SUPPOSE ELECTRICITY TOOK A VACATION . . .

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN?

Darkness would lay its inky finger on your home. Food would spoil. A flick of a switch wouldn't toast your bread, or cool your living room, or perk your coffee. You'd have to sweep by broom, wash by hand, wear unironed clothes.

Your house would be a little isolated world of its own, with no telephone, no radio, no newspapers to link you with humanity. Time would stop with the frozen hands of your electric clock. You'd have no job, since almost all industry-from the cash register to the welder's are-draws its vitality from the little blue spark of electricity. War production would stop in its tracks. But electricity never takes a vacation, 60 seconds to the minute, 60 minutes to the hour, day and night, summer and winter, electric service stands eagerly awaiting the flick of a switch. And this dependability is no accident. It is the result of hard work and careful planning by folks who know their business-your friends and neighbors in this company. . Listen to "THE SUMMER ELECTRIC HOUR" with Robert Armsbruster's Orchestra and guest stars, Every Sunday afternoon, 3:30 CWT
