COMMUNITIES URGED TO LEARN AND DESTROY RESERVOIRS OF DISEASE

AUSTIN — Tremendous advances will have been made in improving public health when each Texas community learns to recognize reservoirs of disease, methods of infection, and how to control disease, Jack Lenhart, University of Texas sanitary engineer, said here.

"Man himself, animals and arachnida (chiefly ticks) are the reservoirs of disease," Professor Lenhart, special instructor in civil engineering, said. "Paths of infection include contaminated food, polluted water, and fomites (objects such as pencils, doorknobs, toys). Typhoid and dysentery are the main diseases carried and eternal vigilance is necessary to prevent their outbreak in fatal epidemics."

"Universal application of artificial immunity would wipe out diseases such as smallpox and diphtheria, and many others comparatively harmless," Mr. Lenhart said. "Widespread education in elementary sanitation would prevent most of the ill health and deaths due to disease organisms."

DELEGATES LAUGHED AT AMERICAN HABITS; IMITATED SAME

Many foreign delegates to the United Nations Conference in San Francisco learned new food habits from the American representatives. Drinking milk was a joke to a large number of them before the Conference. It later became a habit with a great many of them.

Two fully equipped American milk bars and cafeteria were supplied with milk were installed in the San Francisco Opera House which was the Conference headquarters, states the National Dairy Council.

At first many of the foreign delegates even laughed at the sight of full-grown Americans drinking milk. Before long, many of them, particularly the British, began imitating the American habits.

Most of them drank milk whole before long, many of them, particularly the British, began imitating the American habits. By special dispensation extra milk and cream were made available so that the delegates might enjoy American ice cream also.

UNITED NATIONS SHOULD KNOW SECRET OF ATOMIC BOMB, DR. WATT SAYS

AUSTIN — Should the United Nations be permitted to know the secret of the atomic bomb?

Yes, says Dr. George W. Watt, University of Texas associate professor of chemistry who has spent two years in work related to the bomb.

"If the United Nations organization is going to be one capable of preserving peace, complete trust must be shown by all the Allied nations," Dr. Watt stated, "and it would certainly be a gesture in the right direction if we make this information available."

"It will be only a few years until the scientists of the other nations develop the bomb for themselves anyway," he continued, "therefore the refusal to disclose its composition now is only a short range gain."

"The fact that the discovery has been made means that it will be made again, Dr. Watt pointed out. And scientists will reach the same results in other nations in the future even if we do not give them the secret now."

SLEEP IS NECESSITY OF LIFE AND HEALTH, SAYS DR. GEORGE W. COX

AUSTIN — Sleep is a necessity of life and health, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, and habitual loss of sleep will tend to retard the body's recovery from the fatigue of the day's activities.

"We may be able to go without sleep for a night or two, but too little sleep for a prolonged length of time will undermine the health of a rugged person and turn a cheerful individual into a cross, irritable one," Dr. Cox said. "When good health can be protected to such a large extent merely by sleeping, and thus allowing overtaxed bodies and minds to secure the proper rest, it is hard to understand why so many persons are heedless of this important health measure."

Some individuals require more sleep than others. How well we sleep is as important as how long we sleep. A "good night's rest" means a sufficient number of hours spent in sleep to enable each individual to feel well, do efficient work, and to keep in a cheerful humor the next day.

"Some outdoor exercise each day, a comfortable bed, and fresh air in our sleeping quarters," Dr. Cox said, "will help us to sleep soundly at night. Do not nullify your problems and ideas after you have come to bed. Make your plans early in the evening for a good night's rest by slowing down from the physical and mental work to your daily life. When you arise each morning, rested and with a feeling of general well-being, you will be amply repaid for your thought in planning a 'good night's sleep.'"

SWING OF SOUTHWEST FARM MARKETS

Weak trends prevailed on cotton, eggs, poultry, cattle and some vegetables during the last week of September, but other southwest farm products held steady under a good demand, according to USDA's Production and Marketing Administration.

Liberal poultry marketings during the last week of September included a few turkeys which brought 37.4 cents a pound for young toms and hens in New Orleans and 28 cents in Dallas. With turkey set-aside restrictions removed during the week, and a large crop expected, volume movement is anticipated rather than usual this year.

Planting of commercial vegetables for winter harvest made good progress in southern areas while liberal shipments continued to move from sections further north.

Rains and flood conditions reduced livestock movement at the close of the week, but earlier in the period receipts were liberal except on hogs, which were scarce at selling prices. Sheep and lamb markets held steady to strong with the principal activity in Fort Worth and Denver. Top lamb prices reached about midweek were $13 at Fort Worth.

Outlets were also broad enough to prevent extreme declines on cattle, except at San Antonio where a new record weekly supply of 25,000 head caused cows and calves to slide down the scale 50 to 75 cents. Other weak spots in the Southwest included 25 cent declines on cows on hills at Fort Worth and a 50-cent dip on vealers and calves at Wichita. Steady trends prevailed on most other classes throughout the area.

A close of the week, spot beef cows brought $8.20 to $10.50 in Ft. Worth, cullor grades $6.25 to $7.50 in Houston, common hinds $7 to $8 in San Antonio, and common to good grades from $9 to $12 in Denver.

Cotton prices weakened a little in moderately active markets with spinning lagging and farmers apparently holding a considerable part of current output. Sales of 142,000 bales, however, were made at prices averaging higher than the September government purchase price.

Grains maintained a steady to strong trend with light supplies of local corn a shipping point ceiling, while Fort Worth and Galveston quoted no 1 hard ordinary wheat at $1.78 1/2 to $1.80 per bushel, bulk, in carlots, and sorghum grains from $2.45 to $2.61 at the close of the week. New crop rice and peanuts held firm at the ceiling although the advancing harvest made larger supplies available.

Glenn Ralston, TMS, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Ralston. He will report to Dallas on the 17th of October.

Home Coming Service At Cross Cut Oct. 14
