A Famous Invention That Makes The Brunswick A Super-Phonograph

No one feature of the Brunswick Method of reproduction has done so much to revolutionize people's ideas of the difference be tween phonographs as the Utica.

It was one of the many Brunswick superiorities that attracted us. This Ultona is an exclusive Brunswick idea, covered by patent.

At a turn of the hand it plays all makes of records—not an attach ment, but a part of the design. The Ultona obtains better playing

But this is not the only advantage. It is connterbalanced—the only scientific reproducer that cushions the path of the needle by proper suspension. This means an end to "scratching" noises. It means bringing out the hidden beauties of the record. It means a longer lasting record, one that retains its newness. If the Brunswick had no other advantages over ordinary phononographs, this one feature should decide you in its favor. But there are many other exclusive features. We want to point them out to you, so that you can make intelligent comparisons. You buy only one phonograph—you might as well take time to investigate—find out before you decide. Let us bring you one to hear it over night in your home.

SUPREME COURT

TWO OF THE SEVEN QUESTIONS CERTIFIED DISCUSSED AT LENGTH.

EXPECT ACTION IMMEDIATEL

Secretary of State Will Notify County Judges When Advised of Dallas Court's Order.

Austin, Texas-The Texas Supreme Court answered that the parties bringing suft against Earle B. Mayfield to keep his name off the general election ticket were not the proper parties. The motion for order to stay the Corsicana injunction was granted.

The court held that the Thirteenth District Court of Navarro County was without jurisdiction to hear the injunction suit and that Section 9 of the anti-corruption law was not vielative of the Constitution. The court ordered that a certified copy of the opinion be immediately sent to the Court of Civil Appeals at Dallas and also a copy to the Judge of the District Court of Navarro County.

The opinion covers fifteen typewritten pages and was written by Associate Justice William Pierson.

The court in a special sitting answered the seven questions certified by the Fifth Court of Civil Appeals at Dallas in the senatorial controversy and these answers are favorable to the Mayfield contention and mean that Mayfield's name is to go on the ticket as the nominee of the Democratic party. In addition to answering these questions, the court granted the motion by Mayfield's U. S. NOW ALLEGES counsel for a stay order to prevent the final decision being made by the District Court of Navarro County.

The opinion says: "It is therefore ordered by this court, as essential to the enforcement of its own jurisdiction as well as that of the Court of Civil Appeals, that no further proceedings be had in the quo warranto cause by the District Judge or by the District Court of Navarro County pending the final judgment of the Court of Civil Appeals, wherein all directions may be given essential to the complete enforcement of the jurisidction of the Court of Civil Ap-

"The statute directing that all proceedings instituted under Section 9 of the 1919 act be summarily diss ordered that this opinion be immediately certified to the honorable Court of Civil Appeals at Dallas, and that a certified copy be at once transmitted by mail to the honorable Judge of the District Court of Navarro County."

Gramont frowned. "What has that got to do with our present business?" "Quite a bit, I fancy." A thin smile curved the lips of Jachin Fell. "Maillard is not guilty of the murder-but you are."

"Be careful!" he said, his voice leadly. "What do you mean by this?" Gramont looked at him and puffed

"So?" queried Gramont, his brows lifted. "You seem much in Mr. Fell's confidence, Ben. But I think I'll leave the stairs. Ben's impudence, perhaps you tied up a little while. Memphis Izzy is going down to his summer cottage tomorrow, isn't he? I'll be there -but you won't. By the way, I think I'd better look through your pockets." Ben Chacherre writhed suddenly,

The latter, unheeding the contortions of his captive, searched the man The coin fell heads. He pocketed thoroughly. Except for a roll of money, the pockets gave up little of interest. The only paper Gramont secured was a fresh telegraph blank. He would have passed this unheeded had he not noted a snaky flitting of Chacherre's eyes to it.

"Ah!" he said, pleasantly. "You appear to be interested in this, Ben. Pray, what is the secret?"

Chacherre merely glared at him, and sudden exclamation broke from him. He held the bit of yellow paper to the light at varying angles.

"It's the most natural thing in the world," be said after a moment, "for a man to walk into a telegraph office. write out a telegram, and then find ing for granted that Gramont would that he's torn two blanks instead of sion, to the scheme. "Your car? Why, you left it in the meantime, will you be kind enough to garage at Gumberts' place, eh? That little roadster of Fell's, with the extra He addressed an envelope to Fell's seat behind. If you'd been just a little office, and then stamped and pock- bit cooler yesterday, Ben, you would have made fewer mistakes. It never occurred to you that other people might have been there in the bushes when the sheriff was murdered, eh?"

Chacherre went livid. "It was another mistake to throw away your knife after you killed him," pursued Gramont, reflectively. "You should have held on to that knife, Ben. There's no blood, remember, on Hammond's knife-a hard thing for you and your friends to explain plausibly. Yet your knife is heavy with blood, which tests will show to be human blood. Also, the knife has your name on it; quite a handsome knife, too. On the whole, you must admit that you bungled the murder from start to fluish-"

Chacherre broke in with a frightful oath-a frantically obscene storm of curses. So furlous were his words that Gramont very efficiently gagged him with cloths, gagged him hard and "I think that I'll send another wire to Dick Hearne on this blank which you so thoughtfully provided. I'll order him, in your name, not to burn that bundle after all; I fancy it may prove of some value to me. And I'll also tell your friend-I suppose he has some familiar cognomen, such as Slippery Dick-to meet Henry Gramont at Houms early in the morning. As He Did So, Gramont's Fist Caught I'd like to gather Dick in with the Him Squarely on the Point of the other gentlemen. I'll mention that you were kind enough to supply a few names and incidents."

At this last Ben Chacherre writhed anew, for it was a shrewd blow. He and his friends belonged to that class Gramont's fist caught him squarely on by any mischance one of that class is isiled and convicted, he invariably takes his medicine silently, knowing that the whole gang is behind him, and that when he emerges from prison he will be sure to find money and friends and occupation awaiting him. To know that he would be placed, in the estimation of the gang, in the same class with stool-pigeons, must have bitten deeper into Ben Chacherre than any other lash. Gramont, meantime, was writing out the telegram to Dick Hearne. This finished, he got his hat and coat, and from the bureau drawer took an automatic pistol, which he pocketed. Then he smiled pleasantly at his prisoner. "This evening, Ben, I think that I'll attend a meeting of my post of the American Legion. You don't belong to that organization by any chance? No. I'm quite sure you don't. Very few of your exclusive acquaintances do belong. Well, see you later! Work on those bonds all you like-you're quite safe. I'm curious to see what is to that bundle under the rear seat of your car; I have an idea that it may he stood in danger. 1923 SUPERIOR Chevrolet Sedan

In 1922 Chevrolet led the world in sales of quality closed cars chiefly because of the Sedan. This new Fisher Body Sedan is completely eclipsing its predecessor because:

QUALITY has been still further improved by more artistic design and added improvements.

ECONOMY has been still further increased by engineering refinements and greatly broadened production and distribution facilities.

SERVICE is now offered on a flat rate basis by 10,000 dealers and service stations. PRICE remains the same, in spite of added equipment and more expensive construction, which have greatly increased value. Some distinctive features of the new line are: streamline body design with high hood and crowned, paneled fenders; vacuum feed and rear gasoline tank on all models; drum type head lamps with legal lenses. Curtains open with doors of open models.

Closed models have Fisher Bodies with plate glass Ternstedt regulated windows, straight side cord tires, sun visor, windshield wiper and dash light. The Sedanette is equipped with auto trunk on rear.

Acolphana WHY KRYPTOKS?

You should learn why a once, if you require glasses of different"strength" for reading and viewing distant objects.

Here are a few reasons:

Because KRYPTOKS are in appearance single, solid lenses.

Because they possess no lines of separation, no segments and no cement.

Because there is no chance for them to drop apart or collect dirt in creases.

Because they are as graceful on the face as any single vision eyeglasses.

Because they represent the highest step yet reached in the development of bifocal lenses. Come in and get more rea-

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 5

JESUS THE GREAT PHYSICIAN

LESSON TEXT-Luke 4:31-44; 5:12-26. GOLDEN TEXT-Himself took our in rmities, and bare our sickness.-Matt.

REFERENCE MATERIAL-Matt. D.S. 88; Mark 1:21-45. PRIMARY TOPIC-How a Sick Man Was Brought to Jesus. JUNIOR TOPIC-Jesus Healing the INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC Jesus' Power to Forgive Sin. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC Jesus' Ministry to Human Need.

Since the topic sets forth Jesus as he Great Physician, it will be better for adult classes, especially, to take the larger text chosen by the committee and note the several outstanding cases of His healing. For some classes it will be better to study the one case of healing, namely, the healing of the paralytic.

I. Jesus Healing a Demoniac (4:

81-37). While engaged in teaching in the synagogue He was interrupted by ". man who had an unclean spirit. Jesus rebuked the demon and compelled him to come out of the man. This healing shows Jesus not only gracious, but powerful to set free the whole brood of diabolical passions, such as lust, envy, anger and jealousy which rule

II. Jesus Heals a Woman of a Great

Fever (vv. 38:39). Peter's mother-in-law was prostrate with a great fever. They of Peter's household besought Jesus for her. Jesus rebuked the fever and it left her so that she immediately rose and ministered unto them. No earthly physician had ever been known to heal in that way. Divine healing is immediate and complete. We should distinguish between divine healing and faith healing. Faith healing is the result of the action of the mind upon the body and is measured by the degree of the faith, while divine healing is the ac tion of the power of God upon the diseased one, and is always complete and immediate, because it is measured by the power of the Healer, God. His fame spread abroad and many sick of divers diseases were brought unto Him and He healed them all, even casting out demons and forbidding them to

III. Jesus Heals a Leper (5:12-16). Leprosy was a most loathsome and terrible disease. Because of its foulness one afflicted therewith was an outcast. The disease was incurable by man, therefore the leper was regarded as hopeless and dead. In response to the leper's earnest request Jesus touched him and bade the leprosy to depart, and immediately he was healed and cleaned. Leprosy is a type of sin. Jesus has power to heal and cleanse

IV. Jesus Heals a Paralytic (5: 17-26).

1. Watched by the Pharisees and Doctors (v. 1). Jesus' fame spread abroad, and this only incited jealousy on the part of these men.

2. The Paralytic Brought (vv. 18, 19). This is a fine lesson in Christian service. They could not heal the man. have never succeeded .- New York zone, Cuba and Mexico. These women but could bring him to Jesus, who could heal and restore. They had faith in Jesus to heal him. No effort The charm of a bathroom is its spot- which is required to bring a sinner to 3. The Man's Sins Forgiven (v. 20). Jesus looked back of the palsy to its cause-sin. All disease and death is the result of sin. Jesus saw the faith of those not only who brought him, but of the man himself. 4. The Purpose of Miracles (vv. 21. 22). The Pharisees accused Christ of blasphemy when He declared the man's sins forgiven. Jesus showed them that back of the beneficent deed to the man was the demonstration of His delty. The main purpose in the working of miracles is the authentication of the divine mission of the one performing them. The working of the miracle was to demonstrate His authority to atone for sin and to grant forgiveness. While the divine power and authority are thus shown, the wisdom and love of God are shown in that in all cases the supernatural work is for the good of the individual. A true miracle is never spectacular. It is not merely a demonstration of power, but the working of power for

5. Relative Value of Physical Ills and Moral and Spiritual Maladies (v. 23). Physical ills are less serious than the sins which cause them. In dealing with them we should follow the example of Christ and first deal with the cause.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS UNLESS SUBSTITUTE IS OFFERED.

ADMINISTRATION SO THINKS

President Harding and Cabinet Considering Proposing Economic Meet and Conference on European Armament and Atlantic Questions.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY Washington.-The Harding adminisration is now fairly well convinced hat the people of the United States are looking with more favor on the League of Nations than at any time since the senate refused to ratify the Versailles treaty. Furthermore the dministration has about reached the conclusion that unless it can propose substitute for the league which will be acceptable to the people, the United States is very apt to go into the existing league. The President's cabinet, it can be asserted authoritatively, is the United States cannot pursue a policy of isolation. President Harding has never advocated such a policy. On the other hand, he has, since the day he was nominated for President, advocated the adoption of a substitute for the League of Nations. The administration now has under consideration a tentative course of action. The proposals are: (1) An international economic conference called by the United States to follow the European economic conference which has been called to meet in Brussels on December 1. (2) A conference on limitation of armaments in Europe and on Atlantic

The situation with respect to the treaties agreed on at the Washington conference on the limitation of armaments and on Pacific and Far Eastern questions is influencing the adminisration to give serious consideration to these two proposals. Almost a year has gone by since the Washington conference met, and not one of the treatles agreed on in that conference has been ratified by all the nations parties to it. This means that not one of the treaties produced by the conference is in force

What the Proposals Mean. The two steps that have been protration quarters, would presumably bring about immediate ratification of all the Washington conference treatles. The first step proposed is not regarded as of far-reaching importance, though the feeling is undoubtedly growing in the United States-as was indicated by the action of the bankers of the country in session at New York-that the government must assist, in a more direct way than it has thus far assisted, in restoring economic and financial conditions in Europe. The inside talk v here is that if the United States should decide to issue a call for an interna- I tional economic conference, this government would express the hope that the conference be held in this country, but the place of meeting would, of course, be left to the countries invited to participate, The second proposal under consideration is for another international conference on the limitation of armaments and for the discussion of other questions which would be patterned after the Washington conference on la the limitation of armaments. Behind this second proposal is a plan for a treaty similar to the four-power treaty which came out of the Washington conference, and to which the United States, Great Britain, Japan, and I France are parties, and which is still | 8

Might Bring Five-Power Treaty. The preliminary talk in connection with the proposed second conference on the limitation is that it might pro- I duce a five-power treaty to which the United States, Great Britain, France, Germany and Italy would be parties. I If such a conference should be held, It and if such a treaty should be actually proposed in the conference, several other European nations, it is pointed v out, might be asked to become parties v to the treaty. But the present thought here is that it should be a five-power

The argument in support of this program is: (1) That it would insure the ratification and application of the four- c power treaty adopted at the Washington conference, and (2) would, if car- t ried forward in good faith, insure i peace in Europe for a long period of t years. Public men who have been consulted about this tentative program if are very confident that if the United s States, Great Britain, France, Ger- a many and Italy should bind them- I selves together in what might be called I a minor League of Nations to pre, a serve the peace of Europe, they would f exercise a powerful and probably last- 1 ing influence for good.

The experience of the State depart- 1 ment during the last two weeks in connection with the flareup in the Near East has served to convince members of the administration, if they needed any convincing, that the United | 1 States cannot afford to attempt to play a lone hand in the game of international affairs. New Stamps Coming Out. The public always takes keen interest in a new postage stamp. Within the next two months an entire new series will have been President Harding and Cabinet Conment and Atlantic Questions.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY Washington,-The Harding administration is now fairly well convinced that the people of the United States are looking with more favor on the League of Nations than at any time since the senate refused to ratify the Versailles treaty. Furthermore the administration has about reached the conclusion that unless it can propose a substitute for the league which will be acceptable to the people, the United States is very apt to go into the existing league. The President's cabinet, it can be asserted authoritatively, is now unanimously of the opinion that the United States cannot pursue a policy of isolation. President Harding has never advocated such a policy. On the other hand, he has, since the day he was nominated for President, advocated the adoption of a substitute for the League of Nations.

The administration now has under consideration a tentative course of action. The proposals are: (1) An international economic con ference called by the United States to follow the European economic conference which has been called to meet in Brussels on December 1.

(2) A conference on limitation of armaments in Europe and on Atlantic

The situation with respect to the treaties agreed on at the Washington conference on the limitation of armaments and on Pacific and Far Eastern questions is influencing the administration to give serious consideration to these two proposals. Almost a year has gone by since the Washington conference met, and not one of the treatles agreed on in that conference has been ratified by all the nations parties to it. This means that not one of the treaties traits include Washington and Jefferproduced by the conference is in force

> It is planned to place on sale the new 50-cent stamp with a picture of the Arlington Amphitheater and the tomb of the Unknown Soldier on Armistice day, November 11. The remaining denominations of the series will be put out as promptly as the engraving and preparation of the plates are completed

> In the new series of denominations, the 13-cent stamp has been dropped, and 14-cent and 25-cent stamps have been added. The 13-cent stamp was found useful only for payment of combined postage and registration fee during the war period when the ordinary letter postage rate was 3 cents. There is a demand for the added items in parcel post business, especially for use by large mail-order concerns. The department is urgin" postmasters to encourage the use of the smallest number of stamps that will cover the postage on any parcel, so as to save both in cost of manufacture and in the work of canceling and examining stamps after the parcel has been

PLAN TO CONTROL WEATHER

Scheme Has Been the Dream of Many Scientists, but Nothing Practical Has Been Evolved.

Three or four years ago a Sheffleld (Eng.) workingman claimed to be putting the finishing touches to an instrument to enable him "to focus beams of ether oscillation" and so control the weather. Unfortunately, the instrument could not have been so perfect as he thought, for nothing further has been heard of it. Before that a Leeds scientist had come to the conclusion that it was "within the scope of human possibility to prevent disastrous cyclones, hurricanes and storms, and even to improve permanently the weather of the British isles." The idea was the production of an instrument enabling the operator to collect or dissemble the molecules which form the atmosphere, securing the degree of density desired and so arranging the best weather required for any district or seasonal occupation. More than twelve years ago Sir Oliver Lodge demonstrated that fog could be dispelled by electricity, though the process was too costly for adoption

FORD MAKES OVER 5,000 CARS AND TRUCKS DAILY

According to a statement recently ssued by Edsel B. Ford, president of the Ford Motor Co., the general eduction of $50 a car was made two weeks ago applies to Ford This reduction was effective

'The revision in prices," said Mr. Ford, "is the result of the increased volume of business which our com pany has enjoyed during the present year, and also the fact that we now own and operate many of our own sources of raw material, which enables us to continue increasing the quality of our product and at the same time keep the price so low that Ford cars are in the reach of "Our production for 1922 is already in excess of a million, which has been an important factor in bringing down costs. Our present daily output is averaging better than 5,000 cars and trucks, which means a complete Ford car or truck every 5 1-2 seconds of each eight-hour working day. It is in anticipation of this continued demand that price adjustments are again being made in order to keep in effect the policy of selling Ford products at the lowest price consistent with quality.

'Quality, as usual." said Mr Ford, "will continue to be a prime consideration in the building of Ford cars. As our business has increased we have constantly increased our equipment and manufacturing facilities, so that this price reduction merely reflects the progressive methods which come as a result of of increased volume.

'This reduction, which is the sixth since March 1920, brings the price of the Ford touring from $5.75, the price in effect early in 1920, to the present extremely low level of $2.98, which is nearly 50 per cent loss. Corresponding reductions have been made on all other types.
