REV. RICHBURG CONDUCT- ING BAPTIST MEETINGS

The Baptist protracted meeting which was started Friday of last week is still in progress. The meetings, which are largely attended and seem to be creating great interest, are being conducted alone by Rev.

which he expected could not be had on account of illness.

SUIT INVOLVES TITLE OF PIONEER TOWNSITE

Frank W. Doyle, 29, soldier of fortune and veteran of the World War, has brought suit, through his attorneys, Burkett, Orr & McCarty of Eastland, for an interest amounting to one-sixteenth of the surface and mineral rights of the F. W. A.
Doyle lands consisting of 146 acres in the southwest part of Eastland county on which about three-fourth of the town of Pioneer and about twenty producing oil wells are located. The suit is brought against the Prairie Oil & Gas Co., and about 300 other defendants. It is estimated that the value of the interest claimed by Doyle is $200,000.

Plaintiff claims that many years ago his grandfather and grandmother pre-empted the land from the State of Texas, paying for the same with community funds; that while they still owned the property his grandmother died, leaving two children, one of whom is the father of the plaintiff. After the death of his grandmother his grandfather remarried and while living with his second wife sold the land without either of his sons joining in the deed.
Later the father of the plaintiff, Frank W. Doyle, died leaving four children each of whom inherited a one sixteenth of their father's estate.

In 1910, according to the plaintiff, a suit was filed to try the title of the land and the four Doyle heirs were made parties to the suit, but plaintiff and one of his brothers were minors at the time and were not represented in court. As a result of this suit an agreement for judgment was made but was not signed by Frank W. Doyle, the plaintiff in this suit.

Doyle, who now lives at Ardmore, Oklahoma, became a sort of a soldier of fortune, traveling here and there about the country until he was drafted into the army in 1918.
He says he never knew of the settlement of his father's estate until this year.—Eastland Chronicle.

Watch Talk

Mr. Crabb, operator in the local oil field, brought in his watch for repair. Mr. Crabb stated it had been something like twenty years since his watch had been cleaned, also that the watch had not kept good time of late.

After examination we found that from running on dry bearings, that every jewel and pivot was badly worn, which made the repair bill very expensive.

Which is best, to let your watch run as long as it will on dry bearings and then not get accurate time, or keep the sand dust out and fresh oil on the bearings?

Which will cost the most in the long run?

FARMER IS KILLED BY MOWING MACHINE

Joe Hicks, farmer, living near Fannin County line, was found dead in his field Tuesday afternoon of last week. When found the body was entangled in a mowing machine in his meadow. The supposition is that the team ran away and the man was unable to extricate himself from the machine. His throat had been cut by the pitman rod on the machine and he so had received other injuries that would have caused his death had he been released.

He had been dead about four hours when the body was found. He leaves a wife and several children.

I appreciate very much the favor you have conferred upon me. I wish to thank all of my friends for their support, and I shall try to fill the office of tax collector in such manner that none of you will ever be helping me. Sincerely,

SCHOOL OPENED MONDAY WITH RECORD ATTENDANCE

The 1922-23 term of the Cross Plains school opened Monday, Sept.
4th, with a record attendance for the opening day. Supt. C. S. Martin was assisted in chapel by Rev.
Richburg of the local Baptist church and Rev. R. O. Bailey Pastor of the Methodist church of Cross Plains, who made inspiring addresses, urging both teachers and pupils to close co-operation between the faculty and student body and calling upon the students to carry high ideals, and show every consideration toward each other and respect toward their teachers.

Mr. R. H. Davanay, President of the Board of Education, made a short address of welcome in behalf of that body, following which the actual work of classifying the students and organizing the classes was begin.

The following comprise the faculty for the coming term and the grades
they will teach.

C. S. Martin Supt., teaching higher mathematics.
J. C. Carpenter, Principal, Science
and Language.

Miss Beard, English and History.
Miss Elia LaMotte, 6th grade.
Miss Ethel LaMotte, 5th grade.
Miss Carrie Gaines, 3rd and 4th
grade.

Miss Lois Crass, 2nd and 3rd
grade.

Mrs. C. S. Martin, Primary grades.
With the single exception of Mr.
Carpenter all are quite well and favorably known to most of the school patrons; and while Mr.
Carpenter is as yet a stranger among us, he comes from Plano Texas; is a graduate of T. C. U. and is possessed of a pleasing personality coupled with educational accomplishments that will make you want to know him.

The school term this year will be nine months and not six months, as was recently reported, and with the co-operation of parents and pupils like we predict one of the most successful years ever enjoyed by the Cross Plains school.

RAILROAD TERMINAL IS AGAIN ESTABLISHED HERE

Beginning last Saturday night the use of the Cross Plains terminal was again established after two months of indifferent and sometime discontinued train service due to the shopmen strike.

The terminal at Cross Plains was discontinued on July 1st and all trains run out of DeLeon to Cross Plains and returned to DeLeon, only stopping here for a few moments and giving no opportunity for passengers to reach any point not on this branch without laying over all night at De-Leon.

The local Chamber of Commerce immediately took the situation up with the M. K. & T. officials and with the assistance of Supts. Evans and Dobbins finally succeeded in convincing the higher-ups that some sort of reasonable service should be given the towns served by the DeLeon-Cross Plains branch and the terminal was brought back to Cross Plains. The evening train is now arriving at 5:30 p. m. and departs the next morning at 6:00 a.
m. with the same general schedule
as was in effect before the change July 1st.

Poly Williams is again in charge of the engine during the hours of night-time lay over.

Drillers working on the Star
No. 1, of A. G. Crabb et al., report having reached the top of the black lime Tuesday night at a depth of 2,600 feet.

This well is only a short distance southeast of the old reliable gasser, drilled by the Pennant
Co. and Phillips Petroleum Co.
over two years ago and the pay is expected at the same depth, about 2,900 feet. Its distance from the old gas well, coupled with the surface geology makes it seem certain to predict that oil rather than gas will be the issue.
This well is about 8 miles almost due south of town and some 2 miles southwest of Cross Cut. In the same section Leonard et al., Prater No. 1, which has been shut down for the past severa-months is again drilling at about 1,200 feet, and a little farther to the east Crabb et al. have the rig up and are preparing to move in tools on the Elsberry tract.
Gillett and Magness Prater No. 1, at Cross Cut though a shallow well is holding up remarkably close to initial production showing remarkable staying qualities for a 1,300 foot pay. Offsetting this well to the north Junior Oil Co. are shut down at 1,335 feet on their deep test well, being out of water for drilling purposes but will resume work as soon as a sufficient supply for drilling obtained.

West of town F. W. Stone & Co. on the McDermott ranch are drilling at about 2,600 feet, this well is another deep test and will be pushed on down to past 3,000 feet unless gusher pay is reached at a shallower depth.

Two and one half miles of town the Pennant Co. are drilling at about 200 feet on their Albin
No. 2, offsetting Moore et al., Acker No. 1, some 600 feet to the east. The Acker well is proving one of the substantial class of producers and while not competed with a shot it continues flowing regularly by heads making from 60 to 70 barrels Junior oil Co Webb No. 3, is drilling at close to 1,800 feet and as this well offsets the old Webb
No. 1, its future when the pay is once reached is not worrying the owners. All in all while there is nothing of the rush and hurrah in the fields at this time yet the steady work of development is going forward in an encouraging manner with nothing in the future to indicate that the shut down will become general; while a few rays of Light begin sifting through that might indicate better days not far away.

JUDGE ELY WOULD HAVE MARTIAL LAW AT PIONEER

Asserting that federal prohibition officers had told him that the town of Pioneer was a "wide-open" town, District Judge W. R. Ely, in instructing the grand and petit jurors at Abilene this week, told them that conditions at Pioneer are making it difficult to enforce the liquor laws in adjoining counties.

Judge Ely asserted that the governor had been informed of conditions in Pioneer and added that if he had any influence with the governor he would recommend establishment of martial law there.

"The governor ought to take steps
at Pioneer to clean up the situation," Judge Ely asserted.

Marcel Bad but Will Try Again

French Orphan, Mascot of A. E. F. Brigade, Determined to Be American Citizen.

HAS BEEN DEPORTED TWICE

Returns as Sailor, Deserts Ship and Enlists in United States Army, but Will Be Sent Home a Third Time.

San Antonio, Tex.—Petted as the mascot of a brigade of the American army in France, Marcel Jules Dupays, a French orphan boy, longed to become a citizen of the United States. Through a series of misfortunes he is now in jail here pending the arrival of a steamship at New York which shall carry him back to France. His deportation has been ordered by the government. Although he has had many adventures during the last few years, Jules is still a boy. He declares that his determination to make this country his home has not been changed and that he will come over again as a stowaway the first chance he gets.

The recorded history of the boy began when a government transport returning to the United States in 1919 was found to have a little French stowaway among its soldier passengers. The youngster, decidedly blond, with pale blue eyes, was no very small that he was taken to be ten years old, while in reality he was fourteen.

Adopted as Army Mascot.

Before that date his story was that of many of the children of France. His mother was dead and his father, an officer in the French army, was killed at the battle of Verdun. He was a homeless waif until adopted as a mascot by a company of the French army, and later on by a brigade of the American army. So, when his khaki-clad friends boarded a transport for home he also sneaked aboard.

When the steamer reached New York, Jules was held by the Ellis Island authorities to be sent back to France immediately under the immigration law, which provides that minors are not eligible into this country unless accompanied by a parent or guardian. But through the intervention of a generous American, Jules was allowed to stay.

His American benefactor took the matter up with the immigration authorities at Washington, promised to support and educate the boy as his own son, and was allowed to take him in charge. It was then that trouble began, for Jules proved to be not only bad in his usual boy fashion, but developed tendencies which alarmed his guardian. He was cared for and treated for two years, and finally pro-

Ex-Premier Briand Is Seized as Hen Thief

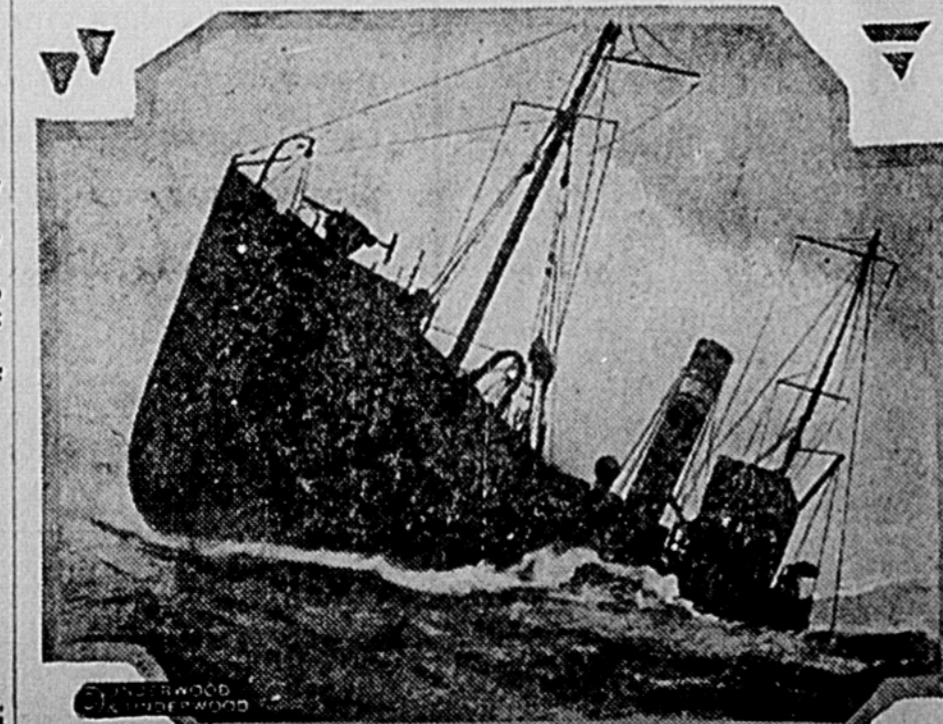

Rouen, France.—Police headquarters here, following an epidemic of petty chicken-thieft, recently sent out instructions for all the commissaries of this district to be on the lookout for suspicious characters.

A young ambitious gendarme, recently appointed, hailed a pedestrian along the high road. The gendarme escorted his prisoner to the nearest police station for further examination. "You made a wonderful capture," the prisoner told the youthful officer. "You are certain to receive a lot of credit for this arrest."

Upon arriving at the station-house the prisoner was allowed to telephone to the public prosecutor here, who ordered his immediate release.

He proved to be Aristide Briand, seven times premier of France.

COWGIRL SEEKS ADVENTURE

Blanche Severyna of Nebraska Going to Tour Europe Alone, Maybe as a Boy.

Lincoln, Neb.—Miss Blanche Severyna of Round Valley, cowgirl and ranch owner's daughter, is going to tour Europe alone. She says she is going for the sole purpose of finding out if adventure is dead.

"I am going to find as many adventures as possible," she says. "If I cannot get the experiences and the information as a girl I intend to get them as a boy."

So she is taking with her a wig and a boy's suit, and by this means she is able to transform an eighteen-year-old girl into a sixteen-year-old boy. She thinks the experiences a boy will secure will be much different, and if she doesn't find enough of them in Belgium she is going to knock about New York City a bit. She has relatives in Belgium and she will spend a little time with them, but it is adventure that is beckoning her.

OLD FAITHFUL IS OUTDONE

New Yellowstone Geyser Starts Business on Fifteenth Anniversary of the National Park.

Yellowstone, Wyo.—With a prodigious cough on the fifteenth anniversary of the opening of Yellowstone park as a national playground, a new geyser spouted into the air from an old hot mudhole, shooting higher than "Old Faithful" and smashing all previous records for altitude.

H. M. Albright, superintendent of the park, took a look at the newcomer to the wonders of the place and decided to call it the Semi-Centennial geyser. A motoring party drawn close to the innocent old mudhole called it various other things, for the machine and members of the group were bathed in sooty mud and pelted with brick-like fragments of rock, apparently baked mud. Government rangers later formed a guard around the place.

The new geyser is near Roaring mountain. Its first eruption threw mud and stones 300 feet in the air. Trees in a wide radius were coated with slime, which quickly dried and left them wearing a dry gray crust. The mudhole had been tranquil for many years.

Tourists flocked from many miles away to see the new wonder, which has set itself an hourly schedule for its eruptions.

MUTE HERO NOW TALKS AGAIN

French Surgeons Supply Rubber Tongue for Man Maimed in the World War.

Paris.—Modern surgery has accomplished another unenvied feat. Insertion of an artificial tongue, enabling Sergeant Vialla, a Verdun wounded war veteran, to talk, has just been reported at the Val de Grace hospital.

Sergeant Vialla lost his lower jaw in the war and was reconstructed with a complete set of teeth.

When the surgeons had finished this job, there was only the base of the tongue left, and Dr. Eugene Quenolle set to work to fix up a rubber tongue and palate.

Vialla was soon able to eat with this mechanism, instead of having to use a tube. Later he trained himself to make sounds on the palate and now it is reported he is able to converse and even sing.

TIPSY MOUSE DEFIES CATS

Staggers About Pittsburgh Police Station, Eluding "Dry" Agents, Frightening the Womans Clerks.

Pittsburgh.—A heavy drinker, parading freely of the contents of discarded kegs and dripping stills in the county detective headquarters, appearing in the offices in a highly inebriated condition, frightening women clerks but eluding the efforts of 30 steuths to capture him, is the latest scandal in liquor law enforcement here.

The toper is often seen, but even when he is blind, staggering drunk, which seems to be most of the time, he is too fast and wary for detectives.

The entire force would apprehend a loan of a skilled mouser, for te-dry-law violator is only a little mouse with a taste for moonshine, who, when drunk, sits right up on his hind legs and in what may be his deepest bass, calls for any cat in Pittsburgh.

Indigestion and Dyspepsia Overcome

Victims of stomach trouble, indigestion, dyspepsia and their allied ailments find Tanlac an ever-ready source of relief and comfort. The sands of people have refound the joy of health by its use after everything else they tried had failed.

"Tanalac helped me wonderfully," said Mrs. W. H. Hocker, 84 Rose Avenue, Clifton Forge, Va. "For over a year I suffered tortures from indigestion and had to live on the simplest food. I became almost a nervous wreck. Tanlac restored me to the best of health."

Tanalac helps the stomach digest the food properly and eliminate waste. Soon the whole system is built up, the blood is purified and the entire body takes on new tone, vitality and energy. Get a bottle today and start the road to health. For sale by all good druggists.—Advertisement.

Was a Bridge Tender.

"There's no fool like an old fool," said one of the members of the Log-an-the-Club club caught in a bridge fight the last night of the season. He was not much concerned about it since his good wife, once parked for the night sleeps on through, or at least, has grace not to ask when he got in. However, merely as a matter of habit, he turned the key softly and was surprised to find his door open. He stepped quietly into his room, when the child's voice of his small granddaughter peeped through the open door of her room: "Granddaddy! Where did you go to a job as night watchman?"—Indianaapolis Star.

Prohibition Vote in Sweden.

Stockholm.—With half the returns counted, the total shows a vote of 550,753 against prohibition and 432,663 in favor of it. Incomplete returns in the referendum on the question of prohibition indicate strong tendency against prohibition. It was a day of great excitement throughout Sweden. In all the big cities the squares were crowded by thousands of people awaiting the result.

Pet Stock Show at Cotton Palace.

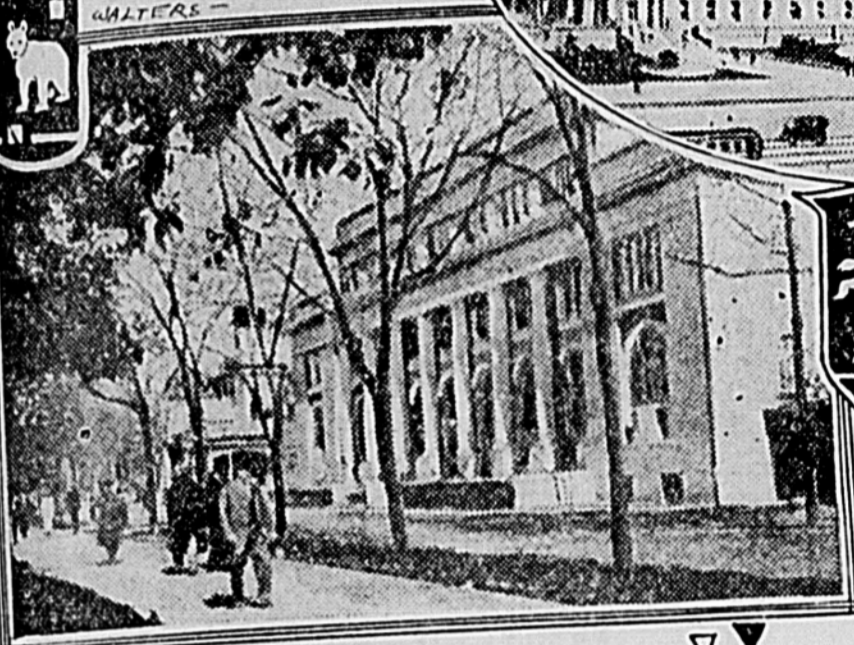

Waco, Texas.—The annual pet stock show at the Cotton Palace this year promises to be the biggest event of its kind in the history of the exposition. It will continue for the entire 16 days that the Cotton Palace is open. Larger purses and better premiums, it is said, have been offered by the Cotton Palace this year for pet stock exhibits than any other exposition in the South.

Farmer Is Stabilizing Factor.

Washington.—The one stabilizing factor in the general economical and industrial state of unrest has been the farmer. He was first to feel the touch of readjustment, when prices began to fall in 1920. The slump in farm products in that year cut the farmer's purchasing power approximately 50 per cent, though supplies needed by agriculturists increased in price from 60 to 100 per cent.

BEAR STATE RECOUNTS ITS PROGRESS SINCE ADMISSION TO UNION IN 1836

ROBABLY you know that Arkansas is pronounced Arkansas, with the accent on the first syllable—by virtue of an act of the state legislature. And maybe you have heard the famous old tune, "The Arkansas Traveler," with its accompanying dialogue. But do you know that the people of Arkansas have named it the "Wonder State of the Union"? Do you know that it produces genuine diamonds, hydrofluoric acid and chert? Do you know that an Arkansas concern prints admission tickets for all the big circuses and play houses? Do you know that John Pearson, an Arkansian, was the inventor of the Colt's revolver? Well, anyway, Representative Jacobson of Arkansas got up in the house the other day and spoke about like this:

Arkansas has now been incorporated into the Federal Union for a period of 86 years. During that time she has wrought wondrously and well. She has achieved those things of which all Arkansians are justly proud, and the history of this achievement we want to publish to the world at large. It is destined that her status will be equal to that which she has as a national model worthy of the emulation by each of her sister states and second to none. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to extend my remarks in the Congressional Record by making certain observations and detailing in part a portion of the wonderful history of that state from which I come and which in part I have the great honor to represent in the halls of national legislation. In things undertaken and carried to a successful consummation the name of Arkansas ranks high on the scroll, yet when all the facts related to this proud state are known and appreciated for their full, just and honest worth convinced will be the minds of all that Arkansas has been rightly named the "Wonder State of the Union."

Mr. Speaker, this data, based largely on government statistics, was compiled by the Arkansas Advancement association, an organization of the foremost business men of the state, and not operated for commercial purposes. It is with pleasurable pride that I make certain recitals about my native state and to commend the patriotic and state pride of those commending this wonderful data about a wonderful state, to the end that those who essay to speak of her exaltable. Past and Present. The late Mrs. George Gould has divorced. At a Lakewood dinner party young divorcee was admiring Gould's splendid jewelry. "Oh, that's your wedding ring, is it?" she said. "How old-fashioned looks, doesn't it? In the past I made them so much wider and heavier than they do now."

"In the past, you see," said Mrs. Gould, "they expected them to last a lifetime."

KLANSMEN MAKE THIRD VISIT CHURCH MEETINGS

About a dozen white robed Knights of the Ku Klux Klan silently filed into the tabernacle in which the Baptist revival meetings were in progress last Sunday night, presented Rev Richburg, who was conducting the meetings, with a ten dollar bill for himself and a letter, which they requested be read to the congregation. They formed a semi-circle around the pulpit and stood with stauelike silence during the ten minutes required to read the letter, and then as silently as they appeared they filed down the alley and disappeared into the darkness, the only words spoken being the request to read the letter, which follows:

Hall of the Ku Klux Klan of Cross Plains, Texas, Sept 3, 1922.

Brother:
We hand you ten dollars for yourself.

At the same time we wish to express our appreciation of the work you are doing for God and for the right.

Those of us who are under this tabernacle tonight, and there are more than you would possibly suspect mixed with your audience tonight and the other nights of your meeting, are, regardless of our doctrinal beliefs, entirely in accord with you in the lessons of right living and right thinking which your series of sermons have so ably portrayed.

You are for the observance of the spiritual laws and consequently must of necessity be for the enforcement of the temporal laws, because temporal laws are founded on those divine principles laid down in that book which you and every clansman and every man who is truly and truly a man holds to be the book of all books.

We feel a kinship with you because we are least first last and all the time for the enforcement of the temporal laws. We are for those divine precepts which teach us to love our neighbors as we love ourselves, to do unto others as you would have them do unto you and therefore must of necessity be for the enforcement of those laws both temporal and moral which safeguard our neighbor our families and ourselves.

You believe in the enforcement of the spiritual laws not by the sword as did the ancients, but by lessons of right living and right thinking delivered from the pulpit and by examples of right living and right thinking in your life and in the life of every christian.

We believe in the enforcement of the temporal laws not by the tar pot and the whipping post as some would have you think but by first living a law abiding moral life ourselves and then lending our efforts without fear or favor to the duly constituted officers in the enforcement of the laws. It then the laws are not enforced we believing in using our votes and influence in securing officers who will with the assistance of the law abiding enforce the laws.

We are with you in anything that is just and right noble and uplifting. We as you believe in loyalty to God loyalty to country loyalty to our brother man.

We make this lengthy expression of our principles at this time and in this place because we want men to join with us in our fight for Christianity and for the right and because we know that there is no better place to find men, big upstanding moral christian men, than under God's tabernacle with ears attuned to God's precepts as delivered by the mouth of one of God's servants.

Sincerely yours for God, Country and Our Fellowmen.
The Ku Klux Klan of Cross Plains, Texas.

TO THE VOTERS OF CALLAHAN COUNTY

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all the voters who supported me in the Primary Election just held.

I appreciate each of you as my friend and shall always appreciate you as such. The result of this election will in no wise affect me in the enforcement of all or laws, it is my purpose now as it has always been to see that those who violate the laws shall answer in court for same, but in order to make an efficient officer, the officer must have the co-operation of the good people.

My earnest desire that every good citizen of Callahan county, not only assist me, but at the expiration of my term of office they will also assist Mr. Bray, and by so doing keep Callahan county on the list as one of the best law enforcing counties in the State.

Yours very respectfully,
G. H. Corn.

Martha, four, was sick and had been forced to submit to parental authority in the matter of a dose of castor oil. However, the little stomach repudiated the offending medicine. After the wave of violent sickness had receded, Martha looked up at her father and remarked: "There's not going to be any more taking of castor oil in this house."

UNFREEZABLE LIQUID

A peculiar liquid has been discovered by an English engineer, who claims that because it is impossible for it to be frozen, it will supersede water for use in motor vehicle radiators in cold weather. Apart from its wonderful powers of resistance to cold, the liquid is a semi-lubricant and noncorrosive. Above all, it is very cheap.

Every Ounce of Power Needed

So does other work such as heavy hauling or plowing. But you can't get the most work from your mules and horses unless they are fed right.

What is it worth to you to have your horses or mules in the "pink" of condition. Their skins will be glossy, their eyes bright and they'll stand erect and firm. You get the extra power you need for heavy work.

Thousands of teamsters and farmers everywhere have found that Purina O-Molene feed actually puts horses in just such condition described to haul heavier loads, and it costs no more to feed.

Call up today and learn more about this specially prepared feed. Lots of people you know are using O-Molene feed.

NEW CROSS PLAINS REFINERY IN OPERATION

The plant of the Freeland Process Refining Co. started the first unit in actual operation last week. This unit has a capacity of 500 barrels daily when operated full time of 24 hours; but as track facilities are as yet incomplete and it is impossible to load the products for shipment at the plant, a policy of only part time operation is now in effect.

The supply of crude is being obtained from the Eakin lease east of town and is pumped to the plant through a two inch line.

The process used is decidedly different to old time methods and the gasoline produced is of the highest gravity practical for motor use, in fact it has all the power and mileage per gallon that is possible to use without injury to the motor of the average automobile.

The plant is located on the Halev farm just outside the city limits on the M. K. & T. railroad. It is said that with the addition of a few factories Texas could easily become an empire of herself and never need to go outside the boundry of the state for anything; and with the addition of more manufacturing enterprises the same could be true of the local community as almost everything that can be produced anywhere can and is to a great extent being produced in the territory adjacent to Cross Plains. The Freeland Refining Co. is only the first of a series of industries that should be encouraged to locate here where raw materials are plentiful and natural advantages far in advance of those found in most places.

Why not have a "made in Cross Plains" campaign and add many other items of daily use to the few now going on that bear the label, "Made in Cross Plains Texas."

The advertising gained is of untold value to every property owner and the employment offered of untold value to every wage worker and and the market, thus created of inestimable value of the farmer. You can now buy gasoline, kerosene and fuel oil "Made in Cross Plains," and here's hoping the community will get together to induce other and varied manufacturing interest to locate here.

May the establishment of the Freeland Refining Co. only mark the beginning of the dawn of a new era for Cross Plains.

Lost—While in Cross Plains last Trades Day, Mr. S. M. Strahan of Cottonwood, lost a pair of gold-rimmed eye glasses, and will appreciate the favor if the finder will leave same to the Review office. The lenses are specially made for Mr. Strahan's eyes, would likely be of no service to any one else and he is in need of them.

WHIPPED FOR LOAFING WHIPPED FOR WORKING LEAVES FOR MEXICO

An unusual experience was related by a traveler who camped near Byers, Texas, a few days ago.

Living in an East Texas town, he was out of work, and his family lacking the necessities of life when he was waited upon at night by a band of masked men and given a severe whipping and told to "find work and support your family."

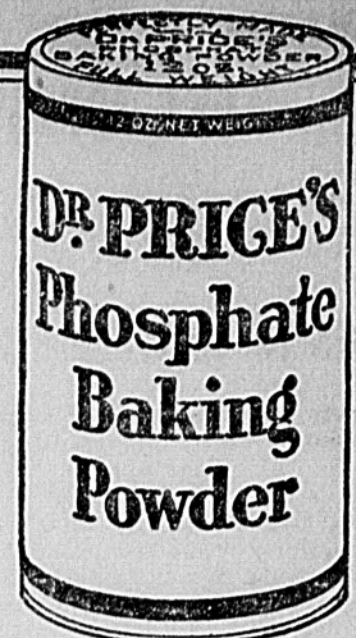

He said he went to Marshall and secured a position in the railroad shops, but the second night after he began work he was visited by a band of hoppers "who treated me worse than the first bunch" and he was warned to quit working there at once "under threat of death."

He says he is now on his way to Mexico where he is going to take out naturalization papers as a Mexican citizen.

Notice.
I will leave for school Sept. 14th and will be away until after Oct. 1st. Please call and settle your account if your name is on my books. Thanks.

"They well. Do not plan to wear jewelry, Lucie. I have a set to lend you for the occasion—no, not a mere loan for the sake of the occasion. They are very nice people; a little old-fashioned, but they were invited for the Princess de Lamballe, and she is a very nice girl."

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL Sunday School Lesson

By Rev. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.

LESSON FOR SEPTEMBER 10

TEACHING THE LAW OF GOD

LESSON TEXT—Neh. 8:1-8. GOLDEN TEXT—Teach me, O Lord, the way of thy statutes, and I shall keep it unto the end.—Ps. 119:33.

REPRESENTATIVE MATERIAL—Deut. 6:4-9; Acts 17:3-9; Col. 1:9-11.

PRIMARILY TOPIC—The Joy of Learning God's Word.

SECONDARY TOPIC—How a Whole City Heard God's Word.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Power of the Word of God.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Community Bible Study.

It will be of interest and profit to present this lesson as an ideal Sunday school class:

1. A Model Bible Class (vv. 1-10). The people gathered themselves together and "spoke unto Ezra to bring the book of the Law." It was not a matter of the teacher urging the class to come together, but the class with yearning hearts requesting the teacher to come with God's Word.

2. The Representative Assembly (v. 2). The class was made up of men, women and children. The men did not leave the church-going to the women. Neither were the children left at home with nurses or to play on the streets. God's Word should be taught to all classes, men, women and children.

3. An Appreciative Assembly (v. 3). They were attentive from morning to midday. So eager were they to know God's Word that they did not get tired although the lesson lasted for five or six hours. There was no pulling of watches in that class.

4. Due Reverence Shown God's Word (vv. 4, 5). When Ezra opened the Law all the people stood up. This did not get tired of respect for the holy book. The reason there is not proper reverence for the Bible is that people are not taught to believe it is God's Word. Reverence in the house of God will only be when the Bible is regarded as God's very words.

5. They Joined Heartily in the Prayer (v. 6). As Ezra led them in prayer the people joined heartily in saying "Amen! Amen!" bowing their faces to the ground.

6. A Model Bible Teacher (vv. 7, 8). He stood up where the People Could See Him (v. 5). The position and bearing of the teacher has much to do with the attention and interest of the class.

7. He Read Distinctly (v. 8). Teachers should take particular heed to this. Much Bible reading is greatly to the discredit of the Word and the reader.

8. Caused the People to Understand the Reading (v. 8). The supreme business of the teacher is to make the Word of God so plain that all, old and young, can understand.

9. The Impressions Made (vv. 9-15). The effect of teaching God's Word is most important. In this case it was very encouraging.

10. Conviction of Sin (v. 9). The Word of God brings conviction of sin (Acts 2:37). It is quick and powerful (Heb. 4:12). The way to get conviction of sin is to teach the Word of God, not by appealing to the emotions by telling death-bed stories. The people had real cause for sorrow—they were far from God. They not only had been greedy oppressing the poor, but they were perplexed through their mixed marriages.

11. Weeping Turned Into Joy (vv. 10-12). When sins have been forgiven and confessed God is in a way that His children to be sad. Continued mourning will not atone for the sins that are past. It unfits one for present tasks and dishonors a pardoning God. Besides, joy has a salutary effect upon one's entire being.

12. Shared Their Blessings With Others (vv. 10-12). Christianity is not having a good time alone; it is sharing one's prosperity with others. True joy manifests itself in giving to others. His religion goes out to minister to the poor (Jas. 1:27).

13. The People Obeyed (vv. 13-18). In their acquaintance with the Scriptures they found that the Feast of Tabernacles had been long neglected. As soon as they understood the Scriptures they went forth to do as they had been told. They went to work and kept this sacred feast in a way that it had not been kept since the days of Joshua (v. 17). If the Scripture were read and made plain many things could be found which have not been complied with. In the keeping of this feast their pilgrim character and bringing to their remembrance the days of their wilderness journey.

14. The Eyes of Others. It is the eyes of other people that ruin us. If all but myself were blind, I should neither want a fine house nor fine furniture.—Franklin.

Our Faults. We confess small faults, in order to insinuate that we have no great ones.—Rochefoucauld.

Man. Man is a reasoning rather than a reasonable animal.—Alexander D. Hamilton.

Just a Little Smile

"If you feel that way, why did you propose to the woman?"

"I didn't. She proposed to me."

"But you could have refused her."

"No, I couldn't. She said, 'Will you marry me? Have you any objection? so whether I'd said 'Yes' or 'No' she'd had me either way.'"

"Why, you shouldn't have answered her."

"I didn't, so she said 'Silence gives consent,' and that settled it."

More Artistic. "The feminine vice is now being heard in politics," said the positive woman.

"I'm glad of it," replied Senator Sorghum. "The effect is more artistic when the cheers at a mass meeting have the benefit of sopranos in bringing out the harmony."

Atmosphere. "How was the movie?"

"A drinking scene was quite realistic."

"The actors were probably drinking ginger ale."

"Maybe so, but I lost none of the effect. A man sitting behind me had a hooch-laden breath."

No Escape From It. "Don't you think fatalism is silly?" she asked. "I can't think there is anything in the theory that what is to be will be."

"There may be something in it," he replied. "I know whenever I take one of the girls from the office to lunch somebody who knows my wife will be there."

After a man's sweetheart has stepped on his foot he is apt to lose the notion she is a fairy.

Musings of a Motor Cop. Sweet Hortense has gone too far in debt. It's plainly seen. While she's buying for her car she can't buy gasoline.

Improving. "You had a narrow escape from that motorcar, my friend."

"I did, indeed," replied the pedestrian as he took a tape measure out of his pocket.

"What are you going to do?"

"I'm going to measure the distance I jumped. I believe I exceeded my previous record fully two feet."

Popular Then. "How does Mr. Graboin stand in this community?"

"When our citizens are raising money for some more or less worthy cause Mr. Graboin's other name is the 'Well Beloved.'"

Profits Commensurate. Lady—I should think you'd be ashamed to lend such an idle and unprofitable life.

Prayed Him (as he tickled a good hand)—Idle it may be, but, consider! de capital invested, de profits is purty good.

Evidence of Her Cleverness. He—Every man likes to hear a clever woman talk.

She—Yes, the concealed things! It's because she always talks to him about himself.

Natural Gift. Miss Catt—What makes you think Miss Nipp—Because she is always trying to put people in their proper places.

Nature Does Nothing in Vain. The Cynic—if you girls have to hide your ears, what's the good of having ears?

The Flapper—Why, if we had no ears, where would we hang our earrings?

Deterrence. "Tom," said his wife, "I don't believe you smoked one of those cigars I gave you on your birthday."

"That's right, my dear," he replied. "I'm going to keep them until our Johnny wants to learn to smoke."

Backache Is a Warning!

Those agonizing twinges across the small of the back, that dull, throbbing backache may mean serious kidney weakness—serious, if neglected, for it may lead to gravel, stone in the kidneys, bladder inflammation, dropsy or fatal Bright's disease. If you are suffering with a bad back, have dizzy spells, headaches, nervous, despondent attacks or disordered kidney action, heed Nature's warning. Get after the cause. Doan's Kidney Pills have helped thousands who they should help you. Ask your neighbor!

A Texas Case

D. W. Graves, shoe repairer, 623 E. 10th St., Dallas, Tex., says: "I was troubled with a heavy dull ache in the small of my back and if I sat long my back became lame and stiff. It was hard for me to get up. My kidneys acted queerly. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me. I certainly felt splendid after using Doan's."

FORD WILL CLOSE ALL PLANTS SEPTEMBER 16

Henry Ford last week made one of the great strategic movements that have come to be associated with his career as a manufacturer. Wishing to deliver a body blow at the steel trust and the coal profiteers, he announced that Sept. 16 all of his plants will close down, this will throw out of employment 80,000 men in Detroit and more than 2,000 - 000 others in industries that furnish him with supplies.

More than 900 telegrams were sent out by Ford notifying the concerns that have been furnishing him with raw and partly manufactured materials to cease their shipments. The steel trust, as it happened, notified him Saturday that the price of steel on $1.40 bars would at once be increased to $1.60, and that the price would go to $2 at a date near in the future.

"I told them that I wanted no steel," said Ford.

"I am going to shut down," said Ford, "because I will not pay graft to get coal, nor will I pay an excessive price for steel. I could get coal if I were willing to pay graft. Coal is offered to me every day at an excessive price. I had a chance to buy 60,000 tons yesterday at $6 a ton. Four dollars and a half a ton is a good price for coal and that is all I will pay."

"I will not be a party to profiteering. That is why I am going to shut down until coal and steel profiteering are over. Tolerate such conditions and they will continue indefinitely. There is no good reason why such conditions should exist at all. It is all a conspiracy to fleece the public. I believe both strikes—the railway and the coal strikes—are conspiracies between Wall Street and the labor unions. I do not mean that union working men as a class are conspiring, but I do mean that their leaders are. I believe labor union leaders are working in close co-operation with the railways and mine owners."

Ford's move Saturday will immediately throw out of work more than 2,000,000 men. In Detroit it will stop the flow of $3,800,000 in weekly wages that are paid in the Ford plants. Throughout the nation it will almost double the number of men that are estimated to be out of employment.

"I hated to do this," said Ford, "but it had to be done. I would have preferred to keep going. I like to see men employed and happy. But there is a price that I will not pay to keep going and that is graft. I will not pay graft to get coal."

Somebody told Ford that Herbert Hoover had challenged his statement that coal could be bought if one were willing to pay the price.

"Hoover is always more ready to challenge a statement than he is to investigate the truth of it."

"Hoover does not know that brokers are offering coal at fancy prices, he is one of the few who do not know it. Hoover says he wants to prevent profiteering in coal. Well, if he wants to prevent it, why doesn't he do it instead of talking about it?"

Ford is really determined, among other things, to bring both the railway and the coal strike to a focus. Believing that both strikes are conspiracies against the public, he apparently is of the opinion that if he takes the lead in bringing business to a standstill that the conspirators will be compelled to call off the strikes."

Mr. O. V. Goldrick of Tulsa, Okla., is a Cross Plains visitor this week. Mr. Goldrick is an official of the Pennant Oil and Gas Co. who own the Albin lease east of town and are part owners of the well known Weston lease adjoining, as well as several properties in the Cross Cut district.

WHY KRYPTOKS?

You should learn why at once, if you require glasses of different "strength" for reading and viewing distant objects.

Here are a few reasons:

Because KRYPTOKS are in appearance single, solid lenses.

Because they possess no lines of separation, no segments and no cement.

Because there is no chance for them to drop apart or collect dirt in creases.

Because they are as graceful on the face as any single vision eyeglasses.

Because they represent the highest step yet reached in the development of bifocal lenses.

Come in and get more reasons.

SCIENCE OF GRAMMAR

After tracing very briefly the fall of grammar in Canada, particularly in Ontario, Professor Jones of Ontario college admitted that in the past the teaching of grammar had been too formal, that too much time had been spent on useless distinctions, and that the subject had been cursed with a bewildering terminology; but he contended that a reasonable presentation of grammar was a highly useful and quite essential subject in both elementary and secondary education. The task of simplifying the presentation of grammar has been made much easier by the recommendations of the American and English committees on uniform nomenclature. The pupil should now learn a terminology that is not only accepted in all parts of the country in connection with English grammar, but is equally useful for his study of foreign languages. The main argument on behalf of grammar in its modern, simplified form is that it is thoroughly useful, both in developing correct speech and in written composition. The various studies made of the errors of school children prove that, while the kinds of error are not very numerous, the grammatical knowledge necessary for the correction of such errors is just what the defenders of a reasonable course in grammar have been advocating.

The comforts of 1921 are the luxuries of 1870. What household of that time could obtain the devices which are the common indispensable equipment of our day? Our young men and maidens who demand a standard of living which the youth of 1870 had never thought of may be distressing to old-fashioned people, but they are obeying natural forces. The Victorians themselves were not content with what satisfied the Eighteenth century. That all these changes have made for happiness, we may feel no compulsion to believe. But there is nothing in the past to justify us in expecting that the young people of the present will be content with what satisfied us in our youth. They may be going on the road to the true golden age; they may have chosen the primrose path which leads to the everlasting bonfire. What is certain is that they will not stand still.

It is the long lesson of the history of warfare that the first power to use effectively a new invention wins its way. To refuse to make use of the material means which others utilize is suicidal. This is an ugly prospect; and any bond or pledge mutually agreed upon gives an advantage to the least scrupulous. We know now that treaties may be worthless. All that can be done is to study the means of counteraction; as trench warfare was invented to parry gas, and masks to parry gas, and there must be the utmost activity in soundings all possible models of attack, and the sharpest wits must be set to invent the needful protection, writes Flinders Petrie in the Yale Review. Such preparation will be a cheap insurance to a nation.

Numismatists have been gladdened by the news that a single gold franc has been struck as the monetary unit which is the basis of all financial transactions of the League of Nations. It is a piece of gold about one-third the size of an English farthing, with the inscription on one side, "S. des N. (Societe des Nations) 1921"; and on the other "1 franc or." In American currency it is equal to 0.1925 dollar. Apart from there being only one gold franc, the remarkable thing about it is the shape, which is octagonal, and maybe it will act as a protest against the continued use of round coins, which does not enable one, say, to tell the difference by feeling between a six-pence and a half-sovereign.

Another reason why so many men do not accept the advice of the British poet and retire at fifty and pursue a hobby, they find themselves at sixty under the compulsion of pursuing an old gray mule in fresh furrows, with the mule always a plow-length in the lead.

Acknowledging the receipt of a gun from Washington with which to cope with mail robbers, a postmaster wrote back and asked, "How far shall I go with them?" More government printing expense, for a new zoning system.

Scientists say that this old world of ours hasn't varied more than a second or two since recorded time, in making its annual trip around the sun. Considering the trouble and turmoil it has carried along, the record is remarkable.

Before being killed to death over a reduction of $185,000,000 in the public debt in December consider the fact that there are $23,619,085,725 remaining unpaid.

A dispatch says Spanish troops have occupied Tauriat Rihl and Tauriatlag while other troops established positions at Yebel Azernum and Alngorra. Isn't that just like war?

NEW SHALLOW GASSEY SOUTH OF CROSS PLAINS

Leonard et al Prater No. 1, eight miles due south of Cross Plains in the Cross Cut country came in Monday night for a gas flow variously estimated at from 5,000,000 to 8,000,000 from a depth of only 1400 feet. As the gas is coming from a 12-1/2 inch hole it is hard to estimate the exact flow, but it is said to be sufficient to lift a nail keg 15 feet when placed over the casing, and seems to be showing for a steady increase as the hours go by. There is now some 600 feet of open hole and a string of 10 inch casing is being set. It is understood that the gas will be marketed through the gas line of T. B. Sick and the Phillips Petroleum Co. near by and no further drilling done on this well until conditions change with regards to the price of oil, when it is likely the well will be deepened in search of the oil bearing strata a little further down.

There now seems no question that this is the same pay sand as the Gillett & Magness well at Cross Cut, and as this well is almost in a due line between the Gillett & Magness and the Star No. 1, of A. G. Crabb et al, which encountered 10,000,000 feet of gas at 1500 feet, it proves the theory that this sand is continuous for the entire distance of over three miles between the two wells, the structure rising to the east which accounts for the slight difference in depth.

The greatest importance of the discovery lies in the extent of territory proven for shallow pay, outlining a structure three miles long and from a mile to a mile and a half wide in a northeast-southwest direction as another vast reservoir of oil and gas, made especially attractive to oil men by its shallow depth.
