MRS. TYNDALL RETURNS

Mrs. John W. Tyndall returned to Cisco Tuesday night from St. Louis, Mich., where she accompanied the remains of her husband for burial. Friends stated she had not matured her plans for the future, but the wish is expressed that she might remain here, for it is believed she will be an inspiration for the successful consummation of those projects her lamented husband had planned for Randolph college.

Mrs. Archer has moved her hamburger stand from the corner of Broadway and E to Broadway and F. Mrs. Jackie Cooper will occupy the stand she has vacated, featuring quick lunches, tamales, chili, etc.

Farmers Told How NRA Will Benefit Farmers of Nation

Replying to a farmer, living at East-erly, Texas, who wanted to know of President Roosevelt just how the NRA would benefit the farmers, A. R. For-bush, chief of the correspondence di- vision, writes:

"The whole purpose of the re-covery administration is to re-store the purchasing power of our people through the medium of increased employment and larger pay checks. This will result in an increased market for the very products that you and other farmers are producing. If the 12,000,000 unemployed are returned to work at a fair and decent salary, they will each and all be in a position to purchase and consume products produced on the farms throughout the country. The farmers throughout the coun-try have suffered not only because of over production, but from un-der consumption and lack of prop-er distribution. The program be-fore us is intended to correct the above condition.

"Please do not have any doubts as to the ultimate results of this program as we are confident you will note a decided improvement before long."

Yes, the farmer may "ultimately" be benefitted, but in this case, as in all other matters, he is the last to receive any good from rehabilitation projects, and while he is waiting for his time to come he is paying higher prices for everything he has to buy. A merchant told me that all cotton goods carry a tax of 50 per cent now, but the price of cotton has not advanced in proportion to the hike of manufactured merchandise. The price is still under 10 cents in New Orleans, for middling.

All Consumers Penalized

But the farmer is not alone. Other consumers are hit just as hard, only a few of these have anything to sell, and are not benefitted by the increased—prices—rather penalized. The restoration of better prices is not possible unless the buying public has the funds with which to buy. The trouble is the people cannot afford to purchase the necessities of life at the former low prices, and with the additional 25 to 50 per cent increase, there is no possibility of increasing the volume of business. The reverse is the case.

Mr. Forbush says: "If the twelve million unemployed are re-turned to work, at a fair and de-cent salary, they will all be in a position to purchase and consume products produced on the farm."

But the employer cannot pay in-creased salaries, or employ more men, unless his volume of business is in-creased. The attempt to do so is not giving many additional people em-ployment locally. Rather, those who had employment are being let out be-cause there is no additional income to pay these salaries, despite higher prices. Others have increased a few salaries, but this increase is absorbed in things the employe has to buy from his employer, in some cases. For instance: Cafe operators who former-ly included board to waiters and other help, now charge for meals, in some instances. A waiter drawing $1 per day and meals under the old regula-tions, who is now working for $2 per day, is no better off after he has paid $1 per day for his meals.

I know the NRA administrator says this is a violation, but the general says no complaints should be handled un-less made in writing—"rumors should be held in contempt." Anybody with as much sense as a legislative "retain-er" knows that no employe is going to jeopardise his job by filing a writ-ten complaint against his employer. Even the employes of the general wont do that, and if rumors are true he is one of the arch evaders of the volun-

New Mexico And Idaho Both Get On Repeal List

New Mexico and Idaho make it 31 to 0 for repeal of the 18th amend-ment, results of Tuesday's election in those states show. These two states close the elections scheduled for the month, leaving only five more states to be won to complete the 36 states, the required number to repeal the 18th amendment. The next state to vote will be Virginia, the election there to be held Oct. 3. Virginia will be followed by Florida, Oct. 10. Ohio, Pennsylvania, Utah, North and South Carolina will stage elections Nov. 7. If five of these join the 31 which have consecutively voted for repeal, the 18th amendment will no longer be a "noble experiment."

WANTS A STATEMENT OF RFC EXPENDITURES

Editor Citizen: It strikes me that those adminis-tering RFC and other relief funds should make and publish a statement of how these funds are handled. The public would like to know how much received, how many given relief, and for what funds have been paid. Also, many would like to know just how much of these funds have been used to pay those administering the service—what officers have been paid, and if any, how much.

A full and complete statement of all matters connected with relief mea-sures, how many have been given em-ployment, how many have been given relief will be interesting to the public, and will show that the administrators are taking the public into their con-fidence. Let us have a little light. The public should know, and the ad-ministrators should be glad to make public all matters connected with the relief administration.

JOHN PUBLIC

Father Asks Relief As Surety For Son

Eastland, Sept. 18.—J. H. Cooper, of Rising Star, was in Eastland Saturday morning to be released as surety from the bond of his son, Henry Cooper, who is charged by indictment in this county for burglary and theft, Mr. Cooper was allowed that privilege as soon as his son is brought into the custody of the officials.

Give the Ex-Service Man What is Due Him Instead of RFC Work

Nobody can accuse John Sharp Wil-liams, Mississippi senator, of being a wild-eyed fanatic, yet Senator Wil-liams believes the government should issue no more interest-bearing, non-taxable bonds until it has exhausted its own resources, under the author-ity granted by the constitution, which gives the government "authority to issue money and regulate the value thereof."

President Roosevelt has declared that there are "sufficient securities to issue eleven billion dollars of cur-rency" without fiat inflation, from which the ex-service men could be paid. Senator Williams points out that the "government acknowledges its debt to ex-service men, yet re-fuses to pay this debt, when the money would be put in circulation immedi-ately. Instead, the country is con-fronted with the unusual condition of the government borrowing money for the purpose of dispensing charity, rather than paying its obligations. We have ex-service men working un-der RFC regulations, (charity) on use-less jobs while the government ac-knowledges an obligation that it re-fuses to discharge. Williams thinks the payment of this debt with green-backs would be a more honorable plan, and would entail much less trouble and expense than the huge machinery now being set up to administer char-ity to needy people who only want a chance to work for a living.

The present NRA movement is be-ing operated as one of the most expen-sive governmental pieces of machinery ever known. The major number who have been given employment under its operation are those employed to administer the National Recovery Act. If the country must continue to issue interest-bearing, non-taxable bonds to finance the NRA there is no chance to put it over.

Miss Aline Aynesworth Teaches In Cisco School

Miss Aline Aynesworth, of 808 North Fifteenth street, left last Saturday for Cisco where she is teaching in high school which opened last Monday. Miss Aynesworth is a graduate of Baylor university and the daughter of Dr. Horace Aynesworth--Waco Record.

The General Pulling Advertising Racket Opening of Football

The general of the NRA volunteer army and manager of Cisco's Austin-

owners of the string daily. The general has been rather quiet on his advertising racket since the Citizen plugged his last watermelon. Wonder if he has not heard from Gen. Hugh Johnson about that little episode? But I knew he couldn't keep out of it much longer. In fact, his racket is the principal kind of advertising he goes after. He does not appeal to the legitimate advertiser, but seeks to co-erce the merchants by telling them: "I know you don't care to be the only business not represented." It works sometimes, but if he has a grain of pride, and could hear what the mer-chants say about his racket, he would either resign as the general command-ing of the volunteer NRA army or never attempt to force another busi-ness man to fall for his racket.

From what they tell the Citizen the business men are not such suckers as the general might think, especially since the Citizen has called their at-tention to his little game, which is nothing but a donation to the string newspaper. No advertising value. Does not help the Lobos.

Mrs. Morris Simon and daughter, Louise, have removed to Abilene, which will be their home in the future. Miss Louise has accepted a po-sition as stenographer with the Bend-er store, recently established in that city, which is a branch of the Breck-enridge store.

BUSINESS FOLLOWS BOOZE?

Does business follow booze? Judging by the deserted appearance of Cisco, Eastland and Ranger Saturday and Sunday, this conclusion might be justified. Saturday the usual weekend crowds on the streets of Cisco were conspicuous by their absence. And Sunday we failed to notice the usual congestion of parked cars on the street and the throng that one sees at Lake Cisco on Sunday was considerably thinned.

The Citizen man asked the cause, and the answer was: "They've all gone to Stephens and Shackelford counties."

Why this migration? Just to celebrate the lifting of the ban against alcoholic beverages, even though it has been declared non-intoxicating.

Some went to indulge in the beverage, without the necessity of sneaking off to some back alley, others just to watch the stampede for the prohibited libation dispensed legally to the thirsty after the 15 years' drouth.

Those who have sampled the new beverage say it is just a delusion. More like kissing your own sister — no inspiration whatever.

One Ciscoan who was in Breckenridge on opening night said it was a veritable stampede; town filled with people—he estimated the number to be 10,000; said every person averaged spending $10 each. Quite a nice bit of cash to be liberated in one little city. If that kind of business continues, depression will fade in a few months. All the hotels were crowded, and rooms could not be had to accommodate the visitors, the Ciscoan said.

Stephens and Shackelford elected to sell the new 3.2 beverage. Eastland and the other counties on the Bankhead highway, ran true to form, and said they wanted none of it—and we are not getting it.

But it is not only the fact that Eastland county towns are not selling 3.2 beer, but while those celebrants were in Breckenridge, Albany and Moran, they purchased other supplies. Probably many of them never tasted the brew, but they wanted to see American run wild again, and watch the antics of those from the drouth-stricken area when they reached the oasis. Probably there was some amusement, to think of an otherwise sane person losing his head over such a weak libation as beer no stronger than three and two-tenths by weight.

Of course it is something new. Those celebrants have been given their liberty after a thirst of 15 years. Later these resorts will fail to attract, and some poor devils that visioned riches from the sale of suds, will be poorer, but probably wiser.

But it was a stampede at first, and just how long business will follow booze, even though no stronger than 3.2, remains to be seen.

Indications, so far, are that the "noble experiment" has had the reverse influence on the people. Many, we were told, would not know the taste of intoxicants under the Volstead act, and it was the hope to save the boys. Yet, among those in Breckenridge for the party were boys who had never seen a saloon, and if they never knew the taste before, they can't say it now.

WHAT WE HEAR AND SEE IN OUR DREAMS

Funny what things one hears and sees—in dreams! I was in Washington last night, and decided to visit the president and vice-president. Calling on F. D. first I was fortunate in finding that John Nance Garner had arrived ahead of me. Garner and Roosevelt were earnestly examining a framed picture that had just been delivered to the white house, and both were commenting on the legible signatures that seemed to be spread all over this picture.

"That was thoughtful of the general of Cisco, Texas, to frame this list of loyal subjects, each of whom he writes me are 100 per cent loyal to the NRA," the president was telling John Nance.

"But it is also a work of art, F. D.," Garner was saying. "And to think that the general only charged those loyal subjects the small sum of one dollar each to print their names in the string newspaper over which he presides. True, I understand, he had to bring a little pressure on some of them before they would come across. Then that little weekly Citizen is punching the general quite a bit, so I am told by some of our Cisco subjects, as the Citizen claims that he is not standing up to the lick log, but lagging back on the traces. Most of the buck privates down there, so I am informed, are going up into

Nine Enter Pleas of Guilty Before Davenport's Court

George L. Davenport, judge of the 91st district court, accepted nine pleas of guilty Monday of the 18 criminal cases on the calendar for the week of that court. Those who elected to place their cases in the hands of the court, waiving trials by jury, with the hope of being granted excursion rates, included the following:

The state of Texas, vs. Wiley Huddleston, forgery, four counts. His punishment was assessed at two years in the penitentiary in each case.

State of Texas, vs. Oatis Welch, chicken theft, assessed a fine and cost of $60.00.

Other cases on the calendar set for trial Wednesday included Robert Thompson, burglary and theft; Joe Ferguson, burglary and theft. The case of Wilford Wooten was continued on application of defendant on account of illness of a material witness.

The jury was discharged until Wednesday morning.

However, we shall hang the framed signatures in—" "Put that mirror down before you drop and break it," rudely exclaimed the wife, and waked me from a delightful dream before I had time to be presented to the president.

Christian Science Church Service

"Reality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 24, including first Church of Eastland.

The Golden Text is: "Behold, I create new heavens and a new earth: and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind" (Isaiah 65:17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good." (Romans 12:21)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christian Science, properly understood, would disabuse the human mind of material beliefs which war against spiritual facts; and these material beliefs must be denied and cast out to make place for truth. . .

"If thought is startled at the strong claim of Science for the supremacy of God, or Truth, and doubts the supremacy of good, ought we not, contrariwise, to be astounded at the vigorous claims of evil and doubt them, and no longer think it natural to love sin and unnatural to forsake it,—no longer imagine evil to be everpresent and good absent?" (p. 130.)

Gonnele Theater In Hands Of A Receiver

The petition of Mrs. Bula B. Connellee, in which she was asking for a receiver of the Connellee Theater was heard by Judge G. L. Davenport of the 91st District Court Friday, T. E. Barefield was named by the court as receiver for the business.

In this case, styled Mrs. Bula B. Connellee vs. G. W. Belcher et al Mrs. Connellee was not only asking for a receiver but also an injunction to prevent the injuring or removing of any of the property of the Con-nellee Theatre except personal property, all of which was granted in the court's decision. Mr. Barefield will take charge of the business as soon as he has made the required bond.--Eastland Telegram.

CHURCH OPPOSITION TO BLUE EAGLE IN CISCO

The Citizen has been informed that some opposition has developed in Cisco to signing the Blue Eagle card from a certain religious denomination. The minister, it is reported, has warned his congregation that it is sinful, and some have declined to sign the NRA consumers' card. At Midland a barber-minister, affiliated with a sect known as the "Gospel Hall," was the first instance of this character that came under the Citizen's notice. There many of his congregation have refused to sign the card, giving as a reason that their minister advised them not to do so. The local instance has not spread to any considerable extent, though it seems that the congregation here has received similar warning as that reported from Midland.

NO MAN OWNS $5,000,000 THE MONEY OWNS THE MAN

"Most people imagine that the rich are in heaven; but, as a rule, it is only a gilded hell. There is not a man in the city of New York with genius enough, with brains enough, to own $5,000,000. Why? The money will own him. He becomes the key to a safe. That money will get him up at daylight; that money will separate him from his friends, that money will rob his days of sunshine, his nights of pleasant dreams. He cannot own it. He becomes the property of that money. And he goes right on making more. What for? He does not know. It becomes a kind of insanity."---Robt. G. Ingersoll.

A Texas "Old Timer" Needs a Temporary Lift

...and the people of Texas, as Always, Will Heed the Call

THE people of Texas stick together. It's born in the blood. The concern of each individual in the common welfare grew out of the early days of Texas history when the pioneers, like the signers of the Declaration of Independence, to quote Benjamin Franklin, "had to hang together, or hang separately."

That intense feeling of pride, sympathy and common responsibility for the institutions of Texas glows more brightly than ever in the present generation, because the old, loose-knit fraternalism has crystallized into an almost sacred tradition.

It is to the pride and loyalty of Texans that this appeal is frankly addressed. And why not? For the plea is made in the vital interest of one of the oldest and most honored institutions that Texas can boast—the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Lines. Our railroad has fought its way through this worst of all depressions without borrowing any of the people's money from their government. Service and facilities have been continuously improved—with heads up and eyes front, the whole Katy personnel has put forth a supreme effort, and with the wonderful cooperation of the people of Texas, stands in sight of the goal.

Consider These Facts:

- 1 The Katy has sought no loan of the people's money, through any governmental agency.
- 2 The Katy has unflinchingly paid taxes, interest and all other bills.
- 3 The Katy has retained its Texas identity, free from mergers and outside domination that destroy individuality.
- 4 The Katy, confident of the future, has actually improved its service, facilities and equipment through the darkest days of this depression.

Now, one final drive is needed, one more sustained effort is required and victory shall rest with the Katy and the loyal people she serves. An "Old Timer" is calling. The people of Texas will not stand idly by in such an emergency, when they can so easily lend a hand, by merely specifying Katy routing on all shipments, and riding our trains.

People of Texas!—The unvarnished facts are here—the appeal is before you—an "Old Timer" who pioneered beside your forebears is calling to you! Texans! To the front!

Judge J. R. Burnett, of Cisco, attended the meeting of the Baptist executive board at Eastland last Friday, of which he is treasurer. Judge Clyde L. Garrett is chairman, and presided at the meeting. Rev. H. D. Blair was re-elected associational missionary for the county, but only on half time.

Farmers Demand Inflation

But press reports Tuesday tell of the farmers rearing up on their hind legs and taking a stand. If the munsills of civilization would only stand pat and enforce their demands the world would be a fit place in which to live. Tuesday the papers stated that representatives of nine cotton producing states made certain demands on the federal government, which, if granted, may revolutionize conditions. First, these nine states have called upon the president to suspend the cotton process tax. Why not? Only the manufacturer is being benefitted. He passes the tax on to the jobber, who passes it to the retailer, and finally the farmer and other consumers pay it.

Other demands of the nine cotton states are that the price of cotton be raised to 20 cents; cotton seed to $30 per ton, and last, but not least, they demand that the president inflate the currency to such an amount that will restore farm prices, under congressional authority now vested in the chief executive, by the issuance of greenbacks.

Unless the president is responsive to the inflation demand J. S. Wanamaker, president of the American Cotton association, stated that he would make an effort to call a mass meeting of all branches of agriculture and allied industries, at which a selling and ginning strike would be advocated.

These demands were transmitted to the president Monday.

Beerville Is Located 3.2 Miles From Ranger

Beerville, the new 3.2 beer village, over the county line in Stephens county, says the Ranger News, is located just three and twenths miles from Ranger. There are three dispensaries selling the new non-intoxicating beverage, sandwiches and barbecue. A big opening was held Friday night, and the usual features of a libation resort were in evidence, including a 40 by 90 foot dancing pavilion, with hard wood floor, and plenty of dancing partners for the thirsty Eastland county boys at a jitney per dance. The dancing pavilion was not opened till Saturday night. Lawson Cook and his seven piece orchestra, furnished the musical inspiration for the jitney dances, the News says.

He met his death in an auto accident last Friday night when his car turned over and crushed him to a pulp on the highway near Iraan. The accident, Mrs. Hoffman said, was caused by the steering wheel becoming locked. The body was buried at McCamey Tuesday, the American Legion post there having charge of the funeral. He was 34 years of age, and is survived by his widow and one child.
