T. C. GARDNER, STATE B. T. U. DIRECTOR, SAYS WORLD CRISIS BRINGS U. S. BACK TO RELIGION

FT. WORTH, Nov. 20.—The gathering here of 15,000 Texas women for the Baptist Training Union convention is convincing evidence that America's reaction to the world crisis is a return to religion, in the opinion of T. C. Gardner, state BTU director.

Represented at the three-day meeting are 240,000 BTU members in Texas—a growth of 40,000 in the last year.

Since Christian and democratic ideals are similar, Gardner predicts that government and religion will work together in building a stronger America after the emergency has passed. The two can and should work hand in hand, one strengthening the other, he believes.

But religion and government never will make a formal union, the church leader added.

"Neither the church or state wants that," he said.

Gardner foresees a religious revival so potent that a re-awakened America will become so strong and confident that the nation will be able to defend itself against any foe and, if necessary, take the offensive against any future threats.

John L. Lewis can't win his fight with the administration because American people won't let him, the churchman said.

"We've still too much of Washington's spirit to let one man wreck our country," he declared.

Gardner attributes the widespread chaos in Europe to a cynicism which grew out of a loss of faith in Christian ideals. He told of a trip through Europe in 1937. In every country he found young men and women cynical and despairing, ready to put their faith in anything that came along because they felt a need for loyalty to something or someone.

In Russia, Lenin and Stalin came into power and gained followers by the millions. In Germany, faith in the Nazi party and in Adolf Hitler became semi-religious, and in Italy, blustering Benito Mussolini came along with a plan his countrymen accepted. "France didn't fall because fifth columnists tore her down from within," he asserted, "but rather because she never had recovered from the French revolution of 1796—a revolution which shattered religion."

Misses Elsie Pulley and Lucile are attending the State Teachers' association in Houston.

LEWIS REBUKES THE PRESIDENT

President Roosevelt proposed a new formula for ending the strike in the captive coal mines Wednesday and within a few hours John L. Lewis, on his own behalf, flatly and firmly turned it down.

Mr. Roosevelt proposed that further discussion of the one issue of the strike—which he described as the closed shop—be postponed until after the national emergency, or that the dispute be submitted to arbitration with the union and the mine management agreeing in advance to abide by the result.

Lewis replied that any formal decision would have to await a meeting of the union's policy-making committee on Saturday, but that as far as he was concerned, the arrangement was unsatisfactory.

The officers of the union, he said, had no authority from the membership to accept anything short of a union shop—an arrangement under which all employees must join the union.

As for arbitration, he added, Mr. Roosevelt's recent statements had been so prejudicial to the claims of the union that he doubted an unbiased umpire could be found.

HONK IRWIN, FORMER LOBO STAR, HERE

Honk Irwin, high school student and outstanding football player with the Cisco Lobos in 1924-25, was a Cisco visitor today and met several old friends for the first time in years.

Aside from being a bit gray at the temples, Mr. Irwin has changed very little from the days when he so often charged the line to the complete discomfiture of opposing gridsters.

Mr. Irwin is married, lives at DeLeon and is in the employ of the Humble Oil company. He was away from home, in the oil fields, last Tuesday, hence was unable to attend the funeral of his dear friend, Ceedy Grist.

In speaking of former Lobo players, Mr. Irwin recalled the names of several former players who have died. He mentioned: "Chigger" Brown, killed by a dynamite explosion.

Jimmy Jack Fields, blood poisoning.

Charles (Ox) Blanton, gasoline burns.

Bo Speights, auto wreck, Ceedy Grist.

GARRETT MADE GOOD TALK AT ROTARY LUNCH

Cisco Rotary club—moving along nicely in its twenty-second year in Cisco—met at noon today with Dean H. R. Garrett of Cisco Junior college furnishing the program.

Miss Melba Wood, Junior college student, gave two thoroughly enjoyable readings and Dean Garrett made a very interesting talk on the part that will be played by food—during the war and in the reconstruction days to follow the costly death struggle now raging abroad.

Rotarians Jack Frost and Rev. Mr. Blount of Eastland, were visitors; also Percy Warwick, secretary of the Cisco chamber of commerce.

Attendance was good, only five members being absent.

GOOD TRAINING, WITH PAY, FOR CAPABLE MEN

Naval recruiting officers will accept applications for enlistment at the Cisco postoffice tomorrow from 9 till 12 o'clock. In the afternoon they will be at the Eastland postoffice.

Young men between the ages of 17 and 28, if physically fit, will be accepted for training in aviation schools.

Men qualified by professional training in a trade used in the navy may apply for enlistment as petty officers; the pay is $60, $72, $84 or $99 per month, dependent upon experience. Age limits, 17 to 50.

Those joining the naval reserve are required to serve only during the present national emergency.

BRITISH LAUNCH DRIVE

CAIRO, Nov. 20.—A British offensive, led by American-built tanks, stormed into the rain-washed Libyan desert today.

RAF attacks meanwhile smashed at Axis airplanes and raked enemy tank columns and communication lines with bombs and gunfire.

Heading for a big-scale battle with the main Axis mechanized forces and attempting to relieve the 7-month siege of Tobruk, British imperials are believed to be well over sixty miles west of the Egyptian border and possibly engaged in a major test of strength with the enemy.

An RAF communique said twelve Axis planes had been destroyed so far and many others severely damaged.

In London, Prime Minister Winston Churchill told parliament the long-awaited big push already had won positions of "marked advantage" and that the decision might come "within a few hours in a giant battle of mechanization."

"This is the first time we have met the Germans at least equally well armed," Churchill said, adding that Britain had waited, planned and massed her strength for five months before unleashing the assault.

"I don't know whether the trial of strength has yet taken place between heavy armored forces," he said, "but it can not be long delayed."

"The encounter, when it is achieved, is like a clash of fleets and flotillas and, as in a sea battle, all may be settled one way or another in the course of a few hours."

Churchill said flatly that the purpose of the campaign was to destroy the German and Italian armies in Libya.

LUTHERANS TO DEDICATE A FINE CHURCH

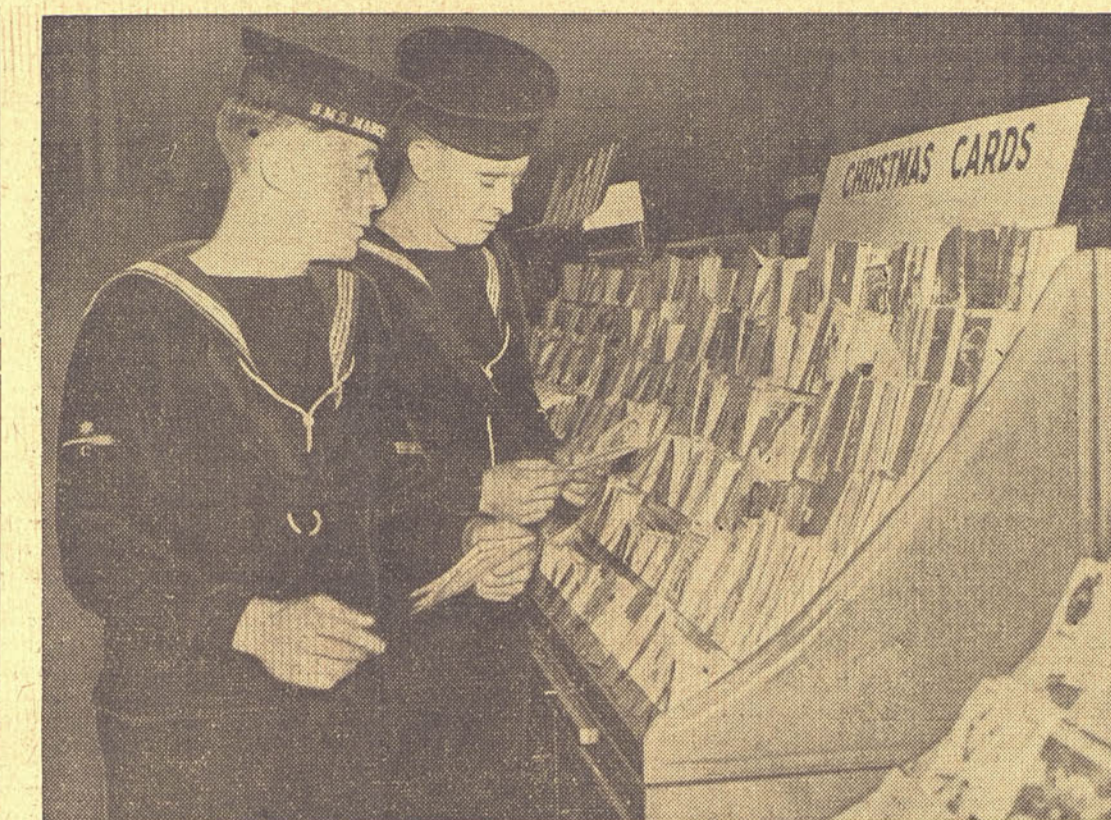

STAMFORD, Nov. 20.—The Ericsdale community, northeast of Stamford, made up chiefly of thrifty Swedish families with well-kept farms and homes, soon will dedicate a handsome new edifice for the Bethel Lutheran church, which would be a credit to a city congregation.

Oil found on the church property several years ago and bumper crops the last few years have enabled the members of the congregation and the pastor, Rev. Hugo B. Haterius, to realize their dream of a beautiful house of worship to replace the frame structure, built in 1907, which has been the community meeting place for many years.

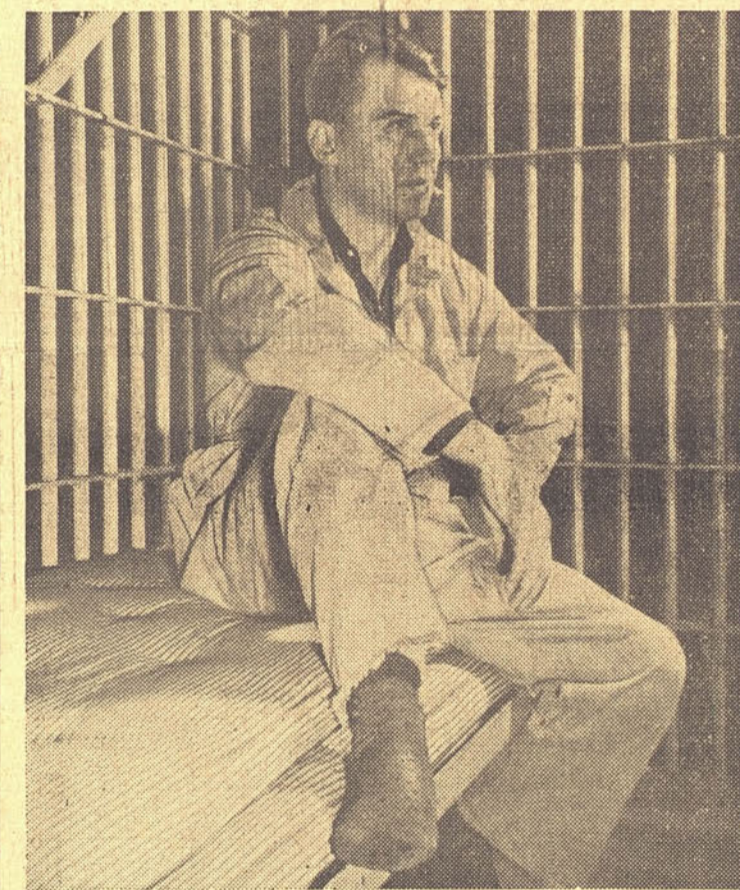

The new building has double walls built of native rock taken from the church property. It is 104 feet long, 60 feet wide at its widest with a nave proper of 40 feet and has a height of more than 100 feet to its cross-tipped spire.

FEWER AUTOS.

AUSTIN, Nov. 20.—New passenger automobile registrations in Texas last month totaled 4,070, a drop of 46.9 per cent from October, 1940, but 58.6 per cent above the preceding month. For the year, registrations were up 23.2 per cent. The sale of commercial vehicles in October was 18.2 per cent below October, 1940, but was 8.1 per cent higher than in September, 1941.

MAIL EARLY FOR CHRISTMAS—Sid Thompson, of Hull, Eng., and Reginald Grossige, of Oxfordshire, in Philadelphia now, don't know where they'll be next. So they shop now, somewhat in advance of Santa Claus.

O'DANIEL OUT AFTER DEER NEAR UVALDE

UVALDE, Nov. 20.—Senator O'Daniel moved on to new hunting grounds in an effort to kill a deer Thursday.

Wednesday his party had several shots during their hunt on Frank Kincaid's ranch, but killed no game.

Former Vice President Garner also has been out after deer. Whether he and O'Daniel met for a talk was not learned.

THIRTY CARS DERAILED.

AMARILLO, Nov. 20.—A green fruit express of the Santa Fe railroad, traveling approximately 50 miles an hour, was reported Thursday to have been derailed in a cut just east of Broncho, N. M. Broncho is a few miles west of Willard, N. M. Manager George Mirrhin in Amarillo said he was informed about 30 of the fruit cars had been derailed. Wreckers from Clovis and Belen, N. M., were sent to the scene.

BONNY TAKES COMMAND.

BROWNWOOD, Nov. 20.—Col. Frank E. Bonney, former camp commander at Camp Hulen, near Palacios a coast artillery anti-aircraft training center was in command of Camp Bowie Thursday, succeeding Lieut. Col. Louis W. Eggers, who reverted to his duties as camp executive officer,

TRAIN-TRUCK WRECK KILLS 2 AT DALLAS

DALLAS, Nov. 20.—Two persons were killed and six injured, four seriously, in the collision of a Burlington streamlined passenger train, the Texas Zephyr, and a truck heavily laden with steel beams at a grade crossing on the outskirts of Dallas Thursday morning.

The truck driver, identified as Arthur Spearman of Houston, was killed instantly. The engineer of the Ft. Worth and Denver train, D. E. Sewell of Wichita Falls, died in Parkland hospital two hours after the crash.

The engine and several cars of the train, enroute to Dallas, overturned from the terrific impact and went into a ditch.

The injured: Effie Talley, 29, Wichita Falls, fractures.

J. E. Wortham, fireman of the train, of Wichita Falls, serious burns about the hands.

J. H. Graham of Buffalo, Texas, fractures and burns.

E. E. Ross, 43, Dallas, fractures. Bonnie Catherine Phillips, 20, of Dallas, sprained ankle.

E. Woodcock, the conductor, of Dallas, minor bruises.

OIL ALLOWABLE IS INCREASED FOR DECEMBER

AUSTIN, Nov. 20.—The Texas Railroad commission Thursday issued an oil proration order for December, providing for allowable production of 1,555,192 barrels on Dec. 1.

This figure was 75,492 barrels above the Federal Bureau of Mines' estimate of market demand for Texas crude, 1,479,700, but the commission said actual production would be 3.5 per cent less than the allowable or only 21,060 barrels more than the bureau estimate.

It compared with an allowable of 1,533,283 barrels at the start of November and an average allowable of 1,540,517 barrels as of Nov. 15.

Eight shutdown days were ordered for December the same number as in November. The days on which wells in the state will be closed with some exceptions for special operating conditions, will be Dec. 6, 7, 13, 14, 21, 25, 28 and 30.

TEXAS LEADERS UNITED YOUTH SHOW SPIRIT

FT. WORTH, Nov. 20.—Texas leaders of the United Youth for Defense movement today released the text of an open letter they addressed to President Roosevelt demanding action to "end strikes now."

The letter, sent to the president from state headquarters at Hotel Texas, urged Mr. Roosevelt to "tell those irresponsible leaders of labor... that no single group for its own advantage is privileged to hold up production for defense."

Vaughan Woodard is state director and Earl Gaunt, state secretary.

LECHE IS ILL.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20.—Former Governor Leche of Louisiana, who is under a 10-year federal sentence for mail fraud, was reported in critical condition Thursday at the Baptist hospital.

Dr. Will Durant, author, will be the first of a long list of noted speakers for the three-day convention. He also will address a meeting Thursday night.

Maj. George Fielding Elliott, military analyst, will speak Friday night on "How Safe Are We From Attack?"

FARMERS UNION HITS AT 1941 TAX METHOD

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 20.—The National Farmers Union adopted Wednesday a 1942 program calling for reduced taxes on low-income groups, federal old age pensions to all, including the farmers, and co-operation with organized labor on "legislative matters."

Delegates in the closing business session of the 37th annual convention asked that no ceiling be placed on farm commodity prices, but that floors on minimums be established instead.

The 1941 tax bill was labeled an "unfair levy upon low-income groups" and a "shock to our farm people."

"The soak-the-poor tax bill must be replaced by personal income taxes based upon parity of living conditions, the elimination of hidden taxes upon necessities of life and common man's luxuries and a heavy-handed policy allowing no loopholes to escape a tax upon all excess corporation profits," the program report stated.

77 HEREFORDS BRING $29,680 AT EXPOSITION

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Champion cattle, hogs and sheep were put on the block Thursday in a great auction at San Francisco's Grand National Livestock exposition.

Auctioneers aimed at eclipsing the sales record of the exposition's opening cattle auction Wednesday, when 77 Hereford cattle were sold for $29,680.

A Hereford bull calf brought the highest price, $1,125. Fifteen-year-old Maxine Liskey of Klamath Falls, Ore., paid nearly twice the average price for the calf, CBQ Real's Tone, but other prices were not far behind.

Another champion from the CBQ ranch of Fresno—Domino—brought $1,000, and White Mountain Mixer of the White Mountain Hereford ranch, Springerville, Ariz., was sold for $850.

The 61 auctioned bulls averaged $407 a head, and the 16 females, $301.

TALKATIVE JERRY.

AUSTIN, Nov. 20.—Railroad Commissioner Sadler today termed "a tempest in a teapot" the campaign for increasing production and prices of Texas oil.

REMOVAL OF WEYGAND IS THE REASON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The Vichy government today officially confirmed the ouster of Gen. Maxime Weygand as governor-general of Algeria, North Africa. The official note said the "post of delegate for coordination of African defenses, held by Weygand, has been suppressed and Weygand replaced."

The U. S. state department then declared that since the Vichy government "has acquiesced to the express demand of Hitler" to remove General Weygand as proconsul of French North Africa, the United States will immediately suspend all economic assistance to that area.

Furthermore, the state department said in its formal statement, the abdication of the Vichy regime to German pressure is "entirely outside the provisions of the German-French armistice" and will cause this government to re-examine the entire French situation.

Presumably this includes the supplying of American food to the French civilian population and to French prisoners of war within Germany.

The state department added that it remains to be seen the extent of Hitler's designs on the French Empire.

NEW AUTO CUT.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The Office of Production Management today ordered the automobile industry to curtail next February's passenger car production by at least 56.1 per cent of output last February and warned that "the cut may be made greater" because of the defense program.

COLD WEATHER NEAR.

FT. WORTH, Nov. 20.—Near freezing weather, possibly the coldest of the season, is predicted for Fort Worth Thursday night, but skies are expected to be fair. Cold weather moved in Wednesday night to send the mercury down to 44 degrees here Thursday morning after a top of 79 degrees Wednesday.

WAR CLOUDS.

It is hard to tell, just now, what to do about Japan, or how soon to go about the job that most Americans believe has to be done.

Our government and most of our people apparently are convinced that there is no chance of coming to agreement with the present Japanese government and the ruling militarists in Tokyo. Their words and manner change with the day's news but their fundamental hostility and hatred are always visible behind their diplomatic fronts. Their ambition to rule the Far East and dominate the Pacific is as strong as ever. They have the hostile spirit and purpose of the German Nazis without the Germans' power. They are still determined to continue their disastrous effort to conquer China.

American patience is exhausted. Sound American principles and also sound war strategy impel us to continue our aid to China and make the Pacific and the South Seas secure for peaceful civilization. Our experts say that we have the military and naval power to settle this problem promptly and permanently without much delay or cost. Unless there is a miracle of diplomacy performed quickly by special Japanese Envoy Kurusu we may find ourselves at war very soon.

UNITY NOW.

It seems clear that the dangerously close vote on the amendment of the neutrality law last week really had more to do with labor than with neutrality. A sudden and unexpected insurrection developed in the House against the alleged "coddling" of labor and the tolerance of what many called "rebellion against the government," particularly in the vital coal industry.

Law-makers saw defense production in general riddled with strikes for higher pay, or for the personal glory and power of labor leaders, until they began to doubt whether this great nation would even be permitted to play a manly role against aggression.

What was the use of ordering our navy into perilous situations, to maintain national rights and self-respect and to safeguard the country's future, if wilful and arrogant men in strategic places, clothed in a little brief authority, could deprive their country of fuel and munitions?

If it was really the purpose of those rebellious congressmen to throw a shock into the American government, they succeeded. And so that perilous revolt may have served a useful purpose. The public now seems to be waking up. Likewise the government. Also organized labor. Miners, for example, have been explaining that they have no intention of not doing their duty to their country.

This is a critical time, and particularly a time for strength where strength is most essential—in the government of the United States. The only safe way now is the strong way, accompanied by complete frankness and consistency in the heart of the situation—the executive branch of the government.

CHRISTMAS MONEY.

Observation of National Prosperity Week, which begins on December 1, should be aided greatly by the distribution of Christmas club money. The total is about ten per cent higher than last year. Approximately $400,000,000 will be divided among 8,000,000 Christmas club members by 5,000 banks and savings institutions.

That would have been considered a tidy sum before money in the billions became a matter of daily familiarity and conversation—though not necessarily comprehended. As things are, it is still a big enough sum to make the holidays more serene for many people.

Past surveys of leading Christmas clubs indicate in a general way how the money will be used. About a third of it will be spent for Christmas purchases. A little less than one-fourth will go into permanent savings, this year, no doubt, including defense bonds. Year-end bills, insurance premiums, taxes, education, travel, charity, mortgage interest and miscellaneous items follow in that order.

The psychology of the Christmas club is one of its best features. Money could be saved in other ways for the same purposes, but it would hardly give its possessor that same feeling of freedom and richness.

CENSUS FACTS.

During the first four months of 1941, about 20,000 more babies were born in the United States than in the first third of 1940. Census Bureau statisticians predict a rate of 18.5 for 1941—only 0.3 less than the last reported (1937) rate in Germany.

Average age of white mothers at the time of their first birth is 23 years, while that of negro mothers is 20.

Nearly two and one-half million tank cars, of 10,000-gallon capacity each, would be required to carry the total 1939 output of gasoline of the 485 American petroleum refineries. Gasoline output in 1939 was over 24 billion gallons and a single train to carry it would be over 14,000 miles long.

The United States birth rate has turned upward. Provisional tabulations show 2,353,988 births reported in 1940—an increase of 91,260 over final 1939 figures. The birth rate per 1,000 population jumped from 17.3 to 17.9.

There was an increase noted in 1940 in the vitamin-bearing crops—tomatoes, oranges and lemons.

An airplane using 1,000 gallons of gasoline per day could remain in the air for more than 1,000 years before consuming all the aviation gasoline produced in the United States last year—nearly 396 million gallons.

Of the annual production of household washing machines—1,500,000—more than 1,350,000 are electric machines, and over 100,000 are gasoline-engine driven.

Approximately 600,000,000 pounds of dog and cat food, valued at $36,000,000, were produced last year by the prepared feed and meat-packing industries.

More than 90 per cent of all the grapefruit in the world is grown in the United States.

Forty years ago tuberculosis took 200 lives each year out of each 100,000 people. But it now takes less than 48.

DON'T SAY IT!

"It doesn't pay to say too much when you are mad enough to choke. For the word that stings the deepest is the word that's never spoke."

JEEMS RAINWATER

AUNT LUCINDY

Dear Editor:
When I got through slopping them hogs it was plum dark and I can't see very good at night out of specks Lucindy bought for me at a ten cent store.

But as I was sayin' it was too dark to finish my letter an' besides Lucindy sot me to doin' several unnecessary chores, so I am havin' th agin taking my pen in hand to let you know that I will git to Cisco next week maybe.

Just as I got to the pint in my tother letter about me and Bill Smith and Lucindy a travelin' towards Cisco when we arrived there last fall and where I told you that Bill Smith hauled me around and interduced me to the leadinest lights and mainest pillars of Cisco many of which I had knowed in days went by when they used to come down to the Coon Skin Crossing on fishin' trips and also with them wuz their paws and maws—and which boys I diskivered had done immigrated to Cisco and most of them now a runnin' the town.

I was interrupted by Lucindy bawling at me to go and slop the hogs.

But as I said the day Bill come along and found us in the ditch where I had driv the Lizzie flivver on account of Lucindy a pestering me so much by hollering every time a ole cow crossed the road and got me so flustered I couldn't drive keferful and scientific like I generally do (mainly on account of ole Lige Hopkins, the Coon Skin blacksmith, a overhauling ole Lizzie flivver before we sot out and him leavin' out several parts which he didn't know how nor where to put in agin and also gitting the injine in upside down and left out the battery so to be shore ole Liz shimmed along plum terrible).

Yes, ole Bill Smith diskivered us in the ditch down on the highway where we had to drive our Lizzie flivver and busted it up and Bill he hooked us onto his waggin and brung us into Cisco and later I was a tellin' Bill as how we was seekin' another location so I could do considerable dairy and stock farming and let Lucindy raise enough chickens and eggs to support us if the ile well which busted loose on our Van Zandt county farm and made us plum suddenly rich was to go dry and leave us busted.

Well, Bill he jest said Eastland county was the finest county in Texas for raisin' cattle and chickens an' corn an' cotton er anything a body was a mind to try his hand at, providin' of course he'd do some figgerations with his head and use a little elbow grease and we'd be plum fools to pass up such a fine place as Cisco.

Well, whilst we was joggin' along and before we arrive in Cisco, I suddenly speaks up and sez, "Bill," I don't see no sense in me an' Lucindy a gallivantin' all over Texas seekin' a new location when we pear to be travelin' right plum smack dab through the garden spot of Texas so I believe right here is whar we better light and hitch."

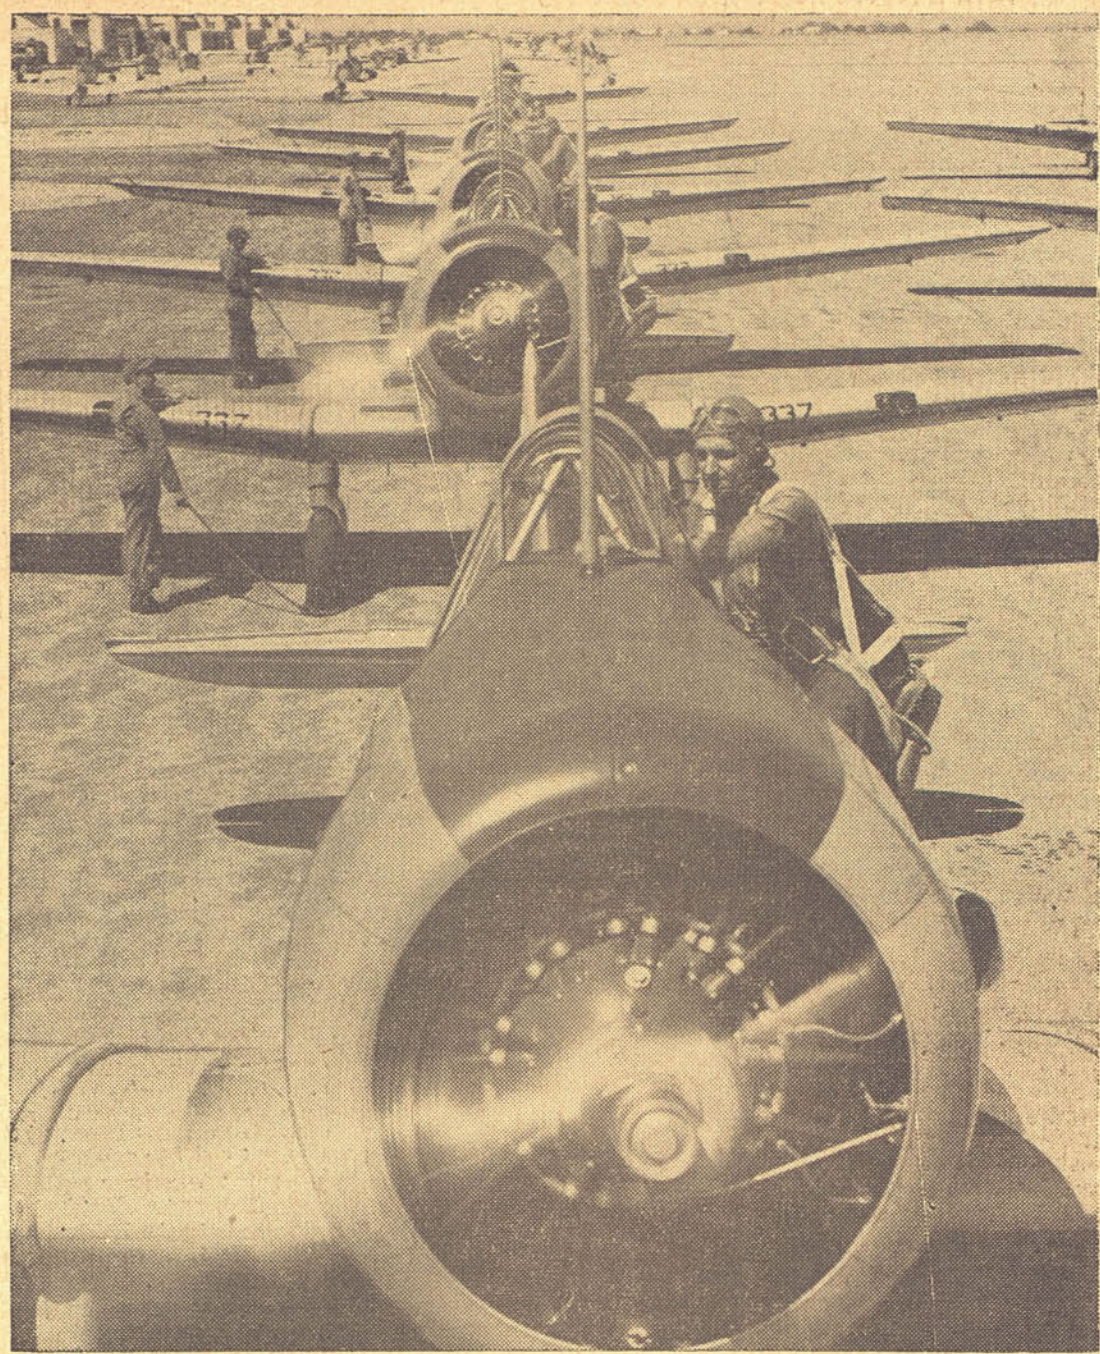

"Now you shore spoke a mouth full then and you're a showing yourself to be a deep and heavy thinker when you speak them remarks because thar ain't no better nor no more artiscocraticker settlement in Texas than around Cisco and you mought go further and fare wusser and I know the people of Cisco will be proud to accumulate sech fine citizens as you and Mrs. Rainwater, and I'll haul you around and interduce you to 'em myself as soon as we get to town and I git some of them errands offen my mind put thar by Mirandy when I left home by her, a tyin' several strings around my fingers so's I won't forget to go and fetch out the article she told me to fetch out (one of which is them thar electricity light globes with which she's figgerin' to string all over our front and back yards at Christmas time so's to keep burg-lars away and so's our two twins, Suterino and Passidino, w on't have to set out in the dark with their sparkin' beaux, so don't let me forget to go and deliver them orders of hern as quick as I can."

"Yes," sez I, "you ort to follow

"Oh, yes, I will, because it ain't safe not to."

"Where did she tell you to go?"
I sez,
"Oh, several places," sez Bill, "but one of the mainest things she told me not to forget was to stop off at the grocery store where we do all our trading and see if they have got in a new batch of them fine brooms made right here in Cisco by that big Tompkins Broom Factory and not to let none of them slick tongued Cisco store-keepers inveegle me into fetchin' out some other kind of broom by them saying it is as good as Tompkins' brooms. 'Fer, sez she, 'you know good and well thar ain't no other brooms which sweeps as clean and last as long as them Tompkins brooms and if you fetch out some cheap, loose built broom which is liable to lose half the straws out of it before I git a floor half swept, and which shore won't happen to one of them Tompkins' brooms, I'll make you prance right back to town with it an' fetch out a Tompkins broom."

"And don't you forget that, you

"Oh, yes, I will, because it ain't safe not to."

I sez,

"And don't you forget that, you dishwater, an' more'n likely if I

"Well, for the love of Mike, don't git her all riled up like that,

Bill, but be shore to rickoleet she said 'fetch out a Tompkins' broom'

and take no chances on gittin' dishwater throwed on ye," I replied back.

Well, Bill he ups and sez he has got to git a move on him and set out to do them errands Mirandy tied all them strings around his fingers on account of his forgetful memory before he forgot 'em and in sich a case he said he would not git ary bite of supper set out for him and he might git the rollin' pin throwed at him.

"Now, ain't Mirandy the bossy critter," sez I. "I reckon she mostly wears the pants at her house, don't she?"

Yes, Bill sez, she is the most out fall with her butter and egg and chicken money and which automobile she don't never allow Bill to drive for she sez she ain't goin' to take no chances on gittin' that fine car all busted up by him a goin' to sleep whilst drivin' and lettin' the car go in the ditch, even if she does keep it well insured.

"I don't blame her nary bit for I reckon them rules knows how to come home by themselves if he goes to sleep but that thar new car," sez Lucindy, "it needs a skillful driver."

Well, Bill said one of the most importantester, and she sot him out to march hisself as straight as he could to the Cisco Gas Corporation and pay the gas bill before they git shet off from cookin' them fine vittles which she cooks so good on that thar new Magic Chef Gas Range which Mr. Nance sold her last spring but which is as good as new and she's right now figgerin' on gittin' another one jest like it sot up in: the new home of their oldest daughter, Mizzoury Belle, who is engaged to git married at Christmas time and her finance is now a building her a new home right smack dab in Cisco on one of the mainest streets where all the utilities can git to her with their housekeeping conveniences such as she never had out thar on the farm bein'g they weren't nigh no natural gas pipes of the Cisco Gas Corporation. And as soon as Mr. Nance showed her the workings of that Magic Chef and also of the Servell Electrolux Refrigerator she then and thar hauled off and made a down payment on it bein'g they was going like lot cakes after them Cisco women seed the convenience of cooking and also freezin' ice with that fine Cisco gas, and Mizzoury Belle also had Mr. Nance to set aside one of them Federal Gas Water Heaters so's she can have plenty of hot water day and night and her new husband can't have no excuse for not taking a bath every day because of there not bein'g no hot water.

Yes, So he had orders that very day for him to git as quick as he could to the Glenn's fine furniture store whar they trade, to see if he had ary cradle stout enough for

Who Said Ten Gallon Hat?

HOW many gallons in a ten-gallon hat? Marcellaise Rich and Pete Kerscher of the rodeo are trying to find out. The hat used in their experiment is probably one of the last of the fine, light-colored felts; for white fur is almost unobtainable now because of the (you guess what). The hat held 1.4 gallons. Cowboys often-times pay as much for these hats as they do for their ponies.

her little Bill McGraw who she is tryin' to wean and purposes to put little Billy in and make him sleep hisself, so he won't be kickin' her in the stummick all night long; an' she told Bill to also take a look at them settin' room sets she read advertised in the Cisco Daily Press and if they was what they represented 'em to be in them ads of his'n and she sez she ain't never been disappointed yit in gittin' furniture from. She told Bill to get Ralph Glenn to load one of them sets in his waggin' and fetch it right out so's them two twin gals of her'n can have a nice settin' room parlor to do their sparkin' in instid of gittin' out on them highways joy ridin' in them automobiles on one of them pettin' and huggin' parties which she sez she hears takes place plum frequent an she believes in fixin' up a nice settin' room at home so's they can do their sparkin' at home instid of on them highways.

Mirandy is exactly right, I sez to Bill, and, sez I, bein' I am figgerin' on gittin' a right smart change of up to date furniture for our new lectricity lit, gas het bungalow, I'll jest go with you and git re-acquainted with Ralph Glenn myself, bein' as I knowed his daddy over yonder in Abilene, also running a big furniture store.

Well, Ralph Glenn was powerful tickled at the idear of me and Jeems a-locatin' nigh to Cisco on a fine hog and chicken ranch an he tole me to be shore and let him know as soon as we got moved into the new bungalow which the lumber company wuz a buildin' fer us and he'd be right thar to take our order for all the furniture we needed in the new house includin' them fine linoleums on the kitchen and bath room floors and velvet rugs on the settin' room floor same as he does other rich customers of his'n.

"Yes," sez he, "now, Mr. Rainwater, be shore and git yer home built as soon as possible an' don't be like some of them other rich fellers, spend all your money in riotous livin' such as buyin' a flock of automobiles or let some slick-tongued feller, inveigle you into gettin' a steam yacht; but," sez he, "the main thing is to git a home first. Then come right to the Glenn Furniture Store and git that home fitted out from porch to kitchen with fine new and comfortable furniture."

Now Ralph is exactly right. Many folks a ridin' round Coon Skin Crossin' in fine new cars which for Jeremier Plunket he sez some hain't paid him for their furniture bought five years ago and Jeremier sez that ort to be some law agin folks buyin' fine automobiles, and steam yachts," sez Lucindy, "before they pay for their vittles and clothes."

"Well, I jest told Bill that I shore wanted to get in with the nobility of Cisco. I figured to soshate more with nobility of Eastland county from now on out instid of with pore white trash an' I shore would be much obleeged if he would haul me around and get me acquainted with the squar dealer's store keepers whar he done his tradin'."

"Well," sez he, "I'll do that jest as soon as I unload yer ole busted up Lizzie flivver on a repair shop so's they kin git to work on her and then I'll haul you'n round to git acquainted with the proprietor of the Cisco Daily Press which is the best paper in Eastland county, and who is a regular customer of Mirandy's fine butter an' milk."

Silver appointments were used in the dining room. The table was laid with a white Irish linen and lace cloth; tall tapers burned in tin candelabra.

Mary Olive Garrett Becomes Bride of Sgt. G. Roy Heifrin, Jr.

In a beautiful setting at the First Christian church this morning at 10 o'clock, Miss Mary Olive Garrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Garrett, became the bride of Sgt. G. Roy Heifrin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Heifrin, Sr., of Weatherford.

Rev. E. Buford Isaacks, pastor of the First Christian church of Alpine, assisted by Rev. J. R. Wright, officiated in the single ring ceremony underneath an arch of greenery and calla lilies topped with a golden wedding bell tied with a large bow of gold color tulle; lighted gold tapers interspersed with calla lilies were placed along the chancel rail.

Pre-nuptial music was played by Mrs. E. B. Isaacks of Alpine, cousin of the bride, as Dorothy Jo Garrett, sister of the bride, and Bonnie Bess Erwin entered and lighted the candles; Miss Julianna Bruce of Weatherford played a violin solo, "Because," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Isaacks, who also played accompaniment when Miss Marian Jacobs sang "Oh, Promise Me." The music changed to the classical strains of Lohengrin's bridal chorals as the bridal party entered.

During the ceremony, organ music, "Call Me Thine Own," was played by Mrs. Randolph Lee Clark. Rev. E. B. Isaacks and Rev. J. R. Wright entered from opposite doors adjoining the choir loft, met at the arch and stood awaiting the arrival of the bride and groom; Sgt. Heifrin and his best man, Troyce McKinney of Weatherford, came from a class room door adjacent to the auditorium.

The maid of honor, Miss Martha B. Heifrin, sister of the groom, entered alone. She wore a beige tangerine crepe dress with brown trimming and accessories. Her corsage was of gold chrysanthemums. The bride entered on the arm of her father, H. R. Garrett, who gave her in marriage. After the marriage vows were said, the ceremony was concluded with prayer by Rev. J. R. Wright. The bride was attired in a becoming brown crepe dress trimmed with gold nail heads on the shoulders and pockets; her purse was brown suede with tan calf and suede gloves. She wore a brown off-face hat. Brown suede and tan calf shoes completed her attire. She carried a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums; for "something old," she carried a drawn-work handkerchief of her great-grandmother's; "something borrowed" was a gold and pearl lavelier—her mother's.

Mrs. Isaacks played Mendelssohn's wedding march as the recessional. Girls assisting with the seating were Misses Mary Louise Poe, Anna Jo Tableman, Mary Elizabeth Wright, Betty Lou Powell, Mrs. Marston Surles and Mrs. Blake Stephens. They each wore crepe street dresses, with corsages of gold colored chrysanthemums.

Reception Follows. Immediately following the wedding a brief, informal reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The pretty three-tier wedding cake was cut by the bride, who was relieved by Mrs. E. B. Isaacks. Mrs. Minnie Hill presided at the silver coffee service.

The young couple then left on a short honeymoon trip. Sgt. G. Roy Heifrin, Jr., is now stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., but will be transferred to Camp Bowie, Brownwood, Nov. 29.

JAPS IN BETTER HUMOR

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Japanese-American peace - or - war talks were in a state of suspension today, as the Nippine negotiators awaited instruction from Tokio, but a note of cautious optimism was evident in both American and Japanese quarters.

Japan's flying envoy, Saburo Kurusu, spent the day conferring with Ambassador Kichisaburo Nomura and other embassy officials, preparing for a resumption of the conversations, probably Friday. Meantime, it was regarded as significant—on the heels of "show-down" talks yesterday—that the belligerent tone of the Japanese press suddenly shifted to one of friendship and peace.

When the conversations are resumed Kurusu and Nomura are expected to present the views of their cabinet and military leaders. The abrupt about-face of the government controlled press was seen as a direct result of Kurusu's initial report to his government.

"An optimist is one who falls from a twenty-story building, and at every story shouts, 'I'm all right so far!'"
