SENATE GETS SET FOR FINAL ARMS ACTION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. — The senate foreign relations committee tonight put squarely up to congress whether to let American ships sail the seven seas under their own flag, and protected by their own guns.

Debate on the issue will begin in the senate Monday and administration leaders are confident of victory there by a 55 to 60 vote margin within two weeks.

Speaker Sam Rayburn predicted that the house would approve it by a margin of 60 votes.

Opponents of the measure were quick to charge that the administration had embarked on a "go-to-war" program, but there was no indication of intention to filibuster.

STEPENVILLE, 13; CISCO, 7; LASATER HURT

Outplaying the Stephenville Yellow Jackets in every phase of the game at Stephenville Friday night, the Cisco Lobos lost the game by 7 to 13 when second-string substitutes were forced into the game by injuries which sent Lasater to the hospital from a deep head cut that rendered him unconscious for some time. He remained in Stephenville until Saturday morning, when he was able to be brought home.

The injury was received in a head-on collision between Lasater and opposing players, who piled up in a desperate effort to stop him.

Scores by both sides were made during the last half.

By GORDON K. SHEARER, U. P. Staff Correspondent. AUSTIN, Oct. 25.—Texas is going to produce much more oil in November, but is not going to follow Col. Ernest O. Thompson's advice to produce all the oil possible without physical waste.

Thompson's recommendation at the statewide oil hearing of the state railroad commission lacks a majority vote in the commission. Thompson, as commission chairman, has only equal voting power with each of his colleagues.

Commissioner Jerry Sadler, who has been acting chairman during Thompson's absence on military duty, said frankly that he disagreed with Thompson's recommendation. Sadler said the government had made no request of him for all-out production and he knew no demand for such production as Thompson sought.

Commissioner Olin Culberson feared that the commission's proration program might get into another turmoil if each field were permitted to produce up to its ability without waste. He announced he will stand by the present yardstick, which classifies types of oil and distributes the demand for it among fields that produce the type of oil needed.

The meeting brought an open assertion that the federal bureau of mines does not use the same system in forecasting market demand for Texas oil and for Oklahoma. Paul McDermott of Ft. Worth made the assertion. He based it on an explanation given by the Bureau of Mines for allotting more oil to Oklahoma than it is able to produce. The explanation was that an allowance was made for production of oil to offset the amount that had been withdrawn from storage. If that allowance was made for Texas, McDermott said, the Federal Bureau of Mines estimate of demand for Texas oil would be more than 1,500,000 barrels daily. The federal bureau has recommended 34,600 barrels daily increase for Texas for next month. Latest Texas production was reported as 1,494,000 barrels a day.

Thompson declared that no patriotic oil man would retard unprofitable production for the purpose of creating a shortage that would raise prices.

It was recalled that when he returned from the meeting of the oil states compact commission at Ft. Worth, Gov. Coke R. Stevenson went out of his way to say that big-wigs in the oil industry sought to convince him that oil ought to be advanced to $1.25 a barrel, with a resultant $5,000,000 a year addition to the state's oil tax.

Stevenson remarked they failed to convince him—so the governor and the commission chairman appear to be harmonious on that topic.

A rotating exhibit has been furnished to the Texas Memorial museum on what is known as a permanent loan basis. Such a loan gives the museum uninterrupted display of the exhibit with little remaining with the loaner. The rotating exhibit is a collection of lustreware gathered by Mrs. D. F. Strickland of Mission. Her collection, one of the largest in existence, cannot all be shown in the museum at one time for lack of space, so it is being displayed with frequent changes. Two large cases are displayed at a time. Mrs. Strickland's collection of lustreware is said to be the largest outside the Field museum in Chicago.

The University of Texas' ultra-modern music building literally has a new wrinkle in construction of its radio broadcasting room. Its walls are fluted or scalloped so that they resemble one side of a stack of large pipes. The convex surfaces presented form reflecting boards that are said to be most near perfection that yet has been attained in radio acoustics. A report on the system was the subject of a paper presented to the Acoustical Society of America at its meeting in New York this week by Dr. Paul Boner, University of Texas physics authority and research technician. Many hours were spent in testing and measuring sound before the final result was obtained. Two graduate students, Frank Sea of Dallas and Charles Rutherford of Mt. Vernon, assisted Dr. Boner in the research for the new type broadcasting room. Similar construction has been adopted for stations in Dallas, Harlingen and Shreveport, La.

Out of each $5 being expended by WPA in Texas, two dollars goes to national defense, according to a compilation by State WPA Administrator W. P. Drought. Listed among defense projects in which WPA has assisted are 245 dormitories, 25 hospitals, 74 recreational buildings, 139 storage buildings and 13 community halls at military establishments. Twenty miles of water and sewage pipe has been laid at army camps. WPA has assisted in construction of 586 miles of road designated to be of military importance and in rehabilitation of 737 miles of such highway. Airport construction has been aided at 32 flying fields. Thirteen airport buildings have been erected, 364 modernized and 640 boundary lights installed.

A recent report that Alameda county, California, will deny the voting franchise to all persons living on federal property—military bases, veterans' hospitals and the like—recalled that Texas national guardsmen and the organized reserves retain their voting privilege, according to an opinion by Atty. Gen. Gerald C. Mann last spring. Selectees, regular army, navy and marine men cannot vote in Texas elections. But members of the citizens' militia can do so if they pay their poll tax. The national guardsmen number only about 13,000 men; but Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel was elected to the U. S. senate over Lyndon Johnson by a smaller plurality in the state's most recent election.

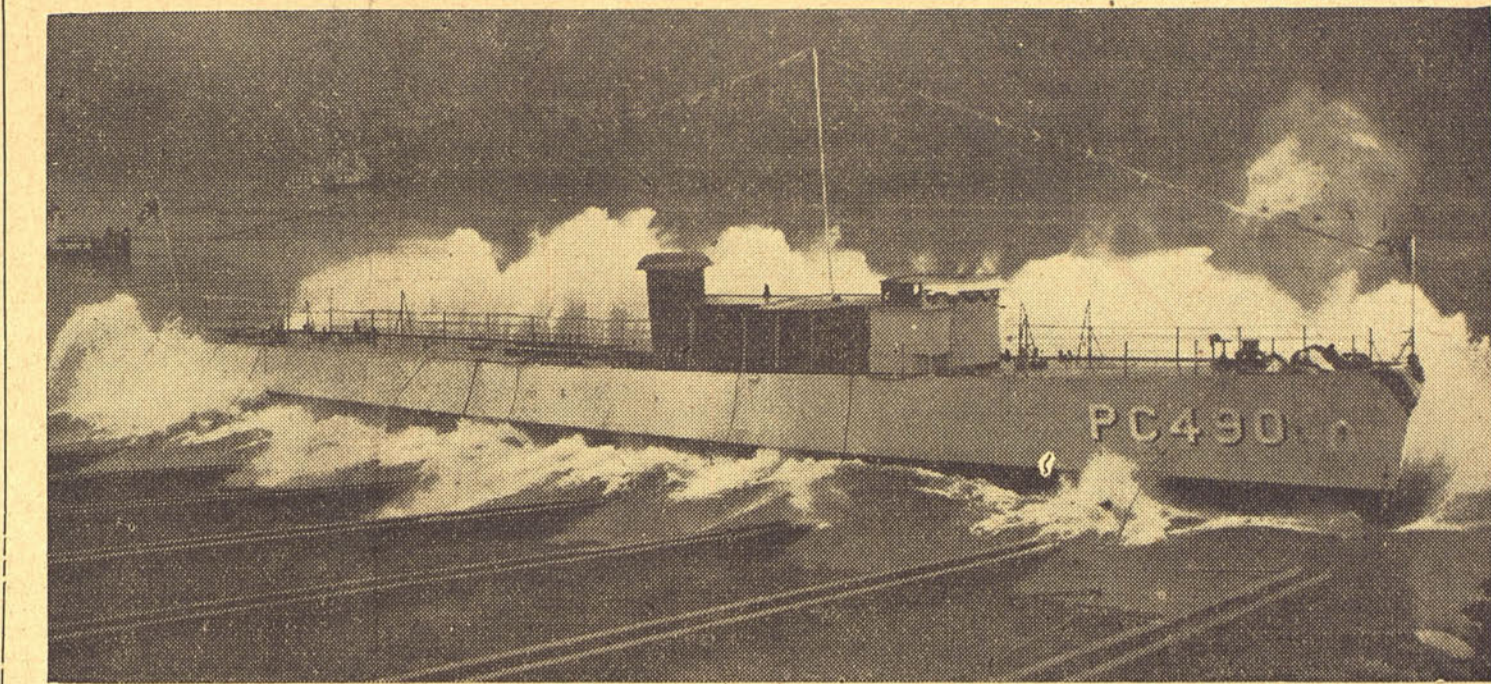

The Texas national guard's year of service will be over in November, but the war department has been authorized to extend all terms of service for 18 months, which will cover the 1942 elections. There is little prospect that the whole national guard will get home any time soon. The 45th division—composed of national guardsmen from Oklahoma, Arizona, New Mexico and Colorado—finished its first year on Sept. 15 and still is in training at Camp Barkley.

Numerous individuals, however, are being released from the 36th division, which is made up of Texas national guardsmen. The 36th recently has been releasing men over 28 years of age, as prescribed by congress, at a rate of nearly 75 a day. A smaller number is going home because the bread-winner's military service works an undue hardship upon dependents.

Texas' new home defense guard already has climbed past the number that was in the national guard when the latter went into federal service. At the last count, the home defense troops had 997 officers and 13,800 men. The war department has issued enough rifles, bayonets and first-aid kits to furnish one for each two men. The state furnishes a small amount of equipment, but the men buy their own uniforms and drill at least one and one-half hours weekly.

NAZIS PRESS MOSCOW FROM EVERY ANGLE

LONDON, Oct. 25. — Adolf Hitler hurled his troops in endless waves against approaches to Moscow tonight and Russian reports admitted that the battle for the great Russian cities of Kharkov and Rostov had reached a critical stage.

The Moscow radio, heard by the United Press listening post, reported that the German offensive against the Crimea, launched three days ago, is continuing without cessation.

The nightly Russian war communique reported that heavy fighting went on throughout the day in the Mozhaik and Maloyaroslavets sectors of the Moscow front, and at Teganrog and Makeevka in the Donets Basin.

BLOCKADE JAPAN.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. — An immediate American blockade of Japan was proposed Saturday by Senator Pepper of Florida as an answer to Tokio's expansion plans—plans that Secretary of the Navy Knox said might lead to a "collision" in the Far East. Agreeing with Knox's statement that the situation in the Pacific was "extremely strained," Pepper told reporters he believed the time had come to institute a blockade cutting off all war supplies that might be consigned to Japan from any source.

SEEKS IMPEACHMENT.

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 25.—The Radical party, which holds a majority in the chamber of deputies, Saturday directed its representatives in the chamber to demand that Acting President Castillo be impeached on the ground he exceeded his authority in dissolving the Buenos Aires municipal council.

TEXAS GARDEN CLUBS TO SEE MEXICO CITY

Texas Garden clubs will make their seventh annual pilgrimage to Mexico City on Feb. 20, spending a whole week in Mexico, D. F., according to Mrs. Lee Clark, president of the Cisco club, who is doing her part in enlisting interest in this old-world trip that enables one to view ancient buried cities, pyramids and other wonders without leaving their own continent.

Side trips will be made to Pacific ports, the beautiful mountain lakes of the Sierra Madre range and the lovely orchid country along the tropical Gulf of Mexico section, in the lowlands that form the southeastern part of the country.

Mrs. Clark said the Cisco Garden club was doing very live work this year, but she could not state whether delegates from the local club would make the pilgrimage with the party which will gather at San Antonio.

Mrs. Ben G. Oneal, Wichita Falls, is pilgrimage chairman and will receive reservations for those wanting to make the trip.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH GIVES VALUABLE AID

AUSTIN, Oct. 25. — Detailing some of the ways the state department of health is aiding each county in the prevention and control of communicable disease, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, revealed that the number of specimens examined and the amount of vaccines distributed free to Eastland county in 1940 by the state hygienic laboratory would have cost $4,078 if purchased through private laboratories.

"The service rendered to this county is but one of twelve organized services set up to help you," Dr. Cox added.

The other services maintained by the State Department of Health include vital statistics, food and drug inspection, venereal disease control, public health education, tuberculosis control, sanitary engineering, maternal and child health, nursing service, local health service and administration.

"The assistance rendered this county will convey to you some idea of the scope of Texas' health program," Dr. Cox stated. "The state department of health operates on a state appropriation of four cents per person, which amounts to $1,213.80 for this county. When compared to the return from only one of the twelve divisions in the state department of health, it is readily seen that Texans are getting much more health protection than they are paying for."

Judging by the casualty reports, Nazi troops are bravely pushing eastward behind a screen of Rumanians.

J. ROSS CROSSLEY, EASTLAND COUNTY JAILER, DEAD FROM A SELF-INFLICTED PISTOL WOUND

Funeral services for J. Ross Crossley, 64 years and 11 months old, Eastland county jailer, will be held at the Hamner funeral home chapel, Eastland, at 3 o'clock this afternoon, with burial in the Eastland cemetery. The services will be conducted by Rev. W. E. Moore, pastor of the Sweetwater Church of Christ, assisted by Rev. A. F. Thurman, Church of Christ pastor at Eastland.

Death came to Mr. Crossley at 6 o'clock Friday evening, while alone in the office of the county jail.

Justice E. E. Wood, who held an inquest on the body, announced the following:

"J. Ross Crossley came to his death from a gunshot wound, self-inflicted."

Commenting on the testimony at the inquest, Justice Wood said evidence of suicide was conclusive, and was caused by despondency resulting from ill health; that deceased had been suffering for some time and had recently submitted to major surgery. The justice also stated that one of the county prisoners testified he had talked with deceased a short while before his death; that he told him "he felt very bad, and would go to bed—that he would rather be dead."

Mrs. Crossley stated at the inquest that she heard a shot and went immediately to the jail office, where she found her husband across a bed, shot through the head. She at once called Drs. Isbell and Payne, but Crossley breathed his last soon after their arrival.

A bullet from a .38 caliber Smith & Wesson pistol, owned by Crossley, entered the right side of the head, emerged on the left side and lodged in the wall.

Mr. Crossley was appointed jailer of Eastland county following the first election of Loss Woods as sheriff, and would have served in that capacity five years had he lived until Jan. 1, 1942.

Deceased was an uncle of Representative P. Lewis Crossley.

Immediate survivors are his widow and four children—Lester Crossley, Ranger; Mrs. Jimmie King, Palacios; Winifred Crossley, Roscoe, and Mrs. Fay Vawter Gilmer.

Brothers surviving are M. Virgil Crossley, Carbon; J. P. Crossley, Plainview; A. S. Crossley, Ranger; G. S. Crossley, Los Angeles, and a sister, Mrs. J. S. Kitchens, Colorado City.

'COMPROMISES' SUBJECT USED AT REVIVAL

Describing the attitude of compromising Christians, Pastor-Evangelist Bradley Allison of Riverside church, Ft. Worth, stirred his hearers and opened their eyes Friday evening as he spoke on "Compromises" in the third evening service of the fall revival now in progress at the First Baptist church.

"Satan's purpose is to keep the Christian in the world and thus destroy his influence," the minister said.

"Christians are forbidden to marry unbelievers according to scriptures," the speaker continued. "When we live on the borderline and compromise we shall receive blows from all sides," the minister concluded.

Saturday morning the pastor spoke on "Our Testimony" to a splendid morning congregation. Saturday being a holiday brought several young people from the schools to the services.

Services continue throughout this week at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

The officers and teachers meet this morning at 9 a. m. for a prayer service and conference with the revival leader.

"In spite of inclement weather interest continues to deepen.

"Again we say, hear this powerful man of God," said Pastor Judson Prince.

RIO GRANDE RAMPANT.

RIO RICO, Mexico, Oct. 25.—Danger to the international bridge here mounted hourly Saturday as a raging current from the flooding Rio Grande continued to eat into a small patch of dry land which supports the south end of the structure on the Mexican side. Officials, expecting the river to hold its present level for another day, feared the bridge would wash away. The few homes left standing in this Mexican village opposite Mercedes, Texas, were slowly disintegrating under strong currents running through the town.

PRODUCTION OF DEFENSE STEEL IS ENDANGERED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. — John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, announced today that he has ordered work stopped in the steel industry's captive mines at midnight.

Lewis' announcement was made in the face of an 11th hour request by President Roosevelt that work continue in the pits which supply fuel to make steel for the arms program.

Summoning reporters to his office for a press conference, Lewis announced that "there'll be no production of coal on Monday in the captive mines."

The issue in the dispute is chiefly over a union shop clause.

In other words, all mine employes must join the union after a probationary period.

In furtherance of this demand the miners in the steel-owned mines threatened to strike five weeks ago, but the mediation board intervened and obtained an agreement for a 30-day truce.

No settlement was negotiated, however, and Wednesday Lewis served notice on the mediation board that the deadline for work stoppage would be midnight Saturday.

LABOR'S LIBERTIES.

Some labor minorities lately, by their seeming indifference toward national defense, have brought criticism on labor in general. Walter Lippmann says their apparent lack of cooperation with the government comes from a lack of "conviction that labor has any stake in victory." That is, in victory by the democracies. If any American labor leaders or any considerable number of the rank and file, really have this attitude, they are making a tremendous mistake.

The extent of their folly may be seen by taking a frank look at German labor and the helplessness in which it finds itself today. The Nazi workers are in virtual slavery, whether they are fighting Hitler's crazy battles or toiling a dozen hours a day to provide munitions for those battles.

Only in democratic countries and democratic processes is there hope of freedom for labor.

PACIFIC WAR THREAT.

Birds of a feather flock together. So do predatory nations—those operating on the good old simple plan, that "they should take who have the power and they should keep who can." Thus the farther Hitler and his locust-army of Nazis penetrate into Russia and threaten to dominate that vast country, the more Hitler's little Asiatic ally, Japan, prepares for expansion at her neighbors' expense.

The current indications are that Japan is set for a drive to take the important Russian seaport of Vladivostok, fronting Japan. Also a big chunk of the North Pacific frontage and eastern Siberia. The army is getting ready for that great adventure and, for the present, the "Chinese incident" can wait.

Now the area threatened is pretty close to America. It is a rather small jump across Behring Strait to Alaska. And it is far from reassuring to Uncle Sam to have Japan adventuring in that direction. Japan is doing it, too, with full appreciation of our own attitude. There is a spirit of reckless daring noticeable now in Tokyo that has been absent in other recent scares.

It isn't likely that we would fight on Asiatic soil. The warmongers now in control of the Japanese movement might, however, push us into a naval war. For that we are well prepared.

SUSPICIOUS FIRES.

There are too many fires in American defense industries. It is hard to believe that all of them, or even most of them, are accidental.

The manufacturers are usually sporting enough to attribute them to accidental causes, and it will be readily admitted that factories handling explosives are more subject to fire hazards than others. But the wave of disastrous conflagrations lately, with special emphasis on the big rubber fire in Fall River, Mass., arouse suspicion and alarm.

It cannot be forgotten, in such cases, that war production is crippled, valuable materials are destroyed and the foreign wreckers of civilization are given more time for their deadly operation. Those 30,000 tons of government-owned rubber were more important, right now, than if they were made of so much gold.

Factory owners are increasingly careful and local police and federal authorities are doubtless concentrating on this creeping war of sabotage. Every good citizen must cooperate, in the factories and outside.

American financiers say it will cost $100,000,000,000 to crush Hitler, and when Adolf sees these figures it will make him awful proud.

The best labor news for some time is that organized labor is now cleaning house.

Maybe it's worth mobilizing an army, to get a thorough check-up on American health. But the check-up should now be applied to civilians, too.

It's reassuring to recall that the kaiser won every battle but the last.

The British are still a little cautious about landing again on Adolf's continent.

NEED.

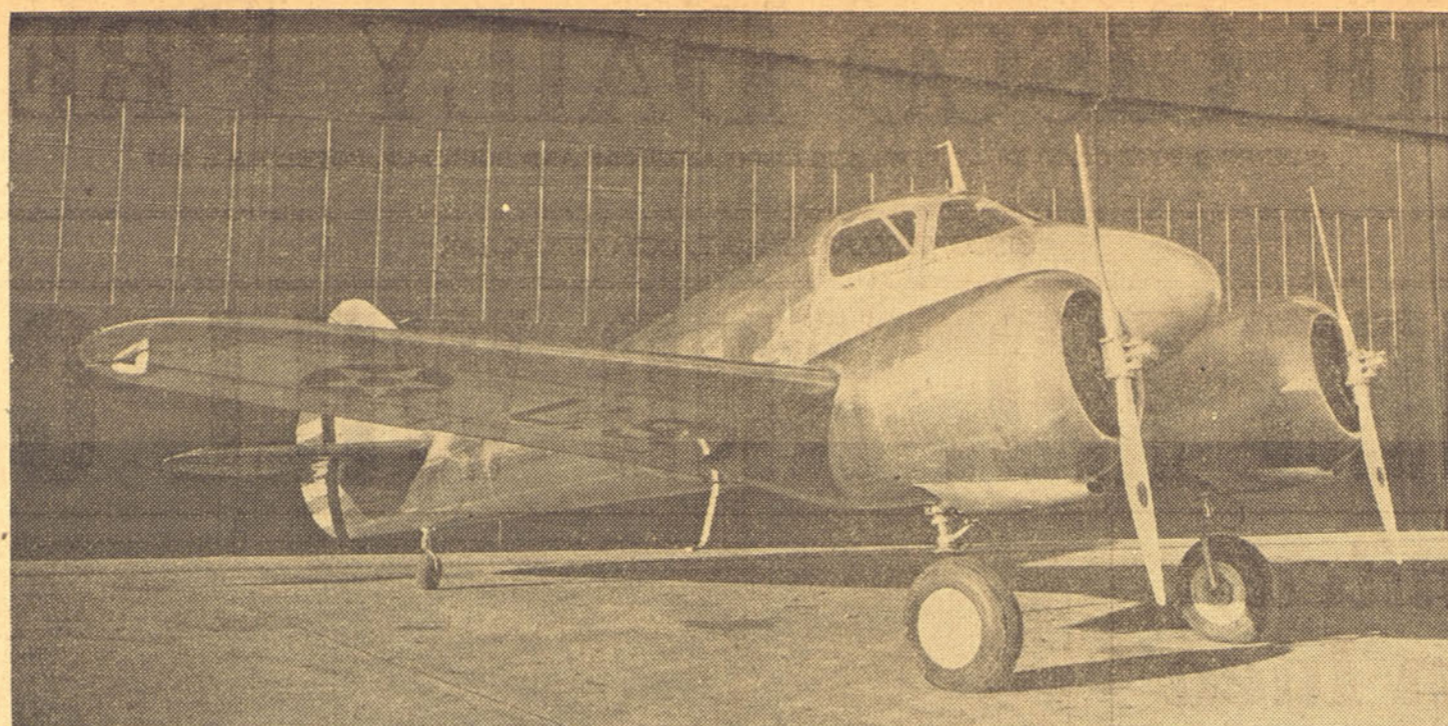

All old, gnarled apple trees, pale pink with bloom,
Come to me from every meadow place
Throughout the world, and drift your petals down
Like fragrant, loving kisses on my face!

All cream-white daisies with your hearts of gold,
From every field come now and thickly pile
Your slender, swaying stems about my feet
And close all paths before me for a while.

And, tiny Fairy, with your gleaming wand
That I saw long ago where vines grow wild,
Dance to me from your green glen now and say,
"Let grown-up shadows vanish from this child!"

PUTNAM

Mrs. J. B. Eubank has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ray Willbank at Cisco for the past two weeks and J. B. has been holding down the ranch. And from his own statement he is the best housekeeper in Callahan county. The writer overheard a conversation through the wall between J. B. and the barbers Saturday afternoon and he admitted that he was a fine housekeeper, since he had not swept the house nor made-up a bed since Mrs. Eubank had been gone, and stated further that he had not even tried to boil water since he was afraid he would scorch it.

Talk about going where the grass grows taller, it is not necessary to leave Callahan county, since N. C. Ramsay living about two miles northwest of Dothan, one of our subscribers brought in some Bermuda grass that was 3 feet and four inches tall, that grew on his farm this year. He said it was not running; but it actually grew that tall and was standing when he pulled it. He stated there was not any great amount of this grass; and it was grown in a place that had not suffered for water at any time during the year.

John Shrader of the Scranton community was in Putnam Monday afternoon and in talking of crops, he said they were good. He thought peanuts was good; but he only had four acres, and thought he would make three bales of cotton.

Jim Yarbrough of the Union community was in town one day last week, and stated he would make 34 bales of cotton. This is the best yield that has been reported so far. He said the bales would average more than five hundred pounds per bale. The 34 bales at an average of 500 lbs. would equal 17,000 pounds plus, or an average yield of 369 pounds per acre. Figuring 369 pounds at 12.5 cents per pound it would equal $46.00 per acre income from cotton, the seed would be worth $16.80 at $35 per ton. The ginning would be about $7.50. The ginning from the seed would leave a balance of $9.20 which would lack $10.00 paying the ginning and from the price of the cotton would leave a net income of about $36.00.

W. P. Yarbrough had a narrow escape Friday afternoon from being electrocuted. He and J. B. Gunn employees of the Farmers gin were working up over head around the condenser and they had an electric extension cord, that had been used for some time and the insulation had come off and Mr. Yarbrough got hold of this wire. It was just 110 volts; but everything being wet and damp it froze to his hand and he called for help and tried to get loose with the other hand but it was frozen, too; by that time Gunn saw the predicament Yarbrough was in and got hold of the wire and jerked it loose. Gingerbread "Gingies" Made in a Minute

A few minutes; two ingredients; and you have the newest in cookie cookery. First empty a package of the gingerbread mix based on Mary Ball Washington's family recipe into a mixing bowl.

Add 1/4 cup of water and an 8-ounce package of semi-sweet chocolate chunks or bits and mix well. Drop by teaspoons onto a greased cookie sheet and bake for 10 to 12 minutes at 375° F.

Result: 60 "gingies" before Junior reduces the total while they're cooling. These speedies add to the chocolate cookie craze the popularity of gingerbread and its ease in preparation with the packaged mix.

Once upon a time there was a very weary Housewife...

Cooking, washing, cleaning, looking after the children—she didn't complain, but it was a pretty hard life and it kept her going from morning till night.

One day her range broke down. She rushed down to the dealer to get a replacement for the broken part. While he examined it, she looked around and saw a breath-taking display of modern new gas ranges.

"How old is your range?" he asked. "Well, let me think," she said. "Mother handed it down to us when we were married ten years ago—and I guess it was at least ten years old at that time."

"Do you know what you should do?" the dealer queried. "I'm beginning to think I do," she said with a longing note in her voice.

"But aren't these beautiful new gas ranges you have here pretty expensive?" She sounded a little sad. "You'd be surprised how inexpensive they are!" he answered. "They're Magic Chef gas ranges. There's no better quality and they come in models to fit every purse. Let me show you."

He showed her... and that was all he had to do because it was so clear that a new Magic Chef gas range would give her a glorious new cooking freedom and save fuel and food and money, too.

P.S. She lived happily ever after. P.P.S. Why don't you let us show you? Come in today!

LEGION PLANS NAVY RECRUITING

Governor Coke R. Stevenson at his desk in the reception room of the Governor's office, Austin, discusses plans for immediately recruiting two companies for service in the United States Navy or Naval Reserve in Texas with The American Legion, Department Commander Andrew Dilworth of San Antonio and Capt. H. W. Underwood, United States Navy, commanding the Naval ROTC Unit at the University of Texas. The campaign was started by the American Legion in response to a telegram from Secretary of Navy, Legionnaire Frank Knox, asking the American Legion to "recruit a minimum of one company consisting of not less than 140 men * * *". The Navy has 338 ships in commission and 353 building. Need for men is obvious," said the telegram in part.

Commander Dilworth wrote the Secretary of the Navy "Texas will recruit two companies of 140 men each from the Houston and Dallas recruiting area."

Capt. Underwood said "The Naval ROTC unit of the University of Texas is anxious to make any contribution to the success of this campaign."

"I am ready to do all I can for the War and Navy Departments and all-out defense as urged by President Roosevelt, in fact I think I am about two jumps ahead," said Governor Stevenson.

Each American Legion Post is requested to send to the nearest Naval Recruiting Station, or sub-station, at least one recruit for the Navy or the Naval Reserve on or before October 27. Fitting ceremonies will be held on October 27 either at Austin, or Houston and Dallas with high State, Navy and American Legion officials participating.

Governor Stevenson issued a proclamation calling upon Texas citizens to observe Navy Day, October 27 "For it was in October, 1775 that our forefathers * * * came to the conclusion we must have a Navy to maintain peace."
