LEAGUE CIRCLES FROWN ON PEACE PLAN

Drop 9 Members From High School Band

Through the Editor's
Spectacles

By GEORGE

How progressive imagination can make $40,000 out of nothing was demonstrated here this morning when an idle rumor, coursing through the city, said that that sum in forgotten bank notes had been located in cleaning out an old vault. The vault is in the Cisco State bank building. Officials of the Cisco Mortgage Loan company, owners of the building, remarked that if 10 cents had been found, it was news to them. The money was said to belong to a Cisco citizen, now dead.

The incident reminds of the persistent quest for buried treasure that went on about Cisco some years ago. The farm of Bob Key, three miles west of the city, was literally honeycombed with bores sunk 20 feet or more by means of a small auger in the hunt for what tradition had said was $50,000 buried by a gang of fleeing bank bandits. Deep pits were dug. In one of the pits a luckless turtle, unable to mount the sheer sides, illustrated what could happen to a cow, also luckless, and Bob took steps to put a halt to the excavations.

Time after time the searchers, convinced by intangible tradition, came back to expend hours and days of back-breaking labor with a zeal they would not have employed on more prosaic but certain tasks of common reward. Had they put as much time and interest into making a crop or building a business they would certainly have prospered—at least to a greater degree than their disappointment in not finding the fabled treasure returned them.

HAZING PACT BREACH CITED BY OFFICIALS

"Did What Was Best for Future," Principal
Brandon Says

Removal of nine senior members of the band from further duty with the high school organization as the aftermath of a reported hazing incident Monday night was made public by High School Principal H. Brandon with the statement that the boys had violated an agreement entered into at the beginning of the school year.

"We have done what we think is the best thing for the boys, for the band and for the school as a whole as concerns the future and not the present," he said. "The action we have taken was taken in the interest of the band's future."

"It is true that the members relieved of duties held important places in the organization, but there is no member so important but what his place can be filled."

Investigation by the school authorities revealed, he said, that the nine members of the band took seven freshmen to a spot on the Scranton road Monday evening, stripped them and forced them to run up and down on the road, whipping them with their belts.

"We took steps toward adjusting the situation Tuesday morning, as quickly as we heard about it," he said. "The action has been revealed as an organized effort of certain of the members to violate an agreement and to 'have some fun'."

Brandon explained that when R. L. Maddox, new band instructor, came to Cisco in the summer to take over direction of the band, that he was instructed to "take control of the situation" and prevent recurrence of hazing incidents, practised by the older band members upon freshmen members.

"When Mr. Maddox came here, he stopped that practise and at the beginning of the school term entered into an agreement with the band members that some method of initiating new members that would not cause physical pain or great expense would be adopted. It was also agreed that after the annual band banquet, held on Friday night following Thanksgiving, there would be no more initiation, but each freshman would then be considered a full-fledged member. A method was worked out and agreed to by all members, including the freshmen. The incident Monday evening was in direct violation of that agreement. It is essential that we take the proper steps to correct it."

The removal of the nine members will necessitate election of new officers, several of the old ones being among the nine, Brandon said.

CLEAR SKIES REASSURING

HOUSTON, Dec. 12. (AP)—Fair skies and cold weather today removed definitely the threat of a second flood, as relief and rehabilitation work was being pushed.

New Trial Denied To School Teacher

15 LOBOES ARE NAMED FOR LETTERS

Only Five of Entire Squad to Be Back
Next Year

Announcement of 15 members of the Lobo football squad who will receive letters—all of them but one either seniors or ineligible for next year's play under league rules—was made today by Coach Dexter Shelley.

The boys will receive their sweaters at the end of this semester provided, however, they pass three-fourths of their courses. If they fail to pass this number, they will have opportunity next semester to retrieve the failure and gain the letter.

Those nominated for letters are: Capt. Roy Burnam, N. P. Barnes, Gerald Merrett, Reuben Wende, W. J. Beasley, Dick Stansbury, Fred Rylee, Royce Rainbolt, Burl Wagley, Jack McCantles, Buel Wood, Lander Cleveland, Robert Hazlewood, Paul Ivie and Joe Slicker.

Slicker is the only junior eligible, under present interscholastic league rules, to return. Hazlewood and Rainbolt are not seniors but length of participation and age regulations catch them. Only about five of the entire squad will return for the team next year under present regulations.

Cuban Temporary President to Be Elected Tonight

HAVANA, Dec. 12. (AP)—The Cuban state council and cabinet ministers today set tonight for the session to elect the provisional president. Jose Barnett, former secretary of state, and temporary head of the government, is mentioned prominently as the probable choice of the council.

Meanwhile the police and soldiers pushed the search for Nicholas Castano, the kidnaped millionaire.

SESSIONS MAY BE DELAYED

AUSTIN, Dec. 12. (AP)—Governor Allred today indicated that the special session to provide old-age pension revenue might be delayed pending the determination of the state's needs for new funds. He said it was difficult to ascertain how much additional revenue would be needed. He said that R. B. Anderson, tax commissioner, had started conferences on a tax bill designed to provide the state's needs.

Constitutional Gov't Restored to Egypt

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 12. (AP)—King Faud today signed the royal decree, restoring constitutional government to Egypt.

Great Britain consented after a persistent nationalist and anti-British campaign. The constitution provides for a senate, and chamber of deputies, and takes control of internal affairs from the British. It does not affect British control of Egyptian foreign affairs, nor the British.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Donica of Springfield, Mo., are the guests for a few days of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Donica of the Mobley hotel. G. C. and J. C. Donica are brothers. G. C. is with the Frisco railroad.

ALLRED DEMANDS 'FACTS' IN HEARING ON SAFETY COMM'N

AUSTIN, Dec. 12. (AP)—Governor Allred said today that the legislative committee investigating the department of the public safety commission ought to come to Austin in "common decency and fairness" and give officials who have been "stunned" chances to answer charges against them.

He demanded a hearing to give the public the "facts." He said it was only fair that the committee receive the "other side of the Hickman case," in view of the wild charges on the floor of the house, and "after this discharged ranger has been dragged through the press."

The governor's demands coincided with that of Representative Ford, of McGregor, who wants the hearing held in Austin, the majority of the committee, however, called for the session tomorrow to be held in San Antonio.

Walter Cline and Three Others Are Unhurt in Crash

CHILDRESS, Tex., Dec. 12. (AP)—Two pilots and two passengers, including Walter Cline, former managing director of the Texas Centennial, miraculously escaped death near here today when the pilot, Lee Bishop, successfully landed a Braniff airplane machine after the motor had dropped out in mid-air.

The plane was a few miles west of here when one motor tore loose and dropped in a corn field, and the plane dived to earth, but Bishop leveled it off, struck the ground going sixty miles an hour over plowed earth and crashed through a fence.

JAP DEMANDS ARE REJECTED

LONDON, Dec. 12. (AP)—The naval powers today rejected the Japanese naval equality demands at the international naval conference. The meeting broke up at noon, with the Japanese delegates leaving hastily to submit certain questions to Tokyo.

Great Britain is reported to have taken the lead in opposing the equality demands of Japan.

Ticket Sales on Electrolux Will Swell Xmas Fund

Proceeds from sales of tickets on the Lions Electrolux gas refrigerator are expected to swell the Christmas campaign for convention funds to proportions that will assure an outstanding meeting of district 2-E Lions here next June 16 and 17, finance chairman, J. A. Bearman, announced today.

"Some family is going to be very happy when the beautiful automatic gas refrigerator is delivered to their home two days before Christmas," he said. "Every member of the Cisco Lions Club has Electrolux tickets for sale. The price is only fifty cents, a small investment that will return ten fold when 400 visiting Lions leave here next June with the desire to return and take full advantage of our outdoor recreational and vacation advantages. It is estimated that the visiting Lions will spend $4,000 in Cisco during the convention."

The Electrolux will remain on display in the window of the Community Natural Gas Company till December 23 when it will be placed on a truck and paraded through the business section. The winning ticket will be drawn after the parade in front of the Community office.

It was donated to the club through the efforts of H. L. Dyer, district manager of the Community Natural Gas Company, for the purpose of assisting the local Lions Club in raising funds to meet expenses necessary in making visiting Lions enjoy their visit in this city so they will leave praising local recreational advantages.

One Van Swearingen Brother Succumbs

OIL EMBARGO SIDETRACKED BY COMMITTEE

Selassie Rejects Offer
as Rewarding Violence

(By Associated Press)
The League of Nations' sanctions committee side-tracked the oil embargo and new sanctions proposals today, and placed the plans for settling the Italo-Ethiopian war before the general council, which will meet Wednesday to discuss the question.

The Franco-British peace proposals met with a rebellious reception in League circles, as many of the states took a firm stand against major concessions to Italy.

Emperor Selassie rejected the proposals, saying "I cannot submit to force which we never provoked, because that would be rewarding violence."

French sources raised the possibility that sanctions against Italy might be abandoned because of Selassie's refusal to accept the peace terms.

Italy's armies prepared today for a push against their southern lines by an Ethiopian army of 150,000.

Another Party Off Today For Hunting Field

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

For as the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater; so shall my word be that goeth forth from my mouth; it shall not return unto me void; but shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereof I sent it.—Isaiah 55:10, 11.

But soon perplexing knots appear
Which vex and hinders progress' flow.
Impatient fingers pull and tear,
While even worse the tangles grow.
Thus, God, we bring our snarls to thee;
Though human sense and stubborn will
Oft clamor loud for mastery,
We hear alone Love's "Peace, be still."
—EDITH BROWN.

Religion is an inner companionship with the highest in the universe. It is a loyalty to God which is supreme above all other loyalties. God, and the will of God, and the mind of God, and the spirit of God. We do not spoil our lives by thinking big and high thoughts. By low and little thoughts we spoil them. To know God; that is life. Nothing else is life.—Winfred Rhoades.

Striving for the Top

EVERY young worker who has arrived at working age since 1920 would be superfluous in our existing economic system if everybody were to use the latest and best inventions and improvements."

THIS rather startling and certainly not encouraging opinion upon the stage reached by our highly technological civilization was made by Walter B. Pitkin, author of "Life Begins at Forty," in a Rotary magazine article this month. Pitkin takes issue with the "old refrain of the prosperous Twenties" that there is always room at the top, admitting that the claim is still true, but under vastly changed conditions.

IN the first place, he writes, the room at the top is much smaller. Only a hand-picked few will get in. This means that multitudes of young men and women will have to be content with employment that requires only a fraction of their abilities. The "room at the top" will accommodate only a small number of those who survive the hardest sort of competition.

WHETHER or not Mr. Pitkin's analysis of the situation is true, his statement of qualifications necessary for reaching the top forms an excellent guide for the ambition-bound young man or woman, intent on getting to the top of his or her profession.

HE names them as:
HEALTH—vital to men and women at the top of every field;

HIGH ENERGY—High achievement of any kind requires an enormous volume of energy. The brilliant weakling has a bitter struggle in the battle for room at the top.

PERSISTENCE—Scattered efforts, no matter how energetic, are ineffective. Organized, constant energy counts.

THOROUGHNESS—Slipshod methods and mere "passing" grades don't command premiums.

HIGH TECHNICAL TRAINING—Yesterday's leaders were skilled in gross production. Tomorrow's leaders must be skilled in the technical difficulties of cutting costs and improving quality.

SOCIAL SENSE—Ability to get along with people and to give service is essential.

SELF-KNOWLEDGE AND SELF-UNDERSTANDING—Those who seek the room at the top must know what they want and how to go about getting it with the means and personality at their disposal.

ADAPTABILITY—An open mind and a versatile interest, together with a willingness to tackle any reasonable assignment and an ability to take orders in an objective spirit, are necessary qualifications.

WILLINGNESS TO WORK FOR A LONG TIME AT JOBS REQUIRING LESS THAN ONE'S ABILITIES.

A KNOWLEDGE OF LOCAL AFFAIRS AND WIDE ACQUAINTANCESHIP WITH LOCAL HOPE.

THERE is no doubt but what these essentials, if observed, will aid the aspiring worker to climb in any profession for which he is equipped and to which he addresses himself. Whether or not he reaches the upper room depends upon the quality of his work and the intangible thing known as fortune. But the assured reward of any good job well done is a sense of personal satisfaction that is ennobling and entirely compensatory.

history is the record of life; life as acted by the human race constitutes our civilization. Hence we can see the place of the newspaper in creating society, for better or worse. The head of a news agency said lately, "News must be unbiased." Its end in information, data on which private and public opinion may be safely based. Scientific and unbiased dissemination of the happenings of the world would lead to a better understanding. Whereas propaganda makes for misunderstanding.

After their high school playing days are over, many of these boys go on to college and Purdue has long been a favorite with them.

However, in the last few years other Big Ten schools, particularly Michigan, have been grabbing the Hoosier youngsters, with the result that the roster of almost every conference squad boasts at least one or two Indiana lads.

This year's tall-boy problem also has Rollie Williams, Iowa coach, worried. He's calling it "youngsters' year" because of so many sophomores, but he also has three giants for the coveted center position. They measure six-five, six-six, and six-seven.

Minnesota, never the factor in basketball that it is on the gridiron, is leaning to its football squad to bolster the Gopher court quintet.

As a matter of fact, five candidates have come over from the grid team to try their hand at basketball. They are George Roscoe, Earl Svendsen, Ray Antil, Mal Eiken and Bill Freimuth.

Schedules in all Big Ten schools open this month, but the championship race, as in the past, does not get underway until the first week in January.

NEVER MIND THE LADY by David Garth

SYNOPSIS: Terry Willett is at the American embassy in the capital, telling George Fox, the attache, that he proposes to have the shipment of equipment he has come to see about on board the "Parajaibo" this same night. Fox knows that means trouble, for the native government is mixed up in the delay. Allaire West knows the same thing, and is already making plans to be in on the fun, whenever and wherever it starts.

Chapter Seven TERRY BEGINS

Willett went on. "Dad's sitting up the river with a 45 in one hand and a vial of quinine in the other. That stuff goes abroad the 'Parajaibo' tonight."

"Strike one, George," breathed the girl.

"Would you mind telling me what you're going to do?" Fox asked politely.

Willett shrugged. "How do I know? Start off for the docks and take my cue as I go along. The ship clears at noon tomorrow."

Allaire flicked her cigaret into the shadows. He was right. Thinking dragged at speedy action. Step on the gas and catch the signals as you speed by.

"Do you want to go along, George?" she asked lazily. "Or hear about it over the radio?"

Two men looking at her—one astonished, the other with downright apprehension.

"Huh?" said Willett uncertainly. "Go along—?"

"She's funny that way," Fox said rapidly. He felt a little irritated. Somehow they made him feel like the kind of a person who put his feet in hot water and a mustard plaster on his chest every time there was a draught.

Her amused glance goaded him into going on.

"Lay off the lone wolf stuff, Terry. Tomorrow—"

"Tonight," said Willett, not even looking at him, "they're loading the 'Parajaibo.'" His eyes were on the girl.

Tonight. Always tonight. Fox was a man in a leaky rowboat bucking a strong current, and he knew it.

"Are you serious about going?"

His voice was elaborately casual. "Because if you are I'll have to go with you, I suppose."

He grinned. "Rule One of the efficient Foreign Officer—Promoting and protecting the interests of the United States and its citizens."

"Yeah," drawled Willett, "so they tell me. Hildez will swoon when he sees those clothes. Better get a coat, George."

Fox nodded and strode away up the path toward the Legation Club. Willett watched him go, and then turned quickly to the girl.

"So long," he said, holding out his hand.

"You're not waiting for him to come back?"

He shook his head. "Leaving by a side gate. If there was any trouble old George would be caught in a bad spot."

He smiled. She liked his smile, white teeth in the bronze of his face, and his eyes crinkling at the corners.

"Stay away from docks at night," he said easily. "No bands playing or people waving—just some damn fools stumbling over packing boxes and wishing they were diplomats—"

He dropped her hand and turned away; leaving behind something that had hit him queerly and passed.

Back to the job, the everlasting Great God Job. Wearily fighting both the Palva and malicious red tape—Lawrence Willett waiting for him, looking eagerly down the river, a 45 in his hand for all the Chalkis to see.

His own hand tentatively touched a slight bulge under his left arm. Good medicine for the docks at Rosina B. A lovely girl in evening gown—poor Fox had perspired blood.

He went out at the side of the Legation Club and hailed an ambling carriage.

As a child she had loved to follow parades, chase a brass band and the trend of marching feet. And when the ring in the air passed she had always felt the surge of a desire to keep alive that note of spirited rhythm—somehow.

The gardens were very quiet, but a note still rang. A thin-lipped young man had come and gone; come heralded by a shaking Embassy runner, and gone with a grin for the welfare of an attache. She knew she had seen a parade—and the gardens were very quiet.

She got up restlessly and went back to the lighted Legion Club, slipping through a door on the terrace into a swirl of music and the scrape of feet, smell of starched shirts, and cocktails, and perfumes.

She surveyed the scene estimating a moment, balancing it against thousands of others, and then moved straight through a politely importuning stag line toward the conservatory.

It was there that Fox found her, Fox with a topcoat buttoned about his throat and a soft black snap brim in his hand.

"Willett—?" he began.

"He's gone," she told him, sinking into a chair. "Y'know, darling, the lamp of reason kind of back-fired on you, didn't it? Why?"

Why? Fox didn't care to tell her the reason. Knowledge like that with Allaire West might be fatal. He recognized a merciless strain of quicksilver in this girl who had learned to ask favors from nobody.

The lamp of reason—he'd never lost it. He only knew that the one thing in the world she recognized was action, quick, spontaneous action.

And sincerity was a keynote to George Fox's character. He knew perfectly well he was falling in love with her.

"I could chase after him—," he began.

"Don't," she advised briefly. "I don't think he liked the idea of having you tag along."

Her eyes were kind, however. He was nice, he had style and something the rest of this crowd didn't have. A certain boyish earnestness, perhaps. But attaches don't risk prowling around docks.

"There's LaMarr dancing with Nell," she said suddenly. "I despise LaMarr; he's followed us from Buenos Aires like a scavenging shark in the wake of a ship. Do go forth to war, George, and un-horse your varlet."

He hesitated a moment. There was yet time for him to dash out into the darkness like a new edition of Svengali at a fifty-cent matinee. Then he took off his coat and slung it into a chair.

Allaire watched him as he went out on the floor to separate her mother from the polished, self-styled globe-trotter, LaMarr. (Copyright, 1935, by David Garth.)

Tomorrow, Allaire swipes a motor car, and takes Novae on an exciting journey.

'Nothing Unusual' Seen In Tying Up Of AAA Rice Tax

By HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Any attempt to anticipate final action of the supreme court on the constitutionality of AAA in light of the tribunal's decision against treasury collection of processing taxes from southern rice millers, is premature.

Court attaches, government officials and lawyers all agree the temporary injunction granted the rice millers over the government's demand that they "pay first and litigate later" was nothing unusual in court procedure.

A strictly legal question was involved rather than a broad constitutional issue.

Nor can the stir created by the fact that the justices aligned themselves 6-3 on the question be interpreted safely as presaging what is in store when the court actually decides the fate of AAA and the processing taxes.

Justices Brandeis, Stone and Cardozo sided with the government against the rice millers. Yet these three "liberals" joined in the unanimous decisions invalidating NRA and the Franzier-Lemke act last May.

Wild Rumors

Any pronouncement from the supreme court these days, however remotely affecting AAA, is the signal for the wildest sort of flurry in and out of Washington.

When the court ruled in the rice case the rumor spread like wildfire among the hundreds of temporary employes in AAA headquarters here that the supreme court had thrown out AAA and their jobs.

When decision actually is reached, a red letter day is promised for Washington and the remainder of the country. Invalidation of NRA and other decisions affecting the "new deal" will pale in comparison, whichever way the court holds.

Stakes Involved

The political and economic stakes involved are tremendous.

The question of federal budget balancing is tied up directly with the court's decision. The government stands to gain or lose somewhere around a half-billion dollars in processing taxes. While the administration has hinted other methods of taxation will be found to replace the processing levy in case of an adverse decision.

U. S. Natators Make Marks Abroad In Cold Water and Hot Atmosphere

VIENNA, Dec. 12. (AP)—European swimmers like their water cold, and their air hot, it was observed here by Stanley Brauning-er of Chicago, trainer of the Lake Shore Athletic club.

Brauning-er toured Europe with three speedy youngsters from Chicago who amazed the old world with the regularity with which they smashed records in a quick succession of exhibition meets.

Adolph Kiefer, 16-year-old school boy who was one of Brauning-er's charges, smashed back stroke records, some of them his own, no fewer than 14 times. Art Highland beat the European champion, Franz Csik, once, and on another occasion was trimmed by Csik. Max Brydenthal, breast stroke champion, was credited by European sports authorities with setting up five new indoor records.

"My boys gave an extraordinary account of themselves, and did it under conditions to which they were unaccustomed," Brauning-er said.

"Water in European pools was colder than we like it. And almost always the air in tank rooms was bad. Great crowds jammed every available space, and it never seemed to occur to anyone that ventilation might be necessary. So the record smashing performance of my little team was all the more remarkable."

Brauning-er found Europeans keenly interested in swimming, and said meets here attracted larger crowds than similar competitions in the United States. He said that everywhere European competitors of his team were good sportsmen and fine hosts.

From here the team went to Oslo and Copenhagen en route home.

Although there is a large Italian colony in Rio Grande do Sul state, Brazil, the Italian invasion of Ethiopia is not popular there, say dispatches from Porto Alegre, state capital, which tell of violent scenes in "talkie" theaters whenever films of Il Duce are shown.

Indians, Repulsed in Two Rose Bowl Engagements, Are "Pass-Minded" for Mustangs

By DUDLEY ROSS
 STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., Dec. 12. (AP) — Upset two years ago by Columbia and bombed to defeat last year by Alabama, Stanford's famous sophomores of 1933—now seniors—will make one last stand for victory in Pasadena's Rose Bowl on New Year's Day against Southern Methodist.

It will be the last collegiate football game for eight of the first-string varsity, and to win a Rose Bowl victory in their third attempt will erase the bitter taste of the pills labeled 7 to 0 and 29 to 13 by Columbia and Alabama, respectively.

Two of those ex-sophomores

who have dominated the Pacific Coast gridirons, in victory, draw or even defeat for three straight seasons will be missing, but Coach Claude E. (Tiny) Thornhill expects to put this season's best-functioning eleven on the Pasadena turf.

The missing are Frank Alustiza, the hard-as-rock, blocking back who teamed up for two varsity years with his more famous mates, all-America Bobby Grayson and "Bones" Hamilton, and Claude Callaway, Bob Reynolds' running mate at tackle.

Alustiza was knocked off the gridiron permanently this fall with an eye injury, and Callaway didn't even don a uniform, on doctors' orders, because of a siege of bronchial pneumonia last spring.

The others will be there, however—"Monk" Moscrip and Keith Topping at ends, Reynolds at tackle, Larry Rouble and Woody Adams at guards, Wes Muller at center, and Grayson and Hamilton in the backfield. Moscrip's presence looked doubtful when he suffered a jaw fracture and a knee injury in Stanford's big game with California, but he is expected to be in there again when New Year's Day rolls around.

League Circles Frown on Peace Proposals

OIL EMBARGO SIDETRACKED BY COMMITTEE

(By Associated Press)
The League of Nations' sanctions committee side-tracked the oil embargo and new sanctions proposal Thursday, and placed the plans for settling the Italo-Ethiopian war before the general council, which will meet Wednesday to discuss the question.
The Franco-British peace proposals met with a rebellious reception in League circles, as many of the states took a firm stand against major concessions to Italy.
Emperor Selassie rejected the proposals, saying "I cannot submit to force which we never provoked, because that would be rewarding violence."
French sources raised the possibility that sanctions against Italy might be abandoned because of Selassie's refusal to accept the peace terms.
Italy's armies prepared today for a push against their southern lines by an Ethiopian army of 150,000.

President Defends AAA Program

President Roosevelt, shown as he addressed the huge Chicago meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation, said the administration's farm program had given consumers "net benefits" and that "political profiteers" were seeking to stir up city people in opposition to the farm program. (Associated Press photo).

ALLRED DEMANDS 'FACTS' IN HEARING ON SAFETY COMM'N

AUSTIN, Dec. 12. (AP)—Governor Allred said today that the legislative committee investigating the department of the public safety commission ought to come to Austin in "common decency and fairness" and give officials who have been "slurred" chances to answer charges against them.
He demanded a hearing to give the public the "facts." He said it was only fair that the committee receive the "other side of the Hickman case," in view of the wild charges on the floor of the house, and "after this discharged ranger has been dragged through the press."
The governor's demands coincided with that of Representative Ford, of McGregor, who wants the hearing held in Austin, the majority of the committee, however, called for the session tomorrow to be held in San Antonio.

SESSIONS MAY BE DELAYED

AUSTIN, Dec. 12. (AP)—Governor Allred today indicated that the special session to provide old-age pension revenue might be delayed pending the determination of the state's needs for new funds.
He said it was difficult to ascertain how much additional revenue would be needed. He said that R. B. Anderson, tax commissioner, had started conferences on a tax bill designed to provide the state's needs.

Building in Ghost Town Still Standing

CARTHAGE, N. C., Dec. 12. (AP)—A ghost town sleeps 40 miles from here.
Once engaged in the production of millstones out of Moore county grit, the town has been abandoned 44 years.
The buildings are all there, including homes, postoffice, hotel, stores and other structures, but no people.
The stained hotel register shows the last entry was made April 2, 1891. The streets are grown over in weeds and shrubs.
Why human beings abandoned the spot is a matter of conjecture.

Henry Cases Have Been Postponed

EASTLAND, Dec. 12.—On agreement of attorneys of both parties, cases of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Henry, charged with murder in connection with the death of H. L. McBee, have been postponed from Dec. 16 in 91st district court until sometime in January.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry, the latter the former wife of McBee, were charged with murder in connection with the death of the former highway worker after his skeleton was found hanging by a wire from a tree near Rising Star on Dec. 22 of last year.

One Van Swearingen Brother Succumbs

CLEVELAND, Dec. 12. (AP)—M. J. Van Swearingen, who, with his brother, O. P. Swearingen, rose from poverty to build the great rail empire, died here today in a hospital after several months of illness.

Walter Cline and Three Others Are Unhurt in Crash

CHILDRESS, Tex., Dec. 12. (AP)—Two pilots and two passengers, including Walter Cline, former managing director of the Texas Centennial, miraculously escaped death near here today when the pilot, Lee Bishop, successfully landed a Braniff airplane machine after the motor had dropped out in mid-air.
The plane was a few miles west of here when one motor tore loose and dropped in a corn field, and the plane dived to earth, but Bishop leveled it off, struck the ground going sixty miles an hour over plowed earth and crashed through a fence.

GEOLOGIST IS CLUB SPEAKER

Noyes B. Livingston, Fort Worth geologist, gave the Cisco Rotary club a brief, interesting geologic discussion Thursday, illustrated with specimens of various rocks, fossils and mineral formations selected from the great collection he has gathered from all over the world.
He brought 63 specimens to the club, but in the 25 minutes that he spoke, he was able to deal with but a few of these.
The theory that the interior of the earth is in a liquid state has been disproved to the satisfaction of modern geology, he said, by recording impulses that are sent through the earth. These impulses, he explained, are known not to pass through liquid. When fissures or breaks and faults occur in the earth crust, he explained, the solid matter, expanding as it is released becomes liquid and flows out. The effect of such phenomena in the formation of rocks was illustrated in several of the specimens he showed.

Modern Hospital Is Servicing Farm People

HAMPTONVILLE, N. C., Dec. 12. (AP)—A general hospital located on a farm and serving a purely rural clientele is operated nine miles from here by Dr. William A. Trivette.
The hospital, a 24-room brick structure, two stories and a basement, is equipped with all modern appliances of medicine and surgery. A windmill tower supplies running water and the building is electrically lighted.
Dr. Trivette employs three doctors and four nurses. An up-to-date nurses' home adjoins the hospital.

Second States Well Scheduled to Start

EASTLAND, Dec. 12.—Second well to be drilled by the States Oil Corporation, Eastland, in the Gorman area, was scheduled to get under way this week.
States Oil's first well, third completion in the Kirk & Davison pool, was completed recently, according to reports, for 160 barrels from a lime pay topped at 2,840 feet.
The new well is the No. 1 S. H. Huckabee, Section 64, 20 acres out of the southeast fourth, Block 2, H. & T. C. Ry. survey. Depth of 2,900 feet is contemplated.

Ranger Man Fined for Simple Assault

EASTLAND, Dec. 12.—George Stewart of Ranger was found guilty of simple assault and was fined $15 and costs by an 88th district court jury Tuesday.
Indictment charged Stewart with an assault of Noah Welch in Ranger on Oct. 19.
A. M. Hearn was foreman of the jury composed of F. L. Drago, Tom Overbey, E. N. Francis, D. H. Gaston, Harve Vestal, C. H. Yeager, J. E. Gilbert, Joe Donoway, C. C. Clarkson and C. A. Hummel.

Wife Points Out Slayer of Editor

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 12. (AP)—John Hilborn, supervisor of detectives, announced Wednesday that Mrs. Walter Liggett had positively identified Isadore (Kid Cann) Blumenfeld, liquor agent, as the slayer of her husband, crusading Minneapolis publisher.
He said she picked out Blumenfeld from seven men in the city jail.

Prisoner Admits Being Bank Bandit

NEW TAZEWELL, Tenn., Dec. 12. (AP)—Sheriff Frank Riley said that Frank Hopson, 22 years of age, surrendered Saturday and admitted being one of the three bandits who robbed the bank here Friday during which they killed Sheriff L. B. Hutchinson, of Union county.
He named Gus McCoig and Pete Dean, escaped convicts, as his companions, and said that McCoig killed the sheriff.

15 LOBOES ARE NAMED FOR LETTERS

Announcement of 15 members of the Lobo football squad who will receive letters—all of them but one either seniors or ineligible for next year's play under league rules—was made Thursday by Coach Dexter Shelley.

Clear Skies Reassuring

HOUSTON, Dec. 12. (AP)—Fair skies and cold weather today removed definitely the threat of a second flood, as relief and rehabilitation work was being pushed.
The theory that the interior of the earth is in a liquid state has been disproved to the satisfaction of modern geology, he said, by recording impulses that are sent through the earth. These impulses, he explained, are known not to pass through liquid. When fissures or breaks and faults occur in the earth crust, he explained, the solid matter, expanding as it is released becomes liquid and flows out. The effect of such phenomena in the formation of rocks was illustrated in several of the specimens he showed.

NINE MEMBERS DROPPED FROM BAND ROSTER

Removal of nine senior members of the band from further duty with the high school organization as the aftermath of a reported hazing incident Monday night was made public by High School Principal H. Brandon with the statement that the boys had violated an agreement entered into at the beginning of the school year.
"We have done what we think is the best thing for the boys, for the band and for the school as a whole as concerns the future and not the present," he said. "The action we have taken was taken in the interest of the band's future."
"It is true that the members relieved of duties held important places in the organization, but there is no member so important but what his place can be filled."

Incident

Investigation by the school authorities revealed, he said, that the nine members of the band took seven freshmen to a spot on the Scranton road Monday evening, stripped them and forced them to run up and down on the road, whipping them with their belts.
"We took steps toward adjusting the situation Tuesday morning, as quickly as we heard about it," he said. "The action has been revealed as an organized effort of certain of the members to violate an agreement and to 'have some fun!'"

Agreement

Brandon explained that when R. L. Maddox, new band instructor, came to Cisco in the summer to take over direction of the band, that he was instructed to "take control of the situation" and prevent recurrence of hazing incidents, practised by the older band members upon freshmen members.
"When Mr. Maddox came here, he stopped that practise and at the beginning of the school term entered into an agreement with the band members that some method of initiating new members that would not cause physical pain or great expense would be adopted. It was also agreed that after the annual band banquet, held on Friday night following Thanksgiving, there would be no more initiation, but each freshman would then be considered a full-fledged member. A method was worked out and agreed to by all members, including the freshmen. The incident Monday evening was in direct violation of that agreement. It is essential that we take the proper steps to correct it."

Through the Editor's Spectacles

By GEORGE
How progressive imagination can make $40,000 out of nothing was demonstrated here Thursday morning when an idle rumor, coursing through the city said that that sum in forgotten bank notes had been located in cleaning out an old vault. The vault is in the Cisco State bank building. Officials of the Cisco Mortgage Loan company, owners of the building, remarked that if 10 cents had been found, it was flews to them. The money was said to belong to a Cisco citizen, now dead.

The incident reminds of the persistent quest for buried treasure that went on about Cisco some years ago. The farm of Bob Key, three miles west of the city, was literally honeycombed with bores sunk 20 feet or more by means of a small augur in the hunt for what tradition had said was $50,000 buried by a gang of fleeing bank bandits. Deep pits were dug. In one of the pits a luckless turtle, unable to mount the sheer sides, illustrated what could happen to a cow, also luckless, and Bob took steps to put a halt to the excavations.

Time after time the searchers, convinced by intangible tradition, came back to expend hours and days of back-breaking labor with a zeal they would not have employed on more prosaic but certain tasks of common reward. Had they put as much time and interest into making a crop or building a business they would certainly have prospered—at least to a greater degree than their disappointment in not finding the fabled treasure returned them.

League Circles Frown on Peace Proposals

OIL EMBARGO SIDETRACKED BY COMMITTEE

(By Associated Press)
The League of Nations' sanctions committee side-tracked the oil embargo and new sanctions proposal Thursday, and placed the plans for settling the Italo-Ethiopian war before the general council, which will meet Wednesday to discuss the question.
The Franco-British peace proposals met with a rebellious reception in League circles, as many of the states took a firm stand against major concessions to Italy.
Emperor Selassie rejected the proposals, saying "I cannot submit to force which we never provoked, because that would be rewarding violence."
French sources raised the possibility that sanctions against Italy might be abandoned because of Selassie's refusal to accept the peace terms.
Italy's armies prepared today for a push against their southern lines by an Ethiopian army of 150,000.

ALLRED DEMANDS 'FACTS' IN HEARING ON SAFETY COMM'N

AUSTIN, Dec. 12. (AP)—Governor Allred said today that the legislative committee investigating the department of the public safety commission ought to come to Austin in "common decency and fairness" and give officials who have been "slurred" chances to answer charges against them.
He demanded a hearing to give the public the "facts." He said it was only fair that the committee receive the "other side of the Hickman case," in view of the wild charges on the floor of the house, and "after this discharged ranger has been dragged through the press."
The governor's demands coincided with that of Representative Ford, of McGregor, who wants the hearing held in Austin, the majority of the committee, however, called for the session tomorrow to be held in San Antonio.

15 LOBOES ARE NAMED FOR LETTERS

Announcement of 15 members of the Lobo football squad who will receive letters—all of them but one either seniors or ineligible for next year's play under league rules—was made Thursday by Coach Dexter Shelley.

The boys will receive their sweaters at the end of this semester provided, however, they pass three-fourths of their courses. If they fail to pass this number, they will have opportunity next semester to retrieve the failure and gain the letters.

Those nominated for letters are: Capt. Roy Burnam, N. P. Barnes, Gerald Merket, Reuben Wende, W. J. Beasley, Dick Stansbury, Fred Rylee, Royce Rainbolt, Burl Wagley, Jack McCantles, Buel Wood, Lander Cleveland, Robert Hazlewood, Paul Ivie and Joe Slicker.

Slicker is the only junior eligible, under present interscholastic league rules, to return. Hazlewood and Rainbolt are not seniors but length of participation and age regulations catch them. Only about five of the entire squad will return for the team next year under present regulations.

LEERAY ROAD PAVING GETS UNDER WAY

Paving of the Leeray "cut-off" road, giving Cisco a direct north connection with Highway 67 and thus a direct north paved route to Breckenridge, Graham, Olney, Throckmorton, Woodson, Wichita Falls and other cities in that area, began Tuesday.

The work is being done by the maintenance division of the state highway department, which recently strengthened, widened and rebuilt the base and surfaced it with caliche in preparation for the paving. Joe Blankenship, county engineer for the highway department, is one of those in charge of the work.

First two miles of the surfacing, to be a double-seal bituminous coat, is being done opposite the Hart farm, about four miles north of Cisco.

Another two mile strip will get a triple-seal coat. The department, is making use of an opportunity to experiment with various types of surfacing so as to get a direct comparison of their values under similar conditions.

Reconstruction of this road, one of the most important serving Cisco, was begun about two and a half years ago after the chamber of commerce, working with county officials had been successful in having the road, then a county highway, designated as State Highway No. 189.

Governor Denies He Will Fight to Save Hauptmann

NEW YORK, Dec. 12. (AP)—The New York Evening Journal said Tuesday that Governor Hoffman, of New York, had "definitely committed himself to wage a vigorous fight to save" Bruno Hauptmann, but the governor quickly contradicted the story in a Trenton statement.

The governor's actions are arousing a storm of discussion. Some claim he is acting through "politics," others say he is interested "solely in the interest of justice."

Two Fires Cause Slight Damage

The automobile of Wm. F. Keough caught fire at the Keough home on West Ninth street Monday morning but the flames were extinguished without damage by the Cisco fire department.

The total number of airplanes in the United States is estimated at 9,139.

STAB WOUNDS ARE FATAL TO NEGRO WOMAN

A negro woman was dead and a negro man was near death due as the result of an affray at a colored night club here early Tuesday morning in which an ice pick and a butcher knife were wielded with bloody effect.

Bessie Johnson, about 35, died shortly after the affray from effects of deep stab wounds with a butcher knife at a resort operated by Bertha Lashley, widow of a negro who was shot to death by a white man two or three years ago. Roscoe McDonald, negro man, was at the home of his mother, Mary Floyd, with deep wounds from an ice pick in his left side and left arm. An examining trial was held at three o'clock Tuesday afternoon before Justice of the Peace Joe Wilson and a murder charge was filed against McDonald.

According to witnesses who were interviewed by officers, the slain woman approached McDonald early Tuesday morning at the resort and asked him for a quarter. He is said to have replied he had none. The woman had an arm around him and McDonald began writhing and twisting. A moment later the woman fell to the floor and McDonald staggered off. Another negro plucked an ice pick from his left side, officers were told. A bloody butcher knife was found on the floor.

The woman was taken to her home but died before a doctor could arrive. She had stab wounds in her shoulder and back left side. No charges had been filed this morning.

THE CLOSED WINDOW-

Do you shut out healthful fresh air from your home during winter months by keeping all windows tightly closed? You wouldn't consider doing such a thing in summer, now would you?

It is especially important to keep the air of your home fresh and pure during winter. Under the artificial conditions of winter indoor life, heavy demands are made on the oxygen supply of your home. In the first place an adult breathes about 360 cubic feet of air every 24 hours. In addition to this, the heater in the room takes a large supply of oxygen from the air because fuel will not burn without oxygen. Both the heater and the occupants of the room are consuming the air. Therefore, it becomes doubly important during winter to introduce a reasonable amount of fresh air from the outside so that the air you breathe will be pure as well as warm and comfortable. Incidentally, fresh air is easier to heat than "stale" air.

When open flame heaters are used exclusively it is of utmost importance to have adequate ventilation and a circulation of heated air, if healthful conditions are to exist. Proper ventilation should be provided through window openings, and pure warmed air should be kept circulating through connecting doors of all rooms. America's Public Health Enemy Number One, the common cold germ, finds a fertile field in an inadequately heated and poorly ventilated home.

A simple method of providing a constant circulation of fresh air is to open the window nearest the heater in each room slightly at the top and bottom. This permits fresh, oxygen-laden air to replace the products of combustion caused by breathing and by the fuel burning in the room. The overheated air which rises to the ceiling circulates to other parts of the room and a more healthful air condition is the result.

County Cotton Committeemen to Be Elected December 20

ONLY SIGNERS OF CONTRACTS ALLOWED VOTE

There will be a general election of cotton committeemen for 1936 in Eastland county Friday, December 20, 1935, it was announced by county agent C. Metz Heald. These committeemen will be elected by the producers who signed contracts, in 1935 and only these producers will be eligible to vote. Notices are being sent to each contract signer as to the place of meeting to hold these elections for the specified day. Any cotton producer who has a contract in 1935 and will sign a contract in 1936 is eligible to serve as a committeeman representing his district in securing information from producers who desire to make contracts. In turn, the local committeemen will have a general meeting and elect a county committee. These committeemen elected by the producers will have full control of the cotton program in Eastland county for the year 1936. At these meetings the high points of the contract will be discussed with the producers by the representatives who are to hold the elections.

Elections will be held at the following places:

Ranger 10 o'clock Friday morning.

Carbon 1 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Gorman 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

'Nothing Unusual' Seen In Tying Up Of AAA Rice Tax

By HERBERT PLUMMER
WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Any attempt to anticipate final action of the supreme court on the constitutionality of AAA in light of the tribunal's decision against treasury collection of processing taxes from southern rice millers, is premature.

Court attaches, government officials and lawyers all agree the temporary injunction granted the rice millers over the government's demand that they "pay first and litigate later" was nothing unusual in court procedure.

A strictly legal question was involved rather than a broad constitutional issue.

Nor can the stir created by the fact that the justices aligned themselves 6-3 on the question be interpreted safely as presaging what is in store when the court actually decides the fate of AAA and the processing taxes.

Justices Brandeis, Stone and Cardozo sided with the government against the rice millers. Yet these three "liberals" joined in the unanimous decisions invalidating NRA and the Franzier-Lemke act last May.

Wild Rumors
Any pronouncement from the supreme court these days, however remotely affecting AAA, is the signal for the wildest sort of flurry in and out of Washington.

When the court ruled in the rice case the rumor spread like wildfire among the hundreds of temporary employes in AAA headquarters here that the supreme court had thrown out AAA and their jobs.

When decision actually is reached, a red letter day is promised for Washington and the remainder of the country. Invalidation of NRA and other decisions affecting the "new deal" will pale in comparison, whichever way the court holds.

Stakes Involved
The political and economic stakes involved are tremendous.

The question of federal budget balancing is tied up directly with the court's decision. The government stands to gain or lose somewhere around a half-billion dollars in processing taxes. While the administration has hinted other methods of taxation will be found to replace the processing levy in case of an adverse decision, the job will be no easy one.

Victory for AAA undoubtedly would enhance the reelection chances of President Roosevelt in the midwest. Defeat might impair seriously his chances, especially if the Republicans advance a plan for farm relief within the boundaries laid down by the supreme court.

If the supreme court throws out AAA on constitutional grounds and at the same time fails to show how the government can aid the farmers, the issue of the "court-and-the-Constitution" may be revived to overshadow every other in the coming presidential campaign.

FINAL RELIEF ALLOTMENT

AUSTIN, Dec. 12. (AP)—After receiving the final grant from the federal relief administration today, officials outlined the budget for direct relief for the unemployed through next March by the use of state funds.

John Wallace, board of control member, said there were approximately $2,000,000 of state funds that have been reserved. In addition to the federal grant Governor Allred received, there are about $400,000 other federal funds on hand.

AUSTIN, Dec. 12. (AP) — Gov. James V. Allred Tuesday received $1,464,876 as "the final allotment" to Texas from the federal relief administration. After the expenditure of this allotment the administration of relief will be the "responsibility of the state." Adam Johnson, state relief director, was unable to say how long these funds would carry the direct relief work. The state has certain reserve funds to continue aid for unemployables.

Indo-China Race To Be French Bid For Air Prestige

PARIS, Dec. 12 (AP)—The French air ministry has invited the world's leading aviators to compete in a round trip race linking France with its remote colony of Indo-China.

By this distance race, from Paris to Saigon and return, France hopes to recover some of the aviation prestige which many Frenchmen feel this nation lost by its non-participation in the London-Melbourne contest of October, 1934.

The air ministry explained at that time that no French planes could meet the specifications for the race sponsored by the Royal Air Force of Great Britain.

To Star October, 1936
The dash to Indo-China is to start October 25, 1936. The air ministry is making efforts to have all the principal nations represented. Aviators of any country with membership in the International Aeronautical Federation are eligible.

Besides the prize trophies to be awarded to the winning aviators the air ministry has set aside 1,200,000 francs (approximately $80,000) for the purchase of the winning plane.

The contestants are expected to encounter a wide variety of flying conditions. The 12,500-mile route passes over some treacherous mountain ranges and deserts.

One Leg Non-Stop
The first leg of the flight will be a 2,392-mile stretch from Paris to Bagdad. Officials suggest that this be covered non-stop, but if an aviator is forced to land he will not be disqualified provided he flies the second stretch of 2,300 miles from Bagdad to Allahabad without landing. Either the first or second leg must be non-stop.

The final leg of the outbound flight will be from Allahabad to Saigon, 1,921 miles.

The return flight will be by way of Cairo, Egypt, and will cover 7,000 miles, a slightly greater distance than the eastward flight.

U. S. Natators Make Marks Abroad In Cold Water and Hot Atmosphere

VIENNA, Dec. 12. (AP)—European swimmers like their water cold, and their air hot, it was observed here by Stanley Brauning-er of Chicago, trainer of the Lake Shore Athletic club.

Brauning-er toured Europe with three speedy youngsters from Chicago who amazed the old world with the regularity with which they smashed records in a quick succession of exhibition meets.

Adolph Kiefer, 16-year-old school boy who was one of Brauning-er's charges, smashed back stroke records, some of them his own, no fewer than 14 times. Art Highland beat the European champion, Franz Csik, once, and on another occasion was trimmed by Csik. Max Brydenthal, breast stroke champion, was credited by European sports authorities with setting up five new indoor records.

"My boys gave an extraordinary account of themselves, and did it under conditions to which they were unaccustomed," Brauning-er said.

"Water in European pools was colder than we like it. And almost always the air in tank rooms was bad. Great crowds jammed every available space, and it never seemed to occur to anyone that ventilation might be necessary. So the record smashing performance of my little team was all the more remarkable."

Sweets Ideal For Christmas If Home-Made

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE
The joyful anticipation of Christmas is accentuated in many homes by the preparation of holiday confections, many of which are made at no other season of the year.

Home-made candies, cookies and other delicacies in gayly wrapped boxes and holly trimmed baskets make treasured gifts which bring memories of bygone childhood holidays and merrymaking.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

For as the rain cometh down, and the snow, from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater; so shall my word be that goeth forth from my mouth; it shall not return unto me void; but shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereof I sent it.—Isaiah 55:10, 11.

But soon perplexing knots appear
 Which vex and hinders progress' flow.
 Impatient fingers pull and tear,
 While even worse the tangles grow.
 Thus, God, we bring our snarls to thee;
 Though human sense and stubborn will
 Off clamor loud for mastery,
 We hear alone Love's "Peace, be still."
 —EDITH BROWN.

Religion is an inner companionship with the highest in the universe. It is a loyalty to God which is supreme above all other loyalties. God, and the will of God, and the mind of God, and the spirit of God. We do not spoil our lives by thinking big and high thoughts. By low and little thoughts we spoil them. To know God; that is life. Nothing else is life.—Winfred Rhoades.

Striving for the Top

EVERY young worker who has arrived at working age since 1920 would be superfluous in our existing economic system if everybody were to use the latest and best inventions and improvements."

THIS rather startling and certainly not encouraging opinion upon the stage reached by our highly technological civilization was made by Walter B. Pitkin, author of "Life Begins at Forty," in a Rotary magazine article this month. Pitkin takes issue with the "old refrain of the prosperous Twenties" that there is always room at the top, admitting that the claim is still true, but under vastly changed conditions.

IN the first place, he writes, the room at the top is much smaller. Only a hand-picked few will get in. This means that multitudes of young men and women will have to be content with employment that requires only a fraction of their abilities. The "room at the top" will accommodate only a small number of those who survive the hardest sort of competition.

WHETHER or not Mr. Pitkin's analysis of the situation is true, his statement of qualifications necessary for reaching the top forms an excellent guide for the ambition-bound young man or woman, intent on getting to the top of his or her profession.

HE names them as:
HEALTH—vital to men and women at the top of every field;
HIGH ENERGY—High achievement of any kind requires an enormous volume of energy. The brilliant weakling has a bitter struggle in the battle for room at the top.

PERSISTENCE—Scattered efforts, no matter how energetic, are ineffective. Organized, constant energy counts.

THOROUGHNESS—Slipshod methods and mere "passing" grades don't command premiums.

HIGH TECHNICAL TRAINING—Yesterday's leaders were skilled in gross production. Tomorrow's leaders must be skilled in the technical difficulties of cutting costs and improving quality.

SOCIAL SENSE—Ability to get along with people and to give service is essential.

SELF-KNOWLEDGE AND SELF-UNDERSTANDING—Those who seek the room at the top must know what they want and how to go about getting it with the means and personality at their disposal.

ADAPTABILITY—An open mind and a versatile interest, together with a willingness to tackle any reasonable assignment and an ability to take orders in an objective spirit, are necessary qualifications.

WILLINGNESS TO WORK FOR A LONG TIME AT JOBS REQUIRING LESS THAN ONE'S ABILITIES.

A KNOWLEDGE OF LOCAL AFFAIRS AND WIDE ACQUAINTANCE WITH LOCAL HOPE.

THERE is no doubt but what these essentials, if observed, will aid the aspiring worker to climb in any profession for which he is equipped and to which he addresses himself. Whether or not he reaches the upper room depends upon the quality of his work and the intangible thing known as fortune. But the assured reward of any good job well done is a sense of personal satisfaction that is ennobling and entirely compensatory.

Human and Other Nature

By W. F. BRUCE

"News" is as old as Adam. When Eve reported her encounter with Satan it was the dissemination of an important though calamitous incident so far as its bearing on world thinking and acting was concerned. Society was very limited then but we see how public opinion and public policy were affected. During long centuries there were few facilities for carrying news. Messengers for kings and generals were the carriers; otherwise neighborhood gossip spread information. In the days of Elizabeth taverns were gathering places for gulping and gossiping, mostly by the men. A little later tea and coffee houses became famous for this feature. No doubt the women were up to form in doing their share, but the men were the public gossipers. We remember how the de Coverley Papers grew out of these experiences.

Of course letters as a means of sending information had been known in Babylon where they were written on clay tablets, and in Egypt where papyrus sheets were later used. Skins of animals served the purpose for some durable writings. Soon after printing was brought into England incidents were written into ballads and scattered about on printed sheets. Then regular news sheets began to be published irregularly, and by the time of the coffee houses somewhat regularly. Royal censorship prevented any very impartial presentation. But political parties were coming into existence, more than two hundred years ago, and soon laws were established protecting a certain amount of freedom of the press. Periodicals became common, and weekly and later daily publications became an indispensable part of life.

News is the making of history;

history is the record of life; life as acted by the human race constitutes our civilization. Hence we can see the place of the newspaper in creating society, for better or worse. The head of a news agency said lately, "News must be unbiased." Its end in information, data on which private and public opinion may be safely based. Conscientious and unbiased dissemination of the happenings of the world would lead to a better understanding. Whereas propaganda makes for misunderstanding.

CHICAGO, Dec. 12. (P)—They'll have to raise the roofs of Big Ten gymnasiums in a couple of years if basketball players don't stop growing.

The reason, of course, is found in the strange hold basketball has on Indiana. In the central and southern sections of the state every community, no matter how small, has its basketball team—and supports it.

In some towns the high school gymnasium is the biggest and most impressive building, and it's usually filled to capacity by a basketball-mad crowd on game nights. All of this leads up to one grand climax—the state high school tournament at Indianapolis.

Hoosier Lads Bolster Big 10
 After their high school playing days are over, many of these boys go on to college and Purdue has long been a favorite with them.

However, in the last few years other Big Ten schools, particularly Michigan, have been grabbing the Hoosier youngsters, with the result that the roster of almost every conference squad boasts at least one or two Indiana lads.

This year's tall-boy problem also has Rollie Williams, Iowa coach, worried. He's calling it "youngsters' year" because of so many sophomores, but he also has three giants for the coveted center position. They measure six-five, six-six, and six-seven.

Minnesota, never the factor in basketball that it is on the gridiron, is leaning to its football squad to bolster the Gopher court quintet.

As a matter of fact, five candidates have come over from the grid team to try their hand at basketball. They are George Roscoe, Earl Svendsen, Ray Antil, Mal Eiken and Bill Freimuth.

Schedules in all Big Ten schools open this month, but the championship race, as in the past, does not get underway until the first week in January.

AT LEAST THE FARMERS ARE WITH ROOSEVELT

It seems that the farmers of these United States are standing behind the president and manifesting their gratitude to Roosevelt for having taken a long step towards rehabilitating the tillers of the soil by contributing all he can to save the new deal farm program. Naturally this is as it should be. The president has done more toward bringing back the farmer to his rightful place in the sun than any other president preceding him. It could be expected that they manifest their appreciation of his efforts in their behalf. I am predicting that there will be a greater demonstration of this appreciation as they march to the polls when the national elections shall have drawn around.

Probably it is true that ingratitude is one of the major sins. If that be true I do not believe the farmer will be an offender.

Of course, here and there, you will find some who do not appreciate what the national government, through the president, has done to bring back to America the restoration of normalcy.

And in this the farming class is no exception, but the farmer has not been the beneficiary of the national bounty as much as has been the big businesses and banks of the nation. When the president inaugurated his new deal, in the form of rehabilitating business in his effort to retrieve the country's business from the depths of despond into which the Hoover administration had plunged it, big business and the banks were prostrate. Figuratively speaking they were appealing to the national administration on bended knees to save them from the fate from which it seemed impossible for them to emerge. And the president supplied them with the financial assistance that saved them from disaster. Had he not done so the country would have seen half of the banks closed, insurance companies would have been bankrupt and the nation's business ruined. In the wake of such a disaster that would have followed would have made the panic of 1873, when silver was demonetized, look like a festival occasion.

Saved the Banks

But Roosevelt saved the day, restored the banks and other big businesses to a sound financial footing.

Are the bankers and business barons showing their appreciation? And are they endorsing the new deal with that fervor manifested at Chicago by the American Farm Bureau Federation last Monday when 19,000 lustily cheered his statements as he recited the triumphs of his measures to restore rural purchasing power? Not yet. Instead these major beneficiaries of the Roosevelt policies are organizing to discredit everything he advocates in favor of the farmer.

But one can hardly expect absolute appreciation. Jesus failed to receive that appreciation and gratitude from the lepers he healed on the occasion when he restored ten in one bunch. Only one manifested that gratitude by returning and giving him thanks. This one is typified in the farming element who are showing their gratitude by staying with the president, while the pharisaical nine, represented by big business, would destroy the new deal entirely if it were within their power.

I have not always endorsed Mr. Roosevelt's policies, but I have never questioned his altruistic motives nor his determination to inject new life in the country's business that had gone on the rocks. Say what we will none can claim that he lacks courage and determination to finish the work that he has already inaugurated, and if not too seriously handicapped I have confidence that he will ultimately perform the job he started out to accomplish. But it will hardly be to the credit of those whom he has served most and best. The farmer, (the salt of the earth), will be his breastworks of defense behind which he will win the fight to rehabilitate the nation. When a candidate for political preferment has the support of the farmers of the nation, as the president evidently has, the clique which would work his undoing, has taken on a man's size job.

Hoover Discredited

The bid that Herbert Hoover is making for the presidential nomination appears to me one of the silliest that has come under my observation. To say the least, he does not contain that far-seeing mind that would qualify him for the job, even were it possible for his election to come to pass. I believe every one who remembers his administration realizes that he was and is the most thoroughly discredited president who ever occupied the nation's White House, save and except possibly, the administration of Rutherford B. Hayes. Yet, some of that same crowd who are trying to discredit the Roosevelt administration are supporting the former president; the ones who have fed most freely of the Roosevelt bounty.

I rather regret to see that Senator Borah is showing some interest in the coming presidential election, and has elevated his lightning rod slightly in the direction of the political current of the republican nomination. I believe Borah to be about the best man the republicans could name, and I would dislike to see him defeated, but there is not a possible chance for him or any other republican in 1936 to retire Roosevelt, so if the country ever has another republican president I would like to see a man like Borah in the White House. But there is not a possibility of retiring Roosevelt, and to verify this statement just watch that farmer vote when they deluge the ballot boxes in 1936.

Ciscoans Attend Southwestern Life Convention

HOUSTON, Texas, Dec. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Pittard of Cisco are in Houston this week attending the thirty-second annual convention of the Southwestern Life Insurance company.

The attendance at this year's convention is the largest in the history of the company, and as the representatives earn the right to attend by writing a certain amount of insurance, this record-breaking crowd indicates better business conditions.

Roger Killough, Eagle Lake, the Southwestern Life Club president for this year, presided at the opening business meeting this morning, and W. N. Blanton, vice-president and general manager of the Houston chamber of commerce, welcomed the group, and C. F. O'Donnell, president of the Southwestern Life Insurance company, made his annual address during which he outlined the progress of the company during 1935 and the exceptional strength of the institution.

At noon the crowd of over 500 visitors enjoyed a trip to the San Jacinto battle field where Judge Clarence Wharton of Houston made a talk on the "Battle of San Jacinto."

Tonight there will be a get-together dinner, after which the Southern Methodist University Mustang band will stage its "Pigskin Review." This will be followed by dancing and bridge.

For Mothers Christmas

AS THE NEW FALL STYLES

It is natural for women to follow the season's fashions: Modern housewives are thinking more and more of the good looks and convenience of their kitchens as well as personal dress.

Kitchens are being modernized, being changed from drab, inconvenient workshops to efficient, livable rooms. Today's smart, new-styled equipment makes this possible without heavy expense. And the logical first step in kitchen modernization is to replace the inefficient old range with a modern automatic Magic Chef gas range. The new Magic Chef ranges are as smart as the new fall clothing styles and have features that housewives bless whenever they have cooking to do. You can select one that will exactly fit your own needs from a wide choice of sizes, colors and prices. See them on display in our store.

Higher Prices for Eastland Co. Peanuts Sought

By W. B. STARR
One of the largest mass meetings of farmers ever held in Eastland county was held at Eastland last Saturday night, where some 200 or 250 farmers filled the 91st district court room to capacity. This was a second meeting of a similar character, held within the last two weeks. The purpose of these meetings was to secure to the farmers a more equitable price for their peanuts. The price of peanuts in Eastland and adjoining counties has fallen since Nov. 15 to 50 and 75 cents per bushel, whereas prices the forepart of the season, held between 85 and 95 cents per bushel. Owing to wet weather, nearly 80 per cent of the peanuts grown by Eastland county farmers is still in their hands. The crop in Eastland county is still being held. It is estimated at 5,000 tons.

County agent Heald and myself addressed this meeting, in which it was brought out that it was hoped to get one of the largest cotton seed oil mills in the state, located at Fort Worth, to enter the market. This will pay what is considered by the U. S. department of agriculture a "fair price" for the 1935 crop of peanuts, nominally $65 per ton, which is 97 1/2 cents per bushel. This price will be based on 70 per cent of such units.

If this company enters the market, good peanuts should bring not less than 90 cents per bushel on the farms in this section of the state.

Prices have not declined in the southeastern sections as they have in the southwestern areas. While only 10 per cent of the peanuts produced in the United States are grown west of the Mississippi river, still this percentage represents 25,000 growers, who feel that they should be given an even break with the heavier producing sections of the east. Hence this concerted action looking toward that end.

PROSPECT OF MORE PARTY DISARRAY IN 1936 VOTE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12. (P)—The on-coming presidential campaign presents possibilities of an even more spectacular disarray of party lines than in 1932, developments pointed Saturday. Although political organizations were planning to proceed in much the accustomed style, portents of extraordinary efforts and divisions appeared plain. Omens of good and ill for both major parties multiplied. There was an increasing tendency to emphasize the economic and governmental more than partisan principles. That could be seen in the speeches here tonight by Senator Borah and in Topeka by Governor Landon of Kansas, potential rivals for the republican nomination. Developments for the week included the antagonism of organized business leadership in open declaration against the new deal, and powerful legal forces aligned for the conflict over the AAA.

Police and Cairo Students in Battle

CAIRO, Dec. 12. (P)—Thousands of Cairo university students Saturday fought police for half an hour at the Giza bridge before they were dispersed.

Dozens on both sides were beaten, but none were seriously injured. The trouble arose when the students were denied permission to erect a monument commemorating their classmates killed in the recent outbreak.

Indians, Repulsed in Two Rose Bowl Engagements, Are "Pass-Minded" for Mustangs

By DUDLEY ROSS
STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., Dec. 12. (AP) — Upset two years ago by Columbia and bombed to defeat last year by Alabama, Stanford's famous sophomores of 1933—now seniors—will make one last stand for victory in Pasadena's Rose Bowl on New Year's Day against Southern Methodist.

It will be the last collegiate football game for eight of the first-string varsity, and to win a Rose Bowl victory in their third attempt will erase the bitter taste of the pills labeled 7 to 0 and 29 to 13 by Columbia and Alabama, respectively.

Two of those ex-sophomores

who have dominated the Pacific Coast gridirons, in victory, draw or even defeat for three straight seasons will be missing, but Coach Claude E. (Tiny) Thornhill expects to put this season's best-functioning eleven on the Pasadena turf.

The missing are Frank Alutiza, the hard-as-rock, blocking back who teamed up for two varsity years with his more famous mates, all-America Bobby Grayson and "Bones" Hamilton, and Claude Callaway, Bob Reynolds' running mate at tackle.

Alutiza was knocked off the gridiron permanently this fall with an eye injury, and Callaway didn't even don a uniform, on doctors' orders, because of a siege of bronchial pneumonia last spring.

The others will be there, however—"Monk" Moscrip and Keith Topping at ends, Reynolds at tackle, Larry Rouble and Woody Adams at guards, Wes Muller at center, and Grayson and Hamilton in the backfield. Moscrip's presence looked doubtful when he suffered a jaw fracture and a knee injury in Stanford's big game with California, but he is expected to be in there again when New Year's Day rolls around.
