Boy Scouts Founded 59 Years Ago In England

DISTRICT COMMISSIONER—Owen Jones, holder of a "Silver Beaver Award," is commissioner for George White District of Boy Scouts. Jones has been in scouting many years and has worked diligently in all phases of the local and district organization.

February 7th to 14th is Boy Scout week. The 59th anniversary of the founding of the world's largest movement will be celebrated here by Boy Scouts, their leaders and families.

The year that gave birth to Lord Baden Powell's Scout movement, was a significant one in many respects. Fifty-nine years ago, the Federal Bureau of Investigation was established in the United States. In that same year, Admiral

Peary set sail for the arctic on his sixth and final expedition to find the North Pole and Orville Wright made another successful flight in his flying machine. The manufacture of automobiles passed the fifty thousand mark . . . while in a small English country town, an experimental boys camp was mark the beginning of a vast international framework of a boys organization uniting all nations, races and creeds. This non-military, non-political and interdenominational movement was and is "The Boy Scouts" . . . first instigated and developed by a major general of the British Army who was later to become Lord Baden Powell. Born in London, England February 22, 1867, Robert Baden Powell was the sixth son of an Oxford professor. He was educated at Charterhouse, and in 1876 began his army career with the 13th Hussars regiments, which served in India and South Africa. Among his many accomplishments, Powell organized the first African constabulary.

It was during his long army career that Lord Baden Powell first became aware of the great need to help and encourage young people . . . particularly boys. And while many people thought the handling of boys should be done through better schools . . . or through harsher disciplinary measures, Powell knew that there was a better way. To begin with, he did not assume boys to be wayward or delinquent. As a matter of fact he found them curious, eager to learn and hungry for news of their hero.

Every day Lord Baden Powell's mail was filled with letters from boys wanting to know more about his adventures in India and South Africa. Most particularly they asked for tips on how to survive in the jungle . . . how to hunt and trap and build fires. Soon, boys societies and clubs were also asking for suggestions and messages which could be read to their various groups.

Thus it was that Lord Baden Powell decided to set up a camp where he could talk to the boys en masse . . . where they could put into practice the things he had written about to them.

Powell's camp of 1907 proved so successful that it was to spread throughout the whole world within a few years. It was in conjunction with this first Boy Scout Camp on Brownsea, Island off the coast of England, that Powell published his "Scouting for Boys" handbook. It was originally produced in bi-weekly parts, which was to be

Muleshoe Scouts Observe 36th Year

While America marks the 57th anniversary of boy scouting, Muleshoe will be celebrating its 36th year of active organizations of the group.

In December, 1931, Troop 10 was organized here and registered under of Roswell, N. M. Oliver Moore served as Scoutmaster and H. E. Eckler as Troop chairman. Committeemen were F. C. Skeeters and J. L. Adams. The troop was under sponsorship of the American Legion and had 16 charter members.

The following year, the Troop number was changed to Troop 20 and was registered with the South Plains Council and sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, G. A. Garrett was Scoutmaster and C. F. Moeller was the troop chairman and Committeemen were Ray Griffiths and Clay Beavers. There were 29 registered scouts that year.

The Chamber of Commerce took the sponsorship of Troop 20 in 1936 and retained the Troop 20 number until 1960 when it was designated Troop 620. It is considered the veteran unit and is now sponsored by the Lions Club.

Former Boy Scout leaders have included Houston Hart, Ray Griffiths, Woody Lambert and Bozo Bowman (1940-1950) Ernest Kerr, (1950-1953) Homer Curry, 1953-1958, Horace Edwards, 1958-1960, George Haskins, 1961-1963 and Bill Elrod. Troop 634 was organized in See OBSERVE on Page 2

President Hails Boy Scouts On 57th Anniversary

To the Boy Scouts of America and Their Leaders
Every society has bested its hope for tomorrow in the caliber of its youth. For youngsters without purpose or inspiration will grow into a generation without leadership or concern.

Young men must be trained well in the duties and opportunities of citizenship. They must develop strength of character and an intense loyalty to the institutions of freedom. They must be physically fit and mentally keen.

The Boy Scouts of America adopt these qualities as goals. Boy Scout week calls our attention to the wholesome influence of Scouting on the lives of millions of Americans -- and thus to our progress as a nation. It also is an occasion for commending the volunteers and sponsors who sustain the Boy Scout movement.

And in this special year, I want to join in welcoming Scouts of other lands to the United States. It is true that the 1967 World Scout Jamboree will quicken among boys of many nations the desire for understanding and passion for peace upon which rests the future of all men.

Research Work Started on Book

Worth M. Blake and Perry J. Shepard from the Industrial Economics Research Division, Texas A & M University were in Muleshoe last week gathering information which will be used in the industrial survey which is being conducted of Muleshoe and Bailey County.

The industrial survey is being sponsored by the Muleshoe Area Industrial Foundation and is to be conducted in two phases. The first phase of the survey involves the preparation of an Industrial Facts Book of Muleshoe.

This facts book will be completed in approximately three months and will consist of twelve sections pertaining to various facets of the living conditions of Muleshoe.

The second phase of the survey is the preparation of an Industrial Development Plan which will include problem areas in the community and suggested solutions to these problems.

During the survey most of the business and civic leaders will be asked to list some of the problems of the community. The average citizen can be a big help in the overall survey by completing the questionnaire and on one of this issue of the paper and mailing it to Industrial Economics Research Division, Box 105 FE, College Station, Texas.

The Industrial Development Plan will also include problems areas of the community as seen by the staff of the Industrial Economics Research Division who will make several visits to the Muleshoe area during the course of the survey.

The plan will be completed in approximately five months. The Industrial Facts Book and the Industrial Development Plan will be presented to the Muleshoe Area Industrial Foundation upon completion.

Murder Trial Set

Sixto DeLeon is scheduled to go on trial here in District court Tuesday, February 7, on a murder with malice charge which grew out of the shooting death of his brother-in-law, Juan Robles. The shooting occurred in Needmore, June 14, 1964.

He has been returned from Huntsville to stand trial here on a writ of habeas corpus from Huntsville where he was serving a sentence for the murder of a Jordanstown constable on that same date, one year later, June 14, 1965.

DeLeon escaped jail here September 1, 1964 and was being sought at the time of the Jordanstown shooting. He was arraigned on jail break charges here, also.

At the time of the Needmore, shooting, DeLeon was an escapee from the Wisconsin prison where he was serving a term for molesting a child. This escape occurred September 9, 1959.

A list of 100 Petit jurors have been called for duty, they are: A. P. Fred, Morton; Donald

Engineer Speaks On Highway Project

Oscar Crain

Oscar L. Crain, District Engineer of the Texas Highway Department, was guest speaker at the Wednesday noon meeting of the Muleshoe Lions Club. Crain told the Lions that contracts would be let early this month for the construction of the long-awaited Highway 84 project that would provide a four lane highway from Muleshoe to the Farmer County line near Lariat to connect with the one already constructed in that county.

Crain said "Providing weather conditions are normal, the project should be completed approximately one year from the beginning of construction. He further stated "Adequate highways tend to improve the economy of any area. It makes it easier for you to operate your automobile, costs of goods is lower, so the adequacy of our highway system has a tremendous bearing on each individual here, regardless of what you do. Highways in Texas are a public function, operated by elected and appointed people and administrators in elected positions and by the highway department employees.

"Good roads in Texas have been the result of good citizenship . . . only through good citizenship and you as individuals demanding what you are entitled to in the way of good roads, can provide good roads."

Crain told the group that in 1939 it was predicted that the middle 1960's would see 36 million vehicles on the nation's streets and highways, but last year, there were between 75 and 80 million vehicles in the USA, more than double the prediction. Last year in Texas, nearly seven million vehicles were registered. This, he added, poses a problem to every individual and every community in Texas.

Crain displayed several maps showing the 17-county area in his district, the 25 highway districts in the State of Texas, and a Bailey County map showing all the roads (state Farm-To-Market, Federal and approved roads or those under construction) in Bailey County. Crain said, "The highway department was organized in 1917, it has spent about $6 billion in this 17-county area, about 155 million has been spent on the Highway Department since its beginning and almost $5 million has been spent on maintenance and construction of roads in the county during this 50-year period."

In answer to questions asked by Lion members, "Crain said his office had to do the best it could on providing new Farm-To-Market roads in the 17-county area of District Five, since funds were never sufficient to provide all the needs at the same time.

"Last year, there were nine counties in the district which did not have any Farm-To-Market road construction because of the lack of funds; Bailey County was one of the nine.

"The Texas Highway Department does have plans to extend Farm Road 1760 west of Muleshoe to the New Mexico line on the proposed short cut to Portales," but he added "work cannot be done until funds are available and all work, such as those done on a "highest priority" basis, based on the decision of his office as to needs. "We have these 17 counties, a thousand miles of road to build, and about a tenth of the money we need, so we can not

Cannon Airman Post Bond In Saucer Case

ALAMOGORDO (Staff) - Cannon Air Force Airmen, James Ulmer II, 19, was released from Otero County Jail Friday afternoon after he posted $2500 bond. Ulmer was arrested to Sheriff Terrell Herndon this is the maximum fine and sentence that can be imposed on these charges under old English law.

The pair were charged after Alamogordo police were tipped off to the strange death of Mrs. Jerry Ulmer. The call from Melody Stark of Spokane, Wash., set in motion the chain of events which revealed the members of "The Bible Study Group," who believed that Mrs. Ulmer was "on a flying saucer trip around two or three more planets to visit before returning to the seat's headquarters."

The group allegedly maintains a landing area and facilities for flying saucers. Signs around the area where the body was found read, "Welcome SA, Welcome SA - All People Stand Clear of Landing Area," and "All Visitors from Space Ships Please Sign Here."

According to assistant Dist. Atty. Bill G. Payne, an autopsy was performed and findings by the pathologist indicate Mrs. Ulmer's heart was ravaged by disease to such an extent that it could have, and probably was the cause of her death. Death apparently occurred sometime about Dec. 24, according to the officers investigating the case.

Hartzler's farm where the Airmen's wife's body was found, is termed a "resurrection center," by the cult. The group is composed of 10 to 12 adult members of the area, near La Luz, according to the assistant DA, who stated that Hartzler told him "The Group" have been praying for the return of the soul to Mrs. Ulmer's body.

"The Group," standing in the room adjacent to the Otero jail elevator shaft, convened in a circle joined hands and prayed.

When Ulmer emerged through the elevator door their emotions swayed to a violent turn, as they fought off news and cameramen. Ulmer seemed a bit perturbed at the cameramen.

Sheriff Herndon, quieted the melee when he threatened to jail the members of the crowd who did not quiet down.

A hearing scheduled for Airmen Ulmer, Monday, was postponed, according to Payne. The request for postponement came from the defense.

supply the needs of every county at the same time.

Asked if there was any objection to the sign "Killer 84" located on the highway, Crain replied, "No, there is no objection to the sign from our office, however, it could cast a reflection on Bailey County and it might be well that Bailey County people consider this."

Crain was born in 1908 in Lone Oak, Texas. He received a B. S. in civil engineering from Texas A & M University in 1931.

He began his career with the Texas Highway Department in 1931 as a "rodman and later served as an instrument and Chief Paving Inspector.

In 1936 he became Junior Resident Engineer and in 1941 was promoted to Resident Engineer. He became Assistant District Engineer in 1953, District Administrative Engineer in 1957 and was promoted to the office of District Engineer in February, 1958.

MAGIC

How does she do it? How can Bonnie Prudden transform someone complaining of the fatigue and aches of middle age into an individual glowing with youthful vitality?

Exercise -- yes. But the special kind of exercise perfected by Miss Prudden, the nation's leading physical fitness expert. Diet -- yes. But the special kind of common sense diet for which Bonnie Prudden is noted. And something more important than both of those ingredients put together -- the very special way of life that Bonnie Prudden uniquely preaches, practices and explains in this book.

In HOW TO KEEP SLENDER AND FIT AFTER THIRTY, Bonnie Prudden shows you how to rate yourself to analyze your appearance and to gauge your own degree of physical fitness.

Texas State Unit Members Named

Lubbock, Texas - (Special) - Members of the Texas State Unit, National Cotton Council, have been announced by Roy Forkner, Lubbock, unit chairman.

They are among delegates scheduled to meet in San Francisco, February 6-7, to review progress in research and promotion aimed at expanding cotton's markets and to make recommendations for 1967 program.

Members of the Texas unit are:

- Producers -- W.L. Edelman, Friona; John R. Pugh, Lubbock; J. H. West, Bishop; John Abbott, Harlingen; H.D. Madsen, Danavang; Robert L. Skov, El Paso; J.B. Cooper, Jr., Roscoe; Dan Pustejovsky, Hillsboro; and L.C. Unfried, Tahoka.

- Crushers -- R. H. Norris, Fort Worth; P. J. Lemm, Brenham; and A. J. Mills, Stamford.
- Cooperatives -- Emory Knapp, Aubrey; Frank Stubbs, Corpus Christi; and Roy B. Davis, Lubbock.

In easy-to-follow illustrations she shows you how to do the exercises that will help you attain a better looking, better functioning body. A unique section, "Exercises," offers first aid for ailing marriages.

Bonnie Prudden outlines sensible advice on how to cope with the special problems of pregnancy and menopause. She offers practical programs for busy people -- new mothers, married housewives, overworked executives -- that will enable them to remain physically fit without neglecting their demanding schedules.

Included in this book is a complete blueprint for physical and emotional well-being -- charts to enable you to analyze your own physical fitness, plus daily diet sheets and work sheets to help you organize and simplify your exercise routines.

Most important of all, however, this book is devoted to solving the one big problem we all face sooner or later, how to maintain the physical, psychological and spiritual vitality that makes life truly worth living.

BONNIE PRUDDEN, director of the Institute for Physical Fitness, educator and author, is America's foremost expert in her field. She is the author of Is Your Child Really Fit?, Bonnie Prudden's Fitness Book and Basic Exercises No. 1, her appearances on radio and television, lecture platform, her work for the President's Advisory Committee on Youth Fitness and her magazine articles have made her nationally known -- and respected -- as the leading authority on physical fitness.

Sherri Smith, Berrys, Gages William Russell Visit in Home Announce Plans

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Sherri Smith to Airman 3/C William A. Russell, Cannon AFB, is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. William Russell, Albuquerque, N. M. are parents of the prospective groom.

The quiet ceremony will be read by the Rev. J. Frank Peery, pastor of the First Methodist Church, in the Church's chapel.

Magann Lamb; Mistress of Ceremonies

Due to a change of plans, Magann Lamb will be the mistress of ceremonies at the WSCS and Guild of the First Methodist's Sweetheart banquet set for Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

A widely known lay speaker from Lubbock, Charles Alexander, will be the guest speaker.

Kathy Ware will furnish dinner music and Leasel Richardson and the Folksingers will entertain.

Mrs. Gilbreath Will Speak

Members of the Muleshoe Study Club will meet in the home of Mrs. Doyle Turner, Thursday afternoon at 4 p.m. when Mrs. Rufus Gilbreath will give a talk on, "Types of Employment for Older People."

Mrs. E. M. Pruitt will lead the club's collect and roll call which will be answered with "Why Americans Must Vote."

June Vinson Named Queen At TOPS

June Vinson was named queen for the month of January at Thursday night's meeting of the Jenny TOPS. She received a basket of fruit. The club met in the community room at the Bailey County Electric Cooperative at 7 p.m. Countesses for the monthly queen title were Bernice Splawn and a tie between Clarence Clayton and Cecil Cunningham.

Twenty-two members weighed in and joined in singing the fellowship song and the reciting of the pledge, during the opening exercises. Guests present were Paula Clements and son from Lubbock and Mrs. George Crane, Lazduie.

Evelyn Harris, acting secretary, read minutes of the previous meeting.

June Vinson was also queen for the past week and her countesses were Marjorie Platt and Kathryn Cole.

Ruth Clements and Clarence gave an interesting report on the pairs trip to Big Springs to the TOPS Area Recognition Day. Muleshoe brought home the walking stick award, which is a traveling trophy presented to the state headquarters to help send the king and queen to the national convention. The TOPS state convention will be held in Austin in April.

The group will meet at 6:30 p.m. Thursday to weigh in and be ready to leave in a group for Earth where they have accepted an invitation to attend a Valentine banquet beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Also in the houseparty were class mates of the brides: Nelda Seagler, Lubbock; Barbara Autry, Enochs; Brenda Brown, Lovington, N. M.; and Joyce Swinder, Bula.

For a wedding trip to Lubbock, the bride wore a two-piece pink wool suit with white lace trim and brown accessories. She wore a corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The bride's mother was attired in a three-piece suit of beige knit with brown accessories. She added a pink carnation corsage.

The groom's mother wore a yellow three-piece suit with hat and shoes dyed to match. Her ensemble was completed with a corsage of white carnations touched with green.

For tradition, the bride carried a white linen handkerchief carried by the bride's mother at her wedding; for something new, she wore a string of pearls given as a

Couple Repeat Vows In Littlefield Rites

Jo Linda Robertson, Enochs, and Donald Nelson Bennett, San Antonio, were united in holy matrimony in double ring ceremonies in the Crescent Park Church of Christ, Littlefield Jan. 28.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Robertson, Enochs, and the bride-groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A.N. Bennett, Levelland.

Brother Terry Blake united the couple in marriage.

Before an altar and archway of greenery with different shades of pink carnations and wedding bells, the bride's father gave her in marriage, Candalaria with pink candles on either side of the archway completed the decor. The bride was given in a boat neck white gown with long petal point sleeves made of cotton brocade. The fitted bodice featured a gathered skirt falling into chapel train. She wore an elbow length veil of silk illusion gathered at the top by a seeded pearl crown. She carried a bouquet of pink and white sweetheart roses atop a white Bible presented to the bride by Mr. and Mrs. Terry Blake.

Julia Childs, Post, served as maid of honor. She was attired in a boat neck dress with an empire waist and elbow length sleeves. The street-length dress was made of silk-backed crepe and the pill-box hat had a veil of silk illusion falling from the top. Muffs with sweetheart roses were used and she added dyed-to-match shoes. She wore a wine colored dress.

Bridesmaids were Patricia Robertson, Enoch, sister of the bride; Janice Crockett, Enochs, cousin of the bride; and Ann Cloud, Morton, also a cousin of the bride. They were dressed as the maid of honor with lighter shaded of pink dresses.

The lower girl was Pamela Fisher, Littlefield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Fisher. She was dressed as the other attendants in a lighter shade of pink.

Allen Brown, San Antonio, was best man and the ring bearer was Lynn Robertson, Enochs, brother of the bride. Ushers were Steve Crockett, Enochs, cousin of the bride; Jerry Cloud, Morton, cousin of the bride; and Mike Lowe, Lubbock.

Candlelighters were Douglas Crockett, cousin of the bride and Larry Robertson, brother of the bride.

Groomsman were Randal Robertson, Enochs, brother of the bride; Ronnie Simpson, Levelland; and Cleon Dawlin, Abilene.

Mrs. Betty Harlan rendered "One Hand, One Heart" and the Crescent Park Chorus sang, "Oh, Promise Me" and "Whither Thou Goest."

Parents of the bride and groom and other attendants assisted the couple in the receiving line at the reception in the church's Fellowship Hall following the ceremony.

Lana Aduddell, Littlefield, presided at the serving table which was covered with a white lace cloth and featured a centerpiece of pink gladioli and carnations. A three-tiered wedding cake with pink roses and a miniature bride and groom atop, was served guests. Appointments were a silver service.

Vickie Cloud, Morton, registered guests from a registration table decorated with pink carnations.

The groom graduated from Levelland High School in 1961 and received his B. A. degree from Abilene Christian College in 1965.

Other out of town guests were Mrs. Allen Brown, San Antonio; Mrs. Richard Montgomery and Stephanie, Lovington, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. James Hooper, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Irwin and Julia, Lubbock; Mrs. Dennis Medlin, Lubbock; Ola Underwood, Wheeler, Larry Harry, Abilene and Jean Anderson, Abilene.

The bride is a 1966 graduate of Bula High School and attended South Plains College in Levelland.

The groom graduated from Levelland High School in 1961 and received his B. A. degree from Abilene Christian College in 1965.

Other out of town guests were Mrs. Allen Brown, San Antonio; Mrs. Richard Montgomery and Stephanie, Lovington, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. James Hooper, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Mrs. Victor Foss---remits recipe

Green Bean Salad Is Favorite of Mrs. Foss'

Mrs. Victor Foss, 301 East Date, has a delicious recipe for green bean salad her family likes and she names as a possible favorite in her family. Mrs. Foss, reporter for the Jenny TOPS organization in Muleshoe, loves to sew, cook and enjoys bowling. She is the mother of a two-year old son. Following is her recipe for "Frosted Green Beans."

1 medium onion
8 slices bacon
METHOD
Marinate and chill several hours. Put green beans in mixture of vinegar, oil, onions, salt and pepper. Drain and add bacon, crumbled. Heap in salad bowl and make the following dressing and pour over:
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
4 hard boiled eggs, chopped
5 teaspoons mayonnaise
4 teaspoons vinegar
Salt and pepper
Toss. This is a double duty dish—a salad and a vegetable.

Mrs. Joseph Galyon . . . honored at wedding shower.

Wedding Courtesy Extended New Bride in Stevens' Home

A wedding courtesy was extended Mrs. Joseph Galyon, the former Virginia Matson, in the home of Mrs. Elmo Stevens Saturday morning in the Pleasant Valley Community. Calling hours were between the hours of 9:30 and 11:30 a.m. Mrs. Howard Pruitt registered guests and Carolyn Allison and Belinda Humiston served apricot and banana bread, juice and coffee. The bride's table was laid with a pink cloth, her chosen colors, and featured a centerpiece of a miniature bride amid pink and white carnations with pink tapers on either side. A silver coffee service was used for serving.

The honoree was presented a corsage of pink carnations with wedding bells and streamers. The bride's mother-in-law, Mrs. E. C. Galyon, and her husband's grandmother, Mrs. Ida Collins were presented pink carnation corsages. Mrs. Galyon was presented a complete set of stainless steel flatware by the hostesses. Hosting the courtesy were Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Pruitt, Mrs. C. W. Calhoun, Mrs. G. W. Crenshaw, Mrs. Bob Free, Mrs. Harold Allison, Mrs. S. P. Stockard, Mrs. B. H. Bickel, Mrs. Kenneth Duncan and Mrs. S. K. Flatt.

The couple were married in a Kansas ceremony Jan. 4.

Eastern Stars Plan Supper For Deputy

Members of the Muleshoe Eastern Star will meet in the Masonic Hall at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday evening for a salad supper honoring their deputy grand matron, Dorothy Noland, District 2, and Section 3, from Hereford. All members are asked to bring a salad and pie to the meeting. Regular meeting of the Chapter will follow at 7:30 in the Hall.

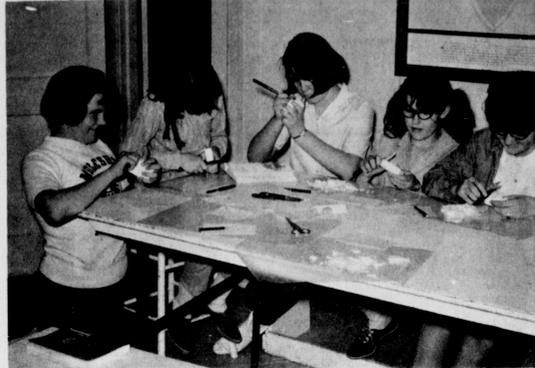

4-Hers Discuss Food Show

Members discussed the standards of the bread and cereal group at their meeting Jan. 24 in their leader's home. The Progress Lucky Four 4-hers discussed how many servings one needs daily and how it contributes to the diet. After being assigned different duties to show the other members how to do, they made oatmeal squares. While this cooked, each member told how much bread or cereal they had eaten that day. Also what they each had cooked during the past week at home.

Food for fitness guide was used and they discussed the different kinds of bread and cereal one can buy and different ways they can be fixed. When oatmeal squares were prepared, the group served Peach Butter, and a glass of milk with the squares. It was enjoyed by all.

Next meeting for the group will be Feb. 7 in the home of their adult leader, with Mrs. Robin Taylor speaking to them on nutrition. Feb. 9 the members will be picked up at school and from there go to the REA building where they will work on their records books for the 4-H Foods Show to be held Feb. 25 in the Richland Hills Cafeteria.

Present for the meeting were Patricia Grogan, Lavern Carpenter, Sheryl Bass, and the reporter, Ruth Ramm. The adult leader, Mrs. Ernest Ramm was also present.

of golfing in mind Wednesday afternoon, but the wind seemed to change their minds, so they decided to try their luck at cards. Winners in the afternoon's entertainment were Hat- tie Rae Jones, Eunice Evans, Reba Barrett and Ernestine Little.

The women are planning their luncheon Feb. 15 which will be the first of the summer-time activities.

Cooking Tips

Quick lunch: heat cubes of cooked ham with creamstyle corn and spoon over crisp buttered toast. Serve a salad with this main dish.

Next time you are roasting a chicken without stuffing it, try sprinkling the inside with onion salt rather than plain salt. Good flavor!

Club Profits From Farm Sale

Members of the Needmore Community Club made a profit of $110.91 at the Ragland farm sale which was held recently. The club met in the Needmore Community building with 9 members present, Feb. 1 at 2 p.m.

The refrigerator for the building was delivered and the club voted to spend $25 toward a gift for Girlstown to be given at Saturday's shower for the Home. It was also reported that a check was received for the damage to the building. They will buy 12 folding chairs for the building.

Martha Warren will be the hostess at the Feb. 15 meeting. The women will meet a 2 p.m. in the community building.

MULESHOE STATE INTRODUCES THE MAGIC SYMBOLS OF SPACE AGE BANKING

FIRST IN SERVICES, FIRST IN FACILITIES... TRULY MULESHOE'S FIRST BANK!

HERE'S WHAT THEY MEAN TO YOU

- 1 The popularity and convenience of bank checking accounts has resulted in an ever-increasing use of checks (13 billion checks written last year).
- 2 To insure continued high standards of speed and accuracy, Muleshoe State and other leading banks turned to the field of electronics.
- 3 After much research and testing, electronics experts came up with a solution designed by all the banking industry: a specially designed set of numerals and symbols, printed on checks in magnetic ink (to make possible full utilization of electronics).
- 4 Through the use of checks imprinted with these special symbols, Muleshoe State preparing for the start of an amazing new banking process.
- 5 Customers' blank checks are imprinted with the bank's number and the customer's account number, using a special metallic ink. The same ink will then be used to imprint the amount on each check after it arrives at the bank.

6 When the check is received at Muleshoe State it will start a quick but eventful trip through the electronic system. First, the special numerals and symbols will be sensitized with a magnetic charge.

7 Each symbol and numeral has a distinctive shape and is formed with a precise amount of ink, thus registering an individual "pattern" and enabling the electronic equipment to "read" account numbers, sort checks and perform other operations.

8 It is not only more accurate than the human eye but works at fantastic speed—sorting, for example, as many as 950 checks per minute.

9 The Muleshoe State has played a major role in developing time-saving methods to provide greater customer service. The use of electronics is now spreading to the entire banking industry.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

LUBBOCK—Beginning February 1 those farmers on the High Plains and elsewhere who used 500 or more man-days of hired agricultural labor in any calendar quarter of 1966 will for the first time be required to pay a $1 per hour minimum wage. The minimum will go to $1.15 an hour on February 1, 1968 and to $1.30 per hour on February 1, 1969. There the escalation stops -- unless Washington legislators succeed in their efforts to pass additional legislation.

Despite the proximity of the new minimum wage law's effective date, Ed Dean, Labor Relations Director for Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., says explanations of exactly how it will work, and issuance of the extensive administrative regulations that will be necessary are far from complete.

"But there are some unofficial indications filtering down from Washington as to how the law will be administered," Dean says, "and from these producers can get some idea of what to expect."

The most important consideration of farm employers at the moment is the keeping of employment records, Dean advises that any farmer who thinks he may have even come close to using 500 man-days of farm labor in 1966 or who may come close to that figure this year should be keeping complete and accurate records.

The law does not prescribe a special form of record, but specifies only the items which must be included and that the records be accurate. So records kept for other purposes will suffice if they contain the necessary information.

Employers who utilized more than 500 man-days of agricultural labor in any calendar quarter of last year will have to record for each employee to whom the minimum wage provisions apply the hours worked each day and each week, the wages paid and additions to or deductions from wages.

Employers who are likely to utilize more than 500 man-days this year are only required to keep a record of each employee's name and address and a count of the man-days of labor in the overall operation. But should the year's man-day count reach 500 it will be to the farmer's advantage if he has accurate records showing hours worked and wages paid.

A "man-day" is defined in the law as any day during which an employee performs as much as one hour of agricultural labor.

Excluded from the man-day count are the employer's wife, parents, children or other members of his immediate family, and local, daily commuting hand-harvest pieceworkers who worked in agriculture less than a year.

For the purpose of determining what counts toward this 13-week test, each period of seven consecutive days in which an individual was engaged in any agricultural labor on one or more days is included.

In a situation where custom work or contract labor is involved, the key is the employment relationship. A crew leader who merely assembles a crew and brings it to the farm to be supervised and paid directly by the farmer is considered an employee of the farmer and both he and members of his crew are counted in determining whether or not the farmer used 500 man-days of labor.

The same situation would apply if, under the same circumstances, the crew is hired at so much per acre for their work.

In meeting the $1 per hour minimum wage, employers will be permitted to include the reasonable cost of furnishing employees with board, lodging or other facilities. The "reasonable cost" will be determined by the Secretary of Labor through the Labor Department's Wage and Hour Division, which will administer the law.

However, reasonable cost is defined in the law as the actual cost to the employer without a profit, and would include the cost of operation and maintenance, depreciation, and not more than 5 1/2 per cent interest on depreciated capital, but in no case more than the fair rental value or fair price of the facilities provided.

Another point to remember is that the facilities must be provided for the benefit of the employee and not for the benefit or convenience of the employer.

The Act takes a single work week as its standard and does not permit averaging of hours over two or more weeks. An employee working on a farm subject to the minimum wage must be paid not less than $1 for every hour worked in each week.

Thus an employer who has customarily paid a straight weekly or monthly salary may need to make some changes if it appears he will use as many as 500 man-days.

On farms covered by the minimum wage law employers are covered by regulations on equal pay as well. These regulations require that employees of either sex must be paid at the same rate if both are doing the same work for the same employer under similar working conditions.

Dean said that, basically, these are the rules and the interpretations which the Labor Department to date has indicated will be in effect. Most of them have been published in the Federal Register with public comments accepted by the Department until February 6.

Plains Cotton Growers has filed vigorous protests to such provisions as those which prevent bonuses and crop income from being counted as wages, but there is no indication as to what effect these may have on the final regulations.

There are a multitude of other questions which have arisen concerning the new law, but Dean says satisfactory answers are yet to come on many of them.

But he invited High Plains farmers to consult with him on any individual problems which arise, and promised that additional information would be disseminated as it is received.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ

Students who work during the summer and earn less than $600 are not required to file an income tax return. Unmarried students who earned less than $900 usually don't owe any tax. However, it is very important for students to file a tax return if they worked during the year and income tax was withheld from their wages. They must file if they expect to get their refund. Just like Dad, most students like to get a refund.

Diagnosis of a National Disease

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following story is written by a Freshman student of Muleshoe high school, Betty Harbin, and deals with her ideas of a National Disease.)

by Betty Harbin

Every person who is today a citizen of the United States will readily admit that his nation is ill. However, a diagnosis of the existing problem is not so easily attained.

Since the government is in reality the people, it is logical to assume that the citizens themselves are sick. A detailed examination reveals that a minority of the American public is uninformed about its government. This ignorance is a disease; it stems from a germ known commonly as apathy, lack of interest, or indifference. The same germ, lethargy, in extremely advanced cases, causes the burning of draft cards, anti-government displays, protest demonstrations, riots, marches, and anti-policy activities in general. There are some people who feel the necessity to take a stand on issues, regardless of their knowledge of the matter. But possibly, these already discovered and treated outbursts are not so dangerous as the murky evil of the malady hidden in people who suffer from a lackadaisical attitude. The real danger of the illness lies in the fact that the minority is fast becoming a majority. The cancerous growth is spreading at a rapid rate. Like cancer, it can be checked since it has been detected early. The cure for this is often sidestepped in modern medical terminology because it is thought to be outmoded or square. The avoided prescription is patriotism.

Continual doses are highly effective when combined with hard work and enthusiastic concern for national sovereignty.

Patriotism is free. Men have given their lives for American freedom and they will continue to die to preserve it. By taking an active interest in their country's welfare, citizens are, in their own way, contributing greatly to the cause of independence. Treatments of patriots build up their country's resistance to subversion, thus strengthening an ailing nation. The struggle against a fatal disease will continue to insure everlasting freedom.

Muleshoe Students Enrolled At LCC

Seven Muleshoe students are enrolled for the spring semester at Lubbock Christian College and are now attending classes.

They are Lynne Barrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Barrett, 604 W. 9th, Greg Blackwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blackwood, 1908 W. Ave. D; Rickie Bradley, son of Mr. and Mrs. R.A. Bradley, 1701 W. Avenue D; Clea and Tom Cornelison, daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cornelison, 1521 W. Ave. B; Linda Monk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Monk, Route 3, Box 171; and Bob Willoughby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Willoughby, 1710 W. Avenue B. LCC is celebrating its tenth anniversary this year. All campus events will be directed toward highlighting this decade of development.

An evening college has been initiated this year allowing students to earn up to 6 hours of credit at night.

Juniors To Run Concession

by Jane Branscum

The Junior Class Officers this year are: John Johnson - President, Steve Oliver - First vice-president, David Dillman - Second vice-president, Susan Camp - Secretary-treasurer, Jean Branscum - reporter.

Working with the class, they have been very busy. Plans for running the concession stand during the livestock show are now being worked on. Mothers of students in the class will be called on to work during school hours. Cakes, coffee pies, cakes, brownies, and sandwiches will be sold.

Elected by secret ballot, the theme for the Junior-Senior Banquet has been chosen. Plans are already being made to make this one of the highlights of the year.

Council To Buy Flags For Hall

Ideas for "Patriotic Week" was discussed at the last meeting of the Student Council.

The Council voted to purchase an American Flag, Texas Flag and a school flag to be placed in the main hall of Muleshoe High School.

A motion carried to print material on patriotism to give to the student body, and that a decision be given to the student body on that subject. Larry Meyers entertained a motion that the Student Council start a chain letter to other schools giving ideas for some of the Council's projects. One of the projects is setting up a system to tutor students.

Debbie Burrows and Kathy Williams were placed in charge of the bulletin board and David Dillman, David Davis and Sam Feagley are in charge of the marquee.

Delegates to the State Convention to be held March 15, 17 and 18 were elected they are Stan Johnson, Larry Meyers, Vina Bass, Lindy Kerr and Sam Feagley.

Taste of College

Would you like: A taste of living away from home this summer? Living in a college dormitory? Learning something about college life and college responsibilities? Learning how to choose a college? Experiencing the study demands in college, and realizing you will be confronted with keen competition by other college-bound students? If you want a challenging two weeks experience in a stimulating college atmosphere, read on.

Two-week summer programs in the sciences and engineering arts and in the communications arts are open to 10th, 11th and 12th grade students at prominent college and universities across the nation.

The Junior Engineers' and Scientists' Summer Institute, or JESSI, is an exploration in the sciences and engineering for orientation and guidance purposes. But there is more to the program than simply dabbling in the mathematics and science fields.

CASSI (Communications Arts and Science Summer Institute) explores the theories, science, art and techniques of communication. Such courses as philosophy, psychology, English, sociology, economics, arts, music, etc. will be offered in the CASSI summer program.

Interested students and parents will be invited to attend about JESSI and CASSI by contacting our Director of Guidance, Ben Gramling or by writing to Scientists of Tomorrow, 309 New Fledger Building, Portland, Oregon 97205.

Students Win Places In Event Held In Odessa

by Joe Puenté

The Distributive Education Department of Muleshoe High School was represented very well at a DE Contest held in Odessa last Saturday. Out of seven contestants, six placed in the top three places.

The following persons placed at Odessa: Becky Pedroza, Winner of Job Interview Contest; Jimmy Bruton, 1st alternate, Sales Demonstration; Jimmy also was alternate from the area to the State contest at Dallas on March 2-3, 1967. Carolyn Tiller, 2nd runner, Job Interview Contest; Tom Jones, 2nd runner up, Public Speaking; Velma Evans, 1st runner up, Public Speaking; Diane Bryant, 1st runner up Beauty Contest. All of us in the DE Club and our Coordinator, Fred Mardis, are very proud of this accomplishment and the way they represented our school.

Band And Choir UIL Contests Set

The high school band and choir are preparing themselves for UIL Solo & Ensemble Contest and also UIL Concert and Sightreading Contest in the spring. Many soloists and groups are planning to participate in the individual contests. The band is testing their music to see which ones they want to play for contest and two very likely numbers to be chosen are: "Second Symphony" by Borodin, and "Cyrus the Great". The choir is also doing the same thing and two of their prospective numbers are: "O Magnum Mysterium" done in Latin, and "All My Heart's Desiring" done in German. These are very difficult but are coming a long way nicely. Each of the organizations is striving for I division rating in both concert and sight-reading. Last year the band and choir both made II division ratings and are certainly hoping to raise that division by another degree.

CONTEST WINNERS—These are the students who won places last week in Odessa during the Distributive Education event. They are Tom Jones, Jimmy Bruton, Velma Evans, Becky Pedroza, Carolyn Tiller and Diane Bryant.

Band, Choir On Move

The Muleshoe High School Band and the A Capella Choir have really been on the move the past few weeks. The band went to Lubbock January 14 for All-Region Band try-outs and seventeen were chosen to participate in the Honor Band of the following week. On January 19, seventeen members and their sponsors left Muleshoe for Lubbock and a weekend of learning and excitement. The group stayed at the new Howard Johnson Motor Lodge and had their rehearsals at Texas Tech and Coronado High School. Many interesting experiences developed while on the trip.

First of all, the key to the band wagon was left at home and a hack saw was used to open it so the members could have their instruments and clothes for practice that night. They were only twenty minutes late for the first rehearsal on Thursday night... and that's enough said for their experiences! The concert was held on the eve of January 21 in Coronado High School's elaborate new auditorium. The guest director was Dr. Clarence Sawhill from UCLA. The group was also surprised to have another of their members join them on Friday morning for one of the alternates took an absent members place. Now Muleshoe had eighteen. The eighteen were: Marsha Blackman, Brenda Wyr, Nancy Lee, Vina Bass, Neil Finley, Hal Anderson, Melane Precure, Billy Kelly, Kenneth Taylor, Ray Sanchez, Pat Malone, Treasa Bryant, Jane Branscum, Pam St. Clair, Lindell Wilson, Kathy Darsey, Kathy Seymore, and Stephy Peery.

The Choir took their weekend trip on January 27 and 28. They also went to Lubbock for All-Region activities. There were six members and one alternate plus sponsors that left Muleshoe on the afternoon of the 27th and arrived in Lubbock for rehearsals that night. The group stayed in homes of Lubbock choir members and the sponsors stayed at the Villa Inn. The director and clinician was Miss McPherson from Palo Duro High School in Amarillo. She was a very outspoken and talented person. The group said that many new things were learned and each felt that they had improved quite a bit. The concert was held on January 28 at Coronado High School. The choir members participating in this group were: Jane Branscum, Marsha Blackman, Brenda Tanner, Alvin Walker, John Guiley, Neil Finley, and Stephy Peery, alternate.

We are very proud of these students and know that many hours of hard work and practice went into the making of these choirs and bands. Thanks and appreciation go to the directors of these members and also to some very understanding parents.

Another very important item on the Choir's list is the fact that Miss Jane Branscum was chosen to represent Muleshoe in the All-State Choir. Leasel Richardson, Bob Breckenridge, Larry Harris, and Jane will leave next week for the TMEA convention in Houston at which the All-State Band and Choir will perform. Good luck to you, Jane.

Someday Control Schools

AUSTIN—Will the day come when public school education in Texas is handled by large, privately-owned corporations?

The possibility of this happening is not as far fetched as it sounds, says one man.

It is Glenn Ivy, executive director of the Governor's Committee on Public School Education. The committee was created by an act of the Texas Legislature in 1965 and is charged with conducting a three-year study of every facet of the state's public schools.

Ivy, in a speech delivered earlier this month to a large group of Texas school administrators here, quoted from reports issued by a Congressional subcommittee which studied the entry of big business into education.

Ivy said the reports show that the possibility of one or more major business corporations contracting in several school districts for turn-key jobs of education is a real, rather than remote possibility.

Ivy in no way appeared to favor the idea of big business taking over the job of public school education.

He characterized the prospect of this as a "direct threat" to the "public education establishment's near-exclusive role in education of America's youth."

Ivy said it has been predicted that "one or more major business corporations will offer to contract for a turn-key job of education geared to the individual student in several school districts within the next two or three years."

The corporations will offer contracts "on a cost-per-student basis lower than the cost of the previous year," Ivy said, "and the results will be guaranteed, with all the latest technical innovations included in the package."

When top grades become the summit of education, the school falls to the bottom of its possibilities.

Carol Haire is 1967 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow

Carol Haire

in an expense paid educational tour of Colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Washington, D.C., next spring.

The national winner—the 1967 All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow—will be announced at a dinner in Williamsburg. She will be chosen from the state winners on the basis of original test score plus personal observation and interviews during the tour. Her reward will be an increase in her scholarship to $5,000. Second, third, and fourth ranking national winners will have their original scholarship grants increased to $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000, respectively.

This is the 13th year of the Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow, initiated in 1954-55 by General Mills to emphasize the importance of homemaking as a career. More than 5,000,000 senior girls have participated in the Search since its inception, and 1,256 winners will have earned scholarships totaling $1,371,500 at the conclusion of the current program.

The 581,334 girls and 14,753 schools registering for the 1967 Search established a new record for the program.

Plans for 1967 were laid at a meeting last September in Chicago of the program director, H. Carl Smith, former director of Indiana Heart Association; the National PTA Board of Managers, and representatives of participating state PTAs.

In a statement prepared for the article regarding Texas participation, Mrs. L. L. Ledger, state PTA president, said, "The Smoking and Health Project of the National PTA, a parent-to-parent, person-to-person campaign to make all parents of seventh- and eighth-grade youngsters aware of the possible health hazards of smoking, strikes a response in all of us.

"We know that statistics can change, can be misleading, are subject to different interpretations by different people, and that opinions vary. We acknowledge our limitations as laymen in areas of health and related scientific research. We respect the rights of individuals to choose for themselves. We recognize the authority of school boards to establish policies governing our schools and their administration.

"We believe that education based on scientific facts -- to be found, for example, in the Surgeon General's report of January, 1964 -- is in the public interest and, specifically, may help boys and girls live longer, healthier lives. This is one of our basic commitments in PTA, and I invite and encourage your enlightened attention."

During his pitching career, Sandy Koufax registered 19 or more strikeouts in 97 games. That's a National League record.

Texas PTA To Cooperate In National Health Move

ple try smoking for the first time, by the age of 18 half of the nation's teenagers smoke regularly.

According to the article, distribution of the brochure in Texas will be accomplished as soon as possible after a February 7-8 meeting of the PTA State Board of Managers in Austin. Each of 22 district presidents, who serve geographical divisions organized along county lines, in attendance at the February meeting will receive an allotment of brochures equal to the total count of seventh- and eighth-grade students within his district.

District presidents then will spearhead distribution to PTA city and county councils across the state who in turn will pass on allotments of brochures to the more than 2,700 local PTAs.

The state PTA is asking its local units to call special meetings of parents of seventh- and eighth-grade students at which time brochures would be distributed and programs centering on the issue of smoking and health would be held.

Although the prime purpose of Texas PTA will cooperate in a smoking and health project sponsored by the National PTA and the US Public Health Service, the February issue of "The Texas Parent-Teacher," state PTA magazine, has announced.

The National PTA campaign aimed at preventing seventh- and eighth-grade students from starting to smoke has been funded by a $85,700 grant from the Public Health Service.

Texas was among 21 pilot states selected last August by the National PTA for participation in the campaign during the first year.

The central piece of material for the first year's program is a brochure on smoking and health, "His First Cigarette May Be a Matter of Life or Death," which PTA's participating states have been asked to distribute to parents of more than two million seventh- and eighth-grade students.

By 1969, parents in all 50 states, including the District of Columbia, will be involved.

US Public Health Service findings indicate that every day more than 4,000 young peo-

Grades and Success

There is a natural conflict between marks and the basic purposes of education, especially on the college and university level. In fact, grades run counter to the most important lesson a teacher can impart, namely, that respect for learning and not high grades is what education is all about.

A school can consider itself successful not when a student attains top marks but when he begins to develop the mysterious and intricate capacity for conceptual thought.

Obviously, the fact of a high grade doesn't necessarily mean that conceptual thought has been defeated. But emphasis on high marks serves to create an atmosphere in which the infinite possibilities of learning are obscured and sometimes blocked. The student tends to veer away from the bypaths of knowledge and from the voluntary quest for vital interrelationships of learning that come from unrequited reading and lonely thought.

When top grades become the summit of education, the school falls to the bottom of its possibilities.

Television & Violence

The greatest new force in inciting crime and violence in the United States today is television. This is the view of countless educators and editors.

Television's effect on youngsters was explained recently by Dr. David Abrahamson, a noted Norwegian-American psychiatrist-criminologist. Abrahamson noted that in 1941 there were 500,000 serious crimes in the United States. In 1965 there were 3,000,000.

And a few years ago, he pointed out, it was rare to find a youngster had killed someone. "Now it is not uncommon at all," he noted. Abrahamson thinks the two main causes of the alarming rise in the U. S. crime rate are the affect of so much violence on our commercial television programs and what he calls the American dream or ideal.

This dream or ideal is that everyone should be rich and happy--which makes for intense competition and worship of the dollar. This competition has alienated us from one another and even from our children in many cases, he says.

A view at comparative statistics should convince the average American of the necessity for regulation of commercial television content in the homes of America. For example, the United States murder rate is ten times that of England! We are now the most violent of all the civilized countries--and we continue to teach young and old violence through commercial sales efforts over the public airwaves.

Russians Involved

GUEST EDITORIAL--

Some elements of Congress are engaged in a controversy with the Johnson administration over the extent of Soviet involvement in aiding Communist North Vietnam in its war against South Vietnam and U. S. forces.

Congressional sources hold that 80 per cent of the war material reaching the North comes from the Soviet Union and its East European satellites. They say it is brought in by a Soviet airlift and by Soviet bloc ships unloading in Haiphong harbor. The congressional sources also charge that there are 10,000 Soviet technical personnel stationed in North Vietnam to help the Hanoi Reds.

These members of Congress scoff at the administration contention that 70 per cent of the North's war material comes from the Soviet bloc, that it arrives not by "airlift" but by irregular flights and that there are only 5,000 to 6,000 Russians in North Vietnam. They charge that the administration is only trying to minimize the Soviet involvement because of its efforts to promote greater cooperation with the Russians.

The debate over the precise figures is hardly enough to obscure one fact, however: the Russians are involved in this war on the side opposing the United States, and quite substantially involved.

In the light of this, it would be well for the American people to keep in mind--even while hoping for better U. S.--Soviet relations and eventual peace--that the Soviet Union is still an enemy to the United States and to the cause of human liberty, and at the moment is giving more than a token account of itself in that role.

How To Succeed

In recent years the growth of the federal bureaucracy has led many business men to seek success through the operations, aids and favors of the government.

Readers of the Journal especially young men and women, should not be misled in this respect. They should realize that worthwhile success in life is achieved almost exclusively through personal endeavor.

After all is said and done, the vast majority of business successes owe their growth to one or more rare individuals who contributes not only physical effort but superior intelligence and the wisdom which arises from an intangible thing we call "character."

Soil for tomorrow

GUEST EDITORIAL--

Much is being written of late of the world's need for more food to provide for expanding population. Various means are urged for increasing production.

It is surprising that so little is said about the need for saving the soil itself. Erosion control seems to have dropped from the news. Yet erosion goes on relentlessly. In the United States alone, the equivalent of 400,000 productive acres washes down into rivers each year. Another, even greater loss comes from various forms of "development," shopping centers, highways, golf courses, and the like. Two million acres of land, much of it cropland, is said to be withdrawn from agricultural use each year.

The United States cannot afford to sacrifice its soil infinitely. Yet government alone cannot save the soil. Three-quarters of the land in the 48 contiguous states is privately owned. Those who hold title to it control its general use.

The outlook would be dark, were it not for the soil conservation movement that started back in the 1930's. The first state act to permit establishment of local soil and water conservation districts was passed in 1937. All of the states have followed until the nation's farmland is now almost entirely embraced in some 3,000 democratically organized districts. Two million landowners and operators are reported working on measures to conserve their land and water.

The United States Soil Conservation Service gives them technical counsel. But this is not enough. "The bulk of the job remains ahead," says Sam S. Studebaker, president of the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

There must be closer cooperation among locally active agencies, and with all levels of government. An effective national program must be activated. So long as floods continue to wash away the topsoil of thousands of acres and ever more "improvements" cover cropland with asphalt, an emergency exists. All who believe in conservation (and who does not?) must join forces to achieve a truly national program.

HE'S FOUND A SHELTER

Dear Editor:

The following letter was sent, along with a clipping to Bob Janca, Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce.

Gentlemen: Mr. Lawrence Thompson, who writes the "Life with Larry Thompson," a column in the Miami Herald and a column that has many many faithful readers had a few lines on a Monument to a Mule in today's column.

For several years I have been interested in more recognition for the part the Mule as well as the early settlers in the hard work done to get our USA really rolling.

Of course in some parts of the country the Burro and Donkey were important in bringing this about.

It has even been claimed by some that the reason George Washington was termed the Father of His Country was that he was the original breeder of Jackasses in the new land.

It would like to know more about the Muleshoe monument to a mule.

That is a postal card or printed legend that may be available on the monument.

I am sending along a check for $5.00 to go toward purchase of postal card or printed legend and postage and incidental costs.

If such request amounts to too much more expense than the five just kick the matter.

I have a collection of over sixty Mules; Donkeys; Jennys; Burros and miscellaneous Jacks.

Of course these are in ceramic; wood; iron; pewter; glass; sterling; straw; plastic; brass; cloth and other materials.

Also have started a collection of pictures of news stories as I run across them.

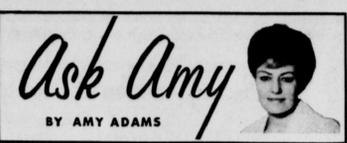

So I would very much like to add something other than "Larry's Column," on the Muleshoe Monument.

There is also a legend of a mine some where in the South west being discovered by the results of a Burro uncovering the metal (ore) by action of his feet, but I received no reply to my inquiry on this recently.

Hope this finds all here enjoying this mild winter and that my request will not cause you a great amount of effort, as ever

Ask Amy

BY AMY ADAMS

SAY IT WITH A "MESSAGE"!

Dear Amy: The other day I asked my mother if I could buy my boyfriend a sweater for Valentine's Day, and she said that it would be in bad taste and that it would be better if I didn't. When I asked her why, she said that we haven't known each other long enough and well enough.

We've liked each other ever since last October. I am 17. Should I wait? One of my girlfriends' boyfriend had bought her a beautiful green and white bulky-knit sweater and I thought it was very nice of him. They haven't been going together very long, in fact, not much longer than Bob and I have.

If it does show bad taste, why? If a sweater isn't suitable, then what would be? Bonnie

Dear Bonnie: Your mother is right. Teenagers shouldn't exchange gifts of any real monetary value. For one thing, they fall in and out of love so often it can get to be an expensive pastime . . . and a little embarrassing. My friend and I have given each other gifts for special occasions and send cards for all occasions. This concerns my mother and my children. I have always tried to stay close to mother and dad, but it seems impossible anymore.

My mother is very stubborn and doesn't agree with the way I am bringing up my children. I set certain limits for them and believe there are some things they can do without. My mother believes I should buy them everything their hearts desire, and if I don't, she does. It is getting so that my children won't listen to me. I can't seem to get through my mother's head that what she is doing is wrong. She just laughs at it. What can be done?

Dear Amy: I am married and the youngest of 4 children (who are also married). Our parents are up in years, not well and rarely leave their apartment.

This past Christmas, my 2 sisters, my brother and I decided to chip in and buy them a TV set to help pass their time instead of other things they wouldn't enjoy much. My brother and sisters didn't have their share of the money, so I paid for it with the understanding they would pay me so much a week till they paid off their share of the cost. They each gave me 4 payments, then my brother lost his job, one sister's daughter needed an operation, the other sister called me crying the blues about her financial problems.

When we planned this, I didn't get it in writing for the money they owed me, but who would dream your own sisters and brother would back out. Now I don't mind paying for it myself, but I want my parents to know

We Proudly Salute All Boy Scouts, Cubs And Their Leaders On This Occasion

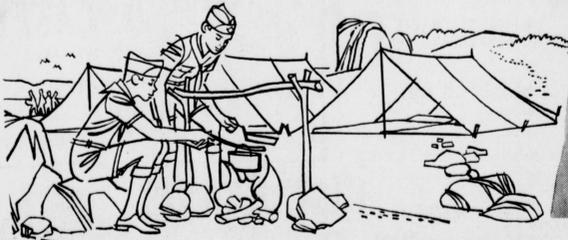

Although The Great Influence Of Scouting On Our Youth Has Been Recognized For Many Years, Much More Can Still Be Done. This Is Why The 1967 Boy Scouts Week Theme Is 'Breakthrough For Youth.'

Its Purpose Is To Introduce Scouting To More Boys.
 We Urge Scout Alumni To Help In This Challenging Program.

Scouting rounds a guy out

Scouting rounds a guy out, makes him a bigger guy than he was before — stronger, taller, more self-reliant, better with people, better with himself — helps him be as BIG as he can be.
 Scouting challenges him to be more than he thought he could be!

Miss Margaret Sanders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Sanders, Baileyboro, became the bride of R. E. Bryant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bryant, in a double ring ceremony performed Saturday Jan. 26 at 3 p.m., by the Rev. Russell McAnnally, Antton.

The Homemakers Class of the First Baptist Church met Feb. 5 in the home of Mrs. Lovie Benson. It was a social and business meeting. Mrs. Redwine directed the business session and the class decided to have a dollar day. Paper for the parsonage was discussed and several decided the date that they would work at the parsonage.

The Half Century Club met Jan. 31 in the home of Mrs. Anna Moeller, when games were played and Mrs. Moeller was re-elected president and Mrs. Pearl Moore was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The Gamma Iota Chapter of the Delta Kappa Society met in the Littlefield School for a luncheon Saturday, with the president, Mildred Hulse, presiding. Attending from Muleshoe were Mrs. Radie Boone, Mrs. G. S. Dowell, Mrs. Ed Johnson, Mrs. Jerry Kirk, Mrs. Curtis Spivey, Mrs. John Watson and Mrs. Wilson Wither-spoon.

pany. Fred Barrett and shippers of Hereford is the new concern that will plant between 250 and 300 acres of Bailey farmland to potatoes that will be processed and shipped from Muleshoe.

A cast rehearsing the Jaycees Minstrel of 1952 announced "ready" this week after several weeks of steady rehearsals. Costumes have arrived, the scenery is all set, and all they're waiting for now is for Thursday and Friday of next week to come.

Muleshoe and Bailey County were assured a new potato crop processing shed this week, when the Chamber of Commerce and local real estate men secured the required acreage and railroad trackage for the new com-

Club Members Will Sell Pins

Fund raising plans, that include the sale of jeweled American flag pins, were made at a recent meeting of the Community Improvement Program committee of Caprock District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, at the High Plains Children's Training Center at Plainview.

The pins will be available to club women at their district meeting in Lubbock March 27-28, and afterward through the Americanism chairman in their local clubs, according to Mrs. C. R. Thaxton of Post, committee chairman.

Money made from the pin sales will go to the High Plains Children's Center, CIP project of Caprock District. "Be an angel and help an angel" was the motto adopted by the committee for the district project to be known as "Caprock Angels Unaware".

Other long range plans include a benefit performance by a well-known star of stage, screen, or TV.

Eight of the 19 clubs in the district have already contributed their one dollar per member requested for the Children's Center, said Mrs. Louis Cummings, Plainview, district president.

Mrs. Roy Kidd, Lockney, a member of the CIP committee, reported that her club, the Pecos Junior Club, Lockney, has contributed 11 grade school desks which it purchased and refinished in antique colors, and that two club members donated 30 minutes of their time once a week at the Center helping children with songs and activities during their "break" period.

Mrs. Cummings re-emphasized that all money for the Center should be sent to her. She in turn gives it to the district treasurer, Mrs. Eugene Jones of Plainview, and they co-sign a check to present to the Center, which gives them a receipt on file.

Each county in the district is urged by the president to be 100 per cent in entering the CIP either as individual clubs or as part of the Children's Center project.

Each county is asked by Mrs. Cummings to designate someone to collect publicity material for the CIP district scrapbook and sent the material to her.

Present for the meeting were a committee members, Mrs. Thaxton; Mrs. Kidd; Mrs. A.D. Parker, Tulla; Mrs. James T. Harris, Tulla, district publicity chairman; and Mrs. Cummings. Mrs. Rufus Gilbreath, Muleshoe, another member of the committee, was unable to attend.

The Center has met requirements to be eligible for federal funds when such are available. According to Muleshoe's Study Club president, Mrs. Cecil Cole, Muleshoe will be part of the project.

Baylor Plans New Buildings

Baylor University Trustees have authorized preliminary planning for two new buildings and accepted President Atner V. McCall's suggestion that the Baptist school hold against raising tuition as long as possible.

The building program is for a new physical education building at a cost of about $250,000 and a new building to house the Baylor Press at a cost of about $150,000.

Some local or designated financing now is available but a final go-ahead depends on availability of funds, E. B. Burleson, trustee said.

Rep. Clayton Offers New Bills At Austin

AUSTIN--Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake, who proposed Thursday a bill taking the state Parks and Wildlife Commission out of solicitation of private funds for private parks, says the LBJ State Park "had a little to do" with his bill.

The bill apparently is aimed at the controversy over the private fund to buy and develop the Lyndon B. Johnson State Park near the LBJ Ranch.

Clayton also introduced a bill requiring all donations to the commission for parks must be made a matter of public record, with the name of the contributor and the amount given listed.

Boards of soil and water conservation districts would gain powers of eminent domain to regulate lands, rights-of-way assessments and other land interests needed if the Legislature passes a bill by Rep. Clayton and Sen. Jack Hightower of Vernon.

Clayton's House Bill 104 and Hightower's SB 66, introduced Tuesday, proposes the right of eminent domain for soil conservation districts, but states they must notify the State Soil and Water Conservation Board before exercising that right.

If and when Congress repeals Section 14B of the Hart-Atterley Act, thereby nullifying Texas' labor law, Texas may have a new labor law.

Rep. Clayton has introduced a bill declaring right-to-work as public policy in the State of Texas and setting forth provisions to regulate labor unions.

Clayton's bill declares "the inherent right of persons to work shall not be denied or abridged or account of membership or non-membership in a labor union or labor organization."

Unions may not, under the provisions of the bill, require anyone to pay in order to obtain or hold a job. Membership may not be prohibited because of race, color, sex, religion or national origin. It further prohibits unions from using dues for any political purpose.

Clayton has introduced a bill providing for privileged communication between a clergyman and his parishioner and between a doctor and his patient.

Rep. Jim Clark of Houston is co-sponsoring the measure, which was referred by Speaker Ben Barnes to the House Judiciary Committee.

The proposed law would prohibit a clergyman's revealing "any penitential communication" in a civil lawsuit, a criminal proceeding or an administrative proceeding, without the express written consent of the penitent. The bill would also allow a penitent or his clergyman to refuse to divulge such information and to "prevent a person from disclosing" it. The same protection, with exceptions, is extended to a doctor and his patient.

Retail sales made by religious, educational, charitable or fraternal organizations, under specified qualifications, would be exempted from the state sales tax through another bill introduced by Clayton.

Clarification of water-rights priorities throughout the state is the purpose of another bill introduced by Clayton. Speaker Ben Barnes referred it to the Conservation and Reclamation Committee.

Clayton also introduced a bill to require the director of a water district or river authority to file his personal bond with the secretary of state.

Measles, A Killer

It's time to stop thinking of measles as a slightly humorous childhood disease, says the American Medical Association.

Many people don't realize two important things about measles: First, it's a crippling and killer. Measles strikes millions of children, but the ones left with deafness or mental defects or encephalitis-- or even the ones who die-- seem to be forgotten by the public. Measles isn't all a funny disease; it's one whose tragedy isn't fully realized.

Second, measles could be eliminated as a major health threat. Some medical officials believe it could be eradicated in this country within a year. There's no doubt that it should be. Several types of anti-measles vaccine are available. They are easily administered by your physician and have been proven safe and effective.

Measles - susceptible children can be immunized by their family's physician. The best time is when they are approximately one year old. Older susceptible children -- those who have never had measles nor been given measles vaccine -- should be immunized as soon as possible, particularly if they are of school age.

In some communities, and in the states of Rhode Island and Delaware, measles has been practically eliminated by concerted, arewide immunization campaigns.

Music Appreciation

I am not a musician, but as I write this I think back and realize how my taste in music has changed. Early in life, it took only the simplest childhood jingles to please me, then in school I was trained and taught to appreciate more intricate music. All through life I feel that my knowledge of... and appreciation for music has grown and matured.

Through study and help from others, I have also grown as a Christian and have a better appreciation of my Lord.

My knowledge of, and love for God increases with each church worship service... This way of life and worship, I would recommend to anyone. Won't you try it... Start by attending church this Sunday.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

LENTEN VALUES at Piggly Wiggly

Biggest variety for meatless meals!

Money Saving FOOD TIPS:

You're throwing money away if you discard the gelatin and juices from a canned ham. Use it to season stews or gravy, or add it to the cooking liquid for rice or beans for a zestier taste.

Piggly Wiggly will pay you $5.00 for accepted Food Tips that save money. Send your Food Tip to:
