Clocks Still as House Considers Extension Proposal

TUESDAY NOON PROPOSED FOR ADJOURNMENT

AUSTIN, May 22.—With clocks in both houses and senate stopped to avoid forced adjournment a new proposal to continue the present legislative session until noon Tuesday, was under consideration this afternoon. The senate adopted the proposal and sent it to the house. It was received with shouts of "No!"

After a huddle of house leaders it was agreed to recess for an hour and a half before deciding. The senate decided to stand at 3:30 for an hour to await the house's decision.

The action was taken with reports general that the governor has declined to call a special session within a month unless appropriation and revenue bills are balanced so as to relieve him of the necessity of cutting out many appropriations.

An omnibus tax bill carrying an increased sulphur tax, a tax on cement retail tax on cigarette sellers and a peddlers tax was finally enacted. It was variously estimated to produce from one to two million dollars additional revenues.

LEGISLATURE AT WORK EARLY

AUSTIN, May 22.—The 42nd Texas legislature was at work early today on the 130th and final day of its session. While it will be only one legislative day, prospects that by turning back the clock it actually will run into Saturday.

Decision to finish today came when the house of representatives, by an overwhelming vote, 94 to 45, turned down the suggestion of Gov. Ross Sterling that they extend the session by recessing for a month.

The senate agreed to the plan 17 to 12. The house deferred a vote until late in the day. Objections levelled at it in the house were:

It would mean 60 days delay in bills already passed taking effect.

No member who sought to claim pay for the 30 days recess could be denied $5 for every day under the attorney-general's ruling that pay goes on in recess.

Arm Broken on Trip to Concho

Barton Philpott, of Philpott, the Florist, returned yesterday afternoon from a fishing trip to the Concho river near San Angelo with a broken left arm received when he missed his footing in the darkness and plunged down a 20-foot bluff. Mr. and Mrs. Philpott were with a camping party of about 25 other people from over this section at the time. They left here Tuesday morning on the trip. Tuesday evening Mr. Philpott was returning to his own tent from visiting neighboring campers when he received his injury.

BRECKENRIDGE IS CHOSEN BY METHODISTS

Breckenridge was selected as the meeting place of 1932 at the closing session of the Methodist district conference Thursday afternoon at First Methodist church.

The conference adopted a resolution of the findings committee in which the usual stand was taken in favor of the Eighteenth amendment and the Volstead Act but in the resolution a strong urge was made for preaching to people about personal sobriety.

A resolution of thanks was extended by the members of the conference for the splendid entertainment they received while in Cisco attending the conference.

BUY A POPPY AND HELP CHEER DISABLED VETS

The annual poppy sale of the auxiliary of the American Legion for the benefit of disabled veterans now in government hospitals will be conducted by the Cisco auxiliary tomorrow. Poppies to be sold have been made by the veterans in the hospitals who receive one cent each for making the flowers. For many of them this represents the only source of income.

Funds derived from the sale will be used to provide comforts that they cannot otherwise secure.

The sale of poppies annually precedes memorial day during which the sacrifices of those who served in defense of their country are freshened in the memory of the public and tribute is paid to the boys. Memorial services will be held Sunday evening at 7:30 at the First Baptist church when the Rev. E. S. James, pastor of the church, will preach. All ex-service men are invited.

GREER ANNOUNCES PURCHASE OF TWO CISCO THEATRES

K. N. Greer, for the past six years manager of the Robb and Rowley Theaters here, has purchased the Palace and Ideal theaters from that company he announced today. The transfer will be effective Sunday.

Mr. Greer will carry out the contracts and have the benefit of the franchises entered into and held by the R. and R. company for pleasure and under these agreements will be able to provide the same high class of entertainment which he has presented in the past and such as will be presented by other houses in the mammoth theater chain from which the local theaters withdraw in this deal. Mr. Greer will have no financial or managerial connection with any chain of theaters, although his franchise give him the same benefits as to pictures that they possess.

His purchase of these two theaters is a demonstration of Mr. Greer's faith in Cisco and his confidence that prosperous times are not far away.

He emphasized his determination to provide Cisco not only with the best of entertainment but with the most courteous and satisfying service that it is possible to provide in a theater. The same eager cooperation in civic programs and movements for the public good here that characterized his management of the theaters as a Robb and Rowley property will distinguish his operation of the houses as a personally-owned property, he said.

The transaction by which the two entertainment houses become a Cisco enterprise was consummated Wednesday. Consideration in the deal was not made public.

Clark Promises New "Sensations"

LCS ANGELES, May 22.—David H. Clark, former deputy district attorney and now a candidate for a municipal judgeship, talked calmly with newspapermen today and promised them later sensations while refusing to discuss the murders of a prominent politician and a veteran newspaperman, both charged to Clark.

QUICK RESTORED. HAVANA, Cuba, May 22.—Suppression of Cuba's revolutionary flare-up appeared complete today with reports from all points indicating quiet had been restored.

Senior examinations were completed yesterday and final examinations for the rest of the high school will begin Monday afternoon and will be completed by Thursday at noon, Principal H. Brandon announced.

CAT MOTHERS COYOTES

HASTINGS, Neb., May 22.—Edgar Huxtable's cat liked a big family. She only had three kittens, so the mother cat adopted six little coyote pups that Edgar dug out of a den. But the coyote pups became so ambitious at meal time Huxtable killed them.

COLLEGE GLEE CLUB PRESENTS LIGHT OPERA

"The Crimson Eyebrows," a light opera, will be presented at the Randolph college this evening at 8:15 as a part of the commencement week program at the school.

The opera, based upon a Chinese legend and Chinese in theme and color, will be presented by the college glee club and the attraction will be enhanced with chorus dances and several duet dances.

The cast for the opera is: Princess Ting Ling, daughter of the former Emperor, Mae Dee Hall.

Ah Me, Ting Ling's cousin, Marjorie Swagerty.

Wang Mang, the usurper Emperor, Ed Dresden.

Yi Kang, the court astrologer, nicknamed "Star Eye", Charles Roberts.

Ko Moo, a distant relative of Ting Ling's, nicknamed "Old Buddha", Norma Wildman.

Fanchong, leader of "The Crimson Eyebrows", Homer Smith.

Hing Lee, an officer of the court; spy of Fanchong's, N. L. Taylor.

Yen Chen, an accomplice of Wang Mang's who impersonates "Neptune", Claude Pulley.

Desertion Law Still in Effect

AUSTIN, May 22.—The statute against wife and child desertion still is in effect in Texas, Attorney-General James V. Allred has notified District Attorney Walter Tynanan, of San Antonio. A recent decision of the court of criminal appeals on the topic makes it a misdemeanor instead of a felony, Allred advised.

VETERANS WILL BE GUESTS AT SERVICE SUN.

The American Legion together with veterans of all wars will be special guests of the First Baptist church Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. According to Post Adjutant Medaniel there will be as many as 50 legion men to come in a body and sit together a body for this service. The pastor, E. S. James, will speak at this hour on the subject of "The Vanguard and Reward of America Today or Fantastic of Peace."

"It is hoped," said the pastor today, "that every ex-soldier and every friend of the Legion will avail himself of the opportunity to come and pay tribute to those brave men both living and dead who have made possible our blessed inheritance in America. Memorial services on Sunday preceding Decoration day were begun by the G. A. R. many years ago but have become customary in practically every community today. In many places all the churches unite for a special service at this time, but it seems to have not been a custom heretofore in Cisco to observe the day in this way. Consequently, I have invited them to come to our service for this hour. We expect house filled to capacity and are making preparations for music and message that will be suitable to the occasion. I think we could not do too much in honor of those who have suffered the privations and hardships of war for us. As a consequence I am glad to attempt to bring a message that will magnify the indomitable spirit of our armies as manifested on the battlefield and one that will glorify the name of our God for His abiding presence in these great catastrophes."

The 11 o'clock services will be dismissed in deference to the baccalaureate services of the high school. Other than this all services will be held at the regular hour.

ATTACKS FAMILY

DRAOUT, Mass., May 22.—In what police described as a jealous rage Leroy Skilling, 55, attacked all members of his family with a claw hammer today, killing his young son, probably fatally injuring his wife and a daughter and then attempting suicide.

TRIO ADMITS OPERATION OF CRIME SCHOOL

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 22.—Instruction in crime on a commission basis was admitted today in signed statements of two attractive young girls and their self-styled teacher.

Earl Courter, 22, confessed to police he taught Lois McCormick, 22, and Lejane Van Burgen, 21, proficiency with guns, how to lure victims to their apartments and the approved procedure in relieving them of valuables.

The system worked to perfection on Ed Patrick, the first man on whom it was tried, Patrick told officers in identifying the trio as members of the gang which robbed him of $100, a quart of gin and kidnaped his wife.

The first hitch came with the arrest of Miss McCormick. She disclosed the operation of the so-called crime school, Courter and Miss Van Burgen fled to Wichita, Kansas, where they were arrested.

LARGEST PLATINUM USER NEW YORK, May 22.—The United States continues to be the largest consumer of platinum of any country in the world. During the past year more than $10,000,000 worth of platinum was imported of which sixty per cent was used by jewelers, and the rest in a great variety of industries.

BIZZELL IS MENTIONED AS BAYLOR HEAD

WACO, May 22.—Election of a successor to Dr. Samuel Palmer Brooks, late president of Baylor university, was believed imminent today with the announcement that a special meeting of the Baylor board of trustees has been set here for next Tuesday.

Dr. W. B. Bizzell, president of the University of Oklahoma, who is reported to have been offered the position, announced he would make his decision at noon today. Dr. Bizzell, former president of Texas A. and M. college was a pupil of Dr. Brooks when the noted educator was a professor here. The two have been intimately associated for many years.

Judge W. H. Jenkins, secretary of the Baylor board of trustees, however, today denied that any official overtures had been made to Dr. Bizzell seeking him as successor to Dr. Brooks.

No official action will be taken until the board meets Tuesday, Judge Jenkins declared.

DR. BIZZELL TO REMAIN AT NORMAN, Okla., May 22.—President W. B. Bizzell will remain at the University of Oklahoma at least another year the United Press was informed this afternoon.

Accepts Place in Brownwood School

Miss Blanche Shear, teacher of biology in Cisco high school since 1924, and re-elected for the next term of school, has accepted a position as instructor in science in the Brownwood high school, it was announced.

During her connection with the Cisco high school Miss Shear sponsored the Science club; raised $50 for the purchase of books for the school library; sponsored the senior class of 1927 which presented a trophy case to the high school as its parting gift and sponsored the senior class of 1930 which presented the school with a set of furniture for the auditorium stage.

First Elephant Exhibited in 1797

SALEM, Mass., May 22.—Now that circus days are here it may interest some folks to learn that the first elephant, the "celebrated Buffon," made its debut in this country in the spring of 1797.

On exhibition at the Essex Institute, a museum here, is the original poster announcing that "the greatest natural curiosity ever presented to the curious" will be on display at the Market House "from sunrise to sundown, every Day in the Week." The date on the poster is August 29, 1797.

Brought from Bengal The announcement, now wrinkled and time-worn, reveals that "the most respectable animal in the world" was first placed on exhibition in Philadelphia in the spring of 1797.

The elephant was brought to this country from Bengal aboard the ship "America," commanded by Captain Jacob Crowninshield, a famous Sales shipmaster. Landed at New York in April, 1797, it was sold by Captain Crowninshield for the sum of $10,000.

Though referred to in the announcement as a "mercat," the elephant was four years old and weighed more than 3,000 pounds.

Tax Reform Is Being Considered

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and his experts are considering a program of federal tax reform to meet the steadily mounting costs of government of which one phase is expected to be a proposal to increase the number of tax-payers.

CONFESSES THEFT

DALLAS, May 22.—An 18-year-old boy, his arm broken by a pistol bullet, confessed from his hospital bed here today that he was shot while trying to steal a spare tire from a parked automobile.

Waco School Youth Is Fatally Shot

WACO, May 22.—William Maxberry, 16, Waco high school freshman, was fatally wounded here this morning when a gun in the hands of his chum, Rich Thompson, 16, was discharged.

Maxberry stopped at Thompson's home on his way to school. The two were inspecting a pistol when the firearm was accidentally fired. A bullet lodged in Maxberry's chest. He died on the way to a hospital.

CRIME EXPERTS DETECT SHEEP FROM GOATS

In the world of crime, sheep can now be separated from goats. Sheep are those who can and will reform. Goat crooks are those who can't and won't.

New Jersey state experts, wise in the ways of crooks, have given 10,000 mental tests to jail and reformatory inmates during the past two years. The tests were made under the direction of Dr. James Q. Hollis, formerly of Yale university, now chief clinical psychologist of the New Jersey State Department of Institutions and Agencies—a job he has held since 1928.

The tests proved that the man who sneaks into your yard at night and steals a chicken and the bandit who stages a daylight bank robbery and "shoots it out with the cops" essentially have the same mental make-up, writes John E. Lodge in June Popular Science Monthly.

It was found that almost all criminals have four traits in common: They have little if any control over their feelings. Often they are not quite bright, though seldom feeble-minded. They act quickly upon suggestions without considering the consequences. They are unable to tell the fine points of difference between one situation and another.

A fifth trait, shared by many but not by all, is the inability to unlearn what once has been learned. In other words, the inability to shake off old habits of thinking. The fact that some have this trait and others not, probably is the most important point brought to light by the tests. For this is where the main difference comes in between a goat and a sheep.

To find out to which class each prisoner belongs, all are given the "mirror drawing" test. Each is made to trace a six-pointed star with his hand shielded and a mirror placed so that he watches the tracing in the glass. This forces him to make every movement backward. To succeed, he must break his old habits of drawing and writing. Those unable to do this finds it hard to change their habits of living. When released from prison and sent into the world, they are likely to return sooner or later to a life of crime.

The results of the mirror tests are taken into consideration by officials in paroling prisoners. The records justify the psychologists. Fewer violations have been reported since paroles have been granted in this way.

Traveling Man Is Burned to Death

WHARTON, May 22.—L. W. Fraley, 40, Wharton traveling salesman, was burned to death near Kendleton early today when his automobile turned over on the highway and caught fire.

Fraley was burned beyond recognition but his automobile was identified by the license plates.

Cleaning Plant Wrecked by Bomb

FORT WORTH, May 22.—The Pick-up station of the National Cleaners and Dyers here was wrecked by the explosion of a bomb early today.

All of the windows of the building were blown out and the ceiling and floors completely torn away.

Since May 1 the place had been cleaning and pressing suits for 10 cents.

STUDENTS TRIKE

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, May 22.—Students of local colleges are on what amounts to a virtual strike because of dissatisfaction with the educational reforms effected which they regard as making courses burdensome both scholastically and financially.

WINDOWS ARE SMASHED AND CROPS BEATEN

Grain crops, car tops, window panes, roofs and greenhouses of Floral companies suffered the most damage from a terrific hailstorm which swept over Cisco and vicinity early last evening. In the rural vicinity young grain, most of it in the milk stage, sustained heavy damage.

The storm, which lasted for 20 minutes, fell in its greatest intensity only a brief while when stones, many of them the size of hen-eggs, dangerously barbed and irregular in shape, pummeled the earth with great force under a terrific north wind. Numerous car tops were torn or punctured while unprotected windows on north sides of buildings, where they caught the

Purves Demolished

The rural community of Purves, with a population of about 130 people, a few miles south of Dublin was practically demolished during a storm last night, according to reports to the local offices of the telephone company. All frame buildings in the village, including two churches and six or seven residences were reported destroyed, the population taking shelter in two stone structures which survived.

The churches and residences were demolished and the debris scattered over the area.

Telephone connections with outside communities were broken. A crew was at work this afternoon to restore communication facilities, however.

A heavy hail doing great damage to crops accompanied the storm.

full intensity of the ice particles, were shattered. So far as could be determined no plate glass suffered. Windows on the north side of the Daily News building were smashed.

Greenhouses Suffer

Both the Philpott and the Cisco Floral Nursery company greenhouses sustained considerable losses. About two-thirds of the glass on the north and west sides of the Philpott greenhouse was shattered and similar fate visited the greenhouse of the Cisco Floral Nursery company. Nursery stock of the latter, which was in the open, was not thought to have sustained any great injury.

The Laguna hotel reported that about 30 windows on the north side of the building were shattered. The Daniels, Mobley and Gude hotels reported little damage.

All available places of shelter for cars in the downtown district were packed with automobiles as drivers sped to shelter from the impending veils of ice. A terrific downpour of rain accompanied the hail and the streets of the business district were shortly turned to swift rivers as water swept from the higher and residential sections of the city to the south and west.

Leaves were stripped from trees and ornamental shrubs and lawns and portions of the streets were carpeted with them in many places. Flower beds were beaten into ragged remnants where the full force of the storm struck.

Damage Repaired

Insurance agencies were busy this morning surveying the damage reported by clients while carpenters were put to work repairing damaged roofs and windows.

Stones seven and eight inches in diameter were common.

The storm was said to have been the worst to strike Cisco in several years, equalling in intensity that which swept the Lake Cisco canyon district in the spring of 1929, trapping a large crowd of Sunday afternoon sight-seers and ruining innumerable car tops. One person was knocked unconscious in that hail.

Rain which fell during the storm totaled 6 of an inch, according to the gauge at the city hall. This, however, fell in the space of a few minutes creating a condition resembling a cloudburst.

Crops south of the city appeared to have sustained the greatest damage. John Strickland reported heavy damage to oats and barley while the Lee Diversified farm estimated 30 per cent damage to its grain.

Bob Weddington, north of Cisco, said little damage was done by his crops. The rain was extremely heavy, however, he said, and the wind

DAILY BIBLE THOUGHT

MAKE YOUR CHOICE:—Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal: But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal: For where your treasure is there will your heart be also.—Matthew 6: 19-21.

SAN SABA WOOL GROWERS.

Wool shipments from San Saba have exceeded all previous records. Two hundred thousand pounds of wool have been shipped up to date with 300,000 pounds ready to be shipped within the next two weeks. Half a million pounds will represent the shipment from San Saba to a firm in Boston. More than $100,000 will be paid the wool and mohair growers of San Saba county by one Boston firm. A San Saba correspondent writes: "The firm has been buying wool, mohair, cotton and pecans for more than 50 years and has stimulated the interest in all these lines as money crops of San Saba." On the road to oblivion is the one crop farmer in the banner agriculture empire state.

WHEN IS A DEMOCRAT A DEMOCRAT?

Governor George W. P. Hunt of Arizona is serving his seventh term as governor of that commonwealth. He has asked the governors of 11 copper producing states to join with Arizona in a fight for a protective copper tariff. Copper has hit low levels; the industry is said to be in a critical condition and all copper producing states are affected by the depression. In the oil producing states there is a demand for a tariff on foreign crude regardless of the political affiliations of the demanders. Now, one of the most progressive of the Jeffersonian democrats of the west is calling for a high tariff to protect the American copper industry from foreign competition.

THE MAN WITH THE "HAIR-TRIGGER" TEMPER

He was irritable at the office, and grouchy at home. His enemies increased, his friends became fewer. Then one day his doctor told him the truth. He had been handicapped by constipation for years. It had brought headaches and constantly irritating ills to make him "touchy." It had stolen his energy and good nature. His doctor suggested eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly. And in a few days he was a changed man, cheery, ambitious—and on the road to success and happiness.

Constipation is so unnecessary. It can be overcome so easily, so pleasantly by eating delicious Kellogg's ALL-BRAN: a delightful, ready-to-eat cereal.

Two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN daily are guaranteed to prevent and relieve both temporary and recurring constipation. In stubborn cases, serve ALL-BRAN with each meal. Use this natural method and avoid the dangers of habit-forming pills and drugs. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron, which builds up the blood. Serve ALL-BRAN with milk or cream, with fruits or honey added. Delicious when combined with canned peaches. Use in cooking too. Sold by all grocers in the familiar red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

OTHER OPINIONS

BILBO HOLDS THE REINS

Texas has had both Ma and Pa Ferguson as Governors. Oklahoma has had Jack Walton, and Louisiana has had Huey P. Long as chief executives, and all of them have been either impeached or threatened with it. Mississippi, however, has a governor who refuses to be impeached, and holds firmly to the reins while his enemies wait patiently for the expiration of his term of office.

Theodore G. Bilbo started his career as a Baptist minister, then became a school teacher and finally a lawyer and politician. He was first elected governor in 1915, after having been acquitted of charges of bribery while serving as lieutenant governor. After serving one term as governor he was succeeded by Lee M. Russell, and served a jail sentence for contempt of court because he refused to testify in a suit involving Russell. While in jail he announced his platform for a second term as governor, but was defeated and then remained out of the spotlight until 1928 when he again was elected on a platform of "Bilbo, the Bible and brick paved roads." Since that time neither the Bible nor brick pavement seems to have made any particular headway in Mississippi but other things have been moving forward. Recently when it became apparent that the state would default on the payment of obligations on May 1st, the legislature attempted to meet in a "rump" session and make arrangements for financing a seven million dollar deficit, but Bilbo refused to give permission for the meeting unless every member of both houses would sign an agreement not to attempt to impeach anybody, and to remain in session only seven days. In the meantime, patriotic Mississippians made private arrangements for taking care of the state's credit until such time as the legislature can do so.

Thus Governor Bilbo holds office in spite of his enemies, and will continue to hold it until next December, when he will retire to a brand new $50,000 residence built on his big plantation. He is still only 53 years old, and in the normal course of events can be expected to continue his active political interest for several years. Moreover, there is always the possibility that he may be able to achieve a comeback and again may be elected to the governorship or to some other important public office. The Ferguson's are still the possessors of formidable power in Texas, Jack Walton came very near being elected mayor of Oklahoma City the other day, and Huey Long has been elected to the United States Senate. Mississippi will not bid itself of the Bilbo influence for a long time. — Brownwood Bulletin.

ROYAL UPSETS FREQUENT

PARIS, May 22. — The upsets of European royal circles are so frequent that the 1931 Gotha, the official diplomatic and royal almanac, which was published today, still carries Alfonso as King of Spain. A comparison of the Gothas of 1914 and 1931 shows that seven thrones of Europe were overturned by Republicans.

BREAD AT PRE-WAR LEVEL

GENEVA, May 22. — For the first time since the war bread has just reached its pre-war price level in Switzerland where it is now cheaper than in most of the other European countries. A kilogram of bread in Switzerland now costs 37 Swiss centimes, in comparison with 37 centimes at London, 45 centimes at Berlin, 48 centimes at London and 53 centimes at Milan.

"SHOOTING STAR" METEOR
HERMAN, N.B., May 22. — The shooting star that farmers of this section watched one night turned out to be a meteor. The meteor clipped through one of the wires of the Nebraska Power Co. plant here and disrupted service for the night. When the meteor was dug up from the pasture where it struck, farmers found the largest pieces to be 14 inches long and four inches thick.

A Wonderful Help to Mothers

Dallas, Texas.—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was a wonderful help and comfort to me as a tonic and nerve. I found it especially beneficial during pregnancy. It kept me in such good condition that I was able to do my work, hardly realizing my condition, and when a woman gets along without suffering at this time her mental condition is greatly helped. In times like these, when money isn't as plentiful as it might be, the old superstition that the best food must be high in price is wearing pretty thin. For now that women are thinking harder about getting their money's worth, more and more of them are wending their way to A. & P. stores. And once there, they simply can't believe that good food is expensive.

THE MELODY GIRL

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Beryl Borden, secretly in love with Tommy Wilson, delays his elopement with her half-sister Irene Everett, but fails to convince him that it is his duty to finish college.

Later Irene postpones the marriage believing she is to be a star radio singer. Securing an audition she permits Beryl to go to the studio. While waiting Beryl sits down at a piano and croons melodies. A director hears her and grants a private test. He promises a contract later. Irene fails and is furious when she hears of Beryl's success. Time passes but no word comes from the studio. At last a letter arrives and Beryl slips away for the interview. She is elated when presented with a contract. Her victory is bitter-sweet for her family and Tommy believe she robbed Irene of her chance. Beryl's debut is a success and she returns home laden with floral tributes.

Burning with envy, Irene decides to marry Tommy immediately, but his aunt dies and so the marriage is again postponed. Mr. Hoffman, Tommy's uncle, wants a housekeeper and offers inducements for an early marriage.

Trying to kill her love for Tommy, Beryl accepts invitations from young Prentiss Gaylord, who takes her to a party. Irene is waiting when they return that night.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XX
Irene, waiting up for her? Beryl looked at her sister, a lovely creature in (the nerve of her!) sea-shell pink lounging pajamas that were Beryl's. The flood of soft light that came from a golden shade was flattering to Irene.

Beryl turned to Prentiss with a feeling that she ought to shout a warning to him. Of course he could see for himself, but he couldn't read the signal as Beryl did. He would see only the golden hair shining in the soft light, the gleam of a satiny shoulder, the childlike pose of innocent sleep.

Prentiss wouldn't know that the lounging suit was taken without permission from its owner and that the wearer had waited up for her sister for the express purpose of meeting him, or failing that, to talk about him.

Of course, Beryl realized, she herself could guess at what was in Irene's mind, but she knew her sister very well. She felt she had made a fair guess.

Beryl wanted to let Irene sleep but even as she put a silencing finger to her own lips Irene stirred and opened her eyes. Seeing Prentiss standing there staring at her Irene sat up in pretended embarrassment. There was no reason for genuine embarrassment. Her costume was complete with its yellow coat and she knew her sister would understand that if she had not hoped to be caught in the pajamas she would not have worn the coat on a hot summer night.

Irene had learned through painful experience not to face Beryl's cool gray eyes when she was engaged in tricks. There was something about Beryl which made tricks, even the most commonly practiced ones, seem cheap and tawdry. She wasn't going to have her plans spoiled by Beryl so she smiled sweetly and apologetically at Prentiss.

"I wanted to hear about the party," she said, in the voice of a Cinderella who had no parties in her own life.

"Do you want a drink, Prentiss?" Beryl asked in a matter-of-fact tone.

Prentiss answered vaguely. "A drink? Oh, yes, yes, of course. I was thirsty, wasn't I?"

"May I have something too?" Irene pouted, still the little sister who'd be suppressed if other people had their way. That was the idea she hoped Prentiss would get. Irene had learned that most men enjoy being protectors, or imagining themselves such. She was young enough to look helpless and appealing.

Strange that little shallow-minded Irene should know so much more about men than her brainier sister. Was it instinctive knowledge that comes only to primitive minds? Or was it that much talked of woman's intuition? Beryl wondered as she made her way to the kitchen for the refreshments what Prentiss would say if she were to ask him about this.

Over the mixing of the cool drinks she smiled suddenly and said to herself: "Beryl, don't be a cynic. There must be men in the world somewhere who don't care for baby dolls at any stage of the game. Maybe Irene is just clever enough to pick her men."

Then she remembered having heard someone say that youth is intolerant but that its earnestness is necessary to the movement of the world. Well, maybe she could get a jump on life by practicing tolerance before she grew old. Maybe she wasn't justified in setting her own standards for other people to follow. Maybe Tommy wasn't weak in loving Irene. It wasn't Prentiss, it was Tommy she was judging.

"How about it, Partner?" she said softly aloud. "If I were 40 I would be able to admit that possibly I'm wrong?"

But she wasn't 40, and when she went back to the living room and saw Irene curled up in a picturesque pose in one corner of the sofa while Prentiss sat beside her (like a charmed bird, Beryl thought), all her philosophizing vanishing. Her disgust welled up stronger than ever, and she was sorry that she had brought a third glass for Irene.

The little mix should be spanked and put to bed if she got what she deserved, Beryl thought. But Irene was years too old for that and one had to treat her as a grownup.

Prentiss drank the lemon-mint and ate the thin brown cookies. Beryl knew that it might as well have been cider and doughnuts for all the difference he'd have known. She wished he would go for she was very tired. The party had been a strenuous one for her. Other guests had walked by twos on the adjacent beach or sat in dim corners of the big porch that fronted the ocean, but she had been kept indoors singing and dancing.

Her success, professional and social, was in no wise bore some to Beryl. She liked people and enjoyed being in a crowd because in spite of her directness she maintained a protecting reserve.

She sighed audibly and Irene had the impudence to tell her she should go to bed if she were so tired.

Beryl wanted to answer: "And leave you alone with Prentiss?" Instead she said: "We're all going to bed. Prentiss, get your hat. This is an old-fashioned household and not a speakeasy. You may sleep until noon tomorrow but we can't."

Irene sat up in anger. "How can you be so rude?" she flamed.

Prentiss laughed. "Beryl's right," he said apologetically. "I only came in for a drink, but..." His voice drifted away while his eyes lingered on Irene's face as though to say its beauty could be blamed for his delay.

Irene pouted. "I'm awfully sorry not to hear the rest of that story about the time you were robbed of your father's payroll," she said regretfully. "Weren't you just scared to death?"

Idiot! Beryl thought. Irene had only to look at Prentiss to know he wouldn't be "scared to death" of anything. But then, of course, her question would give him a chance to declare himself on the subject. What more could a man want?

"I'm getting to be a cynic," she said to herself.

Why hadn't Prentiss told her that story? Well, she wouldn't be "scared to death" of anything herself. Maybe it's not fun to tell a person like herself a hero story. Maybe it's only interesting with someone who will say, "Oh, oh!" with wide, round eyes and a round, rosy mouth.

strong enough to wrench gates from their hinges and overturn feed troughs and blow upland tanks from their platforms. Rain was so heavy that water ran into his house, he said.

Little Damage
Bob Key said that comparatively little damage was done to his crops. He lives west of Cisco at Harrell's crossing.

Reports from over the section generally, received by the district offices of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company here revealed that effects of the storm were spotted.

Abilene reported no hail and about one inch of rain. Albany had a very heavy hail, extending about two miles north and three miles east, going thousands of dollars of damage to roofs and windows in the city and injuring crops seriously.

Blackridge received a heavy hail about 5 o'clock in the afternoon which did heavy damage to crops as well as to property in the city.

Dublin and DeLeon each reported very heavy hail, with attendant serious crop damage and damage to roofs and windows in Dublin.

Eastland received heavy hail badly damaging crops and flowers as well as windows and roofs. No damage to crops was reported at Ranger where the hail was light. Stamford had a one inch rain, little hail and practically no damage. Scranton suffered no damage, the hail was light. Moran likewise reported light hail and no damage.

Baird—V. F. Jones purchased Magnolia Station.

PAINFUL INDIGESTION

"I find Black-Draught gives relief for stomach trouble, caused by constipation," writes Mrs. Mahala Atkins, of Ironton, Ohio. I found that taking a few doses of Black-Draught would cause this feeling to pass away. I have used Black-Draught for years, and I can say that it is the medicine for me."

Cooking Is a Pleasure — The Modern Electrical Way

MODERN Electric Cookery eliminates heat, soot, smoke and fumes . . . gives you more healthful and finer flavored foods . . . and requires but a fraction of the time, work and worry involved in old-fashioned methods.

With controlled electric heat you merely follow the directions as indicated in your recipes, place your complete meal in the oven, set the Automatic Time and Temperature Controls, and let your Electric Range do the cooking—scientifically and automatically. There's no guesswork, no "luck" to Electric Cookery—it is always delightfully perfect, and because Electric Cookery uses a minimum of water, foods cooked this modern way are deliciously full-flavored and more nutritious.

The modern Electric Range is truly an Electrical Servant—taking the cooking burden from your shoulders and giving you leisure hours in which to enjoy the finer things of life. A salesman will be happy to demonstrate one of the new model Hotpoint Electric Ranges and explain how the substantial Electric Cookery savings make immediate purchase real economy.
