Roosevelt Rejects Proposal to Steady Erratic Dollar

PLAN SAID TO PROVIDE FOR BANK ACTIONS

LONDON, July 1. — President Roosevelt tonight rejected the proposal advanced here for the ending of the recent wide fluctuations of the international exchange. The president declined to accept the plan in its present form, which was understood to provide for central banks to cooperate in steadying the dollar and pound. Approval of the formula, which was claimed not to commit the United States to immediate stabilization of the dollar but to provide for cooperative action of the central banks to counteract wide fluctuations of currency and end a feud now blocking the London economic conference, was recommended to the president by Raymond Moley, assistant secretary of state and the president's special representative at the conference. The formula was drawn in a series of conferences of representatives of the powerful gold bloc, headed by France, with representatives of the United States and Great Britain.

Yesterday at Campobello Island, N. B., where the president had arrived after 12 days on a sea vacation, Roosevelt expressed unqualified approval of the currency situation at the conference. He indicated that he is standing pat against any attempts to stabilize at this time and until he is sure that true levels have been reached by the money of the various nations. The problem of temporary stabilization of currency to prevent widespread fluctuations is one for the banks and not the governments, the Roosevelt viewpoint was understood to be. This was taken to mean that the nations of the European gold bloc are going to have to wait.

4 KUHNS, LOEB PARTNERS GET MOST PROFITS

WASHINGTON, July 1. — Secret details of the partnership agreement of Kuhn, Loeb and company, obtained today by the United Press, revealed that four partners in the famous international bank enjoy a 58 per cent slice of its profits. In the Kuhn, Loeb partnership no man wields such power as J. P. Morgan was shown to possess in the private bank which bears his name. Morgan takes a 25 per cent cut of Kuhn, Loeb and company profits. Felix Warburg's share of Kuhn, Loeb profits is 18 per cent, the largest of any of the partners. Otto Kuhn, who for four days has been a witness before the senate stock market investigating committee, is allotted 14 per cent under the secret agreement which governs the firm.

COPS HELP PRISONER

OGDEN, Utah, July 1. — There is such a thing as too little crime, in the opinion of policemen here who were forced to don overalls and clean up the jail due to the fact there was but one prisoner and there was too much work for him to do alone.

STATEMENT OF NEGRO CLEARS 'DICE SLAYING'

DALLAS, July 1.—A 25-year-old negro arrested before dawn today in connection with the manhunt for the slayer of Patrolman Sam G. Lanford, 36, confessed to police he killed the officer and admitted the slaying last December 1, of Mrs. H. K. Buchanan, pretty 26-year-old film exchange official, whose mysterious death was recorded in police annals as the "dice slaying." The negro, R. T. Bennett, sentenced to the state penitentiary for burglary in 1929, told detectives where they would find a revolver and two rings owned by the dead woman.

The cache was found in a vacant apartment near the one occupied by Mrs. Buchanan. A note reading "You don't love me any more," weighted down by two dice, was left in the woman's apartment. This was the slaying catalogued the "dice slaying."

The negro said he was prowling around the apartment building and found Mrs. Buchanan's door unlocked. When he entered, he said, he found her asleep in a bed. He attacked her, tied a silk stocking around her neck and choked her to death. Rings he stripped from the woman's fingers and a revolver he carried were hidden in a vacant apartment.

APPEAL COURT DENIES PLEA OF LONE STAR

FORT WORTH, July 1.—The Lone Star Gas company's appeal to the court of civil appeals, designed to block municipal gas ownership here, was lost today when the court upheld previous rulings of the 17th district court which has twice decided it held no jurisdiction in the case.

The court's ruling, signed by Chief Justice Conner, stated that jurisdiction involving city condemnation of gas company properties for municipal operation is vested in the county court. O. K. Shannon, Jr., counsel for Lone Star, gave notice that a motion for rehearing before the appeals court would be filed.

U. S. BUREAU TO HELP JOBLESS TO COTTON FIELDS

FORT WORTH, July 1. — Several thousand Texas families will be given employment within the next ten days picking cotton, C. W. Woodman, director of the United States employment service for this state, announced today. The number will increase as the activities increase in this phase of work during the next two months, he said.

Woodman warned, however, that families should not start for the cotton picking sections until they have conferred with the federal bureau here. The federal bureau maintains field men throughout the cotton regions and they know exactly where and how many pickers will be needed at a given time, Woodman said.

Officers Think Mrs. Diamond Was Talking

NEW YORK, July 1. — Mrs. Alice Diamond, widow of the notorious gangster, Jack (Legs) Diamond, was "rubbed out" by two of her late husband's cronies because her tongue had been wagging too freely in Brooklyn speakeasies, detectives believed today.

Mrs. Diamond's body, a bullet hole through the head, was found in her Brooklyn apartment yesterday. She had been dead two days and her two dogs, locked in the apartment, were weak with hunger.

Bendix Air Race Entrant Is Injured

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 1. — Russell Boardman, an entrant in the Bendix trans-continental race, was injured here today when his plane overturned as he attempted to take off on the second leg of his flight from New York to Los Angeles.

SIX FLIERS START RACE FROM NEW YORK

FLOYD BENNETT FIELD, NEW YORK, July 1.—Six fliers sped westward today, seeking to fly from New York to Los Angeles in 12 hours or less. Five were men. The sixth was Amelia Earhart, America's first ranking woman pilot. They were competing in the Bendix air races. Miss Earhart had only one competitor in the women's division of the race, Ruth Nichols, who was unable to start today because her plane was not ready. She will take off tomorrow.

In both divisions, the winner is the flier who covers the distance in the shortest elapsed time.

WORLD SUPPLY OF U. S. COTTON SHOWS DECLINE

AUSTIN, July 1. — On June 1 the indicated supply of cotton in the United States was 19,537,000 bales, compared with 11,742,000 bales on May 1 and 10,900,000 bales on June 1 last year, according to Dr. A. B. Cox, director of the University of Texas bureau of business research. European port stocks and afloat to Europe are 1,657,000 bales or 320,000 bales more than last year. The results are that the balance of the supplies in the United States and in European port stocks and afloat to Europe are only 43,000 bales below last year.

"These figures usually represent the true position of the world's supply of American cotton, but at the present time they do not do so, for according to Garside of the New York cotton exchange, the world's supply of American cotton is now about 743,000 bales less than on June 1 last year," Dr. Cox said.

"Based on the average supply-price relations for the last 7 years, this means a price advance of 140 points in the adjusted gold price over last year, or 940 cents. When this price is further adjusted for the spinner's margin and the depreciated value of the dollar in terms of gold currencies, the price of middling 7-8 inch spot cotton at New Orleans should be between 7.80 and 8.20 cents. The bureau supply-chart price indicates a price of 7.85 cents in terms of the depreciated dollar.

"Spinners ratio margin declined from 169 in April to 162 for May. This decline was due entirely to advancing prices for the average pence margin was 3.63d (pence) in April and 3.77d (pence) in May. CONTINUED ON PAGE FOUR

IMPROVEMENT CHEERS GOV'T AT MID-YEAR

WASHINGTON, July 1.—An unmistakable air of optimism pervaded the federal government today as the start of the second half of the year brought further indications of business improvement in nearly every section of the country. Hopes were high that the country was on the road to lasting recovery. Industrial activity mounted to its best levels of the present movement. Officials looked to early operation of the industrial regulation program to give business a further and powerful impetus.

A year ago this month, federal reserves figures show, business activity touched its lowest level of the depression. After a light recovery, business last March fell close to the depression low. Improvement has been rapid and current activity is around the levels of the fall of 1931.

YOUTHS CHASE SUSPECTS; CAR IS RECOVERED

Police here Friday night arrested Donald Owens who was surrendered into the custody of county officers and taken to Eastland after filing of charges of automobile theft in justice court here.

The clamor reaches such a crescendo during regular business hours that the administrator must do most of his decision making in the evenings and on holidays. The situation came to such a pass that Hopkins finally threw up his hands and took his wife and daughter on a vacation. The vacation consisted of one Sunday afternoon in the country. He said he feared he would be forced to work seven days a week the rest of the summer.

Sox-Sproles Series Will Begin Today

The Cisco Red Sox and the Sproles Transfers of Ft. Worth will begin their three game series this afternoon at 3:30. Sproles is the only team that defeated the Sox last season. The Sproles Freight Lines, Inc., which sponsors the team, is expected to bring 75 people to the games and to the July 4 celebration in Cisco, according to information received here.

Wheat Goes to $1.09 At Fort Worth

HOPKINS, WITH MILLIONS FOR GIVING, CHARY

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN, United Press Staff Correspondent. WASHINGTON, July 1.—Harry L. Hopkins is the extraordinary man who has $450,000,000 to give away. He handed $5,000,000 to charity two hours after he took office as President Roosevelt's emergency relief administrator. That was about a month ago. Since then Hopkins has sent checks for millions of dollars ($50,000,000 approximately) to the four corners of the nation. The $450,000,000 he has left is burning his pocket. He's anxious to get rid of it.

All that would indicate, mistakenly, that the brown-eyed Hopkins is the world's greatest financial prodigy. The fact is that Hopkins is the charest giver-away of cash that President Roosevelt could find. That's why he got the job. His duty is to distribute the emergency relief fund of $500,000,000 where it will do the most good. That's a real task, what with representatives of nearly every state in the union clamoring at his door for cash to feed their jobsless.

Accounts of the encounter were given by the children also. According to their statements to officers they had seen Buck approaching and warned their father, Buck, they said, came to where Bort was working and spoke with him a few moments, then, they told the officers, he drew a pistol and Bort hurled the ax with which he had been cutting cedar posts. The implement struck Buck in the left arm, inflicting bad slash wounds. After hurling the ax, Bort reached for the shotgun in his car, he told the investigators. One charge was fired, taking effect in Buck's right side.

After the shooting the two children ran to the garage of Sid Curry, three-quarters of a mile away, while Bort went to Palo Pinto and surrendered to officers. He remained in jail during the night, unable to make the $5,000 bond set for his release until Saturday afternoon. Curry, securing a car, started with the wounded man to Breckenridge, meeting an ambulance from a local hospital half way. Buck died a few hours after reaching the hospital.

Buck had been separated from his wife, a sister of Mrs. Bort, for about a year. Mrs. Buck had been making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Bort during that time. Buck's body has been sent to Artesia, N. M., for burial.

THREATS MADE BY SLAIN MAN, 'IN-LAW SAYS

BRECKENRIDGE, July 1. — One brother-in-law is dead and another is free under $5,000 bond as the result of a feud of long-standing which yesterday afternoon reached its tragic climax with dramatic suddenness on a cedar hill-side of Palo Pinto county near Caddo, Texas, 15 miles east of here.

L. H. Buck, 40, of Boulder, Colo., his left arm slashed with an ax and his right side torn with buckshot from a single-barreled shotgun, died in a Breckenridge hospital at 8:30 last night, the victim of an encounter which his sister-in-law, Mrs. Bill Bort, of Caddo, had predicted as being purposed to kill her husband. An interval of only three minutes stood between the tragedy and the efforts of Stephens county officers to prevent it.

Sore Out Warrant. Mrs. Bort appeared at the office of Sheriff J. W. Morrow here shortly before 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and swore out a peace warrant against Buck, charging he intended to kill her husband and then himself and asking that Buck be apprehended by the sheriff to prevent trouble. Sheriff Morrow immediately called his deputy at Caddo by telephone ordering arrest of Buck. Buck was in the office when the telephone rang, the deputy said. Before the call was completed the man walked out, entered his car and drove away, and before the significance of the sheriff's order was understood by the deputy he was out of reach, authorities said.

Bort, who surrendered to officers at Palo Pinto after the shooting, said that he had prepared himself for defense against an attack after he had been threatened several times. He was cutting cedar posts a mile from the Stephens-Palo Pinto line about 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon when Buck came to the place and engaged him in conversation, he said. He told officers he had armed himself with a single-barreled shotgun which he kept in his car nearby and that he had posted two of his three children, Bill, Jr., 7, and Bessie Lou 9, to watch for an appearance of Buck, fearing an attack.

As Bort was given by the children also. According to their statements to officers they had seen Buck approaching and warned their father, Buck, they said, came to where Bort was working and spoke with him a few moments, then, they told the officers, he drew a pistol and Bort hurled the ax with which he had been cutting cedar posts. The implement struck Buck in the left arm, inflicting bad slash wounds. After hurling the ax, Bort reached for the shotgun in his car, he told the investigators. One charge was fired, taking effect in Buck's right side.

After the shooting the two children ran to the garage of Sid Curry, three-quarters of a mile away, while Bort went to Palo Pinto and surrendered to officers. He remained in jail during the night, unable to make the $5,000 bond set for his release until Saturday afternoon. Curry, securing a car, started with the wounded man to Breckenridge, meeting an ambulance from a local hospital half way. Buck died a few hours after reaching the hospital.

Buck had been separated from his wife, a sister of Mrs. Bort, for about a year. Mrs. Buck had been making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Bort during that time. Buck's body has been sent to Artesia, N. M., for burial.

JOBS AND WAGES.

According to the national industrial conference board, the amount of pay in the weekly envelope in manufacturing industries increased 8.6 per cent in May over April, and the hours of work a week 10 per cent.

Business is picking up in the railway world. Two thousand Pennsylvania railroad shop men were recalled to work June 27 to handle increased repair orders in the Altoona shop for July. F. M. Grimshaw, works manager, "described conditions as the best at any time during the last two years." Officials of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad announced that more than 500 men, many of them former employees, are to be given employment over the lines due to increased passenger traffic.

Chicago reports that slaughtering establishments of the nation "could look back upon the past month as the best in their business since January, 1932." Not only did production increase 12 1/2 per cent over April but it was 14 per cent greater than May, 1932, and 11 1/2 in excess of 1923-32 average for the month. Furthermore the upward trend set in during April, contrary to seasonal expectations, was further increased in an increase of 17 per cent in domestic and foreign sales. Employees figured in the improved conditions both in the number at work and in the pay envelopes.

The success or failure of the broad Roosevelt program for American economic recovery will be measured by the number of unemployed men that go back to work. Production creates demand. The more men there are at work the greater the demand for products of industry. The greater the demand for products the greater the opportunity for employment. So the cycle goes, industry producing and as it produces, creating the buying power to absorb its products. There is an economic theorem that asserts production cannot exceed demand. Be that as it may, prosperity means activity and if the Roosevelt stimulus can prod the idle wheel into turning it will create its own momentum out of the natural laws that govern it.

Putting man to work is the battle cry of the anti-depression forces. Men at work create their own salvation, economically speaking.

SAVING MILLIONS.

Atty. Gen. Homer S. Cummings advised the great American public that letters had been sent to workers in all grades of the federal prohibition bureau service that their services will be dispensed with June 30, "in an effort to cut the bureau's expenses $4,000,000 during the next year." Included are administrators, attorneys, investigators, special agents, secretaries, stenographers, typists and clerks. Budget Director Lewis Douglas is swinging his ax. He gave the order that $4,000,000 of the $8,300,000 appropriated for the bureau during the next fiscal year be saved. Many provisions were revised or abolished. What has been known as the fifth district has been divided into two divisions, one composed of Louisiana and Texas and the other to be the fifth, composed of Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Florida and Porto Rico. Douglas' order abolished Hawaii and Porto Rico as separate districts. The Alaska district has been abolished, leaving enforcement work to the United States marshals.

Taxpayers in the 48 commonwealths ordered at the ballot box a sweeping reduction in the cost of government. Pres. Roosevelt is living up to his pledges. His administrators are cutting to the bone. It had to come.

Well, Every Little Bit Helps!

RURAL CARRIERS GIVEN WARNING.

A special congressional committee of the house of representatives, Washington, agreed unanimously to ask the federal civil service commission for an order "causing all civil service employees to refrain from engaging in other occupations." Rep. McClintic, democratic leader of Oklahoma, is chairman of the committee. He said government employees "should be willing to allow the unemployed a free hand in seeking available positions without this kind of unfair competition."

The Oklahoma representative traveled all the road. He stressed that rural carriers were not allowed to engage in other businesses and this is "a precedent sufficient to warrant an order which will help take care of many who are unemployed." All of which may be harsh but it is logical and humane.

In its last analysis the order means that a government employee should not hold two jobs at the same time with millions of men and women who are willing to work unable to earn their bread.

East Baptist Will Begin Revival Today

Rev. J. L. Roden, pastor of the West Baptist church at Gorman, will begin a two weeks revival at the East Side Baptist church this morning. Rev. James L. Smart, the pastor announced yesterday. Charles Sparkes, of Rhome, will have charge of the music.

Texas Topics

By RAYMOND BROOKS

AUSTIN, June 30. — Byron C. Utecht, capitol staff writer for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, this week proved a friend in need at a Fort Worth negro baseball team that reached Austin without money for food.

The team manager hunted up Correspondent Utecht and asked for money to buy breakfast for the 14 men.

"How much do you need?" he asked. "We just want enough to buy 14 loaves of bread," the negro told him. "The team got its bread."

An outstanding attorney of North Texas has been named the state's representative in defending the large number of suits against the highway department arising from injury to persons, on contracts and various phases of the huge volume of business activity of the department.

He is M. W. Burch of Decatur, senior member of the law firm of which Sen. H. Grady Woodruff is a member. The selection went to him unopposed.

Justice Harvey and Short of the supreme court commission of appeals have been reappointed for six year terms, by action of the court. Two years ago the legislature transferred the appointive power from the governor to the court. All appointments since have been to continue the terms of those already in the service. This is in conformity with the trend for long-term and non-political judicial selections.

The appellate courts, reaching a summer recess, are nearer up to date on their dockets than for many years. Supreme court disposed finally of the big group of Peco's county oil land cases and had acted on various motions and applications practically through the entire list. Out of the applications granted, of course there are numbers of cases brought before the court for review. There will be a new accumulation of cases during the summer, on which to continue the steady grind.

Out of one voting precinct in Austin, where a telephone poll was made of all voters on beer and repealing the 18th amendment, dry leaders said that one out of each four voters advocated repeal; three out of each 10 advocated the return of beer. Fifty-two out of 100 were against beer. The others were classified as being undecided or unwilling to state their attitude.

This poll was carried on by the dries to set up lists of workers, rather than simply as a straw vote; but it probably is the first of many test polls or straw vote compilations to be made before the Aug. 26 election.

Through the Editor's Spectacles

By GEORGE

As a fisherman K. H. Pittard has lost caste in both the eyes of Dick Lauderdale and myself. When I, a rank novice at the noble art, can sit in the same boat on the same day and with the same bait catch two fish where Pittard catches none it is high time he retired as a disciple of Isaac and became a cynic. Not that he is entitled to any present consideration as a philanthropist. The quality of the grumbling he can do is remarkable. He should be admitted to the sour-faced convention without even the formality of an examination on the requirements for membership.

I have never fished with anyone, and I am sure Dick can testify to the same thing, who possessed such ability to trace his ill luck to the psychic influences of his companions. Even the fact that he could not manage his lines without getting them hopelessly snarled was attributed to the fact that I am a newspaperman.

The upshot of the matter is that Dick and I have decided the next time we go fishing to borrow Pittard's boat and tackle and leave him behind.

He has some pretty good equipment and he has located some excellent fishing holes.

Dewey Moore has devoted a part of the show windows of the Moore Drug company to praising the quality of tomatoes that he has raised upon plants propagated by A. S. Nabors. Gossip has it that Nabors is threatening legal reprisal. That statement indicates a surprising reflection upon Dewey and his show windows. I have seen the display and, frankly, the art is excellent for the home-made variety. The display is well gotten up with colored paints and artistic lettering, and certainly it does not minimize Nabors' part in the development of the vegetable.

I am inclined to think that Nabors' dissatisfaction with the publicity arises from the fact that Dewey used a pill box filled with medical cotton as the container for the tomato. Dewey is also said to have apologized to Nabors for having only one fruit to show, explaining that a humming-bird pecked the other off the vine before he could save it. The placarded exhibit, however, avers that Nabors' plants have been known to produce as many as four or five of the tomatoes on one vine.

J. A. Bearman has been elected as the Cisco Lions club delegate to the Lions International convention in St. Louis. The commission includes a side trip to the Chicago World's Fair. Bearman is a public-spirited citizen who has been ready when called upon to do his share of "thankless" jobs. I'm glad he got the trip as a small compensation of the energy he has expended.

O'Brien and Brock To Fight at Ranger

RANGER, July 1 — Eddie Brock, brilliant college athlete from Seattle, will box Jack O'Brien, Milwaukee, ten rounds at the Elks club here Monday night, it was announced today. Brock is a newcomer to Texas but has a scrapbook full of favorable newspaper clippings in his credit. In O'Brien he will meet the slugging type of fighter who likes to win by a knockout.

Pete Cardiel, Mexican grappler who will wrestle Benny Wilson in Cisco July 4, is due to take on Speedy Franks, bad boy of the middleweight class. Cardiel will probably be a strong favorite with the crowd, due to Franks' unsportsmanlike ring tactics. This will be Cardiel's first appearance in this section of Texas, but he had defeated everyone in his own country and comes strongly recommended by the American Wrestling association.

Bill Angus, of Ranger, and Sammy McLaren, Philadelphia, will swap holds in the curtain raiser.

The Elks have added fans and an ice air cooling system to the arena to keep the fans comfortable during the summer.

MINISTER DIES

LAWSON, Mo., July 1 — Sixty years as minister of the Christian Union church here were ended with the death of the Rev. Joseph McAdams, 84. He had married so many couples during that time that his home had come to be known as "Matrimonial Hall."

RECOVERED FROM WOUND KINGMAN, Kan., July 1 — Edward Keeling, 12, who was shot through the front part of his brain, has recovered and is suffering no ill effects except for an occasional twitch in one eye.

Busy Days Ahead as Wets and Dries Join Issue in Texas

men who evade income taxes and attempt to dictate to the servants of the people in a political sense without paying a dollar for the support of government or for the enforcement of its laws.

Los Angeles is the queen city and metropolis of Southern California. It is the home of Rev. Robert P. Shuler, ever a high evangelist of the dry cause, as well as the home of many leading pro crusaders of America. It has been the citadel of pro strength in years gone by. Los Angeles rolled up a majority of more than 100,000 for repeal, while the aristocratic little suburb where Herbert Hoover dwells gave a majority for the repeal amendment and those who advocate it.

Neely Lost His Battle.

West Virginia gave a distinct shock to the dries of America. Sen. M. M. Neely (D), is their leader. He is one of the brilliant and outstanding men of the Old South. A sincere dry, he threw the weight of his voice and his influence on the side of the anti-repealers. West Virginia was dry long before the coming of the 18th amendment. Indeed, at the last acid test given "the burning issue" not many years ago the electorate of West Virginia voted 2 to 1 for a dry West Virginia, a dry America, and a dry world. Now the state that was carved from the Old Dominion at the close of the war between the states has returned a verdict that "will ring around America," as it takes its place as the 16th of the 48 American commonwealths calling for a New Deal in the handling of the liquor problem in this republic.

The liquor has been reminded that the August referendum will be the fourth expression of the Texas electorate on the so-called "burning issue"—1887 when the wets won by 91,000 majority; 1911 when the wets won by 6,000 majority; in 1919 when the dries won by about 7000 majority. Another reminder is that it took the dry leaders 100 years to work the 18th amendment into the constitution. And lastly, it took the Texas dries 65 years to vote prohibition into the Texas constitution.

Well, it is a non-partisan issue. In August qualified voters, regardless of party or creed or nationality, will participate in the important election to take place. The stage at the dry convention and James E. Ferguson at the wet convention. Harmonizers, powerful in the life of Texas industry and finance and politics, forced a compromise and the head of the house of McDonald won and as noisy as ever the house of the ants but very much like a close of a battle of the cats on a backyard fence the dove of peace came along and lit on the rostrum. State delegates were named to be voted on in August, and then the curtain rang down and all that happened is ancient history. As a result of that compromise the Liberal Legion set-up, busy for months and months and largely directed by American Legionnaires and Texas women who very boldly and bravely tell their friends and followers that the slogan years ago were "Save Our Boys," and that of today is "to save our girls as well as our boys," continues.

While these incidents of history were being made, the voters of California were busy and what they did to the 18th amendment made interesting reading. From the Oregon borderline to the Mexican ports of entry of the south, by an overwhelming majority, the advocates of repeal swept all before them and gave California the 15th place in the column of repeal states.

West Virginia Joins Procession.

Something else was happening, West Virginia, the first of the Old South states to go on record voted to repeal the 18th amendment and became the 16th American commonwealth to follow the advice of the chief magistrate and make way for thorough regulation by states in order to place the profits in the federal and the local treasuries instead of in the pockets of the illicit rum makers and rum runners of all countries and the enrichment of

Did You Ever Stop to Think?

By EDSON R. WAITE Shawnee, Oklahoma.

A community invariably gets in step with its pace-makers. The newspapers and merchants of any community are virtually that.
The attitude of our lawmakers seems to be that the last penny must be wrested from the taxpayer in order to preserve this or that or to have additional money to spend for this or that. About all the average taxpayer gets for it is some soothing syrup from our politicians, which does not soothe or cure. Of course, increased public debt causes additional expense, which must be paid for in additional taxes.

A prominent scientist recently stated that we cannot boast of having conquered the air so long as we are unable to emulate the mosquito by flying backward as well as forward, or to come to a stop in mid-air if we wish. According to this scientist, the mosquito is the champion flyer of all flyers and can land any place. Probably a good many people during the summer months can be found who will agree with him. It is evident that the mosquito is the only flyer that can fly at will, fly slow or fast, vertically upward and downward, and the only flyer that can always get a square meal if there are any human beings in sight.

For years past, information as to the receipts and disbursements of many city, county and state governments has been productive of much controversy and misunderstanding, all of which has been due to the fact that the public has never been kept informed by official reports placed in the advertising columns of the newspapers.

In some towns warnings from the police to reckless automobile drivers are listened to with respect and then conscientiously ignored.
American Girls Win Praise of Dancer
PARIS, June 30.—American girls are beautifully built and seem to be born supple, but they are outclassed by European girls when it comes to solo dancing, in the opinion of Lily Losch, 25-year-old premiere ballerina of the Vienna Opera company.

"I don't know why it is," she said, "but life in Europe, with its great stress on individuality seems better suited than the more mechanical civilization in America to produce solo dancers.
"I do not think, however, that any girls in the world can compete with American girls when it comes to choral or ballet work. Their system of rhythm and movement is perfect. They are beautifully built and their bodies seem to be born with suppleness in every move, but the Europeans have it on them for solo work."
Miss Losch became a dancer at six, but entirely by accident. When she was 22, Max Reinhardt took Miss Losch to America, where she starred on Broadway. She also has been a favorite in London. She is the protegee of Richard Strauss, the Viennese composer.

ALMOST CUT JUGULAR

at Ranger, and others at intervals in many of the other west Texas cities. Benny Wilson, world junior middleweight champion, will meet Pete Cardiel, Mexican grappler, at Lake Cisco July 4. Fans have already shown a great deal of interest in the match.

In some parts of the state, notably south Texas, wrestling fans are fighting the boxing law and have laid plans toward helping the glove industry die before it actually gets its machinery running in the state. Out here, however, there appears to be a sort of harmony—or perhaps the promoters are merely making the best of the situation, or maybe they are using Gandhi's passive resistance to what seems to be the inevitable.

One Good Thing
The boxing law will do one good thing, though, if nothing else, in straightening out the ranks of wrestling. For years wrestling stables have been at each other's throats presumably so well matched that neither could entirely strangle its opponent. In Texas the two principal wrestling associations are the American and the National. "They've been about like that," said Benny Wilson, exhibiting two crossed forefingers. "But they may get together."

The occasion of the remark was the fact that Wilson, who wrestles and promotes matches with the sanction of the American association was signed up to wrestle for a Palestine promoter who announced that the national association rules will be used in his arena.
"We may all be under the same rules before long," Wilson said.
When Wilson wrestles Cardiel here Tuesday the American association rules will probably be in effect, although there is very little difference between the two.

Denver Zoo Plans Ostrich Incubator

DENVER, Col., July 1 — Denver's city park zoo may not have the best exhibit of vipers, tups, and mol-lusks, but Walter B. Lowry, manager of parks and improvements, is determined to have no less than a dozen ostriches.
Lowry plans to obtain about twelve birds at practically no cost to the city except for a small incubation fee.

The female ostrich of the pair in the zoo has contributed 19 eggs. Sheik, the male ostrich, has 12 of them in his sand nest, and keepers say they will hatch.
In order to assure a brood, however, Lowry plans to take seven eggs, and five more that he hopes will be available, and incubate them at a temperature of 103 degrees for 40 days and 40 nights.
He feels sure that by utilizing the resources of nature and science, the zoo will boast of a dozen or more ostriches.

BOXING AND WRESTLING, NOW LEGALIZED, IN HARMONY HERE

By FRANK LANGSTON
Boxing is on its way back in Texas. The new prize fighting law will see to that. The ring game is to make its first legal appearance since it was banned in 1895.
The boxing law won't have everything to do with the return of boxing to Texas, however, for the fans have been howling for fights all along. Lately they have raised such a fuss that a crop of promoters has sprung up where no one dreamed they could be raised—out in the sticks and the sandhills as well as in the cities. They have been putting on their shows just as though none of the citizens had ever brought enough pressure to bear on the legislature to keep Gentleman Jim Corbett from doing battle in this state.

Strangely enough, though, wrestling, arch enemy of the boxing industry, has prospered at the same time, many of the promoters putting on shows with both ring and mat events. Usually when there is a scarcity of first class boxing material, wrestling gets a toe hold on the arena customers and is thrown out of the ring only when it becomes a combination of a Roman boxing match and a football game of the flying wedge days, or when the fight game produces a new battler. This time, however, the fans have been demanding both boxing and wrestling, with such force that the two are to be legalized on an equal basis.
Licenses Required
The new law will require all boxers, wrestlers, handlers, promoters, and athletic arenas to be licensed and will cut down the chances for prearranged results of matches. At the same time it will make a little more money for all connected with the mat and ring rackets and cause the customers to pay a little more for the privilege of seeing their favorites mess each other up.
As the boxing bill daily comes nearer to being a law, fans out in this part of the state show more interest in the two ring sports. Weekly matches in both are being staged

Advertisement for Ford Motor Company, Dearborn, Mich. It features the text 'In answer to a lady's letter' and a signature 'Henry Ford, Dearborn, Mich.'

A lady writes to say that she does not understand why an 8-cylinder car does not cost more to run than a car with fewer cylinders. She refers to my statement that our Ford V-8 develops more power on a gallon of gas than any car we have made.

The use of 8-cylinders does not mean the addition of two or four extra fuel consumers. It is not, for example, a 4-cylinder engine multiplied by two. Our 8-cylinder engine takes the fuel supply of an ordinary 4-cylinder engine and divides it eight ways. And why?

By reducing four larger explosions into eight smaller ones, we get engine smoothness and quietness. Eight-cylinders indicate the way the gas is used, not the amount. It is just the difference between going upstairs in four long jumps or in eight ordinary steps.

Two things use up gas—bad engine design and useless car weight. Besides having an engine that gets a high percentage of power out of the fuel, the Ford V-8 has a light, strong body and chassis so that no power is wasted in moving excess weight.

The only extravagance about the new Ford V-8 engine is in the building of it. The extravagance is ours—the economy is yours.

The whole question of car economy needs clearing up. An economical car gives economy all round. Price, operation, upkeep, all play their part. If what you save on gas you lose elsewhere, that is not economy.

As to upkeep, our dealers say that in recent years the improved quality of Ford cars has cut down their repair business 50 per cent.

As to price with quality,—judge for yourself.

As to economy, here is the record of a stock car three weeks out of shop in Oklahoma:
On a run of 10,054 miles at the rate of 1,000 miles a day—the Ford V-8 gave 18.8 miles per gallon of gas. Not a drop of water was added to the radiator. The oil was changed once in 1,000 miles.

That should answer a lot of questions.

REDUCTION OF COTTON CARRYOVER SEEN.

AUSTIN, July 1.—"It's" in the cotton industry are many, declared Dr. A. B. Cox, director of the University of Texas bureau of business research.

"All available reports indicate that cotton acreage has been increased from 8 to 10 per cent over last year and that progress of the crop as a whole has been at least up to or above average," Dr. Cox said.

"Reports available from important foreign cotton growing countries indicate a general increase in acreage. The indicated increase for the world outside the United States is at least 10 per cent.

"The world's carryover of all cotton August 1 will be much less than was indicated even a month ago due to the very high rate of consumption during May. It is expected that the present rate of consumption will be maintained through June and July at least. If it is, the world carryover will be reduced about 2,000,000 bales."

"The world carryover of American cotton may be reduced 1,000,000 bales, or from about 13,300,000 bales last year to 12,300,000 bales August 1 this year."

"There is every indication that a sufficient number of farmers will cooperate with the secretary of agriculture to make his crop reduction program effective, especially if liberal estimates are made on prospects for this year, and provided an equitable division of rental benefits between landlords and tenants can be worked out."

Sunday Services at The Churches

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
Sunday school at 9:30, S. H. Nance, Supt. Preaching at 10:50 a. m., by the pastor. Subject: "All for God." Miss Laura Fay Wilson will sing. At the evening hour, 8 o'clock, a pageant, "The Outcome of a Secret", will be presented as the final event of the daily vacation Bible school which is closing a two-week session. Mrs. Juan Mason is directing and Mrs. T. W. Hendricks is assisting.—O. O. ODOM, Pastor.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH
"God" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, July 2.

Among the citations comprising the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible, I Chronicles 17: "O Lord, there is none like thee, neither is there any God besides thee, according to all that we have heard with our ears."

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is incorporeal, divine, supreme, infinite Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love."

"Question.—Are these terms synonymous?"

"Answer.—They are. They refer to one absolute God. They are also intended to express the nature, essence, and wholeness of Deity. The attributes of God are justice, mercy, wisdom, goodness, and so on.

"Question.—Is there more than one God or Principle?"

"Answer.—There is not. Principle and its idea is one, and this one is God, omnipotent, omniscient, and omnipresent Being, and His reflection is man and the universe. Omni is adopted from the Latin adjective signifying all. Hence God combines all-power or potency, all-science or true knowledge, all-presence" (p. 465).

HOLY ROSARY CHURCH
Mass today will be at 9 a. m. by Rev. M. Collins. This is the fourth Sunday after Pentecost and the gospel read is taken from St. Luke VI-II. Tuesday, July 4th, is a day we should thank God for the blessings of freedom and also ask Him for the graces we need at present.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH
Dean E. Buford Isaacks will preach at the First Christian church this morning. His subject will be "Jesus, the Divine Savior." There will be special music by Misses Helen Clark and Rita Troxell.

GRACE LUTHERAN CHURCH

The sermon at 7:30 p. m. will be based on the theme: "Jesus, the Good Shepherd, Seeks the Lost Sinners."—E. H. RIESE, Pastor.

EAST SIDE BAPTIST
The East Side Baptist church will begin a two weeks revival meeting this morning in the tabernacle with Rev. J. L. Roden of Gorman doing the preaching and Charles Sparkes of Rhine in charge of the music.—JAMES L. SMART, Pastor.

Capitol Plaza Is Nearly Finished

WASHINGTON, July 1 — The vast capitol plaza development program, including the stately supreme court building, is nearing completion. It would be practically completed should $5,000,000 be forthcoming from the public works fund for an annex to the congressional library.

The plaza now contains the house and senate office buildings, the recently completed annex to the house office building and the supreme court structure.

The proposed annex would be next to the gracefully proportioned Folger Shakespeare memorial, and conform to that building in architectural type. It would increase the book capacity of the library by 10,000,000 volumes.

Should the annex be completed, but one item on the program would be left — namely extension of the central section of the capitol building into the plaza. Plans for this extension was contained in the program for the capitol after the house and senate wings were built. At present the great capitol dome practically overhangs the east portico.

FEES TOTAL $299,184.65
DEER LODGE, Mont., July 1 — May collections of Montana state automobile license fees totaled $299,184.65. Registrar Austin Middleton reports. Passenger car registrations dropped 11,433 from the 1932 total for the same period, but truck registrations increased 2,642.

CITY WAS GIVEN A CEMETERY
EL PASO, July 1 — A community cemetery was provided this city by the El Paso Smelting Works, which gave a plot of ground in its district for burial of indigent cases.

Expert Sees Need For Child Tours

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 1—Mothers should educate their children with ideas of today by taking them to see breadlines, slums and fish markets. That is the view of Dr. Lillian Martin, child psychologist.

"Children should have an early development of social views and moral responsibilities," Dr. Martin said.

"Seeing slums and breadlines will teach them their place in relation to the whole of society, and what they owe to society. Markets, factories and courts will show them how the world about them works as important to mental growth as diet is to the physical growth."

"We must teach children to cooperate in their work and play; we must give them a new set of values opposed to the old idea of the travels of the lone wanderer."

Dr. Martin, who is over 85 years old, recently made a trip to Russia to see how the most modern experiment is working.

Colors of red, white, and blue, suggesting a motif appropriate to the season near Independence Day, were attractively used at a cleverly appointed bridge party given on Saturday afternoon, when Miss Jouridine Armstrong entertained at her home on M avenue to honor Miss Virginia Butts, who is leaving soon for California. An abundance of seasonal blossoms added floral charm throughout the entertaining suite. The patriotic theme was strikingly carried out in accessories for bridge games, and was effectively repeated in the refreshment course, which consisted of brick ice cream decorated with American flags, and cake. Miniature flags as plate favors further emphasized the chosen theme. Miss Butts, the honoree, was presented a gift, a novelty lock and chain. High score prize, a bottle of Coty's toilet water, was won by Miss Helen Crawford. Miss Margaret Crawford winner of the cut prize, received two decks of cards, and the low score award, a pair of novelty bracelets, went to Miss Adele Anderson.

GERMAN LOOKING For American Wife
WASHINGTON, July 1.—Karl Fritz has come to the national capital looking for a "nice honest-to-goodness woman who has led a clean life." He wants to marry her.

Fritz is anxious to try matrimony although he is 41. He was educated in a monastery in Leipzig, Germany, has worked as a male nurse and believes that he has a good business head although now unemployed.

The only reason he came to Washington, he said, was because he believed that here he could find a wife, inasmuch as the government departments overflow with women employees, many spinsters. He figures that after he gets married he will then honeymoon here, visiting the Washington monument and such historic structures.

Karl says there is nothing lazy about himself and all he wants is a home. Age matters little in his requirements for a wife, but he doesn't "want a divorcee, or a widow."

"She must be of high moral character, conservative and want a home," Fritz said.

Note: Fritz is quiet, bashful and easy to get along with, has brown hair, blue eyes, and is of medium height, he informs applicants.
