A Former Cisco Lady Passes Away On Eve Wedding Anniversary

Friends of Mrs. Della Calhoun Drewery were shocked when it was learned that she had passed away at her Dallas home last Friday. This death culminated an illness of four months duration, but many of her former intimates here never anticipated the seriousness of her malady.

Her passing occurred on the eve of her 25th wedding anniversary, the celebration of which was in anticipation at the time. Mrs. Drewery was one of the brides at a double wedding June 23, 1909, when she and her hister were married to George E. Drewery and James T. Anderson, respectively. Deceased was the eldest daughter of Judge and Mrs. J. H. Calhoun, pioneer couple of Cisco. Judge Calhoun was district judge of the Eastland district, and lived most of the time in Cisco, where Mrs. Drewery and her sisters attended the Cisco schools and grew into womanhood.

Besides her husband and one son, Mrs. Drewery is survived by two sisters, Mrs. J. T. Anderson and Mrs. W. J. Foxworth, of Cisco. These, with their husbands, Miss Adelle and Bobby Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Crawford attended the obsequies, which were held at the First Methodist church in Dallas, with burial in Oak Crest Memorial Park, last Saturday.

RETURNED FROM PENNEY MEETING AT FORT WORTH

Mr. Mitt Williams, local manager of the J. C. Penney store in Cisco, returned from the meeting of Penney managers, held in Fort Worth all last week. He was accompanied on his return by H. L. Vann, former manager of the Cisco store, where he joined Mrs. Vann and son, who have been the guests of Mrs. Williams. The Vanns remained over Sunday, returning that evening to Snyder, where Mr. Vann is manager of the Penney store there.

Body of Geo. Hartness CWA Administrator Buried In Weatherford Cemetery Last Sunday Is Seriously Hurt In Automobile Crash

The remains of George Hartness, former local manager of the Merchants Fast Motor Lines, was conveyed by the Texas & Pacific Texan to Weatherford last Sunday for burial in the cemetery of that city. Green's Funeral Home prepared the body for burial, and arranged transportation.

Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist church there Sunday afternoon. Several Cisco friends attended the funeral, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. K. N. Greer, L. A. Harrison, L. E. Vaughn and Jack Elkins.

Shot To Death

With a jagged hole in the top of his head and his mouth filled with blood, the lifeless body of George Hartness, local representative of the Merchants Fast Motor Lines, was found just off the Base-Line road, four miles west of Cisco last Friday. The location where the body was found was just off the road near the farm home of Oscar Penn, Mrs. Penn discovered the body. The car of Hartness was parked at the death spot. Mr. Penn reported the gruesome find to the officers.

This tragedy was the culmination of a hijacking episode in which Hartness was the reputed victim. A report was sent out from Fort Worth Tuesday, May 1 to the effect that he had been hijacked, and the money, $344.20, of which $55 was his individual funds, was taken from him by a man who had accosted him at Cisco to convey some luggage that he had at the Blue and White tourist camp, and was in a hurry, so he decided to go out and pick it up and return to the First National bank and make his deposit, and then continue on to Central Texas, where he had planned a trip. But when reaching the tourist camp was forced to keep driving, as the man with him had placed a gun against his side and told him to keep going. He stated that when nearing Eastland his passenger robbed him of the cash and checks, pistol and watch, and then forcing him to continue driving till they reached Lake Worth. There he forced him to leave the car and the man drove off and left him a foot. After telling his company of the incident he returned home Monday night, and was told that the car and his pistol had been found where it had been abandoned in Fort Worth.

Death a Sensation

The report that he had been found

Mr. L. L. Hooker, local CWA administrator, was the victim of a serious automobile crash Wednesday, while returning from a zone meeting of the relief workers of this district, held at Albany. The accident occurred about four miles this side of Albany, and a passer-by discovered Mr. Hooker in an unconscious condition and notified an ambulance company at Albany, who came out and picked him up and brought him to the Graham sanitarium. Mr. Hooker remained in an unconscious state till early Thursday morning, but little particulars as to the accident could be ascertained from him. The Citizen was told that one of the tires blew out, and a radius rod of the car was broken, and the car was found to have turned over twice.

Hospital attendants stated that Mr. Hooker had no broken bones, head or internal injuries, but was rather badly bruised, and was suffering more from the bruises and shock of the accident. However, it was stated that the patient was doing as well as could be expected.

Mrs. J. W. Gregory has returned home from Holiday, where she visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Gregory.

dead Friday, before the shock of his kidnaping had subsided, was decidedly the biggest sensation of the month, and was certainly the severest shock that his friends had ever experienced.

Justice Joe Wilson, Constable Hicks and Patrolman Gustafson went to the scene of the tragedy as soon as the matter was reported by Oscar Penn. The body was found by the side of the car, which had been driven a short distance from the road, indicating he fired the shot while sitting on the runningboard and had slumped over. A .45 calibre Colt's single action six-shooter was found underneath the body, with two empty shells in the chamber. Examination of the wound revealed that the fatal shot entered the mouth and emerged from the crown of his head, leaving the ugly jagged hole to tell the awful tragedy.

Justice Wilson held the inquest and returned a verdict of suicide late Friday afternoon.

Green's Funeral Home prepared the body for burial, and in probing the wound there was a clearance from the crown of his head into his mouth.

Vanderford Brought In Choice Lot of Fine Strawberries Tues.

Mrs. R. D. Vanderford and daughter, Mrs. G. Pollard, were callers at the Citizen office last Saturday. Mrs. Vanderford brought in a nice batch of sweet cream butter that sold readily, and it was as nice as you ever saw. Again Mrs. Vanderford was in town Tuesday. This time she was accompanied by Mr. Vanderford, and they brought in several crates of strawberries, pronounced by those fortunate enough to procure some of them, to be better than any sold on this market.

"Yes, I had no trouble in selling all that we brought in," Mr. Vanderford said, "but we had to peddle them out to the homes. Wherever we offered them we made a sale. First, of course, I offered them to the dealers, but they seem to prefer those shipped in from South Texas, which, of course, do not keep very long in this climate, and they have to dispose of them at whatever they may be able to get.

"I was a little disappointed at the low prices the dealers offered for these berries. It seems that they do not care to create a market for produce raised in the Cisco country, but prefer the South Texas truck, which is inferior to that raised here. Especially is this true of berries. This produce is sound and firm, and will keep fresh many days longer than the South Texas varieties, which must be dispo-

BROADWAY OF AMERICA PILGRIMS WERE CISCO GUESTS LAST MONDAY

About 20 automobiles, loaded with pilgrims from the west stopped over in Cisco last Monday while enroute to Dallas to attend the Broadway of America convention. Only one of the delegation favored the Citizen office with a visit, A. H. Gardner, highway editor of the Tombstone Epitaph, who dropped in for a few minutes' chat.

The motorcade was joined here by J. E. Spencer, secretary of the chamber of commerce, and J. J. Collins, member of the board of directors. The motorcade originated in San Diego, Calif. A similar motorcade originated in Virginia met the western pilgrims in Dallas where they participated in the convention.

ed of in a few days or they will spoil. "Strawberries will not last much longer, as they will soon cease bearing. But we have a nice crop of dewberries coming on, and they are fine this year. Later the blackberries will be getting ripe, and we hope the market will be better when these berries come in."

Mr. Vanderford has quite a variety of truck out on his farm on route 4, who confines his crops exclusively to truck. He has other land, but rents out all acreage except that which he plants to truck.

Have You Seen the Frigidaire '34?

End your refrigeration worries the modern electrical way! The safe preservation of foods, according to food chemists and medical authorities, require a temperature below 50 degrees . . . constantly maintained.

Modern Electrical Refrigeration assures this necessary low temperature . . . automatically. When the temperature in your Electric Refrigerator rises to 50 degrees, the freezing unit is automatically turned on . . . when it has been brought down to the correct level, the unit automatically switches off.

Moderate first cost and low operating expense are added considerations suggesting the immediate purchase of a new model Frigidaire.

The Frigidaire '34 operates quietly and with amazingly small amount of current, has automatic ice tray release, automatic defrosting and many other important features.

This is the "Electrical Age." A Frigidaire will be another step to your All-Electric Kitchen.

Your increased use of electric service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule and adds only a small amount to your total bill.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Thou wilt show me the truth of life: in thy presence is fullness of joy; at thy right hand are pleasures for evermore. Hold up my goings in thy paths, that my footsteps slip not.—Psalms 16:11; 17:5.

It is one step at a time that makes a path

By constant, following feet,
Over and over a beaten trail
To upland pastures—sweet.

—Louise P. Lawrence.

To follow this path of life one must be guided by the hand of faith—faith in God, faith in his fellow-man and faith in Christianity. Realizing at all times that at the end of this path there are "pleasures for evermore."

ARE WE TODAY ICARIANS

Under the sub-caption "The pendulum of social behavior may swing beyond liberalism if not checked," Dale Miller, in The Texas Weekly discusses prohibition repeal, horse racing and a proposed national lottery. Speaking of horse racing The Texas Weekly says in part:

"Horse racing has become so popular in Texas that the revenue which pours into this sport is arousing complaints from merchants in the affected cities. It is no secret now that the money wagered at the tracks often injure business. This is true not only of the larger establishments, such as department stores, but also of many small concerns. A hairdresser, whose beauty shop caters to Dallas society, remarked the other day that her business inevitably drops off about the second week of a racing season because her patrons are directing their time and money to the races. Moreover, she added, collection of bills always is difficult during, and immediately following, a racing season.

"Perhaps the clearest indication of this public tendency to abuse liberalism is afforded by the manner in which the races excite the working classes generally. Many employers have complained that intense interest generated by the races among their office force often demoralizes business efficiency. The chief clerk often acts as a clearing house for other employes, taking their money and placing it as directed, and throughout the afternoon some one or other slips from the office to buy the latest extra on the streets. Stenographers, during lulls in dictation, will busily compute probable pay-off odds in a corner of their tablets, and various clerks going to the halls for drinks of water will loiter together in whispering groups where the hottest tips are discussed. All of this is either serious or not, according to how you look at it. But it does indicate, I think, too avid an appetite for a sport which should constitute only pleasant diversion or a means of testing one's luck in a mild and harmless way. Of course, it should be remembered that these racing seasons comprise only about six weeks of the year in only the four largest Texas cities."

What may be classed as a warning against our probable abuse of liberalism, The Texas Weekly refers to the unfortunate fate of Icarus, son of Daedalus, the Grecian architect, as contained in a story of classical mythology as of contemporary significance:

"In a desperate effort to escape from the island of Crete with his father, he took flight into the sky on magnificent wings. Higher and higher he soared, imprudently leaving the world far below, until suddenly the sun melted the wax by which his wings were attached, and he fell into the sea and was drowned."

Denying its opposition to this liberal trend, which may be inferred in pointing out these things, The Texas Weekly continues:

"Repeal of state prohibition is necessary and legalization of pari-mutuel betting to give vitality to horse racing was desirable, I think, but that does not mean that we must ignore their unpleasant effects."

But most of us will recall that it was the abuse of our liberalism that precipitated prohibition, and banished horseracing. The saloon business was profitable when legitimately conducted. In fact those who really made money from the sale of liquor were those who conducted their business according to law. Others who were not satisfied with a legitimate profit but adulterated their beverages, turned their places of business into dives where criminals were harbored, permitted gambling in the same building, or in adjoining room, probably in the second story, were the ones who never showed a profit, and were soon forced out of business.

It was entering "ringers" into the races and other crooked practices of the races that caused the real sportsmen to withdraw their patronage. Thus left to the crooked horse owners and gamblers the sport fell into disrepute, and its outlawing was easy.

Now that the sport has been revived, and the breeding of good horses is again a possibility, it is up to racing officials to see that we do not abuse our present liberalism or it will be short-lived. They must see that the "pendulum of social behavior does not swing beyond liberalism."

FOR CLEANER PICTURES

At last there is a move started for cleaner pictures to be shown in our show houses. It seems that the appeal to sex has about run its course, or should have. There has been enough nudity exhibited on the screen in recent years to satiate the most disreputable libertine in the land, and it is now the younger people who find the sex pictures appealing. Just why the public wants to see a woman half dressed on the screen is not explained, for evidently the public demands this class of pictures or the producers would not make them. The producer wants to give his public just what it wants. This is all right for mature men and women, but the effect is demoralizing on children. If I were the father of a young girl I would certainly want to know what kind of picture was being shown before I would permit her to go, unattended, to see any picture. But this is not being done now. The father or mother gives their child the price and turns her free to see whatever picture that may be exhibited, often to be rid of the child while the mother attends her club or some other social function.

The Roman Catholics have launched a movement for cleaner pictures. On the third Sunday after Easter the Catholics of the nation were asked to sign the pledge of the Legion of Decency. The Catholic priest at Alice, Tex., has contributed a story, protesting against lewd pictures, closing with this sentence:

"Then our children, on their way to school, will not be confronted with pictures of nakedness on billboards, handbills, etc. If today we have so many cases of sex-maddened morons, what will the next generation bring?"

Firestone LEADERSHIP
"The Ultimate Test of Leadership is Performance"

FIRESTONE has maintained its leadership in tire development by producing a new tire for 1934 with a wider tread, flatter contour, deeper non-skid, greater thickness, and more and tougher rubber, which gives greater non-skid safety, more traction, greater blowout protection, and more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

These achievements are made practical by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping, providing greater adhesion between the plies of the high stretch cords and between the Gum-Dipped body of the tire and the tough, massive non-skid tread. It also provides greater strength, longer flexing life, and greater protection against blowouts.

Gum-Dipping made it possible for Firestone to design, develop and put on the market the first successful balloon tire in 1923. This tire was the pattern used by all others and completely revolutionized the tire industry and set new standards for the automobile industry.

Firestone also developed the first all-rubber non-skid tire, and has always been first to give motorists the benefits of new discoveries in non-skid design, providing more traction and greater non-skid safety.

For fourteen years leading race drivers have driven to victory on Firestone tires, built with Gum-Dipped high stretch cords. They have trusted their lives to Firestone Leadership—as they know that the patented Firestone construction features provide them with greater safety—longer mileage—and greater blowout protection.

Protect yourself and family by driving in today and replacing your smooth, thin, dangerous tires with the new Firestone High Speed Tires for 1934.

WALTON'S STUDIO FIXED
INSTITUTION OF CISCO; LOCAL BUSINESS SOUGHT

We are calling attention to the advertisement in this issue of the Citizen of the Walton Studio, one of the fixed institutions of this city. For 15 years the Waltons' have been making pictures of Cisco people, preserving their pulchritude to be handed down to their posterity of coming generations.

The studio is now being operated exclusively by Mrs. Jessie Walton, who is an experienced and capable photographer, and will take care of all your photographic needs. She will do studio, outside or field work wherever called to go. Kodak developing will be given prompt attention at prevailing prices. So there is no necessity to send your kodaks off to be developed, as this work can be done right here, and much quicker than you can have them delivered from another town.

"I am now a widow, with two children to support, and I believe I am not asking too much when I say I think I am entitled to the photograph business of Cisco. This is my home, and every cent I earn is spent with Cisco people. I want it distinctly understood that I am now alone in the operation of the Walton Studio, as the courts have granted me a divorce, and Mr. Walton is no longer connected with the business," Mrs. Walton said. She is advertising some attractive prices in this issue of the Citizen.

Miss Lucile Jensen is spending the week end in Baird, visiting Mrs. John Wilson and daughter, Miss Cleive.

"The Gay Pretenders," a three-act comedy, will be staged by the Willing Workers of the Reich Sunday school, at the Dan Horn school house next Friday evening, May 18th, at 8 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all. A small admission of 5 and 10 cents will be charged. This play will give you an opportunity to laugh off your troubles. Claiborne S. Eldridge, candidate for county superintendent of schools, spent several days last and this week in Cisco in the interest of his candidacy. And he saw many of the voters. Before his departure he stated that he was considerably encouraged by his reception, and feels that he has made an impression on the voters of Cisco. His announcement will appear in the Citizen in the near future, probably next week, when he will formally state his ideas and position on school matters.

CONDITION OF DR. G. M.
STEPHENSON FAVORABLE

Information from the Graham sanitarium yesterday stated that the condition of Dr. G. M. Stephenson was as favorable as could be expected. In fact he had made such progress that he was removed from the hospital Thursday to his home. Hospital authorities said it was not necessary to remove a section of the arm bone, as was at one time thought.

Dr. Stephenson was badly injured about three weeks ago when he fell from a horse on his ranch north of Cisco, when the horse stepped into a hole, his arm bone was completely shattered. He was conveyed to the hospital at once, and immediately given surgical attention.

Dr. Stephenson, several months ago, closed his office in Cisco and removed to San Angelo to practice his profession. When the accident occurred he was back here on a visit looking after his interests. This accident, which will put him out of his office for several months, made it necessary for him to return to his home here. Naturally we are glad to have he and his good family back with us, but regret that his coming was made necessary by so serious an accident.

Wallace Beery Coming
Palace Theatre Sunday

"Viva Villa!" which opens Sunday at the Palace theatre for three days, with Wallace Beery starred, takes its place among the truly great pictures of all times.

A fictional version of the life and loves of Poncho Villa, the great Mexican war lord who was the world's outstanding figure in the decade preceding the World War, combines spectacle and human elements in a manner reminiscent of that great classic of all time, "The Birth of a Nation."

It presents Pancho Villa in love, his feminine foils being Fay Wray and Katherine De Mille. Highlights of which include Beery's attempt to win the love of Miss Wray by force—a scene in which she shoots him and in which he beats her with a cattle whip.

Beery's fiery conquest of Katherine DeMille is another romantic highlight of the photoplay, as is their mock marriage at midnight in a lonely hut, and the scenes which follow.

Great Battle Scenes

Spectacular highlights of the story include the conquests of Chihuahua, Santa Rosalia, Torreon and other important cities of Mexico, these battles being among the most spectacular ever shown on the screen.

One hundred thousand Mexican natives were used in the picture, as many as 6,000 appearing on the screen at one time in the battle sequences. The sight of these wild peons, armed with guns and gleaming machetes, charging federal breastworks behind which machine guns keep up a devil's tattoo, is awe-inspiring.

Beery's friendship with Henry B. Walthall, who plays the gentle President Madero, and with Stuart Erwin, who plays a devil-may-care American newspaper correspondent, provides material for some of the most dramatic highlights of the photoplay.

Parting With Madero

His parting with Madero, for whom he has worked and fought, when Madero goes on to Mexico City and triumph and leaves Villa behind because he is uncouth and untutored, is a masterpiece of drama. His first meeting with Madero, in which the gentle man induces him to forsake banditry and fight for the revolution—a scene in which Villa says softly, "You make great dreams in my heart!"—is another that will long be remembered.

"Viva Villa" is the first fictional biography to reach the screen that concentrates on the human side of the subject, while deftly interpolating such mighty spectacle as has seldom, if ever, been filmed before.

Improved Pasture Pays

IMPROVED pastures are a cheap source of feed for stock. A farmer in New Hampshire, cooperating with his county agent top-dressed his 5 acres of pasture with 500 pounds of complete fertilizer at a cost of $75, reports the United States Department of Agriculture. After 4 weeks he turned his cows out on this pasture. Tests made during the six weeks the cows grazed there showed that his herd produced 7,000 pounds more milk than they did in the same period the previous year, although the farmer had one cow fewer and fed 800 pounds less grain. Based on current milk prices he made $189 on the extra milk and saved $16 on the grain, netting him an increase in income of $120.—U. S. Department of Agriculture.

BANKING STRUCTURE

Speaker Outlines Threefold Cooperation Between Bankers, Government Officials and the Public to Maintain Bank Standards

TWO elements beside the bankers themselves are required in order to give the nation universally the type of banking it should have, Francis H. Sisson, president of the American Bankers Association, declared in a recent address. He said that the efficiency of government officials upon whom the people rely to supervise the banks properly, and the patronage of the people themselves are factors in the kind of banks a community shall have.

"There can be no question that the people of the United States should have banks immune from failure and wholly free from bad or questionable banking," Mr. Sisson said. "It is not enough, as President Roosevelt has said, that while some bankers had been incompetent or dishonest, this was not true in the vast majority of our banks. A situation should exist in which there is not even a small minority of bankers open to question. There should be no room for dishonesty or incompetency to exercise any influence in banking anywhere."

"While bad faith and bad management enter the human factor in all types of business, their effects in banking should be surrounded by such special safeguards as to render them no longer a factor in bank failures. The responsibility for bringing this about, however, cannot rest upon the bankers alone, for the means to accomplish it are not wholly in their hands. There are other essential elements."

"One is the efficiency of government supervision. Since we rely so greatly upon supervision, it may, unless it is of the highest order in safeguarding the public interest, create a sense of false security. Supervision should render bad banking impossible, but it has failed to do so. There was supervision by presumably the highest type of bank supervisors in every one of the instances of questionable banking that has shocked the attention of the country during the past three years. Therefore a thorough strengthening of supervision is clearly called for if the people are to rely on it to the fullest extent for the protection of their interests."

The Public's Part

"Another essential factor in maintaining good banks involves the part played by the public in banking. There is certainly a responsibility on the people themselves to support that type of banker whose rigid adherence to sound principles makes a sound bank, rather than to give their patronage to the easy going banker who may be easier to do business with, but whose methods create a weak bank."

"Bank customers are charged with a great responsibility in protecting the safety of their banks in respect to their utilization of the assets of the banks as borrowers. Banks have failed because many of their loans and securities, created in good faith by bankers in cooperating with the business interests of the country, proved unsound under subsequent conditions. An unsound loan is created by the borrower as well as the banker. A bank is only as sound as its community, and this applies also to the banking structure as a whole in relation to the economic condition of the nation as a whole."

"A bank is truly a semi-public institution, but in a reciprocal sense—it has its obligations to the public, but so has the public equal obligations to the bank. No one who has not sound banking principles at heart has any business in a bank whether as a banker or as a customer."

"The banker is a semi-public servant. He is charged with the heaviest of responsibilities and obligations that occur in our economic life. But he can meet these fully only through the cooperation of good laws, good public officials who are empowered to exercise authority over his bank, and good business methods on the part of business men generally who utilize his bank. Only through such cooperation by all elements in our nation's community life can we be assured of a failure-proof banking structure."

"The Administration at Washington has taken hold of this problem with a firm grasp of essentials and is exercising splendid leadership toward the desired end. The strongest feature of the government program will be found in recognizing the joint responsibility of the public, of business and of government officials together with the bankers themselves in creating the kind of banking the nation should have."

TIRE PERFORMANCE SHOWS LEADERSHIP

According to Lee Motor Co., local Firestone dealer, the new Firestone High Speed Tire for 1934 is the last word in tire construction—it is the greatest tire Firestone ever built.

"In no product today is there wider performance difference than in the various makes of tires at high speeds" Mr. Lee said. "No other product is more vital for safety of motorists. The 500-Mile Race of past years at the Indianapolis Speedway was recognized as a race of tires. To keep the tread on the body of the tire was the greatest problem due to the terrific strain and the heat generated by internal friction at high speeds. Gum-Dipping was the answer of Firestone engineers."

"In the recent series of stock car and road races in California, Firestone tires have always been on the winning cars. They are the same kind of tires the motorist purchases from the local dealer. All the great racing drivers are familiar with occasions when a driver using another make of tires had to slow up or stop at the pits for a tire change on account of tread separation. The thicker the tread the more heat it holds in the tire—unless the body construction guards against internal friction heat."

"Gum-Dipping the high stretch cords gives the adhesion which welds the tire into one strong unit. This made it possible for Firestone to develop the first successful balloon tire in 1923, and has made possible other developments which have brought leadership based on performance. With the amazing advancement of tire safety and mileage, Firestone has always sought efficient production so that the motorist would pay no premium."

Grand Jury Fails To Find Indictments In T. N. G. Armory Loot

The 88th district court grand jury late Friday afternoon adjourned for the term after returning 28 true bills, all felonies, to Judge B. W. Patterson.

The grand jury failed to return indictments against either L. G. Keel, Jim Vinson, Jim Fox or Otis Dabbs, charged in complaints in connection with the robbery of the Ranger National Guard armory on the night of March 19, last. In fact no indictments were returned against anyone in connection with the Ranger armory robbery.

Raymond Hamilton, notorious Texas bank robber, who is now in the Dallas county jail, is credited in news dispatches with having made the statement that he robbed the Ranger armory. A portion of the loot from the Ranger armory is also said to have been located in Dallas and one man, said to have the loot, is alleged to have pleaded guilty to a federal charge of possessing stolen government property.

Among the indictments returned by the grand jury was one against Seaman Garrison for assault with intent to murder. This was in connection with the case in which Milton Day was struck over the head with a billiard cue. Day, who was taken to a Fort Worth hospital for treatment of his eye, returned to Eastland Wednesday, and is able to be up and about.—Eastland Telegram.

AAA SAYS THE MIDDLE MAN ALWAYS GETS HIS IN GOOD-BAD SEASON

If farmers are ever to get a profit out of their labor and investment, the middleman must be forced off his neck. According to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, the man who hands the goods over the counter is getting the lion's share of the consumer's dollar, while the farmer is compelled to take what's left—which is very little.

Whether prices are high or low, the AAA says, the middleman always "gets his." The illustration, published by the "Consumers' Guide," official publication of the AAA, graphically tells the story.

It shows that five years ago, at the height of the "boom," distributors were getting 52 cents of each dollar spent in 14 important food products. The depression forced prices down all along the line, but did that seriously affect the middleman? The AAA says not. He simply decreased the amount that he had been paying those who raised the food, as is shown by the fact that at the peak of the depression—March, 1933—the distributors' share of each dollar had jumped to 69 cents.

Since March, 1933, prices have been creeping upon the consumer, and the farmer is getting 7 cents more of each dollar, but the AAA declares that this is not merely enough, even though a step in the right direction.

The AAA discloses that the consumer is also victimized by the distributors "heads-I-win-tails-you-lose" game. "Processing taxes" which are being levied on wheat and cotton so Uncle Sam may have the hundreds of millions he has contracted to pay the farmers are being so manipulated by the manufacturers as to place the entire burden on the consumers and the farmers.

The AAA figures that the "processing tax" on wheat does not exceed the value of a slice and a quarter of bread, but it insists that in some sections the Bread Trust has used the tax as an excuse for boosting prices enough to cover the cost of all materials and labor in an entire loaf.

APPLICATION FOR CROP LOANS EXTENDED TO 15th

Information has been received from Murrah Nolte, of Breckenridge, that the time for making applications for crop loans has been extended from April 30 to May 15. Mr. Nolte is district supervisor of emergency crop loans of a group of six counties, in which district Eastland county is situated.

According to Nolte up to April 30, 1934, there had been 820 loans made in the district. Up to June 1, 1933, the closing time last year, there were 981 loans made in the district, and the present outlook is that the number for this year will be approximately the same. The amount of the loans however, are averaging about $10 more per acre than in former years.

The emergency crop loans are made for the purpose of supplying the farmer with feed and seed, and are made in amounts ranging from $10 to $200.

ENORMOUS GAIN MADE BY CARRIERS IN MARCH

The first 18 railroads to report for March showed net incomes of $16,134,000. This is a rise of 252.3 per cent from March, 1933, when the net of the same railroads was $4,580,000. It is a gain of 68.4 per cent over net returns of these roads in March 1932.

Gross revenues of these roads in March of this year were $20,000,000 larger than those of the same month last year. This is of particular importance. Gains in net earnings, or profits, may come out of the pay envelope, and usually do; but a gain in gross earnings means a jump in business.

Henson Williamson, who has been doing reconstruction work in South Texas for the past several months, arrived at home the latter part of the week. He stated that the work in that locality, for the present, is suspended, but expected it to be resumed when other funds are available. He has been stationed at Crawford.

MISS BERTHA SUGGS AND ELBERT RAINS MARRIED

Rev. Luther Pryor, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, spoke the words that united in marriage Mr. Elbert Rains and Miss Bertha Suggs, when a few friends witnessed this ceremony last Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The ceremony took place in the home of Mrs. Sallie Manning, 302 W. 3rd street.

The bride was becomingly gowned in a creation of blue and white material, with gloves, hat and hose to match. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Suggs, of 602 East 8th street.

A chirivari party was thwarted by the invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wroten to the newly weds to spend their nuptial night at their home on E. 8th street. The Wroten's had a sick baby, so the chirivari had to be postponed.

WEEK OF APRIL 14 SHOWS INCREASE OF EMPLOYMENT

AUSTIN, May 9.—For the week ending April 14, reports from 3,038 Texas establishments to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research showed a gain of 16.4 per cent in the number of workers employed and a rise of 15.5 per cent in payrolls in comparison with these same firms during the corresponding period last year.

An increase of 1.2 per cent in pay-rolls and less than 1 per cent in the number employed occurred in these establishments between March and April.

Cities in which the increase in the number employed was above the average in comparison with April, 1933, were: Port Arthur, San Angelo, Dallas, Austin, and Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Joe Campbell, of Clifton, Ariz., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Hardy Evans. These sisters had not seen each other in ten years.

BOTH THE PONSLE AND LONE STAR WELLS HAVE DRILLED INTO THE PAY

It was stated Thursday morning that both the Ponsler and Lone Star wells had drilled into the pay, with an estimated gas flow of one and one-half million feet, and oil rising in the hole near the surface. Both have drilled into the Lake sand, and this production was encountered when the bit had barely penetrated the sand. Boilers are being moved back preparatory to drilling both wells in, probably today.

First Church Of Christ, Scientist

First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Eastland, authorized branch of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston, Mass., holds services every Sabbath morning at 11 and each Wednesday night at 8. Testimonies on Christian Science healing may be given at the Wednesday evening meetings. Sunday school convenes at 9:45 a. m. All of these services are held in the Church edifice at the corner of Lamar and Plumer street.

"Adam and Fallen Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 13.

The Golden Text is: "As in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive" (I Corinthians 15:22).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And the Lord God called unto Adam, and said unto him, Where art thou?" (Genesis 3:9).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Adam, represented in the Scriptures as formed from dust, is an object-lesson for the human mind.

The material senses, like Adam, originate in matter and return to dust, are proved non-intelligent. They go out as they come in, for they are still the error, not the truth of being. When it is learned that the spiritual sense, and not the material, conveys the impressions of Mind to man, then being will be understood and found to be harmonious" (page 214).

L. B. CAMPBELL VISITED CISCO FRIENDS TUESDAY

L. B. Campbell, former manager of the Laguna and Gude hotels in Cisco, visited old friends here Tuesday, all of whom gave this genial gentleman the glad hand. Mr. Campbell is now manager of the Naylor hotel in San Angelo, where he reports he is doing fairly well. However, he says he is not getting along any too fast. A recent story in the Citizen published about his prosperity, Mr. Campbell said, brought him plenty of mail from those who were interested (?) to learn of his well doing.

But Campbell is looking well, and reports hotel business fair. Said the Naylor would be headquarters for the WTCC convention, which meets in San Angelo Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

THE CITIZEN GETS RARE SHRUBS FROM MR. BLANTON

Congressman Thomas L. Blanton has the thanks of the Citizen editor for a batch of rare shrubs, which came Tuesday. Among the collection are a red and yellow dogwood. In our Alabama boyhood home white dogwood were common, as they are in some parts of East Texas, but in this section of the state none are to be found. Another specimen is a bush honeysuckle and a bedelia, both not known in West Texas. These shrubs have been planted, and should they thrive, as we hope, the editorial parsonage will be an attractive spot in a few years. Another specimen is an althea, which is to be another beautiful flowering plant.
