STEAMSHIP BLOWS UP; MANY PERISH Bodies of Three Men Found in Wreck of Missing Plane

AIRWAY LINER HIT MOUNTAIN NEAR EL PASO

EL PASO, Sept. 9.—The bodies of three men killed in an American Airways plane crash were found today near the foot of El Capitan pass in Guadalupe mountains. The plane crashed and burned 75 miles east of El Paso, killing three of its four occupants and injuring the other.

Victims were: PILOT W. J. ROBBINS, 32, of Fort Worth, cousin of Reg. Robbins, noted endurance flier. CO-PILOT FRANCIS W. BRIGGS of Dallas. VICTOR ELLMAN, 18, passenger, of Los Angeles. The other passenger, G. A. Davidson, 40, of Richmond, Calif., escaped with painful injuries. He was found two miles from the wreckage, trying to reach a house. Davidson described his escape to members of the rescue party. The ship was 45 minutes out of El Paso, he said. The plane was flying through clouds. There was a crash. The plane had flown head on into the mountain side. "I unfastened my belt," Davidson said, "and crawled out. The ship was on fire as I got away." Davidson was near death in an El Paso hospital today. He was suffering from exposure, burns on the face and hands, and broken ribs. Several men are attempting to reach the plane wreckage on a trail over which they hope to be able to bring out the remains of the dead men in rubber bags.

4,092,000 Bales Is Texas Estimate

AUSTIN, Sept. 9.—The state department of agriculture today estimated the Texas cotton crop for this year at 4,092,000 bales, as compared with 5,320,000 bales last year. The report was compiled before torrential rains which fell in Texas since the first of September. The excessive rainfall is expected to reduce the estimated yield substantially. Large quantities of cotton were beaten off the plants by heavy winds and the wet weather probably will increase the destructiveness of boll worm infestation.

Strong Weed Taste In Bernie Water

Strong weed taste in Lake Bernie caused Comdr. Winston, to switch the city water supply from that lake back to Lake Cisco today after he had first switched to Bernie to escape water clouded by the recent torrential rains. The water from Lake Cisco is only slightly clouded, he said, and he was confident the public would rather endure this murkiness than the odor of the weeds. The Lake Cisco water will clear up rapidly, he said, and asked the public to bear with the department over the unusual condition.

Cotton Climbs Almost Dollar a Bale

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Professional buying on the theory that the government crop report had been misinterpreted sent the cotton market almost a dollar a bale today and prices held firm at their highs.

Here's Action in Farm Strike Zone

DEFENSE IN FORRESTER TRIAL RESTS

The defense in the murder of H. L. Forrester, Desdemona school superintendent charged in the slaying of Frank Gregory, a pupil, at Desdemona, November 8, 1931, rested shortly before noon today and the state proceeded to the introduction of rebuttal testimony.

Forrester based his defense upon a plea of self defense. The defendant was the last defense witness on the stand. Character witnesses were used during the morning.

A "black hand" letter was introduced in evidence by Forrester's attorneys. The letter, a sheet of note paper bearing an illegible scrawl, read: "Forrester. Leave town tomorrow by sundown or take the results. You are on the spot. Black-hand." A crude drawing of a skull and cross bones was traced upon the sheet.

This note, Forrester said, was found upon his doorstep Sunday morning before the killing occurred late Sunday evening.

Told of Killing. The defendant told the court he and his wife had retired when Gregory came into the front yard and called. He did not respond to the first call, he said, but when Gregory again shouted he got up and asked who it was. Gregory told him.

Forrester said he then asked Gregory what he wanted and Gregory responded he had come after him, or something to that effect. According to the witness' account he went to the door, turned on the porch light and looked out the door. Gregory told him "come on out or I'm coming after you."

Forrester said he went back into the house and got his gun and when the boy started upon the porch he started shooting. He could not remember how many shots were fired. Previous evidence introduced showed that one bullet took fatal effect. A .38 calibre automatic was used.

The defense contended that ill will developed after Forrester had put Gregory off the high school football team had resulted in the affair. Forrester on the stand, denied that he had offered any apology to Miss Wanda Roberson, a friend of Gregory's, for an alleged improper advance to her and denied any cause for such apology. Miss Roberson, on the stand for the state, had testified that the defendant had made such apology to her.

NATION-WIDE HUNT FOR DRY CRUSADER ON

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—The Chicago Daily News quoting an anonymous informant today said that Raymond Robins who disappeared while bound on a white house appointment was in Chicago yesterday.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—A nationwide hunt was under way today for Col. Raymond Robins, colorful campaigning crusader for peace, prohibition and political purity, believed kidnaped and murdered while en route to visit President Hoover.

Secret service and police were co-operating in this hunt. No trace of him has been found. The vigorous, bitter 59-year-old campaigner had received hundreds of threats against his life. Mrs. Robins said that the persistence of the threats had led the Colonel lately to prepare for disposition of his property in case of death.

Prohibition leaders were inclined to believe he was the victim of a revenge plot by persons who had been the object of Robins' law enforcement crusade.

TWO RANGERS SOUGHT FOR WORLD'S FAIR

FORT WORTH, Sept. 8.—Two Texas rangers, boots big hats, guns and all, will be detailed to Chicago to assist in displaying Texas' exhibit at the World Fair, according to plans of the state exposition committee.

Texas' Governor, whether "Ma" Ferguson or R. S. Sterling, will be asked to name the detail, Emmett H. Whitehead, San Antonio, general chairman of the State World's Fair Commission, said here.

This state's exhibit will feature agricultural and mineral resources. In a 4,000 square-foot plot adjoining the exhibition hall languid mesquite trees, towering pecan, sycamore, oak trees and cactus will be set out. A reproduction of the Alamo in native granite will be another feature, Whitehead said. Texans must raise $150,000 to pay the costs of the display. School children may be asked to contribute pennies, nickels and dimes to the fund.

Other members of the Texas World's Fair commission, appointed by Governor R. S. Sterling, are J. C. Kennedy, Dallas; Gus Taylor, Tyler; Wilbur Hawks, Amarillo; and Frank W. Kirk, Houston. ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Tammany hall which combatted Franklin D. Roosevelt's nomination for the presidency pledged its support to him today in the form of a unanimously adopted resolution offered at the state democratic committee meeting by John F. Curry.

Struck Friend to Prevent Trouble. HOUSTON, Sept. 9.—Jimmy Durham, 23, fought for his life here today as funeral arrangements were made for his friend, W. C. Thames, 42, whom Durham struck with an automobile crank in an effort to "keep him out of trouble."

TESTIMONY IS UNDER WAY IN CISCO HEARING

Hearing on Cisco's suit for reinstatement in the interscholastic league progressed in 91st district court this morning to taking of direct testimony with R. L. Ponsler, a member of the school board and a member of the athletic committee of that board, the first witness to be called by the plaintiff.

Questioned by F. D. Wright, attorney for the plaintiff, Ponsler said he recalled a meeting of the district committee having been held in Cisco on the evening of November 17, 1931, at which meeting the eligibility of Fred Hightower, Cisco quarter, to play in the Cisco Breckenridge of October 23, 1931, game was affirmed. He said a second meeting of the district executive committee was held in Aolene later when the decision of the first meeting was reversed, Hightower declared ineligible and the game forfeited to Breckenridge.

"Did you recall afterwards in a conversation with Joan M. Mouser, of Eastland?" inquired Wright after establishing through preliminary questions the identity of Mouser as an official of the Prairie Oil and Gas company at Eastland and a member of the Eastland school board.

Ponsler said he did that it was during the week of February 17, 1932, in Mouser's office at Eastland. Recounted Conversation. Counsel asked him to state what was said by Mouser with reference to the Hightower case. After objections of the defense were overruled, Ponsler recounted the conversation substantially as follows:

"Mouser asked me if I was a member of the Cisco school board and I told him I was. He asked me if Mr. Armstrong, Mr. Wright and Mr. Spencer were not members of the board and said that he knew them all. He said: 'We have had a meeting in which we have taken up the eligibility of Fred Hightower and found conclusive evidence that he was not eligible and for that reason we propose bringing that evidence before the Cisco school board and any other officers who might be interested, and let the Cisco school board decide whether or not they think he was eligible. If they decide he was ineligible then we will not play with Cisco any more. If they decide he was eligible we expect them to take the proper action against the school officials whom this evidence shows deliberately lied.'"

Told Mouser that if he found his evidence sustained that, speaking for myself, I would be in favor of taking the proper action. I asked him what he thought should be the proper action. He said: 'Fire that . . . of a school superintendent, the principal two coaches and probably the four teachers whom we know to have been forced to sign these false affidavits. That will be the action.'"

Ponsler said he attended a meeting of the district committee at Abilene last February which was called for the purpose of fixing football schedules and attending to such other matters as might come up at that meeting.

According to his recollection, he said, Mr. Hollard made a statement he thought further action should be taken with reference to fixing the blame in the Hightower case and followed this statement with a motion that the committee recommend the suspension of Cisco high school from football for a period of two years.

Supt. Battle, he told the court, agreed to second this motion provided the penalty would be amended to one year's suspension. Supt. Cluck, of Cisco, protested the action, he said, unless the committee go into all cases of ineligibility in the district.

Sufficient Penalty? He was asked if anything was said to the effect that sufficient penalty had been assessed against Cisco. He could not recall but testified that L. E. Dudley, Abilene principal, had told the committee that if the question had been brought up at a previous meeting he would have favored it, but did not do so at this late day.

"CHICAGO'S PRETTIEST SLAYER" IS ACQUITTED AMID CHEERS

Mrs. Dorothy Pollak, called "Chicago's prettiest slayer," chose to place her fate in the hands of a judge rather than a jury. She is shown here as she went to trial for killing her husband, who is alleged to have been a private banker for bootleggers. Her claim of self defense was weighed by Judge Harry Fisher (inset). The prosecution made no attempt to force a jury trial, Chicago's experience having demonstrated the difficulty of convicting a beautiful woman for murder. She was acquitted of the charge and women in the courtroom cheered the decision of the judge.

BATTLE FOR VOTE PROBE IS REOPENED

AUSTIN, Sept. 9.—The battle to investigate the recent primary election was reopened in the House of Representatives today when Rep. J. C. Duvall, of Fort Worth, again brought up his resolution calling for an investigation of alleged election irregularities.

His action came as a surprise as he had previously said he would not push the motion. A similar resolution in the senate was killed.

Today's action followed by a few hours Gov. Ross Sterling's plea for contributions from citizens with which to fight the return of "Fergusonism" to power in Texas.

Famous Fliers Will Judge Model Contest

DALLAS, Sept. 9.—Among the famous fliers who have been invited to judge the model contest which is being held in conjunction with the Southwestern Aviation Exhibit at the State Fair of Texas, Oct. 8 to 23, are Major James H. Doolittle, famous stunt and racing pilot; James G. Hatzlip, new holder of coast to coast speed records; Col. Art Goebel, stunt pilot and winner of the Dole Flight to Hawaii, and Lt. Maitland, Hawaiian flyer, now stationed at Kelly Field.

Entries have been received in the contest from more than fifty cities in four Southwestern States. It has been announced here by Hugo Schoellkopf, state fair director in charge of the Aviation Exhibit. All models submitted in the contest will be on display throughout the exposition. Judging will be done on Aviation Day at the exposition, at which time these famous fliers, as well as noted air men from all parts of this country and from Mexico, Canada and Cuba, will be in attendance at the air show. Winners in the contest will be named on Friday, Oct. 14. DEDICATION. BIC SPRING, Sept. 9.—The new $200,000 municipal building here will be dedicated September 16.

121 WORKMEN ABOARD CRAFT AT NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The harbor steamship Observation carrying approximately 121 workmen, blew up in the East River today, scattering dead and dying over the water.

Forty-two dead had been identified early this afternoon. Father Philip DeGon said he administered last sacraments to 50 victims in Lincoln hospital. Several died while he was anointing them and he estimated 30 others would die. Wives and mothers hastened to the pier to look for their dead. Several collapsed as they identified bodies. As each was identified a tag was wired to the wrist. Some of the bodies were mutilated almost beyond identification.

The terrific explosion, which literally ripped the steamer into bits, occurred just as the boat was leaving the pier to carry laborers to their jobs on Rikers Island, a city penal colony. It was almost at the same spot where the steamer General Cluocum caught fire in 1904 with a loss of 1,021 lives. It may be some time before the exact number of casualties in today's tragedy is determined.

DEMO BODY RESPONDS TO "MA" PETITION

AUSTIN, Sept. 9.—W. O. Huggins, state democratic chairman, and members of the executive committee today answered in state supreme court that they intend to certify the nominee for governor as shown by the certified returns made by county committees. They asked that former Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson's legal step to require such action be disregarded.

Ocle Speer, attorney for Mrs. Ferguson, insisted that she is entitled to a mandamus in spite of this answer. Briefly reviewing the two primary elections, Speer declared that the state executive committee and the state democratic convention under the law have merely a clerical duty to perform in declaring the nominee. Mrs. Ferguson, he said, is entitled to an order requiring the committee to carry out that duty.

The supreme court ordered all briefs in the case to be filed by 3 o'clock this afternoon and indicated a conference on an opinion would be held then.

ALLEGED FIRST WIFE OF BERN REPORTED LOST

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Sept. 9.—Dorothy Millette, of New York, reported to be the first wife of Paul Bern, Hollywood screen producer and husband of Jean Harlow, who killed himself in Los Angeles last Monday, was missing today, police announced.

Miss Millette was registered at the Plaza hotel here until Monday, the day Bern shot himself, police said. She boarded a River line boat that night. When it docked the next morning all her clothes and baggage were in her stateroom but she could not be found.

Officers expressed the belief she committed suicide by leaping overboard. BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Johnson at 3:45 p. m. Thursday, September 8, a daughter; weight, 7 and one-half pounds. Mother and baby are doing well.

ADVISERS OF MRS. McCORMICK ON RACK.

Now the federal government income tax sleuths are interesting themselves in the real estate earnings of Edwin D. Krenn and Edward S. Dato as they invested the millions advanced to them by the late Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick. Krenn came from Switzerland in 1922 and had been chief adviser of "the richest woman" until her death. A federal district attorney of Illinois is very busy. He is curious about taxes on $1,250,000 which Krenn lent to Mrs. McCormick in 1929. It will be recalled that the will of Mrs. McCormick bequeathed five-twelfths of her estate to Krenn. Now it has been disclosed that $33,000 remains to be paid on the 1930 taxes of the famous Lakeshore Drive McCormick home. Rich pickings for the lawyers and pages of copy for the Chicago newspapers. In addition to all this another job for the income tax sleuths and the collectors.

"BRIGHT SPOTS ON THE ECONOMIC HORIZON"

According to reports of editors of 115 trade and industrial publications throughout the United States the last half of August averaged a shade better than the first half. Building construction showed renewed activity. Oil refineries had heavy orders. Gasoline consumption almost equaled that of 1931. Sales of automobiles were ahead of those in July. Textile markets showed a healthy improvement in business. Prices of cotton and silk and wool and rayon showed a slight advance. Advertising volume was running about level, with indications that the low point in volume had passed. In the wake of Labor day New York markets indicated a world-wide rise in commodity prices. Speculators flooded American and foreign markets with buying orders "inspired by belief international trade recovery was eminent." Talk of 12-cent cotton and 75-cent wheat by winter was heard and all on account of the announcement that the federal farm board will hold its wheat and cotton off the markets until next year.

Bradstreet reported 5.6 per cent increase in the wholesale commodity price index from Aug. 1 to Sept. 1. "The third consecutive rise and the largest single gain since July, 1925." Poundage sales of rayon yarns for August were the largest for any month in the history of the industry. Many textile factories resumed operations on a weekly basis of 55 hours for day workers and 50 hours for the night shift. Rail corporations reported increasing maintenance of way employment with hundreds of laborers added to payrolls. Tickerings of the ticker furnishes the news. When the ticker refuses to tick, there is a lull in the market and the "cheerful little earfuls" are scant.

A reminder that in his legal brief, "The Republican Case," Barrister Calvin Coolidge argued "that it was as fu-

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA price writer.
WASHINGTON—A bill which will interest a flock of people if enough of them hear about it is the Costigan-La Guardia bill which would authorize a credit of up to $500 to the unemployed head of any American household, repayable in 10 years at a rate of interest rising from 1 per cent to 4 per cent.
The idea is to give all good, loyal American families, temporarily out of luck, the privilege of borrowing a little from the government to tide them over with the necessities of life, such as the banks and railroads are able to borrow public funds through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.
The scheme is both a relief and "regulatory" measure. It is argued that the stimulation of purchases by consumers who have been deprived of the ability to buy even necessities would help meet the serious causative factor of reduced purchasing power and might even lead the way back to prosperity.

Much More to Be Heard

INTRODUCED just before the close of the last session of Congress, the Costigan-La Guardia bill received only a brief and almost unnoticed hearing. Inasmuch as all authorities agree that the unemployed will experience the toughest of all their depression winters in 1932-33 and as Senator Costigan of Colorado and Congressman La Guardia of New York are experienced, hard fighters, much more is sure to be heard about it after Congress reconvenes in December.
The railroad labor unions thus far have been the strongest group to champion the proposal. Donald R. Richberg, counsel for the Railroad Labor Executives' Association, had most to do with drafting the plan, with advice from various economists, lawyers and bankers.
A "United States Exchange Corporation" would be set up with a revolving fund of $2,000,000,000. Instead of cash the borrower would be given credit certificates up to $300 for individual support plus $100 for each dependent but not more than $500. Producers and distributors of the necessities of life would be licensed to accept the certificates and cash them with the U. S. E. C. if they agreed to accept them at face value.

Good Only for Necessities

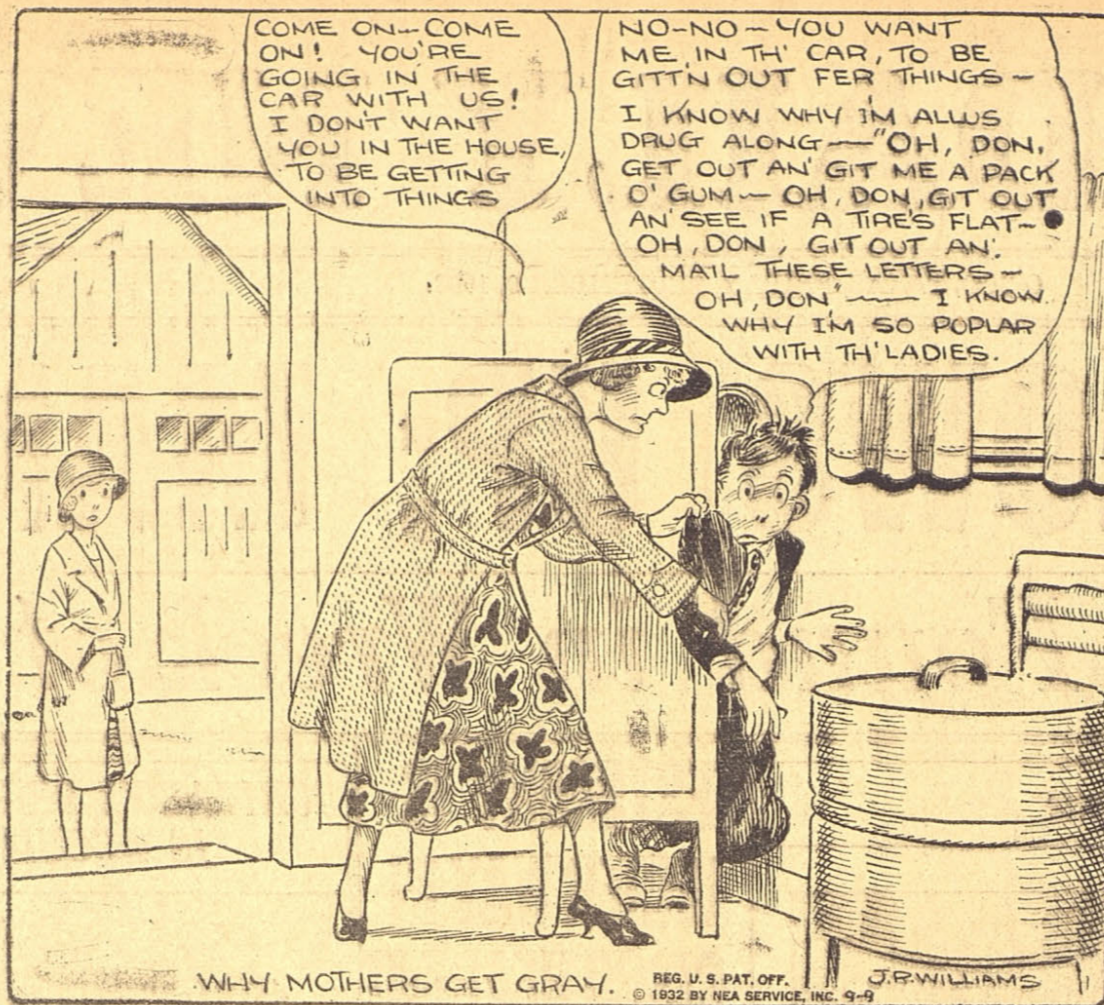

THEY could be cashed by the borrower only for necessities and an attempt would be made to determine which necessities could contribute most to increased employment if their purchase were stimulated. The credits would be repayable beginning with the renewed employment of the borrower, who would agree to pay in 10 per cent of his salary until the loan was paid off.

Richberg suggests that 7,000,000 heads of families might borrow an average of $400 apiece to buy necessities for six months. Such an increase in the nation's purchasing power, he says, might create something like $50,000,000,000 or $60,000,000,000 worth of business within a year, since money once started keeps turning over and the amount of business resulting from a new expenditure can be regarded as multiplying from 10 to 30 times the amount.

"Not Charity or Dole"

"THIS isn't charity or a dole," Richberg explains. "We would only finance a new purchasing power, reaching the masses and giving us nation-wide insurance against privation next winter. New employees would be required in stores, railroads, factories and various production enterprises to the extent of hundreds of thousands to satisfy the demand that would be created.
"Credit normally used to increase production should now be used to increase purchasing power. Loans to banks, railroads and insurance companies may delay bankruptcies and receiverships, but they won't increase employment or purchasing power. A considerable amount might be defaulted because of death, evasion and other reasons. But relief costs are getting to be enormous anyway. And we probably would be turning the tide of the depression."

tile to think of nourishing the industrial structure by direct aid to the unemployed as to attempt to nourish a starving individual by injections through his fingers and toes instead of putting food into his stomach." In other words the eminent barrister is of the opinion that the Reconstruction Finance corporation is on the right track and that the thing to do is to force the wheel of finance and industry—trade and traffic—to go around as in days agone and furnish jobs for the jobless the nation over before real prosperity can come around the corner—in this presidential election year. He may be correct in his argument. Money makes the world go around. Money adds to the purchasing power of the individual. Fair and level commodity prices make it possible for the farmer to assist in the nation-wide work of rejuvenation which is ever the forerunner of nation-wide prosperity.

WHY NOT IN TEXAS?

Gov. Pinchot and his state highway department employees removed 28,440 pieces of illegal advertising from Pennsylvania roadsides during the annual clean-up campaign. Why should illegal advertising be permitted on Texas highway roadsides? All the people who use gasoline are interested. All the people who believe the roadsides should be beautified and not desecrated are interested.

EASY MONEY FOR THE FARMERS.

Business is business. Farmers between Fairfield and Mexia charged from $2 to $10 each to pull cars out of the mud with their teams, following torrential rains in that section. A Galveston drummer is responsible for the story. He said there were 75 cars on the road waiting to get through the mud. About 250 people were marooned and a large number of cotton trucks were held up. One farmer made $17 in eight hours. Another made $20 and quit for the day.

Through the Editor's Spectacles

By GEORGE

There is an unsung hero in Cisco. He has been neglected by press and public. While we newspaper fellows have been filling our columns with pleas against pessimism, endeavoring to infuse some hope into flabby spirits there is one man who has put to shame even our own voluble optimism. He has said nothing. Instead, he has quietly picked up his tools and set an example. His name is Jesse Stuard. And he is building the only brick business structure in this section of the state.

"Jake" is his nickname. He formerly operated "Jake's Cafe." Mr. Stuard owns the building which houses Hyatt and Wood grocery. Adjoining that building at 110 D avenue he is erecting another brick building. The walls are up, the roof is being put on and within a very few days the building will be completed.

There should be some sort of a medal struck and the first one given to Mr. Stuard.

AS I remarked in this column several issues back, records of court procedure abound in humor. Here is a story that fits in well with the depression we so recently experienced.

Candidates for admission to American citizenship were being examined by a federal examiner. The examiner was called downstairs to the telephone and the district judge before whom the hearings were being held, took up the interrupted interrogation.

Question: "Your name is Carmine Ferrari, you are a native of Italy, came to the United States and to this county 24 years ago, and are now a shift boss in one of the coal mines?"

Interpreter: "Yes, sir."
Question: "The records show that you can read and write in the English language and understand and speak the same, except legal and technical terms, and that you are a man of exceptionally good character. Now, if admitted, do you promise to support the constitution of the United States and the laws of this country?"

Interpreter: "He says 'No,' he can't."

Question: "Why can't you?"
Interpreter: "He says that he has a wife and six children and that his wife's mother stays with them, and that such is all that he can support with those low wages."

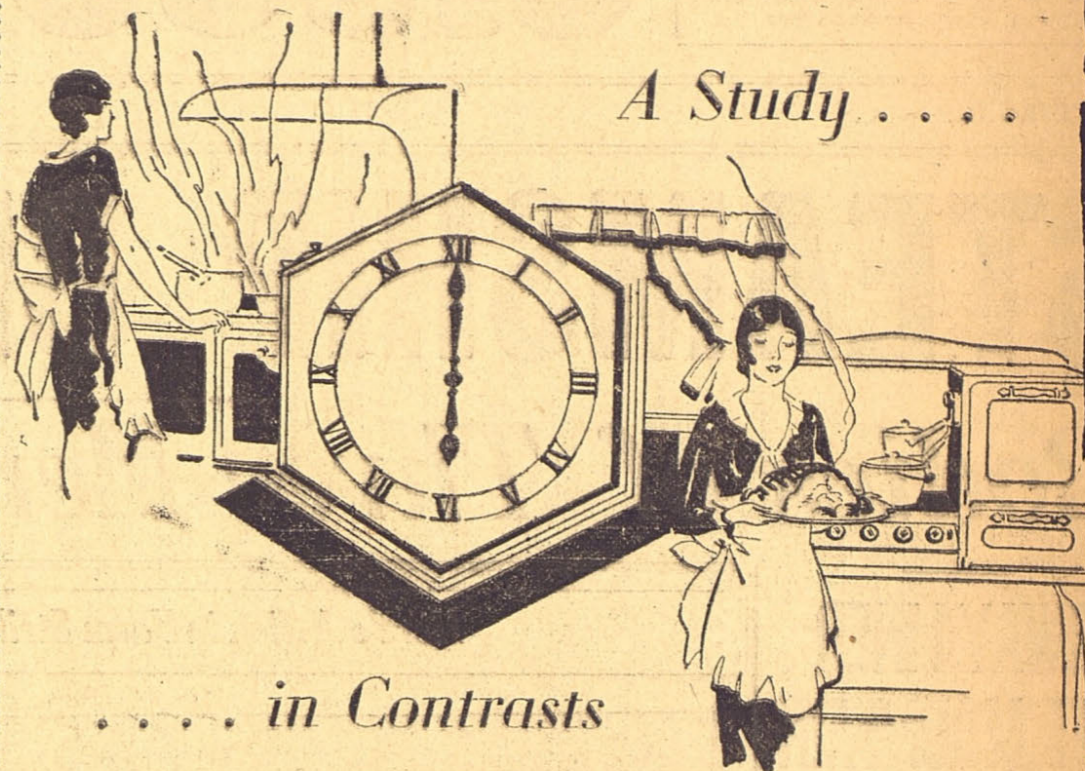

District Judge: "Let him be admitted."

Leon Mamer reports a better "slam" against football as she is played in the oil belt than that reported by Specs yesterday. Says he: "At a Texas university—T. C. U. football game a short while ago a young man who had evidently attended a school which awards a service stripe for every branch of athletics entered walked before the grandstand. The sleeve of this young man bore at least 12 service stripes. In addition the breast was grandstand. The sleeve of this omniscient of athletic achievement. Someone remarked with amazement upon his evident distinction. "Shucks," scoffed another, "he's from the Oil Belt."

HUGE TUSK FOUND
POST, Sept. 9.—A huge tusk believed to be from a species of an elephant now extinct which roamed the earth centuries ago, was discovered near here by George Doughty, Post business man and amateur archeologist and explorer. The find, on the U. Lay 5 Ranch near Spring Creek, measured 11 feet long and was 24-inches in circumference. It required four days work to excavate around the tusk to remove it. Two teeth, in almost perfect condition, a shoulder bone and part of a skull were also found.

GRAGG URGES OFFICIALS TO MAKE REPORTS

AUSTIN, Sept. 9. — Failure by local officials to make reports threatens to deprive many cities and towns of the opportunity of securing employment loans from the Reconstruction Finance corporation...

"It is imperative this information be gathered and submitted to the board as a basis for a request for aid from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation," Gragg said.

"No loan can be secured until this data is properly assembled and presented," Gragg said. The questionnaire was sent to county judges and to other city and community officials.

Under the provisions of the relief bill recently enacted by congress two classes of loans will be made.

14,000 Steers Used in Relief Program

FORT WORTH, Sept. 9 — In the feed-lots of middle-western ranches 14,000 steers were fattening today as part of a relief program enabling growers to convert their feed crops into cash.

The cattle were supplied by G. R. White of Brady and associates, co-operating with Armour and company of Chicago. At various market centers the steers were weighed and turned over to feeders.

A gain in weight from 500 to 250 pounds per head is expected by feeders enabling them to realize more profit than could be secured by selling their feed.

SCRATCHES FATAL

FORT WORTH, Sept. 9 — Scratches on his feet were blamed by physicians for the death of Preston Foust, 11. Minute lacerations secured while "going barefooted" became infected and caused idiopathic lockjaw, physicians said.

PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS

LUBBOCK, Sept. 9. — R. J. (Bob) Murray, Lubbock business man and manager of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association, and Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college, will be principal speakers at an all-day rally and picnic in county park here Saturday, September 10.

EVERY WOMAN faces this question

"How do I look to other people? If you have a lovely skin, attractive eyes, and plenty of enthusiasm, you need not worry.

So many women, though, risk their beauty by neglect of constipation. It often causes loss of pep, sallow skins, dull eyes, pimples.

Yet constipation can be overcome by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. This cereal provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B which tones the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Special cooking processes make it finer, more palatable. It is not habit-forming.

Surely this is safer than abusing the system with pills and drugs—so often habit-forming.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

for LOVE or MONEY by H.W. CORLEY

BEGIN HERE TODAY MONA TOWNSEND, beautiful young widow, inherits her husband's millions with the provision that she may not receive...

SHE shook her head. The tendrils of her hair touched his cheek. "How could you think that of me?" Mona demanded.

"But when Garretson told you it was my uncle—" Barry began. "He didn't! We talked it all over without mentioning the man's name."

Barry was beside her. After all these days and weeks of courteous formality, of coldness almost, he was again the Barry she had learned to love.

"Yes, Barry, I—I'm here!" They stood in silence. The sands lay white around them. The sea under the white moonlight rippled quietly.

"Do what, Barry?" Still she did not look at him. He had caught her hand in his own.

"Why did you run away?" she countered. He was miserable and she was adding to his misery. "How could I stay when I knew?"

"You mean you lost the money and you care for that? It means more than your love for me? Is that what you're trying to say?"

"How can I marry my uncle's wife?" demanded Barry bitterly. "My aunt!" He started into space.

"You mean you lose the money and you care for that? It means more than your love for me? Is that what you're trying to say?"

"You mean you lose the money and you care for that? It means more than your love for me? Is that what you're trying to say?"

rightly that he would not seek her out. They would be married tomorrow! They would go to Port of Spain and the consul could perform the ceremony.

"You mean you lose the money and you care for that? It means more than your love for me? Is that what you're trying to say?"

—at least until I'm 30—I'm rather in Steve's stewardship, so to speak. He has more power in any measure than I have but that doesn't mean anything because it's Steve! It isn't as though he'd ever try to do anything I didn't approve."

"If Steve should die tomorrow," Mona said slowly, "the mine would belong—more than half of it and more than half of Holiday—to his heirs. Have you thought of that?"

"You see, Barry, if I don't marry you right off perhaps I can think of a way to help you!"

"So that's your plan!" Barry's voice rose in dismay and disdain. "Do you think I'd let you help me, Mona? Do you think I'd take a cent of that money—?"

"Because I couldn't! Mona, Mona, forget all that! What do you care for money? We have enough. Do I look so poor? Let the money go to the cat hospital or whatever he wanted it to go to and marry me!"

"There was a rustle in the shrubbery close by. Then a shadow flung itself across the sand at their feet and separated from the clump of trees as if torn away by someone's hands."

"So this is where you are, Mona! Why didn't you tell me? I went into your room for some water—my thermos was empty—and couldn't find you. I was worried stiff! You know those snakes—oh, Barry! Well, thank goodness, I didn't have the fire department out!"

"Wait Lottie, I'm coming," Mona rose from the sand and walked slowly toward the girl in the pathway.

"You don't want to interrupt anything—" Lottie began uncertainly. "We've finished talking," Mona assured her.

"Are you sure there isn't anything more to say?" asked Barry. "Well, that's it over in the morning, Barry."

"There's nothing to talk over. You can simply say 'yes' or 'no.'" Lottie interposed cheerfully, "Don't mind me. I'll run ahead."

"Let's wait until tomorrow, Barry. Please!" "Say yes or no, Mona, tonight!" "Do you mean that?"

HE considered this. "No," he said, "but what has that to do with it? I'm not starving. You wouldn't starve as my wife."

"Do you own Holiday?" "Part of it. Holiday is figured in with the rest of the property. Steve owns more than half. I thought I explained that. The sale of the Empire clinched things. For a while for all—and its enactment without delay.

In the Political Arena

By HUGH NUGENT FITZGERALD Texas has the Terrell election law. It should be thrown in the discard. Texas has the poll tax qualification provision which should be revised and the registration feature added.

Now the lawmaker who prefers one law for all to insure honest elections and the purity of the ballot could see his way clear for the enactment of the necessary legislation to guard the rights of all who are entitled to cast a ballot.

W. S. Davis, editor of the Redland Herald, Nacogdoches, and County Chmn. of the democratic party in Nacogdoches county, has sent the news a mass of material bearing upon the manner of heading the run-off primary in that county, including copies of the poll list of three boxes, together with indications of whether they have poll tax receipts, were recorded.

Why, the bank has gone haywire! They've missed some of our money, we have over $100 in our account. I'll show you my check-book.

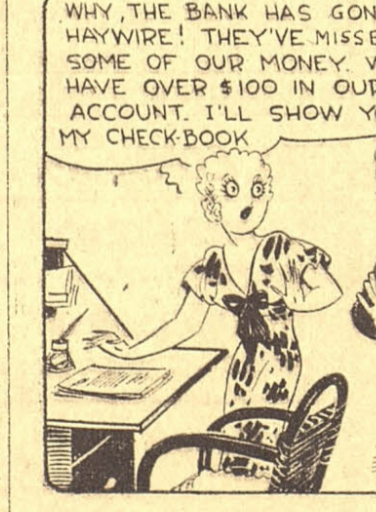

Why, no, of course, not, silly only the ones I went to the bank and cashed myself.

of them were upon affidavits. Like conditions will probably be shown in many boxes in Texas. In brief, we have no effective registration laws and practically run our primary upon affidavits.

Weimar, Sept. 5. — According to late reports of polls cast in Colorado county there were only two of the 19 which used the certified poll tax list. That being Columbus and Weimar. J. F. Walker of Weimar, a Sterling appointee to the state livestock-sanitary commission, who appeared before the Colorado county democratic executive committee Saturday afternoon, stated that this matter would be brought before the state executive committee when it meets at Lubbock Sept. 12. The party's heads of this county stated this matter would be incorporated in the report to the state executive committee.

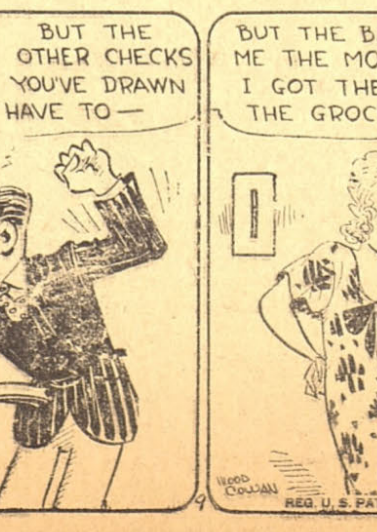

A registration statute that would cover the 254 counties, like a blanket of snow in the winter, would insure one law for all. It would protect the rights of all. It would do away with the affidavit election system. And enforced to the letter, it would result in not only an honest ballot but an honest and quick count. This is the open season for political halyhoosers. All Texans should demand one registration law

MOM'N POP.

But banks don't make mistakes.

Well, this one has! See... But here you didn't subtract the amount of every check you wrote!

But the other checks you've drawn have to—

Oh boy! That's swell news! Gee, I feel better already!

Grace Lutheran Parochial school will open its new school term on Monday, September 12th. All grades one to seven will be taught. The young people's society meets at the school of Grace Lutheran church for Topic Study on Friday evening, September 16th.

MANY SPECIAL TRAINS. Many special trains will be run to the 1932 State Fair of Texas, from points in Texas, it has been announced here by various railroads. In 1929 a total of 21 special trains were run to the State Exposition on special days, and it is expected that with the unusually low rates being offered on all roads this year that this number will be exceeded. Trains are being planned from Gainesville, Brownwood, Tyler, Palestine, Longview, Marshall, Mt. Pleasant and other Texas cities.

DECORATE FAIR BUILDINGS. Four of the State Fair buildings will be refinished with white stucco for the coming exposition—Oct. 8 to 23. The administration building at the main entrance gates, the Art Building, the Main Exhibit Building, and the Poultry Building are being given the coating of white stucco, it has been announced here by Otto Herold, president of the state exposition.

against the action on the ground that insufficient notice of the meeting had been given and that he had no idea that the meeting was called for the purpose. He said Cluck told the committee he thought the matter had been settled by forfeiture of the game. Punsler was subjected to further questioning relating to meetings of the district committee he attended in which the matter of the readmission of Cisco to the league was taken up. This questioning was continuing at 11:30.

Depositions made by both Supt. N. S. Holland, of Breckenridge, and Supt. R. F. Holloway, of Ranger, were introduced in evidence by Wright yesterday. This morning he read from the stand a deposition made by Supt. P. B. Bittle, of Eastland school.

Bittle admitted that he, Holland and Holloway, John F. Bailey and P. E. Shotwell the latter two of Breckenridge, had attend either three or four meetings in the offices of John M. Mouser at Eastland to discuss the action of the district committee in forfeiting the Cisco-Breckenridge game to Breckenridge. He did not remember who had called the meetings. He could remember very little that was said or done during these meetings.

"Spineless Creatures?" Replying to the question: "Do you recall Mouser on one occasion sayin' to you or in your presence that this district committee was a 'd--- bunch of spineless preachers' or 'spineless creatures' and if they did not do more than they had done to get that evidence back to him?" the deposition recited.

"I do remember his saying 'spineless creatures' or 'spineless preachers'. I can't say which."

"But do you recall his stating one or the other?"

"To me, yes."

He said that the meeting in which Cisco was suspended was called for the purpose of fixing the schedule and for such other matters as might arise and that no evidence at all was introduced at that meeting. He also stated he had not made up his mind that Cisco should be suspended before he attended the meeting.
