Bandits Get $4,000 in Payroll Holdups in Two Cities

LOOT SEIZED AT GUN POINT IN EACH CASE

By United Press. Bandits robbed two Texas concerns of more than $4,000 in payroll money today in widely separated cities of the state. In each case they forcibly seized their loot at gun points, escaping in automobiles.

TWO EMPLOYEES ARE KIDNAPED

FORT WORTH, Nov. 26.—Two employes of the Waples-Platter Grocery company were kidnaped and robbed of $1,771 in payroll money at the doorway of the Continental National bank here today.

A scar-faced bandit poked a gun into the side of Lee Brown, auditor, as he stepped out of the bank with the money satchel, accompanied by Dennis Hall, bookkeeper.

The two men were ordered into the grocery company's waiting automobile.

"Move on over," ordered the gunman, "and drive like hell. But watch all traffic lights."

The two employes were released unharmed on a suburban road near here. The bandits escaped with the payroll and automobile in the direction of Montecello. Police patrols armed with sawed-off shotguns took up pursuit.

PROPRIETORS AND HELPERS ROBBED.

GALVESTON, Nov. 26.—Robbers held up a warehouse proprietor and two helpers here today, seized the $2,400 payroll which they were transporting from a bank and escaped in an automobile which spectators reported was driven by a woman.

Several persons standing on a street corner watched the payroll car being forced to the curb by the bandits' machine without realizing a robbery was in progress.

Emil Eggers, proprietor of the Wiley-Nichols company warehouse, his son, Walter Eggers, and W. H. McManus, foreman, were taking the money from the bank to the plant when their automobile was halted.

At the wheel of the bandit car sat a woman. Two white men jumped out, brandishing guns and seized the payroll satchel. Both were unmasked and appeared to be about 30 years old.

The bandits disabled the payroll car by taking the ignition key with them.

Nightwatchman Is Shot to Death

FORT WORTH, Nov. 26.—C. T. Taylor, 61, nightwatchman, was found shot to death by a bullet in his mouth at Universal Mills on Kings highway today.

Mill employes found the body behind a pile of flour sacks. A revolver lay near by. Taylor was said to have been in ill health for two days.

Survivors include a son, D. A. Taylor, and two daughters, Mrs. Calie Johnson and Mrs. Emily Petty, all of Cleburne.

Stillwell Elected Teachers' President

FORT WORTH, Nov. 26.—H. W. Stillwell, superintendent of Texas-Texas junior college today was elected president of the Texas State Teachers association in convention here.

He succeeds Dr. J. A. Hill, president of West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon.

Stillwell is a graduate of the University of Texas. He is past president of both east and west Texas teachers associations.

Gandhi to Fast Again for "Untouchables"

The Mahatma Mohandas K. Gandhi will be in great danger of death if he carries through his announced new hunger strike for the uplift of the "untouchables," India's miserable millions. Gandhi has announced he will start a new "fast unto death" on January 1 unless untouchables are admitted to Teuravay Temple. Above is a group of the "untouchables" for whom Gandhi is fighting. Of the lowest Indian caste, the "untouchables" live in squalor. Gandhi has been warned by doctors that a new fast in their behalf might be fatal for him.

NEEDY TO HAVE FEDERAL AID AT SCRANTON

The Scranton consolidated school district yesterday worked out plans for the use of the community's emergency fund of the R. F. C. The school board will act as an executive committee to help take care of the unemployment situation in the community. J. D. Pitman is chairman of the board.

The board came to Cisco Saturday morning to discuss with the committee here the matter of using the labor in the community itself rather than having workers come to Cisco and thereby losing in transportation a part of the wages paid out of the government fund. At a meeting with J. E. Spencer, J. C. Collins and P. Pettit of the Cisco precinct committee, the board presented its case and an appointment was made.

Several Communities

J. E. Spencer announced that Scranton is one of several communities which will probably work out an unemployment relief plan along this line. Other communities will likely be granted appointments to be held where the labor is available rather than in the larger towns.

Under the law, the money is to be used for labor only and must be used in some work of a public nature. Only 20 percent of an apportionment may be used for team labor. The Cisco labor will be paid on a wage scale of 22 1-2 cents an hour for eight hours a day for unskilled labor and 32 1-2 cents an hour for skilled labor. Only the most needy are to be employed at first, it was said, though all may register and will be used as they are needed. No man is to work more than five days at a time.

The Scranton school board adopted a wage scale somewhat lower than that paid to the Cisco workers, on the theory that the farm communities will not require the use of as much cash for commodities. The board adopted a scale of 17 1-2 cents an hour for unskilled labor and $2.50 a day for a man and team.

The Scranton labor will be divided into three crews of workers, one each at Scranton, Dan Horn, and Nimrod, it was decided. The first work will be on the school grounds at the three places and the cemetery at Nimrod.

AMARILLO AND RANGER PLAY ON CANINE LOT

The site of the Ranger-Amarillo bi-district football game this week will be Ranger. The date for the game had not been fixed early Saturday afternoon, but next Saturday afternoon was expected to be selected.

Ranger won the toss at a meeting of officials of the two schools to decide the location of the contest. Ranger played Amarillo earlier in the year at Amarillo but the schools, prior to the game, agreed that in the event both won district championships a coin would be tossed to decide the place of the bi-district contest.

Rumors current here yesterday that Breckenridge had entered protest of a Ranger player or players were declared unfounded by the Breckenridge American yesterday. "There is absolutely nothing to it," the newspaper declared.

MISS ALLEN TO OPEN COOKING SCHOOL DEC. 6

MISS ZELLA ALLEN

Miss Zella Allen, noted kitchen economist, will be in Cisco to open the Cisco Daily News annual cooking school December 6. The school, which is free, will last four days.

Miss Allen has been conducting free cooking schools over the state, sponsored by Texas newspapers. She is in Corsicana this week, having just closed a successful school in Breckenridge. During her stay here Miss Allen will make the Laguna hotel her home.

All merchants are asked to cooperate in making the school a successful community enterprise. Grocers may help by contributing foods to be used in the school, while all merchants are invited to participate by offering prizes and in any other way they desire.

Those attending the cooking school are assured of a comfortable seat, for the school is to be conducted this year in the Ideal Theatre building. The building will be at the disposal of the Daily News, through the courtesy of K. N. Greer, manager of the local theaters.

The building will be lighted by the West Texas Utilities company, which will also furnish a Frigidaire and other electrical appliances.

The school will use a new automatic hot water heater furnished by the Community Natural Gas company.

Throughout the school Miss Allen will feature Ever-Lite flour, distributed in Cisco by the Bankhead Feed Mill. She always uses K. C. Baking Powder, famous for many years.

Other participants of the school will be announced from day to day.

HEARING UPON GAS SCHEDULE HERE DELAYED

Hearing on the petition of the Community Natural Gas company for an injunction restraining the city of Cisco from interfering with a new gas rate schedule for Cisco was postponed in federal court at Abilene Friday until December 6 at Fort Worth. Judge Wilson remarked that it would "simply not be fair" to Cisco to go into the hearing within so short a time after Cisco had been notified of it. "This is a big and important matter," he said.

Service was had on Cisco officials only four days before the hearing was scheduled, Cisco attorneys told the court; and they had obtained a copy of the Community pleadings at that time. They asked that "reasonable opportunity to prepare information to meet the allegations" of the company be allowed them.

Cisco counsel, J. J. Butts and F. D. Wright, presented a plea in abatement urging that the Community had appealed to the Texas Railroad commission from the refusal of the city commission to authorize the new schedule and that the appeal was now pending before the state body.

Claim Losses.

Community attorneys however, argued they had been unable to secure a hearing before the railroad commission on the question. They pleaded for an immediate hearing on the assertion the company has been suffering losses for "months and years" under the present rate and "has done all it can under the state law, without obtaining relief."

In October 1931 the Cisco city commission passed an ordinance reducing the domestic gas rate from 67 1/2 cents a thousand feet to 45 cents.

The gas company, seeking to impose a sliding schedule beginning at $1.40 for the first 1,000 feet—the minimum charge—and progressing down to 45 cents after the first 25,000 cubic feet of consumption, argued that under the present scale the company lost $7,000 for the year ending August 31.

City Attorney R. E. Grantham was with Butts and Wright in behalf of Cisco. Mayor J. T. Berry and Commissioners Joe Clements and W. R. Winston were also present at the hearing.

805,000 BARRELS ESTIMATED AS TEXAS' QUOTA

AUSTIN, Nov. 26.—J. A. Struth, of Houston, employed by the state railroad commission, today reported the "market demand" for Texas oil to be 805,000 barrels a day.

Under the new Texas oil law production is expected to be limited to that amount as a result of the hearing on oil production under way here today.

Under Struth's recommendation the west central Texas field would be allotted 22,900 barrels per day and west Texas 166,100 barrels per day.

Data on which to establish the market demand and fix the maximum state production was presented later by R. D. Parker, chief of the oil and gas division. A committee of the Oil States Advisory committee has recommended Texas daily oil limit at 850,000 barrels per day.

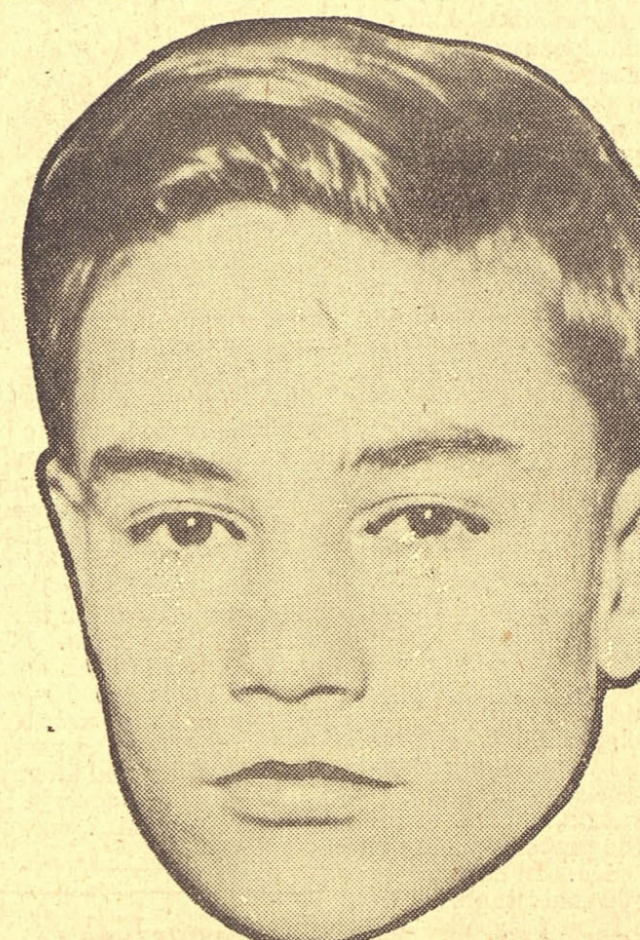

B. T. S. Pledged To Prohibition

HOUSTON, Nov. 26.—J. Earl Mead, of Dallas, today was re-elected president of the Texas Baptist Training service and Mineral Wells was chosen as the 1933 convention city.

Members of the training service today pledged "sacrificial devotion" to prohibition.

The adopted temperance report said in part: "We, the prohibition committee, would confirm our conviction in the righteousness of national prohibition, holding no service too costly to render in order to keep the American flag floating over a sober nation."

Boy, 16, Indicted As Killer

Bert Arnold, above, 16-year-old model high school student, killed his step-grandmother at Riverside, Ill., because she wouldn't let him use her auto, then attended a church dance, according to his confession. He has been indicted. Mrs. Ellen Saxe, 60, victim of the juvenile killer, is shown at the left below. In the center are the youth's stepmother and his father as they left the jail after assuring the youth they would try to help him. At the right is Miss Frances Smith, with whom young Arnold danced after he had murdered Mrs. Saxe.

COURT ORDER PREVENTS NEW CONSTRUCTION

Much disappointment over the large block that has been thrown in the way of the Strawn-Weatherford cut-off by the securing of an order at Austin Friday restraining the state highway commission from letting any more highway construction contracts, was expressed locally today by officials of the chamber of commerce and others who have been actively pushing this project. It was openly felt that the petition for the injunction was actuated primarily by a desire to stop this project.

Prospects were that the construction of the 44-mile strip across southern Palo Pinto and through Erath and Parker counties to Weatherford, would be under way within a short while after hearings scheduled before the highway commission next Monday and Tuesday. The cut-off would reduce the distance traversed by the present route of the Bankhead highway by about 15 miles.

Beyond this sentiment, however, they had little comment to make, although they were hopeful that some development would take place immediately which would permit the program to be undertaken without harmful delay.

ORDER TIES HANDS OF COMMISSION

AUSTIN, Nov. 26.—The hands of the state highway department today seemed hopelessly tied by a temporary restraining order secured by Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, governor-elect.

The order, unless amended, prevents acceptance next Monday and Tuesday of bids asked on $4,000,000 worth of state road and bridge work.

No loophole could be found in the restraining order, secured late yesterday by former Gov. James E. Ferguson and State Rep. Bailey W. Hardy, of Breckenridge, and John M. Chamberlin, of Palo Pinto county.

Attorney-General James V. Alfred has received no copy of the order and today declined to forecast what might be done. Ten days' notice may be necessary, it was learned, either to ask for dissolution or amendment of the order.

Highway commission officials were not in Austin today.

Bids advertised to be received here next week include part of the work on the Weatherford-Strawn cut-off which will leave Mineral Wells and a number of other places off the main route to West Texas. This cut-off is set out in the injunction petition as one of several "unreasonable" projects contemplated by the highway commission.

Unless modified or dissolved, the injunction prohibits the letting of any more highway contracts un-

The Citizens' Temperance union, after deciding on this step, agreed to adopt formal resolutions at a meeting Monday night, Nov. 28. A committee began preparing the documents.

Missionaries Here Monday Afternoon

HARVESTER COMPANY PROVIDES JOBS.

Four thousand jobless men will be placed on the payroll of the International Harvester company, Chicago. That is, its managers will add about 400 part time employes in its plants during the winter, and early spring months—half of these in the Chicago plant. All these additional workers will be added gradually. Purpose of the managers in increasing factory operating forces is to provide supplies of goods which they hope and expect will be required during the coming year. In order to spread the work as far as possible they will not increase the working time of those now employed, but will call back longer service men who have been out of work for some time. Encouraging, to say the least. Furthermore, if there were no employers of labor, with the necessary capital to function all the time or most of the time, this would be a dreary old world for the hand workers, regardless of all of the biting criticisms made of what is known as a capitalistic civilization. Soviet Russia has a civilization just the opposite or reverse. There is no freedom of action in Russia. There is no freedom of speech unless the speaker accepts the dictum or the decrees of Stalin. There is no freedom of worship. There is no mounting the rungs of the ladder except for the favored few. Man has iron bands around his head, and shackles bind his feet. Regardless of this the Russians are entitled to go their own way, to create their own industrial and economic system, and be the willing slaves or peons of a dictator who rules with iron hand and from whose decree there is no appeal except the torch and the sword of revolution.

YOUNG COUNTY HOUSEWIVES PROVIDE.

Sixty families in Young county completed all requirements in a food budget contest sponsored by the Young county board of agriculture. They have in their pantries or cellars a total of 37,397 containers of foodstuffs, or an average of 623 cans per family. Total value of the property is placed at $13,023.40, or an average of $217.21 each. In addition to the canned or preserved food supply the 60 contestants showed the following in other phases of the farm program—307 milk cows, 173 hogs, 6443 hens, 60 gardens averaging about one-half acre each, 7606 fruit trees and berry and grapevines, 14,220 acres of native pasture, 53,975 bushels of grain for feed and 617 tons of hay. Young county has been placed on the map of Providers. Graham, the county seat, has been placed on the map. This all happened to 60 families made up of hustlers who know how to keep the wolf from the door. Pass it along. It tells of a new Texas and new Texans.

HUGE POPULAR VOTE FOR ROOSEVELT.

Well, the totals are coming in. The popular vote in the presidential election as compiled and released Monday, Nov. 22, with a number of states incomplete, made the following showing: Roosevelt, 12,357,057; Hoover, 15,091,259; Thomas, socialist, 616,189; Upshaw, prohibitionist, 32,684; Foster, communist, 21,732; Harvey, liberty party, 21,286; Reynolds, socialist-labor party, 5473. The reader is reminded that the requirements in a number of states do not call for official canvass of the votes until late in November and early in December. Texas is listed as one of the states where the count is incomplete. Col. Maco Stewart of Galveston is again reminded that "great red-communist uprising" did not exhibit itself at the polling places of America. William Z. Foster, their national standard-bearer, has a total of 32,684 in a count of 37,000,000 ballots. If the communists honey-comb the country in numbers, they voted white instead of red on general elections day. That is, if it is true that figures never lie.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Governor Roosevelt is quite right in warning his people not to pay any attention to what they read in the newspapers about the possible makeup of his cabinet.

Speculation is speculation and it is very much in order at this time, insofar as the next cabinet is concerned. But everyone who writes about it is just guessing and hardly any of the guesses are better than the others. The guessing will become gradually more accurate, of course, as March approaches.

One reason the president-elect is so completely justified in warning the public not to take any stock in the cabinet speculation is that no one knows whether Roosevelt wants a strong cabinet or a weak cabinet.

NEARLY all the current speculation has been based on the theory that he will be wanting a strong cabinet. That's why you find the correspondents picking posts for such folks as Newton D. Baker, Owen D. Young, Albert C. Ritchie, John W. Davis, James M. Cox, Al Smith, Carter Glass, Bernard Baruch, Melvin M. Traylor, William G. McAdoo, Frances Perkins and Thomas J. Walsh.

Obviously, if Roosevelt were to pick a cabinet out of that group he would have a cabinet of great heft that he would be in great danger of merely being considered as among those present. That is one of the best reasons for supposing not many of those persons will be on the list, if one must so suppose. A strong president can afford to have a weak cabinet, whereas a weak president ought to have a strong cabinet, according to the orthodox theory here.

Mr. Harding, who was rather a weak president and doubtless anticipated it, picked a strong cabinet—it is still regarded as strong on account of Hughes, Hoover and Mellon, even if some of the boys did go wrong on him.

Mr. Hoover, who was expected to be a strong president and who himself hardly expected anything else but who—according to a large popular majority—was a flop, had a cabinet for whom no one had much respect. The only members who are still held in any esteem are Secretary of State Stimson and Attorney General Mitchell, two able and very loyal men who have had to put up with so much that their friends are quite sorry for them.

ALL of which doesn't help us to pick Roosevelt's cabinet before he picks it himself. The governor presumably feels that he will be a strong president, although that's a point of excited debate in Washington, but there is no very good way of telling whether his cabinet will be considered good, bad, awful or terrible.

At this stage of the cabinet-picking process, however, it may be considered a fortunate thing for the country that Governor Roosevelt is an expert politician and apparently knows all the tricks of the business.

Isn't It About Time They Were Coming to Earth?

TEXAS GRAIN GROWERS REDUCE ACREAGE.

Texas grain growers are wise. Wheat acreage in the Texas Panhandle is said to be 25 per cent short of that of last year at the same time, and the conditions of the crop not more than 60 per cent of normal. Total crop will not exceed 1,200,000 acres in the upper Panhandle counties, compared with 2,500,000 acres in 1930 and an average of 1,600,000 acres since 1924. It is claimed by the editor of the Amarillo News-Globe that many Panhandle farmers were unable to plant a new crop after the Reconstruction Finance corporation denied them loans. Hickman Price, the youthful wheat king of Texas, is back on the job. His creditors met him more than half way. He hopes to make a big winning in the years to come. A reminder that wheat has hit a price level as low as that of the period of Queen Elizabeth, known to lovers of history and biography as "the virgin queen." Now why should wheat acreage be increased in Texas or any other grain growing state?

Through the Editor's Spectacles

By GEORGE

Rising Star, big little town down south of Cisco, is doing things in a big way, according to a story the Daily News received from there yesterday and publishes in today's News. This little city is making use of its portion of the R. F. C. employment relief fund to install a municipal gas system. Having been unsuccessful in getting lower gas rates for its citizens, the city has taken the bull by the horns. It is spending six or seven thousand dollars of city money, which it will recover from profits on the gas system, and joining this with about $2,000 of the federal fund to employ common labor on the plant. Thus Will Tyler, mayor, and the Rising Star commissioners are killing two birds with one stone. Mr. Tyler, incidentally, is Rising Star's leading banker and a successful business man. Rising Star is fortunate in having him as its mayor.

If Rising Star keeps up the progressive pace that it has established under his leadership, I venture the fearful prediction, folks, that Rising Star is going to make Cisco look pale around the gills. Although it has but one small spur railroad, it is making itself into an inland market for farm produce that dominates a territory much out of proportion to its size. The depression isn't worrying those folks down there. They are working just that much harder. They are working because they realize that nobody is going to hand them a thing, free of charge, and that the only way by which they may expect to realize upon their possibilities is to grab old man Opportunity by the forelock and wrestle him—excuse the expression, please—from hell to breakfast. There doesn't seem to be anybody afraid of him, either.

Meanwhile, sad to say, Cisco is building a wall about the cemetery and wondering what else can be done to spend the emergency relief money allotted to the city to provide jobs for the jobless. We need, as badly as any single thing, some settling basins at Lake Cisco to insure the future purity of the water our people drink. The cemetery wall is a splendid thing from the standpoint of civic attractiveness—it is needed for no other reason—but it is a small item.

We must begin to think and act in a lot bigger terms than cemetery walls and drain ditches if we keep our town comparable in civic initiative with other towns about us. Right now we need real courage and determined effort, and later on it's going to be mighty hard to find an excuse for having done nothing.

Cisco may be out of the league but T. C. Williams got very much in the big middle of it over in Fort Worth the other day. T. C., who principals the East ward school, was attending the convention of the Texas State Teachers association.

He got into the league as an instrument of destiny. It is quite all right, about this time of the year, to dignify the question of where an inter-district football game shall be played, with the suggestion that it is a matter over which the highest gods of Fate assume control. Why the gods should pick on T. C. I did not inquire. Nevertheless, in the shape of a couple of school superintendents they did, and T. C. standing in the midst of an awesome moment tossed a coin upward and let it fall with a plunk on the surface of a table.

The plunk of that particular coin held almost as much significance as a winning touchdown. It meant that Vernon's high school Lions, winners of District 5, should play the Sherman Bearcats, winners of District 6, at Sherman.

To date no protest has been filed against T. C.

There are rumors, speaking of protests, that Breckenridge will complain of Ranger. Breckenridge with a three-touchdown better team, lost the most amazing game to Ranger Thanksgiving day that I have ever seen on the football field in my born life. Losing a game that they were obviously entitled to win isn't going to help Breckenridge feelings any. Had the Bucks not been so over-anxious, they would in all probability have won. I admit that it was a disheartening loss.

But Ranger won the game and that is what counts, and here's wishing the Bulldogs plenty of luck when they meet Amarillo.

Week-end MURDER

“He'll hurry back to you as fast as he can, I know. I made him eat first and told him I'd go down for a cup of coffee when he came up. So he'll be back very soon.”

LINDA yielded. After all, perhaps she really wanted a few minutes to collect her thoughts.

It was in fact but a scant 10 minutes before quick steps in the hall brought a flush to her cheeks and Mrs. Averill, rising with a resigned little sigh, met her son at the door and slipped out as he came in.

“Linda darling! All the anxiety of the morning was in his exclamation. “You poor baby—you poor kid!”

“There, Tommy—I'm all right now.”

“You're not to talk. The doctor's been here and—”

“And the police?” inquired Linda in a small scared voice. He looked at her in utter astonishment.

“Linda, what on earth? The police don't come for—”

“An accident, dearest—you know—I thought you remembered—Cousin Amos—”

“I know what happened to Cousin Amos. Her tone made him look at her sharply.

“He fell from the balcony,” said Tom quietly. Since she would discuss it, better to be to the point and steady about it.

“Yes?” Again he was puzzled by her tone. “Well—suppose, Tom,” she relaxed suddenly, leaning against the pillow. “suppose you tell me just exactly what did happen—as far as you know. Go back to the very beginning.

“You remember we were going swimming together—”

“Yes. You went ahead of me.”

“Well, I was just climbing up on the raft—looking toward the house—when you came out on the balcony.”

“You could see me clearly?”

“Why yes. You waved—”

“You saw me wave?”

HE could not understand her tension. “It was all over so quickly. You stood for a moment like—like a scarlet exclamation point against the white of the house. And then your arm went up and just as I was waving back

THE WILLETS

Out Our Way

By Williams

WELL, WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT THAT? I DON'T KNOW WHY I DIDN'T MISS THAT AROUND THE HOUSE.

WHAT'S THAT BEAUTIFUL, EXPENSIVE SPANISH GALLEON I BOUGHT DOING UP IN TH' ATTIC, COLLECTIN' DUST AND COBWEBS?

I NEVER COULD SEE THE THING.

THAT'S BECAUSE YOU HAVE NO IMAGINATION! WHEN YOU LOOK AT A ROMANTIC THING LIKE THAT, YOU HAVE TO LOOK BACK THRU THE YEARS TO GET A KICK OUT OF IT.

OH, I CAN SEE THRU THE YEARS ALL RIGHT - THAT'S EASY!

WHAT KICK IS THERE IN LOOKIN' AT AN OLD JUG, MADE FROM A MUD HOLE, COMPARED WITH TH' ROMANCE OF TH' OLD SPANISH ADVENTURERS.

LOOK AT THE REGAL BEAUTY THERE - IT'S SOMETHING TO USE YOUR IMAGINATION ON.

THE ROARING SEAS - THE ROARING ADMIRAL - THE ROA - I MEAN, THE FLAPPING SAILS - WHY, IT'S EASY TO SEE BACK THRU FOUR HUNDRED YEARS.

HY YAH, PA? ITS GETTING COLDER OUTSIDE.

HY YA, MA? WILLIS'LL BE RIGHT HOME - I SAW HIM COMING.

HY YUH, POP? GOSH, I B' LIEVE A BLIZZARD'S COMIN'. WHU'S FER SUPPER, MOM?

YES, IT'S YOURS TO KEEP!

SAY! WHO THREW ALL OUR THINGS ON THE FLOOR THERE?

YOUR FATHER! THEY KEPT HIM FROM SEEING THRU FOUR HUNDRED YEARS.

"WE KNOW CHEVROLETS—YOU KNOW US"

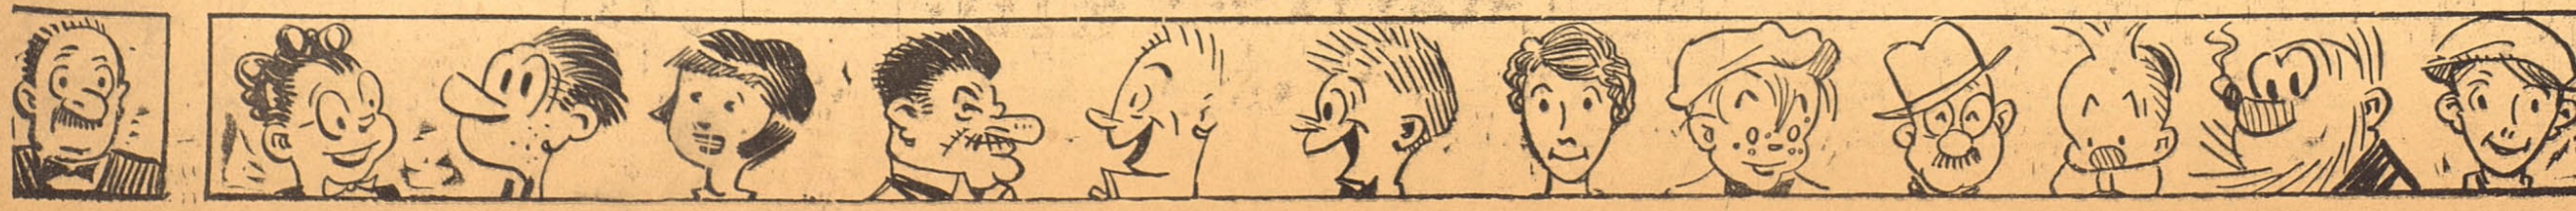

A Setting Reflection.

A certain young man we know no far from here was asked: "What were your father's last words?" to which he replied, "There were none mother was with him to the end."

It's more pleasant to reflect that we have pleased a buyer of our certified used cars. The pride we take in our quality standards is reflected in the exceptional values offered. We are proving to more customers every day that a good used car at a sensible price is sensible business.

VELVET GLOVES LATEST STYLE FROM PARIS

PARIS, Nov. 26—Accessory fashions have been revolutionized by Paris' latest invention—the velvet glove—not for the traditional iron hand, but for fair and gentle hands white and slim.

The soft lustrous fabric lends itself to graceful folds, and these gloves are made to reach just above the elbow, but worn wrinkled over the lower part of the arm just above the wrist. They are made in lovely shades of red, blue, green as well as black, in fact in every shade in which the evening gowns are made.

Daytime Wear
For the daytime there are shorter gloves of velvet. In brown and beige shades these are particularly attractive with fur coats, especially mink beige breitchwanz coat by ruby velvet gloves accompanied by a ruby velvet beret and perhaps a velvet bag.

Charming Christmas presents can be made of these velvet gloves and the dainty trifles that are made to accompany them. The evening gloves may have slippers to match. While gloves for the daytime match beret, bag and belt.

Afternoon Wear
There are new black velvet gloves for the afternoon with the gauntlet cuff with white kid. This is worn turned down over the hand and is extremely chic with black costumes trimmed with remite.

Then there are corduroy velvet gloves for sports wear. These are made in a variety of colors with matching berets, bags and scarves.

In every smart restaurant and every ball-room these velvet gloves are seen. They are worn by such leaders of fashion as the Duchess of Sutherland, the Dutchess dess d'Albe who has them to match each of her numerous evening gowns, the Comtesse de Cosse-Brissac, the Comtesse de Saint Phalle, and by most of the smart women here.

Macon to Be Ready To Take Air Soon

AKRON, O., Nov. 26.—The U. S. S. Macon, sister ship of the U. S. S. Akron, will be ready for service with the nation's air forces within less than six months, according to Good-year-Zeppelin Corporation officials.

Progress on construction of the second leviathan of the sky has been maintained according to schedule, according to the announcement, and the huge ship will be completed for trial flights in March, 1933.

About four-fifths of the aluminum alloy skeleton has received its outer cover, five of the eight engines have been installed, the control car is nearly completed and will be attached to the hull shortly, two of the big fins are about to be raised, the airplane compartment bridge for the five scout planes the ship will carry has been lifted to position, fuel tanks and ballast bags are being placed, and the windlasses and other equipment for operating the mooring cables are being built into the Macon's nose.

The Macon will be identical in size and shape to the Akron.

The position and size of control surfaces and control car have not been altered, and the power plants with the tilting propeller feature are employed on the Macon as on the Akron.

til the end of the present state fiscal year which expires August 31, 1933.

The petition asserts that if contemplated contracts are let, the available highway funds for the year will be exceeded and embarrass the new administration.

Gov. Ross Sterling criticized the suit as a step that will hinder relief of unemployment in the state.

MIGHT COST FEDERAL FUNDS, SAYS ELY.

ABILENE, Nov. 26.—"It would be very unfortunate if the highway commission were prevented from going ahead with construction lettings, as in that case we would stand a chance to lose a good part of the eight million dollar federal allotment to Texas for emergency relief," said W. R. Ely, commission chairman, yesterday when he was informed of James E. Ferguson's suit against the department.

"That allotment must be spent under the law, by July of 1933," Judge Ely continued. "Nearly all of the highway department contracts advertised for letting next week are on federal aid projects, to be partly financed out of that particular appropriation which was made as an emergency relief measure to provide work for unemployed men. The highway department is meeting all federal requirements as to hours of labor, wages, etc. As we pay out state funds to contractors, as the work progresses, we will be repaid by the federal bureau on federal aid projects.

"The highway department is letting no contracts it cannot take care of; and, of course, none beyond the biennium as required of us by law. We have a cash balance of more than $7,000,000 on hand, have never gone in the red, and have no intention of doing so."

Ely said the highway department, in awarding construction contracts, does not work on a specific appropriation by the legislature covering the outlay.
