LOBO SERMON SUNDAY NIGHT BY REV. HOLMES

Coach Chapman and his Fighting Lobos were guests of the Christian church Sunday night and Reverend Holmes preached a wonderful sermon in their behalf.

The scripture that he read showed that play is a part of every man's life, and the songs that were sung told of sweet victories that come after battle and hard fighting. Mr. Holmes said that the training now is preparing them for the greatest game called Life, and they should go into that game as they do the games on the gridiron with a determination to win and to give everything they have.

The sermon and songs were very appropriate and the Lobos appreciated the courtesy and encouragement. They feel strengthened and stimulated for the big fight today. One other thought Mr. Holmes brought out was that Right and Might will prevail in the end, will win; because to play the game clean and fair is, after all, the battle—whether they win or lose, only the result. The best thing is the consciousness of doing their best, of fighting to the finish, of keeping faith with their fellows.

THE IDEAL TEACHER—WHAT?

The ideal teacher is one whose thought is so great it cannot be other than gentle, whose mind is so learned, her speech cannot be other than pure, yet simple; her convictions so strong, she cannot be other than tender. Everything on earth has a value in her eyes, but the thing of greatest value is a child—his mind, his heart, his soul. She loves and understands home life, and, consequently, makes her room or wherever she chances to be, a home for her pupils. She charms them with her interpretations of life and its mysteries; she inspires them to highest ideals, and after they have passed to other fields of action and endeavor, they keep before them the vision of these ideals.

The ideal teacher must have an earnest, intense love for her profession, for service. Her purity, her truthfulness, her justice, her courage must shine forth always; and her serenity, her calmness of soul, and cheerfulness of mind must give comfort and joy to those who depend upon her for strength, for wisdom, for understanding. The ideal teacher—gay, wise, true, strong, helpful—where is she? Who is she?

RANGER ROUGH TAKES REVENGE ON CISCO GIRL

On the way home from the Ranger game on Monday afternoon, Miss Lois Richardson, one of the pretty "peppers" was pulled from the front of the truck that she was riding on, by some Ranger boys in a Ford coupe, and painfully injured. They drove close to the truck on its home-ward way, seized her by the arm pulling her from off the truck, and dragged her for some distance. Ted Huestis and J. E. McCord drove up just in time to pick her up, but the coupe was long gone. It was a few minutes before Mr. Ford, who was driving the truck, could stop, which accounts for the young men not being caught. Lois was unconscious when found; her face and arms still show great bruises and her wrist is not yet over the sprain.

SAD LOSS BEFALLS MEMBER OF COMMERCIAL CLASS

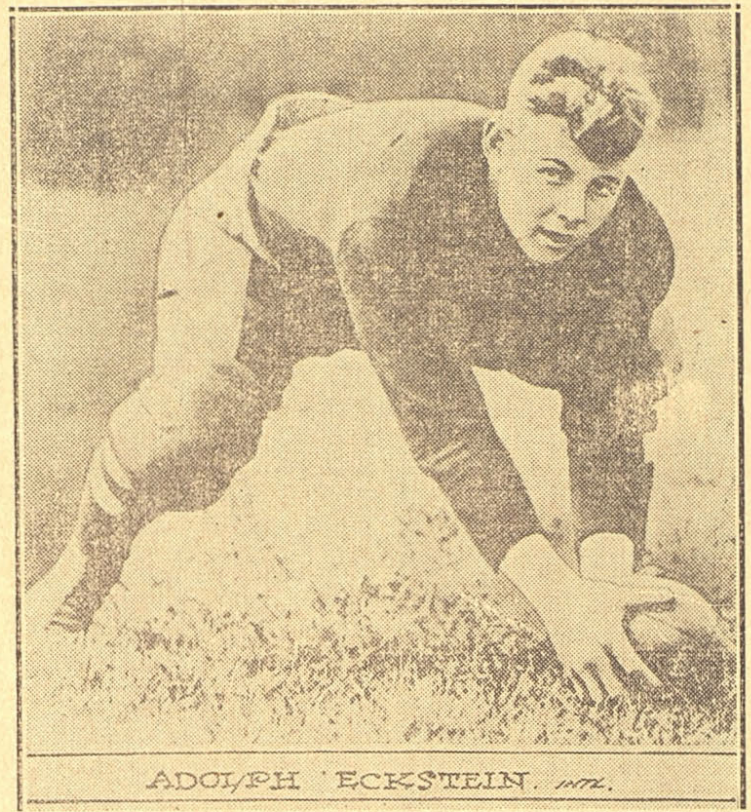

All as calm and peaceful in the commercial room. Silence reigned supreme. Everyone was studying diligently for each felt that he was safe.

A terrible crash came, a tremendous roar which seemed to shake the very building. Everyone jumped and screamed. Had the end of the world come? No! Mr. Kelley had pulled out the drawer of his desk and accidentally dropped it. When peace and quiet reigned once more, we found that a girl had swallowed her chewing gum!

The Flavor Lasts

Miss Harlan: Joe, throw out that gum!
 Joe: O! Miss Harlan, have a heart. I haven't chewed it but thirty minutes.

LIFE BLOOD PAYS FOR COLLEGE TUITION.

It has just been discovered that Adolph Eckstein, star of the Brown University, Providence, R. I., football team and captain of the wrestling team, has been working his way through college by selling his blood, in pint lots, for transfusions. Eckstein, considered an all-American center, has been urged by the coaches to find some other means of earning his way through college, because they fear he will undermine his tremendous strength.

WHAT IS A TEACHER?

"The main factor of every school is the teacher. This is one of the noblest of professions. It requires an adequate preparation and training, patience, devotion, and a deep sense of responsibility. Those who mold the human mind have wrought not for time, but for eternity. The obligation which we all owe to those devoted men and women who have given of their lives to the education of the youth of our country that they might have freedom through coming into a knowledge of truth is one which can never be discharged."—Coolidge.

American Federation of Labor Opposes Alignment With a New Party and Soviet Recognition

EL PASO, Nov. 17.—What promises to be one of the most harmonious conventions in a decade of the American Federation of Labor got under way here today. There are four hundred delegates in attendance from Samuel Gompers down, the labor chiefs anticipate little trouble during the ten days session. With the foremost problem—that of the future national elections—settled, indications pointed that the convention would adopt a non-partisan policy, and not tie itself up with any new party.

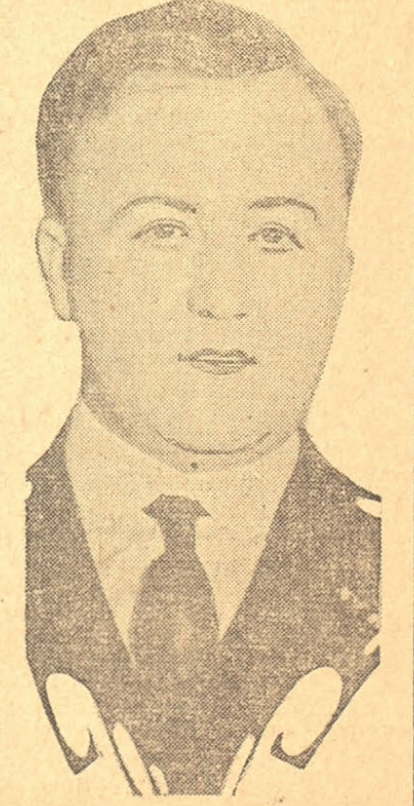

Three major plans in the congressional program were "the enactment of the Howell-Barkley bill, abolishing railroad labor board, the repeal of the Esch-Cummins transportation act, and the enactment of a constitutional amendment by which congress, by a two-thirds vote, may over ride decisions of the supreme court." The convention is also expected to denounce the Ku Klux Klan, and to oppose recognition of the soviet.

Today's session with the Mexican council at Juarez will feature the today's program.

BANDITS THROW DEAD VICTIM ON CITY HALL STEP

GRANITE CITY, Okla., Nov. 17.—Two men were killed and another is dying when eight bandits who are believed to have kidnapped an entire dancing party near Mitchell Sunday, and robbing their victims, forced them to walk home. They attempted to repeat the hold-up at a road house here early today. The dead are Melvin Morvell, 26, a guard who resisted the bandits, and a bandit named Halley. C. Ridge, another guard, is not expected to live. The bandits departed, taking the bodies with them, throwing Morvell's out on the steps of the city hall, after shooting him three times more. They then boldly drove to the hospital where they deposited the body of their companion who was already dead. The loot amounted to $1,600.

Slain Gangster Denied Rites of Church

Dean O'Bannon

Burial rites have been denied in Chicago to Dean O'Bannon, gangster, who died as he had lived—by a gun. Years of crime, Bishop Edward F. Hoban declared, had ended his connection with the Church, which, however, granted permission to bury the body in the family plot as a non-member of the church, but there were no religious services. O'Bannon, who was shot down in a flower shop he ran, had been a gunman, rum runner, hijacker and all-round bad man.

MAN ARRESTED FOR 39th TIME IN LAST 60 DAYS

HOUSTON, Nov. 17.—"A. J. Wilds, 80, has been arrested again." Local newspapers have used this same sentence thirty-nine times in the past sixty days. Wilds, who is crippled and wealthy, is charged with assault today, but previous arrests have been for disturbing the peace and intoxication, despite his advanced age.

AMBASSADOR OF GREAT BRITAIN SOON TO RETIRE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Although London official circles were declaring that Ambassador Kellogg was to retire the first of the year, Washington government officials said there was no immediate prospect for such a change. Secretary Hughes said he knew nothing about it, and President Coolidge advised not to place much credence in the report.

EARTH TREMORS CONTINUE

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Earth tremors are continuing in Batavia today, where dozens of villages have been destroyed, with five hundred persons reported killed. Old craters which were believed to be extinct have again renewed their eruptions.

TELEGRAMS

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Charles G. Dawes, vice president elect, was reported today to have virtually recovered from a hernia operation. He will remain in bed two weeks. He was injured Sunday while taking his daily exercise.

BEAUMONT, Nov. 17.—Two children were buried to death and their mother may die from injuries received when the tent in which they were living burned to the ground today. The dead are Elizabeth, 4, and Frances, 10, daughters of Mrs. F. E. Manning. The mother tried heroically to rescue the children, and in doing so was badly burned over her entire body.

VERNON, Nov. 17.—The desire to carve his name on a rock in an old gravel pit on the Pease river cost the life Sunday of George Bright, 13, and almost brought death to four of his companions. Their weight caused a cave-in. Dan Hackler, 14, is in a critical condition.

EL PASO, Nov. 17.—Two men, Louis Blenner, war veteran, and Thomas Jensen, hotel manager, are in a hospital today severely burned in two mysterious hotel fires which occurred Sunday. The Normandy and Angelus, were both destroyed. The loss is estimated at $25,000.

DALLAS, Nov. 17.—Jailer J. J. McAlpine, 55, was beaten and stabbed while frustrating a jail delivery of three youths who were plotting to release all the prisoners. He will recover, the doctors said today. With the aid of a trusty who rallied to the jailers' assistance after the boys had beaten him down, the delivery was stopped.

CHILDREN OF TODAY ARE CITIZENS OF TOMORROW

During the week of November 17-23, American Education Week, America as a unit, is called upon to dedicate, to consecrate, herself anew to the greatest task, the most important task a nation can perform; the education for democracy of the youth of her land;

This is the week that every community should evaluate its own educational resources and needs; a week when a better understanding should be reached between teacher and parent; when a new and broader vision should be caught of the possibilities that lie just beyond.

"Slavery is but half-abolished, emancipation is but half completed, while millions of free men with votes in their hands, are left without education."

What kind of home are you providing for your children? You can bestow upon them no greater fortune than a home where the best books are read and discussed, the best music interpreted, the best associates provided, the best conversation enjoyed.

"Let the soldier be abroad if he will. There is another personage—a personage less imposing; in the eyes of some, perhaps, insignificant. The schoolmaster is abroad; and I trust to him, armed with his primer, against the soldier in full military array."

Do you know that the American Legion is one of the organizations responsible for the permanent establishment of American Education Week?

C. H. S. DOLLED FOR LOBO GAME; COLORS FLYING

Yes, Cisco High was certainly well represented in the parade on Armistice day. The Senior Dramatic, Junior Dramatic, Home Economics, Debating and Science clubs had decorated cars as did, also, The Weekly Gusher.

The Junior Dramatic club met last Thursday night. After a short program, Mrs. Hazelwood told us about the plays which we plan to have. One short play, "Art for Breakfast," will be given at the next club meeting.

HI-Y BOYS STEPPING ALONG

The Hi-Y club met Friday afternoon and planned a trip to the cabin in Friday night, and they had it, too. Eight boys were in the group and that every one of them had a good time goes without saying even if there was some work in cleaning up, and repairing the cabin.

The Hi-Y Bible study class on Sunday afternoon was well attended and after the program Mr. Wells read us a good story—as usual.

JR. DRAMATIC CLUB JUNING The Junior Dramatic club met last Thursday night. After a short program, Mrs. Hazelwood told us about the plays which we plan to have.

There are forty-four members in the J. D. C., which is a large number from which to choose characters for our plays. So, just watch our smoke!

EMBLEMS OF VICTORY TO TROPHY CASE

Resting securely in its proper place—C. H. S.'s beautiful trophy case, gift of Occidental staff of '24—is a prized possession, the very football "Chigger" carried over Abilene's goal line.

The other new trophy is the blanket "our goat" wore at the Eastland-Cisco game—it wasn't "ours" at first, but the Lobos won it. This trophy, also has on it the insignia of victory.

Now, these additions to our collection are very precious, but there is one other we are hoping for and expecting—the state championship loving cup.

QUEENS WERE INSPIRED TO BEAT PARKS

The Lobo Queens were greatly inspired and encouraged just before the Parks game by Mr. Godbey's words of commendation and the yell he led for the basket ball girls team and Coach Trigg.

Again they were helped and filled with enthusiasm when our pep squad one hundred and fifty strong, accompanied them to Parks and led by J. D. Carroll—the best yell leader yet—sang and cheered them on to victory.

Now, this is what our Lobo Queens needed more than anything. Appreciation—putting a proper valuation on things of merit—is the keynote to the success of any one or anything. Get behind your girls' team as you do the Lobos. Support them; back them in every way possible. Look to their interests. They need new suits; and encouragement in this material way would do more to prove your appreciation that anything.

REORGANIZE RED CROSS Mrs. Grace Ashbaugh, of St. Louis, division superintendent for the National Red Cross, will arrive in Cisco Tuesday and at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon there will be a meeting of local people for the purpose of reorganizing the Red Cross locally. This meeting will be at the city hall.

The thrifty farmer saves his soil with terraces and by growing winter cover crops, say A. & M. specialists.

RIGHT KIND OF MUSIC ENOBLES AND INSPIRES

Music is one of the greatest and most essential elements in the education of a child, but one that is too often neglected.

Even as early as 1590, Shakespeare, realizing how necessary music is to the developing and cultivating of a man's soul, said, "The man who has no music in himself, nor is not moved by concord of sweet sounds is fit for treason, strategem and spoils."

It is a pitiful thing that in our schools so little attention is being paid to the musical training of the child—to the training of his mind and soul for an appreciation of the right sort of music.

Music has a practical value, too; it is a carrier of common emotions and ideals, it will inspire man to the highest and greatest thoughts and deeds.

Courses should be provided in orchestra, glee club and choral club work; also, in music theory and appreciation. But these courses should not be compulsory. Every child should be given an opportunity to hear good music, and taught to understand it—because unless he understands it he can not appreciate it.

Some one once said, "You tell one song that a nation sings and I will tell you what that nation stands for."

HARK YE! BRAVE HEROES! A deadly looking creature backed up between two rocks is discovered by Carl. He, with fear and trembling, announces the news to Glenn and Billy. Alas! Some of the other boys have the gun! Three visitors arrive in camp—Franklin, Yancy and Delmer. They have guns! But oh woe! Although these braves all take a hand at shooting the monster they are unable to pierce its skull. Lawrence and Evans return. Joy! With the gun! Brave Lawrence pulls the trigger—but the gun only snaps. Evans, the mighty marksman, backs off and shoots the animal. Happy consummation! All quarrel as to what kind of animal it is: Wolf, possum, bear, lion, tiger, squirrel, or rat. Marvin and Frank quite sure that it is a squirrel, agree to make soup of him for dinner—even though it be a rat, that rat is doomed. They all rush forward determined to seize and discover—a rock! Sad young Nimrod! No brood, no dinner! Such is the fate of the brave!

LOW SOPHS PLAN TO PLAY

The low sophomores are letting us hear from them this year. They met Friday and discussed plans for a very elaborate party which is to be given Friday night after Thanksgiving at the beautiful home of Mrs. W. W. Moore.

EDUCATIONAL AND BUSINESS STAFF MEETING

The Gusher staff held an educational and business meeting Monday night. The house was called to order at 7:30 by the editor, with a talk outlining the purpose and aim of these meetings and an outline of the program.

The editors talk was followed by a talk on feature stories by the editor of said stories, in which he tried to make the impression that feature stories were not bound to follow the routine of ordinary news stories but could contain originality in phrasing as well as in expression.

Evans Kinsley next gave a talk on the "lead" or the beginning of a story, in which he gave the general plan of the preparation of a lead as well as the many types of leads. An extra good talk.

A talk on editorials was made by Marvin Boyd. In this, Marvin put forth that an editorial should in a measure, aid the student in his opinions and decisions and should always tend to show the student body the right side of all the issues of the day. These are only two of the purposes of an editorial.

These talks were followed by a round table discussion in which every one took part. Personally, I learn more at one of the round table talks than I would in a day's study of journalism.

So you see the staff means business!

LOBO PUPS HELD AT BAY MORAN'S HARD BULL DOGS

The Lobo Pups won a brilliant victory from the Moran Hi Bull Dogs at Moran Friday afternoon. The running and passing attack of the Pups was sensational, with the redoubtable Teddy Heustis taking the lead.

The Lobo Pups won a brilliant victory from the Moran Hi Bull Dogs at Moran Friday afternoon. The running and passing attack of the Pups was sensational, with the redoubtable Teddy Heustis taking the lead. In the first few minutes of play he tore through right tackle and made a beautiful 65-yard run for a touchdown. Westerfeldt, Pippen, R. Daniel, Smith and Jack Moss, the diminutive quarterback, were all consistent ground gainers. On the defense the Pups upheld the reputation of the Lobos as the greatest defensive high school team in the state, allowing the Bull Dogs only three first downs, two of which came as a result of penalties. Coach Whitehead, who carried the team to Moran, used 25 men in the game. Doubtless some of the men who are playing with the Pups will in future years represent the Lobos on the gridiron.

About fifteen C. H. S. students attended the game and Randolph College also furnished a good quota of rooters.

The Pups hit the field in a fighting spirit and kept it up during the entire game. The Bull Dogs displayed the spirit but as the score of 55-0, in favor of the Pups shows, that's about all they did have. The Moran coach was formerly the Cisco Grammar school coach.

The Bull Dogs kicked off to the Pups to open the initial period. Westerfeldt returned ten yards. On a sweeping left end run Pippen made fifteen yards and a first down. Cisco made another first down through the line but lost the ball on a fumble. Moran drove to Cisco's twenty-five yard line and was forced to try a field goal, which fell short. The Pups went up the field, playing straight football and Pippen hit left tackle for a touchdown. Pippen drop-kicked goal.

In the second period the Pups began running through the Moran boys. The Pups pushed the ball to Moran's fifteen-yard line and Smith circled left end for a touchdown. Pippen missed goal. Andrews kicked to Moran's five-yard line, but Moran returned ten yards. On a Moran fumble, Hawkins recovered for Cisco. Pippen hit right tackle for a touchdown. Pippen kicked goal. An entire new team of Pups were run in by Coach Whitehead, who finished the half. The score at the end of first half stood: Cisco 20, Moran 0.

The second team of Pups played the entire third quarter and scored two touchdowns, while holding the Bull Dogs scoreless. The first touchdown was made by B. Pippen, when Moran attempted to punt from behind their goal line. The punt was blocked and Pippen recovered, making the touch-down. Warren missed goal. Again the Pups scored when Warren blocked a Moran pass, which B. Pippen caught and ran thirty yards for the touch-down. Daniels failed to kick goal. Line plunging by Daniels and Warren added greatly in the defeat of the Bull Dogs. Moss played a good game at quarter.

The third quarter ended with the Pups still leading, score: Pups 32, Moran 0.

The team that started the game went back in at the beginning of the fourth quarter. A pass, Heustis to Pippen, scored a touch-down on the first play. Pippen kicked goal. The Pups received the kick-off and went back up the field. A pass, Westerfeldt to Pippen, came near being a touchdown touch-back. Moran got the ball on the twenty-yard line and Westerfeldt hit right tackle for a touch-down. Pippen kicked goal. Westerfeldt scored the last touch-down of the game in the last few seconds of play and Pippen kicked goal. The final score: Cisco 55, Moran 0.

Just as the Ranger Bull Dogs went down before the onslaught of the mighty Lobos so the Moran Bull Dogs were unable to resist the fury of the Lobo Pups!

RANGER'S PEP SQUAD SPRUNG PRETTY STUNT

It surely did make a fellow feel good, to see how the pep squad of Ranger backed the Bull Dogs. Even when the Ranger boys were losing they had the support of an enthusiastic pep squad which helped them to keep up their fight. Between halves after the Lobo pep squad had formed a perfect "L", the Ranger pep squad marched down to their goal and turned a flock of pigeons loose "decorated" with Ranger colors, red and white. Besides this, there was a very clever little girl, dressed in red and white, who did hand springs and some very clever little dances.

WHAT THE STUDY OF LITERATURE CAN DO FOR ME

Literature with a will behind the writer and reader, can mold a man, in fact literature can be compared to a mold for a statue; and, as the size and shape of a statue depends upon the mold, so the size and shape of the man depends upon the literature which he reads. Bad literature makes a bad man; good literature, a good man. A few things good literature can do for me or anyone else are the following:

It can give me the thoughts of great minds. No man can round out and complete his own self without the aid of others. Thoughts from great minds give to, or can give to, my mind, the tendency to be great, just as from the seed of a plant comes the plant.

The study of literature can help me to distinguish the pure from the base. Only by knowing what is right can I be righteous. Hall of the degeneracy and crime of the world is caused by ignorance. The power to distinguish right from wrong is the key-note to goodness. I believe that more public libraries and the distribution of the right books will decrease evil; for no man will deliberately commit crime when he knows right from wrong, unless he is utterly bad—and the majority are not utterly bad. The right literature will help me solve my problems. Constantly every one is brought face to face with problems, not very difficult at my age, but growing difficult; and without aid of some kind, I am hopeless. Literature will offer me a solution. Somewhere in my reading, I shall find a character facing a similar problem; and by studying his actions and the results I can learn to control my own actions.

Literature will give me refinement. It will give me a vocabulary. It will help me originate a style and manner. It will teach me to think along cultured lines. It will polish my mind and give it culture so that there will be no necessity for effort. Literature is culture and without culture there is no civilization.

Above all, literature will help me to know myself. Self-knowledge is self control. If I know my weak spots I can avoid contact with them until they have grown into virtues. Knowing what I would do under certain conditions I can avoid them until I am prepared for the meeting of them.

These things are but a few of the prime values of good literature. To attempt to name them all, I believe, would be impossible; they are innumerable.

"CLOSE CISCO'S CAREER" FAILED TO MATERIALIZE

More than four thousand west Texans saw the Ranger Bulldogs fail to stop the Fightin' Loboes and "Close Cisco's Career" at Nitro park, Ranger, Tuesday afternoon. Pep squads of both teams were cheering wildly while the bands played their team's favorite airs. The surging crowds were kept under control by the city officials and the game was uninterrupted.

The Loboes showed their strength by winning without some of the regular mainstays. Ed Browne and Bo Speights witnessed the game from the Lobo sidelines and after the first quarter Fields and Lee were taken out on account of injuries. Lee and Fields were in the game playing great football when Cisco put over the winning touchdown in the first period.

In the first quarter Ranger came near scoring on the Loboes when they made a first down on Cisco's fifteen-yard line. The Loboes held and Ranger tried a field goal, but the ball hit the cross bar between the goal posts. The line plunging of Wilson, Lobo half-back, carried the ball down the field and to a touchdown later in the first period. Wilson kicked goal.

Both teams failed to score in the second quarter. Ranger came in striking distance of the Lobo goal but a field goal went wide.

Most of the third period was played in Ranger territory and in mid-field. The Loboes neared the Ranger goal but Ranger got the ball and punted out of danger.

Thrill after thrill was afforded in the final period. Ranger uncorked an aerial attack which came near proving fatal to the Loboes. Twice Ranger threatened to score. A field goal by Harvey, Ranger quarterback, went wide and again Ranger passed over the goal line but dropped the ball. A long pass for thirty yards, Harvey to Bohannon was the feature of the fourth quarter.

Ernie Wilson kept up his steady work, both on offense and defense, being one of the important factors in the win over Ranger. Grist played a great game at center and Daniel at end "made 'em sit up and take notice." Alsbrook, Irvin and Couch played their usual good game. Our last week's Gusher came out on the day the game was played. This report may seem a trifle late, but we could not print this issue without glorifying a little in our winning of the county championship—or rather, holding it.—Editor.)

DISTURBANCE OF THE PEACE

Lovely warbles issuing from the commercial room Wednesday afternoon summoned thither a long, lean, ever-vigilant Gusher reporter, with the inevitable horn-rimmed specs and "2 for 5" cedar pencil behind his ear. The melodious harmonies—or shall I say harmonious melodies?—ceased upon his entrance, leaving the director, his back to the door, waving away with his ba-oh, his music stick, blissfully unconscious of the presence of that vicious brute, the reporter. Over his shoulder, their faces turned in awe-stricken terror to the intruder, stood—shall we disclose their names? Yes, verily, stood Mancill, Holmsley, Lovelady and Boyd. The reporter turned him on his heel and got himself speedily elsewhere. False alarm! In faith, what did you expect to hear? Scandal?

THE BELLES

Hear the music of the belles
High school belles
What a world of preparation
Each mentality foretells.
How they giggle, giggle, giggle
In the halls and everywhere,
And the boys that pass them by
Straighten out their ties and sigh
For a belle that is there.
In a pickle, pickle, pickle,
They are kempt by belles so fickle,
Scents of Hyubright and violet
Enchantingly wells
From the belles, belles, belles,
Belles, belles, belles,
From a giggling and a chattering
Group of belles.

See the laughing bob haired belles
Pretty belles
What world of happiness
Each lovely smile foretells
Between classes every day
"They talk and act as if to say,
We are masters of our fate
From now on!"
To all events they're always late
But Gee! they sure look great
When they do come!
From out the group of belles
What a gush of prattling
Voluminously wells
How it swells
How it dwells
But the future—how it tells
On each face that now empels!
Oh! the painting and the powdering
Of the belles, belles, belles,
Oh! the painting and the powdering
Of the belles.

They make you like them, then they flirt
For they care not who they hurt
Yet each victim fully knows
By their smiles
And their wiles
How their friendship ebbs and flows
Yet your inner self distinctly tells
That the flirting
And the hurting
Is only to keep alive that jealousy
That swells
And keeps you disgusted, liking them
And angry at the belles
At the belles,
At the belles, belles, belles,
Keeps you angry yet still
Liking all the belles.

Hear the mocking or the belles
Iron hearted belles!
What a world of solemn anger
Their fickleness compels
In the silence of the night
How we think with such delight
Of their gay and joyful tone
Then every sound that floats
From the choking in our throats
Is a groan!

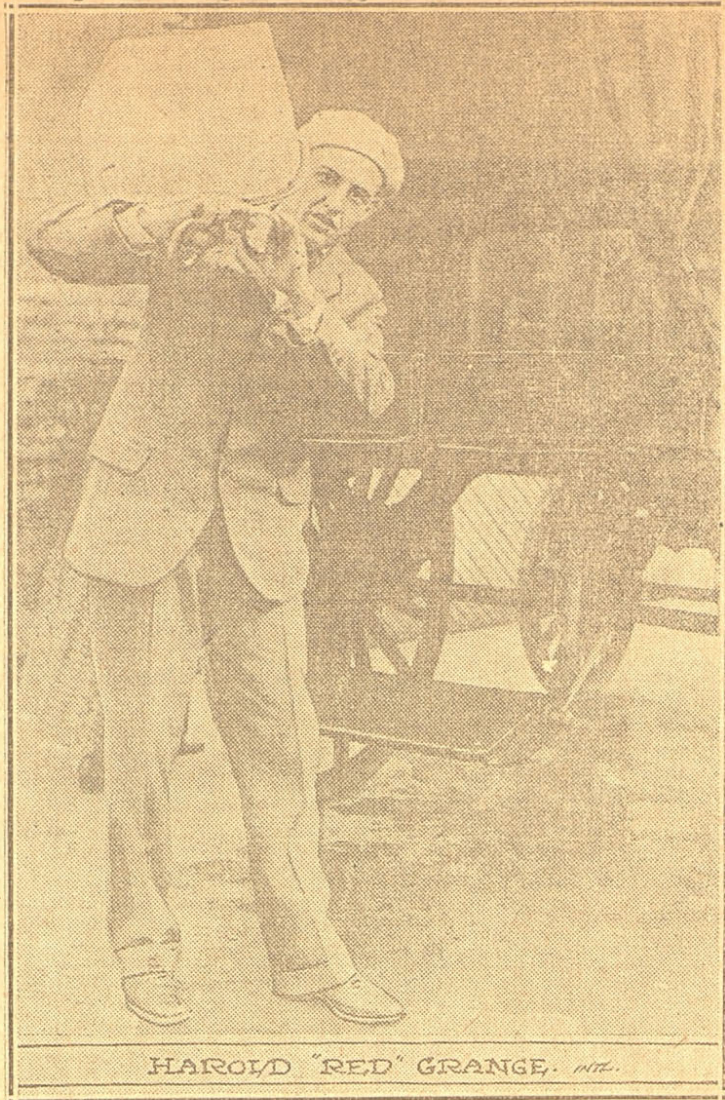

For we see "her" in the moon
With another there to spoon
All alone
And who talking, talking, talking
In a muffled monotone
Feel a glory in so stalking
"On a human heart or stone
They are neither man nor woman
They are neither brute nor human
They are belles
And their "jelly" he who pays
Oh! he pays, pays, pays,
For the drinks for the belles
And his merry wallet swells.—(not)
And she dances and she yells
While he pays, pays, pays
For the orchestra that plays
To entertain the belles
The belles,
Keeping pace, pace, pace
In a kind of dazed haze
To the robbing of the belles
Of the belles, belles, belles
The flirtations of the belles
Keeping pace, pace, pace
As she tells, tells, tells
With a piquant sort of grace
Of the conquest of the belles
Of the belles, belles, belles,
Of the artfulness and conquests
Of the belles!

AMERICA'S BEST KNOWN ICE MAN.

America's best known ice man is Harold ("Red") Grange, phenomenal halfback of the University of Illinois football team. In Summer, "Red" earns money in his home town, Wheaton, Ill., by delivering ice, so he can attend college in Winter.

WANTED: A NEW SONG, REPLACE BLACK JOSEPH

It is indeed strange to me that we are taught that high school is supposed to advance one's learning of every kind each year and then students are forced to sing the same old songs in assembly that we have been singing ever since we carried a ball, bat, and primer to school.

It is the hobby of one of our faculty to have us sing either a song having to do with a darkey, Joseph by name, coming somewhere, or the wail of a fellow who wishes he was back in his old home in some place called Dixie (probably named after the Dixie series) or both.

THROW THE CHILD OVERBOARD

It is related a certain king, that when embarked on a voyage, attended by some of his courtiers, and carrying with him some of his treasures, a storm arose, which made it necessary to lighten the ship; whereupon he commanded his courtiers to be thrown overboard, but saved his money. How is it with parents who are embarked with fortune and family on this voyage of life; when they need a better schoolhouse to save their children from ill health, or a better teacher to rescue them from immorality and ignorance, or even a slate or a shilling's worth of paper to save them from idleness; have we any parents amongst us, or have we not, who, under such circumstances, will fling the child overboard and save the shilling?—Horace Mann.

The only way to have a friend is to be one.—Emerson.

PRE VICTORY PEP MEET FOR LOBO'S GRID GAME HELD

A pep meeting of the entire town was called Saturday night, Nov. 15. The auditorium was well filled by citizens and students and the pep squad was up on the stage. The squad first gave several yells that were new. The first speaker was R. Q. Lee. Others who spoke were, Mr. Godeby, Mr. Wells, and prominent citizens who encouraged the Loboes by saying they were for them always. The pep squad sang and gave yells between the speeches and every one caught the true spirit. C. H. S. is sure to win with such backing.

Although we talk a good deal about what the widespread education of this country means, I question if many of us deeply consider its meaning. From the lowest grade of the public school to the highest form of university training education in this country is at the disposal of every man, every woman, who chooses to work for and obtain it. Each one of us, then, who has an education, school or college, has obtained something from the community at large for which he or she has not paid, and no self-respecting man or woman is content to rest permanently under such an obligation. Where the state has bestowed education the man who accepts it must be content to accept it merely as charity unless he returns it to the state in full in the shape of good citizenship.—Theodore Roosevelt.

If it is a proud thing to be the mother of a man, it must be a prouder thing to be a mother of men. If a woman is wonderful who adopts and develops one child, she must be wonderful when she has charge of the development of twenty or forty or a hundred for the greater part of a waking day. If a woman can rule her own spirit in caring for a family of three or five, she is a rare and fine being; then it must be a fine and rare being who can rule her own spirit in directing the development of a room full all day long. In short, the modern school-teacher, if she lives up to her work, must be a wonderful woman, a rare and fine being, fulfilling a proud task. * * * The school mother can no more be dreaded and cartooned and ridiculed than can a mother. The school mother is bound to be revered and loved in any community which she enriches. Enriches! That is her job—o/ enrich the community by enriching human lives. The old idea of a teacher with a birch rod in one hand is as dead as dueling. The new idea of a community school mother has come to stay.—Zona Gale.

SOME THOUGHTS GATHERED FROM MANY SOURCES

Twenty-two percent of the money spent in America goes for luxuries; 1 1/2 percent goes for education. How is that for proportion?

Is indifference to education as harmful as narcotics; ignorance, as poison?

How many newspapers and magazines would be sold to our nation if it were illiterate?

What good would the advertising of luxuries and commodities of any kind do if people could not read them? Then, does education help the business man in the matter of bringing him business?

Isn't it true that the public schools increase, if not create, the very desires which keep our stores crowded with customers, and our banks with depositors?

$1,100 or $1,200 spent on an automobile buys something that will give pleasure or service or both for a few years; that same $1,100 or $1,200 put into the community public school system, will carry a boy or girl from the kindergarten through the grammar grades and high school. Which is the better investment?

Did you ever see a parent who regretted giving his children an education even though he may have done so at great personal sacrifice?

Did you ever see a man or woman who regretted getting an education—who was sorry to have "wasted" so many years as a student, when he might have been making money? Does he not regret, rather, that he could not go on even further in the educative process—does he not realize that education increases his earning capacity? Doesn't its value become dear to him and bring him large satisfactions that are priceless?

Do not many of the so-called failures in life attribute their defeats to lack of preparation—education?

Use of the common heavy wire snap trap buried in the mouth of a sack of feed is pretty effective on rats.

DEBATING CLUB STAGES PEPPY PICNIC FRIDAY

Toasted wienies, marshmallows, sandwiches, apples and motionless cars were the features of the Debating club picnic given on Friday night. The members of the club together with a number of invited guests met at the school building at 6:30 to start on their picnic. They started, and all the cars reached the destined spot except one, and the occupants of this, all enjoyed the pleasant hike.

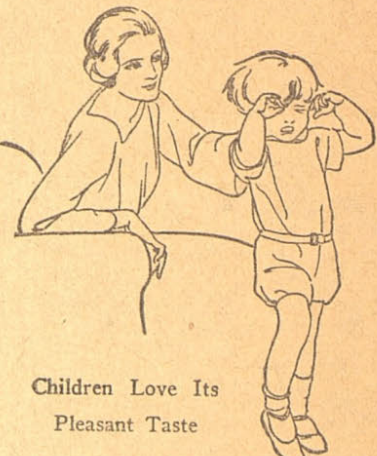

The picnic was peppy from start to finish. Games furnished the entertainment before the eating, of course; afterwards, well, we didn't feel gamey, then.

The club invites not only those who were guests at the picnic, but also anyone in C. H. S. who is interested to come and join us in our work and play.

"Another element must be secured in the training of citizenship or all else will be in vain. All of our learning and science, our culture and our arts, will be of little avail unless they are supported by high character, unless there be honor, truth, and justice. Unless our material resources are supported by moral and spiritual resources, there is no foundation for progress. A trained intelligence can do much, but there is no substitute for morality, character, and religious convictions. Unless these abide, American citizenship will be found unequalled to its task."—President Coolidge.

CISCO LOBOES HAVE BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

If the Cisco Loboes defeat the Comanche Indians—and of course, they will—they have a rather bright but somewhat rugged future.

The Stephenville Yellow Jackets, conquerors of Graham, are to meet Cieburne November 22. The winner of the Cisco-Comanche tilt—the Loboes, of course—will probably meet the champion from the southwestern part of the state. Amarillo and Vernon decide their argument Monday the 17th. Pampa is making a strong bid for the Panhandle-Plains title by defeating Slaton 30-0. Waco won their district title, but are not very formidable contenders for state honors. The East Texas winner will probably meet the South Texas winners to decide who will be in the semi-finals.

The Loboes will have to meet the best of these winners when they beat Comanche—then for the state finals and state championship!

SOME SAGACIOUS SENIORS

Marguerite, a dreamy-eyed lassie Is what all the experts call classic Unlimited capacity For dash and vivacity Or as we would express it—just sassie!

The girl in the Mother Goose rhyme Was not Kathryn we'll be our last dime— With the curl on her forehead— For at times she was horrid While Kathryn is sweet all the time.

There was a young fellow named Lowery Whose ideas were not from the Bowery He spoke what he tho't And we really are loth To see charms thus cornered. Have pity!

Now, 'tis right for some girls to be pretty And others, of course, to be witty But Ruby is both, And we really are loth To see charms thus cornered. Have pity!

Education teaches me laws of good health How can one acquire knowledge without a good, strong body as well as an intelligent mind? And how can one have good health if he is ignorant of all laws of health? Every pupil in the grades should take a physiology course, which teaches him how to care for his body. But, even a pupil who does not study physiology, soon learns that in order to keep up his studies and acquire a good education, he must take good care of his body, eat the right kinds of food, and get a certain amount of sleep, or his mind becomes dull and inactive.

We know that many ignorant people are unclean, and as a result have bad health. Therefore, we should take care of our health, in order that our minds will be clear and we may accomplish our best. These ten laws of health each one of us should make his daily consideration.

1. I shall keep my body clean and unadorned, for cleanliness is next to godliness, and abuse is unmanly.

2. I shall sleep eight hours every night, for sleep is more essential than food, and is the chief nourisher in life's feast.

3. I shall keep my body vigorous and elastic by regular physical exercise and long walks.

4. I shall not neglect my teeth, for a foul mouth is a breeding place for disease.

5. I shall not abuse my eyes, for they are the windows of the soul, and without them I could see neither family nor friends, nor the beauties of sky, forest or field.

6. I shall breathe deeply to aerate my lungs and purify my blood.

7. I shall eat wholesome and nutritious food.

8. I shall remember that healthy skin and a clear eye are the best indices of health.

9. I shall keep my bowels open to prevent the accumulation of poison waste matter.

10. I shall think health, because mental attitude is the most potent and effective factor in the attainment and retention of health.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE FOR AMERICA'S ILLITERACY?

Education to all is one of the three fundamentals upon which our republic is based. Yet there are in our republic three million illiterates who were in the states during their school age.

Our fathers realized that illiteracy was the cause of much vice, crime and poverty or they would never have made education a foundation for our constitution. If we were to lose sight of the foundation of our republic then the republic itself would totter and fall.

If there is no other way make education compulsory to a certain extent. Any child can spare a certain part of the night in order to learn how to read or write. We are responsible for illiteracy not the illiterates themselves.

WHY A SENIOR NO MORE SLIDES DOWN BANISTERS

Say, did you ever slide down the banister up at the school? You sure can make some speed; but, you know, one day I was having a swell time and was going about seventy per, when Mr. Wells stopped me and looked like a bottle of horse radish. Well, you know, that kind of knocked the props out from under me and I don't like to slide down the banisters any more. I have to watch out because one day when I was sure Mr. Wells was in his office I slid down, and about that time Mr. Ralston got me by the neck. Well, I quit sliding from then on.

IMPOSSIBILITIES

1. Vacations every day.
2. No Study Hall B.
3. All students angels.
4. Straight A card.
5. Mrs. Irby with bobbed hair.
6. "Runt" in a Lord Fauntleroy suit.
7. Mr. Godbey missing a football game.
8. Mr. Ralston playing golf.
9. No lessons to get at home.
10. Scott Baum without his hair combed.
11. "Chester" Brock in long trousers.
12. Mr. Whitehead's Ford running noiselessly.

OVERHEARD

One day in English class, we were talking about how many themes we would have to hand in before Christmas. Ted said, "I wish Santa Claus would bring me my themes."

Miss Harlan: "It is not correct to say 'burglarized.'"

Horace: "What do you say—burglarized?"

J. D. Carroll (in English): "He got inspired and wrote it while he was going along while it was raining on horseback."

Mr. Whitehead: "Jack, did you star in the game yesterday?"

Jack Daniel: "Yes, I starred, saw stars too."

Mrs. Irby: "Carl, telephone Mr. O'Flaherty and ask him if he is there."

THE LAMENT OF THE LATE

Tardy, tardy, tardy, Tardy to school again! Oh, I hope that in heaven they'll let me lie in my bed until ten!

Tardy, tardy, tardy, And I know what they'll say unto me "Return, oh sleepy head, homeward, This P. M. we'll be looking for thee."

Alas for alarm clocks deceiving That promised to rouse me betimes, Alas for the marks I'm receiving, The zeroes that punish my crimes.

On a dishpan I'll set my alarm clock To make of its sound a loud roar. I'll start out, if need be, at day break, And meet that chill welcome no more. —I. B.

THEY SAY THAT—

There is in our school quite a bunch Who seem to have quite a hunch That by shooting perhaps, On the side-walk some craps, They might pick up enough for a lunch.

Carl Johnson went to Ranger Saturday, on his "own business."

There was a big blow out in Nitro Park Nov. 11.

Allen Boon and Ross Stubblefield "stepped out" from Eastland to Cisco. Nice walk we suppose.

The new fad is out! The modern beau brummels have found something under which to display their handsome features. Those "cute and clever" little caps—of vari-colored materials have caused many a fair damsel's heart to flutter as the Romeos pass.

Glenn Brock has a new bottle of hair oil. (What news!)

As a school, we should thank Maurine for furnishing the school refreshments, pinions nuts.

Odie Stovell, Malcolm St. John, Carl Stockard, Elsworth Mayer, Jack Moss, Con Collins, and W. G. Mancill were initiated into the Wouff Hong last Wednesday night.

Marvin can prove (geometrically, we suppose.) that 2 equals 1. Ask Glenn.

Dan Boon can make chairs look like kindling.

Marvin vs. Lecll, final score: 28-3 in favor of Marvin.

In order to keep in form, the Loboes were told by Coach Chapman, either to play a round of golf or walk out to the oil derrick south of town. This, in lieu of the light work-out on the day before a game.

The Senior rings will be here sometime this week. It really sounds too good to be true, doesn't it Seniors?

This week has been set for all Juniors to have their pictures made. Get busy, Juniors.

Rosalie Weathers made a very nice talk in assembly Wednesday morning on the subject of "What Armistice Day Means to Us."

We have a new musician in our school, namely Erwin Brown, who can play the violin as well as sing tenor.

The Presbyterian duck supper was a success, especially in the way of ice cream. A few bricks—of cream—being left, several of the high school students succeeded in getting about ten bricks apiece. I scream, you scream, we all scream, for ice cream.

The boys of the industrial class are constructing another side-walk. This one is from the right entrance of the lower floor to the east entrance of the building. If the industrial class keeps on getting industrial their industry will end up in the paving of the whole campus.
