BUILDING IN TEXAS SHOWS BIG INCREASE

AUSTIN, July 20.—So enthusiastic has been the recovery in business activity during recent weeks that the mere realization of a normal seasonal gain no longer causes any stir, according to the bureau of business research of the University of Texas.

NOTCH INVADIED

STOVE, Vt. July 20.—Smugglers' Notch, where contraband furs, spices and silks were cached during the war of 1812, has been invaded by artists, with the opening here of the summer art school of the Art Students' League of New York.

CACTUS RESURRECTED

WESTFIELD, Mass., July 20.—Last year Mrs. Raymond J. West decided that her 30-year-old cactus had died and threw it into the cellar. Recently she noted signs of life in it, brought it upstairs, and was surprised when within a short time 126 crimson buds appeared.

Responding to the government's plea to reduce cotton acreage by 25 per cent so that a smaller crop will produce higher prices and better times, thousands of Dixie farmers are plowing up part of their growing cotton. This picture, taken on a plantation near Palmetto, Ga., is typical of many such scenes now being enacted throughout the cotton belt.

UNDER THE DOME AT AUSTIN
By VERNON A. MCGEE (Substituting for Gordon K. Shearer, on Vacation)
AUSTIN, July 20.—A new state official today sat in the banking commissioner's office in Travis county's old courthouse. The old building has been remodeled by the state government for its use. But E. C. Brand of Sweetwater, successor to James Shaw, apparently does not care whether the room he occupies was once a county clerk's office, or a court room that echoed the harangues of criminal lawyers. Commissioner Brand does care a great deal for the job at hand, for his four daughters and for fishing. He is a conservative, quietly forceful man of medium build and graying hair. His keen eyes see deeply without staring. He is determined to understand his job thoroughly before announcing the assistants who will aid him in keeping Texas banking on an even keel. For two days he sat in his office, courteously receiving all callers and "absorbing atmosphere," as he described it. His chief hobby is not fishing, but getting ready to go fishing. The excitement of gathering tackle and sorting hooks, of packing a hearty luncheon, and escorting his party off to woods and lakes is more fun

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

7-17 THE BUREAU OF FISHERIES, in Washington, D. C., releases hundreds of bottles every year for the purpose of testing the drift of the ocean currents, and their relationship to the movements of schools of fish and masses of fish eggs. Each bottle contains a post card addressed to the Fisheries Bureau, and anyone who returns one of these cards is rewarded by a check for 25 cents, drawn on the United States Treasury.

to Banking Commissioner Brand than watching a bobbing cork.

The paths of Amon G. Carter, salty critic of the Fergusons, and of Former Governor James E. Ferguson have crossed again, this time in Washington.

As former Governor Ferguson tells the story, he and C. C. McDonald, general of the army that is crusading for repeal in Texas, were sitting in the office of James A. Farley, Farley's telephone buzzed angrily.

The postmaster general stopped the conversation to answer the telephone. He told the party at the other end of the line that he was busy, could not be seen now, and finally directed a secretary to cut off the connection.

Ferguson said he later learned it was Carter on the other end of the telephone circuit, demanding an immediate word with Farley even though it was generally known the Ferguson conference with Farley was set for that hour.

nor Ferguson believes, that his enemies can do about it.

The public hearing in Washington July 24 on the code for the oil industry may affect Texas more vitally than any hearing at the nation's capital in the last six months.

Sometime in the next two weeks, Attorney General James V. Allred, who filed the suit for $17,000,000 penalties and ouster of 15 oil companies for violation of Texas anti-trust laws, will be asked what he thinks of the proposed oil code.

He will be asked, too, if he thinks the code would lead to business practices in conflict with Texas anti-trust laws. His answer will be pregnant with meaning for Texas. It may lead to a special session of the state legislature. It may not.

Whatever he may answer, his court attack on the 15 oil companies will go on. For once Attorney General Allred begins a fight it continues until the last ditch has been conquered or surrendered.

The former governor does not believe his enemies have made much headway in disparaging Texas' present administration with Washington officials. "The governor here," said Chief Adviser Jim as he nodded his head toward his happy wife, "represents the laws of Texas, the government of a state. She will continue to do so."

The Texas Rehabilitation and Relief commission was created by the legislature, by the representatives of the people, as an emergency measure. Governor Ferguson holds no balance of power with the commission. It is the representative of the people of Texas, and as such will represent the state in the federal recovery program.

There's not much, former Govern-

Perfidious Savages..

IN THE Torres Straits Islands in the East Indies, there are no trees suitable for canoe building. So the natives, a cruel, treacherous race, import their canoes from the Fly River Delta in New Guinea—another place with an unenviable reputation. The distance between these two places is over four hundred miles, and no native in that region travels even one-quarter of that distance.

When a canoe is wanted, the word is simply passed on from tribe to tribe. On the strength of this vague order a canoe is built. Then it is relayed back. Each tribe of bloodthirsty cannibals tests and discusses it before passing it on. Finally the payment, shell necklaces, spear points, arm bands, makes its way to the canoe builders in the same leisurely fashion.

There is reason for this honesty in savages to whom perfidy is natural. If any of the parties in this complicated transaction were to risk being dishonest, their credit would be ruined. And though these natives may kill and eat each other, they hold barter inviolate.

Even savages understand that in commerce it pays to be honest, and to let the world realize your honesty! So in modern business. Advertising must be honest. It is a proof of honesty. A product's advertising is the best guarantee of its quality, usefulness and value.

The man who advertises is inviting your inspection. He is letting his goods stand on their own merit. He can't afford to deceive you. You can depend on him. That's why it pays to read advertising and to buy advertised goods.

Blanton to Speak at Throckmorton Rally

ANSON, July 20 — Thos. L. Blanton, congressman from the 17th U. S. Congressional district of Texas, will be the only speaker at a regional dry rally to be held at Throckmorton on Sunday night, July 23rd, to be attended by people from Haskell, Throckmorton and Shackelford counties. Pastors of all churches in these three counties will be asked to dismiss their Sunday night services and send big delegations to the Throckmorton rally. Dry forces in the neighboring 23rd district and in all the other counties of the 24th district are urged to attend this rally according to Judge Otis Miller of Anson, chairman of the dry forces in the 24th senatorial district. Judge Miller points out that this meeting will be prohibition rally in the strictest sense, and that no collection will be taken up in any shape or form or fashion. The rally will be held on the courthouse lawn at Throckmorton and will begin promptly at 8:15 o'clock.

COFS AIDED STORK McPHERSON, Kan., July 20 — Just after bandits had terrorized citizens of three states in the middle west, a large touring car went tearing down one of McPherston's main streets. Cruising police finally overtook the car after a wild chase. Revolvers were drawn. A nurse peered out and informed officers the stork was about to win a race. With sirens screaming again, police assisted the nurse to the hospital and beat the stork.

French Will Honor Spanish Writer

PARIS, July 20 — As a testimony of his great respect for the Spanish writer, Blasco Ibanez, President Albert Lebrun of France has accepted the presidency of a committee named to erect a monument here to the memory of the author of the "Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse." He died on French soil at Mentone two years ago. The sculptor chosen for the work is M. La Monaca, and the subject of his design represents the figure of the romantic returning from an impetuous ride evoking the "Four Horsemen." Other members of the committee include M. de Madariaga, Spanish ambassador; M. de Toledo, ambassador from the Argentine republic; M. de Zulueta, Spanish minister of foreign affairs; Louis Barthou, Leopoldo Bellan, Joseph Callaux, G. Campinchi, Camille Chautemps, Pierre Cot, Marquis d'Angidigne, Charles Danielou, J. L. Dumensil, Jean Fabry, P. E. Flamin, Henry Pate, Edouard Herriot, L. J. Malvy, G. Menira, J. NET TOURNEY DUE TO DRAW BIG INTEREST

By HENRY SUPER United Press Staff Correspondent NEW YORK, July 20 — Interest in tennis is expected to reach a new high in this country this summer when fields of genuine international caliber will compete in the American national championships at Forest Hills, N. Y. The women's championship, opening in mid-August, promises to produce the finest competition in years. Six of Great Britain's finest players, including Dorothy Round, the doughty, little Sunday school teacher who gave Mrs. Helen Wills Moody such a tremendous fight in the Wimbledon finals. Miss Round will be accompanied by the ever-popular Betty Nuthall, three new youngsters, Mary Heeley, Freida James and Peggy Scriwen, and Mrs. L. R. C. Mitchell. The odds are heavily against Helen Hull Jacobs of California retaining her title. Miss Jacobs bowed in the Wimbledon semifinals to Miss Round, and never has won a tournament in which Mrs. Moody was entered. If Mrs. Moody and Miss Round should meet in the championship test the West Side Tennis Club's spacious horseshoe oval would be sold from turf to hunting, and America, for the first time, might see an all-night line of ticket-seekers. The men's field looks equally impressive. Jack Crawford, Australia's mighty man, and conqueror of Ellisworth Vines at Wimbledon, will be on hand for this event. With him will be other members of the Australian Davis Cup team, Adrian Quist, Vivian McGrath and Don Turnbull. Britain is expected to send Fred Perry and Bunny Austin, and Japan is likely to be represented by Jiro Satoh and Ryosuka Numol. If a Moody-Round match would jam the place, a Crawford-Vines final would literally fill the stadium to overflowing.

CHICKEN WAS GOLD HOARDER BURR OAK, Kan., July 20 — Persons are not the only gold hoarders. One of LaVerne Ayres' chickens had three fair-sized gold nuggets in its gizzard when dressed.

GIRLS BEST ESSAYISTS BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 20 — Any doubt that girls of Warren Harding high school are better essayists than boys was dispelled at graduation exercises this year, when for the second consecutive year, girls swept all four places. Three years ago the girls missed a clean sweep when one boy got into the select group and won a prize.

BANKHEAD FEED MILL CISCO, TEXAS STRICTLY CASH This will advise you that on and after this date we will sell grain, feed and seed for cash only. This is not intended as any reflection on your credit, as your account has been entirely satisfactory in the past. But due to economic conditions over which we have absolutely no control, we are forced to adopt this policy in order to remain in business. Conditions such as exist today have never before been known in the commercial world, and it has become necessary that we have cooperation between the seller and the buyer to overcome the obstacles. And by selling for cash we can better serve our trade through the preservation of our own credit in the wholesale markets, thereby securing merchandise at the lowest prevailing prices and passing the savings on to our customers. We trust, and know that you will appreciate our attitude in this matter and will continue to award us your usual liberal patronage as in the past. We shall avail ourselves of every opportunity the cash basis will offer to better serve you in the feed line, and we know it will be to our mutual advantage for you to continue as one of our valued customers. We trust that you will not in any way construe this as a reflection on your varacity and integrity, and hope that we may be favored with a continuance of your patronage.
