BIG FIVE ORDERS R. R. STRIKE DECEMBER 7

SHOCKLEY, WITH CITY 8 YEARS, RESIGNS TO JOIN HICKOK AND REYNOLDS; FEWELL ADVANCED

Lonnie Shockley, city secretary, resigned that position at last night's meeting of the city commission and will enter the employ of Hickok & Reynolds, as bookkeeper, on Nov. 15.

A committee composed of Commissioners Charles J. Kleiner and Neil Lane was instructed to look into the qualifications of applicants for the soon-to-be-vacant position and report back to the commission.

The resignation of Mr. Shockley was received with sincere regret by the commission, all of whom joined Mayor G. P. Mitcham in the statement that Mr. Shockley's resignation was a distinct loss to the present administration. He entered the city's service more than eight and a half years ago and has been very popular with both the general public and the various city officials with whom he has worked.

Shockley's addition to the working personnel of Hickok & Reynolds follows the death of lamented Roswell Daniel, who was office manager. W. W. Fewell, who has served with the company for the past five years as auditor, will now assume the duties of Mr. Daniel, with Charles Clark advancing to the position of auditor. Jack Lauderdale and Lonnie Shockley, bookkeepers, complete the office force.

Present at the commission meeting last night were Mayor G. P. Mitcham and Commissioners A. V. Clark, Neil Lane, Edward Lee, George Boyd, Charles J. Kleiner and Secretary Shockley. Mrs. Bob Gilman, Newt Mahaney and A. B. O'Flaherty were visitors.

CISCO HIGH BOY WRITES MOTHER AMIDST DANGER

One of Cisco's outstanding high school students—Roy Little of the class of '39—has recently had some thrilling experiences out on the high seas. When the "Kearney" was attacked by a German submarine recently, the shattered hull plates and other damages rendered her unable to proceed. She was maneuvered by the destroyer Monssen to the tender for repairs. Roy Little was one of the crew aboard the Monssen.

In a letter, written Oct. 19, to his mother, Mrs. Frances Little, he displays a real Texas boy's appreciation of a box from home, even amidst the crucial surroundings. He quotes a paragraph: "I received your letter today and the box of candy about two weeks ago. Really you can't imagine how pleased I was to get them both. We have received mail twice in the last two months, so you can readily see we've been unable to write letters or receive them. I am unable to tell you what is happening and where I am at present, therefore there is very little news I can give you. I am hoping you are well, and I want you to know I love you. ROY."

THOMPSON RELEASED.
BROWNWOOD, Nov. 12.—Orders releasing Col. Ernest O. Thompson, commander of the 141st Infantry Regiment of the 36th Division from active military duty Nov. 24, by direction of the president, were announced Wednesday. The orders recited that Thompson was being released because of the importance of his civilian duties as chairman of the Railroad Commission, oil regulatory body of Texas.

WILL INSTALL CABLE.
DENISON, Nov. 12.—The American Telephone and Telegraph company Wednesday was making preparations to install a submarine cable in Red River, seven miles east of here. The cable, wound on five giant spools, weighs almost a quarter of a million pounds.

ALLOCATION TO END PROBLEM OIL MATERIALS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Substitution of allocations for the present priorities system for the distribution of critical materials and machinery may go a long way toward ending the confusion and delay in securing materials for the oil industry, it was indicated Wednesday.

While officials directly concerned with oil industry priorities had not been completely informed as to the operation of the new plan, they were confident that the oil industry, which has been designated one of the major defense industries, will receive its fair share of steel and steel products during the coming year.

The office of Petroleum Co-ordinator Ickes has estimated that approximately 5,846,000 tons of steel and metal will be needed for the oil industry during 1942. This will represent approximately five per cent of the Nation's production.

Whether the full estimate will be met by the new allocations will not be known for some time, but barring unforeseen developments, officials believe that a major part, at least, of the request will be met.

More than half of the steel which the oil industry will need next year, OPC estimated, will be used for the drilling and operation of new wells and in the production end of the industry. On the basis of approximately 30,000 new wells in 1942, OPC requested 3,175,000 tons of steel for production.

If this estimate of the number of wells for which materials are needed is carried through it would mean virtually no curtailment of drilling activities during the coming year.

During 1940 a total of 30,051 wells were drilled in the United States and in previous years the number was even smaller. There would be no provision, however, for any substantial increase in the number of new wells.

Steel needs for other branches of the industry included 1,843,000 tons for pipe lines, tank cars and tank trucks; 647,000 tons of refining, including new facilities for producing aviation gasoline, and 181,000 tons for marketing, OPC estimated.

The OPC declared that the amount will be needed by the oil industry "to carry on operations in 1942 on a scale calculated to meet all of the defense program." Officials of the co-ordinator's office have indicated that they will vigorously press for an allocation equal to this amount.

EDUCATION FOR DEMOCRACY IS CATHOLIC THEME

FT. WORTH, Nov. 12.—Shaping Catholic education into an instrument for strengthening democracy will be one of the foremost topics on the program of the Diocesan Teachers' Institute of the Dallas diocese, to be held here Friday at Our Lady of Victory college.

The subject will be discussed before the 350 delegates by presidents of two Catholic schools of higher learning in Texas. Dr. John McMahon, president of Our Lady of the Lake college at San Antonio, will talk at the opening session on "Education for Democracy." The same theme will run through the final address of the conference by Very Rev. Walter F. Golatka, president of St. Mary's university at San Antonio, who will talk on "Revitalizing Catholic Education for the Defense of Our Democracy."

PLAYMATES, BUT NOT FOR LONG—A little lass who ventured into a Texas turkey pen found the gobblers to be great fun as they strutted about, bobbing and gobbling. But it won't be long now before they'll be Thanksgiving dinners.

LIVESTOCK AUCTION RECEIPTS TUESDAY BACK TO NORMAL, AT $4,821; TRIGG SELLS INTEREST

Back to normal were the receipts of the Cisco Livestock Exchange auction sales Tuesday when Secretary Booth reported that the entries knocked down to bidders amounted to $4,921.

The management announces a slight change in the ownership of the Exchange with the retirement of J. A. Trigg as one of the stockholders, he having disposed of his interests to his associates, John Jones, Joe Coats and Billy Bacon, who are now sole owners. Paul Booth is secretary and Joe Coats is auctioneer, as the former auctioneer had to relinquish this job on account of sickness and Coats took up the work with such satisfactory results that it was decided to continue him in that capacity.

Following are those who disposed of their entries Tuesday:

Trigg & Montgomery, Cisco, 57 cattle; $1,024.75.

Eastland County Has Only Woman Jailer

Eastland county is the only one of the 254 Texas counties with an official woman jailer. She is Mrs. J. Ross Crossley, widow of the late J. Ross Crossley, who has been jailer ever since Sheriff Loss Woods took over the office.

"It is true, so far as I am informed, that Mrs. Crossley is the only officially designated woman county jailer in Texas, but a large per cent of the counties have sheriffs living in the jail, and in reality their wives are jail keepers, if performing the duties of that office makes them jailers," said Sheriff Woods, in speaking of Mrs. Crossley's appointment.

Say one thing for Stalin. His was the only government with brains enough to prepare for what was coming.

BRITAIN LOWERS LOSSES

Britain and the Soviet Union reported gains on sea and land fronts against the Axis Wednesday, and looked toward the distant day when, with increased American aid, a great new allied fleet will permit them to take the offensive.

Both King George and Prime Minister Churchill spoke at the opening of the new session of parliament, where colorful traditional ceremonies showed little change despite the war.

Mr. Churchill, disclosing for the first time that Rudolph Hess, former Hitler favorite, who flew from Germany to Scotland last May, had said Hitler was counting on "starvation attack" to defeat Britain, reported that British shipping losses have been cut to 180,000 tons per month for the last four months—a reduction of about 1-5 from the previous four months—and that the allies should have enough vessels in 1943 to strike with great force at the Axis.

TEX. COURT CRIMINAL APPEALS IN SECTIONS: WILL PASS ON RIGHTS JEHOVAH WITNESSES PEDDLE PAMPHLETS FIRST ON 7TH, THEN 8TH, 9TH

AUSTIN, Nov. 12.—Another case rivaling in national interest the recent hearing of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals on validity of the so-called O'Daniel Anti-Strike law, will be heard by the same court Nov. 19.

The case involves validity of ordinances of Texas towns where Jehovah Witnesses were arrested on charges of selling magazines and pamphlets in violation of peddling regulations.

Originally set for presentation to the court on Nov. 12, the case was postponed a week to permit Hayden C. Covington of Brooklyn, N. Y., general counsel for Jehovah's Witnesses, to be present.

Covington, together with Joseph F. Rutherford of Brooklyn, have joined F. W. Steinle of Jourdan, Tex., local counsel, in filing an appeal from the Wilson county court's refusal to release Tully B. Killam, who was charged with violating a Floresville, Tex., ordinance against street peddling.

Combined with the Killam case, the court will hear similar appeals from Lamar, Comanche and Kerr counties, where action was taken against Jehovah's Witnesses.

The written arguments presented in the Killam case contain what is probably the most ancient law citation ever given to Texas' court of appeals.

The citation is from a Roman court decision in Palestine and the quotation given is from the Bible. The citation given for the case is Acts of the Apostles, chapter five, verse 26, and is said to have been the declaration of a counsellor heeded in prosecution of Christian preachers:

"Refrain from these men and let them alone, for if this counsel or this work be of men, it will come to naught; but if it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it; lest haply ye be found even to fight against God."

More modern citations are given from cases in Florida, Idaho and elsewhere, where similar ordinances were held unconstitutional.

Killam is an ordained minister, the application to the court sets out. The stipulated facts upon which the case will be presented admits sale of the pamphlets.

The peddling ordinance is described in the appeal as unconstitutional because it denies the right of free speech, free press and free worship and also declares it violates the due process clause of the United States constitution.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM TO BE PUT ON BY MERCHANTS, CITIZENS DEMANDS FULL SUPPORT OF ALL

The executive committee for the lighting and trade expansion campaign for December will meet at 9 o'clock Thursday morning at the chamber of commerce building, said Chairman Nick Miller today.

"We want to put this over in a big way," said Mr. Miller, "but it all depends upon the financial support we get from local business concerns. Before we can really plan for the celebration, which is to be town-wide and for the entire month of December, we must have the finances in hand. Every dollar spent is going to be squeezed and thoroughly accounted for, but that doesn't mean we are going to be niggardly in spending where ample returns should be expected. But then if merchants do not properly support the campaign, little could be expected even if we had the finances on hand," Mr. Miller continued.

The committee will begin the drive for finances tomorrow. After it is found just how enthusiastic business men are for the Christmas trade campaign, then the executive committee will know how to plan for making it a campaign really worth something to Cisco and this trade territory.

The committee has in mind, Mr. Miller said, to make this trade expansion and Christmas lighting event one that will be worth much to Cisco. It will all depend on how enthusiastic the support and response to the financial drive proves to be.

So far the response has been splendid, and several members of the committee have remarked that it really seemed like the Old Cisco Spirit that used to do things was coming back again.

SEVEN BURNED TO DEATH.

VICHY, Nov. 12.—Gen. Charles Huntziger, minister of war in the Vichy cabinet, was burned to death with seven others in an airplane crash in southern France today while enroute to report to Marshall Henri P. Petain on an important inspection tour of North Africa.

MRS. COPAS RE-ELECTED.
ABILENE, Nov. 12.—At the closing session of the Texas Baptist W. M. U. Tuesday afternoon Mrs. B. A. Copas was chosen for her eleventh year as president of the body.

LIEUT. GRAVES NOW ON DUTY HAMILTON FIELD

News received in Cisco states that T. J. Graves has now been commissioned second lieutenant in the air corps reserve and is on active duty at Hamilton Field, fighter-plane base near San Francisco.

As a pilot of the 45th air base group, Lieutenant Graves will fly the latest type of fast pursuit plane.

He has been placed on active duty for one year, but this period may be renewed during the present national emergency. At the end of that time he may be relieved and accept private employment with a civilian air line, while retaining his reserve rank of lieutenant.

Hamilton Field, Lieutenant Graves' present station, is commanded by Col. Michael F. Davis, who fought and flew in the last war and who still pilots his own plane.

Graves is a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Graves, 1010 W. Seventh street, Cisco. He graduated from the University of Texas last year.

LIONS HEAR CISCO JUNIOR COLLEGE TRIO

The Lions program today was in charge of Lion H. R. Garrett, vice president of Cisco Junior college, and consisted of numbers by pupils of the college. Lion Garrett explained that flu and other causes cut down the personnel of his program, but it was still a good one.

Edward King played piano solo.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—The "Big Five" operating Brotherhoods of Railway Labor (representing 350,000 workers) today set a series of three effective strike dates on the nation's rail carrier.

The first strike is to be at 6 a. m. on Sunday, December 7, when one-third of the Big Five workers will cease operations.

At the same hour on December 8 another third will stop work.

On December 8, same hour, the remainder of the 350,000 union men are scheduled to quit.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The resignation of CIO members from the National Defense Mediation Board spread today to the OPM with the resignation of John Owens as chief CIO labor relations consultant.

It is understood that Owens, the CIO chief-tain in Ohio, withdrew from the OPM in protest against the Mediation Board's refusal to recommend the union shop contract for John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers Union in the captive coal mines.

This resignation, coupled with that of Phillip Murray and Thomas Kennedy from the Mediation Board, aroused speculation as to whether there would be a general exodus of CIO leaders from the national capitol.

los and also accompanied himself on the piano while he sang a vocal solo.

Miss Melba Wood gave readings which were well received.

Lion Garrett made some rather interesting remarks about Armistice Day and said, among other things, that food may win the war.

Dr. Swanson, dentist, and Leonard King, band leader, were guests at the luncheon.

President O. L. Stamey reported on the zone meeting at Breckenridge last week and announced that the next meeting would be held at Graham some time in January. This zone is composed of Cisco, Eastland, Ranger, Breckenridge and Graham clubs.

PEACE IN PACIFIC.

Saburo Kurusu, Japanese
 trouble shooter, comes buzzing to Washington in a blare of publicity to fix up Japanese-American relations and avoid war. That is fine—if he and his government are sincere about it and willing to avoid extravagant demands
 and listen to reason.

The Japanese say they want peace in the Pacific.
 That is what we want. We want peace in China, in the Philippines, in the Dutch Indies, in Thailand, in the islands of the sea.

We want peace because it is the decent and profitable way of life. Without the burden of wars and warships and armies, all of us whose front doors open on the Pacific Ocean could work and trade profitably and live comfortably, enjoying each other's society and sharing each other's culture. Wars of conquest, even when successful, no longer pay, as Japan herself
 should know.

Peace and the "Co-Prospere-rity" that Japanese statesmen talk about cannot be achieved without renunciation of armed conquest. Both morality and mutual interest demand particularly that China shall be free. And Japan herself would profit greatly by recognizing that fact.

AGGRESSIVE MOOSE.

There have been many reports in recent years of the increase in wild life in America. The most startling one current comes from Maine
 where farmers on their own land, motorists on the highways and even people on village streets have been cheived about by wild moose. This noble but ferocious animal has been protected in Maine
 for ten years or more. Citizens now say the wrong animal is being protected, that they have become the hunted,
 and something must be done
 about it.

The moose no longer leap for the tall timber when they find themselves in a populous area. Instead they charge the hapless people who cross their path. One story tells of a moose that stopped a two-car party driving along a road at midnight. The people expected just to sit still until the moose decided to go away, but the antlered monarch of the waste didn't like the plan. Furiously he charged one car,
 breaking windows, fenders
 and door. The occupants jumped out and spent the next 15 minutes frantically dodging while the moose pursued.
 When he tired of chasing them he concentrated on wrecking the cars. It was half an hour before he wear-ed of this sport and went off into the woods. Somebody should inform those fellows
 how much more fun they'd have if they patterned their behavior after that of "Honk,
 the Moose," the four-footed hero of Phil Strong's delightful book.

LOYAL LABOR.

It is natural to compare the procedure of American organized labor with British organized labor, urgently needing smooth and continuous factory operation. An American newspaper man familiar with the labor situation in both countries writes:

"There are no racketeers in organized labor in England.
 No labor leader has enriched himself at the expense of the union. No member of a labor union was ever beaten up by

MAKING HENS LAY

ELMO V. COOK,
 Eastland County Agent.

Most Eastland county farm families would rather use rotten eggs on Hitler than to produce good fresh eggs to help whip him, but it's going to take the fresh ones
 to get the job done.

We must produce plenty of fresh eggs for our own folks, some to ship to Britain and some extra ones to store in the U. S. for emergency. For 1942, the Defense Board has asked Eastland county to produce 931,000 dozens of eggs, an increase of 15 per cent over the 1941 production.

The average hen in the county produced about 95
 eggs this year and to reach the goal it will be necessary for this average hen to increase her production 14 eggs
 in 1942.

The guarantee of price support made by the U. S. department of agriculture of 22 cents per dozen for eggs (Chicago basis) insures those who fill their poultry houses to capacity some profits if they follow the rules of good management. There is no doubt that Eastland county can do a lot more than reaching her goal in egg production in 1942 if the hens now on the farms are properly cared for.

Some oats should be sowed
 NOW if there is to be green feed for chickens this winter. The quality of the grazing will be improved if hairy winter vetch is mixed with the oats. The vetch will supply good grazing in the early spring until sudan grass can be gotten up for spring and summer grazing. Green pasture is necessary for economical production of eggs and native pasture will not be near as good as the sowed pasture. Oats sowed in the fall for grazing on one fourth of the crop-land will help earn the 1942 AAA farm payment.

If there has been any fowl pox
 or sorehead on the farm in past years, all birds on the farm should be vaccinated NOW for fowl pox.
 It costs about half a cent per bird
 to do this and the bird is immunized for life. It is best to vaccinate the pullets in the summer
 but it isn't too late to vaccinate
 if it hasn't already been done.

Hens won't lay many eggs
 if they are infested with blue-bugs, lice and intestinal worms.

Bluebugs can be kept down by painting or spraying the woodwork in the house every six months with a mixture of one quart carbolium and one gallon kerosene. This destroys the large ones and thus eliminates the small ones. Lice can be controlled by dipping the birds in a mixture of one tablespoonful sodium floride and one gallon warm water. Dip all the birds except the head and ruffle the feathers while they are in the mixture to get them wet to the skin. Hold the beak shut and right out. This should be done early on a warm day, so the hens will dry before night. To keep lice to a minimum, build a dust box in one corner of the laying house and keep a mixture of wood ashes and sodium flori-
 de in it.

To keep down intestinal worms,
 give the birds a worm pill before they start laying or while they are molting and about every 30 to 45 days give a flock treatment of some good worm powder
 in the mash.

Feed a good mash made especially for laying hens and keep the hens in good flesh, but not too fat, by feeding scratch grain every day. If sufficient grain is raised on the farm, buy 32 per cent poultry protein supplement and mix it with twice as much ground grain. This lowers the cost of the mash, but not the quality. The best starter mash that can be bought is not too good

DORMANT IRON BEDS E. TEXAS COMING ALIVE

LONGVIEW, Nov. 12. — Three corporations pressed forward today to develop East Texas' great, dormant iron beds that stretch across 23 counties.

One of the corporations already was in production, turning out 30 tons of pig iron daily. The corporation, capitalized by local financiers, also has erected a steel refining plant nearby.

Two others—the Sheffield steel company of Houston and a group of Dallas capitalists—were making plans to utilize the ore in the immediate future.

The great iron beds that challenge in size the large Minnesota deposits have been common Southwestern knowledge since the Civil war when charcoal furnaces produced iron for manufacture of Confederate war material.

It was not, however, until Julius Madaris developed a radical method of smelting two years ago that the East Texas iron beds became of commercial value. The Detroit engineer perfected a process for reduction of iron ore that used cracked natural gas, abundant throughout the state. His method featured a refining process by chemical reaction.

Previous to this iron ore had been smelted by coal and limestone. Lack of these two minerals in the Southwest and high freight rates which prohibited their shipment made it too expensive to mine the East Texas ore.

Much of the East Texas ore, mineralogists report, is of high grade, containing up to 50 per cent iron. This compares favorably with the Mesabi range ore.

Industrialists believe that completion of the proposed Trinity river barge canal in addition to the development of the East Texas ore would constitute a strong boost to the national defense program and could logically help bring about the long-awaited industrialization of the state.

Rest assured that He in whom dwelleth all life, health, and holiness, will supply all your needs according to His riches in glory. —Mary Baker Eddy.

U. OF T.'S 11TH PUBLIC SALE NOVEMBER 14

AUSTIN, Nov. 12.—The University of Texas' 11th public auction of oil and gas leases on the university's wide-flung West Texas lands will be held in Austin Nov. 14 with two changes.

The sale this time will be conducted in a hotel ball room and its auctioneer will not be picturesque Colonel E. Walters of Skeedee, Okla.

New auctioneer will be M. M. Mullins of Houston. Mullins has been in Austin recently going over the data on the tracts to be offered at the auction.

Under Colonel Walters' hammer, the University of Texas has disposed of leases for which cash bonuses totaling millions of dollars have been paid.

Beside the cash bonus the purchaser pays over to the University of Texas, he is required to pay the university a royalty of one-eighth of the oil or gas produced in the tract. After the first year, the purchaser pays an annual acreage rental on the tract until oil or gas is produced in commercial quantities. Then royalties supplant the rental. The purchaser pays, too, an auction fee of one per cent of the amount of his successful bid.

Previous University oil and gas lease auctions were held in the Land Office building or in the hearing room of the State Highway building. Lack of room in these buildings has necessitated a transfer of the auction to the Stephen F. Austin hotel.

Colonel Walters seldom sees his name written or printed correctly. Colonel is his first NAME, not a military title. Now over 75 years of age, he has been auctioning land for the University of Texas for almost 10 years and for the U. S. Department of Interior for more than 30 years.

Over six feet tall, straight as an Indian's arrow, Colonel Walters is an imposing personage. His dress accentuates his personality. With a celluloid collar he wears jewelry worth thousands of dollars—gifts from Indian tribes whose land he has sold to their advantages.

For truth and duty it is ever the fitting time, who waits until circumstances completely favor his undertaking, will never accomplish anything.—Luther.

PRAYER MEETING.

The regular mid-week prayer service of the First Baptist church will be held this evening at the regular hour 7:30. The pastor will be in town to conduct it. The officers and teachers of the Sunday school will meet following the prayer and praise service.

George Horace Lorimer, former editor of the Saturday Evening Post, began his climb to an international figure and fame in the canning department of Armour & Company in Chicago.

NICE QUESTION: Why can your skates skim over ice, but not on slickest glass? Because the stroke of the blade melts the ice slightly to provide lubrication.

And why can an ice-cold engine that's OIL-PLATED give smooth, lubricated starts, while lubrication that depends on fast flow alone can often mean harmful dragging starts? Because OIL-PLATING can be up to topmost piston rings before mere fast flow could begin to get there.

An OIL-PLATED engine is yours as you change to popular-priced Conoco Nth oil for Winter. Its man-made extra substance bonds OIL-PLATING—as if "magnetized"—all over inner engine parts. OIL-PLATING can't all quickly drain down. Then before the starter starts, OIL-PLATING can be ready against oil-starved Winter starting...

But what soon melts any snow on the hood? Yes, the air underneath gets hotter than hotcha. And then you want the sort of oil economy that took first place for Conoco Nth in the sensational Death Valley Death-Test. Along with five other great quality brands, Conoco Nth showed how long it could stand heat and speed. Each of six identical everyday cars got one strict 5-quart fill of some competing brand tested. All six brands were run alike, without one added drop, till each oil and engine gave out. The Certified Results:

- The 5-quart fill in Car No. 2 gave out when Conoco Nth was still up at 3.65 quarts
- The 5-quart fill in car No. 4 gave out when Conoco Nth was still up at 3.55 quarts
- The 5-quart fill in car No. 6 gave out when Conoco Nth was still up at 3.40 quarts
- The 5-quart fill in car No. 5 gave out when Conoco Nth was still up at 3.20 quarts
- The 5-quart fill in car No. 1 gave out when Conoco Nth was still up at 2.70 quarts

Save quarts—save battery—save engine. Change at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station today to Conoco Nth oil for Winter. Continental Oil Company

GAVE TWICE THE ENGINE LIFE!

This oil that OIL-PLATES gave its engine more than twice the life averaged by the engines using the other oils in the Death-Test.

In these times use your car prudently. And use oil that's great for engine life—changing regularly as recommended.

Good starting—good lubrication against all needless wear—helps conserve gasoline, too.

RECORD INFLUX BRINGS WORRY TO CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—As a result of the vast national defense industries now located in the state, California is on the receiving end of the largest migration of job seekers in the history of the state.

As against an influx of 80,000 during the gold rush days of 1849, and the 65,746 who came seeking agricultural jobs in 1937, state employment officials estimate that 135,000 workers from the East have poured into the San Francisco Bay Region, Los Angeles and San Diego this year. The workers are those who believe they have enough knowledge of some technical craft or trade to find a place in defense industries.

Dust Bowl Still Leads. Curiously, the great bulk of them come from Oklahoma, Arkansas, Texas and other states of the dust bowl which furnished most of the agricultural "Ookies" and "Arkies" of the 1937 migration.

So great is the present influx, that state officials admit they have not been able to keep accurate figures.

Border stations have counted 85,452 persons "in need of manual employment" who drove automobiles into the state during the first nine months of the year. They have, however, no check on those that have come by other means of transportation.

For the moment, state authorities are not worrying much about the influx, as the great bulk of the workers seem to get jobs, but they are worrying about what will happen when the emergency ends, and industry goes back on a normal peace-time basis.

Idle Relief Still High. During the latter part of the 1939-41 biennium the state was still paying $77,000,000 annual unemployment relief — partly a hangover from the 1937 agricultural migration.

California still has an unemployment problem of its own and there are many skilled workers residing in the state who still are idle.

Another problem, state officials point out, is that with the speeding up of the national defense industries, new machinery is being constantly introduced that reduces the number of jobs, great as this may be at present.

On the brighter side of the ledger, however, no secret is made of the fact that the state is prospering by the defense program.

Contracts Exceed 3 Billion. Defense contracts totaling more than $3,000,000,000 have placed the nation's vital airplane, shipbuilding and other allied industries on a boom-time basis.

Money is rolling into the state treasury at a rate that makes it seem certain that revenue for the current year will exceed a previous estimate of $301,000,000—its own all-time high.

Finance officials are predicting that the state will go on a cash basis next July for the first time in a decade.

But state officials still are concerned over the situation that will be created when the war-boom subsidies and a great many of these people may not want to return to their former homes.

The glass container industry is experiencing the most active year in its history.

CISCO, RANGER FOUGHT GRIMLY THRUOUT ARMISTICE DAY GAME; 12-6 VICTORY FOR THE LOBOES

In a thrill-filled Armistice Day football game at Chesley Field, Cisco battled Ranger long and hard for a 12-6 victory that seemed late in coming and had fans sitting on the edge of their seats, if they sat at all, during every moment of the struggle.

And struggle it was. It looked in the first quarter as if Cisco would surely score very early in the period, but just as the goal seemed assured, a fumble lost them their first chance. Ranger was held and once more the Lobos began their parade down the field, only to lose the ball on a costly fumble or a penalty for some infringement of the rules caused by over-eagerness.

The teams were evenly matched, with an advantage of speed and overhead playing in favor of Ranger. And Ranger was no less eager—fighting every foot of ground gained or lost against the battling Lobos.

Ranger scored first but could not convert. Then late in the second quarter, the Lobos went over for their touch down but also failed in the point, thus leaving the score at the half 6-6.

Both Ranger and Cisco fans and peppers were on the job throughout the game. Ranger's band took the field at the half and performed well for their team. Ranger's maneuvers drew applause from both sides.

Leonard King's Lobo band drew much favorable comment for its marching and for the victory V and dots and dashes formed as a part of the maneuvers. Pep Leaders Warren, Graham, Anderson and Gallagher kept pep squad and fans on the job with yell support all through the game.

Both teams came back on the field at the half with determination to get the big end of the score. Enthusiasm grew as teams attacked and counter attacked. Off-side and holding penalties, fumbles and over-eager plays kept up the see-saw until the last few minutes of play when Lasater, who had been hurt about the mouth and had to come out for repairs many times during the game, took the ball deep in the enemy's territory, running and bumping his way through two opposing men for a touchdown that made Cisco fans run wild, and a feeling of defeat pervade the Ranger side.

Again Cisco could not convert and the game ended with Ranger putting up the fight of the season to make a comeback and tie if not capture the score.

Lasater made both touchdowns for the Lobos, coming out of nowhere to snag a long pass for the first touchdown.

But every Lobo was on the job. The plays by Lasater that counted could not have been made without the teamwork that made them possible. Every player was on the job every minute of the game. Ranger Bulldogs had no reason to be ashamed of their part of the Armistice battle. They acquitted themselves with glory. They gave all they had and fought until the final whistle.

It was a game worth the money, regardless of who's side the spectator took.

It would be hard to say who played the hardest, the Lobo team or Coaches Murphy and McCasland, who conducted the battle from the sidelines.

New Conservation District Probable

ALBANY, Nov. 12.—An election will be called soon among Shackelford, Stephens and Callahan county landowners to determine whether the Lower Clear Fork of the Brazos soil conservation district will be formed.

The election date will be set by the district committee, headed by Clem Taylor, chairman, with Guy Caldwell and Ben Morrison. The district was recommended by the state soil conservation board last month.

The lower Clear Fork district will consist of all of Shackelford county except the northwest corner, all of Stephens county and the north half of Callahan county. A two-thirds majority of the votes cast will be necessary.

If the district is sanctioned, the area will have available all government agencies in planning a long-range soil and water conservation program.

Every duty brings its peculiar delight, every denial its appropriate compensation, every thought its recompense, every cross its crown; pay goes with performance as effect with cause.—Mildmay.

SOOTHING to tired bodies!

Recommended for Young and Old!

These are strenuous days, tiring to both body and mind. To soothe tired muscles and relax jangled nerves health authorities now recommend a gentle warm bath at the end of each day's activities. Try it and see. In homes with gas-automatic hot water service a hot bath is a simple matter for there's no waiting or trouble for the hot water. It's ready at the turn of the faucet. Whether the need is for bathing or any of the other 101 needs for hot water around the home, the gas-automatic heater provides instant hot water to speed things along. It's economical, too. For instance, one cent's worth of gas provides enough hot water for two baths.

Completely AUTOMATIC

Modern gas water heater requires absolutely no attention. It provides all the hot water your family needs at just the temperature you prefer. It is efficient, long lasting and requires only a few pennies' worth of gas service a day for its operation.

Easy Pay TERMS

You know as well as any one what is happening to prices so a delay in modernizing your hot water service might prove costly. Gas-automatic water heaters installed on easy pay terms up to eighteen months. See your dealer or gas company.
