The Current will be supplied from the Abilene plant through these lines to all local consumers. ROAD TO CROSS CUT IN GOOD CONDITION

Traffic from Cross Plains to the Cross Cut field is heavy, due to the fact that this is the point of supply for the field, yet the roads are in fair condition and will be maintained. The Chamber of Commerce is alive to the situation and will see to it that the roads are kept in order. Much work has been done on the road recently and more will be done as it is required. The main travel in and out of this new field is over this road and will continue to be, so it must and will be kept in good condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lawrence and children of Wichita Falls are visiting Mrs. Lawrence mother, Mrs. Alice Henderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson, entertained a number of Waco friends Tuesday evening.

The City Drug Store

The Newton No. 1, of the Canyon Oil & Gas Co. et al, has held the major portion of the spotlight in the Cross Cut section the past week. The top of the pay was reached at 1345 feet on Friday of last week, the well immediately showing a much larger volume of gas than anything so far discovered in that section. Casing was set Saturday and flow lines and production equipment installed and drilling completed late Saturday night the well flowing by heads as this work was being done. First estimates placed initial production at 100 to 150 barrels but water trouble has prevented an actual gauge being made. It was announced late Tuesday that the water trouble had been overcome without injury to the well and an actual gauge can doubtless soon be had. This well is located only a short distance east of the New Domain Oil Co. recent completion on the same farm and its showing for several times the amount of that wells production is greatly adding to the confidence of operators in that particular locality.

It is now a growing belief that there is a narrow fault in the formation between the Wright No. 1, and this new well which would reasonably account for the hard structure and small production of the New Domain well situated almost directly between these other producers.

F. W. Stone & Co. Triplet 1, have completed repairing their rig which was pulled in early last week during a fishing job and are reported to have succeeded in pulling the string of pipe which caused the damage. Prospects are now good for this well to get going again in the next few days and its completion should come within the current week.

McDonough No. 3, of Crabb & McNeel and Tom Bryant was drilling at 1100 feet on Wednesday of this week and should reach the pay Saturday or Monday. This will perhaps be the next completion in the field.

Sindorf Bros. test on the Gaines tract are reported to be straight reaming at 330 feet having encountered very difficult formations thus far in this well. Taken as a whole the new field is quiet this week with many operators apparently waiting the outcome of the additional wells now drilling before beginning actual work on locations already made.

The Pioneer field is also quiet and while some five or six wells are drilling in the north extension the general policy seems to favor careful attention to the pumping of that section's production through the wells already drilled rather than crowd the output with closer drilling.

Taken as a whole the week in the local fields shows very satisfactory progress; developments being pursued on a sound business basis without any blare of trumpets; fireworks or sensations which makes it seem quiet on the surface but sufficient actual work is going on to prove that sensations are not essential to the industry.

Mr. and Mrs. Durringer, Buster, Gerald and Miss Mary Robertson enjoyed and out on the Bayou the first of the week.

BUYING AT HOME FOSTERS GROWTH OF COMMUNITY

(DeLeon Free Press)

Trading at home works greater and more important changes in any community than those discernable on the surface. The stranger in the community judges the civic pride and progressiveness of the community by the outstanding features of civic improvement.

Well kept streets contrasted with muddy, filthy passageways, clean buildings balanced against dirty, tumbled-down woe-begone structures; bright, healthy, wide awake children instead of sorrowful, shaggy, neglected waifs; these are the things that bring pride home to the stranger.

The really important factors growing out of trading at home are the influences which progress and pride in the community work upon the people themselves, molding character by environment. There is no getting away from the fact that environment is a power over human nature. The things that people see and hear through life are the things they will do and sav.

Dr. and Mrs. Griegs of Baird were recent visitors at the home of Will McGowen.

A heavy rain fell here Wednesday with some hail.

Mr. Weller of the Ford Motor Co. branch at Dallas, was in Cross Plains this week installing an up-to-date accounting system for the Cross Plains Motor Co.

Repair work was started this week on the Geo. Cunningham brick building which was recently damaged by fire; work will be rushed to early completion.

It takes you into the wild places of the West that still are near a railroad and introduces you to the romance, intrigue and adventure that there abound. Whether in mining camp, town, on a cattle ranch or among the mysteries of desert and the wonders of mountains, it keeps moving at a high rate of speed.

So much happens in a brief space of time that the author has little opportunity for musing. However, aside from telling a stirring tale, he does contrive to get in much humor, character and a tender love story.

CROSS CUT HEN ENTERS THE RING

Recently much has been said about the hen that has produced the "biggest egg", so a Cross Cut hen owned by Gus Gafford decided to give other hens something to think about; she left an egg in her nest that measures eight inches long and six and seven-eighths the short way (around). If there are any doubts—see Mr. Gafford, he has the egg—and the hen.

When Your Baby Is Constipated Give Teethina

Constipation is a very common affection that many babies suffer from and if not corrected will lead to more serious troubles. Teethina is very efficient in such cases, removing the cause and insuring healthy and regular habits. In this connection Mrs. C. C. Walters, Bradley Junction, Fla., relates an interesting experience with her baby. Says Mrs. Walters: "My baby was constipated all the time and her bowels never moved without the aid of suppositories until I gave her Teethina. She is now perfectly well and never has any more trouble that way."

If Mrs. Walters had begun giving her baby Teethina from the first she would have saved many hours of anxious care and the baby much distress.

Teethina is sold by all druggists, or send 30c to the Moffett Laboratories, Columbus, Ga., and get a package of Teethina and a wonderful free booklet about Baby.—Advertisement.

"Future Inventions"

Steinmetz, Electrical Wizard, in the Role of Prophet

BY JOHN DICKINSON SHERMAN

WHY use the word "impossible?" This comment by Dr. Charles P. Steinmetz on the general subject of scientific inventions of the future and the economic civilization of the world a hundred years from now is a whole volume of prophecy in itself.

And Steinmetz, in the role of prophet is even more interesting than in his well-known part of electrical wizard. For he is no dreamer like Edward Bellamy, nor is he a fictionist like H. G. Wells. On the contrary, he is a hard-boiled scientist and electrical engineer, whose motto is "efficiency," whose name is joined in the scientific world with those of Edison and Marconi.

Steinmetz' elimination of "impossible" from the vocabulary of the scientist is startling, because it practically says that phenomenal expansion of the use of electrical current in the last generation is only a start.

For example, Edison was the guest of honor at a recent banquet in New York in celebration of electricity's fortieth year in the commercial field. By way of an object lesson Edison's first commercial electric incandescent light was lighted. It was of fifteen candle power. Then Edison's latest lamp development of 60,000 candle power was turned on. During the banquet it was incidentally stated that in New York state alone $154,830,000 is invested in Edison interests, as compared to the original capital of $78,000.

In brief, the first central generating station in this country forty years ago had a capacity of 600 kilowatts, 60 customers, and a maximum transmission of twelve miles. There are now approximately 6,000 plants, generating 14,000,000 kilowatts and serving 10,000,000 direct customers, with a transmission of 250 miles.

But this electrical expansion is only a straw showing what the wind blows. If you are more than fifty years of age you were born in a different world from this. I myself was out of college when I used the first telephone installed in a residence in Chicago and heard the first conversation between New York and Chicago. I saw the first motion picture thrown on the screen, I rode in one of the first automobiles, and there are the phonograph, X-ray, airplane, wireless, radium, and so on. In less than a lifetime Americans have built up the greatest mechanical nation on earth.

It was once thought that with the close of the Nineteenth century there was nothing left to invent. Now we know that our knowledge of natural forces was crudely elementary. Now we know enough to understand that the age of scientific marvels has just arrived. The man born now will at fifty be living in a world as different from this as this is different from the world into which his father was born. An American clearing house of all the sciences is the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Its existence means that today the accumulated fund of scientific knowledge is so vast that a one-man basis, and that co-operation among many workers is of necessity the motto of the day—co-operation not only among different branches of the same science, but among different sciences.

Science now recognizes as the greatest single work being done today the investigation of the structure and nature of matter. It pools the interests of the physicist, chemist and astronomer so completely that it has been set apart under the specific name of "atomic physics" as a common meeting ground of these sciences.

"Atomic physics" contains things hard for Mr. Evermann to understand. But this may be said: There used to be eighty or ninety "elements," each composed of "atoms" different from those in the other elements. Now we have decided that there are just two "ultimate particles," the "electron" and the "proton," and that matter consists of these two, grouped in various ways and numbers to form the various atoms. In short, the different elements, instead of being fundamentally different, are fundamentally alike, the difference among them being in the number and arrangement of the electrons and protons in their atoms. These electrons and protons are incredibly minute.

These electrons and protons have been found to be the fundamental units of both matter and electricity. Grouped, at rest an stable they are matter. Free and ungrouped they are static charges of electricity. Thus matter and electricity are one and the same thing, in different forms and under different conditions.

Over this discovery there is great excitement in the scientific world. The scientists hold that in atomic physics is the future of civilization. They hope to disrupt the atom with large conversion into free energy. They say that a plant of energy on this basis, concentrated across the Atlantic at full speed, so, when the coal and the oil are used up we shall have a new energy to keep us going, and to perform new wonders for us.

Steinmetz, being a hard-boiled scientist, makes most of his predictions along less sensational lines. He says it is a crime to burn coal for heat without saving its mechanical and electrical energy, and that soon all coal will be burned at the mouth of the mine, and its energy transmitted in the shape of electricity. The same is true of oil and gas. So, also, we have scarcely begun to utilize our hydro-electric power.

"I can see," says Steinmetz, "the whole country using electric energy supplied to it by a network of inter-connected generating stations like a railroad system, so that the widest possible economic distribution may be obtained."

Then, when everything is electrified there will be no smoke in the cities, densest population in the world. At the moment it should come to approximately 14,000,000. If New York state were as densely populated it would have nearly 60,000,000 inhabitants, while the United States would on the same basis have 140,000,000.—Exchange.

and no conflagrations. The heating and cooling and ventilation, of buildings will be done automatically by electricity, he says.

"Means may, and perhaps will, be developed," he says, "to send out energy broadcast by wireless. Just as we now broadcast speech, and to pick up this energy anywhere. This will be dependent on our ability to prevent waste of the energy when not being used. At present, radio waves are absorbed in space—as they travel outward from the generating source. Electricity is always at our service at the end of a wire. The generating apparatus keeps on going, but the current is not used until the consumer closes the switch. The energy, however, is not wasted. Once we are able to work out a similar system for wireless we can have broadcasting stations constantly supplying energy for every need, ready to be picked up as occasion requires it."

"Now as to atomic energy. I may disagree with the form of the present theories, but the underlying fact of the great store of atomic energy of radioactive substances is undeniable. Were we able—and if we shall be able—to harness this energy, we should have a force beyond anything known before in terms of power. Now, the discovery of how to utilize this energy may come at almost any time, or it may never come if there are inherent reasons why the energy can be given off only at one definite rate, never faster or slower."

But don't think for a moment that Steinmetz, just because his hypotheses along readily understandable lines, has no imagination. The other day, in a public address in New York, he made a prophecy like this: "The future of the human race rests with the 'biological engineer,' who may enable the world to support many times its present population by producing 'energy corps' after coal gives out, and by feeding the human race directly on nitrogen-fixing micro-organisms."

The bacteria and other microscopic plants and animals take the nitrogen from the air and land it over to plants, which hand it over to cattle or furnish it directly to man in the form of seeds. There is tremendous waste in each of these steps. It may be possible for the biological engineer, he said, to cross and re-cross bacteria and other nitrogen producers until he has produced a strain which may be used directly as food.

And with this prophecy from Steinmetz who can doubt that a new age of marvels is upon us?

UNUSUAL NUMBER OF "LEGISLATIVE AGENTS" PRESENT DURING LAST SESSION.

WORD IS TERM OF REPROACH

Some Dangerous Lobbyists, but There is No Reason Why Name Should Be Repeached—Many Citizens Invited to Committee Rooms to Give Views

By EDWARD B. CLARK

Washington.—A member of congress holding representative office for 20 years and who has just left Capitol Hill to take on a government job of another kind has expressed regret because of the increasing number of "corrupt" lobbyists and a lack of courage among members of congress.

The retiring member also has said "The legislator of other days was, have been told, besieged by the lobbyists of great interests. I never met them. We all know, however, that the legislator of today can scarce turn about without being confronted with the legislative representatives of a bewildering variety of interests, large and small."

Observations covering 20 years of congressional doings stabilize the belief of the writer of this article that the lobbyist never is absent from Capitol Hill. Just how it happened that the retiring representative never happens to meet any lobbyists of other days is hard to understand, for the lobbyist of other days were just as much in evidence as the lobbyists of present days.

Many Legislative Agents.

During the winter just ending there was an unusual number of legislative agents in evidence in the corridors of the capitol. The fact that congress was divided into blocs representing different phases of legislative endeavor accounts for the large number of lobbyists who were attempting to do work at the old stand. In other sessions the lobbyists have been here and have been as eloquent and as seductive as they could be in their statements of the benefits of looking at the thing this way or that way.

In the olden days the charge of lobbying almost always was laid against what are called the great interests. Now the charge of lobbying is laid largely against those elements of the communities who are fighting with interests, of course, are the big business interests of the country, as different entailed from the various groups which are supposed to represent wholly the desires of those whose interests are said to be jeopardized by the manipulation of big concerns.

So far as lobbying is concerned, there is little to choose between the activities of the big interests, the little interests, labor, agriculture, or any other element of worker, producer, manufacturer, importer or banker.

The Dangerous Lobbyist.

The word lobbyist has come to be a term of reproach. Of course, its origin is made plain on the face of the word. Lobbyists are men who work in the lobby. Now, there is no reason why the word should be reproachful in its nature. Congress invites men and women to come to Washington to say their say in the committee rooms, in order that the committee members may get the country's views pro and con on contemplated legislation. All who come to Washington thus to give their testimony are called lobbyists.

There are lobbyists, however, who do not appear before committees, but who depend for results on personal persuasion with the members, on old friendships, and at times on the fact that they have been themselves members of either house of congress. This kind of lobbying is the most dangerous kind, because the lobbyist frequently asks the members of congress to vote this way or that way on the ground of friendship and not on the ground of the good of the country.

When one of the great tariff bills was being framed in the ways and means committee in the house of representatives some years ago, there was a lobbyist on hand who was the proprietor of a great manufacturing concern. He had been a member of congress and, personally, a popular one. Former members of congress are granted the right by courtesy to appear on the floor of congresses of which they are not members. This particular lobbyist stood at the door of the ways and means committee for days buttonholing members as they came in and as they went out, urging on them his own views of a certain tariff schedule.

At another time in that somewhat elder day, a former member of congress appeared on Capitol Hill to care for the interests of a certain organization which was interested in legislation. He personally was popular and he had the run of the place. It became known that he was receiving a large fee for his work, a fee which probably never would have been paid him if it were not known that he once had been a member of congress, and that, therefore, he had a hold on friendships which other men did not have.

FOUR ISSUES CONSTITUTE A MONTH
CROSS PLAINS, TEXAS

Just at this time there is much talk pro and con in respect to the location of the West Texas Tech College. Cross Plains would be glad to have such an institution of learning, but we could not reasonably expect to obtain it as this is near the center of the state, and the bill as passed by the legislature stipulated that it should be in West Texas. However some of our neighboring towns are making "a pull" and perhaps they think they are entitled to win it, but it is our candid opinion that the school will not be located south of the T. & P. railroad, nor east of Sweetwater.

The people on the western plains are entitled to have this school and it would not be fair to them to place it in this section of the state where it would still be hundreds of miles from some of them and would be only small advantage to a great portion of the people for which it was designed to help.

As a college created for the benefit of West Texas, we are willing that it should be located there where it will be of the most advantage to all West Texas. Naturally any town would be fortunate in securing the location of such an institution, but a number of towns are making a strong fight for the college when they should not be considered as they so geographically situated to be out of the range. Let West Texas have what is rightfully hers to enjoy.

An exchange claims to have located the happiest man on earth. He lives in Georgia, has six fiddles, ten children, thirteen hounds, a deaf and dumb wife, and a moonshine still that has never been located.

He may be happy under those conditions and surroundings, but his poor wife certainly deserves sympathy. It is probably fortunate for her that she is deaf. Imagine the vaciferous confusion when all ten children and thirteen dogs get hungry and the "happy" man gets out his six fiddles! The only representatives of quietude are the "still" and the dumb wife.

If the still is ever located and wife gets her tongue to frame the words she has (no doubt) so long wanted to speak—there will be an unhappy man in Georgia.

Dr. Fred Cook, arctic explorer had a cold time on his northern expedition, but things are warming up for him now, and it is likely that he will have a hot time of it before the federal government gets through with him, as he is charged with fraudulent use of the mails.

It is reported that a man in San Francisco married a woman detective. He had certainly better watch his step. The average wife can detect enough on their husbands.

Thru the courtesy of Geo. B. Scott, the editor had the pleasure of seeing the Cross Cut oil field Sunday afternoon. It was a real treat as it was entirely new to him. Quite a number of Cross Plains people were there to inspect the field. It is intensely interesting, especially to one who is not familiar with the operation in oil field. Interest in the new field is increasing in magnitude and the future looks promising.

Its time to paint, plant and clean up.

If you think you have lived an exemplary life; if you think that you deserve credit for the life you have lived before the world, you may have another think coming when you read about Mr. John Sures of Brady who is 88 years of age. He says,

"I never swore an oath in my life I never was drunk in my life, never played a game of cards or dominoes, never danced, and if ever I told a person a lie I don't remember it."

I have been a strict church member for sixty years. I never had a case in court. I owe no man a cent, and if I've an enemy in the world I don't know it."

Uncle Sam, in a booklet defines a "tightwad" as a man who saves 60 cents out of every dollar. If that holds good, there are very few tightwads, as there are very few who save that much. A tightwad is just a tightwad regardless of how much he saves.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Announcement of Interest to

MILLIONS OF FAMILIES

"I Will Build A Car For The Multitude"

Said Henry Ford in 1903—Read how the fulfillment of that prophecy is now made possible through the

Ford Weekly Service Plan

For many years it has been Henry Ford's personal ambition to make the Ford the universal family car--to put it within the reach of the millions of people who have never been privileged to enjoy the benefits of motor car ownership.

During the past fifteen years over 7,500,000 Fords have been placed in the hands of retail customers--more than a million and a half of them within the past twelve months--and yet there are still millions of families who are hopefully looking forward to the day when they can own a Ford.

And now the way is open.

Under the terms of this plan you can select your Ford Car set aside a small amount each week and you will be surprised how soon you will own it. In the meantime your money will be safely deposited to your credit in one of the local banks where it will draw interest.

Think it over. Five dollars will start an account. The whole family can participate in it--father, mother, brothers and sisters each doing a little.

Why not Start today. Stop in and talk it over with your local Ford dealer. He will be glad to fully explain the details of the plan and help you get started toward the ownership of a Ford car.

OIL PROMOTERS FILCH $100,000,000

POSTMASTER GENERAL SAYS DEPARTMENT TO TAKE DRAS-TIC ACTION

WILL NOW ENFORCE LAWS

Plan is to Protect Public From Fraudulent Stock Schemes and Mail Violations.

Washington.—Oil stock promoters operating in the State of Texas during the last five years have filched more than $100,000,000 from the public.

Postmaster General New has been advised by John H. Edwards, solicitor of the Postoffice Department, and Chief Postal Inspector Simmons, who are in Fort Worth co-operating with the Department of Justice in the prosecution of mail fraud cases involving oil promoters.

In making public the report, the Postmaster General also declared the Postoffice Department intended to "move in the most vigorous and persistent manner possible for the enforcement of both the criminal law and the fraud order statutes against the fraudulent use of the mails not only in the sale of fraudulent oil stocks but in all other cases involving fraud in the mails."

Mr. New said the Government had been appealed to "by disillusioned stockholders to stop the oil stock frauds" after "wildcat promoters" had escaped prosecution by State authorities.

"More than $100,000,000 is the estimate placed by postoffice inspectors from the amount of money filched from the public during the last five years by oil stock promoters operating in the State of Texas. This statement challenges the attention of the country and demands speedy and certain action.

"No doubt some of these companies were started by men who hoped to strike oil and make money from production, but in practically every case the promoters laid their plans to profit from the stock selling regardless of the result of field operations. Seldom was it that a promoter invested any money of his own."

London.—A new menace to peace hangs over Europe. The Polish population, inflamed against Russia because of the execution of Vicar General Constantine Budkevich in Moscow, is demanding intervention by the Warsaw Government.

The situation became serious when 100,000 angry Poles gathered in front of the Soviet legation in Warsaw and attempted to storm it. The police, with great difficulty, succeeded in breaking up the mob.

The leaders adjourned to a nearby park and passed a resolution protesting against the execution and asking the Government to intervene in behalf of the thirteen Roman Catholic prelates who are now held in jail.

Premier Skokorski, who received a delegation with the resolution, tried to placate the people by giving them the assurance that Poles were safe in Russia.

It is feared that the hatred of Russia by the populace may become so strong that Premier Skokorski may be forced to take drastic action, with war looming as a possibility.

Poland, ever since she withdrew from Russia and organized herself into a Republic, has been in fear that Russia might some day try to reconquer her. For this reason a large army, costing far more than the Government can afford, has been maintained.

FRANCE WILLING TO SCRAP FLEET

Favors New Armament Session With Actual Scrapping of Big Navies of World as Object

Paris.—The president of the Naval Committee of the French Senate, Gustave De Kerguezec, in a statement recently advocated the summoning of a further naval armament conference which would have for its object the actual scrapping of the big navies of the world.

"I guarantee, in the name of the French Parliament," he declared, "that France will suppress her entire fleet if the other powers will do likewise."

M. De Kerguezec is probably the best informed man on naval affairs in either house of Parliament. For six years preceding 1921 he was a member of the Chamber of Deputies and served on the committee directing the naval budget. In his statement he said:

"What we are coming to is another Washington treaty which will make an honest revision of naval armaments."

"What I would propose is a new conference for scrapping the big navies. If the world does not look out it will destroy itself totally in a new war."

"People insist on ignoring the lessons drawn from the recent war, but it must be pointed out that in the comparatively recent history of humanity the wars were between clans, then between countries, then nations and now they are between continents."

"And each day I am informed of more dreadful arms of warfare, which will lead not only to the re-making of the national maps but the extinction of untold millions of combatants and civilians alike."

"Let me explain my personal attitude while in the Chamber. In March, 1916, I started a campaign for the abandonment of capital ships. My argument was that Republican France did not wish to carry war to any foreign soil and therefore she would not need big armored vessels; so I demanded that the Chamber discontinue the construction of the five superdreadnaughts of the Normandie type and this was done."

"Our policy as laid down then was the same as now—a defensive fleet, not an offensive one."

"It will thus be seen that, long before the Washington conference, the French Parliament had adopted a pacific attitude. So it was with astonishment that we saw our members in the Washington conference demanding capital ships."

ROADS ASK AID IN RELIEVING TRAFFIC

$1,540,000,000 For New Terminals, Tracks and Cars Are Approved.

New York.—The American Railway Association approved the expenditure by its members of $1,540,000,000 for equipment, the biggest aggregate railroad budget ever recorded, then issued a Nation-wide appeal for co-operation in helping the roads through the heaviest transportation era in history.

Basic estimates on the unprecedented tonnage hauled in recent months, the association's experts forecast the smashing of all records in 1923, with at least thirteen weeks when car loadings will exceed 1,000,000 a week, and an estimated high mark of 1,080,000 cars predicted for the week of next Oct. 20, at the height of the fall crop movement.

Realizing that, with existing facilities, they were unprepared for such a year, the railroads contracted for $400,000,000 worth of new supplies in 1922 and $1,100,000,000 more for 1923. They also have speeded up shop repairs, reconstruction and maintenance of way departments to the point where they promise by fall to reduce the transportation of railroad coal and supplies to the minimum and to have a high percentage of rolling stock available for their customers.

Public assistance to help early shipping and storing of all freights, including coal, ore and construction materials that usually interfere with the fall movement of crops, was asked by the conference.

Memorial Sanatorium Accepted. Austin, Texas.—The building board of the American Legion Memorial Sanatorium at Kerrville has accepted from the contractors five completed buildings, which include infirmary, nurses' home, dormitory for the help and two two-story dormitories, also heating mains, pumps and other features. All buildings have now been taken over except the old administration building, which is being converted into a dining hall and kitchen.

PISTOL SHOT ENDS BUTCHKAVITCH LIFE

Former Patriarch Not to Be Allowed to Leave Russia—Faces Trial

London.—Confirmation of the execution by the Soviet authorities of Constantine Butchkavitch, vicar general of the Roman Catholic Church in Russia, is contained in a dispatch received from the Rosta Agency, the official Bolshevik news organization.

Monsignor Butchkavitch, whose death was ordered by the Russian Soviet Government, has been executed. He was taken to the cellar beneath the Cheka Building, according to advices reaching here, and made to stand with his executioner behind him. He was shot with a revolver through the back of the head.

While efforts were being made to ascertain what happened after the execution, the only information thus far volunteered is that the body was removed to an unrevealed spot.

From Catholic sources it is learned that no reply has been made by the Russian Government to the request of the Roman Catholics of Moscow for permission to bury the vicar general in accordance with the rites of the church.

A correspondent says it is reported by a reliable Moscow source that America has unofficially requested the Soviet Government to allow the Most Rev. Dr. Tikhon, former patriarch of all Russian and Metropolitan of Moscow, but now under arrest and awaiting trial, to proceed to America, where he formerly resided. Dr. Tikhon, abdicating as patriarch last May, had been placed on trial some time before that for resisting the requisitioning of church treasures.

It was stated recently that the proceedings against him were to be transferred to Petrograd.

The American request was refused and Tikhon's trial, adds the correspondent, has been postponed pending the convocation.

TAYLOR CHIEF OF POLICE AND 4 OTHERS ARRESTED

Quintet Makes Bond After Seizure of Special Court of Inquiry

Georgetown, Texas.—Five men were arrested here after investigation by a court of inquiry in connection with the flogging of R. W. Burleson, traveling salesman, on the San Gabriel River, near Jonah, eight miles from Georgetown, recently.

The men who face charges of assault with a deadly weapon and carrying a pistol, are R. A. Hewitt, Chief of Police of Taylor; Murray Jackson, Dewel Baii, Sam Thredgill and Olin Gossitt, all of Taylor.

Justice of the Peace C. R. Foubon set the bond of each at $1,000 on the assault charge and $200 on the pistol-carrying charge. Bonds were made by all five men.

Burleson, a hosiery salesman of Weir, a town between Taylor and Georgetown, was taken from an automobile by a band of masked men driven to a point on the San Gabriel River, whipped and beaten on the head with pistols, then brought to Taylor and chained to a tree on the north side of the City Hall. Three buckets of creosote dip were poured on him.

According to the victim, he was notified by a preacher that an attack was to be made on him. He said the minister handed him a card bearing the name of "Ku Klux Klan No. 176 of Georgetown." He was told, he said, to quit going with a certain woman. Burleson said that on advice of friends he called on the supposed head of the Klan at Georgetown and disclaimed any connection with the organization.

Sheriff Lee O. Allen of Georgetown, investigating the affair, offered a reward of $50 for the name of anyone in the gang that did the whipping. Soon after the reward was offered citizens of Taylor and Georgetown urged that a court of inquiry be formed, which was done.

The court met at Georgetown and the five men arrested on the charges mentioned were witnesses before it.

GRANDMOTHER KNEW

There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders.

Gently massage Musterole in with the finger-tips. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears.

Try Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia), 35c and 65c. Jars and tubes; hospital size, $3.00.

Better than a mustard plaster.

MRS. EARLS TELLS WOMEN

How Backache and Periodic Pains Yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Olean, N. Y. — "Every month my blood would go to my head and I would have such a headache, nosebleed, backache and pains that I could not do my work. At night I could not get my rest and nothing seemed to do me any good. I read some of your testimonials about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others so I decided to try it. I had only taken two bottles when I began to feel better, and my back did not hurt me nor my head ache. If I feel like a new woman, the Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine and I will always recommend it." — Mrs. A. D. EARLS, 630 N. 6th St., Olean, N. Y.

Mrs. Earls adds her testimony

My dear little calf, my dear little calf, you're ready to sleep, you're ready to sleep.

Oh, day dreams were particularly nice.

And before these naps and before it was time when they decided to day-dream Mother Cow would look at her son out of her big loving eyes.

This was one of the songs which she called a Cow's Day Dream Cradle song:

My dear little calf, my dear little calf, you're ready to sleep, you're ready to sleep.

Then Mrs. Cow and her calf had a nice day dream and later on Mrs. Cow sang one of the other Cow Cradle songs as she called them.

My darling wee one, you're my own little son, Mother loves her wee one, Her dear little son.

Other might not call you wee but that's because they don't love thee as I do thee. In the way Mother Cow loves you, I say.

Then Mother Cow chewed her cud and began once more:

My son, my son, may you never know harm, Should harm come your way I'd be filled with alarm.

I love you, Sweet Calf, you're the joy of my day but far distant when we are to part.

And yet again Mother Cow hummed a cradle song:

I'd rock-a-bye-baby, only you are too big, On my knee I'd ride you and dance you a jig.

But for that you're too big, too fine a calf, And besides in cow circles it's not what we call a fine calf.

The calf did not seem to object to this. He turned his soft eyes toward his mother and again she sang:

Go to sleep, and rest your dear head, And take a rest here on a nice meadow bed.

Of course rest your legs and your body and mother will sing as they say "soo and low."

She will soo you a song, I'll make you long sweet, Of this grass here so sweet.

But that you must eat, Of this grass here so sweet.

"To Whom it May Concern: Ten years ago I began to suffer with kidney troubles. I cannot describe the pain and discomfort I experienced. After taking several bottles of HOBOS Kidney & Bladder Remedy, I was cured. I am now in the best of health and my weight is 200 pounds."

After taking eight bottles I began to notice a general improvement in my condition. My night and day urines improved. I began to feel much better. After taking twenty bottles I was pronounced cured. I am now in the best of health and my weight is 200 pounds.

CHAPTER I

Grit.

"Mormon" Peters carefully shifted his weighty hat in the chair that he had not till, gazing dreamily at the snow-capped mountains shimmering in the distance, sniffing luxuriously the sweet sage.

"They oughter spell Arizona with their 'Y's," he said.

"Why?" asked Sandy Bourke, wiping the superfluous oil from the revolver he was meticulously cleaning.

"Point of Climate, Cactus, Cattle—'Y'ovites."

"Mormon" Peters, "stead of three," said his managing partner of the Three Star ranch.

"Soda-Water" was a grant from his harmonica, on which he had been playing "The Cowboy's Lament," with variations.

It was Sunday afternoon on the Three Star ranch. The three partners, saddle-clums for years, ever being mutual employ, known through the State and Arizona as the "Three Musicians of the Range," sat on the porch of the ranch house, discussing business and lighter matters.
