

THE MAIL MAN brought us a new telephone directory this week. It's cover again features the handsome main building of Cisco Junior College. The A&P Food Store is still the first name in the book, and William Ziehr, Jr., is the last name.

Fourteen Andersons have telephones, along with 12 Boyds, 21 Browns, 14 Johnsons, 21 Smiths, 10 Taylors, 10 Williamses but only seven Joneses.

With more than 2,000 telephones listed, the book reflects progress for the community as the number keeps inching up with each new directory.

THE ELECTIONS are over for another year and it's time for everyone to pledge support to the winners and to work for the good of the community.

The fact that the mayor's race was so close — a spread of 21 votes from winner to loser — might well be attributed to the fact that three outstanding men were in the race.

THE WINSTON Heidenheimers have good vacation ideas. Instead of taking a big vacation every year, they save themselves for a dandy one every four or five years. Their last one was in about the year 1960 and they went to Jamaica.

Come April 22 they're going to fly to Europe for three weeks or so of touring countries and places of interest. Friends in Abilene and Cisco are already giving little going-away socials for them. They're checking on clothes and things they'll need. If you've been to Europe, you might want to offer advice.

IT WILL BE strictly business for Mr. and Mrs. Gene Abbott as they leave Saturday for New Orleans and a few days at a national convention of the gas industry. Mr. Abbott is the district manager for Lone Star Gas Company in these parts.

There will be a full program of conferences and talks, by men high in the industry.

OUR SCOUTS report that Mr. D. P. King brought in 29 nice crappie from a fishing trip over toward Breckenridge the other day. . . Douglas Cox brought in five pairs of used eye glasses for the benefit box. . . Our scouts report that Manager Steve Simmons of the telephone company is taking golf lessons. Teaching the course is Bread Man Paul Blaine, assisted by J. D. Collier of the post office. If Steve doesn't end up as a champion, it will probably be because he's a left handed golfer, the scouts said. . . The Kendrick Poultry Farm between Cisco and Eastland now has over 30,000 laying hens.

MR. M. M. HILL of Graridge Corporation was working on their City of Cisco lease the other day and found an old auto license plate with the number 20086 and the letters NM 1920. We take this to mean that the plate was issued in the year 1920 to somebody in New Mexico.

Mr. Hill left the plate at The Press office for the loser to claim. If anybody knows anything about it, we'd be glad to hear from them.

VISITING IN OUR town is a former Press reporter — Mrs. Duane Howell of Lubbock. Some of you might remember her better as Miss Geraldine Honea, daughter of the J. J. Honeas.

Mrs. Howell and her three attractive children arrived last weekend to spend a couple of weeks here while her husband, who is farm editor of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, attends a meeting in Europe. She reports that seeing the old CHS building go down gave her several touches of nostalgia. Old friends can reach her at the Honea home.

The 40x120 steel and concrete building will be erected by the lodge at the corner of Avenue E and West 6th Street — across the street south from the Cisco Post Office. The structure will be one-story and will have central heating and air conditioning.

Plenty of Volunteers At Eastland A&P Fire

There were some 125 local and area firemen available when the A&P Grocery Store in Eastland caught fire Tuesday night.

Weight and Measure Patrolman in town with a unit for a routine check-point operation, is credited with spotting the blaze and smashing the front door of the store to determine the extent of the fire and notify firemen. Jordan received a severe cut on his hand in so doing and was given emergency treatment by an Arrington Hamner Funeral Home ambulance driver and taken to Eastland Memorial Hospital for further treatment.

The fire started in a refrigeration unit located on the west wall, near the front of the store, and damage to that area, and smoke and soot damage throughout the store, was heavy.

The fire was leaping upward and was believed just about ready to ignite the ceiling of the store when Chief Wayne Jackson and the firemen brought the three-alarm fire under control about 9:25 p.m. Only the small pumping unit was utilized, but hoses were laid to plugs in readiness should the fire have got out of immediate control.

The alarm went in at 9 p.m., as the Eastland Volunteer Fire Department was hosting a district fire meeting, with visiting firemen in town from Cisco, Ranger, Breckenridge and other area towns. Firemen, their wives and families were gathered "just around the corner" from the burning store, in the Fellowship Hall of the First Christian Church.

THANK YOU

This will express my very sincere appreciation for every consideration at the polls last Tuesday. Since the results became known, many wonderful people have called my home to express their views on the election. To each of them, I offer my sincere thanks.

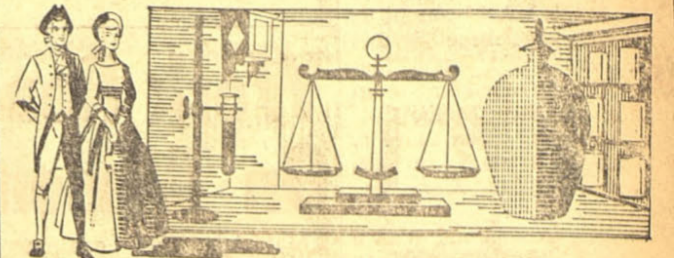

I did not enter the mayor's race with any political ambitions — rather with the desire to accomplish certain work that should be done to strengthen our city government and unite our citizenship. My love for Cisco transcends any personal desire "to take it easy" when there remains so much work to be finished in assuring Cisco's future.

Every citizen, including myself, has an obligation in building our city — an obligation that must not include selfish interests.

As always, I pledge myself to be a good citizen every day in the year.

Funds Sought In Fight On Screw Worms In Texas

Funds are being collected this week by Tommy Toland, agriculture teacher at Cisco High School, for the screw worm eradication program, according to an announcement.

The goal of Cisco area ranchers is $625 and the county goal is $3,100. The collection started at a meeting Tuesday night at the Ag Farm. Mr. Toland invited the general public to contribute to the fund by seeing him or leaving a check at the First National Bank.

The banks of the county are helping collect the fund with the ag teachers of the various high schools in charge of solicitation.

"We need to complete this project by Monday, April 10," Mr. Toland said. "The livestock industry is important to us all and a contribution will be welcome from everyone."

Larry Hargrave placed fifth in the 220 yard dash, making six points, and C. B. Rust was fifth in the discus throw to gain two points.

Placing third in the mile relay was the Cisco team, made up of Billy Westfall, Gary Wiley, Larry Hargrave, and Glen Ferguson. This event scored 12 points for Cisco.

Others participating in the Saturday meet were Richard Coats, Travis Roach, Jimmy House, and Ernest Soto.

Boss Officials Visit In Cisco

Mr. White said the officials inspected the big Cisco plant and worked on the budget for the coming year. He added that they were pleased with the production of the Cisco factory and had compliments for the staff of workers here.

Proposed County Juvenile Board Measure Still Has Several Hurdles

The bill to create an Eastland County Juvenile Board is believed to be in committee and not likely to be passed by the legislature until mid-May or early June, County Judge Scott Bailey surmised this week.

The measure, labeled House Bill No. 986, was introduced by Rep. Wayne Gibbens at the request of Judge Bailey, county juvenile officer. Considered a "local bill," the measure isn't expected to face any opposition.

As written, the bill would require an election by qualified voters in the county within 90 days after passage by the legislature. A state-wide constitutional amendment is anticipated for July, and the local matter might be held in conjunction with that vote, it is reported.

Purpose of the juvenile board in the county would be to provide a broader base for handling juvenile matters, Judge Bailey said. The bill provides that the county judge, the district judge and a third party to be selected by them, would comprise the board, each member to receive an additional compensation not to exceed $1,200 per year, at the discretion of the commissioners court.

The third member might conceivably be a woman from one of the other towns in the county, Judge Bailey said. He lives in Cisco and District Judge J. Frank Sparks is of Eastland.

Possibly such a board could serve as sort of a probation authority with juveniles to help cut down the number of "repeaters" — those who are returned to corrective institutions for more than one time. The board would also serve in an advisory capacity on juvenile authority remaining with the county judge.

A "juvenile officer" could be appointed by the board.

Overall, Judge Bailey said, juvenile problems in this county are somewhat better, but need for proper management continues.

The measure to create the Eastland County board is based on Article 5139, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, and there are many other such boards throughout the state. The election would be a "for" and "against" proposition, with a majority necessary for passage. In most other counties the boards have been created without the benefit of local election, it was reported.

Powers conferred on juvenile boards under Article 5140, are as follows:

"Such board shall neither have nor exercise judicial power or function. In the event such Board desires to make inquiry as to whether any child should be adjudged either dependent, neglected or delinquent, it shall have power to direct one of the probation officers of said Board to file against such child in some court of such county having jurisdiction to hear and determine such complaint. Such board or the members thereof may be present at such hearing, either in person or by one or more of its probation officers and make such inquiry concerning such child as may be proper under the established rules of procedure in such court."

Article 5142 gives such a juvenile board authority to appoint "discreet persons of good moral character to serve as juvenile officers, for periods not to exceed two years."

In counties having a population of less than 80,000 (Eastland, for instance), one juvenile officer may be appointed by the Commissioners Court, when in its opinion, such officer is needed, who shall receive a compensation not to exceed $125 per month. (Later revised to $200 a month).

"Such (juvenile) officers shall have authority and shall be their duty to make investigations of all cases referred to them as such by such Board; to be present in Court and to represent the interest of the juvenile when the case is heard, and to furnish to the Court and such assistance as such Board may require, and to take charge of any child before and after the trial and to perform such other services for the child as may be required by the Court or said Board, and such juvenile officers shall be vested with all the power and authority of police officers or sheriffs incident to their offices."

Mr. and Mrs. Weldo Bosworth and sons, Dub, Paul, Tim and Thomas, are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Bosworth.
