Hoover Calls on Business Men to Force Disarmament

5 BILLION SPENT YEARLY FOR ARMIES

WASHINGTON, May 4.—President Hoover today called upon world business men to force statement to disarm.

The greatest hindrance to economic progress, he told the International chamber of commerce in a speech, is taxation wrung from the people so that governments may spend $5,000,000,000 a year supporting their armies.

Pointing his remarks to the general disarmament conference to be held next February the executive delivered what may be regarded as his most vigorous international message since entering the white house. He said:

"It is within the power of business men of the world to insist that this problem shall be met with sincerity courage and constructive action. It is within the power of statesmen to give the world a great assurance for the future and a great moral victory for humanity."

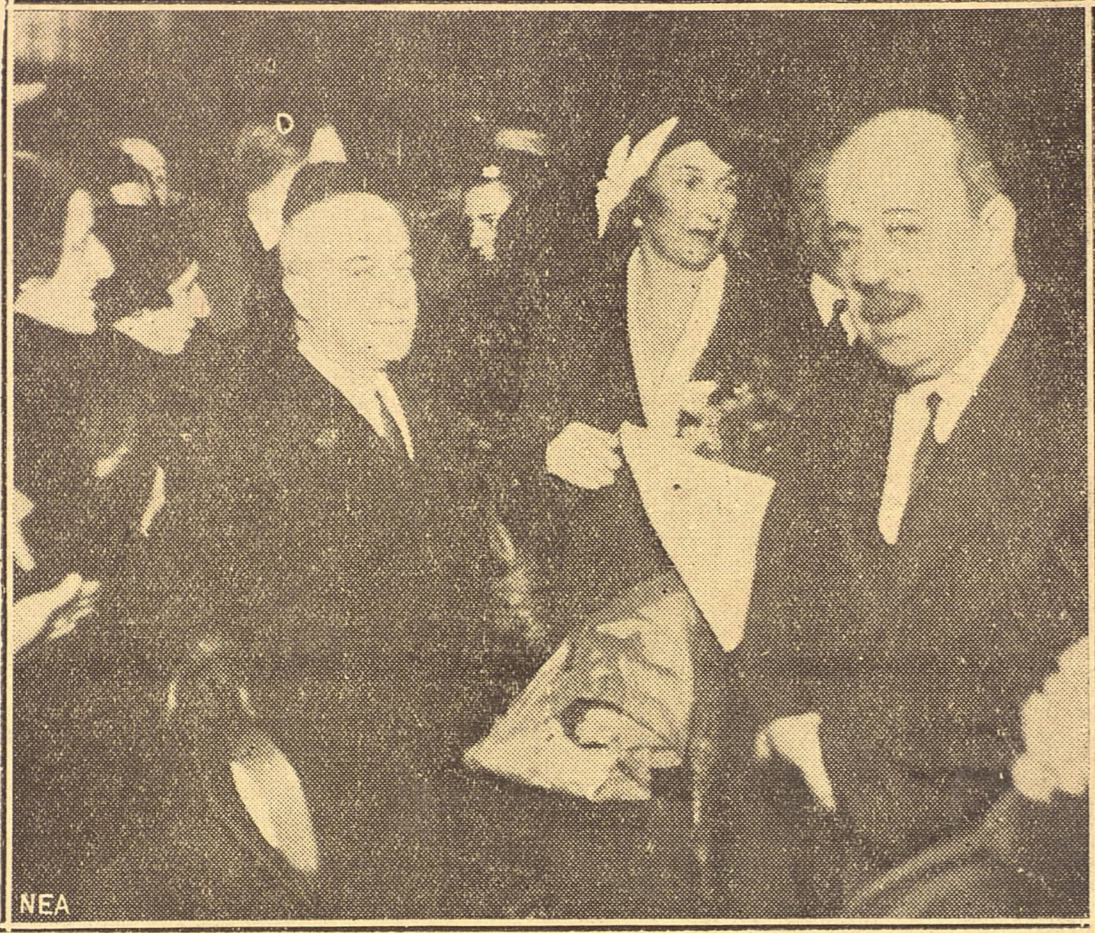

His welcoming speech to the business leaders of many nations was short, but it sounded a new note in discussions about the troubles of the world.

AGENDA BRISTLES WITH CONTROVERSIES. WASHINGTON, May 4.—With an agenda bristling with controversial topics the International Chamber of Commerce met here today for a world-wide inventory.

Reduction or cancellation of war debts, tariff unions, the wide protective tariff principle, wage scales, overproduction are among the topics expected to be discussed before the chamber concludes its convention.

President Hoover was to open the convention formally shortly before 11 a. m. with a welcome to the 1,000 delegates.

PASTOR WELL PLEASED WITH MEETING HERE

The revival services which have been held at the First Baptist church of this city were brought to a close last night. As a preliminary to the closing service the pastor baptized 25 at an afternoon service yesterday.

"I feel that we have had a great meeting, indeed," said the pastor this morning. "We had 45 additions to the church besides several others who professed faith and did not unite with the church. The attendance was good at every service, and Mr. Jones brought us some gracious messages. I think the people feel that it was one of the best meetings ever held in this church."

"I want to express my appreciation for the cooperation from the other churches in making these services what they have been. I trust that the revival may have been a help to all the people of Cisco whether they participated in it or not."

"We enter again into our regular schedule of work now. We expect about 150 at the midweek service next Wednesday eve. We shall at that time resume our study of the Book of Revelation. These services are open to anyone who is interested in a detailed study of this great book. Next Sunday we are planning a great service for our Mothers. Children of any and all ages will be asked to sit with their mothers and if it is possible, I am going to bring a sermon in memory of God Fearing Mothers."

Spot Report of 748 Manufacturing Plants Show Employment Improvement

NEW YORK, May 4.—Survey of industrial conditions throughout the country, among 748 companies of the National Association of Manufacturers, employing nearly half a million persons and representing large and small factories in twenty-three basic industries, made public today by J. Lewis Benton, general secretary, shows the following situation as of the immediate present:

1. The employment recession, which started about a year ago, has not only reached and passed the bottom stage, but now gives definite prospects of continued and permanent mend.

2. During the year, and in spite of the depression, 85 of these companies continued to increase their forces instead of decreasing them; 104 of the companies held to their usual complement of employees; 559 of the companies, because of the slack in consumer demand, were forced to make reduction of their forces.

3. For the summer, the change has an even more hopeful aspect. Seventy-eight of these companies report that they will make additions to their payrolls, these increases running from five per cent to as high as one hundred per cent; 603 of the companies report that they will make no further reductions of their working forces; while only 67 companies report that they may be compelled to make further retrenchment.

Should these latter companies all make their fullest theoretical reductions, they will drop only 5,851 persons as against the 8,949 the other companies will add; making the slight definite betterment of more than three thousand employees against a usual summer slump.

Clear Demarcation. These 748 companies, in the Spring of 1930 were employing 484,776 persons; in the Spring of this year they are employing 494,638, a decrease of 80,134 or only 16.53 per cent. The general curve of reductions draws a pretty clear line of demarcation between necessities and what might be classed as luxuries or those things in which there has been a proverbial over-production.

It shows a spread, in reduction of employees, of from only 4 per cent in the leather industry up to a reduction of 30 per cent in the jewelry industry.

The following list shows the percentage of employ reduction in the twenty-three classifications of basic industries:

- Leather, 4 per cent. Clothing, 6 per cent. Cement, 6 per cent. Chemicals, 7 per cent. Paints, oils, etc., 9 per cent. Paper and Pulp, 9 per cent. Lumber, 11 per cent. Automobiles, 11 per cent. Metals, 11 per cent. Stationery and Printing, 12 per cent. Textiles, 13 per cent. Furniture, 14 per cent. Hardware and Tools, 16 per cent. Miscellaneous, 16 per cent. Machinery, 18 per cent. Glass, Crockery, etc., 19 per cent. Building Supplies, 20 per cent. Farm Products, 20 per cent. Rubber, 21 per cent. Iron and Steel, 21 per cent. Electrical, 21 per cent. Automobile Accessories, 22 per cent. Jewelry, 30 per cent.

Seven hundred and fifty entrants are husky lads whose speed and muscular ability on track and field qualified them in county and district contests, for state finals. Another group, both boys and girls, are semi-final winners in tennis matches. About a thousand are experts in debate, declamation, spelling, typewriting, music memory and other literary and academic contests.

Roy Bedichek, general director, and Roy B. Henderson, athletic director of the league, spent last week preparing the 60-page program for the state meet, and in finding places in Austin homes for visiting students and their convoy of teachers.

Entry lists for athletic events closed April 28. Henderson was still receiving a few belated entries in his mail Friday.

Some of the tennis semi-final matches were still to be played during the weekend. As the time for the state meet neared, Henderson reminded that a new arrangement will be followed in tennis final play. Boys will report Thursday afternoon, but girls will not begin their play until Friday morning.
