RANGERS LEAD SEARCH FOR BANDITS

Mild Winter Brings New Flood Threats to Middle West

NEW BREAK IN LEVEE OCCURS AT GREENWOOD

By United Press
Mild winter weather today brought new flood threats to residents of the Ohio river valley and the Mississippi delta region. Levees of the upper Mississippi delta, strained for weeks by the unseasonably early high water broke north of Greenwood, Miss. The break which occurred in the Tallahatchie river levee inundated thousands of acres of rich farm land.
Engineers feared danger to unprotected residential sections of Greenwood 25 miles away. Residents of the flooded area were assisted to places of safety by rescue workers.
In the Ohio valley conditions were more serious. At Evansville, Ind. the river was seven feet above flood level. Streets were turned to rivers basements flooded and residents of the tri-state lowlands of Indiana Kentucky and Ohio driven from their homes.
More than 1,000 persons were homeless. Cold added to their suffering but it was hoped the river level would drop with lower temperatures.

Belief That 21 Perished Sustained

WOOD'S HOLE, Mass., Feb. 6.—Belief that 21 fishermen, trapped below deck, perished when the freighter Jean Jado, rammed and sank the schooner Eleanor Nickerson was strengthened by a radio report received here today.
The message from the coast guard destroyer Cunningham said the collision occurred at 6:45 a. m. yesterday, that the Nickerson sank within 60 seconds and that heavy weather prevailed.
It was added that although the freighter cruised the vicinity for several hours only six survivors were picked up.

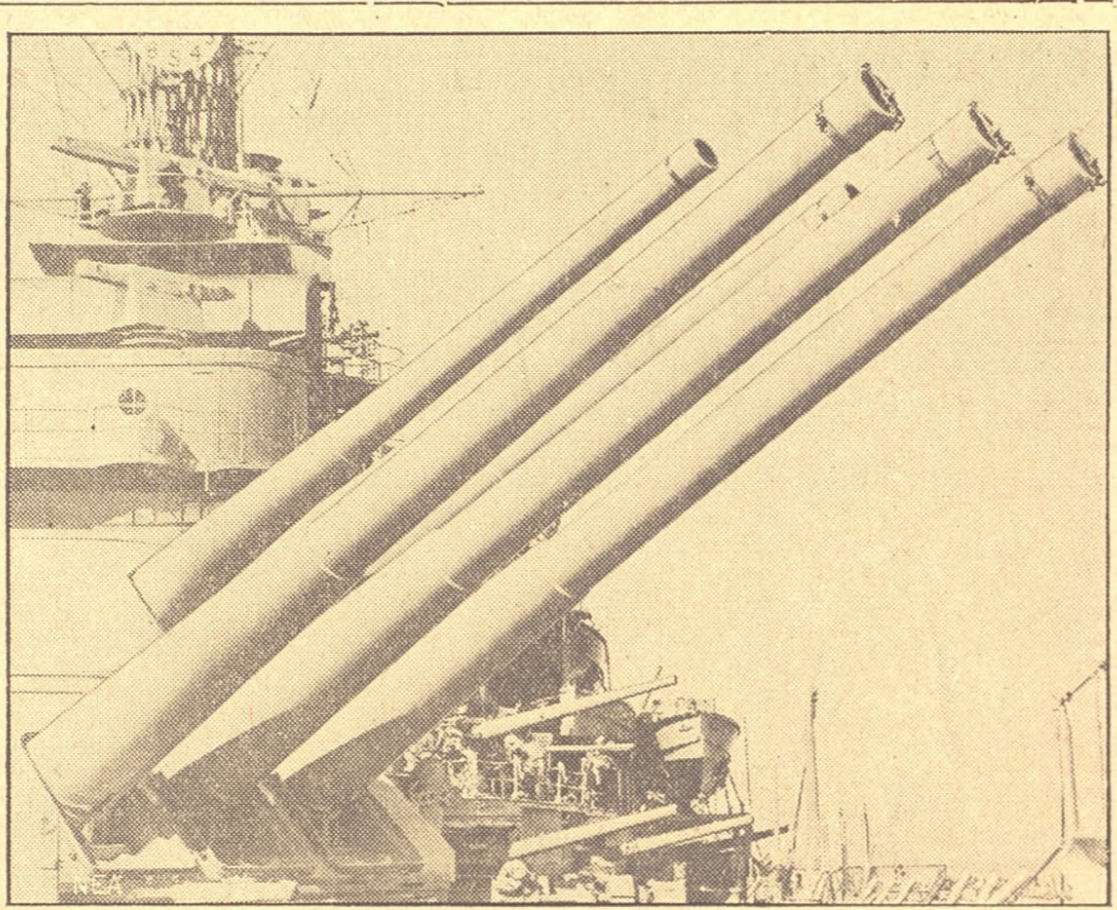

LEADERS AID ANTI-HOARDING CAMPAIGN PLAN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Sixty national civic leaders today pledged their support to President Hoover's campaign to put $1,300,000,000 of hoarded money back to work.
Appeals were made to the leaders by the president, Charles G. Dawes head of the reconstruction finance corporation, and acting secretary of Treasury Mills in an hour and a half meeting in the cabinet room at the white house.
Mr. Hoover urged the delegates to contribute their services in this new endeavor to stimulate business.
Dawes, waving his arms, told them their help was necessary to success of the administration's anti-depression efforts.
When the speeches were over Mr. Hoover heard from six guests who personally pledged their vast organizations to the national drive.
John Thomas Taylor, executive of the American Legion, was applauded when he jumped to his feet and said:
"Mr. President, 1,250,000 legions are behind you in this movement."
At the close Mr. Hoover asked all those who were in favor of the campaign to raise their hands and all did.
Details were left to Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher, who will come here Monday to direct the campaign.

Woman Convicted Of Poison Plot

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 6.—A mild-mannered, soft-spoken 50-year-old ranch woman was convicted today of what the federal government charged was a poison plot against relatives of her wealthy husband.
Mrs. Olive Lemmons, once a school teacher, was found guilty of a charge of sending poison through the mails by a jury in federal court here.

U. S. WARSHIPS SAIL FOR HAWAII

Prepared for any contingency the U. S. California, 32,600-ton flagship of the Pacific battle fleet, is on her way to Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, where she will participate in the "war" games scheduled there for March. The California, one of the most modern fighting vessels afloat, is a super-dreadnaught. One of its main batteries is shown above. Naval authorities point out that concentration of the battle fleet at Pearl Harbor has no bearing on the Sino-Japanese situation although Pearl Harbor would naturally be the base of operations if the fleet was engaged in the Orient.

BEAUTIFYING OF HIGHWAYS IS PLANNED

Mrs. Fee presided at the meeting and outlined the suggested plans of beautifying America from coast to coast. The State Federation of Women's Clubs have taken up the task of beautifying Texas, and are pushing ahead vigorously and enthusiastically. Through the efforts of Mrs. R. F. Lindsay, past president, thousands of red bud trees were planted during the past two years, and garden clubs were started in every community. This beautification program is planned to include every organization of the communities, city commissions, city plan commissions, luncheon clubs, garden clubs, women's clubs, chambers of commerce, and school children.
Texas has a wonderful climate, a splendid variety of trees, shrubs, and flowers, as well as a great variety of bird life, and the beautification of roadides would result in bringing many enthusiastic tourists to our state as well as giving our own citizens great pleasure and satisfaction. As an immediate program for Cisco and its environs, it was suggested that steps be taken to plant elms, crepe myrtle, and wild chinas. Abilene, Brownwood and other cities have given impetus to this program.
Permits issued by the city say that fishing will be prohibited during February, March and April, Mr. Elliott said, but so far as February is concerned that statement is erroneous.

SMALL FARM HOME ESTABLISHMENT SEEN AS MEANS OF DEVELOPING TRADE TERRITORY

The Paris Morning News prints in a recent issue the opinion of an outstanding business man concerning conditions about Paris which the Daily News believes will prove of interest to people of Cisco because of the universality of the ideas advanced.
An extract from the Paris paper's report of that opinion follows:
"As I see it, you are now simply in a period of transition, eliminating certain fixed customs as to handling farms, which have existed for many years, and as your bankers and merchants, in control of financing farmers, come to a realization of the fact that the establishment of small home farms must be encouraged in order to maintain a maximum buying power, in a few years, assuming that the efforts of these small farmers are properly directed, your territory will then show one of the best diversified farming efforts to be found anywhere in the south."
"You have the soil, you have the brains and ability, and it is simply a question of salesmanship to tie up proper physical efforts to the land."
"It occurs to me that an effective plan of selling this idea to the young folks would be a series of attractive signs, in prominent places, containing a picture of an ideal farm with a husband and wife and children enjoying the real comforts of the country."
"There are many young boys and girls today who can be sold on the idea of a farm home, provided of course, it is presented to them in an attractive way; and it is the province of your chamber of commerce to not only sell that idea, but to make it easy for the buying of that farm home."
"I should judge that fully ninety per cent of your buying power is based on agriculture, and it necessarily follows that if only 35 per cent of your cultivatable land is producing a revenue, Paris is being deprived of two-thirds of its potential buying power."
"I would not encourage a campaign that contemplated spending a lot of money endeavoring to attract northern farmers, because that is a rather expensive method of development. I think better results can be obtained by applying your efforts to the people within easy range, and developing good tenants into land owners by proper direction of their effort."

JAP TROOPS DUE SUNDAY AT SHANGHAI

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Col. R. S. Hooker, commanding United States Marines at Shanghai, today advised the navy department that eight shells from anti-aircraft guns fell near the regional headquarters within the international settlement during the latest fighting in Shanghai.
Hooker said seven of the shells burst, and one "dud" fell on the billet occupied by the detachment from the U. S. S. Houston.
SHANGHAI, Feb. 7, (Sunday).—Heavy fighting broke out in Shanghai just before midnight and was continuing early today.
Bombardment of the Chapel quarter began at 11:30 p. m. Saturday and did not diminish until 1 a. m. today.
The bombardment apparently made in a Japanese attempt to forestall any Chinese attacks before Japanese troops arrive here later today.
The firing opened with rifles and machine guns but the Japanese soon brought heavy artillery into action.
The fighting centered at the north station, a district which had already suffered heavily. The station borders on the international settlement and the noise of the firing aroused the foreign colony.

BRIGADE WILL BE LANDED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Admiral M. M. Taylor, commander of the Asiatic fleet, advised the navy department today that, according to word from the Japanese consul-general at Shanghai, a brigade of Japanese infantry is to be landed in the international settlement of Shanghai tomorrow.
FURTHER PEACE
MOVES CONSIDERED.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Secretary of State Stimson indicated today in reply to questions that no further major diplomatic move in the far eastern crisis will be made until next week.
Meanwhile Washington and London are known to be conferring on further peace moves although Stimson would neither confirm nor deny this publicly.

JAPANESE ARMY FORCES TO SHANGHAI

TOKIO, Feb. 7 (Sunday).—"The decision has been taken to order necessary military forces to Shanghai," a statement issued early today said.
The statement added that "the expeditionary force will be limited to the strength absolutely required."
REORGANIZATION
MAY BE POSTPONED.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Admiral Wm. V. Pratt, chief of naval operations, said today the situation in the far east may cause postponement of plans to reorganize the Asiatic fleet.
Thirteen vessels including six destroyers, six submarines and an aircraft tender were to have been withdrawn from Asiatic service.

ART EXHIBIT IS PLANNED BY CLUB WOMEN

In order to create a greater interest in paintings, the First Industrial Arts club, of Cisco, will sponsor an art exhibit early in April, it was announced Saturday.
"Texas club woman," the announcement stated, "have ever shown an interest in art and art appreciation. At the last state convention in Lubbock there were on exhibit nearly 300 paintings by Texas artists. There, immortalized in canvases, were to be seen all the picturesque phases of Texas life."
"It is not generally known that in Cisco there are a number of men, women, boys and girls, who have at some time during their lives painted beautiful pictures. We are inviting these artists to place their pictures in this exhibit, as a means of encouraging this line of artistic endeavor."
Judge Howard Speakman promised Dr. Catton "every consideration" and a guard if he felt such a measure was necessary.
Last night Dr. Catton telephoned newspapermen to tell them he received a threatening letter. He exhibited to them an envelope postmarked Phoenix and containing a telegraph blank on which was written the single word "Beware." It had no signature.

DR. JUDD IS SEARCHED AT WIFE'S TRIAL

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 6.—Dr. William A. Judd, husband of Winnetta Ruth Judd was searched for weapons before the opening of today's session of his wife's trial on charges of murdering Agnes Anne Lerel.
The search was made after Dr. Joseph Catton, San Francisco agent for the state, complained formally to the court that he was being shadowed day and night, and that attempts had been made to "get to me."
The alienist said he suspected Dr. Judd of doing the alleged shadowing.

VARNELL NAMED "MASTER" TEXAS VOCATIONAL TEACHER

E. H. Varnell, Cisco vocational agricultural instructor was notified Saturday that he had been selected as "Master Teacher" for the state of Texas out of a field of 250 vocational teachers. The award was made by a committee from the state supervising staff and the teacher training department of A. and M. college, and the formal award will be made at A. and M. college when the state judging contests are held in the spring.
The award of first place follows two successive years in which Mr. Varnell was given a second place.
The award is based upon what the committee considers the best all-round program carried out during the year and the results attained through that program.
Among the activities carried out under Mr. Varnell's direction here last year and upon which he was selected for first place among all vocational teachers, are:
Activities
Community club meetings held among the farmers of various communities in the Cisco territory when problems of mutual concern were studied in a series of evening meetings.
Pecan culture, particularly top working and improving native groves.
Conduct of community fairs in cooperation with county agents.
Preparation of exhibits for community fairs and county fairs and collaboration with county agents and other vocational teachers of the county in the preparation of the county exhibit which won first place at the state fair at Dallas.
Conduct of Eastland county livestock show here.
Growing of community seed supplies from experiment grain sorghums by groups of farmers;
Terracing of 700 acres of land.
Institution of two terracing tests modeled after Spur experiment station projects, to determine over a five-year period what increased yield a farmer in this country may expect by saving all water falling on his land.
Conduct of third annual F. F. T. encampment at Lake Cisco;
Direction of active F. F. T. chapter at the high school with 31 members last year and an annual program properly carried out;
Each boy who is a member of this F. F. T. chapter conducts from one to several projects in connection with his studies. Last year these boys fattened 19 baby beavers and 33 lambs in addition to raising a large variety of crops. In spite of unfavorable market conditions these boys made a labor income of slightly over $1,300.

SIX PERSONS ARE KIDNAPED DURING RAID

PILOT POINT, Tex., Feb. 6.—Texas rangers today led a hunt for three masked bandits who stole $8,000 from the Pilot Point National bank after kidnapping six persons and severing the town's connections with the outside world.
Ranger Capt. Tom Hickman and Ranger Stanley arrived from Fort Worth to direct the search for the bandits.
Driving into Pilot Point at 1:15 a. m., the three men over-powered Nightwatchman E. Montgomery and forced him to lead the way to the telephone exchange. With an axe they chopped into a heavy cable just outside the building.
One of the men then mounted a ladder stolen from the fire station and cut all wires in sight.
Montgomery then showed the way to the home of Cashier J. Earl Sells. Sells and his wife were ordered into the bandit's car and they drove to the bank. Sells protested he was unable to open the bank vault. They drove next to the home of Asst. Cashier J. W. Peale. All including Mrs. Sells and Mrs. Peale, went to the bank.
The women waited outside in the car; while the men entered the building. At gun point Peale was forced to open the outer door. A heavy charge of nitroglycerin blasted the inner door off the safe.
Meanwhile T. H. Teebe, walking to his bakery, gazed inside the bank as he passed and was seized by one of the bandits acting as lookout.
The explosion started the automatic burglar alarm to ringing and awakened City Marshal Garland Seitz. He was forced to drive to a town ten miles distant to reach a telephone and broadcast an alarm.

TOWNSMEN BATTLE BANDITS

WAVERLAND, Ind., Feb. 6.—Townsmen battled a band of seven bank raiders here for nearly an hour today and finally drove off the bandits after the gunmen had wrecked the Waverland State bank with dynamite. The raiders entered town early today and broke into the bank. They set off a series of dynamite blasts which almost demolished the building but obtained no loot.
Vigilants gathered and finally repulsed the gunmen with a steady rain of shots. The raiders fled to their automobile and drove off toward Russellville.
The bandit gang arrived a few hours after midnight. For an hour they worked quietly cutting off the little town from all connection with the outside world. All telegraph and telephone wires were severed. Electric power lines were broken. For an hour the presence of the raiders was not known.
Ruth Morgan, night telephone operator, gave the first alarm when she discovered the telephone lines had been cut. She called authorities just as the first dynamite blast jarred homes and awakened citizens.

DAILY BIBLE THOUGHT

SEEK TODAY:—Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near. — Isaiah 55:6.

A MARKET FIRST.

With an early spring in prospect and the consequent resumption of agricultural activities on a broad scale in the county, it is high time now that Cisco takes up a program for the development of local markets as the News has urged from time to time. It has pointed out often the fact that trading at home is inseparably linked up with selling at home and that if the business men of this city wish to reap the full benefits of the buying power that the Cisco section can produce it is first necessary that they provide the means by which the products raised can be turned into cash.

It is of course true that no big market, capable of handling enormous quantities of farm produce, is going to spring up here over night. Such an institution must be built from small beginnings.

But the start must be made, and no matter how insignificant the beginning is, by constant interest and work it can be built into an institution that will provide facilities for the marketing of all the poultry, small livestock and other character of produce grown in this section.

Figures upon the amount of produce of this character that is grown in this part of the county are not available at this time. The News hopes to be able to secure some accurate statistics in the immediate future. But such statistics will no doubt reveal that the quantity is large. The important consideration, however, is not what is now being grown but what will be grown provided market facilities are made available.

A neglected fact in connection with this trade at home program that has been given a great deal of emphasis during the past year or so, is that farm produce sold out of Cisco's trade territory is that much buying power taken away from Cisco. Every time a farmer sells a hen in some other town that particular town gets the benefit of the transaction because the farmer will invariably spend his money there.

If Cisco wants to increase the buying capacity of the territory about her it is necessary that she give the people of this territory a market.

CISCO'S MASTER TEACHER.

Out of 250 vocational teachers in the state of Texas, E. H. Varnell, of Cisco, has been chosen as "Master Teacher" for last year. The award ranks him first among the vocational teachers of the state. Formal presentation will be made during the spring at A. and M. college.

This distinction follows two successive years in which Mr. Varnell was selected as second place winner in the state rating. Such a record serves to enhance the importance of first place to Mr. Varnell because it indicates that his work has been consistent.

The award is determined each year by a committee from the state vocational board and the teacher training department of A. and M. college and is based upon the program of work projected by each teacher and the results accomplished. In an article in today's issue of the News some of the work done under Mr. Varnell's direction here last year is reviewed.

Cisco can well be proud of the distinction of having the ranking vocational instructor of the state located here.

OTHER OPINIONS

ABOUT MR. HEARST

William Randolph Hearst, the well-known publisher of a chain of newspapers, gives the "Garner for President" boom a shove—whether up or down remains to be seen, observes the Editorial Digest, Houston, which continues as follows:

In a recent statement he lauded the speaker as "another Champ Clark" and asserted President Hoover's "unprecedented unpopularity" is because "he has always been a Wilsonite."

Opinion among Texas editorial writers seems to differ as to the value of Mr. Hearst's endorsement of Mr. Garner—or any other man for that matter. One paper bases its objections to the endorsement on the fact that Mr. Hearst seldom puts his money on the right "horse" classing him as a "presidential tout" whose tips always turn sour.

But another editorial writer, who holds Mr. Hearst in the same "high regard," is willing to overlook—temporarily at least—the faults of Mr. Hearst. He says:

"Where the great chain publisher took up the cudgel for John Nance Garner as a democratic presidential possibility we could not help but breathe an appreciative 'amen.' Mr. Hearst may be wrong about a lot of things, as many people believe but in offering the name of Congressman Garner, Mr. Hearst has offered the name of a man whose type is sorely needed in high office. "Hard-working, practical and at times almost blunt, Mr. Garner is probably closer to the people than any man whose name is today coupled with presidential possibility. Further he is not an over night national character. He has spent more than a score of years in a minority party, all the while becoming more and more an American leader in politics and in legislation."

"Doubtless Mr. Hearst meant to be complimentary to the speaker, and but for his unwarranted attack on Woodrow Wilson, his speech might have been accorded better reception in Texas.

Texas was a Wilson stronghold during the lifetime of Woodrow Wilson, and still cherishes the memory of the great democratic president. Loyal to the Wilson ideals, it is doubtful if any presidential candidate could gain support of Texas democrats who do not adhere to those principles.

But Mr. Garner in his own words hears "no presidential bees buzzing around his office. Until he does there is little need to become unduly alarmed at what Mr. Hearst says, or thinks, of Mr. Garner—or any other presidential possibility."—Paris News.

Hopes for Reduction in Cost of State Government High as Experts Are Engaged

By GORDON K. SHEARER.

United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, Feb. 6.—With experts engaged to make a survey and recommend elimination of expensive state duplications, hopes are high for a reduction in the cost of state government. Past history has shown that movements in this direction have not been successful in reducing the number of state employees.

More bureaus, commissions and departments have been added than have been eliminated.

The 35th Texas legislature 15 years ago made a similar effort to contract the state activities. The chief result was the creation of the State Board of Control. It took over under one management the various eleemosynary institutions that formerly were separately directed, and also the duties formerly exercised by a state purchasing agent, a state superintendent of public buildings and grounds and preparation of a state budget.

More efficient management probably was affected but no one would claim that there are not more employees now for the same character of work than when the change was made. The number of employees has necessarily increased as the number of institution inmates has grown, as the state property has expanded and as preparation of a budget has become an enormous task.

More Bureaus.
Every governor in recent years has gone into office pledged to economies and reduction of offices, yet every one has seen more bureaus, offices and more employees on the payroll when he went out of office.

Each session of the legislature sees an organized demand for the creation of some new government activity. The result is an increased personnel, for every effort to abolish a job created meets a formidable series of obstacles.

Result of combinations to the taxpayer will be reflected only when the totals of employees and salaries are worked out. More combination of two activities under one name without reduction of forces will be little help to the taxpayer.

A noted cartoonist has pictured the Texas government as a capitol building with a series of commissions, bureaus, commissions, etc., branching in all directions over a great spread of ground. The efficiency plan will not help the taxpayer.

if the building is piled up into a skyscraper instead of a ground coverer.

Mergers Suggested.
Combinations most frequently suggested include a merger of the Board of State Water Engineers and the office of the State Reclamation Engineer.

Combination of the State Insurance Department and the Industrial Accident Board.

Grouping of the state's agricultural activities under either the State Agricultural Department or Texas A. and M. College.

Eliminating of duplicating courses in the various state institutions of higher learning.

Practical working in opposition to theory has been illustrated in the school combination which was advocated by the state educational survey many years ago. Since that time the legislature has taken a course, exactly opposite. Texas Technological College has been established, the Kingsville College of Arts and Industries, the Sul Ross State Teachers College and the State Teachers College at Nacogdoches. Work of the College of Mines at El Paso has been expanded to general topics.

Efforts to reduce the number of courts have been under way for years. In spite of that, the number of both district and appellate courts has grown.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON SLAVERY OF SIN

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Feb. 7.
Text: John 8:31-36; Matt. 24: 45-51.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.,
Editor of The Congregationalist

The passages associated with the lesson are chosen with regard to temperance. The first passage dealing with the faithful steward emphasizes the fact that temperance is ultimately a matter of faithfulness and discipline. The servant described in the lesson, who takes advantage of his master's absence, and of the delay in his return from a journey, to abuse his fellow servants and to indulge in gluttony and drunkenness, is not simply an undependable character and undisciplined life. Temperance is a matter of probity.

More and more stress should be laid upon that today Drunkenness whether it be under conditions in which the sale and use of intoxicating liquor are legalized, or under conditions of prohibition where the manufacture and sale are outlawed is not a matter to be considered lightly or jokingly. It is a betrayal of man's mastery over himself, a surrender of his reason and will to a debasing habit and a debauching drug. Whatever individuals or the community may think about the relationships between law and liquor it is a profound gain to a community when there is a clear recognition of this elemental fact.

The second portion of the lesson approaches somewhat the same problem from the standpoint of freedom. The man who is engaged in participation in an evil thing, thereby loses his freedom. This is a fact that it is important to grasp redly at a time when freedom and personal liberty are so widely associated with the privilege of the right of drinking alcoholic intoxicants. Few things have been responsible for so much loss of freedom to the individual as the reason-destroying power of alcohol. The annals of alcohol bear tragic witness to that fact.

Does temperance then mean total abstinence? Apart from the social and legal aspects of the matter under present conditions in America that has been a question for the individual to determine.

No individual who has chosen total abstinence from alcoholic liquor as his practice has ever sufferred from the choice. One thing is certain, that sort of freedom has never been compromised or impaired. If any real benefit to the individual could be shown from indulgence in alcoholic liquor, there might be a strong case for emphasizing the other side of freedom; namely, the freedom to partake of intoxicants. But the pathway of safety and of the highest physical and spiritual efficiency lies in the direction of abstinence.

It is inevitable that temperance lessons should deal chiefly with what has been the chief cause of intemperance. True temperance, we repeat, is a matter of general integrity of character and self-discipline and self-discipline is never truly effective until it becomes the discipline of God in the soul.

UNUSUAL WEATHER.

NIXON, Feb. 6.—This section of the state has experienced one of its mildest winters in several years. The Gardens have thrived. Tomatoes, squash, and other plants have borne fruit throughout the usual months of winter. Cotton blooms on last year's stalks are visible in many fields.

ASK AIRSHIP.

PALO ALTO, Cal., Feb. 6.—Palo Alto, home of Stanford University, wants its name adopted for the navy's new dirigible now under construction. A petition by the city, signed by 11 California chambers of commerce and Governor James Rolph, Jr., will be sent to naval authorities, it is planned.

San Diego—Improvements made in Troy's case.

Huntsville—Burned Dorothy theatre building being repaired.

FIRE! FIRE!

The windy days of February and March bring the dreaded cry and the wild screech of the siren adds to the terror as the trucks dash madly away . . . and it may be your home this time—the savings of a lifetime swept away because you have been trying to economize by carrying your own insurance . . . it's a dangerous practice. Better insure today.

That newspaper advertising is the only sure way to attract trade. The printed word has a world of meaning to buyers.

Those business concerns who have concentrated their selling efforts to persistent newspaper advertising have been able to increase turnover to such an extent that they can give greater value and receive increased profits.

The buying public prefers to buy from those concerns who tell through the printed page what they have to sell.

Newspaper advertising can always be depended on to stimulate business, because it commands attention.

Newspaper advertising has a great guiding influence. It is a great help to both buyer and seller. Business slows down when advertising is cut down.

To secure the most profit out of any business it is necessary to stimulate a greater volume of business by newspaper advertising.

A live business concern is ever alert to serve the public and assure satisfaction. There is always a greater degree of assurance accompanying purchases from persistent advertisers.

Their goods are moderately priced to look at, and give the service guaranteed.

Advertising produces business. More advertising produces more business. Get plenty of business!

The dime-a-dance girl

Beautiful Ellen Rossiter, who works by a day as a salesgirl in Barclay's Department Store, lives with her mother, Molly Rossiter, her elder sister, Myra, and her 12-year-old brother, Mike. Ellen's dear father, a younger son in a titled English family, left a comfortable fortune to provide for his wife and children but irresponsible Molly seen went through the fortune...

Nolly spent the precious rent money to buy unnecessary clothes for Mike. At her mother's suggestion Ellen decided to work at night as a dance hall hostess until the sum is made up. She and Myra leave the house together for the day's work.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER II

During the long hot morning at Barclay's department store Myra's words lingered with Ellen. Myra had said that the Rossiter family would always be just one jump ahead of the porchouse. Myra had said that the Rossiter girls would never find men financially able to marry them. With a pang in her heart Ellen thought of Myra, engaged for nine years to Bert, worn out with ceaseless waiting for the opportunity, the break that never came. She thought of little Mike in an age of specialization. Mike must have his chance. But now was that chance to come? How was Mike to go to college as other boys did? How was Mike to get an education? All of the Rossiters desired ease and beauty and luxury in life. All of them deserved those things.

As she mechanically cut lengths of 19-cent outing flannel for women who for some in-cruitable reason wanted outing flannel in mid-summer, the girl's mind returned continually to that morning conversation. Were the Rossiters feeling themselves? Were they indeed all lost in worse than mediocrity? Did the past glories of a family count for nothing when the present of that family was poverty?

"What's eating you?" Jenny Elkins, her counter mate, asked once. "Nothing," Ellen replied spiritlessly.

But she felt weary and discouraged. Her head ached from the heat and from the ceaseless complaints of shoppers who desired more for their money than their money would buy. "Like us," thought Ellen bitterly.

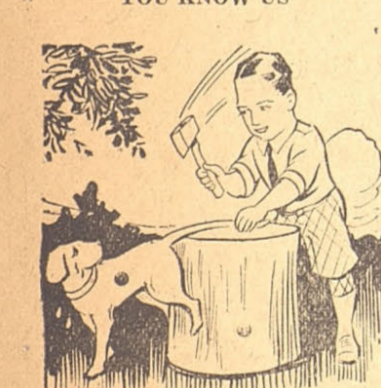

With noon and the lunch hour she cheered. As she combed her hair and powdered her damp face dry, she observed that she had a great deal of company. The dressing room was full of sale-girls, less well off than herself, many of them fading past the age of romance and past the possibility of attaining happier futures.

Ellen was young. She had undeniably good looks and distinction. Just around the corner who knew what might be in store? She swung out into the street. Fifth avenue was jaded and wilting in the August sunshine. Even the shop windows seemed dusty and the merchandise, usually so enticing, was dimmed by the blazing noon light.

But Ellen left the customary light of spirit as she left the store. She was almost eager now for the coming adventure. After all, she had never been inside Dreamland. There was no reason why it might not be fun. There would be youth there at least. It was better to dance than to sit evening after evening in a stuffy apartment wondering how two small salaries were to be stretched to feed and clothe three adults and one active boy.

That feeling of suppressed excitement was still with her when she reached the dancehall a few steps off Broadway and plunged into the graceful dusk of the build.

Here's the Way to Control Those Miserable Colds So Prevalent Here Now

With scattered cases of flu breaking out in this locality, don't take chances with colds NOW—it's too dangerous! Unless checked quickly, colds tend to pull down the body resistance and may pave the way for an attack of flu with all its serious complications. Your safest protection is in the Vick Plan for better "Control-of-Colds."

This plan has been developed by the makers of Vicks VapoRub, the modern way of "treating" colds. It is made possible with Vicks Nose & Throat Drops, based on a new idea for "preventing" colds. These two aid and supplement each other in the Vick Plan for better "Control-of-Colds," which follows:

1 BEFORE A COLD STARTS—Watch yourself whenever you have been exposed to anything that your own experience tells you is apt to give you a cold, such as contact with others having fresh colds—stuffy ill-ventilated rooms, crowded public places—sudden changes in temperature, wet or cold.

Then—if you feel that stuffy, sneezy irritation of the nasal passages, Nature's usual signal that a cold is coming on—use Vicks Nose Drops at once. Just a few drops up each nostril. Repeat every hour or so if needed.

2 AFTER A COLD STARTS—If a cold slips by these precautions, do not neglect it. Rest as much as possible, preferably in bed. Take a mild laxative. Eat lightly. Drink lots of water.

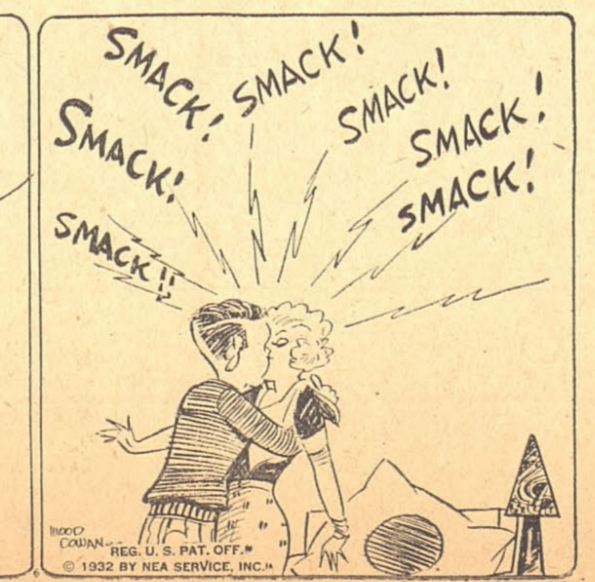

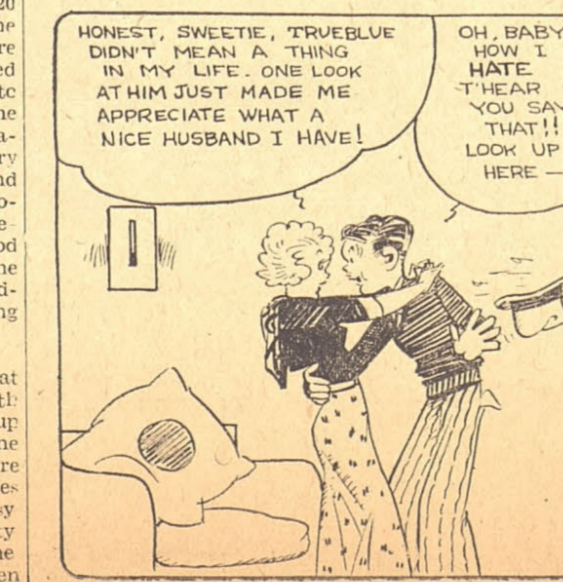

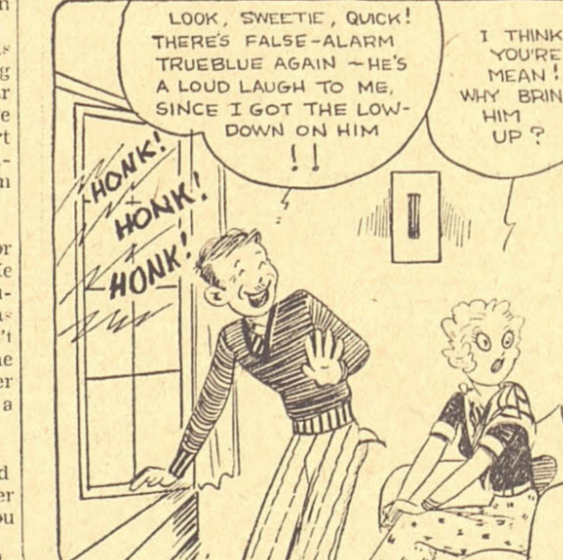

At night, massage the throat and chest well with Vicks Vapo-Rub. (If there is much congestion, first redden the skin with hot, wet towels.) Spread on thick and cover with warm flannel. Leave bed-clothing loose around the neck so that the medicated vapors arising may be inhaled freely all night long.

If the air-passages are clogged with mucus or there is much coughing, melt a teaspoonful of Vapo-Rub in a bowl of hot water and inhale the steaming vapors for several minutes. (If the throat is dry and "tickling," or irritated from coughing, use Vicks Cough Drop—medicated with Vicks VapoRub.)

During the day—any time, any place—use the convenient Vicks Nose Drops every few hours as needed. This gives you full 24-hour treatment to reduce the severity and duration of the cold.

DON'T TAKE CHANCES WITH COLDS NOW!

$73,000,000 SPENT BY AGENCIES TO AID POOR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6. — Relief agencies, governmental and private, in over 12,000 U. S. communities, spent $73,757,300 in the first quarter of 1931 caring for the destitute. This amount represents an increase of $51,419,156 over the sum expended in the first three months of 1930, a Department of Commerce summary discloses. Relief expenditures were recorded for 574 per cent of the total U. S. population. Local governments and private relief organizations housed an average of 49,411 homeless men per night in the first three months of last year as compared with 14,037 nightly for the corresponding period of 1930. They served a total of 4,170,318 free meals to homeless men, as compared with 671,419 meals served during the same period the year previous; they cared wholly or in part for 1,287,778 families, an increase of 285.7 per cent over the number aided in 1930; and they provided an aggregate total of 1,482,342 lodgings, which compares with 421,103 lodgings provided over the same period a year before. Cities over 30,000 population in the Middle Atlantic States, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, reported the largest first quarter relief funds, totaling over $21,000,000, but the included states are among the most populous and have more cities of 30,000 population to record than other groups. The Mountain States group Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah and Nevada required the least for relief—$447,477. These also showed the least percentage of increase in relief expenditures over 1930, registering only 66 per cent rise. The Middle Atlantic group registered a 278 per cent increase, but the East North Central group, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, suffered a 362 per cent jump from the same period of 1930. San Juan — San Juan theatre improved.

Beautify Highways--

this movement of beautification by planting rose and flower gardens, and the tree planting along the highways for as many as twenty miles, was pointed out as the results of some of the energetic efforts of some of our sister cities. These spasmodic efforts should be correlated and each community should join hands in making the state highways one continuous line of beauty, leading into a city of beautiful homes and gardens. Right now is the time for pruning and planting, ending with the observance of Arbor Day on February 22, and every resident of Cisco is urged to save all their cuttings, banking them in some convenient place, where they can be secured and used in a garden exchange which will be held during the next two weeks and notice of which will be given through papers. Every club woman will be asked to donate one tree for planting on the highway, this activity to be carried on with the state highway maintenance department. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has adopted a five year plan featuring the planting of five hundred miles of highway with trees and roses the first year, hedges and vines the second year, evergreens the third year, shrubs the fourth year, and flowers the fifth year. Towns and communities desiring help in their beautifying program may secure the free services of an expert in Fort Worth through the efforts of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and every household unit is urged to become a unit in joining this movement of beautifying homes in our state. At the meeting at the home of Mrs. C. H. Fee, Mr. E. P. Crawford, representing the Rotary club, gave many practical suggestions for the launching of activities in Cisco and the surrounding territory, also Mrs. E. Q. Lee, representing the Cisco Music Study club, gave many illustrations of successful beautifying of yards and homes. Other organizations represented were Delphian club, Mrs. J. E. Spencer, American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Charles Yates, First Industrial Arts club, Mrs. J. B. Pratt, Daughters of the American Revolution, Mrs. Philip Pettit, Wednesday Study club, Mrs. Don Sivalls and Mrs. P. P. Shepard, publicity chairman.
