Cisco Takes Ranger To 3 to 1 Cleaning In Oil Sales Scrap

Last week the Citizen told of an oil sales contest, staged between the Sinclair stations of Cisco and those of Ranger, selling Sinclair products. The contest was staged May 24, the day before the Citizen was published, but the results were not known in time for last week's paper.

While the contest was purported to be between the two towns, but it now develops that it was mainly between the two super-stations of the Sinclair company, the Huestis Brothers' station of Cisco and Ranger's super-station. Huestis Brothers station sold 1,760 gallons of the 2,250 gallons sold in Cisco by the Sinclair stations, while the Ranger super-station only recorded sales of 604 gallons. The total figures on all Ranger stations sold were not available, but it was considerably less than the 2,250 gallons the Cisco dealers filled into motor car tanks.

The contest was just a friendly rivalry between the two towns, with W. W. Ince, service station superintendent, and B. F. Looney, district sales manager, both here and at Ranger, promoting the contest, and C. C. Clarkson, local Sinclair agent, coaching the station managers interested in the contest. The results were near 3 to 1 in favor of Huestis Brothers over the Ranger super-station. Agent Clarkson and the local station managers participating in the contest, requests the Citizen to thank the public for its liberal patronage and cooperation in making this contest the splendid success it proved to be. Especially do they appreciate the patronage given the Sinclair stations by their competitors representing other companies. This act demonstrated a liberal and cooperative spirit on the part of their competitors, whom they wish to assure they will reciprocate when ever an opportunity comes around.

Those local Sinclair stations participating in this contest were Huestis Brothers, Avenue D and 14th street; James Lee, Laguna Station, Avenue D and W. 4th street; Doyle Gilmore, Avenue D and 21st street, and L. C. Barnhill, West 3rd and Avenue J.

Did Clarence Darrow Jar Johnson Off The NRA Administration?

The press carried a report Wednesday that Gen. Hugh Johnson's resignation as administrator of the National Recovery Act, would soon be handed to the president, Johnson said was without foundation. But the press is generally pretty accurate in forecasting coming events of national interest. If the press is correct in this forecast (which they generally are) many will believe that the Darrow committee's report will have been at least a contributing cause.

That Darrow was right, especially as to the NRA fostering monopoly, most people who have observed the operation of the National Recovery Act, still believe to be the facts. The suspension of the code for several of the smaller industries Monday is indicative that the administration's power to enforce the industrial codes is waning. The cleaners, motor vehicle storage and parking, barber shops, shoe rebuilding, bowling and billiards, advertising display installation, and advertising distribution are the service trades affected by the executive order from the white house. These service trades are still to observe the maximum working hours, minimum wages, collective bargaining guarantees and banning of child labor, and are left to formulate their own local codes, which must have the president's approval.

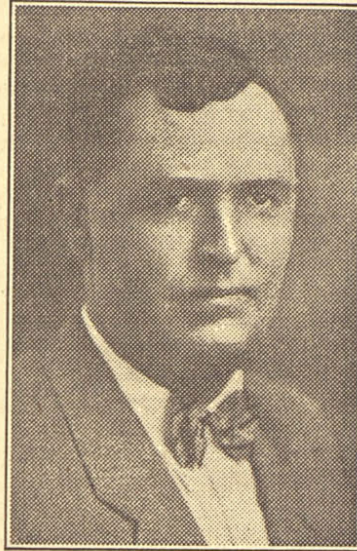

It was a rather ambitious undertaking when the president undertook a general price-fixing code for the industries of the country, all of which carry higher prices in the lower brackets, and most of which are too low in the higher brackets. Even the president of the United States is powerless to force prosperity on the nation by his simple ipse dixit when the public is without funds with which to pay these higher prices. Most of the consumers purchase in the lower brackets, and if the industries stick to the code prices there will be less consumed, and give no relief, but retard, rather than facilitate recovery. Code prices have outstripped wages and farm products, so where are the consumers to get funds to pay advanced prices? True, some farm products have advanced slightly, but have not kept pace with factory products, and are still below prices prevailing before the depression, while manufactured merchandise has nearly reached prices which prevailed before the people became bankrupt. Wheat has not yet reached the dollar mark to the producer, nor have corn and oats reached the standard prices of 50 cents, which prevailed for years before the boom days. Chickens, eggs and other farm products are still being sold below depression prices. The buying power of the public has not been materially enhanced, which, until that is a condition, we can have no real recovery. Unless the consumer is given employment, the farmer receives cost of production for his products, and the laborer's wage is raised to a parity with commodity prices, there can be no recovery. Nor will there ever be as long as it is necessary for the government to maintain the dole to keep people from starving.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF NUPTIALS OF LOCKHEAD-RENFRO WAS A SURPRISE TO CISCO FRIENDS

The announcement of the marriage of Mr. Talbot Lockhead and Miss Iris Renfro May 23, was a surprise to the many friends of the groom here. Mr. Lockhead is the only son of Mrs. V. T. Lockhead, who maintains a winter home in Cisco. The bride was a member of the graduating class this year of Randolph college, coming from her home near San Antonio.

The newly-weds are spending their honeymoon in Chicago, visiting the "Century of Progress" exposition and other attractions, and will await the arrival there of Mrs. V. T. Lockhead before proceeding to their home in Maine.

ORGANIZATION OF CISCO TROOP NATIONAL GUARDS NOW IN FORMATIVE STAGE

The organization of a troop of national guardsmen in Cisco is now in the preliminary or formative state. Dr. Stuart Pearce, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and major in the reserve officers' corps, first presented the idea to the Rotary club. The matter was introduced to the city commission Tuesday night, May 22, by L. A. Harrison, acting chamber of commerce secretary, J. M. Bird, also of the army reserve corps, and Haywood Cabaness, adjutant of the John William Butts post, American Legion, when the commission was requested to make an appropriation of $25 per month to defray expenses not covered by the appropriation of the federal government. The appropriation was made by the commission, provided the troop is organized. It was explained to the commission that the government will expend for the maintenance of this national guard unit an approximate sum of $4,000 to $5,000 per year, including the payment of rent on a building for the armory, pay of the guardsmen, officers' salaries, furnish equipment, and in addition would pay the officers and men full time for two weeks while attending the state encampment each summer.

It has not yet been determined that the troop can be organized. The national guard is usually very popular in local communities with people employed indoors, but with laboring men, especially organized labor, the local militia (as they were formerly designated) are about as popular as a bartender at a temperance rally.

Petitions are now being circulated to secure a troop of the T. N. G. in Cisco.

HUMBLE ABANDON LONE FIGHT TO MAINTAIN CODE GAS PRICE

FORT WORTH, May 23.—Reduction of its service station price on third grade gasoline to 11 cents per gallon Tuesday by the Humble Oil and Refining Company made that price universal in Fort Worth and surrounding territory.

During the recent frequent drops and rises of third grade gasoline prices in Fort Worth, Humble had maintained its service station price at 15 cents per gallon.

In a statement accompanying the price reduction Tuesday, Humble representatives said it was being done to prevent further sacrifices of business. It is said the company had attempted to maintain a gasoline price fair to the public and in full accordance with the letter and spirit of the national recovery code but could not longer continue a lone fight.

Randolph Graduated 39 in its Class of 1934 Tues. Evening May 22

The evening of May 22 the graduation exercises of Randolph college were held in the college auditorium. The address to the class was delivered by Judge C. E. Combes, of Stamford, when diplomas were presented by President David F. Tyndall to 39, including two high school graduates. There were 37 in the college graduating class, who will go from Cisco's junior college either into the active affairs of the country, or to the several institutions of higher learning.

In looking over the list of graduates I am a bit surprised to note the contrast of local students and that given in the list of colleges in other cities, and the comparison is hardly favorable to Cisco. In colleges in other cities of the state a large per centage of the graduates are local students, while in this list our home boys and girls bring up a sad minority. This is not as it should be. Randolph is entitled to and should have every high school graduate for the first two years of their college training. But I must admit that this year's list shows an improvement, and probably the parents of our boys and girls will more fully appreciate our junior college in a few years. But Randolph should have had them this year.

The list includes: Rodney Derrill Glasscock, Snyder; Richard Lespallier Gardiner, Hopewell, Va.; John R. Merritt, Cisco; Grover Lee Hardison, Jamesville, N. C.; Lena Cottrell, Ovalo; Ruby Fay Hock, Loraine, salutatorian; Francis Bruce, valedictorian, Cisco; William E. Jones, Snyder; Iris S. Renfro, Catarina; Weldon W. Powell, Sylvestre; Nina Bebe Smith, Cisco; Charles Ella Hamlet, Snyder; Harriet Lane Angus, Cisco; Clara Belle Burkes, Indian Gap; Cuthrell Wilson Lipsey, Eastland; William Neil Norred, Putnam; T. G. Jackson, Jr., Carbon; Charles Lee Garrett, Carbon; Evelyn Lawler, Canton; Ora Mae Horn, Ilex; Robert Louis Stewart, Corinth, Miss.; Almon Maurice Martin, Lubbock; Rozelle Pippen, Jennie Lee Mathews, Nell Olivia Waters, Charles Jasper Qualls, Cisco; James William Melton, Jr., Benjamin; Elizabeth Malvina Pearce, Hortezy Tyndall, Cisco, (high school); Claude Wilson, Farmersville; Charles McCorkle Statham, Cisco; Modena Weaver, Carbon; Velma Virginia Oder, Santa Anna; Jessie Ruth Barnett, (high school), Eastland; Bessie Beaty, Carbon; Geraldine Poe Campbell, Arlin Bint, Cisco; Melrose Jo Henderson, Eastland.

TWO CISCOANS CANDIDATES FOR DEGREES AT TEXAS U.

Cisco has two candidates for degrees at Texas University commencement exercises at Austin Monday. Bill Lee Smith, is among the 17 who are listed for the degree of bachelor of science in physical education. Among the 63 graduates listed for bachelor of law degrees is Victor C. McCrea, who was reared in Cisco. He is a son of the late Judge L. H. McCrea and Mrs. McCrea, the latter now making her home in Baltimore with her daughter, Mrs. Silliman Evans and Mr. Evans. Both he and Bill Smith are products of the Cisco high school, from which they went to the university after their graduation. Bill Smith has won many honors as a student and athlete, being a star player and captain of the Texas Longhorns, the University football team.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Let all those that put their trust in thee rejoice: let them ever shout for joy, because thou defendest them: let them also that love thy name be joyful in thee.—Psalms 5:11.

Can God fail him who seeks his guidance?

Can fear grip him who knows his power?

God's love forever will restore him Who comes to him when troubles lower. His love has never failed his own When they have but his goodness known.

—Annie Marguet Burton.

We must surrender ourselves absolutely to the love of the infinite Being we call God, and find in that surrender peace and joy. Because God loves us we will not be afraid; there will always be a way out, a door opened; there will always be joy.—Dr. Leslie E. Learned.

PREACHING THE DOCTRINE OF THE FATHERS

Joe Bailey has arrived in Texas and is now in the thick of the fight in his campaign for United States senator. His itinerary this week included several towns in this section, his closest date was at Albany, but beginning today he will make a speaking tour up the Denver road, speaking at Memphis, on Saturday, at Borger and other towns in the Panhandle the following days.

As might be expected, he is vigorously championing the cause of states' rights and government according to the constitution. One of the strong planks in his platform is the creation of millions of jobs by decentralization of monopolistic corporations, holding companies and subsidiaries.

He favors payment of the soldiers' bonus, pointing out that the federal treasury holds seven and one-half billions of gold and silver against which there has been issued only five billion dollars in currency, and favors issuing currency against the residue which would make it as good as any money we have in circulation. This is safe expansion, he points out.

The candidate is not following the president except where he thinks Mr. Roosevelt is right, and is opposing the monopolistic features of the NRA, to prevent which he favors an amendment to the National Recovery Act that will protect the small merchants and business concerns that will enable them to survive and make a living. He endorses those features that have bettered the conditions and working hours throughout the country.

His independent attitude in not swinging on to the president's coat tail in making this race is being appreciated by the independent voters wherever he has presented his cause.

His stand against the re-enactment of the Bankhead cotton bill is gaining him friends wherever he has spoken, for the public is beginning to realize that this act will do more to stimulate cotton production in other cotton growing countries, for the South's principal money and curtail our foreign markets crop, more than all the trade treaties than can be initiated. The Citizen believes this act will eventually become one of the least popular of all the president's recovery schemes that have thus far been devised, and Bailey will grow in favor among the voters as the campaign progresses. However, he favors such tariff adjustments that will re-establish our foreign trade in agricultural products abroad which has dwindled into insignificance.

His campaign was interrupted by his return to Washington where he made a personal fight against the passage of the Ickes oil control bill, but proposes to remain continuously in the campaign until the day before the primaries in July.

WHY CONTINUE THE CWA?

Reports have come to the Citizen that the CWA organization in Eastland county is without funds to relieve the distressed people who have become accustomed to depend upon the relief board for food to sustain life. If this be true why is it that the office force has not been suspended until funds are available to enable the body to function as it was originally intended? We are informed that the office force are still on the job, and presumably their salaries are still being paid, or will be. But if there is no funds what are they doing to earn their salaries?

It came to the Citizen that one of the office force, the only member of the family employed, had her salary held up for some time, and when paid only received half of the money that was due her. In this connection I wondered if those handling the pay checks—no, they don't pay by check—received only half of their salaries? If they paid themselves in full what right had they to hold another's pay, especially when it was needed for the family expense to buy those things that were essential to life?

Much complaint has come in about the rotten pork that has been dished out to distressed people. One veteran of the Spanish-American war said he had a "large container full that he was saving for soap grease, that it was too rotten for people to eat. I was reminded of the days when American soldiers were fed embalmed beef while we were fighting the Spaniards in Cuba," he told the Citizen. Even to this day that act of the American government in permitting profiteers to charge the government for unwholesome food and feed soldiers rotten embalmed beef should cause a blush of shame to the cheek of every government official.

But it seems that the memory of federal officials is too short to remember that disgrace which was perpetrated upon federal soldiers, when many times more men died in camp than were slain in the battles fought. Yet, the dose is permitted to be repeated when the government is trying to relieve distress under such unnatural conditions that now beset us.

"I was issued this rotten pork, and had my family consumed it I firmly believe it would have made every member sick, perhaps fatally so. Fortunately I had not forgotten the embalmed beef they fed federal soldiers in Cuba, so I dumped the stuff into a container, where it can be seen if the powers that be should care to start an investigation."

The same party said he applied for some supplies last Saturday but was told that there were no funds. Then he wanted to know why the office force were still on the job, if there were no supplies.

Probably the entire recovery program would reveal some interesting facts were a thorough investigation made. The entire program has cost too much to administer what relief that has been given the people. Reports have been that some have been given relief who were not entitled to it, while other deserving subjects have been denied supplies. A thorough investigation should have been made of each case that those needing this relief should have it, and those not in the needy class should have been turned away, accompanied by a reprimand for attempting to impose upon a benevolent government that was trying to relieve a distressed people.

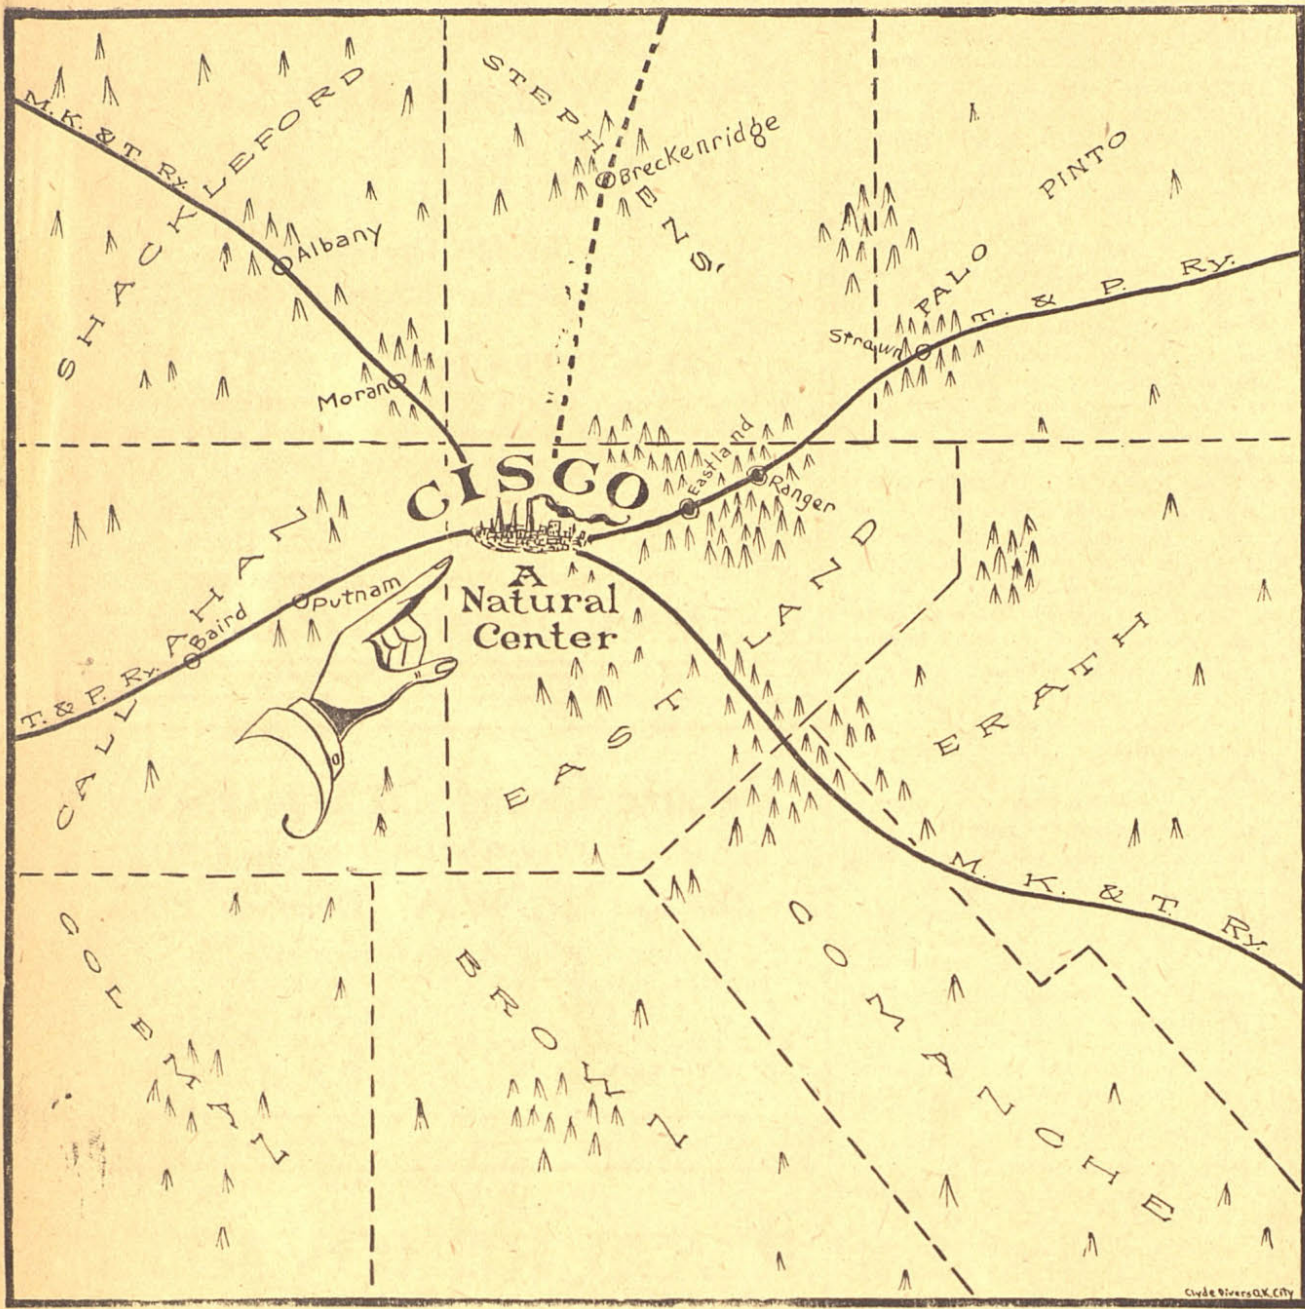

THE HARRY REYNOLDS HOME VACATED FOR THEIR COMING

The Harry Reynolds home, 1001 West 14th street, has been vacated for the occupancy of Mr. Reynolds and family, who, the Citizen is informed, are to return to Cisco to make this city their place of residence. This home has been occupied by C. W. Trammell and family, who have taken the handsome brick residence owned by Roscoe St. John, on West Seventh street and Avenue H.

PERSONAL SKETCH

J. J. (Jack) PATTERSON
Candidate for STATE COMPTROLLER

The life sketch of J. J. (Jack) Patterson, of Dallas, now a candidate for State Comptroller, reads like fiction and throws an interesting side light upon the iron will and indomitable courage of this remarkable man and native Texan.

Born in Red River County in the early eighties, of sturdy pioneer parentage, who came from Tennessee to Texas, he lived the hard, simple life of the ordinary farm boy of those times.

At an early age he was stricken with the dread disease of Spinal Meningitis which left him lame in his lower limbs and he now walks with a cane. Despite this severe physical handicap he did his work on the farm, hoeing, plowing and picking cotton, studying at night and in spare hours to improve his mind and prepare himself for life's bitter battles. By dint of hard work and frugal habits he saved enough money to attend East Texas Normal School at Commerce. After his course there he taught school under a First Grade State Certificate in Hunt, Collin, Fannin and Red River counties for a number of years. During his spare time he studied law and was admitted to the practice of that profession, which he followed for some years.

Later he became County Treasurer for two terms of Mitchell County. He then engaged in the legal profession and real estate business in Abilene, Cisco, and San Antonio, and he now resides in Dallas. In all of these places he met with moderate success financially and made many strong friends. The Golden Rule of "Do unto others as you would be done by," has always been the motto of Jack Patterson and his friends are numbered by his acquaintances, who have implicit confidence in his ability, honesty and fair dealing.

Those who know Jack love, honor and respect him, and are unanimous in the prediction that he will make a successful race for State Comptroller, and will make an efficient officer.

DR. C. Q. SMITH, CISCO PRESIDING ELDER, IS MCMURRAY COLLEGE HEAD

ABILENE, May 30.—Dr. Clustor G. Smith, presiding elder of the Cisco district, Central Texas Methodist Conference, was elected president of McMurry college at a meeting of the board of trustees here Wednesday. Dr. Smith will accept the post.

He becomes the college's second president, succeeding the late Dr. J. W. Hunt, founder of the school who died last March. Dr. O. P. Clark has served as acting president since Hunt's death.

Announcement of the selection came on the eve of McMurry's annual commencement. The school will present degrees to forty-four Thursday, and Dr. Smith will participate in the exercises.

RETURNS FROM CALIFORNIA

Mr. Charles Kleiner, who accompanied Mr. J. E. Spencer to California two weeks ago to look over a gold mine in which Mr. Spencer is largely interested, returned home this week. Mr. Kleiner says the property appears to be sure enough pay dirt, but he is an oil man, and for the present will stay with the liquid gold, and did not allow the prospect of quick riches to lure him from his first love. Mr. Spencer is expected home the first of the week.

Mr. J. Hollis Clark, who is studying at Southern Methodist University at Dallas, arrived Monday and will spend his vacation at home. Hollis is a son of J. Q. Clark, of the Apex Printing company.

BROTHER-IN-LAW'S SISTER OWNED THE CAR HE DROVE

When Uncle San starts in administering relief he runs into some queer customers. The Beeville Bee-Picayune tells this instance as having actually happened somewhere:

A welfare worker had driven four miles in the country to take supplies for a deserving farmer. Before she left them, however, she checked up on a rumor that had come to the welfare office. "We were told that you have been seen driving a car. Do you own a car? You know we are not giving help to people able to drive cars," she informed him.

The farmer's reply was prompt. "No, lady, I sometimes drive a car but it isn't mine. It's loaned to me."

However, the worker persisted: "But they say that your girl drives a car to high school every day." "Well," the farmer confessed, "it's like this about that car. It belongs to my brother-in-law's sister and sometimes she lets us drive it. My girl hasn't any other way to get to school and she's been letting her use it."

That explanation was satisfactory and the worker left the supplies. When she was out of the yard the farmer turned to a neighbor: "That old fool never will figure out that my brother-in-law's sister is my wife."

DR. J. D. LESLIE SLATED FOR RETIREMENT IN 1936

The general assembly of the Presbyterian church, in session at Montreat, N. C., last Saturday adopted a rule which will result in the retirement of Dr. J. D. Leslie, as stated clerk, two years hence. Dr. Leslie will have reached the age of 70 years at the expiration of his present term, the age limit for retirement of all executive secretaries and other servants of the assembly elected by the assembly. Dr. Leslie has been stated clerk since 1922. Prior to that he had been permanent clerk for twelve years.

The office of stated clerk is in Dallas, where Dr. Leslie, with the Rev. E. C. Scott, assistant stated clerk, conduct the business of the assembly between its annual meetings.

Dr. Leslie was formerly pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Cisco, and was universally popular with our entire citizenry.

RAISING DOMESTIC RABBITS IS NOW GAINFUL INDUSTRY

Many people felt that the raising of domestic rabbits was just an expensive hobby but rabbit raisers are experiencing difficulty in producing enough meat rabbits to meet the demand according to George Parrack, of Eastland, who has appealed to the county agent to assist him in locating Eastland county rabbit growers who may have a surplus of meat rabbits. When properly fed and dressed domestic rabbits make the most delectable food.

First Church Of Christ, Scientist

First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Eastland, authorized branch of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston, Mass., holds services every Sabbath morning at 11 and each Wednesday night at 8. Testimonies on Christian Science healing may be given at the Wednesday evening meetings. Sunday school convenes at 9:45 a. m. All of these services are held in the Church edifice at the corner of Lamar and Plumer street.

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced," is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 3.

The Golden Text is: "Oh let the wickedness of the wicked come to an end; but establish the just: for the righteous God trieth the hearts and reins" (Psalms 7:9).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Regard not them that have familiar spirits, neither seek after wizards, to be defiled by them: I am the Lord your God" (Leviticus 19:31).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christian Science goes to the bottom of mental action, and reveals the theodicy which indicates the rightness of all divine action, as the emanation of divine Mind, and the consequent wrongness of the opposite so-called action, - evil, occultism, necromancy, mesmerism, animal magnetism, hypnotism" (page 104).

SOIL EROSION NO JOKE, EDGAR ALTON'S OPINION

"Soil erosion, is one of those highfalutin' terms you read about," said Edgar Alton of Pleasant Hill community. But that is what had happened to Will Poe's 20 acres that had been abandoned because of washes and worn out soil. About six years ago the farm was terraced and the lines run across this eroded area. "Now I am working this farm and the abandoned portion has filled in and leveled up, and I am making about as much from it as from other portions of the farm." This is just one more illustration of what terracing can do for farm land that is not paying dividends, according to County Agent J. C. Patterson.

J. C. Sims, Route 2, Carbon, was doing business in Cisco Saturday.

A. A. Belding, formerly of Cisco, now living in Fort Worth, is spending this week here. He is contemplating returning to Cisco, he stated to the Citizen.

Cisco Will Have 1,371 Votes In July Primary Election Reports Show

According to the tax collector's figures Cisco will have a voting strength in the July primaries of 1,371 votes, poll tax payments show. It is understood this will be exclusive of the overs and unders, who paid no poll tax.

Poll tax payments in the two boxes of Cisco exceeds those participating in the 1932 election by 402. It was known at the time of payment that many more paid their poll tax this year than those of 1931, but it was hardly thought the increase was as much as the tax collector's figures reveal. But nearly all boxes in the county show an increase of practically double that of 1931, but the voting strength of the county for 1934 will be only 23 more than were accredited with a poll tax receipt for 1930. These figures show Cisco is the largest voting precinct in the county, exceeding that of Eastland by 23, and Ranger by 307.

In the election this year the number of voting boxes are increased to 27 by the addition of another box in Eastland.

Following are the figures for the entire county by precincts:

- Eastland, two boxes, 1320; Ranger, two boxes, 1064; Tudor, 33; Sabanno 39; West Cisco, 1006; East Cisco, 365; Rising Star, two boxes, 469; Desdemona, 166; Pioneer, 139; Alameda, 52; Kokomo, 30; Carbon, 263; Gorman, 433; Long Branch, 31; Okra, 97; Scranton, 76; Nimrod, 88; Olden, 147; Dothan, 51; Romney, 61; Mangum, 21; Pleasant Hill, 38; Staff, 41; Cook 42.

C. C. McDONALD SPOKE AT BROWNWOOD THURSDAY 24

Notice of C. C. McDonald's address at Brownwood, May 24, reached the Citizen too late for publication in last week's issue. Reports from there indicated he made a splendid impression on his audience in presenting his candidacy for governor. The day previous he addressed 500 voters at San Angelo, where he was enthusiastically received. There are few better campaigners in Texas than Charley McDonald, and should he include Cisco, as one of his speaking appointments, there is no doubt of his capturing a big bunch of votes. He has a platform that is satisfying which he presents in a pleasing and convincing manner.

Heretofore McDonald has always espoused the cause of some political friend, and is making his first race for a political office in his own behalf.

Firestone Will Show Rubber Plantation At "Century of Progress"

Realistic rubber plantations with latex flowing from the trees and a background of African jungle will help give "A Century of Progress" of 1934 a world-wide aspect. It will be in a new portion of the Firestone Factory and Exhibition Building and will be representative of Firestone's plantation development in Liberia on the west coast of Africa.

The trees were shipped from the Firestone plantations, and the spectators will see these tapped with latex flowing. Animated figures will perform the steps in rubber production—tapping, pouring out the latex and bringing it into the preparation mill on the plantation, sheeting, smoking, drying and baling. A native village will be seen in the distance, and the tom-toms of the natives will blend with the whirl of machinery. A plantation expert will explain each operation.

Beyond the plantation will be scientific exhibits of rubber including:

Coagulation, the spectacular phenomenon of latex—dripping into a tank of acid where it is immediately congealed into a ribbon and then wrapped on a spindle.

Vulcanization, showing the difference in strength of rubber vulcanized with sulphur, compared with raw rubber. Then a step further the still greater strength and elasticity of rubber vulcanized with sulphur plus an accelerator.

The abrasion test, showing by sandblast that rubber of this type stands more wear than steel.

The plantation and scientific exhibits will be arranged in duplicate so visitors coming in either entrance can see it without retracting steps.

The spectators will then view the factory production line which will be larger and more spectacular to show the complete manufacturers of the new Firestone Air Balloons at the rate of 70 tires per day.

The building will be changed throughout—made much larger—and the Singing Color Fountain in the Firestone Garden will be more spectacular.

"AS YOU SOW, SO SHALL YOU REAP," PROVES TRUE

D. B. Napier, alias Fred Lockhart, was hung in Shreveport May 18 for the murder of Mae Griffin, 16-year-old school girl. Napier was the driver of the death car that conveyed Leo Franks to his death in Georgia over 20 years ago, when a mob took him from the county jail in Atlanta and hung him to a limb of a tree. Franks was charged with the murder of little Mary Fagan, one of the child workers in his factory.

While in the Shreveport jail a mob attempted to take Napier from his cell to hang him, but was prevented by troops under the parish sheriff, giving him some idea of the emotions that possessed Franks when Napier was one of the raiding mob that lynched him later.

Constable Joe Hicks
Announces This Week
To Succeed Himself

The Citizen is authorized to announce Joe Hicks as a candidate for re-election to the office of constable of Precinct No. 6, of Eastland county, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries.

Mr. Hicks is now serving his first term as Cisco's constable, and has made an enviable record as an officer. He has demonstrated that he is a natural officer, and by his courteous treatment of all persons with whom he has come in contact has added more friends to his list of those who appreciate just such an officer as Joe Hicks has made.

The authority to pack a six-gun has never gone to his head. He is not that kind of a man. Possessing plenty of personal courage to enforce the laws even against those so-called bad men, but by reason of his even temperament, cool and collected mind, it has never been necessary to resort to physical courage in administering the office of constable. His splendid judgment and humane treatment of those he is compelled to arrest, has made it unnecessary to use even a modicum of force.

In addition to his courage and native courtesy, his integrity is above any suspicion of doubt, and if he has ever been "fixed" by those who seek protection to follow illegal pursuits, no man has ever heard of it. In fact, those who violate the laws have better judgment than to attempt to "fix" the constable of the Cisco precinct.

He is asking your support in the primaries, promising to continue to uphold the laws of the state, and do his level best to keep Cisco clean. Since his election two years ago he has been instrumental in apprehending many criminals, as well as recovering stoley property, but has made no noise about it, content with having done his duty, which is required of every officer.

Every acre of cotton ground rented to the government under a cotton reduction contract, as well as cotton being grown by contract signers, will soon be measured, according to advices received by County Agent Patterson, for the County Cotton Control association. CISCO LODGE A. F. & A. M.
HOLD ANNUAL ELECTION

The annual election of officers of Cisco Lodge 556, A. F. & A. M., was held May 24, and resulted in the following being elected for the ensuing year:

Anthony Petronis, Worshipful Master; Frank P. Yarger, Senior Warden; Frank Leach, Junior Warden; George Boyd, Tyler; L. D. Wilson, Secretary. George Boyd is past master of the lodge, and following one of the lodge rules for the past master to take the Tiler's station, he was chosen to fill that office.

STEADY INCREASE IN
FORD V-8 CAR SALES
BOOSTS EMPLOYMENT

The steady increase in sales of Ford V-8 cars and trucks has recently made possible the addition of several hundred men to the large force already employed in the Dallas branch of the Ford Motor Company, according to Mr. S. H. Nance, local Ford dealer.

The Dallas Plant is assembling cars and trucks for dealers throughout Texas and Oklahoma and production has been steadily increased to meet the growing demand, resulting in over 50 per cent increase in employment since the plant opened in February.

Mr. Nance expressed considerable pleasure at the thought that sales of Ford cars and trucks in the Cisco community had contributed to this improvement and stated that he confidently expected even greater improvement in June and succeeding months.

Tires have been on the winning cars in the gruelling Indianapolis 500-Mile Race FOR 15 CONSECUTIVE YEARS

EVERY winner in the 500-Mile Indianapolis Race—the most gruelling tire test in the world — drove to victory on Firestone High Speed Tires.

Race drivers know that heat generated by friction inside the cotton cords is the greatest enemy of tire life. These men will not risk their lives on any but Firestone Tires, because they know the high stretch cords in every Firestone Tire are protected by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping.

Gum-Dipping soaks the high stretch cords in liquid rubber and saturates and coats the millions of fibers inside the cords, counteracting destructive friction and heat. It provides greater adhesion between the plies of the tire, and between the Gum-Dipped cord body and the tread.

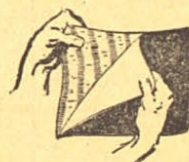

Firestone chemists and engineers kept pace with new car developments by building stronger, safer tires to meet the exacting demands. Drive in today and equip your car with new Firestone High Speed Tires for 1934, with deeper, thicker, flatter, and wider non-skid tread, more and tougher rubber, more traction, giving you more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

Remember, in Firestone High Speed Tires there is Greater Strength—Greater Safety—and Greater Blowout Protection than in any tire made.

THE ADHESION TEST

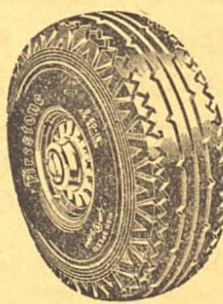

Note how the rubber in a Firestone Tire clings to the high stretch Gum-Dipped cords. This greater adhesion and strength is made possible by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping.

Note how the rubber in an ordinary tire pulls away from the cords that have not been soaked and insulated with rubber. This causes friction and heat within the cords, resulting in separation.
