Lions Have Ladies Night

An appreciative crowd enjoyed the annual ladies night program of the Lions Club program held at the country club Tuesday evening. Some active participants in the program were visitors from several of the surrounding towns who contributed much of the unceasing flow of mirth which characterized the entire program. What is known as the Ranger Legion Tickville Band afforded much amusement and entertainment for the occasion. This organization of musicians with a special talent for comedy and mirth provoking situations and they were at their best Tuesday evening. Another prominent part on the program was that of Dr. J. W. Danforth of Ft. Worth who made a short but very excellent talk which was full of timely truths clothed in wit which held the amused attention of everyone present.

Miss Cecelia McDowell of Ranger, a young but accomplished dancer, contributed her part to the program. She was accompanied by Mrs. Clifford Yeager of Cisco. Eastland and Strawn furnished enjoyable musical numbers and readings. There was also a reading by Mrs. Paul Woods of Cisco. The ever-popular Blue Bonnet Trio of Cisco also had musical numbers. Not the least important item of the program was the dinner hour. H. B. Hackleman was toastmaster of the evening. Ninety-six people were present for this occasion, a number of out-of-town visitors being here.

Hollis was only recently licensed to preach by the Methodist Conference, and this was his first attempt from the pulpit. He made an excellent address, handling the occasion like one long experienced in the work, and has been receiving many compliments concerning his sermon. Rising Star Orders Election

An election has been ordered by the city commissioners of Rising Star to be held on June 30th when the citizens will decide upon the proposed issue of drilling a gas well and installing a municipal system there. Mayor Tyler states that the commission has decided against buying gas from other parties, to be used under the municipal plan, but advises the drilling of a well for the purpose of securing this gas. There is a strong sentiment in favor of the municipal system, and it is believed that the election will carry overwhelmingly, according to citizens from that city.

Inspectors Here For P. O. Site

Inspectors Rider and Watkins of the treasury and post office departments at Washington, D. C. were in the city this week investigating and conferring concerning the proposed site for the federal building for Cisco, which is to be a $130,000 structure. Seven sites had been submitted for consideration, and two others were submitted while the inspectors were here. While no definite time can now be set when the actual construction work will be ready to start, the details will be worked out as fast as it is possible to do so, and the work started as soon as possible. Owing to government red tape in handling matters this probably means a few months more of delay before the work will start. It is hoped, however, that the decision on the site for the building will be made known in the near future.

The inspectors went from here to Breckenridge to consider sites there for that city's building.

Entered as second class matter July 24, 1930, at the Post Office at Cisco, Texas, under the act of March 3, 1879.

The Cisco Citizen is an independent Democratic newspaper, supporting what it believes to be right, and opposing what it believes to be wrong. Regardless of party politics, publishing the news fairly and impartially at all times.

A Missouri paper tells of an incident which should cause the motorist to think twice before he picks up the strange hitch-hiker. A lady driving from Marshall, Mo., to her home in St. Louis permitted "an aged and feeble man" to ride on the trip. The next day after reaching home this lady received a note from her passenger. In it he warned her never to pick up stranger like that again, stating that he was a young man disguised as a feeble person and had intended to rob her, but because of her kind treatment on the trip decided not to do so. This lady says "never again" for her.

WE'RE NOT ATTORNEYS

A certain attorney in this city interprets the Nepotism law to us and our readers very forcibly to mean that the present man employed by the city to pump at the lake cannot legally hold that place with Donovan on the Commission, because of a marriage relationship. Another attorney interprets the law very forcibly to mean that it does not bar the situation in question. This paper is called to order on both sides of the matter, seeking to "inform" us about it. We are sorry, gentlemen, that our legal education has been so sadly neglected that we are not in a position to hand out a decision on this that might settle the argument. We would respectfully refer all concerned to those who are in a position to give such ruling. We have heard of cases where a question was raised that an attorney general's ruling apparently did not mean a thing in so far as settling the argument was concerned. We do not know what the attorney general may think about this particular point in controversy. We haven't taken the trouble to inquire. Please let it be understood that the only extent of interest we have in the matter is that the law be abided by. 'Nuff sed.

The Long, Long Trail

Man is of few days and full of trouble. He laboreth all the days of his youth to pay for a gasoline chariot, and when at last the task is finished Lo! the thing is junk and he needeth another. He planteth cotton in the earth and tilleth it intelligently, he and his servants and his asses, and when the harvest is gathered into the barns, he oweth the landlord $8.40 more than the crop is worth. He borroweth money of the lenders to buy pork and molasses and gasoline, and the interest eateth up all that he hath. He begetteth sons and daughters and educateth them to smoke cigarettes and wear white collars, and Lo! they have soft hands and neither labor in the fields nor anywhere else under the sun. The children of his loins are onery and one of them becometh a lawyer, and another sticketh up a filling station and then maketh whoopee with the substance thereof. The wife of his bosom necketh with a stranger and when he rebuketh her she shooteth him in the finale. He goeth forth in the morning on the road that leadeth to the city and a jitney smiteth him so that his ribs project through his epidermis. He drinketh of a drink of whoopee juice to forget his sorrows and it burneth out the lining from his liver. All the days of his life he findeth a parking place, and is tormented by traffic cops from his going forth till his coming back. An enemy stealeth his car; physicians remove his inner parts, his teeth and his bank roll; his daughters showeth their legs to strangers; his arteries hardeneth in the evening of his life, and when he is gathered to his fathers the neighbors sayeth: How much did he leave? Lo! he hath left it all. And his widow rejoiceth in a new coupe and maketh eyes at a young shiek that slicketh his hair and playeth a nifty game of poker. Woe is man! And from the day of his birth to the time when the earth knoweth him not he laboreth for bread and catcheth the devil. Dust he was in the beginning and now his name is mud. — Journal American Medical Association.

---That tells our story in a few words. Through the dealers who handle our products in Cisco we offer to the gasoline-consuming public gasoline and oils which come from crudes produced in CISCO territory, is purchased by our firm, a CISCO institution, refined in CISCO, placed on sale in CISCO stations--and every dime exchanged in the whole transaction benefits someone in CISCO or adjacent territory. It does not go up to some faraway foreign city to help enrich some big oil firm up there that does not give two whoops about whether CISCO people prosper or not. FOR SUMMER DINING

DELILAH BADGELY

NOTHING so enhances summer as a pleasant place to dine. Nearly all of our recreation is out of doors and the veranda becomes the living room. But we come inside at meal-time. And happy is the family that has a cool and cheerful retreat for dinner!

Look around your dining room and see what it needs to be the best background for the summer table with its pitcher of iced tea and crisp salads. First, a new wallpaper of a cool lettuce-green and a little scenic in the pattern would echo summer harmoniously, seem cool, and still be lovely decoration after summer has passed.

Next the table can be moved near a window for both the view and the breeze. Sheer draperies of peach voile will frame blue sky and green trees esthetically. Blue venetian blinds for the heat of the day are a decorative asset of course and completely practical.
