Humble Joins Texas in Boosting Price of Crude Oil

ADVANCES OF THREE TO 11 CENTS POSTED

HOUSTON, Sept. 29.—The Humble Oil and Refining company today joined the Texas company in posting higher prices for crude oil. Its new schedule offered one dollar a barrel for east Texas crude. The Texas company's new schedule carried advances ranging from 3 to 11 cents a barrel for crude from all fields in which the company purchases in Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas.

Magnolia and the Sun Oil company also met the increases.

In central, north and north central Texas, Magnolia raised 11 cents a barrel to a top of $1.03.

The Humble new schedule, effective at 7 a. m. today, posts the following prices for this district:

Below 29 degrees.....	$.79
29 to 29.981
30 to 30.983
31 to 31.985
32 to 32.987
33 to 33.989
34 to 34.991
35 to 35.993
36 to 36.995
37 to 37.997
38 to 38.999
39 to 39.9	1.01
40 and above	1.03

The increases followed an order of Sec'y of Interior Ickes further reducing the allocation of production to Texas. The order cuts Texas allocation to 965,000 barrels. The allowable fixed by the Texas Railroad commission is 975,200 barrels.

In announcing the increased prices, the Texas company said that it would be easier to obtain a balance between production and consumption if the producers were given an increased price for a reduced output.

100,000 Employees Affected by Strikes

(By United Press) Strikes, some aimed at non-signers of the NRA codes, were in progress in many industrial sections of the country today, and the national labor board prepared to intervene in two of them. More than 100,000 employees were affected. The Ford company dismissed 511 employees at its Edgewater, N. J., plant when they heeded advice of strikers from the Chester, Pa., plant and stayed away from work.

H. C. Fricke Cokes company workers were striking demanding its signature to the code and union wage agreements. The strike, which commenced 10 days ago, was still spreading with more than 70,000 participating today.

MIDGETS OPEN SEASON WITH H. S. FROSH 6-6

The Cisco Grammar school Midgets opened the 1933 football season by playing a 6 to 6 tie with the high school freshmen at Chesley field yesterday afternoon.

Joe Slicker, at center, was easily the outstanding defensive man for the Fish, while Bill Donohue and Max Anderson in the backfield played good offensive games. Jack McMa-

Anderson and Howell Sledge played stellar games in the Midgets' backfield and the entire line and Earl Doggett at fullback stood out on defense.

Construction Work By Oct. 20 Predicted

FORT WORTH, Sept. 29.—Actual construction on several Texas public works projects should be under way by October 20, Chairman Ike Ashburn of the state public works advisory board, said here today.

Ashburn based his prediction on the fact that notice of allotments on the first set of approved applications are expected from Washington next week.

Charges Filed in Houston Robbery

HOUSTON, Sept. 29.—Fred Reece was arrested today and charged with kidnaping and robbery in connection with the abduction of Walter E. Russell, jeweler, who lost $2,500 in gems four days ago.

Two other suspects were sought in the case. Russell was abducted from his home early Monday and forced to open his store to his captors.

After arresting Reece, police searched his home and reported finding several dynamite caps and a quantity of dynamite.

QUICK RELIEF ACTION URGED BY GOVERNOR

AUSTIN, Sept. 29.—Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today sent a message to the state legislature urging passage of a relief bill within a week.

"If the state policy on relief matters is not set forth in a specific bill within a week, I am fearful of results," she said.

The governor said that the bill passed before the end of the legislature with less than a two-thirds vote cannot take effect until January. By that time, she predicted, the relief rolls will have grown to $1,500,000.

Former Gov. Ross S. Sterling appeared before the senate today and testified that if he had to distribute relief for unemployed in Texas again he would use the same method employed during his administration as chief executive. Under Sterling's administration relief funds were administered through regional chambers of commerce.

Walter D. Cline, Wichita Falls, president of the West Texas chamber of commerce, was the next witness. He flatly denied the West Texas chamber had distributed relief funds under Sterling's administration on a chamber of commerce subscription basis.

SOUTH SEAS ISLANDS SOON LOSE GLAMOR

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 29.—Disillusionment awaits the American, who views the South Seas as a place where a pet monkey will bring him a bunch of bananas for lunch, Dr. Albert W. Herre, Stanford university professor, said as he set out on his tenth exploration trip into the islands.

"To the tourist the islands of the east seem full of glamor, romance and beauty," Herre said.

"He longs for the uncalendared luxury of living among simple, harmless natives, gathering rich food only by reaching for it, hearing the song of golden orioles and breathing the perfume of orchids.

"All these things are true to a limited degree but only for the natives and the tourists who look on from the decks of comfortable liners."

CISCO REPLIES TO BONDHOLDER GROUP'S LETTER

The city of Cisco is reiterating to the New York bondholders committee its inability to do more toward a settlement of the city's five million dollar bonded debt than was indicated in its last proposition to that group.

A letter, replying to the committee's refusal to entertain the Cisco offer, was approved by the committee of ten citizens last night. It had previously been approved by the city commission which had named the committee of ten to assist in efforts to reach a solution of the debt problem. It was written by Judge D. K. Scott, a member of the committee.

The bondholders group had approached the city with an offer to accept term refunding bonds in total amount of $2,179,900 bearing a graduated interest rate beginning at one per cent for the first year of the 40-year life of the bonds and progressing to five per cent over the final 25 years. It agreed to recommend that the bondholders accept this settlement, provided $48,000, or one per cent of the principal, be turned over to a designated depository for allocation among the owners of the bonds. The committee represents to hold in excess of 50 per cent of the total amount of bonds outstanding.

Counter Proposition

The Cisco committee of ten, with the sanction of the city commission, drew a counter proposition in which it agreed that Cisco would issue refunding bonds at 10 cents on the dollar, or approximately $480,000, payable after 40 years and bearing

J. Boney Smith to Be Buried Here Today

The body of J. Boney Smith, 79, former Ciscoan who died yesterday at the home of a son, Sloan Smith, Fort Worth, will arrive in Cisco about 3:30 this afternoon for interment in Oakwood cemetery.

There will be a brief service at the grave conducted by the Rev. E. S. James, pastor of the First Baptist church. Services were held this morning at Fort Worth by the Rev. J. Frank Norris.

Mr. Smith was born in Marshall and settled in Baird, Texas, in 1881. Later he moved to Fort Worth.

He was a resident of Cisco from 1898 to 1918, returning to Fort Worth to make his home in the latter year. Death followed a year's illness.

Survivors include his widow; four sons: Sloan and F. P. Smith, of Fort Worth; Will A. Smith, of Dallas and C. E. Smith, of Rankin; three daughters, Mrs. John Pate, Mrs. Bryson Sherill and Mrs. L. E. Scott, all of Fort Worth; 12 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Poultry and Egg Shipments Low

AUSTIN, Sept. 29.—Interstate rail shipments of poultry and eggs are usually at a low ebb in August, and this fact was particularly true this year when shipments totaled only 63 cars against 102 cars in August, 1932, according to the University of Texas bureau of business research. Of these totals 36 cars represented poultry shipped in August this year and 61 cars represented poultry shipped in August, 1932.

Subtracting these poultry shipments from their respective totals leave 27 cars of eggs shipped in August, 1933, and 1 car in August last year.

Market price of eggs failed to continue the usual seasonal rise during August although receipts dropped below the five-year average at the four principal markets of the United States, according to the recent report of the United States bureau of agricultural economics. Cold storage holdings of case eggs totaling $941,000 cases, against 5,960,000 cases last year, is exerting a depressing influence on egg prices, the university bureau's report said.

This situation makes it particularly difficult for the commercial egg producer whose costs of feed have risen sharply as a result of short crops and activities of the government to raise the price of grain, the report further explained.

New Sunday School Year Starts Sunday

A goal of 50 has been set for Sunday school at the Church of God Sunday morning as the church enters a new Sunday school year, it was announced by W. B. Ellison, superintendent.

After the services the entire group will go to Lake Cisco park for a basket dinner.

Newly elected officers and teachers will take charge of the Sunday school at that hour and a request that all new pupils begin their studies at the same time was made.

Loboes Leave Today Noon for San Angelo

A squad of 23 players, two coaches and two business managers left Cisco at noon today via bus for San Angelo where the Cisco Loboes will renew an ancient rivalry with the San Angelo Bobcats Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The trip is the first of the season for the Cisco team and the game tomorrow afternoon will be the second. San Angelo is a class A team but the game will be an interdistrict affair and not counted in the standing of either team. That fact, however, will probably have little influence upon the interest of the players for the simple reason that long established rivalry between the two teams, the honor of one district against another and those intangible factors that arise out of town pride and the desire of one team to avenge in the role of district representative a string of defeats that were suffered while both were members of the same district, are enough to provide the forthcoming contest with a sufficient gauge of battle. In other words, San Angelo would like mightily to beat the Loboes tomorrow and will probably do all in its power to do so.

As a member of the oil belt, the Bobcats took numerous kickings from the Cisco eleven and now, as a member of another district, it would not only like to beat the locals for old time's sake, but for the sake of the prestige of its new division.

Revised lineup Coaches Shelley and Hodges are taking to San Angelo a lineup radically changed in the line, from that which confronted Gorman Saturday evening. A shifting about, process and the substitution of two or three players, has resulted in a bulker forward wall and one that is more solid centerwards.

Capt. Litch, starting at tackle Saturday night, has been shunted into a guard position. Merrett, who started in that position last Saturday, is light and lacks experience, but is a fighter. He will see service tomorrow. Two new men are stepping out in tackle positions, they are Brown and Johnson. One will assume Litch's vacated place at left tackle and the other will start where Norvell started Saturday.

Littlepage, who is running Red Timmons a hot race for center, will get the nomination Saturday, Coach Shelley said. No change will be made in end positions, Rutledge and Tipton Page starting there.

Backfield The backfield starting lineup will be St. John, quarter; Bill McMahon, full, and Caffrey and Barker halves. All of the boys named above will see service in the game, together with

ARGUMENTS IN URSCHEL CASE NEARING END

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 29.—Prosecutor Herbert K. Hyde began the government's final thrust at the 10 defendants in the $200,000 Urschel kidnaping trial at noon today. The case will go to the jury late today, possibly between 3 and 4 o'clock. Life sentences are possible.

Meanwhile, a lawyer with underworld contacts today was sought as the master mind of the kidnap plot.

Federal prosecutors declared the original ransom note, as well as the threatening letters used by George (Machine Gun) Kelly to terrorize trial principals and witnesses, "were formulated by a legal mind."

DEMAND DEATH

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill., Sept. 29.—A circuit court jury today considered demands of the state that five men and a woman be sentenced to death for the kidnaping of August Luer, 77-year-old Alton banker.

Circuit Judge G. H. Mudge in his 40-minute instruction to the jury told them that if they found the defendant guilty they assess the maximum penalty, which, under Illinois law, is death.

This sensational disclosure was made by federal authorities as the two weeks trial of the defendants came to a close. The theory that Harvey Bailey was the "brains" of the conspiracy has been abandoned, it was revealed.

Government authorities were careful to say that no lawyer connected with the trial proceedings is involved.

"I am convinced that a lawyer framed and possibly wrote the original kidnap note," Asst. U. S. Atty. Gen. Joseph Keenan said. "It is also evident that legal talent counseled with the Kellys in the sending of the threatening letters from Chicago to Urschel and others last week in the trial."

Although Keenan declined to elaborate, it was learned the government had been working on the lawyer theory for some time.

Investigators do not credit the Kelly-Bailey-Bates gangsters with ability to write the notes or conceive the elaborate scheme by which the ransom negotiations and the unparalleled pay-off in Kansas City were carried out.

Harvey Bailey, the nation's No. 1 desperado, bore the brunt of Hyde's final argument to the jury.

Attorneys for the five Twin Cities men accused as "money changers" of the marked ransom bills, pleaded for a square deal for their clients, several of whom are admitted liquor business men.

KELLY TO BE MOVED BEFORE NOON SATURDAY

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 29.—George (Machine Gun) Kelly will be removed to Oklahoma City before noon tomorrow, federal authorities included today.

Sixteen players were expected to leave here with Kelly a few hours after the Urschel case in Oklahoma City goes to the jury.

A. AND M. AND THE CO-ED.

The Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college at College Station is confronted with a court action to force the school, operated since organization as an institution for men, to accept women students. Those bringing this action against the college contend that it was organized as a branch of the co-educational University of Texas and that it is compelled, therefore, to accept women as students as the university accepts them. To which the college argument is that the school was founded as a men's institution, that its facilities have been developed only to care for men and that the fact it is an institution only for men gives it a valuable distinction. Admission of women to the school will require the development of new dormitory facilities, and other plant and equipment modifications of considerable extent, but the most serious result will be what revolution it will bring about in the social organization, the policies and the life of the great institution itself. Think of the change that Eve caused in the garden and you have a slight conception of the metamorphosis that the co-ed will bring about in the masculine atmosphere of A. and M. college. One institution would cease and another would start, is, in brief, what would occur. The situation would be homologous to what would occur at Denton should the College of Industrial Arts be compelled to accept men students.

Underlying the demand for admission of women to A. and M. is the desire of people living near that school to avail themselves of its nearer, and consequently cheaper, facilities for the education of their daughters. It would mean much to Bryan and neighboring cities if their daughters could remain at home while undergoing collegiate processing. Away from Bryan, we should regret to see the traditional A. and M. so radically changed in character. However, an infusion of femininity would serve a cultural purpose of some value. Some of the products of A. and M., as well as of similar institutions, would gain advantages in one sphere if they suffer in another.

STATE'S OBLIGATIONS.

A bill has been submitted to the legislature, at the request of members, to require the paying of interest on state warrants until the treasury can cash them. This bill is desirable in many respects, and reaches even to the ultimate worth and saleability of state relief bonds. It will permit the state, under bids for supplying its departments and institutions, to get the benefit of such lower prices, protecting the bidders against indefinite delays in getting their money. It justly will take the burden off state employes of bearing five to eight per cent discount on warrants—after a 25 to 35 per cent salary cut and a 50 per cent increase in the cost of many necessities.

The only way the state can pay interest and principal on its state bonds is by issuance of warrants. If these warrants are subject to a heavy discount, then investors will not buy them without shaving this discount from the price. At present the board of control takes bids on several hundred thousand dollars worth of gasoline, oil, tires and similar equipment, and great quantities of food and clothing and medical supplies for eleemosynary institutions. Bidders must protect themselves against the loss on warrants. If the warrants are to bear interest, then the bids will be correspondingly lower.

The bill has merits, even if considered from the state's own financial situation without including the savings. It will in effect permit tiding the treasury through a period of heavy deficit to better times and better tax collections, without the necessity of trying to force new taxes upon an overburdened people. It will give the state a financial breathing spell. The pending bill proposes six per cent interest. That was set high, no doubt, for advantages of compromises. House members will insist on four per cent. A final compromise at 4 1/2 or 5 per cent is probable.

Light Backfields and Heavy Centers

By TED H. MALOY
United Press Staff Correspondent
DALLAS, Sept. 29 — Light backfields and heavy centers will form the ball-handling machinery for all Southwest conference football teams this season, with the exception of Rice Institute, the average weights of candidates indicates.

Texas A. & M. has the lightest set of candidates for both the center and backfield. University of Arkansas has the heaviest candidates for the line pivot, and Rice has the bulkiest backfield aspirants.

The much-talked of light backfield at Southern Methodist university really is among the heaviest, exceeded only by Rice and University of Texas, a compilation of average weights showed.

Chapman Christian University, 1932 champion, hits the medium for both centers and backs. Its three center candidates average 180 pounds. Derrick Lester, 200-pounder from Jacksonville, is the heaviest. Heard Floore, Fort Worth, and James Simpson, San Angelo weigh 170 pounds each.

Average weight of 15 backfield aspirants at T. C. U. is 169.6 pounds. Charlie Casper, fleet halfback from San Antonio who earned a letter last year with his triple-threat offensive, is representative. He weighs 169 pounds. Jack Langdon, 199-pound halfback from Cleburne, is largest. Johnny Kitchen, 174 pounds, Okmulgee, Okla., is a veteran plunging fullback. Dan Harston, Dallas, with speed for his 167 pounds, has made a strong bid for Kitchen's place.

Huge Backs
Rice's mammoth backs average 185 pounds while the two centers candidates average 170. Harry Witt, Houston, who starred as a freshman last year, is the biggest hope for a varsity back. However, his 200 pounds may not be available for the Cw's linebacking machinery for a few weeks because of an injured knee. Henry Clore, Anahuac, is the lightest veteran in the backfield. He is a 165-pound signal caller. Percy Arthur, Houston, 165 pounds, and Dick Lauterbach, San Antonio, 175-pounder, will alternate at center.

There will be few chinks in the center of Arkansas' line. Gus Eldson tips the beam at 190. Mark Sheridan weighs 197 pounds and Jack Newby, the "baby" of the aspirants for center, is a 185-pounder. A heavy or a light backfield could be picked easily from Coach Fred C. Thomson's 17 Razorback candidates who average 169.6 pounds. He could build a set along the proportions of Fullbacks Oliver Criswell and W. W. Keaton who weigh 190 pounds each, and Halfback Leo Corroto, 187-pounder. Or, he could form one using Fullback Joe Biddle, 168 pounds, Halfback Ralph LaForge, 147 pounds and Quarterback Elvin Geiser, 150 pounds.

Hilliard Lightweight
Bohn Hilliard, Orange, who set the conference afire last season with his multi-threat attack and effective defense work, is the lightweight of the University of Texas backfield. His 165 pounds are dwarfed beside Wilson, flashy 150-pound wingback from Corsicana, would have to be given a berth. His mates could be John Woodward, Dallas, 158; Smith Reed, Holland, 163; Shelly Burt, Hillsboro, 163; Harlan Ray, Wichita Falls, 160, or Jack McNutt, Dallas, 161.

Three Mustang centers average 181.6 pounds. James Bradford, San Antonio, weighs 184 pounds. Buster Raborn, El Dorado, Ark., weighs 185, and Arthur Johnson, Tyler, 176.

The Aggies will have to rely on speed. The 18 men bidding for backfield posts average 162.8 pounds. Among them is the 136-pound quarterback, Jack Hester of Gulf. Halfbacks, with one exception, are under 170 pounds. Ted Spencer of Gilmer, fullback, is the largest man out this year. He weighs 190 pounds.

Centers are correspondingly light at A. & M. Four of them, including the veterans Ed Reichardt of San Antonio and Jack Roach of Decatur, average 167.2 pounds.

Baylor is pinning its hopes for a scoring backfield on 12 candidates weighing an average of 165.6 pounds. Three expected to play regularly weigh only 165 pounds. They are Jimmy Parks of Palestine, Carl Frice of Chillicothe and Hulen Hall of Quanah. But if weight were wanted there is Joe Jack Pearce of Farmersville and John Williams of Wellington who weigh 185 pounds each.

Jim Weatherby of Hubbard, who starred at tackle last year, is considered a center candidate this year. He weighs 200 pounds and is one of the big reasons why the five aspirants for the post average 181 pounds.

BOSTON, Sept. 29 — Another famed old Boston restaurant has closed. Established nearly a half century ago, it was popular in early days as the Bamboo Bar. But after a long struggle under prohibition, even 3.2 beer could not keep the place a going concern.

SHE ATE ALL-BRAN TWELVE YEARS WITH FINE RESULTS

Delicious Cereal Relieves Constipation

Read this very enthusiastic letter: "Something like eleven or twelve years ago, I began eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. When I started, it was called simply Kellogg's Bran, and I believe it was one of the first products of the kind on the market.

"My friends often laugh at my fondness for ALL-BRAN. It gives such a clean taste in the mouth, and I do not feel satisfied until I have had my ALL-BRAN.

"If the Kellogg Company should ever stop manufacturing ALL-BRAN, here is one who would be greatly disappointed."—Miss Amy Person, University Park, Iowa.

Science says that ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regularity. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. How much safer than taking patent medicines—often harmful. Just eat two tablespoons daily for most types of constipation. For serious cases, try it three times daily. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Sold in the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

For the LOVE of EVE by Lucy Walling

BEGIN HERE TODAY
EVE BAYLESS, pretty assistant to EARLE BARNES, advertising manager of Bibby's department store, carries the red construction superintendent. Dick is sent to take charge of a construction job in East Texas. It will require at least a year to complete but Eve refuses to go with him.

MONA ALLEN, copy writer, dislikes Eve and is constantly causing the trouble. She is responsible for several mistakes for which Eve is blamed. Dick knows it and is playing the stock market, borrowing money from her mother's sister. She loses this, as well as all her own savings and $400 Dick left in the bank.

Following a misunderstanding at Christmas, weeks pass in which Eve does not hear from Dick. She is too stubborn to admit that she was in the wrong and apologize. Eve works harder at the office, trying to forget her troubles. Her mother comes to visit her and tries to persuade her to give up her job. Then Eve learns that Barnes, the advertising manager, is resigning and that she has been selected to take his place.

Now go on with the story CHAPTER XLVII
Eve occupied the time while Dick was at work in idle, pleasant ways. She would drive with him to the camp in the morning, return with the roadster and later drive back again for him at the close of the day. When she was alone she usually spent the time exploring the village or following inviting country roads.

Mrs. Williams accompanied her on a short drive occasionally but for the most part Eve went alone. She preferred to be alone because there was so much to think about. Lake City and Bibby's department store seemed far away and a relatively unimportant in this new environment. Here in Pine Forest many things Eve had regarded as trivial took on a new significance—the wind whispering in the pine trees, arbutus nesting under rusty leaves on a hill sloping to the afternoon sun, quaint doorways leading into homey white cottages.

There was one cottage in particular that attracted Eve. Perhaps it was because the cottage was vacant and there was a "For Rent" sign in the window. Emboldened by this, Eve opened the gate one day and went inside to explore. Through the windows she caught fascinating glimpses of the interior of the house with fireplaces, a charming stairway and beautifully paneled doors.

Eve wondered if Dick, too, had been attracted by the cottage. She directed their steps past it one evening when they were out for a stroll but he made no comment. Indeed, he did not so much as glance toward the little house. "Well, if he no longer cared about a home there was no reason why Eve should care either. Perhaps he would have grown indifferent even if she had given up her work at Bibby's when they married. Now she at least had something to turn to if Dick failed her. She had been right, after all. A woman should build up a place in the world for herself. Then if her marriage does not come out satisfactorily she can go on alone.

EVE decided not to think of the white cottage any more, with the apple tree lifting a branch of pink and white blossoms to the gable window and the friendly blue by the garden gate. She would try to forget that it might be a lot more fun to hang crisp, ruffled curtains at cottage windows than to write about those curtains in advertisements for Friday bargain sales.

But she could not return to Lake City without knowing something definite about her husband's plans for the future. Somehow she was determined she would find a way to make him talk about those plans in the few days that remained of her vacation.

However, even this important matter was crowded out of her thoughts temporarily by a brief, hastily-written letter from Arlene. "Mona is gone!" the letter said. "Don't know exactly why or where, but she has left us, bag and baggage. If I wanted to be mean and suspicious I'd think her hasty departure had something to do with the arrest of her racketeer boy friend a few days ago after a shooting affray.

"Last night's paper mentioned the fact that he had been seen several times lately with a blond girl companion and this morning Barnes received Mona's resignation, sweetly and regretfully worded, saying she had an offer of a job in Pittsburgh at a substantial advance in salary and was leaving at once to take it. She left her fountain pen and a few odds and ends of cosmetics in her desk so I called her boarding house to find out if she had left a forwarding address. She hadn't. Just told her landlady she'd send it when she was located. Of course she won't. She's probably scared silly, and it serves her right for going about with crooks. Hateful as she's been to you and me, I don't wish the little fool any harm but I'm honestly glad that you'll have her 'Rent' sign in the window. Emboldened by this, Eve opened the gate one day and went inside to explore. Through the windows she caught fascinating glimpses of the interior of the house with fireplaces, a charming stairway and beautifully paneled doors.

Old Custom Revived With Legalized Beer

HOUSTON, Sept. 29 — Grinning H. O. Radenz, a carpenter, clambered over the shingles of a duplex which he was helping remodel and carefully nailed a pine branch to the roof.

With this act, he re-established an old custom that had been dead in this city and many others for at least 15 years.

The only immediate effect of his gesture was to cause wonder among a number of young persons who noticed the green sprig.

"Is it Christmas or something?" they asked.

"Not yet," replied Radenz, "but it soon will be."

Several hours later Perry Goodwin contractor on the job, arrived, and the meaning of the symbol was plain to him.

"I'd nearly forgotten that trick," said Goodwin. "Okay, boys, the beer's on me."

He hastened away and a few minutes later was back with two cases of cold beer. Carpenters, electricians, tinner and painters stopped their labors and waded into the brew.

Although the custom of displaying a green branch as an invitation to the contractor to "set 'em up" flourished for many years prior to prohibition, nobody knows how the idea originated.

T. S. Lambert, carpenter, said all building craftsmen were strongly in favor of the idea, but he remembered one time they got fooled.

"We put up a temporary addition to a church," he said, "and nailed a green branch on the roof. But we didn't get any beer. The parson presented us with a big chicken pie instead."

three per cent interest per annum, The New York committee declined, insisting upon its original proposition.

The reply of the committee, approved last night, projects a schedule of payments from the committee plan to argue the impossibility of the city to meet the refunded obligations after the first year. It also sets out the valuation of the city taxable property and average collections to show that the city can accumulate for debt service annually no more than $28,701, which is barely enough to take care of three per cent on $484,200 of bond principal and set aside one-fortieth of that principal each year.

The city's offer also provides that the overdue interest, in excess of one million dollars, would be wiped out by payment of approximately $480,000 now in sinking fund accounts.

The complete text of the city's reply to the bondholder committee's last letter is published in today's issue of the News. It appears on page four.

City Reiterates Its Position on Settlement Of Municipal Bonded Indebtedness to Committee

The following is a letter written to the Bondholders Association in reply to a proposition from them for a settlement of Cisco's bonded indebtedness.

This letter was approved by the city commission and by a committee of ten citizens of Cisco selected by the citizenship in mass meeting to sit with, and aid, the city commission in finding a basis of settlement with the city's ability to pay.

Cisco Bondholders Protective Committee,
Mr. Chas. P. Bullard, Chairman,
120 Broadway,
New York, N. Y.

IN RE: CISCO BONDS, CISCO, TEXAS.

Cisco, Texas, Sept. 21, 1933.

Dear Sir:

This acknowledges the receipt of your letter of August 25th, 1933, in reference to the adjustment of Cisco Bond indebtedness, in which you decline to accept the proposition of the city of Cisco in payment of the outstanding bonds of said city as submitted to you in our letter of July 27th, 1933.

We regret very much that you failed to accept our proposition, as in our judgment, after a careful review of the existing conditions of our city, and its future prospects we considered it a useless expenditure of time and money to enter into any contract that the city could not carry out.

Our law requires the city in issuing bonds to provide at the time of issuance for the levy and collection of a tax sufficient to pay the annual interest each year and provide a sinking fund sufficient to liquidate the principal at maturity.

Based on the total assessed valuation of property within the city for the year 1933, the following statement will show the net amount of income that can be applied to the payment of the annual interest and sinking fund, to-wit:

Valuation of property for the year 1933	$2,514,749.27
Taxes assessed at 2 1/2 per cent per $100.00	62,868.72
Taxes collected 75 per cent (it will be less)	47,451.54
Revenue from all other sources	43,750.00
Total Revenue	91,201.54
Expenses of city	62,500.00
Total revenue that can be applied to interest and sinking fund	28,701.54
$484,200.00 refunding bonds at 3 1/2 per cent interest	16,947.00
1-40 of principal as sinking fund	12,105.00
Total amount to be applied on interest and sinking fund	$ 29,052.00

From the above statement of the annual net income less the expenses the city of Cisco can issue $484,200.00 in refunding bonds at 3 1/2 per cent interest on forty years' term, and provide a fund each year sufficient to pay the annual interest and a sinking fund to pay the bonds at maturity. The above income is not quite sufficient to cover the interest and sinking fund on that amount of bonds at 3 1/2 per cent but is near enough that the city can guarantee the carrying out of that contract, and that is all it is able to do.

Now in reference to the ability of the city to carry out the proposition made by you on August 25th, ult., to issue $2,178,900.00 in refunding bonds bearing 1 per cent interest the first year, 1 1/2 per cent the second year and 2 per cent for the next three years, 3 per cent for the next four years, 4 per cent for the next six years and 5 per cent for the last twenty-five years, an analysis of that proposition shows the following:

Refunding Bonds	$2,178,900.00
1st year 1 per cent interest	$ 21,789.00; Sinking fund $54,472.50
2nd year 1 1/2 per cent interest	32,683.50; Sinking fund 54,472.50
3rd year 2 per cent interest	43,578.00; Sinking fund 54,478.50
4th and 5th year	43,578.00; Sinking fund 54,478.50
6th year 3 per cent interest	65,387.00; Sinking fund 54,478.50
7th, 8th, and 9th years	65,387.00; Sinking fund 54,478.50
10th year 4 per cent interest	87,156.00; Sinking fund 54,478.50
11th, 12th, 13th, 14th, 15th year	87,156.00; Sinking fund 54,478.50
16th year, 5 per cent interest	108,845.00; Sinking fund 54,478.50
The same for the years 17th to 40 including

The above statement shows that under your proposition the city would be able to pay the interest the first year and default on the sinking fund and never be able to meet the interest and sinking fund thereafter, the deficiency growing larger each year. If the people of Cisco should vote bonds to meet that proposition they would know when they entered into the contract that it was impossible of fulfillment and, in a sense, be perpetrating a fraud on the public.

We cannot refrain from referring to that part of your letter of August 25th, which in glowing terms refers to the many advantages that would accrue to our city should we accept your proposition. Your arguments are both pleasing and forcible but not convincing, when viewed in the light of the facts as they exist.

During the years of the boom, at which time the old bonds were issued, our people had great expectations, and dreamed of a city with a population of 25,000 in a few years; with all oil derricks on every hill-top, wages high, money plentiful, great influx of capital, investors, laborers, new business and newcomers doubling the population of the town. With these glorious prospects great preparations were made for the future. Indebtedness created for improvements including the largest hollow-type concrete dam in the world, never dreaming but what such conditions would continue, and resting secure that their accumulated indebtedness would be easily liquidated by increased values and population, but, alas, conditions changed, the oil derricks disappeared from the hillsides, capitalists, speculators, laborers, new business and new comers have gone to other pastures green and our people awakened to the fact that the city was loaded down with an enormous debt which they are absolutely unable to pay. The only asset we have in abundance is water, with not enough purchasers of the water to pay ten cents on the investment.

Now in reference to your suggestion that the amount of the refunding bonds be reduced and rate of interest increased; from a careful examination of our resources and ability to pay, we can again offer the same proposition contained in our letter of July 27th, 1933, with this addition that we agree to pay 3 1/2 instead of 3 per cent interest. The offer now made is as follows:

The city of Cisco agrees to issue and deliver to the bond holders refunding bonds of the city of Cisco on the basis of $100.00 for each $1,000.00 of principal in lieu of the old bonds and coupons, which are to be surrendered to the city at the time of the exchange of not less than 95 per cent of the outstanding bonds. The refunding bonds to be issued by the city which pledge the full faith and credit of the city, shall contain the usual recitals as to the regularity of the proceedings and in compliance with the Constitutional and Statutory requirements and limitations, and shall be secured in their entirety by a tax levy and by pledge of the net revenues of the city's utilities so far as the same can be legally pledged, such bonds to be coupon bonds and to mature forty years from date. Provided any part of said bonds may be redeemed by the city at its option and shall be dated October 1st, 1933, and bear interest—semi-annually on each April 1st, and October 1st of the life of said bonds at the rate of 3 1/2 (three and one-half) per cent interest per annum. The city to pay $48,000.00 in cash in full liquidation of all past due interest on said bonded indebtedness, said payment to be made when said bonds are taken up and cancelled. Said city to have thirty days notice of the acceptance of this offer within which to order an election, and six months within which to complete the refunding operations.

We want the bondholders to know that we are anxious to do all in our power to meet our obligations, but we realize and you and they must know that this offer is the best possible offer we are able to make and carry out, and we hope that you will see your way clear to accept the same.

Yours very truly,
CITY COMMISSION,
By J. T. Berry, Mayor,
Approved by Committee of Ten.

OPTIMISM IS DAMPENED BY TRADE DECLINE

AUSTIN, Sept. 29 — Optimism engendered by almost five months of sharply rising business activity following the inauguration of the Roosevelt administration has been considerably dampened by the industrial recession of the past three weeks, it is pointed out by Dr. F. A. Buechel, assistant director of the University of Texas bureau of business research, in his monthly analysis of current and prospective business developments.

"Labor Day had been widely publicized as the date when from five to six million workers were to have been restored to their jobs under the NRA codes, and many observers seemed to feel that this date would mark the resumption of the sharp upward trend of business after a brief, late summer lull," Dr. Buechel said.

"Industrial activity has continued to decline, however, during the past three weeks, and has cast the first broad shadow of doubt upon the administration plan, and a more critical attitude is being taken toward certain feature of the program."

Restoring Optimism

Recent slowing down in the rate of business decline and general confidence that the president will continue to select the best from the highly contradictory advice furnished him appears at the present writing to be gradually restoring the optimism which prevailed during the spring and early summer months. This restoration of confidence has been helped along by President Roosevelt's recent announcement that the government stands ready to make available to business and industry from one billion dollars through the R. F. C. on favorable credit terms, which announcement, according to Standard Statistics company, over-shadowed all other recent financial and industrial developments. The move was interpreted as another step in emphasizing the administration's determination to bring about credit inflation.

"The plan for R. F. C. loans is presumably intended to supplement direct loans by banks; since, however, under the plan banks are to make the loans initially and pass them onto the R. F. C. with their endorsement, it is difficult to envisage any new impetus toward expansion of business credits immediately. Long-term loans through community mortgage companies, may, however, prove immediately helpful.

"Such limited adverse criticism of the administration program as exists continued to be centered mainly upon the A. A. A., both with respect to its present activities and its long-term program."

Processing Taxes

The significance of the processing taxes designed to produce funds for financing a permanent program to adjust crop and livestock production to domestic requirements is getting to be more generally understood. As a result, growing opposition to this part of the administration program is being more fully fixed.

"Turning to the business situation in Texas from the complex problems which continue to cloud the outlook of industry and commerce in their national and international relations, it is gratifying to note that several business indexes show definite improvement along a number of lines.

"New passenger car registrations in the seventeen most populous counties of the state showed an increase of 11 per cent over July and 119 per cent over August, 1932. Charters granted during August to new firms permitting them to do business in Texas indicated a slightly better than normal seasonal gain. Commercial failures were the smallest in number for any August since 1920 except in 1928 when there were 28 recorded, against 33 this year.

September employment conditions in Texas show a marked improvement both over August, 1933, and September, 1932. For the week ended September 16 a total of 911 establishments reported 71,250 employees against 68,243 for the same firms in August and 64,391 in September, 1932, showing a gain of 4.4 per cent and 10.7 per cent respectively. While the rate of pay has shown practically no change during the month, the increase in buying power represented by the sharp rise in number of workers should be material.

"Department and clothing store sales during August showed by far the greatest percentage improvement of any August since the records of the bureau of business research began in 1927."
