LAUNCH NEW DRIVE AGAINST RADICALISM

New Alien Exclusion Act Prompts Government To Squeeze Out Bolsheviki

Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 22.—Armed with the broadened powers that are provided in the recently-enacted alien exclusion act, department of justice officials today announced a new drive against radicalism.

Orders have been issued, officials said today, for a strict watch on all activities of those preaching radicalism or in any way assisting in the spreading of radical theories while they themselves refrain from the indulgence in actual anarchistic activities.

"Theoretical, red and parlor bolshevists" are especial objects of the new campaign, it is pointed out by department of justice officials.

Advocacy of sabotage or opposition to organized government by aliens is sufficient to bring them within the new law, authorities declared today.

Sabotage in this connection is construed by department of justice officials to mean "opposition to the administration of the government."

Aliens who publish writings against organized government, even though the United States is excepted, are liable to deportation, under the new law.

The financial resources of the radical appropriations are being carefully scrutinized, officials declare, and it is thought the income of many of them will be cut off by the new law, which prohibits the giving or lending of money to anarchistic organizations.

It is believed the purchase of red bonds will come within the latter category.

Inglewood's Damage Will Run High; One Person Is Killed at Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 22.—Another slight earthquake shock was felt at Inglewood, a suburb of this city, here late today.

No damage has been reported.

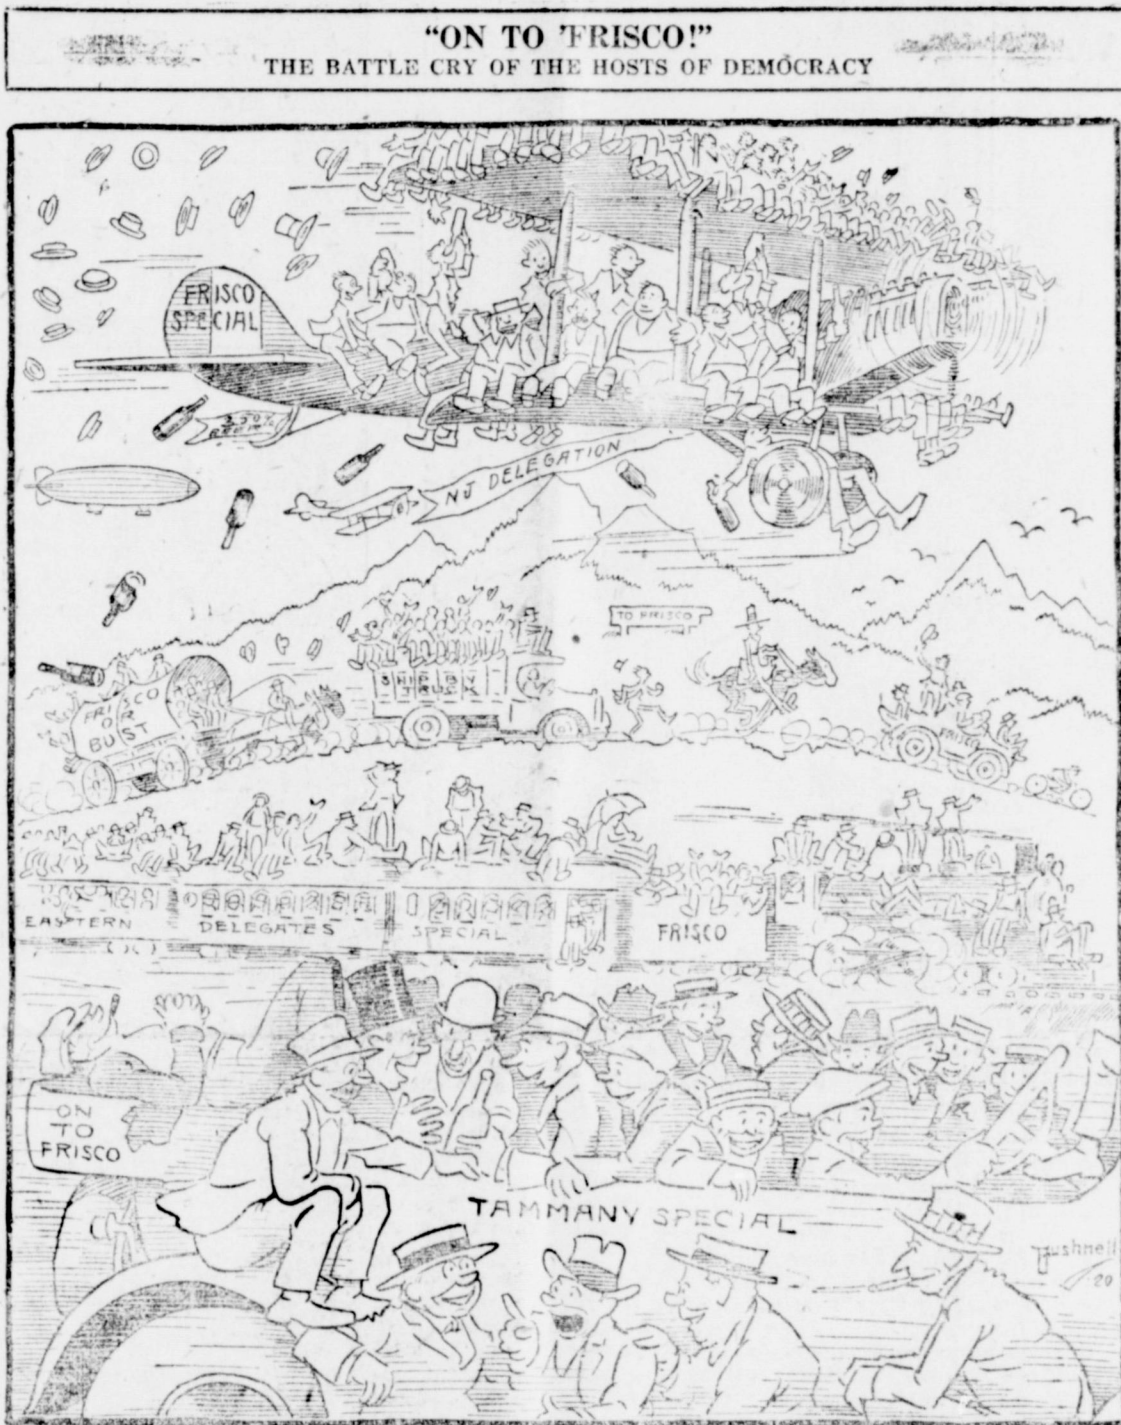

Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 22.—Late this (Tuesday) afternoon the survey being made of last night's earthquake discloses an estimated damage of approximately $100,000, with three-fourths of the damage at Inglewood.

Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Calif., June 22.—A survey was made today of the damage done by the earthquake that shook this part of the Pacific coast country last night, which shows that at Inglewood, ten miles from here 21 business buildings were destroyed, the town is deprived of its lights and gas, and scores of dwellings were wrecked or seriously damaged.

Falling debris from damaged buildings injured many people at Inglewood, some of whom will die from injuries sustained.

The quake, so far as ascertainable at this hour, confined its fury to Los Angeles county.

Many people were injured here from various causes during the quake, and one person was killed by falling brick from a building that was demolished by the quake.

TYPHOID FEVER EPIDEMIC AT W. F. CITIZENS PROTEST INSANITARY POND

Associated Press.
WICHITA FALLS, Tex., June 22.—Forty cases of typhoid fever were reported here this morning by local officials.

The city has warned residents to boil their drinking water and has launched a campaign against flies.

Newton, Texas, a small town north of here, local health officials declare, is in the throes of an epidemic of typhoid fever.

PETITION CITY COMMISSION TO FILL IN STAGNANT POOL NORTH OF DEBOT

A protest against the alleged unsanitary condition of the pond just north of the depot was presented to the city commission at its meeting Monday evening by Dr. J. W. Gregory, city health officer, in the form of a petition signed by several score people.

The petition asked that the pond either be filled in or otherwise relieved of its stagnant condition.

After some deliberation the commission referred the matter back to Dr. Gregory for a thorough investigation.

The only other business transacted by the commission during the evening was to approve the purchase of a machine for tapping water mains at a cost of $122.40.

Expert Axman Hurt by Falling Tree in New Reservoir Basin

A messenger was sent to town for medical assistance. Dr. J. W. Gregory responded immediately.

The axman will recover.

This is the first accident to befall workmen engaged in clearing the reservoir basin, according to Superintendent A. Barnes, in charge of the work.

Methodist Church Will Be Finished Early Next Month

The Methodist church building now in course of construction on Broadway, will be ready for occupancy early next month and the first sermon will be delivered from its pulpit the second Sunday in July, according to the Rev. Lewis N. Stuckey, pastor of the church.

The work is being rushed to completion, he says, and if the edifice is not finished by the time contemplated it will not be much later than that time.

The massive structure is being erected at a cost of $75,000. Most of the outer work has been finished and the details of its inner furnishings will be attended to quickly.

Great difficulty has been experienced in building the church, owing to the variance in its design from that of ordinary business buildings, making some of the materials harder to obtain than under ordinary circumstances.

The wire was sent in answer to Proctor's demand to know whether or not Butler had been accurately quoted in a recent published statement in which he purported to have declared that gamblers and stock market players were General Wood's principal backers for the republican presidential nomination.

Butler's telegram said:

"I am convinced that my words, spoken under the strain, turmoil and fatigue of the Chicago convention and in sharp revolt against the power of money in politics, were both unbecoming and unwarranted, and that I should do and apologize to each and every one who may have been hurt by what I said."

Democrat Chieftains Slow In Getting to Their Convention City

Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—While the hotel lobbies here today began to take on the appearance of a national political convention, only a few democratic chieftains have arrived.

There is much discussion in progress as to the elements to be involved in shaping a party platform, and strikingly little talk about candidates.

Out of the talk today came the increasing rumble of the wet and dry movements, and it is clearly indicated that the party leaders look for a fight on the convention floor over efforts to make the democratic platform advocate a modification of the prohibition laws through the beer plank.

The League of Nations plank is not, it seems at this writing, very prominent in the current discussion, but a possible struggle over the exclusion of the Japanese is suggested by California's contention, as the situation is becoming very serious there.

Burleson said he is against measures denying labor the right to strike.

"The democratic party in its San Francisco platform must take an open stand upon the great issues now confronting the country, and above all must avoid pussfooting," he declared.

This stand, he said, must be taken and expressed in language so clear and unambiguous that the average voter can understand it.

HIGH RENTALS HERE.

In yesterday's News appears an article in which Stuart L. Williams, secretary of the Young Men's Business League, calls attention to the fabulous sums for which business places and residences here are being rented.

He cites instances where big business concerns have turned reluctantly from locating here because the rent they would have to pay for a location would preclude the possibility of their realizing adequate returns on their investments.

It is apparent that Mr. Williams has not offered a warning against the boosting of rents through any spirit of criticism. It is quite probable that Mr. Williams feels that he is in the same boat with the rest of the community and commonly shares its faults as well as its virtues. Be that as it may.

The admirable thing about the situation is that Mr. Williams has risen up in the midst of this feast of plenty which property owners of this city have been enjoying for several years, and has had the courage to say: "Gentlemen, what will be the consequence of this over-gorging of our appetites. What will be the outcome of our turning our backs upon good conservative enterprises and business men who would sit with us at our table, but who are disposed to throw their money haphazardly into the maw of our extravagant banquetings?"

These are not Mr. Williams' words, but they are the figurative gist of his attitude.

It is doubtful whether or not amid the rattle of dishes and uproar of voices, what he says will be heard by many, and if heard, whether it will be seriously regarded by any appreciable number.

The property owners here know that they are getting a far higher rent for their possessions than their investments could ever begin to warrant. The only redeeming consolation of the whole situation is that in the majority of cases they have not asked these exorbitant rentals—they have been practically thrust upon them.

If a property owner has been renting his store for $100 a month and some one else comes to him and offers him $200 a month for the same place, there are no two ways about it, according to the ethics of business—he is foolish if he does not accept the offer.

That is exactly what happened in the greater number of cases here. What the lessee of a piece of business has based his hopes upon in offering such high premiums for rental, the owner is not called upon to analyze or to explain. He has simply put his commodity upon the market for the highest price it will bring. It is the functioning of the law of supply and demand.

There is only one exception that will make this law inoperative, and that is an oppression of the people by the suppression of, or putting beyond their reach, that which they absolutely need. In the final analysis it is the people who must ultimately back the high bid of a concern for an advantageous location.

People from the outside come here in search of homes and are unable to find them. We have virtually put up a sign over the gates of our city: "For Transients Only" and have acted in accordance with what that sign implies.

Unless we pursue a radically different course, we will some day rise up off our hands and knees from this wild scramble for money, take our eyes off the ground, find every one else gone and that we are grappling with one another.

There is just so much money and business here and no more. Unless we can put forth reasonable inducements to outside people and concerns to come to this city to live and locate, to swell our population and our business scope, we can never hope for anything better than a two-handed game of see-sawing backward and forward between little losses and little gains.

We shall be nothing more than a top, that with all its spinning around its own self-center, gains nothing in size nor progress by its effort.

How can this situation be solved? There is a way. Let us seek it.

OPEN OPINIONS

AS SEEN BY A NEW ENGLANDER

While the Cisco Daily News, as to politics, is strictly an independent journal, yet work communications as the following letter from a "Down Eastern" state can not fail to be of interest to our readers. The article is simply a private letter written by Professor Charles Edwin Bates, of Waterbury, Connecticut, to his father, Dr. A. E. Bates of this city, who gives his consent to its being published in this issue.—Editor.

I received your letter asking about my presidential candidate.

Of the republicans I was not expecting Harding to win. I was opposed to Johnson and saw nothing in Wood to cause me to vote in his favor.

I was disgusted with the platform of which I read every newspaper.

To tell you a little secret, I had almost decided to vote the republican ticket this year. However, since the platform is two-thirds destructive of the present administration and one-third vague generalities, and Harding is a weakling, I will have to vote the democratic ticket, for I can not conceive of a poorer platform and a poorer candidate than the republicans have chosen.

It would be interesting if the democrats should line up Governor Cox of Ohio against Senator Harding of the same state, wouldn't it?

Personally, I prefer McAdoo for president. Wilson's kinship with President Wilson would be sure to receive condemnation from his political enemies.

Governor Cox would probably be a stronger candidate, as it seems that latter, the woman's party and the League of Nations would combine and defeat Harding, but for leadership and executive ability I prefer McAdoo.

Of course Woodrow Wilson would never be re-elected. My personal opinion of the president and my admiration for all that he has done are of the highest order. I have not been biased against him by the bitter vituperation hurled upon him by his political enemies. All his enemies are enemies for political reasons. Senator Lodge in his infamous key note speech proved this in his own case by showing that he was opposed to the League of Nations even with all his own reservations attached. He showed that his long unswerving opposition in the United States senate was partisanship of the most guilty dye.

Lodge is in his dotage.

Borah is a raving political maniac.

Borah's ability to bamboozle and bulldoze the delegates and senators is a proof of the low moral calibre of the constituency of the republican party in office.

I can see no hope for the republican party with such men admittedly at its head.

There seems to be some talk of trying to nominate Marshall. I think this unwise, although I have been in perfect sympathy with him since he came into public affairs.

In closing let me say that President Wilson is a hero! He is so far ahead of his present day and the thought of the present day that it will be many years before the country wakes up to the fact that his principles and utterances were right.

He has been severely condemned, but the condemnation can be traced in 99 per cent of the cases, to partisanship.

I believe in his stand for the League as drafted in France.

I believe he was right in asking for a mandate for Armenia.

I deplore the attitude of the G. O. P. platform toward the matter.

It reminds me of the "holy" priest who "passed by on the other side"—of the traveler who fell among thieves near Jericho.

I believe that what President Wilson has done for the world was divinely inspired, and were it not for our present system of party inter-pretation of every act, the United States would recognize the fact.

—Charles Ed. Bates.

LEFT HUSBAND SO THAT HE MIGHT SUCCEED THE FASTER

Now She Resents Divorce—Asks Freedom

By MARGERY REX

International News Service.

NEW YORK, June 22.—"Tales of Jefferson" has no more mellifluous melodies than the notes of harmony that prevailed in a young singer's household ten years ago, when her husband's family suggested that he and she could get ahead better in the world if they were to separate. Louis Hoffman was a bookkeeper and his wife a singer of promise before her marriage. They had two children.

Hoffman today is wealthy; head of a silk company. Mrs. Hoffman has been for some time a member of the Metropolitan Opera Company. They have been apart 10 years.

Thelma Hoffman never censured her husband for his stand in the matter till a registered letter came to her home in November, 1919, telling her Hoffman had secured a divorce from her in the state of Pennsylvania on the ground of desertion.

"I could endure anything but that," she said recently. "I agreed that we might get ahead better if we separated for the time. I kept the children with me, my husband giving each of them $10 a week. He gave me nothing. I was happy, though, to be able to help myself. I got into the chorus at the Metropolitan."

"I agreed with his mother when she came to my home and talked to my mother and myself, saying Louis and I ought to separate so he could succeed."

"I saw their side of the question and agreed."

"There never had been any quarrelling or dissension in our home. Everything was decided agreeably. I little dreamed how things would turn out."

"I am suing now for separation on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment."

"But still I am of the opinion that a person can travel faster alone—without my husband's rise in business, not having me to care for. For some time he has not provided for the children, either. Emma Cecilia is 22 now—and Florence August is 25."

In her complaint Mrs. Hoffman, of Mrs. Hoffman, as she is known at the Metropolitan, cites as one of his acts of cruelty her husband's alleged unfaithfulness with other women. Taking the ground that his marriage to another woman is only a pretense of a marriage and constitutes ground for divorce in this state.

"My husband tried to get our two children to go to his new home and meet his new wife. What torture for me that was."

"But don't you think it would be better to have kept your husband, home and children together all these years?"

"Not necessarily," she replied thoughtfully. "Certainly not from Mr. Hoffman's standpoint. His success would not have come so quickly. I think a separation is a good thing some times."

"I always was agreeable in regard to any change he suggested. It is cruel that he should have abused my confidence and kindness by securing a divorce from me in another state."

"But you see there was another woman—an—what a difference the other woman makes in a man. How they forget everything when the other woman beckons."

The story of Mrs. Hoffman's alleged wrongs raises the question whether self-sacrifice is wise for a woman. Has a wife who allows her husband to separate from her tacitly acknowledge herself to be burdensome, the right to expect that she can hope for fair treatment.

Men have a way of taking a woman at the value she places on herself. If a woman admits to her husband that she is an encumbrance and that he could rise to great heights without her, the chances are that he will believe what she says.

"For what purpose does a man wish to succeed if not to make his dear ones happy? Some such incentive goals every man has to greater effort. Once the direct incentive is removed, trust to masculine instinct to replace it immediately."

It would behoove every wife who loves her husband, and doesn't wish to court cruel treatment, not to let her lord and master regard her as an encumbrance, but to strive to make him value her as a precious being to serve whom is a privilege.

The very best of women are on this point of sacrificing themselves. If Mrs. Hoffman's separation from her husband 10 years ago had the idea alone as its basis, then it was a mistake.

By ANDY GUMP. HARRELL PARK, June 21.—After a game of fast fielding and heavy hitting behind Cruse in the first set with Mineral Wells, the Scouts failed to support Harding, and dropped the second affray.

The scores were 12 to 5 and 7 to 3, respectively. The Scouts made enough hits behind Harding to win four ball games, but they were not bunched enough to put over more runs.

Cisco opened their half of the inning with four runs after the Resorters had been blanked. In the fourth the Mineralites, with five hits and an error, grabbed five tallies. But York's boys came back in their half with more.

BALLGRAPHS

By ANDY GUMP.

Pitcher McQuillan of the Braves, who entered the season in fine shape, has been getting some lively bumps of late, his losses having doubled his winning games.

The St. Louis Cardinals seem to go better on the road than on the home lot. No National league team has been putting up a better game than the Rickey crowd.

The veteran Jake Daubert is leading the champion Reds at bat and putting up an all-around star game that equals the pastime of any youngster in the show.

"Babe" Ruth continues to chalk up home runs, but for sure, fine steady hitting Meusel has it on his Yankee teammate by 50 points in the batting average.

The whole American league seems to be on the warpath with the bat this season, recent batting averages showing that no fewer than 42 players are hitting for 300 or better.

The Red Sox have outbatted and have a better fielding marks than their opponents, the Sox having hit for .271 against .252 and having a fielding average of .956 against .943 for their opponents.

While Lee Fohl is not entitled to all the credit for the recent good work of the Browns, it is true nevertheless that the St. Louis team has taken a decided brace since the ex-Cleveland manager joined the outfit as coach.

Colby Takes Leave to Attend Convention at San Francisco

To Present Only Eight U. S. Women at English Court

Associated Press. LONDON, June 22.—Restrictions placed on American women who aspire to presentation at court are such that nearly all of them in London will be disappointed this year. Only eight of the many who are reported to have applied will be represented and they must have qualifications which have surprised some of the uninitiated.

If married, their husbands must previously have been presented at a levee. House and if they have been divorced it must be indisputably shown that the divorce must have been granted in her favor in open trial at which both parties were represented in court and where alimony and custody of the children have been granted to the woman. Even in such cases the demand for legal details is so minute that the king, in deference to the idea of the queen, it is said, has let it be known that it is inadvisable for divorcees to apply at all.

Applications of Americans for court presentations must be made to the American ambassador and he stands sponsor for those he selects. Of course this feature of the embassy work is almost as carefully guarded as that of respect for the feelings of the many who try and fail, as is some of the important diplomatic correspondence. But it is known among Americans in London that the list of applicants is quite long this year.

This is emphasized by an embassy circular which has come into the hands of some influential Americans here explaining what is required of successful applicants. It is longer and much more explicit than the usual circulars on the same subject and does not mince words regarding what may and what may not be expected.

Considerable space is devoted to changes in dress required. In the interest of economy the queen has decreed that women shall no longer wear head feathers or trains on their dresses at court. Some of the former adornments for the men also have been eliminated but it still is stipulated what kind of buttons they must wear on their knee breeches and that they must not wear buckles on their patent leather pumps.

GOTTA HAVE DRINK; COFFEE TAKES LEAD

International News Service. COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 22.—Prohibition can count coffee dealers among its enthusiastic supporters—Columbus coffee dealers anyhow.

7 Coffee is popular as a "kickless" drink here.
That their coffee sales have been boosted 82 per cent since Ohio went dry a year ago is the claim made by officials of a local wholesale coffee concern.
Coffee dealers here say over 1,500,000 pounds of coffee were imported into the United States that year as against 1,632,000,000 pounds in 1918.

TRUCK CONFAB AT WINDY CITY

TRANSPORT PROBLEMS OF BIG CITIES TO BE TIRESHED AND SOLVED, HOPE.

International News Service. CHICAGO, June 22.—A conference has been called in Chicago for June 28 and 27 by organizations representing cartage companies in practically every important American city. The purpose is to organize a national association for the clearing of all problems connected with motor truck transportation and allied matters.

During the last two years the commercial hauling field has been called into action to a far greater extent than ever before to augment freight transportation facilities so constantly overtaxed. This created many problems such as the construction of highways powerful enough to stand up under the heavy loads, study of automotive construction elements, research in operating costs and equalizations of loads.

problems connected with the necessity for cooperation between commercial haulers in different cities in order to keep hauling equipment supplied with return loads, from long distances and many other matters vital to this industry.

Meetings will be held in La Salle Hotel Chicago, under the auspices of the Detroit Transportation Association and delegates will attend representing commercial hauling associations from Iowa, Kentucky, Michigan, New York, California, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Missouri, Massachusetts, Nevada, Texas, Colorado, Oregon, Illinois, Georgia, Louisiana, Nebraska, and other states.

It is the ultimate hope of those directing this movement to place the cartage industry of America on a basis where it can relieve the pressure on other methods of moving commodities, where the older established arteries are now overtaxed.

Would Keep Families on Farms by Making Loans

Special to The News. DALLAS, Tex., June 22.—A loan fund for the purpose of encouraging small land owners, tenants and their families to remain on the farm and devote to agricultural production has been outlined by the Texas Industrial Congress, according to E. W. Kirkpatrick, president of the congress, who said that the fund will amount to $100,000 or more.

Loans will be made at a low rate of interest, he said, to individuals who are not in position to borrow from banks after the applicant has been passed up on by a committee of business men. Most of the loans are expected to be made to those who are good moral risks, but who have not sufficient collateral to secure financial assistance through ordinary channels.

Mexican Scion Returns After 7 Years Exile

Special to The News. EL PASO, Tex., June 22.—After an exile of seven years, Alberto Terrazas, son of General Luis Terrazas, once one of Chihuahua's wealthiest men, is preparing to return to Mexico and attempt to restock the Terrazas ranches in an effort to recoup the family fortune.

At a conference here Senior Terrazas was assured by an official of the new regime that the family would be given every protection by the de facto government of extensive lands from which they were driven by revolutionists in 1913. It is said that the Terrazas lands in Chihuahua cover millions of acres, and thousands of cattle were confiscated or stolen from them during the early days of the revolution.

He Played Them Right, But Is Now Held to Answer

International News Service. NEW YORK, June 22.—When Frank LeRoy, 17, a newsboy, was arraigned before Magistrate Silbermann, charged with horse betting, he said:

"I do bet, but only with myself. After picking the winners for the day I mark a bet on a slip of paper and put it in my pocket. When the races are over I compare my selections with the real winners and then figure how I stand."

"How do you stand now?" inquired the magistrate.

"Two thousand ahead of the game," LeRoy replied.

"I'll admit that's the only safe way of playing the ponies," said the bench. "I'll hold you in $500 bail so you can tell the same story to the judge in special sessions."

SHRINERS OPEN ANNUAL MEETING

MORE THAN 100,000 NOBLES GATHER AS GUESTS OF PORTLAND AT 16TH SESSION

International News Service. PORTLAND, Ore., June 22.—The 16th session of the Imperial Council of the Order of Mystic Shrine opened in this city this morning, labeling itself "the largest convention ever held by any organization in the United States."

More than 100,000 strangers are this morning the guests of the City of Portland, and will be for three days. With the termination of the Democratic Convention in San Francisco, the "Rose City" expects to be host to an additional thousand of distinguished gentlemen. The many thousands of Shriners gathered here from every point of the compass will open their national convention this morning with a full-dress parade. The procession will leave the Multnomah Hotel headquarters and march to the Civic Auditorium, where the Imperial Council will convene for the first time in the three days of their stay here.

Portland has donned its ultra-gala dress. For six months she has been preparing herself for the greatest convention in her history. Apropos of the day, Portland's annual Rose Festival has similarly opened today. The city is a veritable bouquet of roses, harmonizing with the brilliant hues of the Shriners' uniforms.

Tonight the city of Portland will conduct its electric parade in honor of its guests. Float after float laden with the flora of the Columbia river gorge and the Willamette Valley, will be covered in the nocturnal parade, strung together by a myriad of electric lights. The floats will tell a story, a moving picture, so to speak, of an Oriental legend, it being left to the spectator to fashion the message of the tale.

Tomorrow night the Shriners will respond with its own parade. Another parade will feature the third day, when the Rose Festival proper opens. Both the Shriners and the City of Portland will participate in this parade.

The work of the Imperial Council has not been announced. The session will not be open to the public.

London Going Sour With Sugar at Top Prices

International News Service. LONDON, June 22.—A prominent firm of jam manufacturers has announced its intention of closing down three of its factories, owing to the high price of sugar.

The world shortage of sugar has been rendered even more acute, according to British authorities, by the increased consumption of the product in the United States, owing chiefly to the enactment of the prohibition law.

It is, therefore, thought that the action of the jam manufacturers may merely result in the sugar being diverted to another country at a higher price.

In Great Britain at present the price of sugar is 1 shilling 2 pence per pound (28 cents at the old rate of exchange), and it is expected that at an early date the price will be increased to 35 cents per pound.

Before the war the price of sugar in England was 4 cents per pound.

SOCIETY

At the Broadway Baptist church, Fort Worth, on last Sunday, 9 o'clock in the morning, Rev. Forrest Smith of said church performed a wedding ceremony that is of social interest to Cisco and Humboldt citizens.

The principals in this wedding ceremony were Miss Vera Viola Miller of Los Angeles, California, and Frank Edwards Hills of Humboldt. Cisco's branch of the Humble Oil & Refining Company.

The event was conspicuous for its unexpectedness, and for that reason was characterized by any single thing, by its quietness of announcement and arrangement.

The bride and groom were attended by as few friends as the conventionalities of the occasion would permit, as they wished for themselves solely all the embellishments of glory that entwine such an occasion.

A best man and a bride's maid could not well be dispensed with in this wedding, although the couple desired the event to be conspicuous for its secrecy of occurrence, at least to the many friends who would have showered them with remembrances befitting the occasion had they known of it, so Mrs. C. F. Hale acted as bride's maid in the absence of other close lady friends of the bride, and William I. Gayton of Humboldt performed the duties of best man to the groom.

The bride wore a simple, but beautiful dress of white organdy, adorned with a corsage of roses and sweet peas, while the groom was togged out in a light suit of tan, both ready the moment the ceremony was over to board the Sunshine Special for their home at Humboldt.

But before their plans to immediately embark for "home"—Humboldt—could be realized, friends of the contracting parties, getting air of the happy event, betook themselves a hand in the affair, and ceased to be consummated a wedding breakfast in the well known Peacock Alley of the Hotel Westbrook at Fort Worth.

And it was this latest and unlooked for and unexpected feature of the occasion that detained the couple to sojourn in Fort Worth among merry-making friends the entire day of last Sunday.

But they are now at home at Humboldt, where the groom is engaged in the business of promoting the interests of the Humble Oil & Refining Co., and where the new bride will be a welcomed addition to the coterie of contented families that make up the inhabitants of this worthy enterprise.

It is well worth mentioning in connection with this Humboldt's latest wedding, that it is the second of the company's Cisco branch's history, and that the festivities the employees pulled off in relation to its first wedding several months ago, was repeated Monday evening on the streets of Cisco, when the bride and groom with many rejoicing friends indulged in an auto talky party through our streets, commencing and pronouncing to the public in general that another newly married couple had taken refuge in Humboldt.

Mrs. J. E. Cate, 208 West Fourth street, has Miss Mary Dickinson of Lubbock, Texas, as her guest this week.

Miss Lucile Brown, 351 West Fifth street, entertained a party of ten couples Monday evening with a swimming and boating party at Lake Dethan, honoring Miss Billy Ralls of El Paso, Texas.

After the participants had retreated to their heart's content in the waters of this popular lake by swimming and boating pastimes, they partook of a picnic supper that was served by the hostess.

Returning from the late late evening, the entire party of sojourners several hours at the Ellis' Home for an informal dinner to the strains of music furnished by Feldman's orchestra.

Those making up this delightful summer party included: Miss Billy Ralls, Miss Addie Fee, Miss Mary Fee, Miss Ruth Williamson, Miss Lelia Wild, Miss Lucile Brown, Miss Frances Dorsey, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Wood, and John Kelly, Guy Gillette, Chapman Williamson, Stuart L. Williamson, William Bell and Willard Rominger.

Mrs. A. A. Webster, 600 Avenue I, was hostess Monday evening at a dinner party given in honor of Miss Lelia Patton of Hereford, Texas, and Mrs. Edwin Kittrell of Hamburg, Arkansas, both of whom are the guests of Mrs. Webster.

Miss Lillian Church, S. Goldman, A. Goldman, N. S. Elenburg, with the honored guests and hostess, comprised the participants in this 7 o'clock repast.

J. A. Bourbon of Fort Worth is visiting at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. E. Warner, 816 West Ninth street, for two weeks.

At their charming bungalow in Elfremont Heights on last Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Richardson entertained 15 couples at an informal dancing party.

The long veranda was softly lighted with Japanese lanterns, as was the spacious screened porch which furnished an ideal place for dancing.

Punch was served throughout the evening.

Those present at the delightful affair were the following: Messrs. and Mesdames Lathrop, Hodson, Paff, Kupferstein, Messrs. Miller, Stevenson, Palm, Halliban and Hood, all of the Texas Company; Messrs. and Mesdames Armstrong, Williams, Messrs. Obler, Williams, Barber, Toman and the Misses Stevens and Holland, all of Humboldt and the Misses Stewart, Pettit, Miller, Bell, Pettit and Worden.

Mrs. C. F. Lehman has as her guest this week Mrs. Bob Stewart of Fort Wayne, Indiana, in whose honor several complimentary parties are being planned.

CHILE BUYS GREAT BRITISH WARSHIPS

Action Thought to Presage Quick Settlement of Trouble with the Peruvian Government.

Special Correspondence. BUENOS AIRES, June 22.—Purchase by Chile of the British dreadnaught Canada and two British destroyers is regarded by diplomatic circles here as an indication that events are moving swiftly toward a definite conclusion of the Tanna-Arica controversy between Chile and Peru. This dispute has long threatened the peace of South America.

It is considered that such an increase in Chile's naval power must have an important bearing on the settlement of the international dispute for the possession of the port of Arica now held by Chile but claimed by both Peru and Bolivia.

While Chile's naval forces already exceed those of Peru, it is pointed out that the acquisition at this time of three fighting ships would constitute a powerful argument to enforce a settlement of the differences between the two nations over the title to the two Pacific provinces. Peru's seaports, naturally, would be at the mercy of Chile in any resort to arms.

Purchase of the vessels at this time is believed in some quarters to be especially significant in view of a widely held opinion that the Tanna-Arica dispute will reach a definite crisis within a year. Well informed observers say Peru will likely seek a settlement of the question before the League of Nations of which she is a member. She is unable to reach an agreement with Chile on the long delayed plebiscite which was to determine the sovereignty of the provinces and the opinion is held here that she can expect no arbitrary aid from the United States owing to the fact that the American government in a recent note to Chile accepted a policy of "non-intervention" in the Tanna-Arica case.

Chile, on the other hand, will resist interference by the League of Nations. It is believed, having unequivocally made her position clear in a reply to a note of the United States saying that she will not accept intervention "from any power or powers." Chile's position is that under the terms of the treaty of Ancon, her rights are so clear that there is nothing to arbitrate.

Consequently, it is predicted that Chile will hasten the dispatch to a conclusion before it reaches the stage of consideration by the League of Nations, with the idea of presenting the issue with an accomplished fact, thus forestalling Peru's attempt to gain an arbitration.

This "accomplished fact," it is asserted, would be the cession to Bolivia of the port of Arica in return presumably for certain compensations.

Whatever may be the official attitude of the Chilean government, and notwithstanding its repudiation of Peruvian charges that it has instigated Bolivia against Peru, it is a well known fact in South America that Chile's publicists and statesmen are entirely in sympathy with Bolivian aspirations for an outlet to the Pacific. It is not regarded as strange, therefore, that predictions are heard that when the Tanna-Arica controversy comes to a crisis, it will be seen that Chile is supporting Bolivia's claims.

Removing Tree Branches. The efforts of the Young Men's Business League to have hanging tree branches over sidewalks trimmed that pedestrians will not be angered by coming in contact with the low swaying foliage is having beneficial effects, as quite a number of Cisco home owners have realized the nuisance of such conditions and are having them removed.

TEXAS GENTLEMEN MAY BUY GREAT STOCKYARDS

Special to The News. EL PASO, Tex., June 22.—A committee, composed of members from the Panhandle and Southwestern Stockmen's Association has been appointed to investigate the practicability of part ownership of stockyards, particularly those at Kansas City and Fort Worth, by cattlemen.

Under a recent ruling of the United States attorney general, packers must dispose of their interests in stockyards within two years, and this will create an opportunity for the cattlemen to acquire the stock if they desire it.

On the main floor an exclusive shining parlor for the women folk.

Women will find this store brimful of those things they like for summer wear.
