Time Extended On City Taxes

A recessed meeting of the city commission with all commissioners present was held at the city hall Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when several tax matters were adjusted.

Motion was made by J. R. Burnett that the time for payment of city taxes without penalty be extended to August 1st. The motion was seconded by Geo. D. Fee, and upon vote of the commission was carried.

The match between the New York Bloomer Girls and the Cisco Red Sox baseball teams at Chesley park here last Sunday afternoon resulted in a 16-0 score in favor of the local nine. It was an easy victory for the Red Sox, every member of the team except two scoring runs. It was a very interesting game, however, and was enjoyed by a large crowd.

Tomorrow and Sunday a game is scheduled between the local team and the Tarrant County Night Hawks of Fort Worth. Neither of these teams has yet lost a game, and the Saturday and Sunday games here between these two lineups promises to be real battles.

Free Examination For School Children

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Cisco schools is conducting a summer roundup campaign of all pre-school children.

All parents of children who will enter school for the first time in the fall or at the mid-term are requested to have the children at the West Ward school building at 9 o'clock on Tuesday morning, July 7. Several doctors and dentists will be there at the time, and a free examination will be given to all children. A record will be filled out on the physical condition of each child and given to the parent so that they may have physicians give the proper treatment. While the examinations and records are made and furnished free, the suggested treatment of course, is to be paid for by the parents of the child. This plan was worked out by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and is being widely used over the country, it being reasoned that a healthy child can certainly do better work, and that a small physical defect or ailment that sometimes can be easily remedied, is often a great detriment to the progress of the child in his school work.

The following from a bulletin of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers explains the plan more fully:

"The summer roundup of the children is a campaign to send to the entering grade of school or kindergarten a class of children as free as possible from remedial physical defects. The ultimate goal is to educate parents to the need for early periodic examination of their children by the family physician and dentist in order to insure correction of hampering defects which might not otherwise be discovered until the child enters school.

"The plan of procedure adopted calls for a physical examination of the children in the spring. Where defects are found the child is referred to the family physician and dentist for final opinion and treatment. A checkup is then held in the fall to find out which of the children have received attention or advice.

"Based upon the pre-school health work done in some of the states, the summer roundup of the children claims but two original features beyond its name:

(1) It secures the followup and correction of defects and requires a checkup in the autumn; and (2) it rouses parents to a sense of responsibility and brings the pressure of public opinion to bear upon the need for providing the school with as perfect material as possible upon which to work.

"Thousands of children have defective vision, defective hearing, or other defects which can be cured or relieved by early treatment and the parent who does not take this opportunity is not doing his duty by the child.

"In urging local units to participate in this project, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers does not desire to duplicate any effective health work being done in a community. But it suggests that local units cooperate with agencies already at work and secure their assistance in the conduct of the campaign. For instance, local boards of health are often eager to include immunization against diphtheria and vaccination against smallpox in the summer roundup plans, and to unite their forces with those of local

To Celebrate the 4th

With the 4th of July, the big national holiday, falling on Saturday this year, many of the stores have announced that they will not close to celebrate. Few if any of the grocery stores will be closed for the day, it being the general supply day for the family larder, and also a day when the farmer most generally comes in to get his supplies. Most of the barber shops will remain open as usual, Saturday being the day when many have their principle barber work done. Some dry goods and clothing stores will be closed, and of course the banks and postoffice will observe the day.

No elaborate program has been prepared. However, there will be plenty of attractions for all who can lay aside the daily grind long enough to partake of them. There is the ever-inviting lake, and swimming pool which present a standing appeal to all who enjoy an outing. Fisherman's paradise is now found at Lake Cisco, and many of the citizens slip out there now quite often, not waiting for a holiday, to catch a nice string of the finny tribe. The swimming pool is one of the best to be found in anybody's country and give much pleasure to those who enjoy a delightful plunge.

The Lake Cisco Amusement Co. has announced a number of swimming and diving contests for the Fourth, including:

Girls race, 12 to 16 years, 25 yards;

Girls Race 8 to 12 yrs., 25 yds.

parent-teacher units because of their interest in these preventive measures.

"Strictly speaking, lack of these preventive measures should be considered among the remedial defects. Parent-Teacher members are in a position as are those of no other organization, to visit the homes, stress the value of sound health, both for the child and the community, round up the children for examination and urge the parents to take them to the family physician and dentist for further advice and treatment.

"It should be clearly understood that the congress does not advocate free medical or dental service in securing the correction of defects, but refers the child to the family physician and dentist for treatment, unless it is found necessary to seek some benevolent agency to provide the needed service in selective cases."

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hickman are leaving today to spend the holidays at Tyler and vicinity.

The Modernistic Bridge Club meets next Thursday with Mrs. Wallace Brittain.

For those who enjoy dancing there will be three events of this nature at the pavilion. A German dance at midnight tonight; at 2:00 p.m. Saturday there will be a matinee dance, and Saturday evening there will be a big dance beginning at 9:00 o'clock.

Boating and golfing at the lake offer pleasures of their own there for those who desire them, and it is expected that many will avail themselves of these on the big holiday.

For the sport lover there will be a big baseball game at Chesley Park Saturday as well as Sunday afternoons. This match will be between the Cisco Red Sox and the Ft. Worth Night Hawks, and promises to be good games.

The picnic grounds at the lake have recently been improved and beautiful for the convenience and pleasure of the visitor there, and offer a most inviting spot for all to spend a day or an evening in the open.

Texas Cities Produce

Doing Good Business

The Texas Cities Produce Co. opened for business in Ranger last Saturday. The new concern is located in the Revis building at the corner of Marston and Pine Streets. F. G. Yonkers is the general manager of the stores of the company. There will be four stores in all, three of which, including the Ranger branch, have already been opened. One in Cisco and one in Coleman are now doing business, and another in Eastland is to be opened in the near future. The Ranger store will be the headquarters for the concern. J. L. Love will be superintendent of the stores, and J. W. Stewart will be purchasing agent.

The company will do both wholesale and retail business, and will buy much of its produce from local growers. The company plans to open at least ten branches. The local branch will be in charge of Doyle Lanier, who has had considerable experience in grocery management—Eastland County News.

Delegates Will Go To Washington

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the chamber of commerce here Tuesday evening, it was definitely decided to send a committee to Washington for the purpose of urging the immediate pushing of plans for the federal building for Cisco. This matter has been under consideration for some time, P o s t m aster Blankenbeckler having called to the attention of this body and also the City Commission the fact that many places after having the appropriation allowed and the other plans having gone forward as far as they have here, sometimes have to wait indefinitely before any real action is taken in starting construction work. It was believed that a representation from Cisco to go to Washington to insist that there be no delay in going right forward with this work would have some effect.

The following committee was appointed for this purpose: F. A. Blankenbeckler, Guy Dabney, W. J. Leach, and they are to leave for Washington tomorrow.

One of the purposes of the government in making allowance for erecting a number of federal buildings over the country as this time was to help the country generally at a time when most needed, and the immediate carrying forward of this work will be of help to this town just at this time.

Short Course For Farmers

A varied and interesting program is announced for the annual short course for farmers which is to be held at A & M College this year from July 27 to August 1.

The general theme will be, "Increasing the profit, comfort, culture, influence and power of every farm family." For this theme the heads of the short course went to Dr. S. A. Kemp, who was the founder of the demonstration. President Walton of A. & M. says that the short course will follow the general lines of his Texas Farm Policy and will embrace the following themes:

1. Preservation of land as capital stock.
2. Use of adapted crops and livestock.
3. Balancing the farm business.
4. Employing low cost methods.
5. Living at home.
6. Production of quality products.
7. Marketing on a quality basis.

This is a very valuable course to every farmer, and to everyone interested in agricultural work, and we understand quite a number are planning to go from Eastland county to attend.

Mrs. Grace Bettis is on a vacation trip to points in New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Gandy and daughter, Margaret, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stoker and daughter, Doris Jean, of Breckenridge, were Cisco visitors Sunday, guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. McClelland.

Mrs. J. W. Lawrence and Mrs. J. P. McCanlies left Thursday afternoon for Sweetwater, in response to a message that the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lawrence was not expected to live. Later message to relatives here stated that the baby had died.

Why Worry?

During the depressive conditions with which we have had to contend, there has been a lot of worry - worry, worry, no end. Last year the drouth got our crops and we couldn't raise a thing; this year the stuff is being raised - but it isn't worth a ding. The oil man worried to get his wells, for fear they would be dry, and now he has a lot of oil - but the price is not high. A fellow worries, works and sweats to save up a little "dough," and then he worries over failing health, and has to blow and blow. He buys a home, he buys a car, on that "easy(?) payment plan," and in trying to get the things paid out he's surely some worried man. Then IF he finally pays the last of these blasted worrisome notes, he feels like bawling a big loud "baa!" and going out to run with the goats - for he finds that the stuff he's bought, that looked so good to him then, when the last digging payment has been met isn't worth a yen. The chief worry of many a man these days is just to get a few beans - and a fellow broke and out of work knows what that worry means. When a fellow comes into this world he won't be here very long before he starts worrying in good style about something going wrong. And so from cradle to the grave we worry, then worry some more; we wonder if there's a place that's free from worry over on the golden shore!

An exchange puts it like this: "Either you are successful or you are not successful. If you are successful there is nothing to worry about; if you are not successful there are two things to worry about. Your health is either good or you're sick; if your health is good there is nothing to worry about; if you are sick there are only two things to worry about. You are either going to get well or you are going to die; if you are going to get well there is nothing to worry about; if you are going to die there are only two things to worry about. You are either going to heaven or you are not going to heaven; and if you are going to heaven there is nothing to worry about; if you are going to the other place you'll be so busy shaking hands with old friends that you won't have time to worry. So why worry?"

No Harmony in Oil Yet

Whatever else may be said for or against the Cranfill plan, the appearance of the East Texas committee before the Railroad Commission does not reveal it as harmonizing the opposing independents. For one thing there is a great difference of opinions as to what the plan will accomplish in the line of concrete results. Capt. Lucey and C. F. Roeser have developed a difference of close to 160,000 barrels daily in their estimates as to the net production under the plan, and the two differ also as to the actual number of violators.

There can be little question that Mr. Roeser is right in contending the plan will not work at all without complete agreement. If the Arkansas company with its large acreage refuses to participate, the Cranfill plan is doomed.

As to the contention of Mr. Roeser's party that the plan is unworkable because illegal, the rebuttal statement of the secretary of the arbitration committee has great interest. In effect, Mr. Parten said that the Cranfill plan would be adopted in East Texas because the section is interested in it and will not permit nonobservance. "Violators would bring down a wrath that would not long be endured." If these is other than an open threat in that statement, it should be made clear.

East Texas looks out over a troubled oil sea and is apparently unable to agree on what raft to trust itself. Governor Sterling, however, has the right idea. Temporary measures will not be useful. A permanent policy preferably directed by law is a better solution than curealls that only promise to cure. - Dallas News.

ROAD HOG'S RECORD

The "road hog" has been a nuisance ever since automobiles became common. We never quite realized what a real menace he is however, until we saw an analysis of traffic accidents recently issued by the Traveler's Insurance Company. Of more than five hundred and sixty thousand traffic accidents in 1930, the insurance officials found, 68 per cent was caused by drivers who were guilty of one of these three faults: Refusing to give the right of way to the car that should have had it, exceeding the speed limit, or driving on the wrong side of the road. Those are the three cardinal sins of the road hog: Last year they caused more than three hundred and eighty-four thousand accidents in which nearly sixteen thousand lives were lost. No more damning evidence of the high price we pay for boorishness on the highway could hardly be presented.

PERHAPS ANANIAS IS THEIR GREAT GRAND-DAD

You perhaps know that Ananias was the first great liar of which history has much to say. Sometimes we think that among his gifted descendants there are a few scattered around here.

Every so often Mr. Motorist drives up to some stations in Cisco who do not handle our gasoline, and ask for some of our products, and the reply comes back, "No, we don't handle that; those products may be all right for some purposes, BUT--we wouldn't advise you to put them in a GOOD car like YOURS, they might RUIN it. They may be all right for some old wreck--but not for a GOOD car."

Perhaps you have heard that statement. We know of a number around here who have been told that--and made to believe it.

On Thursday, July 9th, the young lady will be returned to the Connellee stage and before the crowd present, awakened from her sleep by Rajah Yogi.

This is the same hypnotist who hypnotized and buried Renio in Dallas last year, a stunt which attracted wide attention and which many here will remember.
