two or three days every four months, it was learned. He is still determined to abide by the terms of the code.

3.2 PER CENT WINE RULED TO BE LEGAL

(Special to the News)
AUSTIN, Sept. 28.—Wines of 3.2 alcoholic content or less legally may be sold in Texas, Att.-Gen. James V. Allred's department has ruled.

They will be sold, after Wednesday, it was announced by persons interested in the business. However, it was found the state, in levying a $1.50 per barrel tax on beer, had failed to put any tax whatever on wine.

Members of the Texas senate announced their idea is that a tax of $3 per barrel on wine would be just. The question of adding this tax, or amending the beer law, has not been submitted by Gov. Ferguson so far.

People interested in the wine business said beverages bearing old familiar wine names, such as Muscatel, and champagne of the extremely low potency, will go on sale generally in the state before the end of the week.

The 3.2 law originally was designed to license only the sale of beer, but a ruling by First Ass't. Att.-Gen. Elbert Hooper ruled that vinous beverages likewise were legalized by it.

Believe Killing of Cafe Man Reprisal

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 28.—Walter Manion, 47, was shot to death here today in what police said was a "reprisal killing." Two newsmen told officers they saw a man shoot Manion on through the head a block from the victim's cafe and run. Discovery of $18 on Manion's person led to the theory that revenge rather than a robbery was the motive.

RIOTS AND DISORDERS FOLLOW STRIKES

(By United Press)
Strikes of coal miners, steel workers and automobile laborers spread through eastern states and the mid-west today, culminating in disorders and rioting, and in India the mobilizing of the national guard.

Wage and hour demands were the cause of most of the strikes.

Several thousand coal miners in western Pennsylvania tied up every shaft in six counties and forced the shut-downs of many mines in four others. Three plants of the West-iron Steel company in West Virginia and Ohio were closed with 15,000 men on strike.

Every mine of the H. C. Frick company, a subsidiary of the United States Steel, has been shut down since four days before the NRA code was to have become effective. Still other strikes are in existence.

New Clues Followed In Indiana Hunt

VALPARAISO, Ind., Sept. 28.—New clues from an ex-convict today sent possemen across farm lands in woods in renewed search for 10 prisoners who slugged their way out of the Indiana state prison.

The ex-convict, whose name was carefully guarded because of reprisals, conferred with a captain of the Indiana state police and the Porter county sheriff.

He had given them information regarding a hideaway of the escaped men who fled the prison Tuesday.

MAN CHARGED WITH HOLDUP IS TAKEN HERE

Unclothed and in bed in a local hotel, man named in complaints as Theodore Gregory Watts, about 25, was arrested last night for Breckenridge officers on charges of robbery with firearms and theft of an automobile. Watts is accused of having held up T. M. Booker, Gulf company employe at Breckenridge, last night, and forcing Booker to drive him six miles south of the city where Booker claimed he was knocked in the head, robbed and left unconscious on the side of the highway as his attacker drove off in the automobile.

A model A Ford coupe which Watts was alleged to have stolen from Booker was found wrecked in a ditch on Highway 1 just east of Cisco this morning. It had been stripped, presumably by thieves who discovered the machine after the driver had abandoned it. A rifle which Booker told Breckenridge officers had been in the car, was recovered from a Cisco man who had purchased it for $4. Neither pistol nor money was found in the machine or in the possession of Watts when he was arrested by Cisco officers.

Watts submitted to arrest with denials of the charges against him. Breckenridge authorities came for him at 3 o'clock this morning and took him back to that city.

According to Booker's story to officers at Breckenridge, he had parked his car in the Breckenridge business district yesterday afternoon when a man got into the machine with him and thrust a gun violently in his ribs, ordering him to drive off. He said he was forced to drive six miles south of Breckenridge on highway 67 where he was struck on the head and robbed of $23.20. When he recovered, he told officers, he had been pushed out of the machine near a gas booster station where he obtained help and was driven back to Breckenridge.

Chief of Police Kelley, of Breckenridge, said that Watts admitted to him he was an ex-convict with a term in his credit in San Quentin prison, California. The wrecked car was brought to a local garage this morning.

190 Cotton Checks Have Been Received

One hundred and ninety cotton bonus checks have been received so far for farmers in Eastland county who carried out contracts to reduce production under the government mid-summer program. This is about one-fifth of the number to be received. Another batch is expected momentarily.

When a batch of checks arrives, said County Agent J. C. Patterson, through whom the government pays the farmers, all for whom checks are included are immediately notified. "There is no necessity for the farmer due a check, to go to the trouble contacting me," he said. "Each will be notified as soon as his check arrives."

ENDANGERED CROPS

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 28.—Deer are so plentiful in Pennsylvania that they are seriously damaging farm crops in many sections. In one month farmers were forced to shoot 120 to protect growing crops. Practically all of the deer were retained by the farmers for food.

STOLE DENTAL GOLD

BALTIMORE, Sept. 28.—Unidentified Baltimore thieves apparently have been having trouble with their teeth. Using duplicate keys, they broke into offices in the Medical Arts building here and stole $168 worth of gold crowns and old gold bridge work.

MAY "BOARD AROUND"

CLAZO, O., Sept. 28.—The old frontier custom of "boarding around" teachers, may be revived in this county this fall. With the school boards lacking funds to pay teachers, residents have offered to provide room and board for teachers until sufficient funds are available for regular salaries.

RAZOR 100 YEARS OLD

WINSLOW, Ark., Sept. 28.—John Turner still uses a razor over 100 years old. The article was purchased by his great-grandfather and has been carried by the family through the Revolutionary war, War of 1812, Indian, and Civil wars.

THE GIRL IN THE KELLY CASE--- SHE TIPPED OFF GOV'T AGENTS

Geraldine Arnold, 12-year-old girl, who gave the tip that led officers to the Memphis, Tenn., hideout of George (Machine Gun) Kelly and Mrs. Katherine Kelly. The child has been hidden away by government officers, fearing reprisals by underworld associates of the Kellys.

Geraldine Arnold, 12-year-old girl, who gave the tip that led officers to the Memphis, Tenn., hideout of George (Machine Gun) Kelly and Mrs. Katherine Kelly. The child has been hidden away by government officers, fearing reprisals by underworld associates of the Kellys.

Jim Invites Critics To File Affidavits

AUSTIN, Sept. 28.—Former Gov. James E. Ferguson in today's issue of the Ferguson Forum replied to testimonies about his bank deposits given before the senate committee investigating relief funds.

He called on the senate to finish its relief inquiry without "side bar" matters and said if anyone then wants to make a charge against him personally "let them stick their names on an affidavit."

"Francis in the failure of their attack upon the present relief commission," Ferguson said, "they now seek to bring my personal and private matters into the record."

Rotary Club Has Round Table Talk

A round table discussion of what the club should do to improve its service to Cisco was engaged in by the Rotary club at its luncheon today noon. The discussion was led by J. J. Collins, who made suggestions prompted by what he had heard and seen at the convention of Rotary International at Boston, Mass., last summer.

Inspection of Sweet Potatoes Under Way

W. P. Sewell, of the state department of agriculture, is in Eastland county inspecting sweet potatoes in the field for certification. Here yesterday, he will remain today and tomorrow, County Agent J. C. Patterson said. Patterson said that growers, wishing this inspection service, should notify Mr. Sewell through himself at once. Friday is the final day that it may be obtained.

SQUADRON OF 15 WAITS FOR GOV'T ORDERS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 28.—A squadron of 15 fighting planes that will surround the transport ship carrying George (Machine Gun) Kelly to Oklahoma City, were assembled and tuned up today, ready to take off immediately upon receipt of orders from Washington.

Elaborate plans of secrecy for the flight were being made to prevent a duplication of the Kansas City massacre where five men were killed in an effort to deliver the prisoner. John Keith, special agent of the bureau of investigation said the order may be expected soon to take the confessed kidnaper of Charles F. Urschel to Oklahoma to stand trial for the abduction.

JURY TOLD U. S. GOVT IS ON TRIAL

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 28.—The Urschel kidnaping jury was told today to decide whether the people of the United States shall have a government of law and order or "abdicating in favor of machine gun gangsters."

Only for 22-year-old Armon Shannon, Texas farm boy defendant, did the government recommend mercy. Notorious Harvey Bailey, Albert Bates and the other accused were condemned in unmincing manner. Asst. U. S. Atty.-Gen. Joseph Keenan demanded conviction of "each and every one of the nine men and one woman" on trial in the $200,000 ransom plot.

But, he told the jury that "my own advice would be to let young Shannon go." He suggested that the jury might find Armon guilty and leave the question of a sentence to Federal Judge Edgar Vaughn.

The fate of all will go to the jury some time tomorrow with life sentences for each possible. "The government of the United States stands on trial here today for its life," Keenan told the jury. "These defendants have challenged the government's power to protect its citizens. We had better frankly turn its control over to the Kellys, Baileys and the others, pay tribute to them through justly distributed taxes and admit the failure of our present form of government unless we combat this evil."

FIVE MORE KIDNAP SUSPECTS ARRESTED

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 28.—Riot squads raided a private sanitarium today and arrested five persons sought as suspects in the kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel and John (Jake the Barber) Factor. The principal quarry of the police and federal agents, however, Wilbur Underhill escaped convict was not among those taken into custody.

FEAR TAMPICO STORM HAVOC STILL GREATER

TAMPICO, Mexico, Sept. 28.—Bodies floating down the Panuco and Tamesi rivers, and reports that hundreds were marooned upstream, caused fear today that the havoc from Sunday's hurricane would be much greater than now known.

The United Press correspondent, standing on the bank of the Panuco river, saw 20 bodies float past with, in a short time. The stream still was rising rapidly. Floods were reported in five states.

On islands formed when the rivers swirled over their banks many persons were known to have isolated since Sunday without food. With much of Tampico still under water, 125 bodies had been recovered and search was still going on.

25 YEARS OLD

HUMBOLDT, Ia., Sept. 28.—An electric light bulb placed in the dining room of the home of Mrs. J. H. Savage 25 years ago still is in use. Mrs. Savage stated the bulb is just as efficient as the day it was installed.

RELIEF SQUABBLES.

A one-minute speech of Sen. Margie Neal in the senate this week showed the relief investigation had got just where it inevitably was headed, to a point where partisans of one set of politicians were trying to discredit the record of another set in defense of its own.

"I'm sick of hearing about Sterling testimony and Ferguson testimony," Sen. Neal exclaimed.

But while it was obvious that two groups of senators themselves would develop testimony favorable to two administrators, and seek to cross-examine witnesses to tear down favorable testimony to the other, it has been conspicuous that testimony seeking to discredit volunteer local agencies and the three regional chambers of commerce was brought out primarily through Lawrence Westbrook, present relief director. Westbrook's job is to administer relief according to law, so long as the law puts this function in his hands and leaves it there. His task before the senate is to relate facts of what he has done in relief work. It is essentially unfair that he should be drawn, by any group of senators into the politics of a defense of his superiors — the present board and the present governor — or an attack upon any other administration or policy.

Politics is essentially involved in the whole question of relief, and logically the senate has inquired into political implications all along the line. There have been sharply conflicting statements in the testimony, such as the Rev. Gibson's report of one per cent costs in Galveston county, and Director Westbrook's testimony that his auditor's report shows over 10 per cent costs for the same period under the Rev. Gibson's administration. Probably it would be well to try to refine all this testimony down to essential facts; but after all, what the legislature is trying to do is to determine what kind of an agency it will use in distributing future bond funds and federal relief funds, and what form of organization will best and most economically function. The senate will be a long time in determining this in recriminations and cross-examinations about what somebody said about what somebody did during any past transactions that have no bearing on future policy.

ARE WE SO PROGRESSIVE?

All principal European nations — which we somehow come to regard as backward and reactionary in respect to their masses of people — have for over half a century engaged in building up government-sponsored systems of accident insurance, unemployment insurance, sickness or disability insurance and old-age or retirement funds. By contrast, the recent democratic national administration seems to be the first in American history that has even thought of such social progress. Lack of such a system at least of employment insurance and retirement funds, has thrown many thousands of American families upon the relief rolls, and has caused untold suffering to those and to others.

Some nations have built up these systems without government contributions, through requiring that employers and employees should contribute to the funds, or that part of the wages of employees would be stored into the funds. Others have added government contributions to match the savings in these forms of the lower-paid workers. Meantime, the United States has stood by and done nothing toward the salvage of its workers, as they drift out of employment through disability or old age, and thus has laid the foundations for its own present troubles with respect to relief. We are 75 years behind England, France, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Sweden, Norway, Denmark. Our government was created to foster, preserve, protect and advance its people in life,

One Job Where the Hours Aren't Getting Any Shorter

liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Just now, its failure in one of the great essentials of protecting the welfare and happiness of its people is so obvious that it may result in some sort of start toward the remedy.

JOB SUPPLY.

It seems that all the relief, works and employment setups in Texas should have, of themselves, substantially cut down the unemployment problem of the state. Just now, Byron Mitchell, federal re-employment director, has testified his organization has men in practically all the larger counties, with a payroll of $7,000 a month from the national relief organization. He pointed out this $7,000 payroll comes out of relief funds, but not out of the amount of relief allotted to Texas. It does not appear in the relief administration costs, which were $138,000 in August. Besides this, Mr. Mitchell has nine workers, including himself, in Texas, who are paid by the U. S. department of labor.

It was shown the relief administration has over 1,400 workers, paid out of the administrative budget of federal relief; numbers paid out of the state administrative fund; and an indefinite number of persons on the relief rolls employed in relief administrative offices. The public works administration, the parks service, the reforestation corps and its civilian conservation camps, and all the other administrative bodies altogether have absorbed several thousand people, over and above those on relief rolls. And public works projects, when they get into operation, not only will put a good many hundreds of laborers to work, but will provide the first opportunity of four years for scores of highly-trained people, such as engineers, architects, supervisors, accountants to have work.

Through the Editor's Spectacles

Joe Meador, until recently with the X-Ray Barber shop, has joined forces with Sam Key in the ownership of the Elite Beauty and Barber shop, three blocks further up D avenue.

Said Joe to Joe Burman between customers the other day. "You know, there's lots of people up here. I didn't know there were so many. I see people I used to see down at the X-Ray."

Joe didn't crack a smile until Joe did.

J. B. Cate claims half interest in the radio that Henry Drumwright recently presented the fire department. He hears more than that of it.

The Cisco Lobos Saturday are going to San Angelo to meet the San Angelo Bobcats, class A team, in an inter-district, non-conference contest. The boys will need a great deal of encouragement. Playing on a strange field was never conducive to cool-headedness on the part of young players. The trip will do the team a world of good. The Lobos are due to get a lot of experience in a hurry in the Tom Green capital. The Bobcats have always managed to give the Lobos plenty for their money.

A couple of weeks hence the team goes to Pampa to take on the Harvesters. The Pampa eleven has gained a reputation for being tough and there is where the Cisco team stands to get another baptism of experience. By the time the conference opener with Brownwood arrives they should be veterans.

The point I'm trying to make here is that you folks should go with the boys to San Angelo next Saturday. They may forget that Cisco even exists if you don't.

Hundreds of dollars a week go out of Cisco in the form of money orders to business concerns in other cities. This is but a small part of the total, most of which is remitted in the form of checks and drafts, etc. The merchants who are losing this business to their competitors in other cities should figure what this means a year, what it means in loss of local circulation and consequent loss of business volume. The multiplication of the sum for the year does not give individual has his own affairs to take care of.

"Experience has proved that an organization composed of all the business men to act on behalf and for the general interests of all brings results.

"Its membership should be as large as the intent and purpose of such a body is to add to the profit and prosperity of all.

"Chambers of commerce are business bodies and they will, when properly conducted and supported, increase the gross business of a city.

"In order to make a city greater and to increase the prosperity of a community, every citizen should support this organization in proportion to his means.

"In union there is strength and a union of all the people of a city in a work for the entire community always proves most profitable.

"The business man who refuses to contribute his small mite of time and money to carry on this work which benefits him is indeed a sorry apology for a man."

OAKLAND, Cal., Sept. 28 — Mrs. Evelyn Stearns blames the installment plan for wrecking her romance with Robert Stearns. She sued for divorce when her wedding ring was repossessed.

For the LOVE of EVE by Lucy Walling

BEGIN HERE TODAY

EVE HAYLESS, pretty assistant to EARLE BARNES, advertising manager of Hixby's department store, married DICK RADER, a construction superintendent. Dick is sent to take charge of a construction job in the Adirondacks. It will require at least a year to complete but Eve refuses to go with him.

MONA ALLEN, copy writer, dislikes Eve and is constantly causing trouble at the office. She is responsible for several mistakes for which Eve is blamed. Unknown to Dick Eve has been playing the stock market, borrowing money from her mother and sister. She loses this, as well as all her own savings and $400 Dick left in the bank.

Following a misunderstanding at Christmas, weeks pass in which Eve does not hear from Dick. She is too stubborn to admit that she was in the wrong and apologizes. Eve works harder at the office, trying to forget her troubles. Her mother comes to visit her and tries to persuade her to give up her job. Then Eve learns that Barnes, the advertising manager, is resigning and that she has been selected to take his place.

On a doctor's advice she takes her vacation early and decides to go to Pine Forest to see Dick. Eve feels they must arrive at some understanding about their future.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

DICK was not at the boarding house when Eve arrived there. A servant answered the bell and invited Eve into the living room to wait for him. A moment later Mrs. Williams entered. Her blue eyes looked kindly and she settled herself for a chat but Eve neither disclosed the purpose of her visit or asked questions about Dick.

Presently Mrs. Williams excused herself and returned to the kitchen. Eve grew nervous and restless. Then she saw Dick's yellow roadster coming around the bend of the road. She sat stock-still. Dick stopped the car before the door and his companion — an attractive girl — stepped out, entered the house and passed down the center hall.

Dick drove on but soon reappeared. A moment later he stood in the great arched doorway of the hall, staring at Eve.

"Why, Eve!" he cried. Plainly he was embarrassed and Eve immediately thought of the girl who had been with him.

"Well, this is a surprise!" Dick was saying.

Eve's composure left her. She began to cry and this only increased Dick's embarrassment.

"Not here," he said. "Come up to my room." He led the way to a large upstairs bedroom.

"You don't seem very pleased to see me," she said in a trembling voice.

"I'm surprised, that's all."

"Well, you may as well know I saw you with your girl friend," she said accusingly. "I'm sorry now that I came."

Dick laughed. "You needn't be," he said easily. "I was out at the job this morning and picked her up on the way back. She's one of the teachers who live here and she was walking home from church. It wouldn't have been very polite to pass her by, would it?"

"It looked odd to me."

"See here!" Dick said hotly. "I'll not be put on the defensive just for giving a person a lift."

"Oh, Dick — we're quarrelling again and I didn't want to."

He turned away from her and looked out the window.

"Dick," Eve began timidly. He half-turned. "Dick, I was so lonely!" she added wistfully. He turned and she was in his arms.

EVE found the little town of Pine Forest enchanting. It had been settled by enterprising sons and daughters of New England pioneers, hence its architecture was strictly colonial.

In the afternoon Dick took Eve for a drive into the woodland. The unpaved road wound in and out among the trees, downhill and up, until they came to a clearing high above a lake. Below them the water, blue-black from the dense shadows, resembled a huge mirror, banked by foliage. Eve stood entranced and Dick's arm gently slipped about her.

"Like it, sweetheart," he asked.

"It's heavenly," she answered softly.

That night she slept more soundly than she had slept for months and awakened refreshed and eager for the new day.

They took more trips into the woods in the days that followed. "To think," Eve said one evening, "that you have been enjoying all this while I've been cooped up in an office worrying about petty jealousies and having general grief!"

"You didn't have to, you know," Dick reminded her. "And you needn't go back."

"Oh, but I'm going!" she said, instantly regretting her outburst.

DICK had often spoken of his Aunt Sophronia and he had promised to take Eve to see her some day. Since Aunt Sophronia's home was not far distant they set out early Saturday morning and drove south through the mountains and foothills into the Cherry Valley.

They followed the turnpike over rolling farm country until they came to a little village nestled among the hills.

They drove into the yard before a small colonial cottage and parked the car. Then Dick pulled the old-fashioned bell and set its ring pealing through the house.

A tall, wiry woman dressed in tight-fitting black greeted them.

"We are Aunt Sophronia's niece and nephew," Dick announced.

From an inner room a commanding voice called, "Send 'em in, Hannah! Send 'em in!"

Sophonra Rader greeted her nephew affectionately, then turned to peer at Eve who went forward and graciously extended her hand.

"This is Eve, my wife," said Dick. Aunt Sophronia and Eve became friends immediately. Eve's heart warmed to the aged woman who had broken a hip at the age of 80 and lived to continue her cheerful philosophy.

Looking about the room Eve's eyes brightened and she cried out, "Dick, look at that lovely whatnot — with spool turnings, too!"

"Aunt Sophronia glanced around. "Humph — that old thing!" she said. "Why I've had it for 60 years. Neighbor gave it to me for helping her when she was sick. If you like it you can have it."

"Why, you darling!" Eve said and kissed her.

"So you like antiques, eh?" Aunt Sophronia said. "Well, I'm tired of them. Lived with them all my life. I like newfangled things better. But I have something I want to show you and if you like it you can have it too. It's old but it's right prett. Hannah!" she called.

FINALLY Hannah responded. "Go into my room and bring the upper drawer of the highboy to me," Sophronia said briskly. Hannah came back lugging the mahogany drawer. Dick rose to help and they set it on a chair before the aunt. The fragrance of violets rose from its depths as the white-haired lady tenderly lifted delicate linens and bits of lace.

"There!" she said triumphantly when she had found what she sought. "I made this when I was only 16. It's a bedspread with two pillow shams."

They laid the spider-web lace over a mahogany table and Eve cried aloud. "Oh, it's too beautiful and too delicate for a bedspread! It should be used for a table cover. It's just too beautiful! But are you sure you want me to have it?"

"Yes," said Aunt Sophronia. "I've been saving it for Dick. I wasn't quite sure, though, what kind of a wife he'd pick. You know some of these young folks only appreciate what comes from a department store."

"Oh, I love it!" Eve assured her. "Well, at last I'll see it in use," said Aunt Sophronia. "Now that you have come to settle in these parts maybe I'll get up there for a little visit."

"We'd love to have you," Dick interposed hastily, "but you see I live at a boarding house and Eve is just spending her vacation with me."

Eve blushed before the steady gaze of Aunt Sophronia.

Finally the old lady said quite candidly, "What's the matter? Ain't your husband earning enough?"

All the way home Eve was silent. Dick had announced so casually that she was there for only two weeks. She was going back of course but she wanted him to show concern about it. Was he tired of her already? Eve pondered thus as they rode along through the sweet-smelling spring countryside. She was uncomfortable and ill at ease.

THE TRUTH ABOUT ICE!

DID YOU KNOW that ice you are paying 60 cents per hundred for in Cisco is being hauled 40 miles and more to Santo, Gordon, Mingus and other towns east of Cisco, and sold for one-third the price you are now paying locally. Your local company hauls ice to dealers they have appointed, furnish them the boxes, sell them the ice at 10 cts. per hundred, delivered, they then sell it at 20 cents retail.

We haul our ice from Thurber, Texas, and because the plant we get our ice from continues to let us have their ice, hence the low priced ice going into that territory from Cisco.

There have been numerous reports out — that we have quit business, and that we are selling third grade ice. There is no such ice made; there being only clear ice, number one grade, and white ice number two grade and we handle only clear ice. And we have not quit business, but our business is growing each day.

We have several affidavits duly sworn to as to the above statements, and can be seen at our plant room on Broadway.

We are in the ice business; we built our building for this purpose, and will continue to sell you the best grade of ice that money can buy, at 40 cents per hundred pounds. When we close or quit business we will notify you through the papers. Our help are all grown men, with dependents and we employ no school children.

We will handle ice through the winter months, and hope to be able to deliver to your home by next spring. We appreciate your patronage, and trust that you will show this to your friends.

44 Per Cent Drop In Cement Output

AUSTIN, Sept. 28 - Portland cement mills in Texas produced 153,000 barrels of cement during August, a decline of 44 per cent from the 274,000 barrels produced in July and 83 per cent from the 325,000 barrels produced in August, 1932, according to the University of Texas bureau of business research.

Although shipments amounted to 198,000 barrels and exceeded production by a considerable margin, they were 17 per cent below those of July 1933, and 49 per cent below those of August last year, the report said.

Therefore stocks decreased only 6 per cent, from 765,000 barrels in July to 719,000 barrels in August, 1933, and were 19 per cent above the 605,000 barrels of August last year.

Production of Portland cement in the United States showed a much smaller decline, decreasing from 8,609,000 barrels in July to 8,223,000 barrels in August and only 5 per cent above the 7,835,000 barrels produced in August, 1932. Shipments, however, totaled 5,994,000 barrels, a decline of 31 per cent from the shipments in July and 45 per cent from those of August, last year.

Abnormal Trends in Livestock Industry Have More Than Ordinary Significance

AUSTIN, Sept. 28.—With the recent developments in governmental control of agricultural industries, the abnormal trends in the livestock industry are assuming more than ordinary significance, and unusual interest attaches itself to the monthly report and analysis of the University of Texas bureau of business research, prepared by Dr. F. A. Buechel, statistician and assistant director of the bureau.

were shipped out, whereas ordinarily the reverse is true. Extreme Drouth. "Part of the abnormalities of the current August livestock movements may be accounted for by the extreme drouth which prevailed in a number of large livestock sections of the state, which greatly reduced the supply of feed and conditions of range and pasture. The sharp rise in the prices of feed without a corresponding increase in price of livestock made it necessary to market the animals as rapidly as possible.

carrying on for several years. The disparity between feed and livestock prices presents a much greater problem in Texas where there is a greater range of alternative opportunities for farmers and where livestock feeding have not yet become definitely established in a large way, than in the corn belt where there is a more limited choice of profitable enterprises and where livestock enterprises have been long established.

"These considerations have an important bearing upon such industries as meat packing, dairy manufacturing, and poultry shipping and dressing plants which are based upon the development of livestock enterprises. In these fields there is an urgent need for expansion, and therefore unusual effort must now be made to counteract the forces now operating which tend to retard these developments."

Texas Topics By RAYMOND BROOKS

By RAYMOND BROOKS AUSTIN, Sept. 28.—Supporters of Rep. J. B. They said Mr. Ford has about 60 signed pledges of support among the present members. Ordinarily one-half the members come back, though this time only about 70 of the 150 were returned.

BROTHER WILL SUCCEED LATE COLLEGE HEAD

Acceptance Tuesday morning by Dr. David F. Tyndall, Savannah, Ga., of the presidency of Randolph college removed all doubt that the institution would proceed upon the ambitious program mapped out for it by the late brother of the new president, Dr. John W. Tyndall, whose tragic death in a highway accident near Allus, Oklahoma, September 4, was one of the severest blows the institution has sustained.

Dr. Tyndall, who will also serve temporarily as pastor of the First Christian church here, was elected by the board of trustees of the college yesterday. He made known his acceptance of the place in a public statement at chapel exercises this morning, after which he met students, faculty members and friends of the school at an informal reception.

"Every person who went by me pledged 100 per cent loyalty and cooperation," he said.

Pastor 8 Years.

The new president, who will move his family to Cisco and assume his duties with the school after about a month, leaves the pastorate of one of the larger churches of the denomination to take the place of his late brother. He has been pastor of the Savannah, Ga., Second Christian church for eight successive years.

Somewhat younger than his late brother, Dr. David Tyndall is himself a noted Bible scholar and a teacher of experience. He has the degree of doctor of sacred theology and will have charge of the Bible department of Randolph as Dr. John Tyndall did.

The new president was drawn to Cisco by a desire to carry out the ideas of his brother in regard to the local school, and the program that was mapped out by Dr. John W. Tyndall will be generally followed under the new leadership, it was announced.

Unanimous Approval.

"We feel," said college authorities this morning, "that a very auspicious choice has been made in the selection of a president who will not only reflect credit upon the institution, but who has ties that will enable him to carry on the interrupted program in the same ideals and spirit of his brother. There never was a more generally approved choice of a leader than the selection of Dr. David Tyndall."

Mrs. John W. Tyndall, widow of the late president of the school, remains in Cisco where she is giving full cooperation to the college program, and assisting in working out the plans that her husband had in mind for the college.

The new president is not a stranger to Cisco. He visited his brother here for several weeks during the summer and preached a number of times in the First Christian church. He and Mrs. Tyndall have one daughter, Hortez, a senior in high school this year.

He has been here for several days and will leave tonight or tomorrow for Georgia to make arrangements for moving his home to Cisco.

The board met yesterday morning at 8 o'clock and yesterday afternoon at 2.

HOUSTON MAN NAMED LABOR CONCILIATOR

HOUSTON, Sept. 28. — Any labor difficulties arising in Texas and other parts of the southwest will be dealt with by Joseph B. Myers, organizer of the labor department of Texas.

Myers, a former Harris county assistant district attorney, has been appointed regional labor conciliator by President Roosevelt. Headquarters will be in this city, presumably.

He was commissioned in 1929 by Gov. Campbell to organize an efficient department of labor for Texas. After serving as commissioner for a time, he resigned to accept from President Wilson a position similar to the one to which he was named by Mr. Roosevelt.

He served as southwestern labor conciliator throughout the Wilson administration, resigning just before the inauguration of President Harding to resume the state position under Gov. Pat. M. Neff.

During the administration of O'Brien Steven as Harris county district attorney Myers served as assistant in charge of civil cases.

A long list of labor difficulties successfully ended by Myers, recorded by the federal department of labor, includes:

Strike, employes American Smelting and Refining company, Hayden, Ariz., controversy, Texas and Pacific Railway and its clerical force; strike zinc smelters, Van Buren, Ark.; strike, Gulf Refining company employes, Port Arthur, Texas; strike, policemen, Tulsa, Okla.; strike, boilermakers, Magnolia Petroleum company, Beaumont, Tex.; strike, longshoremen, Port Arthur, Texas; strike, street car employes, New Orleans, La.; strike, butchers, San Antonio; strike, oil field employes, Boyton, Okla.; strike, laundry workers, Fort Worth; strike, metal crafts, Beaumont; strike, building crafts, Dallas; strike, packing house employes, Fort Worth.

Health Officer Scouts "Racketeers"

AUSTIN, Sept. 28. — In speaking of health racketeers, Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer, said, "There is no milder method of hitting below the belt than by holding out false promises to incurables. This fact, however, does not in the least deter the unscrupulous who thirst heartily prey upon thousands of unfortunate who are in a hopeless stage of illness. Thousands of dollars are extracted annually from individuals whose conditions direct their hopes to the promises made by the super-scientific gentry who claim to have beaten the untiring researchers of endowed laboratories to cures for cancer, diabetes, tuberculosis, epilepsy, pellagra, and other serious conditions."

"Unfortunately, it is words rather than deeds that creates the miracle. A miracle which, instead of being related to a cure, is entirely associated with the transfer of large sums of money from innocent persons to those whose only interest in health and health matters stops at the cash register."

"It is the sad and killing fact that in addition to the incurables, there are thousands of believing persons who become victims of this type of racketeer, and thus through self-diagnosis and self-treatment, postpone a real investigation of their ailments until the incurable stage is reached."

"Two main rules should be followed in this connection. The first is to have an annual physical examination by a reputable physician. In this way incipient conditions can be discovered and by proper treatment the disease can frequently be conquered. The second rule is to mistrust all high promising statements of 'amazing discoveries.'"

Purchasers Urged to Buy Before Advance

With an advance in price only a few days away, prospective purchasers of General Electric refrigerators and appliances were urged to buy at once by Henry Drumwright, manager of John H. Garner's department store, agent for the refrigerators.

Prices on these units will advance October 1, said Mr. Drumwright. "Those who plan to obtain refrigerators within a short while should buy them immediately in order to take advantage of the cheaper price now prevailing. There will be a general advance in list prices October 1, which is only a week away."

FARROT GAVE ALARM BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 28

When a rubbish fire spread to a shed, a parrot, owned by Frank Leone, spread the alarm. Polly, hung out in its cage for an airing, set up such a commotion when the fire spread that Leone rushed out to see what was wrong. He reported the fire and moved Polly to a safer place.

BREAK RECORD HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 28

Pennsylvania's own dairy herd has produced a new record — the 35 cows owned by the state each having produced in excess of 100,000 quarts of milk. The state is keeping a lifetime production record on the animals.

NEW BUSINESS IS LAID BEFORE TEXAS SOLONS

AUSTIN, Sept. 28. — Twenty-two new bills and a resolution were sent to the Texas legislature Wednesday by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson. With them fell the hope that the special session, convened on Sept. 14, will be ended in its 30 days.

"Here till Christmas," said some of the members.

ELEVEN NEW TOPICS MONDAY

AUSTIN, Sept. 28. — Eleven new topics were submitted to the state legislature by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson Monday. Bills already drafted by members on many of the subjects were attached.

The bills were received by the house of representatives a few moments after the house had voted against a resolution to adjourn a week from Tuesday.

In addition the governor has promised to submit a bill to regulate the distribution of machine guns.

Among the bills submitted Monday was one for cooperation in the national recovery program by limiting the hours of work of state employees, and one for amendment of the cigarette law to continue payment of two per cent of collections for enforcement work. The old act suspends such payment in 1934.

ANTI-MACHINE GUN BILL IS SUBMITTED

AUSTIN, Sept. 28. — Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson Wednesday afternoon submitted to the Texas legislature a bill to prohibit sale or lease of machine guns or sub-machine guns to persons other than law enforcement officers.

In contrast to a reported average in excess of six per cent for most counties in Texas, administration of RFC unemployment relief in Eastland county since its inception has been only 3.02 per cent, according to a detailed report issued Saturday under signatures of F. E. Harrell, county paying officer; W. W. Gilbert, county administrator, and A. A. Berg, bookkeeper.

The county received to August 31, 1933, a total of $125,360.04, the report shows, which has been administered at a total cost of $3,843.22, or 3.02 per cent.

The report also reveals that more relief was handled out of the Cisco office at less expense than out of any other of the larger offices. Twenty-five per cent of the entire receipts were distributed from here at a total cost of $599.55, the tabulation shows. A larger per cent of the county population is served out of Cisco.

Of the administrative expense now incurred the county pays $275 per month is chargeable to salaries. There are three paid employes on the county staff. They are W. W. Gilbert, county administrator; W. I. Allison, investigator, and A. A. Berg, bookkeeper. The former is paid a salary of $125 per month and the latter two salaries of $75.

Incidental expenses of $125 per month have been authorized, making the total cost of the upkeep of the county relief organization $400, if all the allotment for incidentals is used. This fund is to take care of stationery, postage, express, telephone and telegraph for all of the county towns participating and in the county office, the committee explained.

BIGGEST LEGION MEETING SINCE WAR PLANNED

By HARRISON SALISBURY United Press Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Sept. 28. — Men who 15 years ago were fighting on the war-torn battle front of France meet in Chicago, Oct. 2, for what is expected to be the greatest American Legion convention ever held.

It marks one of the mightiest assemblages of war veterans the nation has seen. President Franklin D. Roosevelt, himself, is the legion's most distinguished guest.

More than 150,000 veterans are expected to jam the city, attracted by the central location of the convention and a Century of Progress exposition. Another hundred thousand and people will come as friends, relatives and spectators.

The unofficial opening will come Sept. 30, when legionnaires gather to watch the Big Ten football game between Iowa and Northwestern at Soldier Field. Governors Clyde L. Herring of Iowa and Henry Horner of Illinois will be present.

On Sunday, Oct. 1, memorial services to men slain in war and veterans who since have died will be conducted.

The convention proper opens Oct. 2 in the Chicago stadium on the west side where the democratic and republican national conventions were held last year. Here, where he was nominated for the presidency and where he ended his dramatic flight to make his speech of acceptance, President Roosevelt will address the veterans.

For many, the most thrilling event comes Oct. 3, when the Legion marches in parade.

It will be a mighty event — 133,000 men marching, 16 abreast. It will take 10 1-2 hours to pass a given point.

Business Sessions

Principal business sessions occupy Oct. 4 and 5. Questions of veterans legislation, national defense, internal policies, and resolutions will be discussed Oct. 4. On Oct. 5 the Legion will elect its new officers and complete the business duties.

Miami, Fla., is expected to be chosen for the next encampment, and Los Angeles, Cal., also has entered a bid.

Ed Hayes, Deatur, Ill., national committeeman and vice-chairman of the national Legion committee on rehabilitation, is leading other candidates for the post of national commander to succeed Louis A. Johnson. Concurrent with the American Legion convention three other gatherings will be held. These are of the American Legion Auxiliary, the Society of 40 and 8, and their auxiliary — the 8 and 40 society.

Texas Building Suffers Reaction

AUSTIN, Sept. 28. — Building in Texas suffered a severe reaction in August, declining 54 per cent from the July total and 13 per cent from the August, 1932, figure, according to the University of Texas bureau of business research. The 38 chambers of commerce submitting figures to the bureau reported permits totaling $1,156,250 in August, against $2,507,969 in July and $1,331,812 in August, 1932.

Much of the sharp slump from July is attributable to the decline in permits issued in Houston where the total was only $235,655 in August, against $1,032,327 in July, the bureau's report said. Fourteen of the 38 cities reported increases compared with July and fifteen reported increases compared with August, 1932.

Benefit Dance for Storm Sufferers

RISING STAR, Sept. 28. — The Bishop post of the American Legion of this city will sponsor a benefit dance in the Bucy building in Rising Star Friday night Sept. 29, beginning at 8 o'clock and lasting until midnight. The purpose of the dance is to raise funds for the valley storm sufferers. Texas is behind on its quota of funds promised for relief work in the valley, and the American Legion is active throughout the state in sponsoring this movement.

The Bucy building here is the same building in which the dances were held during the Rising Star free fall fair two weeks ago. A good orchestra will furnish music.

12-Year-Old Girl Wrote "Finis" to Crime Career of "Machine Gun" Kelly

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 28. — Dark-eyed Gen. Alvin Arnold, child who helped take the menace out of George (Machine Gun) Kelly was hidden away today from the possible vengeance of Kelly's underworld associates.

The 12-year-old girl and her parents were moved suddenly from their hotel and placed under cover by the government.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 28

A 12-year-old girl wrote "finis" to the crime career of menacing George (Machine Gun) Kelly.

The fugitive Katherine Kelly used the child as a blind in her flight from the law. The little girl masqueraded as Katherine's daughter while the nation's most-hunted woman drove a truck through Texas.

Finally, when the Kelly's dismissed her at Memphis to go into hiding, the child rode 500 miles across country, alone on a train, to Oklahoma City to give the tip that captured the Kelly gang.

The fantastic, inside story of how the federal agents "nailed the Kelly crowd" was told in a copyrighted article in the Oklahoma News, which published a picture of the girl but withheld her name for "obvious reasons."

What Actually Happened

Authorities hushed up the matter and announced Mann Act charges would be filed. The trio was released. No more was said of the matter. What actually happened was this:

A week before the arrests, District Attorney Herbert K. Hyde received confidential information that Williams, whose real name is Luther Arnold, was the "contact man" for the Kelly's.

Pretty Katherine Kelly was desperately making efforts to save her mother, Mrs. Ora L. Shamm, from prosecution in the kidnaping. The Shamm farm was used, allegedly by Kelly, Albert Bates and Harvey Bailey, to hide Urschel while the $200,000 ransom was collected.

Contacts were arranged. Secret service agents shadowed Arnold. He left here and

Law of Extinct Precinct Keeps Town of Maxwell Dry Despite Vote

AUSTIN, Sept. 28. — The town of Maxwell, Caldwell county, which voted wet 67 to 3 in the Aug. 26 election, has just discovered that it still is dry, under a ruling of Atty.-Gen. James Alfred.

And it became wet only by an election in a precinct that no longer exists.

Maxwell was part of Justice Precinct 7 twenty-six years ago, when a local option election declared the precinct dry. Since then, a new precinct 1 was carved out, taking Maxwell and a small part of the old precinct 7.

Precinct 1, with Lockhart included, voted wet in the recent local option election, including the 67 to 3 vote of Maxwell. Now, it is held the transferred area still is dry, but that the Lockhart vote was sufficient to invalidate the wet local option election of the rest of the Lockhart precinct.

First Ass't. Atty.-Gen. Elbert Hooper ruled that, for Maxwell to go wet, an election must be called in the entire original area of the old precinct 7, and vote on repealing the ancient dry local election. Whether the people will pay for an election, and whether any agency can call an election in a precinct that no longer exists, and whether election officials legally can be named to canvass results in an area not in the present precinct, were questions for Caldwell county authorities to work out on their own.

Mr. Hooper said the same principle applies in all cases of changes of boundaries of subdivisions in which local option elections were held, and the repeal local option elections in all cases must be held in entire original area that voted dry.

FD AGREES ON LOAN PLAN TO BOOST COTTON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. — Cotton growers who came to Washington demanding currency inflation were sent home Saturday happy with a program that immediately raises the price of cotton, but leaves the dollar where it is.

President Roosevelt decided to advance loans of 10 cents a pound on all cotton held by farmers who promise to reduce next year's crop.

The decision automatically boomed the market, averted financial disaster for many farmers, and went far to assure success of the plan to reduce 1934 planting to 25,000,000 acres.

Sec'y of Agriculture Wallace insisted the loan program could not be compared to the disastrous cotton buying of the federal farm board during the administration of President Hoover.

HOOPER GAVE HITCH-HIKER LIFT AND STAKED HIM TO $100

PATALUMA, Cal., Sept. 28. — One of those tales revealing another trait of former President Herbert Hoover came to light here the other day.

John Wade Gordon of Memphis, Tenn., smiles happily as he tells it. "I was walking along the highway trying to hitch-hike a ride. The day was hot and I wasn't having much luck. Pretty soon a big, shiny car purred along. I didn't even bother to flag it.

"The machine roared to a sudden stop and a uniformed chauffeur got out and walked sedately up to me. 'Mr. Hoover wishes to know if you would like to ride,' he said, touching his cap."

"Mr. Hoover turned out to be the former president. We had a swell talk. He listened all the time I told him about starting out from Memphis as an automobile mechanic and how I had just 62 cents left. He smiled and joshed with me when he found he knew one of my relatives, former Governor Earl Brewer of Mississippi. He knew Senator Pat Harrison, too, who is an old friend of my mother.

"At the ferry going across the bay he bought me the first real meal I'd had in a long time. This gave me courage and I asked him if he knew of a job I might get. He smiled, put his hand in his pocket.

"When he pulled it out, there was a $100 bill in it. 'Get yourself a new suit of clothes,' he said, and put an ad in the papers. No, don't think about paying me back until you've made lots of money."

GOLD AGAIN IS ISSUE VITAL TO ENTIRE WORLD

By ELMER C. WALKER United Press Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 28. — Gold, that precious metal which has been hoarded and fought for since written records are available, is again a paramount subject of world importance.

It has taken on additional significance in the United States since President Roosevelt issued an executive order permitting gold miners to sell gold at prices prevailing in world markets. Previously they were forced to sell gold to the treasury department at the price fixed by the law of Jan. 18, 1933 — $20.67 per fine ounce. Now they can realize a premium over that figure of more than 40 per cent.

Significance of the Roosevelt order has world-wide scope. First of all, it is official recognition of a depreciated dollar. As gold rises the dollar drops in proportion. Second, it aids the gold miners; third, it is a handicap to the makers of jewelry and other users of gold, who now must pay a higher price — something

World Supply

There is $11,000,000,000 in gold in the world. It would weigh in one lump about 12,000 tons and could be carried on one ship.

A cube of gold 17 inches on each side weighs a ton.

A soup can about 3 1-2 inches in diameter by 4 1-2 inches high would contain about $10,000 in gold.

Watch Quotations

Americans eagerly watch the day-to-day quotations on gold set by the treasury department, for they reflect the world's rating of all depreciated currencies of most interest, our dollar. The treasury gold price is fixed about 10 cents under the equivalent of the London price. When gold rises, the dollar declines. When gold is at $20.67 per fine ounce, the gold dollar contains theoretically 23.22 grains of fine gold. If the gold price should double, the dollar would be worth only 50 gold cents and contain 11.61 grains of fine gold. Recently the dollar has been at a discount of more than 30 per cent, or at a value under 70 cents in terms of gold.

As gold rises and the dollar declines, the tendency of commodity prices is upward. Stocks follow, and so do bonds, to certain limits. A depreciated dollar is a result of inflation. The United States has inflated only moderately, but its leaving the gold standard had the same effect, and the dollar depreciated sharply in terms of gold and foreign currencies.

Parallels

The course of gold and the markets is closely paralleled in inflation. As a matter of fact, commodity prices as measured by the United Press daily commodity price index compiled by Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., showed but little change at the beginning of September as compared with the beginning of 1933 when calculated in gold.

Stocks and commodities rose after the banking holiday ended because they made up for dollar devaluation. The table below indicates that when the commodity and stock averages reached their highs on July 18, gold also reached its high. Then gold declined as the dollar recovered and prices of stocks and commodities declined correspondingly.

PLAN TO CUT DAIRY HERDS IS PROPOSED

FORT WORTH, Sept. 28 — A plan to reduce dairy cattle herds in Texas and the United States in an effort to stabilize the milk trade has been proposed by Dr. Lewis C. Crabb, chief veterinarian of the state livestock sanitary commission.

Crabb's proposal, forwarded to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, calls for slaughter or disposal of all diseased cattle and all cattle which do not give sufficient milk to return a profit in normal times.

"Thousands of unprofitable cows are being milked in Texas," he said. "In Texas 1,200,000 cows are required to produce 414,707,000 pounds of milk. Half that number of first class cows would give the same amount. A similar condition exists throughout the nation.

"The milk industry can be stabilized only when the surplus is absorbed. This can be accomplished if milk sold is confined to the production of cows known to be healthy and profitable producers."

5,000,000 Surplus Dr. Crabb estimated there are 5,000,000 dairy cows in the United States which should be eliminated either because of disease or due to their unprofitableness. He advocated a thorough systematic test throughout the United States of the health of cattle. This test would be carried on by the country's numerous agricultural agencies.

Farmers could be paid for the cattle taken from their hands by a processing tax on milk and milk products, similar to the tax placed on cotton and wheat products in the production of those crops, Crabb suggested.

The campaign against diseased cattle, a side from its economic benefits, would greatly aid in reducing tuberculosis in the nation, Crabb said, while the elimination of unprofitable cattle from a herd would aid every farmer.

W. W. Ridgway, Fort Worth milk administrator, joined Crabb in the recommended plan.

COMMUNITY FARM HELPS DALLAS NEEDY

DALLAS, Sept. 28 — A stone's throw from the downtown district of Dallas, a community farm venture is flourishing.

Situated in the Trinity river industrial district, which separates Dallas and its largest suburban sector, Oak Cliff, the farm of 1,000 acres offers recreation and nourishment to hundreds.

The farm is not a highbrow sociological adventure—it is simply Mrs. Jean Weil Burchfield's scheme for producing food for those not otherwise able to get it. Unusually fertile because of its proximity to the Trinity River the land has been made to produce cotton, corn, cane and vegetable products. The cotton, corn and cane provide cash with which to buy supplies for the men who tend the crops.

Mrs. Burchfield, operator of the Good Sinner's Recreation club adjacent to the fields, plans to lay out enough foodstuffs to keep her charges throughout the winter.

Work For Food "I employ those who helped me plant the crops," Mrs. Burchfield said, speaking of some 250 men picking cotton in a nearby field. "The money they make will help them to send their kids to school and buy food and other necessities."

"Funds from the crop will be used this winter in feeding these unfortunate and there will be no charge made, only that they will be expected to continue their help whenever possible in manual labor to carry on the work."

"We have more than 1,000 acres under cultivation, and everything we can raise will be used in taking care of the needy during the winter. We are building a kitchen in the rear of the Good Sinner's club where we will cook beans, corn meal and other foodstuffs raised on the farm. We will make some of our cane into syrup. We have 18 hogs that will be turned into meat for winter use."

"During the past eight months the Good Sinner's club gave away 4,096 pounds and 4,740 loaves of bread."

"We play no politics and there is no red tape connected with our work. Our job is to make people happy by filling their stomachs and keeping them busy at a gainful occupation."

Forgotten Sweetheart

by MARY RAYMOND

CHAPTER I

THE young man with the gray eyes, clean-cut profile and well-knit shoulders passed the pretty girl in Pullman 20 again.

Funny how she could still be reading the same magazine so well, so darned enthusiastically. He would have been cheated if he had known that the girl occupying the Pullman two seats in front of him was aware that he had passed to and from the observation car exactly two dozen times since they left Washington and that almost as many times she had stifled the impulse to follow.

It was plain that the observation car was interesting to the young man and just as plain that his interest was short-lived, once he reached it.

"Restless," Joan Waring decided, "and spoiled. Likes his way and generally gets it. If there were the slightest excuse, he'd be starting something right now."

She smiled into her magazine just as the occupant of Pullman 24 swung through the coach again. He noted the smile and checked it up against her. Likes silly stories. If she didn't, why in heaven's name had she sat for two days with her particularly pretty nose in a magazine and those particularly lovely eyes upon it, refusing to meet his eyes once in a while?

What could you do in a case like this? Evidently his education had been neglected for it provided no expedients for such a situation except the time-worn ones which would, he felt sure, not work with this type of girl.

He grinned as he thought of the old methods such as: "I'm out of matches. Stupid of me, but if you—" That procedure had come in after the old handkerchief plan died of old age and abuse.

Some of the fellows at school had kept a regular supply of girl's handkerchiefs which often paved the way to a number of interesting adventures. The match idea probably had been outmoded too while he was grinding away at Boston Tech. Anyway, it wouldn't work. Not with this type of girl.

JOAN WARING

companionably, "Sit down and let's talk it over."

But no—that would be just the thing she wouldn't do. She would probably think he was trying to concoct one of those silly affairs which had always disgusted him. His face grew red at the thought and he settled into his seat more comfortably, reaching for a magazine.

At the end of the half hour he gave it up because he realized that not one word was registering. He was simply mooning over an unapproachable young woman who looked as though she could be friendly and understanding and yet had maintained that consistent aloofness throughout two trying, yet strangely interesting days.

The porter had stopped and was gathering up his bags. "Coming into Memphis, boss."

"On time, are we?"

"Yessah, we're right on time." Robert Weston reached for his felt hat and overcoat, swung his scarf about his neck and moved toward the entrance. He stopped suddenly as the girl behind him came near.

"I beg your pardon."

Cheers, it had been a silly ruse, blocking the way. Probably she suspected—but it had worked. He moved aside. "Sorry," he said it abruptly, at loss to seize opportunity now that it was presented to him. Others had pressed into the narrow passage and for a moment the girl was very close to him.

He watched her later as she selected her bag from the miscellaneous assortment outside, tipped the porter and followed in the wake of the red cap. Having identified his own baggage, he hurried after her, his long strides bringing him close again as she neared the gate.

"I beg your pardon. Did you drop your handkerchief?"

SHE whirled, resentment in her eyes and in her voice.

THE only way, if I were ever to see you again."

"Well, you won't!"

"Oh, yes. I'll ring every doorbell in Memphis until I find you."

"Ours doesn't ring."

"Then I'll use the knocker."

The girl raised her eyes to his, regarding him coolly. She spoke slowly, "I think you are the most absurd person I ever met and the most conceited to think that I—"

HER voice broke. She turned and walked swiftly toward the stair. Her eyes were shining. A girl with blond hair, a big chap and a delicate-looking youngster were coming to meet her.

"Joan!" It was a chorus from the newcomers.

"Pat, Bill, Benny!"

The blond girl was kissing her. So her name was Joan! He was following not too closely, when a voice hailed him: "Hi there, Bob Weston! Well, what do you know about this? What are you doing in Memphis?"

"Duke Turner!"

They shook hands.

"Last person in the world I ever expected to see! Say, Bob, where you stopping? Can't I put you up?"

"Thanks, no. I have a room at the hotel. But I'd like to be with you tomorrow. Say, Duke, wait a minute, will you? There's a girl I want to see—"

"Well, of course," Grinning, Bob scanned the motor cars moving away from the curb but the quartet he sought had disappeared.

"Anything important," asked Duke, his eyes on Bob's sober face.

"Well, rather. Duke, do you know a girl named Joan?"

"Yes, of course."

UNDER THE DOME AT AUSTIN

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, Sept. 28 — Members of the Texas house of representatives spend much of their time getting signatures of fellow members.

The practice started when word got out Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson would submit any bill to the special session of the legislature that a majority of the members requested.

Whether she made the promise or not, members are acting on that assumption.

Joe White, small but effective sergeant-at-arms of the house, is glad the annual visit of the big circus to Austin has passed.

Circus day is a trying one for a house sergeant-at-arms. The members look to him to provide them passes for themselves, their families and often for friends.

Bob Barker, genial sergeant-at-arms of the senate, has a less irksome task. There but 31 senators. There are 150 representatives. In an effort to beat Barker to the tickets this year, White met the circus management at Waco.

Rep. W. M. Harman of Waco, has joined the arm-in-a-ling group in the house. A cactus thorn prick that became infected sent him to join Representatives Tom B. Hyder of Lenton and Otis T. Dunagan of Big Sandy, who were hurt in automobile.

Rep. George Butler of Bryan, is in good with the members of the legislature. To him Texas A. & M. college delegated the distribution of annual football passes for the legislators. Mrs. Lee Rountree, Bryan editor and former representative, has volunteered as a member of the newspaper profession, to see there are tickets for the capitol press correspondents, whom the college forgot.

Members of the Texas legislature are undoubtedly sincere in their decision that 3.2 alcoholic beverages are in fact non-intoxicating.

Many of the recent strong opponents of intoxicants are drinking the legalized beer.

Rep. George Winningham of Mexia, farmer, writer and foe of lobbyists, will not be a candidate for re-election. That does not mean he is retiring from politics. He is being urged to run for state agricultural commissioner, and has the matter under consideration.

Rep. Preston L. Anderson of San Antonio, record holding linotypist, complains the manuals of the Texas legislature have no lettering on the turn of the leather covers.

"Put in a bookcase, there is nothing to show what it is," said Anderson.

Rep. E. D. Dunlap of Kingsville, is noted for never bothering the legislators with a speech. The microphone has no lure for him. But when he sent up a resolution to give an American Legion post more time to complete its part of an agreement for establishment of coast fishing resort, the house members forced him to speak.

"Speech, speech!" they shouted. Dunlap remained silent.
They voted overwhelmingly against the proposal.
Then Dunlap spoke less than two minutes. They voted again, this time unanimously for the resolution. "See what power your oratory has" Speaker Stevenson said.

Ross S. Sterling's picture has taken its place in the gallery of governors in the state capitol. It is on the third floor tier at the left of Gov. Dan Moody whom he succeeded. The oil portrait is by Mrs. C. D. Rice of Austin.

Joe T. Stedham of Fort Worth, member of the joint state legislative board is attending the legislative session on crutches. His leg was broken when his horse fell in the Fort Worth Labor Day parade.
"I've railroaded all my life without getting hurt," said Stedham, "and then I ride a horse and get this."

FRENCH-SOVIET TRADE COMPACT IS NEGOTIATED

By FREDERICK KUH
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS, Sept. 28 — Negotiation of a Franco-Soviet commercial treaty will be resumed late in September when an effort will be made to expand trade between both countries as a sequel to the recent striking improvement of their political relations.

That improvement, which still is in its initial stage, is one of the most significant events of contemporary diplomacy. During the past twelve years, the Soviet government was the staunchest ally of Germany in her struggle against the Versailles treaty; but Moscow now has swung into the anti-revisionist camp and is inclined to support the European status quo.

No Coincidence
It was no coincidence that Moscow and Paris began discussing a commercial accord last April, one month after Hitler established his German dictatorship. The cooler temperature of German-Soviet relations constantly has been accompanied by a corresponding warmth between France and Russia.

With its vast supply of idle capital, France is alert to the opportunities of the Soviet markets, while the Bolsheviks are seeking easier credit abroad to finance their imports and provide the money for their industrial program.

Signs are not lacking that the French business world is growing more favorable to Moscow. The Soviets now are receiving 12 months' average credits in France, compared with six months in 1932; in the case of purchases of heavy machinery, Moscow even is getting terms of 18 to 21 months.

Soviet bills, discounted on the unofficial Black Bourse in Paris at the rate of 32 per cent in May, now are bearing only 16 per cent; this remarkable change is attributed to increased confidence.

Rise of Old Bonds
But the rise in value of old bonds of Tsarist Russia on the Paris stock exchange is an even more conspicuous economic symptom. Far from anticipating any internal political upheaval in Russia, which would justify higher prices for the repudiated securities of pre-Bolshevik times, the French speculators have been buying these bonds on the assumption that coming Franco-Soviet negotiations will lead to a settlement of the Tsarist debt to France.

Official denial recently disposed of the rumor that the Tsarist debts to France were to be settled by a fund to be created from a tax on all Franco-Soviet trade. It appears that Moscow rejected this suggestion, but it is admitted that the Tsarist debts already have entered into the recent Franco-Russian economic negotiations.

Tsarist Debts
Tsarist indebtedness to France has continually been a key problem in Franco-Soviet relations in view of the estimated two million French holders of pre-war Russian bonds. It never has been forgotten that France loaned Russia about $2,500,000,000 before and $750,000,000 during the war, the French being by far largest creditor of Tsarist Russia.

The Kremlin has consistently refused to recognize any legal liability for the Tsarist loans, but has displayed willingness to grant partial compensation to French bondholders in return for satisfactory credit concessions.

GREW WITHOUT SOIL
HOOD RIVER, Ore., Sept. 28 — Potatoes will ever grow without soil or water here. Last spring Mrs. Julie Hollan threw some potato peelings into a pile of burlap sacks and other rubbish. Not long ago she found a potato vine growing there, bearing three tubers which together weighed two pounds.

WON HIM JOB.

HOLYOKE, Mass., Sept. 28 — Donnat Nadeau, a woodchopper, fashioned an artistic jewel cabinet from 1,000 separate pieces of pine, requiring 100 hours to finish the article. He presented it to Mayor Henry J. Toepfert, who was so delighted that he secured Nadeau a job with a contracting firm.
