Beer Dispute Is Resolved Into Question of "When"

MODIFICATION BY CHRISTMAS IS DOUBTFUL

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—America's dispute over beer today apparently was resolved into a question of whether beer shall be legalized this winter of next year.

Fulfillment of the jubilant wet slogan, "Beer by Christmas," is doubtful. Drys count on their phalanx of lame duck prohibitionists to block beer bills in the short session of congress next month.

House and senate democratic leaders, however, promise immediate beer in conformity with the democratic platform pledge. Speaker Garner a month ago promised short session beer. Many other senators and congressmen of both parties accepted the overwhelming democratic victory as a mandate for Volstead modification.

CLOTHES AND FOOD NOT DRINK, QUESTION SAYS JIM

AUSTIN, Nov. 10.—Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson and former Gov. James E. Ferguson today were working through thousands of congratulatory messages that have come to the governor-elect and her husband.

Asked about plans for the new administration, they declared that relief of present economic conditions and relief from tax burdens are the first thing to be taken up.

Asked what Mrs. Ferguson's attitude would be toward repeal of the Dean law if the new legislature voted it, former Gov. James Ferguson answered for her that the important thing to consider now is what people will eat and wear and not what they are to drink.

COMMITTEE TO PLAN LIQUOR CONTROL

HOUSTON, Nov. 10.—Chairman John Henry Kirby, of the Texas Federation of Anti-Prohibitionists, announced today a state-wide committee was in process of formation to devise laws for liquor control, anticipating repeal of the 18th amendment.

Kirby said the committee would be recruited from legislators and leading citizens all over the state and would be active within a week. It will number about 40 persons, he said.

The committee will have as its purpose repeal or amendment of the Dean law and modification of the prohibition section of the Texas constitution.

BIDS ASKED ON BEER EQUIPMENT

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 10.—Bids on millions of dollars worth of beer equipment for making raw beer were asked today by Milwaukee brewers.

Boy, Brooding Over Tragedy, Found Dead

RAYMONDVILLE, Nov. 10.—Gienn Lawrence, 16, who figured in a high school football accident which claimed his brother's life, was found shot to death here today.

A pistol was found by his side. Friends said he had brooded over the accident in which his brother, Blondy, was fatally injured when the two collided head on during a practice session of the high school eleven. Blondy died Monday.

Misses Frankie and Johnnie Mae Gude are leaving Friday to spend the weekend with relatives in Fort Worth, and to attend the T. C. U.—Texas university football game.

War Hero --- Peace Victim

By NEA Service

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 10.—A Congressional Medal of Honor hangs at the home of Charles Denver Barger here for his exploits in the Argentine along with valor medals from other nations and citations of bravery from the United States government.

But Barger looks at the medals, glances at his 8-year-old son, J. E., and remarks:

"I would rather see the boy in a penitentiary than see him take part in the kind of a war I was in."

Barger is one of the nation's unfortunate heroes. He went to war along with his two brothers. The brothers were killed. Barger came back decorated with the nation's highest honor for his rescue of a company commander and two other buddies under shell fire. He was cited for a single-handed raid of a German machine gun nest, where he had gone to rescue a captured com-watchman's job at $18 a week. The government gives him $18 a month.

Barger will take no part in the Armistice Day celebration because he is not the "flag waving kind," but he might go to war again if the country was threatened with invasion.

Not across the water to protect other nations.

He thinks the bonus should be paid in full, right away. Of disarmament he says:

"I think the United States should use every resource possible to protect its own soil. Let the other nations take care of themselves. The last war showed the ill effects of disarmament."

His greatest worry now is how he is going to save enough money from his night watchman's job to pay off the debts he has contracted through the long siege of illness and injury that has visited his family.

rade. After the war came misfortune.

Barger joined the Kansas City police department. In a shooting affray with a robber he was seriously wounded and had to leave the police department. His two children, J. E. and Mabel Louise, were seriously ill. His wife became ill. Bills piled up. Barger could get no work.

The war tension plus subsequent worries had undermined his stout nerves. He could not hold some of the jobs offered him. Furniture dealers started to remove his unpaid for furniture. A kindly landlord gave him a rent-free home to live in and just a month ago he was given a night

LOBOS TRIM SAN ANGELO JR. COLLEGE

By FRANK LANGSTON

Coming back after they were outplayed and apparently beaten, the Big Dam Lobos drove their way to a 14 to 7 victory over San Angelo Junior college here yesterday afternoon. They were forced back to a ground game when their chilled hands were unable to make a passing game click.

The visitors scored first in the opening period of what looked like a punting duel, when Odom, star fullback, circled left end and outran the Lobo team for 52 yards and a touchdown. King's kick was good for the extra point.

Late in the second quarter St. John went in at quarterback and brought the team to life again. The Lobos drove down the field to the enemy 15 yard line, fighting hard every play. Then Captain McCall faked a pass, dodged a tackler and circled right end for a touchdown. Garret's kick tied the score at 7-all.

After the two teams had again battled without much life in the closing minutes of the third quarter, McCall shot through the line behind good interference, shook off a tackler, and steamed down to the Angelo 1 yard line. Barker tried the line for no gain, and the Clemo Ray, miniature flash, slid over guard for a touchdown. McCall's kick was good.

San Angelo Drive

With a new team in the game for the last period, the Lobos started a third drive down the field, only to lose the ball. Taking possession, the collegians made first downs in rapid succession and took the ball to the Lobo 5 yard stripe with four downs to put it over. The Big Dam wall held, though, and on fourth down to put it over. The Big Dam drove from a score than at first. A last desperate pass over the goal line was knocked down for a touchback as the game ended.

For the Lobos St. John, McCall, and Ray were outstanding in the backfield. Van Horn and Latch showed up well on defense. The Cisco forwards had a great deal to contend with in the San Angelo line. Wagner, big tackle, leading the drive against them. Stanford, right end for the collegians, played a great part of the game in the Cisco backfield, and Odom, fullback, showed up well on offense.

NEW CISCO POST OFFICE TO BE COMPLETE AND BEAUTIFUL

Plans and specifications now in the possession of Postmaster W. H. Craddock reveal that the federal government has planned a magnificent building in the new post office upon which bids have been called.

The structure, of grayish brick and limestone, trimmed with granite, will be 113 feet in length and 74 feet deep. It will face south with a broad facade of great arched and paneled windows with ornamental grills and massive pilasters. Entering the front door the visitor will find himself in a loggia, or enclosed porch 48 feet long and 7.5 feet deep. At one extremity stairs will lead to a full basement and at the other a public toilet will be located. Through a revolving door directly facing the street entrance, the lobby is reached. In this will be the usual ranks of private boxes, tables for writing, letter and package drops, service windows and so forth. The lobby will be 75 feet long and 17 feet deep. There will be 918 boxes.

Work Room.

Behind the lobby will be generous work room, 79 feet long and 46 feet wide, with an 18 foot ceiling through which three great skylights will admit natural light. A "swing room" for carriers and other men employed will be located in one corner of the rear. Shower bath, toilet, lockers and other conveniences will be installed here. A women's rest room will occupy another corner. There will be the usual loading racks for ingoing and outgoing mail and so forth.

In the southwest corner of the building the private office of the postmaster will be situated. This office will be 25 feet by 19 feet and will be equipped with a vault for the postmaster's records, and a private wash room. The main vault will be located in the workroom.

Flooring for the main floor will be part block wood and part tile in the main.

Basement.

Three large offices, one of them for the post office inspector, will be located in the full basement. Five storerooms will be built there, besides a fuel room, a room for the janitor and a boiler room. Storage space for a car of coal with a delivery chute in the alley, will be provided in the fuel room.

The drawings and list of specifications are voluminous and cover the minutest details. Every feature of the building, from the shade of paint to be used in the obscurest corners of the basement to the design of the exterior, is selected to fit into a splendid harmony.

The roof will be sloping tile with the three skylights upon the north slope and out of view from the front. Bids for construction of the building will be open at Washington November 30 and construction should begin within a very short while.

ONTARIO MAY CLOSE 22 OF ITS HOSPITALS

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 10.—Twenty-two hospitals in Ontario may be closed at the end of 1932 it has been learned. A drop of more than $1,000,000 in the income is given as the reason for the anticipated curtailment by the Ontario Department of Public Health.

Dr. J. M. Robb, minister of public health, addressing the delegates of the ninth annual convention of the Ontario Hospital association outlined the seriousness of the hospital problem within the province.

"In 1930," he said, "the income from hospitals was $8,600,000. It dropped to $7,800,000 last year and this year I fear there will be a drop of another million. Municipalities will be asked to pay an additional $400,000 and the government which last year contributed $1,775,000 already has paid out about $180,000 more than that this year."

Dr. Robb stated that at the present time there were more than 5,000 empty beds in Ontario hospitals. It was pointed out that there was an increasing number of free patients. Twenty-two hospitals in the province could be closed and no patients would have to travel more than 31 miles before receiving general hospital care.

The matter is being given careful attention and it is expected that some action may be taken at the next session of the Ontario legislature.

TWO KILLED; DAMAGE SET AT MILLION

(By United Press)

Terrific gales pounded the Atlantic seaboard today killing two persons, imperilling small vessels and causing property damage estimated at more than $1,000,000.

The storm was believed to be an after effect of the hurricane which struck Cuba, killing 18 persons, injuring at least 150, and devastating valuable sugar plantations for 200 miles.

New York police and soldiers in skiffs rescued more than 140 men, women and children marooned in cottages along the beaches. Rescue parties rowed through flooded streets, working rapidly to save the victims before they were carried out to sea.

THE CAMPAIGN HAS BEGUN.

The democratic party was commissioned to a mighty and glorious task Tuesday. Turning from a leadership that had faltered in the midst of a great crisis...

Not only has the American electorate commissioned Roosevelt and Garner to initiate their program of a "new deal in government" but it has provided them with ample opportunity and support for the best working of their program.

Ample majorities in both houses of congress, assuring legislative cooperation, and sympathetic governments in almost every state in the union await the next administration. If that administration fails to carry out its promises it must bear the responsibility for its failure.

There was no schism in the ranks of the opposition except that which was deflected into democratic ranks, attracted by confidence in the democratic program.

That voting public now looks to democratic leadership to fulfill its promises. It should be a moment of serious concern to the party, a moment of elation, certainly, that the opportunity to serve has come...

WTCC STUDIES COUNTY GOVT REFORM PLAN

STAMFORD, Nov 10.—With a view to offering and supporting a definite plan for the reorganization of county government in Texas at the general session of the forty-third legislature, the committee of the West Texas chamber of commerce on county reorganization has undertaken a definite study of county government, and two reorganizational proposals that have been made already.

The central public expenditure committee of the regional chamber, headed by Van Zandt Jarvis of Fort Worth, has furnished the members of the county reorganization committee a brief of information and facts about county government in Texas incorporating the program of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce announced at the Sweet-water convention, a critical analysis of county government, a recital of the experience of other states on county reorganization, the proposed C. A. Jay plan, the proposed home rule measure proposed at the forty-second legislature by Representative Walter Beck, and a syllabus of the present constitutional provisions affecting county government.

Members of the committee on county reorganization of the West Texas Chamber are: A. H. Brittain, Wichita Falls; Walter Beck, Austin; E. B. McClintock, El Paso; Senator Clint C. Small, Amarillo; Representative R. M. Wagstaff, Abilene; and Representative A. B. Tarwater, Plainview.

Chairman Jarvis outlines the program and purpose of the regional organization in the brief as follows:

Objective.—“Having in view a resolution adopted at the Fourteenth Annual Convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Sweet-water in May, 1932, one of the objectives of the organization is: Work to secure a more economical form of county government as may be provided for in the enactment of a home rule measure for county government.

The text of the Sweetwater resolution is: Resolved that the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, its Central Public Expenditure Committee, and affiliated committees favor and support the immediate enactment of such constitutional amendments and laws that will permit county home rule, consolidation of counties, one with another, providing such constitutional amendments and laws are applicable uniformly to all counties of the state.

The purpose of the brief this committee is submitting to the sub-committee on county reorganization is that the information that has been compiled by our committee and other agencies upon the problem may be studied by the sub-committee that it may be prepared to offer a county reorganization plan that will fit the needs and accomplish the purposes set out in our work program.

Neither of the two proposed plans on county reorganization may fit the needs, in the opinion of the committee, but both represent a tremendous amount of work and thought, and should enable the committee to formulate a proposal with a maximum of time and effort.”

AVOID THE DANGER OF CONSTIPATION

Delicious Cereal Overcomes This Condition Safely and Pleasantly

The first signs of constipation may be headaches, tired feelings, sallow complexions, sleeplessness, loss of appetite. If neglected, constipation may seriously impair health.

Today, you can banish constipation by simply eating a delicious cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regular habits. ALL-BRAN is also a good source of iron for the blood.

This "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is gentle in action similar to leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass, and gently clears out the intestinal wastes.

Two tablespoons daily will overcome most types of common constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or use in cooking. Appetizing recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Tea-Tasting Is Mysterious Art

By JUDGE GORDON

Your inquiring reporter went visiting the other day. Many letters have been coming in to me asking by a number of people was "how can experts determine whether tea will brew up well in the home?" To answer that question I visited a tea-buyer.

"Judge, said the very pleasant man who buys, tests, and tastes samples which represents over 13 million pounds of tea yearly, "the first and hardest thing to learn about the tea business is how to 'learn' what you think you have already learned."

The tea-buyer sat at a round table. There were a dozen or more cups of tea placed at irregular intervals around the edge of the table and as he spoke to me, he stirred up tea leaves from the bottom of the cups, revolving the table from cup to cup and inhaling the aroma.

I asked him to explain his statement to me. It sounded involved; but after his explanation I could see his point very clearly. He told me that "tea was a law unto itself."

Personal ideas and prejudices must not be present in the life of a tea-taster. He must think in ideas as wide as the world itself. And that is what the tea-taster takes years to unlearn — his own prejudices and ideas.

The tea-buyer's office is lined with shelves full of small tin boxes which has sent to him as samples from tea producing centers. When a crop from a "garden" is harvested the grower takes a sample of each grade of the tea after it has gone through the drying and curing process and mails it to him. An assistant weighs out equal amounts of the various samples, pours boiling water on them and then the work begins.

For a minute or two he allows the tea to brew. He believes that tea should be followed immediately from contact with boiling water, for every phase of reaction is important. He then stirs the leaves, breathing in the aroma. Next he lifts the leaves from each cup in turn, inhaling deeply. After smelling the tea in each cup, he starts at the first one again, examining the "infused" leaf for color and appearance, then comparing the infusion itself with that in the next and following cups. Then he tastes the tea, sipping it so that the liquid is forced against the palate.

As this tea-taster sits at the tasting table, he seems to be going through a ritual, so calmly and meditatively does he work. There is a far off look in his eyes, and he told me that he always pictured a tea garden in far off India or Ceylon to get himself in the "tea frame" of mind so vital to the successful tea-taster.

In addition to tasting tea, he makes and tests the blends of the teas he buys. Every day he goes to a factory in Brooklyn, lays out blends for the next day and checks the blends of the previous day. The tea for these blends, which are made in 100 to 1200 lb. batches, is compared by him with the samples the grower has submitted. Another phase of his duties is to open and test the various blends after they are boxed and before they are shipped. To that end dozens of boxes of Nectar and Mayfair tea are opened by him daily, and the same rigorous taste-testing goes through.

RATTLER IN OVERALLS

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Nov. 10.—Henry Wirth, Caliente, Cal., employed on a construction job near here, felt something wriggle on his chest beneath his bib overalls. He shook himself. A small rattlesnake slipped down his leg and fell to the ground. He killed the snake and resumed his work—but with considerable caution.

CATTLE RUSTLERS

GANN VALLEY, S. D., Nov. 10.—Cattle rustlers have been active in this area recently and several farmers have reported loss of live stock. Ben Knipping posted a $75 reward for information leading to the conviction of parties guilty of stealing five head of his cattle. An investigation was being conducted by Sheriff Bruce Barnes.

CONDITION OF HEALTH HERE REPORTED GOOD

The following is the report on health conditions in Cisco given by the city commission Tuesday evening by Dr. W. P. Lee, city health officer:

To the Honorable City Commission: I have been requested by the state board of health to furnish dealers in fish and oysters in this town with the names and addresses of certified producers, those who have complied with state regulations. This I have done. It is very important that the dealers be informed as to the source of the product they sell. Many years ago the Atlantic coast suffered a very fatal epidemic of typhoid fever, caused by an infected oyster bed.

According to our custom we visited the dairies supplying our citizens with milk and find them in better condition than ever before. This constant increase in cleanliness and efficiency is very encouraging. The problem of the distribution of milk is a puzzling one to solve. The ordinance exempting those having one health from the supervision of the health department, and that which exempts those who do not deliver sometimes caused dissatisfaction. It is difficult to draw a distinct line as to who shall and shall not sell milk. In this time of want and privation when every one is resorting to every means to make a few cents, it is hard to say that it shall not be done. However we shall endeavor to comply with the letter and the spirit of the law.

The cafes and the grocery stores are also in a highly commendable state of cleanliness, we find no fault with them. We have made the usual sanitary inspection, and have had places cleaned up that were reported to us as unsanitary, together with those found by us in our inspections.

The health of the town is good. There has been one home quarantined for scarlet fever and two for diphtheria. To suppress the spreading of a contagious disease in one of the ward schools, it was suggested that the principal send all the children home who had any indication of having the disease, and when they returned to school, that they bring a certificate from their family physician as to their freedom from the disease.

During the month of October there have been ten births and eight deaths. With this report I hand my receipt for health certificates written. W. P. Lee.

Chicago Corral Successors to Capone

A smartly appointed director's room on LaSalle street, Chicago's financial center, was the operating base for the rebuilt Capone crime syndicate, police claimed, after a raid on the office had resulted in arrest of almost all the old Capone leaders. Disguised as an engineer's office, police claim the office was an operating base for gigantic industrial and labor rackets.

Among those arrested were numerous former Capone henchmen who aspire to the over-lord title which Capone held for years before going to Atlanta prison. It was the greatest number of gang leaders ever to be in a Chicago jail at one time. Above are six of the leaders, at police show up. Left to right, Murry Humphries, the man who hopes to succeed Capone; William "Three Finger Jack" White, labor racketeer and gangster; Sam Alex, alleged safe blower; Charles Fischetti, former Capone chauffeur; William "Klondike" O'Donnell, labor racketeer and West Side gang leader; Joseph Moreno, who described himself as a cortage contractor.

COACH POINTS TO DANGERS OF ATHLETICS

A great deal is said about the advantages of athletics, but at the Rotary club luncheon today, paradoxical as you may wish to make it, a coach talked upon the disadvantages of athletics.

The coach was Wilson Elkins, of the Cisco high school. He was presented for a talk on "Boys" by O. J. Russell, program chairman for the day. Elkins narrowed his assignment into a 15-minute discussion of the unhealthful influences of publicity upon boys in school.

He took the position that the primary interest of the boy in school should be his studies, that he should not take into account that those who cheer them from the stands, bet upon their achievements and shower them with adulations, cannot and will not provide them with the opportunities they need for a success in life. When the playing years of these boys are over they are forgotten. For the greatest of the football stars he said, there is professional football but at the most this is limited to five or six years, and when that is over it is a cold, unfeeling world. In the high school is the proper place to begin training the boy to a sane attitude and outlook, he pointed out. In that period he is plastic. After he goes to college, if he has not developed the right attitude, it is too late. "It should be our concern that the boys in Cisco high school are developed properly and guided through college in such a way that they will be such that Cisco can continue to be proud of them," he told the club.

A Cold World Too many boys, said Elkins, neg-

Laymen to Speak at First Baptist Church

Three laymen will speak at the First Baptist church Sunday on the meaning of Stewardship, according to an announcement from Rev. E. S. James, pastor yesterday. They are W. D. Owen of Eastland, W. F. Walker of Cisco, and L. A. Welch of Breckenridge. These men have spoken at other churches on the subject, Rev. James said, and have received an enthusiastic response. The pastor has announced that his sermon for Sunday evening will be on "The Royalty of the Christian."

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD" THE HUNTER HUNTED! "Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by the famous artist, R. Atkinson Fox... inspired by the battle between an enraged bull buffalo and the savage Indian hunters whose lances roused the beast to furious charge. "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes. No raw tobaccos in Luckies —that's why they're so mild

THE PERIOD of six thousand five hundred and eighty-five days and eight hours, after which time all eclipses are repeated, is known as the Saros. After this length of time, the sun and moon return to nearly their original positions, but the eclipses are not visible in the same areas of the earth, because of the excess of eight hours in the period. During this eight hours the earth performs one-third of a rotation on its axis, which brings a different region under the sun.

No raw tobaccos in Luckies —that's why they're so mild WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes. "It's toasted" That package of mild Luckies

SORGHUM AIDS CORNBELT MEN IN DEPRESSION

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 10.—The depression has brought about the revival of one of the cornbelt's most flourishing pioneer industries that of making sorghum on the farm.

Faced with the problem of reducing the grocery bills as much as possible in view of low farm produce and grain prices, the farmers have turned to their fields of tall sorghum cane as one method of making "ends meet."

Sorghum mills that were stored in the hayloft many years ago when the manufactured syrups came on the market, have been taken apart, cleaned and put to work.

J. F. Grimm urged farmers who lived about him to plant fields of sorghum cane which he promised to convert into syrup on shares.

Grimm now is operating his old sorghum mill, converting tons of cane into sorghum for his neighbors, keeping his share and selling it.

And farmers wives are helping find a way to use up the surplus sorghum by canning many fruits with it rather than buying sugar.

Jess Drum and John Withers, near Stella, probably are the state's premier sorghum makers. Drum's father was an expert sorghum maker years ago, and the son is keeping up the reputation.

They are using a sorghum mill that has been at work since 1852. And here's how they make their sorghum.

Sorghum is crushed from the stalks of cane by a horse power mill. Then the juice is run into long, flat pans and heated over an out-door furnace. The juice is boiled until a rich, golden brown sorghum is produced. Seventy gallons of cane juice will make 11 gallons of good sorghum, Drum says.

FRANCE READY TO SHIP U. S. CHAMPAGNE

PARIS, Nov. 10. — French wine-growers are preparing to make Americans "champagne-conscious."

Confidently expecting the repeal of prohibition, producers of champagne have available one million francs to encourage Americans and others to drink the aristocrat of wines.

This "champagne war fund" has been given by the French ministry of agriculture to the champagne defense committee. It will be used not only for educational purposes, but also to check the sales of fake champagnes.

18 Months Limit
French wine growers expect an early return to the sales of the pre-prohibition era when Americans drank more than one-ninth of the bubble water exported. They are convinced that prohibition will end in less than 18 months. Optimism is widespread throughout the vineyard districts.

Cheerfulness exists despite the drawback that this year's wine production falls considerably below the country's needs. Of the 5,000,000 hectolitres normally required the crop this year will lack at least 1,000,000 hectolitres. Nevertheless the short crop will jump the price of millions of gallons of wines now in storage.

Growers Rejoicing
Champagne growers have particular cause for rejoicing in the formal announcement by the ministry of agriculture that 1932 has been a good champagne year. Although the quantity of this wine will be relatively small its marked excellence will tend to bolster the market level.

According to M. Henriot one of the largest champagne vintners in the Rheims district, "what good wine is bottled by the big firms this year will be of very high quality but small in quantity."

Ways and means of expending the million-franc champagne fund to explain the good vintages of champagne wines to the new generation of Americans and other supposedly untutored imbibers are to be discussed this month at a meeting of the champagne defense committee in Rheims.

AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION NEWS

From the Office of the County Agent and The Home Demonstration Agent.

The three-in-one event of the West Texas Pecan association at Rising Star November 18th and 19th makes this the premier pecan activity of the year. Combining the two days of pecan program with its barbecue and banquet with the pecan show and with the selection of material for the Texas pecan exhibit at the Chicago World's Fair should draw the attention of pecan men from all over this section.

Registration begins at 11:30 Friday morning in the exhibit building. The programs are open to everyone interested in pecans. The only charge made will be for the banquet that night. Probably the outstanding feature of the mornings discussions will be the talk by W. J. Millican on "Personal Opinions of Some Pecan Growers" followed by a rejoinder by his running mate Frank Moore. These two cowboys turned pecan growers are the hit of every pecan meeting which they attend. Dad Burkett, nut specialist of the Texas Department of Agriculture, is on the platform as is Commissioner of Agriculture, J. E. McDonald.

Lucas to Speak
H. G. Lucas, president of the National Pecan Marketing Ass'n. will have something interesting to say on pecan distribution.

Jimmie Rosborough horticulturist of A. & M. college extension service who will judge the exhibits is to tell how it is done while Miss Sallie Hill also of the extension service discusses pecans in the diet. Dr. Smith of the U. S. Pecan Laboratory at Austin is to discuss varieties of pecans to plant for maximum polonization. Ever have a lesson on identification of pecan budwood of the various varieties? That will be among the many other subjects to be exhausted. Two days chuck full of useful pecan information. Don't miss it.

Small premiums are offered on quart samples of Burkett, Halbert, Texas Prolific, Western Schley, Alexander, and other westerns and walnuts. Stuart, Success, Schley, Delmas, Mahan and other easterns. On native seedlings they are classed according to the best commercial nut, the best cracking quality, the heaviest nut, and the best quality meat. Exhibitors of natives are requested to bring two pounds of each each sample so one quart may be sent to the A. & M. college for testing in the hopes of locating new varieties worthy of propagation.

Selection of Exhibit
The third feature of the event concerns the selection of an exhibit for the Chicago World's Fair. The Texas Pecan association working jointly with the governor's World's Fair commission is making an effort to procure from this crop of pecans exhibit material for exhibit at Chicago in 1933 in the Texas building. Texas is seriously concerned with the creation of new markets for Texas pecans. The average sight seer at Chicago knows them only as the inferior Mexican nut which is marketed under the trade name of Texas pecan. We wish to acquaint these potential buyers with the superior qualities of Texas pecans.

Exhibitors who consent for their samples to be held over will leave them to be sent to Texas department of agriculture where the complete display will be assembled.

The Rising Star program opens at 11 o'clock Friday morning, the 18th of November. There will be a goat barbecue that noon. The afternoon program resumes at 2 p. m. and there is to be a pecan banquet that night. On Saturday morning the program will open at 10 o'clock and carry on until noon. The show and meeting is open to the world but Eastland county pecan growers are urged to take an active part in making the event a grand success.

11 SENIORS IN T.C.U. STARTING LINEUP FRIDAY

FORT WORTH, Nov. 10.—Eleven seniors will appear in the starting line-up for Texas Christian university against the University of Texas when the opening whistle blows on the gridiron at 2:30 p. m. here tomorrow.

Eleven seniors who have never tasted victory over the Longhorns, but who have twice seen themselves cut off from a chance at the conference flag in bitterly fought battles producing narrow margins of victory for the Steers.

At the ends will be Pap Pruitt (195 pounds) and Dan Salkeld (190) the former an all-conference wingman of last season Pruitt, cut with injuries early in the season, is again at his peak. Salkeld throughout the season has shown improvement over anything he had done before for the Frogs.

The tackle positions will be filled by Ben E. Powell (220) and Foster Howell (200), the former an all-conference selection of 1930.

At the guards will be Lon Evans (230) and Capt. Johnny Vaught, (185) J. W. Townsend (190) will hold down the center position. Here again another all-conference man shows up — Capt. Vaught.

This is the line that has gained a wide reputation this year as the strongest the Southwest conference has to offer. Their jobs will be to stop the rushes of Kay, Stafford, Hilliard, et al. and while this is no small a feat, Frogs supporters are inclined to believe these seniors will do it.

In the backfield the Christians will present Hubert Dennis (175) at quarter, Blundell Spearman (175) and Red Oliver (175) at halves, and Doc Sumner (175) at full. Will this quartet supply a scoring punch, is the question that is being asked by all on the eve of the game. The answer is that it has to date.

The Frogs have the highest scoring record of any major team in the nation to date — the figure being 245 for eight games. The defensive records is 17 points scored against them.

In three conference games the Frogs have scored 78 points and permitted 12 to be made against them — an average of 26 points scored per game and 4 points per game against them. In the same number of games the Steers have scored 51 points and had 12 chalked up against them — an average of 19 points per game on offensive and 4 points per game on defensive. It should be noted, however, that the Steers have met the tough Rice Owls, while the Frogs' opposition has come entirely from the teams in the lower conference standings.

Baby Contest Not Hurt by Depression

Talk of depression or changes in the administration of national politics have not affected Walton's 14th Annual Baby Contest which opened Nov. 5 and closes Nov. 19.

Mr. Walton says that he is anticipating an unusual patronage this year for this event. There has never been a time when there were prettier babies and more of them, and then again Mr. Walton is perhaps better equipped to do an unusual quality of work and is willing to do the very best for the minimum charges possible. But those who have patronized Walton's Studio in the past never worry about the quality of his work. He urges mothers to list their babies early so that proper attention may be given to their photographs. It takes time, he says, to make good picture.

How One Woman Lost 10 Lbs. in a Week

Mrs. Betty Luedke of Dayton writes: "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight—I lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it."

To take off fat easily SAFELY and HARMLESSLY take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast, go lighter on fatty meats, potatoes, butter, cream and pastries—it is the safe way to lose unsightly fat and one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Get it at Moore Drug Co. or any drug store in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back.

But be sure and get Kruschen Salts—imitations are numerous and you must safeguard your health. —Adv.

Week-end MURDER

GABRIELLE E. FORBUSH

PROLOGUE

QUIET reigned in the big, high-ceilinged, old-fashioned room with its comfortably worn furniture, richly dark hangings and blazing open fire. Two men—outwardly, at least, enjoying their silent companionship—sat reading and smoking before the smoldering logs. Each occupied a deep, luxurious chair, so high of back that only the tops of two heads showed from the room behind them.

Quiet... except for an occasional stir and thump when a burned log parted and showered out the sparks... and except for the subdued yet irritating creak-creak-break of shoe-leather as the foot of one crossed leg, poised before the fire, automatically circled back and forth on a narrow arc and at times stopped, emphasizing the slight sound by its temporary cessation.

The owner of the foot sometimes cracked the pages of his evening paper with a quick, nervous, meaningless gesture which never failed to bring up the other man's head sharply—only to have the frown smoothed out by an immediate effort of will as his eyes dropped again to his book. His apparent wish to concentrate on its pages seemed to escape the notice of his more restless companion who, as he skimmed through the paper, frequently interjected a low exclamation, a muttered comment, on the news before his eyes. Suddenly he came to something which caught and held his interest.

"Hmp!" he exclaimed. "They say now that truck driver didn't kill the girl in the Harlem store. Seems he has an alibi."

"Yes?"

The other's voice was smooth, expressionless. It simply filled the gap left for some sort of response.

"Um... but no one else'd have any motive, they say... looking now for a homicidal maniac."

"Yes?" Again a colorless tone, yet under its surface courtesy lurked more than a suggestion of irritation.

"Uh-huh. That changes the whole case. A lunatic's another thing again. That is, I suppose the man's a lunatic. Nowadays they divide the types of insanity into such different classifications. But psychology's your line, not mine."

THERE was the respite of a few moments' silence, then the foot began to move again, back and forth, back and forth, its faint squeak-creak, squeak-creak through the quiet room. The meter was not quite regular, not quite what a listener would subconscious-ly expect.

Then the voice went on again, comfortable, relaxed, indolent. "Just what is a homicidal maniac?"

So quickly, so quietly had the other risen that he was standing over the man in the chair before a single startled upward look could more than catch the fixed glare of the eyes and the inhuman, teeth-baring grin. There was a tense, animal-like spring... the foot twitched convulsively once... the warm leather squeaking suddenly... and was still.

Utterly still as the room was utterly quiet. No creaking, restless rhythm, no rattling pages. The newspaper lay where it had fallen from an inert hand.

The old house was quiet, too. The four-story building with its single apartments on each floor wanted no hall service. There was no one to see a well-groomed, well set-up man—a recently arrived visitor—leave the apartment of one of the tenants, carrying a brief case and a portmanteau of somewhat traveled appearance.

The man paused in the lower hall to light a cigaret with steady, competent fingers, and again on the front steps to consult his watch by the light of the overhead lamp. Somehow he conveyed the idea of a man about to take a late night train, yet one unhurried and with plenty of time to make it comfortably.

There had been that whining, crying baby in India—strange what a fuss people made over a child already half-dead from heat and improper feeding... a nuisance to itself and to everyone else!

And the woman who would tease for jade when he had brought her amethysts—!

And now, just recently, this persistent, obviously ill-minded individual with his itching curiosity about things that didn't concern him and his exasperating, infuriating little personal habits—that way of clearing his throat, of rattling his newspaper, of squeaking his shoes in two-four rhythm and then suddenly breaking it off, holding the foot in suspense, starting in again in a different meter.

Well—all neatly disposed of—without undue trouble or excitement. At least none that touched him. After all, how silly to put too great a value on human life! Molecules all—but for the sake of those who went on living, the more annoying molecules should be eliminated. Surely that was the highest sanity.

Sanity—as the word crossed his mind, the man again moved restlessly. Then through the open window came a breath of the sea and he relaxed and smiled with complete, tranquil pleasure. A lovely part of the country this—Long Island—and the holiday week-end offered a pleasant interlude as a guest in a comfortable, almost luxurious home, with charming host and hostess. The water... the garden... the very nearly had. The explanation bother about the past? The present promised delightfully. Life could be decidedly agreeable—and this was one of its most agreeable phases.

CHAPTER I

"HELLO, Tommy! I'm so glad you got home before any of the company came!"

Linda Averill, piling out with myriad bundles from the little roadster, found her husband acting as butler at the open door of their recently acquired Long Island home.

"Wherever did you get all this truck—!" he grumbled. "Thought you said this morning you were all ready for the gang to arrive?"

"Oh—people do forget things. Cook and Nanna—and I do myself."

"And anyhow, it's a nice day and a run over to Port—"

"Exactly. Carry this in, too, that's a dear. Careful! It's shrimps! How long've you been here?"

"Half an hour or so. Came on the 2:11 and walked up. Decided I'd better be here before anyone arrived. You always have half a dozen things to tell me to remember not to forget." He grinned wickedly.

"Pig! Well—this time there are a few."

"Shoot!"

She had pulled off her driving gloves, looking ridiculously little beside his heavy leather ones on the hall bench.

"Whew! It's hot when you're not in motion! Come out on the front lawn—there's time. We're in for a regular Fourth of July spell, I guess. Why, there's the boat!"

"Hennessey ran her up to the anchor an hour ago." Averill's voice showed his pride in the trim little cabin cruiser dancing in the small bay before the house. "Glad he rushed the job through—I imagine we'll keep her humming most of the week-end."

"Well—things have changed a bit."

Dropping as easily as a child to the soft grass, Linda pulled gently at the ears of an infirm old terrier which had come trotting up to join them as soon as they appeared on the terraced lawn. The old dog puffed heavily after the exertion of the short, waddling run.

"Tom," Linda broke off suddenly. "Poor old Bunty's getting blinder and deaf and wheezier every day."

"Yes. We must do something... wait until the end of summer, though."

THE old dog flopped over by Linda's knees in the outstretched abandon of utter comfort. Hearing her name mentioned, she wagged her absurd tail lazily. The two humans, feeling the treachery of their thoughts, petted her with sudden, guilty tenderness.

"I never thought I could bear to have an asthmatic old dog around me," said Linda sadly. "and now I can't bear the idea of putting her away."

"Well—the summer may make a difference," her husband offered vaguely. Then, remembering the trend of the conversation, he seized upon it to leave the unwelcome subject.

"You said things had changed. Anyone back out?"

"Someone backed in. You remember Cousin Amos Peabody? That distant relative person from Boston? Due to arrive any moment... driving out from town."

A total sum of about five dollars was collected when Mrs. Hubert Seale read a clever poem using the given names of members, each one bringing forth her birthday offering when called upon. A salad course was served, and later the lovely birthday cake which was baked by Mrs. Crigler Paschall and decorated by Mrs. Jimmie Allen, was cut, and members drew for favors.

Those present were Mesdames Joe Wilson, Mary Andres, C. E. Hickman, Sam King, Ocie Leveridge, Jimmie Allen, Hubert Seale, Wm. Ragan, Charles Yates, J. D. Midgley, Crigler Paschall, and the hostesses, Mrs. Merket and Mrs. Huestis.

This is the BANK that SERVICE is Building

EASY LOANS and safety for depositors won't mix any better than oil and water.

Because of its obligation to protect your deposit, this bank declines to lend money except to borrowers of known responsibility and on adequate security. At the same time it is a bank where reputable borrowers requiring money for legitimate purposes are sure of adequate and willing accommodation.

Protection of depositors and support of local enterprise are both assured by this bank's sound, conservative policies.
