CISCO, TEXAS, SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1943.

NUMBER 125

RAF BOMBERS POUND INDUSTRIAL COLOGNE

Cisco's Red Cross Campaign Starts Monday at 12:30; Quota is $4,500

Cisco's 1943 Red Cross campaign will be launched at 12:30 Monday, when each member of the 22 committees will meet at Laguna hotel for coffee-sandwich lunch, materials and final instructions, said Mrs. George P. Fee, city chairman, Saturday.

Eastland county's quota of the $125,000,000 to be raised by the nation is $18,000, while Cisco, Renger and Eastland have been assigned quotas of $4,500 each.

The city chairman called attention to the fact that this is the first Red Cross campaign for funds since the one following Pearl Harbor, 1941, and that the present campaign would be the only one in 1943—barring some unforeseen emergency. The local campaign will continue through March, or until the quota has been secured.

Quick Response Expected. However, it is thought the full amount can be secured this week, although possible failure to contact those who might be out of the city may carry the campaign into next week.

Local sentiment relative to the campaign can probably be summed up from a statement made by a Cisco man Saturday, who said:

"This is the largest Red Cross quota ever assigned to Cisco, but we must remember that these are abnormal times; hence there is nothing for us to do except go down into our pockets and give just as liberally as possible and win the campaign up quickly. Each citizen will naturally have to increase his contribution substantially over previous years, but let's do it and keep up Cisco's reputation, while at the same time doing our war-time duty."

Students Commended.

A committee composed of Mrs. George P. Fee, Mrs. E. L. Graham, G. P. Mitcham and A. D. Anderson visited the War Industries School and contacted many of the students regarding the campaign. All evinced deep interest and pledged full support of the Red Cross call for funds. One member of the committee later expressed himself thusly to the Daily Press: "The students at the training school are above the average in very many respects and their patriotism is second to nobody's. You can depend upon it that they, like other citizens, will do all that could be expected of them in the Red Cross campaign."

Friends of Staff Sgt. James L. Stafford were disappointed Friday night when they were listening in to hear Stafford's voice over short wave radio from London, where he was to speak. Poor reception prevented it from being heard in this area.

Mr. Stafford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don McEachern of Cisco, and who worked for Hickok & Reynolds following his graduation from Cisco high school, was mentioned in Wednesday's issue of the Cisco Daily Press as having recently been cited for exceptional meritorious conduct in service in a ceremony in London.

In the noon broadcast of WBAP Saturday, Cisco was mentioned as the home of two very brave lads, Stafford and W. B. Shirley, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Shirley, both of whom have distinguished themselves as daring flyers in the occupied territory of Europe.

A. J. OLSON SUFFERS FROM HEART ATTACK

A. J. Olson, one of Cisco's best known and most thoroughly respected citizens, is quite ill from a heart attack at his home, 601 W. Ninth street.

While attending physicians reported his condition as unfavorable, his host of friends and acquaintances are hoping he will be able to overcome the trouble. He was very restless and unable to lie down late Saturday afternoon.

Here with Mr. and Mrs. Olson are their daughter, Mrs. David Franklin, of Wichita Falls, and their son Marion, who resides in San Antonio.

Carl Olson, another son, is in Oakland, Calif.

WEEK OF FEB. 28 SIGNIFICANT PERIOD

An act of the Texas legislature authorizes the setting apart of the week beginning February 28 and ending March 6 as Texas Week, celebrating the heroic fighting of the heroes of the Alamo of March 6, 1836, and the act of March 2, 1936, declaring the independence of Texas from Mexico, and its recognition by the United States at Washington, D. C., on that day.

In conformity with this act Mayor G. P. Mitcham has made the following proclamation:

Whereas, the approach of Texas Independence Day and Alamo Day herald a week of deep significance and profound meaning in the minds and hearts of all Texans; and

Whereas, I am prompted by the patriotic members of the forty-second legislature, and by my own feelings of love, loyalty, and patriotism toward my state:

Now Therefore, I, G. P. Mitcham, mayor of the city of Cisco, Texas, do hereby proclaim the week of February 28 through March 6, 1943, as Texas Week.

I urge all citizens of this municipality and of Texas to observe Texas Week in an appropriate manner. No one of us will fail to cherish the rich heritage which our founders and forefathers prepared for us of this generation.

During this week let us make much of the spiritual values of our history and of our traditions. Let us dedicate our lives afresh to ideals of statesmanship, character, leadership, and service. Let us make it possible, as did our forebears, for our own and for future generations to enjoy liberty as of conscience, of speech, of the press, of worship, of public assembly, and all the other liberties which we cherish.

STRIKING DISPLAY.

The Cisco Red Cross organization has a very striking display of the three departments of work in the window of Drumwrights, Inc. The three departments are surgical dressings, headed by Mrs. Austin Flint and Mrs. A. D. Anderson; sewing room, in charge of Mrs. W. W. Wallace; knitting department, directed by Mrs. L. A. Warren. The display is attractively arranged and emphasizes the work the organization is sponsoring.

DEMOCRATS ABSENT.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—House Democratic leaders worry as much about absenteeism as war industries do. Typical attendance this week during debate on six-billion-dollar appropriation bill. 100 Republicans, 15 Democrats. Not all of it is due to Democrats who are sore or stay away on purpose. Some is habit. In the days of overwhelming majorities Democrats living nearby got the habit of slipping off home.

DIRTY, HUH?—This wouldn't be cold cream these WAACS have on their hands. It's grease and dirt that Frances Morrell, left, of Spartansburg, S. C., and Lois Sears of Washington, Ill., have accumulated while repairing truck at Daytona Beach, Fla., station.

THAT GOOD WAAC FOOD—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt has Sunday dinner with WAACS at Fort Des Moines, Ia. From left: Director Ovetta Culp Hobby, Commandant J. A. Hoag, Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Hoag.

6,068 RATION BOOKS ISSUED AT HI SCHOOL

Registration for war ration book No. 2 ended in Cisco Saturday night at 8 o'clock, with a total of 6,068 books issued. Many of those in the Cisco rural area registered at Eastland, Rising Star, Carbon, Scranton, Putnam and Moran, on account of convenience, said Supt. R. N. Cluck.

A number of persons out of town for the week, either registered where they were or are delaying until they get back to Cisco. Those who did not register anywhere may do so with the county rationing board at Eastland.

Mr. Cluck said this was the smoothest rationing he had yet participated in. There were no grumblings or complaints. About 40 teachers handled registration in two six-hour shifts during the three days.

INFLATION THREATENS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Anti-inflation lines bend and crack under farm-bloc blitz. Unless all signs fail, farmers will win their fight for higher prices; pass their bills over Roosevelt veto, if it comes to that. It will mean sharply rising prices. When that happens wages can't be held in check. Roosevelt-Byrnes-Brown may have more tricks up their sleeve, but don't bank on it.

RAID CONTINUED 24 HOURS AND DIESEL ENGINE WORKS WAS HIT REPEATEDLY; 10 BOMBERS LOST

LONDON, Feb. 27.—British four-engined bombers last night rocked Cologne, huge German industrial center, in a blockbuster assault second in scale only to last summer's 1000-plane raid.

Described officially as "very heavy," the raid carried the most concentrated Anglo-American aerial offensive of the war past the 24-hour mark.

Only 10 bombers were lost; considered a remarkably small payment for such a heavy attack.

The raid was the second heaviest of the war on Cologne.

Two and four-ton block busters and thousands of incendiaries were unloaded on the key German industrial city, site of numerous factories turning out parts for U-boats.

The weather over the city was clear apart from ground haze and pilots reported only moderate anti-aircraft fire despite the importance of their targets.

The heaviest weight of bombs was reported concentrated on the Diesel engine works and munitions factories.

The giant four-engined Lancaster, Stirling and Halifax bombers struck in the wake of American Flying Fortresses that pounded the Wilhelmshaven naval base in daylight and other long-range RAF bombers that swept deep into Germany Thursday night to blast the industrial center of Nurnberg.

Thus Germany now was getting a real foretaste of what it may expect when the all-out Allied aerial attack rises to a full crescendo in the coming months to pave the way for the impending invasion of Europe.

Much of Cologne already was in ruins as result of the 1000-plane raid last May 30 and subsequent lighter assaults.

Last night's raid interrupted frantic German efforts to restore the city to its former productive capacity. Cologne, in the heart of the Rhineland, is Germany's third city and British authorities said the Germans appeared to have given first priority to repair work there.

Despite wholesale evacuation of Cologne, there probably still are 500,000 persons in the city, it was said.

ALLIES STILL CHASING WILY GEN. ROMMEL

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa, Feb. 27.—Marshal Erwin Rommel, withdrawing his defeated troops in southern and central Tunisia, has made a series of quick jabs against Allied lines in the northern sector in an attempt to cut the communication lines of the British First Army.

Fighting continues, but so far the Germans have been held in check.

More than 400 Axis prisoners have been captured, and in one attack seven German tanks were destroyed for the loss of one British tank in the northern fighting. The Axis attacks occurred around Djebel Mansour, Bou Arada and south of Medjed El Bab. In the south central area around the Kasserine Pass, the Allies continued to pursue fleeing Axis forces which were attempting to escape from the consequences of their defeat in a three-day battle. The town of Kasserine has been recaptured by the Allies.

The British Eighth Army, threatening the Germans from the south, increased its pressure when advanced elements established positions immediately south of the Mareth line.

There was no serious opposition and it appeared that the time was drawing closer when Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery would be ready to throw a grand assault against the Axis forces.

TO OPPOSE ALLRED.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Senator O'Daniel of Texas Saturday said he would appear personally before a judiciary subcommittee Tuesday when the nomination of James V. Allred of Texas to be fifth circuit court of appeals judge at New Orleans is considered.

DANGEROUS.

The farm bloc, trying to get farm prices raised, sounds only too much like labor leaders trying to get labor wages raised. The words are different, but the tune is the same. And what happens if they get their way? The farmers lose, the workers lose, and the general public, which includes farmers, workers and a lot of folks in other professions and services, will lose, too.

If wages rise to meet farm prices, and farm prices rise to meet labor costs, there is no end to it, and there is no gain to anyone. There is, on the other hand, serious loss for everyone. If it takes a five-dollar bill to buy last year's dollar's worth of groceries, where is the advantage in having this year's five rather than last year's one? No advantage, and the great disadvantage that there is no end to the inflation until there comes total collapse.

"Buying power," says W. T. Chevalier of Business Week, "is an economic thermostat. It does no good to turn the thermostat up if there's a fuel shortage in the basement. Having plenty of money is of no avail if there are no goods to spend it for."

The answer is to sit tight where we are, gird the loins for a three years war, and get along the best we can till it's over. If we win, we have freedom to reorganize our internal affairs with some sense. If we lose, nobody has anything.

RUSSIAN VICTORIES.

As the Russians drive forward victoriously, day after day and week after week, some of the democracies probably begin to find a worry and fear mingling with their admiration. They wonder how far westward Stalin's army will drive, whether eventually it will push into the territory of nations normally free, and whether that freedom will be restored or permanently lost.

A recent statement in the Russian newspaper Pravda seems to ease westward minds on that score. It quotes with approval Premier Stalin's speech last May Day, to the effect that the Russians want no conquest, but only the restoration of territory naturally belonging to them and containing a majority of their own people.

Presumably that repetition had Stalin's approval. It could not be made too strong. For while Britain, America and the other democracies respect and admire the Russians, as friends and allies, they want nothing to do with the Russian political system and no forced extension of its scope. The two systems can cooperate only by fairness and tolerance on both sides.

In the meantime, Russian victories gladden the hearts of all reasoning Americans—they are making the job easier for our boys.

GARDEN YEAR.

It is high time to plan that vegetable garden. And anyone who hasn't happened to think of it, but who has a back yard with good soil in it, may have a good time doing so. There is no need of being squeamish, either, and saving all the space now devoted to flowers and lawn. Some gardens may encroach on the front lawn. Nobody need expect famine in Texas, but a time may come when a Cisco family's own vegetables and fruit will taste like manna from heaven. There may be a heavy run, too, on the seed stores, if a fellow waits too long.

Besides, there are not going to be so many kinds of recreation from now on. A lot of golf clubs and bowling alleys are going out of business, and transportation grows more difficult, so that there will be a growing tendency for people to find exercise and diversion at home. And of course there are never any vegetables or fruits so good as those an amateur grows for himself.

SOUTH AMERICAN ENEMY.

Hispanidad or Spanishness is a force to reckon with in South America. It is opposed to the United States, and is one of the mere spectators. All were welcome, and a bounteous repast was spread. The immense throng were handled in order—there being no confusion, little crowding, but all were fed, and there were many baskets of the fragments after every person had eaten to his full satisfaction. The officers acting on behalf of the grand lodge were as follows: D. Frank Johnson, past grand master, Brownwood; Grand Master George Lang, past master, Dallas; D. M. G. James Jones, past master, Dallas; G. H. W. Ed. R. Bryan, past master, Midland, grand junior warden of the Grand Lodge of Texas; E. J. Poe of Cisco, John F. Patterson, H. M., Cisco; G. J. D. W. A. W. C. Bedford, Desdemona, bearer of corn; R. F. Weddington, Cisco, bearer of wine; W. H. Pippen, Eastland, bearer of oil.

Meeting R. F. Weddington Friday morning, whose bubbling good nature elicited the query "Why so gay?" His response was I am celebrating; seventy-nine years ago today was my advent upon this vale of tears, so to speak. So you see I have reason to be happy. I am hale and hearty and in the best of health and physical condition. I can ride a horse, rope a steer and do as much work as many men of 40.

"On the 3rd day of August, 1834, I was born in Carroll county, Tenn., served all through the civil war in the confederate army, and immediately came west, like many other of the discharged confederate soldiers.

"While I have not lived all this time in Eastland county, yet this has been my home for the past 50 years. In 1868 I drove a herd of steers through to California, going via Salt Lake City, stopping on the North Platte, east of Cheyenne, then a struggling frontier town of a few hundred people, of the characteristic frontier type, with the attendant resorts found then in new towns on the border of civilization.

"I have been on the frontier since I was mustered out of the confederate army, and have lived in the Indian Territory, Kansas and Colorado, coming to Eastland county, where as stated, I have lived for the past 50 years.

"Coming to this section I found nothing but Indians, buffalo, long horns and a few settlers, all engaged in cattle raising on the free open range—a veritable cattleman's paradise, with the grass knee high and over, with fat stock everywhere. This was before the coming of the Texas & Pacific and Texan Central railroads, and all cattle was driven to market over the trail, and found ample food along the drive to markets. Yes, we marketed our cattle on foot in those days, and we were not bothered about shrinkage in transit.

"Thursday I went out and helped celebrate the laying of Cisco's fine high school building cornerstone, as I belong to that tribe of brethren whose antecedents furnished the 'corn, wine and oil' in ancient times.

A cordial invitation is extended to these services GARRY L. SMITH, Pastor.

First Methodist.

The church and religion are not identical by any means. Both are important and each is necessary for the other's strength. The church without religion would be a tragedy. Religion without the church would soon be dissipated. The church is the body, religion is the life. Paul spoke wisely when he compared the church to the body of Christ. In this time of testing today we are discovering that both the church and our religion need renovating, both are failing to measure up to critical demands. We must make the church stronger and more purposeful. We must make our religion so vital that it transforms all of our human affairs. Let us begin at home. Our Sunday school meets at 9:45. Morning worship in the sanctuary at 10:50 with a sermon by our district superintendent, Rev. W. H. Cole. The evening worship will be at 8:30 with a sermon by the pastor. Young people meet at 6:30. Stewards will meet Monday night at 7:30. LESLIE SEYMOUR, Minister.

Christian Science.

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 28. The golden text is: "Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and today, and forever" (Hebrews 13:8). Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth" (Jeremiah 23:5). The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Abraham, Jacob, Moses, and the prophets caught glorious glimpses of the Messiah, or Christ, which baptized these seers in the divine nature, the essence of Love" (page 333).

First Baptist.

Sunday school at 9:45, F. E. Shepard, Supt. Morning worship at 11. Training Union at 6:30, Paul M. Culp, director. Evening worship at 7:30. W. M. U. will observe the Annie W. Armstrong week of prayer every afternoon of this week from 1:30 to 2:15. Junior G. A. will meet Monday afternoon at the church at 3:50.

The circles of the W. M. U. will meet Tuesday afternoon at 3. Choir rehearsal Tuesday evening at 7:30. Mid-week prayer service at 7:30 Wednesday evening, with monthly teacher's and officer's meeting to follow. COOPER WATERS, Pastor.

Church Societies.

Presbyterian auxiliary circles will meet at 3 p. m. Tuesday as follows: Circle one at the church and members are requested to bring articles to pack a box for Presbyterian children at the home and school. Circle two will meet in home of Mrs. C. J. Kleiner. Circle three will meet in church.

Methodist women's society of Christian service will meet at 3 p. m. Tuesday in church for monthly business meeting. First Christian church council will meet in church Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock for business meeting and program.

... and how's YOUR sense of balance?

This is a balancing chair—used to test the equilibrium of Army Air Corps candidates.

- Relatively few West Texans will ever try the balancing chair—but every last one of us is having our sense of balance tested under the mad whirl of wartime bureaucracy.
- It's a test of our ability to do our daily job, buy bonds, pay taxes, donate blood, serve in Civilian Defense and Texas Defense Guards—and still keep an even keel under the barrage of bureaucratic rulings and threats.
- It's a test of individuals, and institutions, and industries.
- And it raises this question: Why are bureaucrats and crack-pot socialists, who never raised a chicken, a hog, a cow, who never produced an article by manual labor or generated a kilowatt of energy, and who never maintained a payroll or sold a pound of beefsteak... why are they holding vital posts when the Nation is fighting for survival?
- Why, in time of national emergency, haven't they been replaced by well-balanced men... practical men with training and experience in production and distribution problems?

- Brains and know-how must come to the top in domestic affairs as they have in military affairs.
- Of course we're proud that our industry has met the test—and maintained its balance. Service is still good. There has been no increase in cost. And no rationing of electricity!
- These are the accomplishments of experienced men and women under well-balanced business management—the system that made America great.

HELP THE GROCER FEED THE COUNTRY

The modern grocery store is a mighty important place these days with food rationing and all the talk about points that add up to the small amount of fresh vegetables that you are allowed to buy.

At the same time that the government is rationing these foods, it asks that all who can, should plant and work a Victory garden — producing enough to augment that which you are allowed to buy so that soldiers and friendly allies of other countries may have a share of our foodstuff, while they are too occupied to grow for themselves.

So be patriotic — Grow a Victory garden — absorb healthful sunshine and needed vitamins.
