INJUSTICE TO TEXAS IS SEEN IN WHEAT PLAN

COLLEGE STATION, July 3.—An extra 30 cents per bushel is in store this fall for Texas wheat growers for that part of their crop that goes into domestic human consumption in the United States if the domestic allotment plan of the agricultural adjustment act works out satisfactorily.

"On the other hand" says Mr. Martin, "by the plans tentatively announced Texas growers would have to reduce their acreage an average of 25 per cent in order to participate in the benefits if a 20 per cent reduction is ordered."

Campaign Plans call for preliminary conferences as early as July 15th and an active contract signing campaign beginning early in August, Mr. Martin reports.

The plan in brief consists of the grower signing a three-year contract to reduce acreage as directed by the administration and to farm the remaining wheat acres in a workmanlike manner.

Must Examine Walks SURINGFIELD, Mo., July 3.—City employees who do not speak to their friends while walking on the streets will now have a good excuse.

Crop Insurance Of vital interest to Texans is the crop insurance feature which provides that payments will be made if the farmer fulfills his part of the contract even though the crop is destroyed by hail, wind, drouth or insects.

On the other hand, a farmer must contract this year for three years and he may not withdraw. Failure to comply with the contract later this year or in the succeeding two years would result in the government declaring the advance payments a lien against future crops.

As the plan stands now farmers who have grown wheat one and two years would have to reckon their acreages on a three year average which would virtually eliminate them.

This provision is being protested by Texas and other states whose new settlers have recently opened up farms.

"The plan for the relief of the wheat farmer is in a formative stage and may be modified later by direction of M. L. Wilson, United States wheat administrator," states Mr. Martin.

BARGAIN BRIDE by KATHARINE HAVILAND-TAYLOR

BEGIN HERE TODAY BARRETT COLVIN, back in New York after years abroad, falls in love with 20-year-old ELINOR STAFFORD. Barrett is 35, wealthy, and has made a name for himself as an archeologist.

ELINOR opened her eyes. There was a dazed wonder in them for a moment. Then she remembered. "There, there, darling!" Bessie murmured. She thought, "If worse comes to worse we can manage—we'll have to manage—to take her in! Poor child, if Bentwell goes she'll have no one—"

MARCIA RADNOR telephoned her brother about it in the morning. She began characteristically. "Barry, is that you, dear?" "Yes."

CHAPTER XIX Elinor tried to reassure herself, told herself she was becoming absurdly nervous. Nothing could have happened. But why was Aunt Bessie waiting? Why didn't she come?

CHAPTER XX BESSIE said honestly, "You can do anything for Lida Stafford; nothing for Elinor." Barrett Colvin looked up quickly. "You mean—Miss Stafford has pride?"

CHAPTER XXI SUDDENLY, as they reached the other side of the bridge, his eyes became a slit. He saw the way out. The one way out! He had been leaning back in the seat. Now he was suddenly erect and tense. He lighted a cigaret with nervous fingers, staring ahead with concentrated gaze that took in nothing before him.
