Will Ship Three Cars Cattle and Hogs Tuesday

The Cisco Livestock Marketing Association will make a shipment of cattle and hogs to Fort Worth next week, which will be the largest that they have handled in some time. It will consist of three cars of cattle and one car of hogs. R. L. Poe was designated by the association to go with the shipment to Fort Worth and market the stock. The shipment will leave

Tuesday.

With the upward trend of the market some better prices are anticipated. The Cisco association has been found a very successful method of handling stock for the market from this section, and farmers and stockmen in this vicinity have taken regular advantage of its opportunities during many years operation here.

The suit against the city of Cisco by bond companies of New York and Ohio, for alleged past due interest due them on bonds and warrants was brought up in Abilene Thursday before Judge James C. Wilson in the federal court, and the cases were continued.

The plaintiffs claim to hold bonds amounting to $1,153,000, and ask for interest to the amount of $17,371.

Officers Take More Stills and Mash

Sheriff Foster, Deputy Steele and Constable Wilson made another raid in the Nimrod community Wednesday against liquor law violators, and though no arrests were made, they took two copper stills, one of 110 gallon capacity, and the other of 60 gallon, and some other equipment, and 1,200 gallons of mash. The find was made about five miles south of Nimrod.

Baptists In Session at Breckenridge

Baptists from the Cisco association district met in Breckenridge this week for their annual three-day business session, and quite a number from our town were in attendance. The district includes 52 churches in Eastland, Shackelford and Stephens counties.

Best General Rain Falls Country Has Seen In Years

The Cisco territory was the recipient of that long looked for, old-fashioned soaking rain which started Friday night last and continued for almost three days and nights. According to the gauge here, more than three inches of moisture was received and it fell slowly, giving the ground the full benefit of it. This was probably the best and longest continued rain which has fallen in this section in seven or eight years. That "smile that won't come off" has replaced the frown on many of the farmers' faces, for though drouth conditions of the past year have made many crops almost a complete failure, the rains received just at this time insures good grain crops which many had sown, still living in hope that Old Jupe Pluvius would finally bring his water wagon around.

General rains throughout the greater part of the state, will be worth many thousands of dollars. The fall was extremely heavy in some places, and streams, swollen by the heavy downpour, did considerable damage. Brady was probably the heaviest sufferer in this respect. Brady Creek got out of its banks, and swept through the business section of the town, doing a damage estimated at more than $250,000. The water flooded into more than 60 of the business houses, and about 50 small houses along the stream were swept away, it was reported. Between 200 and 300 people were made homeless, and the Red Cross stepped in and did some good work in caring for these. Some parts of the business section of Brady were standing five feet under water, it was said.

This stream, which is merely a small creek, is ordinarily very harmless, but has a heavy fall in its flow, and the downpour sent it raging. Swollen streams in other sections of the state did some damage, but generally speaking, over the state the rain was a great blessing.

Boy Scouts Have Big Circus Today

A big Boy Scout Circus is to be held at the High School auditorium at 7:30 this evening, the purpose of which is not only to give some very good entertainment, but also to inform the public in a more general way concerning the work of the Boy Scout movement, and the great good which it is doing among the boys. More than 100 boys from over this territory will be in attendance and take part. The Cisco boys, it is said, will have the most prominent part of the program. Tickets are now on sale, and everyone is urged to go out and attend this program, insured in advance of something well worth the money, and also of encouraging the boys in their fine work.

MOTHERS CLUB HAS INTERESTING MEETING

The Cisco Mothers' Club met Thursday morning at the home of Mrs. Homer Slicker at 1010 West 10th street. Twelve mothers responded to roll call with quotations pertaining to child education. Four visitors were present at the meeting.

At the business session Mrs. Slicker was appointed chairman, and she selected Mrs. Carlisle and Mrs. G. M. Simpson on committee for arrangement for Stunt Night to be observed by Cisco Federated Clubs some time in November.

Mrs. Wallace, beautification chairman, insisted that each member of the club plant a redbud in her yard during the coming season, and that they get in touch with Mrs. Bob Winston, who has the ordering of these shrubs in charge, as soon as possible.

A very interest, as well as instructive and educational program was rendered, the subject being, "Beethoven and His Arts." Mrs. C. O. Pass read a most wonderful paper on "Value of Music in Education." She stressed the necessity of beginning a child's musical education early. By illustration of the life of a New York business man who is also a prominent musician, she showed the value of music, not only for entertainment and recreation, but its value in strengthening and turning the mind in other spheres. Mrs. Hittson rendered Beethoven's last composition before losing his sight. This composition, "Farewell to the Piano," was not considered worthy by the artist, and was thrown into the waste basket, but was later retrieved by his nephew, and is considered one of his greatest works. It was beautifully played by Mrs. Hittson in technique and interpretation.

The club was favored by a talk by Dr. Morris, who has visited in European countries, and has been in the Beethoven home which has been turned into a museum. He described the musical instruments of Beethoven, stressed the value of musical education for the child, and pointed out that the world might never have known Beethoven had his father not locked him in his room to practice each day.

At this writing A. P. Slator, who has been very sick at his home on Ave. E, reported no better, and his recovery doubtful.

Attorneys J. J. Butts and Clayton Orn attended Federal Court in Abilene Wednesday.

Fair Exhibit For County Sent to Dallas Wednesday

The Eastland County exhibit for the State Fair was shipped to Dallas Wednesday, where Wayne C. Hickey, secretary of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce took charge of it and entered it into the agricultural exhibits on display at Dallas. Agricultural agents who will attend the Fair and assist in looking after the exhibits of this county are: County Agent J. C. Patterson, and Miss Ruth Ramey of Eastland; Ben Whitehall of Ranger, F. A. Lloyd of Rising Star, and E. H. Varnell of Cisco.

County Agent Patterson and Miss Ramey are responsible for the opportunity afforded the members of the boys and girls

4-H Clubs for ten of their number to attend the Fair for three days with all expenses paid. The ones chosen to make this trip are from those who have done very good work in their clubs during the year. The boys leave on October 13th, and the girls on the 20th. They are: Leonard Fox, Union; Clyde Melton, Chaney; Jack Love, Alameda; Marvin Hayes, Flatwood; Bennie Trout, Pleasant Hill; and Prentiss Dunn, Mangum, representatives of the county at large. Girls: Willie Mae Lockhart, Pleasant Hill; Eunice Weeks, Alameda; Jefealee Burns, Okra; U. Jay Fox, Union; the fifth girl is not yet selected.

Legion Presents Flags to Schools

Five public schools were presented flags by the John William Butts Post of the American Legion Thursday. These were: high school, west ward, south ward, east ward and the grammar school. Formal presentation was made by Post Commander C. E. Yates, and Baker Glenn was chairman of the exercises. Appropriate talks were made by A. J. Muller and Crigler Paschall, and State Representative Victor B. Gilbert offered a prayer at each exercise. A fitting talk was made by the principals of the various schools in receiving the flags. Patriotic songs also formed a part of the exercises.

Modernistic Bridge Club Meeting

Mrs. Leonard Surles was hostess of the Modernistic Bridge Club Thursday afternoon at her home at 1504 Ave. N.

A lovely strand of beads was awarded to Mrs. Lonnie Tullos for winning high score, and a silk handkerchief to Mrs. Lloyd Surles for second high. An attractive plate consisting of sandwiches, fruit jello, cake and iced tea was served to Mesdames Herman Qualls, Ross Cotton, Dewey Moore, Joe Black, Smith Huestis, Geo. Wild, Leith Morris, Lonnie Tullos, A. B. McCain, Guy Baldwin, J. L. Thornton and the hostess.

R. E. Grantham and J. R. Burnett had business in Abilene Wednesday.

Two Eastland Banks Are Consolidated

A consolidation which became effective Monday merged Eastland's two banks, the Exchange National and the Texas State Bank, into one, which will continue to do business as the Texas State Bank, with the same set of officers. The capital stock, which is $100,000, is to remain the same.

Mending and Darning Club Meets

An excellent four-course luncheon was served the members of the Mending and Darning Club by Mrs. W. J. Armstrong at her home at 1308 Ave. M Thursday at 1:00 p. m. Covers were laid for Mrs. W. W. Wallace, Fred McMahan, Frank Borman, Mrs. Morrow and the hostess. The afternoon was spent very pleasantly and profitably devoted to the purpose for which the club was formed—mending and darning.

Meeting of Y. H. T. H. Club

Mrs. R. C. Hayes was hostess to the Y. H. T. H. Club at her home at 710 West 8th street Wednesday afternoon. High score prize was awarded to Mrs. Hoyt Agnew. Second high was won by Mrs. R. C. Hayes. Members present were: Mesdames Hoyt Agnew, E. E. Jones, Chas. Robert, Tom Quinn, H. I. Stock, J. Stock, Roy Stover and R. C. Hayes.

Information Sought Concerning Confederate Veterans and Widows

The following letter is self explanatory.

Cristoval, Tex., Oct. 1, 1930
Mrs. A. J. Olsen, Pres. of U. D. C.

Dear Mrs. Olson:

I am asking that you make a survey of your entire county, if possible, to ascertain the number of confederate war veterans and widows of confederate soldiers living there. We are trying to find those who do not live in confederate homes and do not receive pensions.

Help us to find out the number of these in Texas and their needs for comfort. It being along our activities to see that our chapter give these folks our special attention.

Please report to me as soon as possible so that I may report to our committee chairman before convention in November.

With best wishes to your chapter.

D. B. HORN,

Pres. Cristoval Chapter.

Anyone knowing of the needs of confederate veterans or widows will do the club a favor by reporting same to Mrs. Olsen, Mrs. Porter, or to Mr. Horn at Cristoval.

Entered as second class matter July 24, 1930, at the Post Office at Cisco, Texas, under the act of March 3, 1879.

The Cisco Citizen is an independent Democratic newspaper, supporting what it believes to be right, and opposing what it believes to be wrong. Regardless of party politics, publishing the news fairly and impartially at all times.

AND THERE ARE SOME OF THEM IN CISCO

There are men in this world—yes, there are men right here in Cisco, Texas—and in every other town—who would be insulted at being set down as thieves, but to whom such a name would in reality be a most gracious compliment.

We refer to the "high toned" deadbeat.

They are meaner than the common thief just in the proportion as the confidential clerk who robs his employer, or the trusted public official who betrays his trust is meaner than the back alley high jacker or the sneaking midnight housebreaker.

And yet what a difference the law makes in them.

A fellow goes into the store and pompously calls a clerk or the proprietor and orders whatever he wants and tells them to charge it and take it down to the house. He represents that he is able and willing to pay his bills, and will do so at stated periods, when he knows that he is a liar and a sneak. He lives beyond his means, and picks upon any convenient overtrusting individual or firm to support him and his family.

And if the merchant mentioned after going to all the expense to wait on this fellow, bookkeeping, deliver the goods, etc, wants his pay as promised, what does the law say about it? Simply that if the man has property available he may be made to pay, but if he is sharp enough to work it right he can be held responsible to nobody and to nothing on earth. He may assess any man whom he can deceive for the support of his wife or his children or himself, feed them with food and clothe them with clothing belonging to someone else. Such is the province of the only American potentate who need account to no one—the deadbeat.

Some states have made laws for some protection against this blood sucker, but it does appear that the present laws in this great state are more for his protection. The writer during several years in the grocery business here had some first hand observation along this line. While talking with a lawyer one day of the possibility of a forcible collection from one of the above mentioned species, the lawyer spread the Texas law on this point before us and said, "If you had clear all that the law allows which cannot be touched in a forcible collection, you could retire from business and live very comfortably, could you not?" After reading the law we agreed with him.

No one gets paid for being snappy and grouchy—unless it's a traffic cop.

NO CITY TAXES IN THIS KANSAS TOWN

Chanute, Kansas.—The hum of electric turbines and the dull clicks of gas meters are sound symbols for prosperity in this Kansas town of 10,290 inhabitants, because the municipal utilities will pay the 1930 expenses of the city.

The city tax levy, which in the last five years has ranged from $3.95 to $18.81 on the $1000 valuation, has been abolished by the board of city commissioners.

Users of electricity and gas now will pay the operating expenses of the city, although the utilities rates here are lower than in most towns of Kansas.

City commissioners chuckled when assessors began their annual rounds to assess local property this spring, because they knew the valuations would not be used for municipal tax collections. The commissioners did not know then, however, that this would be the city of the first or second class in the United States without a municipal tax levy.

In addition to abolishing the levy, the commissioners have also made arrangements to use earnings from the utilities plants to retire all municipal bonded indebtedness, except the serial bonds which cannot be retired until due. The two utilities plants are free from debt.

This unique financial record is attributed to the business administration of the mayor, B. F. Baughman and H. E. Coulter and Guy S. Jeffers, commissioners.

Their management of the gas and electric departments has resulted in sufficient earnings to pay all city bills.—Texas Municipalities Magazine.

The above article speaks for itself. In its lines may be found something for the Cisco city tax payer to ponder over. Just sit down and think along this line, for a few minutes, and see if your thoughts do not suggest something which might be of interest to the tax-ridden citizens of our own beautiful little town of Cisco, Texas, U. S. A.

Of course in municipal ownership—as in all other business affairs—it is rather important to choose well those who look after the city's business. Carelessness in this particular will put any city "on the rocks" regardless of what other advantages they might enjoy—just as surely as like carelessness will put a man's business into bankruptcy.

IT'S THE UNVARNISHED TRUTH

Advertising makes money circulate, and circulating money is what makes business good at any time anywhere.

There is plenty of money in this country today—probably more than ever before—but it is not circulating. It is hoarded away where it does no one any good. And that makes hard times. It makes no difference how much money is in the country if that money is hidden away where it can do no one any good. It's the turnover dollar that is the one that counts and makes prosperity.

Anything then that helps the dollar to turn over helps prosperity. Money put into advertising helps turn that trick. It's a fact.

Ivan Daniels is here this week from Breckenridge.

Carl Lowery returned Monday from a trip to Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pippin visited in Breckenridge Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilson spent Sunday with relatives in Sweetwater.

Oliver Pierce is attending the oil men's convention in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Mrs. D. K. Scott spent Sunday in Sweetwater visiting Mrs. Sam Baugh.

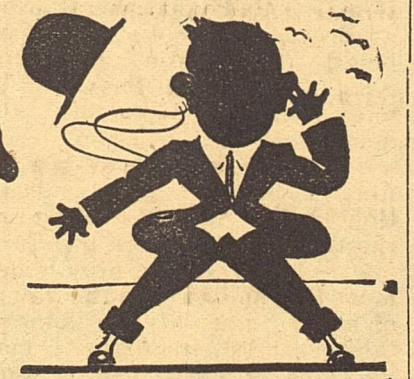

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hale Jr. of Iraan were visitors in Cisco this week with Dr. and Mrs. Chas. Hale.

Mrs. Sara Olivia Winchell of Jayton spent Sunday visiting in Cisco where she formerly made her home.

Mrs. J. T. Williams left Friday for her home in La Cruze, Oklahoma, after a visit here with Mrs. R. L. Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Bradbury of Abilene were visitors in Cisco Saturday. They were enroute to Goldthwaite to visit relatives, but decided on account of the continued rain to return home. Mr. Bradbury is one of the owners of the Standard Printing Co. at Abilene.

Homer Knowles was here from Putnam Saturday. He has just recently returned from Colorado and other western states where he has been spending the summer. He stated that the most of the country in which he had been was in no better business condition than is this section, and that some of it is in far worse.

FARM SUGGESTIONS FROM A & M. COLLEGE

College Station, Texas. --Early and careful consideration by Texas farmers of plans for next year's agricultural program was urged here today by President T. O. Walton of A. & M. College of Texas. "In view of the present condition of agriculture and while it is yet early enough to consider carefully and unhurriedly plans for next year, it is deemed important at this time to reiterate the program of agricultural policy and procedure for Texas farmers and livestock producers that the A. & M. College of Texas has been advocating for years," President Walton said. "This policy, as many may recall, was emphasized last April at the land utilization conference at Waco that was sponsored by the college, the State Department of Agriculture and various other agencies and groups interested in the agricultural development of Texas.

"Through its various specialties, the college has for years given its attention to the promotion of what it conceives to be a sound agricultural policy, a policy supported by facts and experience. This policy is not new to the college. Nor is it new to thousands of Texas farmers. But the importance of agriculture and the opportunity to serve agriculture justify its repetition at this time, in our opinion, along with the repetition of a program for meeting its various demands."

Briefly stated, President Walton went on to say, the policy in question emphasizes seven major points: Preservation of land as capital stock, use of adapted crops and livestock, balancing the farm business, employing low cost methods, living at home, production of quality products, and the marketing of products on quality basis.

"The foregoing," he said, referring to the points listed, "represent in a general way the various phases or points of what is considered a sound agricultural policy, not only for Texas farmers but for farmers in general. The application of this policy must be determined in various communities and sections by local conditions, of course. But as constituting a procedure or program of application that will in the main apply, the following methods for the points in question are suggested:

"In preserving the land, protect the cultivated fields from soil erosion by terracing. Use the poorer and waste lands for pasture. Use cropping systems and other practical means of increasing the productiveness of the soil.

In following the use of adapted crops and livestock plant sufficient acreage to small grains and legumes for fall and winter grazing. Plant sufficient acreage to grain feeds and legumes best suited to the section so as to have ample supply of feed in case the growing season is unfavorable. Market surplus feed through livestock.

Balance the farm business by distributing both labor and income throughout the year. Weed out less profitable livestock. Plant best seeds obtainable. Conserve feed by using it wisely.

Live at home by providing fall and early spring gardens, by canning, preserving and drying fruits and vegetables for home use. Keep sufficient poultry, milk cows and hogs to supply home needs.

Produce quality products and utilize the most efficient marketing facilities available. Keep posted on agricultural affairs. And as a final suggestion consult and make use of the services of the county farm agent."

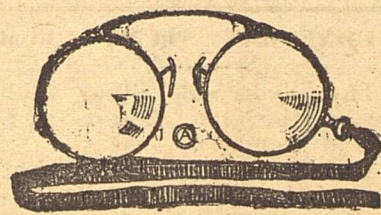

Caution Urged By State Fire Marshall

Fire Prevention Week in Texas this year has been designated as October 5th to 11, according to Fire Marshall Burnett, who declared that city officials and members of the local fire department are asking that Cisco citizens cooperate in the observation of this week.

Marshall Burnett states that in the month of August alone the State suffered a fire loss of $1,200,919, and during the year 1929 three hundred and fifty-nine Texas people lost their lives by fire. The remedy, says Burnett, for the destruction of human life and property by fire is to be found in "Fire Prevention and Fire Protection."

Mrs. Neal Turner returned Monday from Lubbock where she has been visiting for some time.

Mrs. Gomer Williams has returned from Pasadena, California where she has been visiting for some time with her son, Stuart Williams.

SPORT SPASMS

By Dick West Jr.

The whole state has turned eyes on the early season showing of the Big Dam Loboes. Especially are the Oil Belt scribes trying to broadcast to the world what the Chapman clan is like—a very bad sign. True the Loboes made a wonderful showing against Brownwood, but the Lions were woefully weak, and a green team should not to try to cope with a Warner attack, especially when the latter is as effective as the Loboes were last Friday. fans look to the Ranger victory of only 32-0 over the Lions, and scoff heavily. Remember, the Bulldogs only used power plays to defeat Brownwood, and cannot be expected to run up a top-heavy score. Besides, the Bulldogs are laying for the Loboes, and Ranger is the toughest team in the world for Cisco to beat.

Tomorrow, the San Angelo Bobcats, who came so near defeating Ranger last year, will invade the Bulldog lair for the largest game of the week. Ranger 20, Angelo 7 is the writer's prediction for the outcome. Mc Carty of Ranger is truly a great ball carrier, and Bird is an able aid. The Bulldog line should topple Angelo's line, though Grimes is a demon. In our opinion, he ranks with Cox as the greatest tackle of 1929. But Curtis of Ranger is smart, and he will send McCarty through the line farthest away from Grimes. This iron man was a thorn in the side of the Loboes last year, but this season, the Cisco lads will be laying for the gent, and he will be in for a tough afternoon. Van Horn, probably the outstanding end of the state today, is especially laying for the elderly Grimes; Chuck likes to block tough men, and Grimes fills the menu.

The Loboes' hustle this week has been way under par. The boys are not blocking like they were last week before the Brownwood game. Any air of cockiness cannot be tolerated, and Chapman will not allow it. A man that is cocky over a good showing is due to be shown just how little he really knows.

Chambliss, slashing fullback of Coach Hill's tutelage, will be ready about the Ranger game. The big blond, who was the only punter that faced Magness last year and outkicked him, will be a great aid to the Lobo backfield. Roy is a perfect man for the back position in the Warner style of football, because he can certainly keep the ball hidden. Again he is a wonderful passer and punter. Blackburn, who has been taking Roy's place is an excellent ball toter, and can block like a young demon. His punting and passing are wonderful, but he is a trifle small. Joe Little is an excellent substitute also, and he may start plenty of the games.

But from out of the plains comes Spur, one of the greatest teams of West Texas, to lock horns with the Loboes. A big powerful line, and a hefty backfield will give the Loboes something to think about. Gene Taylor, famous athlete at T. C. U. a few years ago, is coach of Spur, and his hopefuls are going to try to put the Loboes in the losing column. Unless

U. D. C. MEETS WITH MRS. OLSON, TUESDAY

The local chapter of U. D. C. met at the home of Mrs. A. J. Olson Tuesday for the purpose of electing officers. Mrs. R. T. Porter was elected president to take the place of Mrs. Olson resigned. The other officers elected were: Mrs. D. E. Waters, First Vice President, Mrs. J. M. Hooks, second vice president; J. M. Flournoy, secretary and Mrs. O. W. Shepherd was re-elected, treasurer. It was voted to entertain the confederate veterans with a turkey dinner the second Wednesday in November. Mesdames Hooks compose the committee who have the arrangements for the dinner in charge. Mrs. Waters read the lecture given by general Gordon at the surrender of General Lee at Appomattox.

DELPHIAN CLUB

On account of inclemency of weather the Delphian Club held its session Monday morning at the home of Mrs. H. I. Stock, instead of the club house where it was first planned. All old members attended the meeting, with one new member, Mrs. Sandler present. The Pres., Mrs. Olsen, presided and Mrs.

S. E. Hittson was leader. A very interesting program was carried out. The club having started a review of the Delphian Books. The lesson at this time was study of Egypt, oldest civilized nation. Those taking part on the program were Mesdames E. Lankford, H. I. Stock, O. T. Maxwell and Mrs. A. J. Olson.

The club adjourned to meet October 22, at 9:30 a. m. with Mrs. Olson, hostess.

MUSIC STUDY CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. HITTSON

A short business meeting of the Music Study Club was held at the home of Mrs. S. E. Hittson, 1012 West 12th street, Monday afternoon. The purpose of the meeting was to make plans for the District Convention of Music Clubs to be convened in Cisco in November.

Sandwiches and tea were served to Mesdames: Leon Maner, R. Q. Lee, C. O. Pass, P. P. Shepard, Jno. Land, H. I. Stock and S. E. Hittson.

A Simple Cure For Tired Husbands

"I'd love to come over some evening, Ann, but when Fred gets home at night he's so all in and irritable that I don't know what to do—and that's not his nature at all. I'm getting worried about him."

"I know how you feel, my dear, and I think I know something that will help. My husband used to be the same way. Then I noticed he could hardly wait to get his shoes off, and that gave me an idea. I had heard about Herron's shoes fitting so wonderfully that I persuaded him to try them. The result is absolutely marvelous!"

"I am going to talk to Fred tonight!"
