VOL. VII

CROSS PLAINS, TEXAS, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1916.

NO. 33

THE RAIN-GENERAL

(A MILLION DOLLAR RAIN)

At last it has rained. No more driving stock to water. Not much more hauling water in town. Thursday night of last week about 3-g and an inch of rain fell; Sunday 1-2 and Tuesday 7-8 of an inch fell, according to The Review gage. Telephone reports give the rain from Burkett and Cross Cut to Baird and Putnam as general. It was very likely general throughout the State. The city lake is now full of water, which will run the town for stock and washing purposes for four months or more. Peanuts that are pulled and on the ground will suffer, especially the hay, if the rain or damp weather continues.

SHIP SIX CARS OF LIVE STOCK

Tuesday six cars of mixed live stock left this place for the Panther City for the slaughter pen. Chris Parsons and Oscar Gray had two cars of cattle, Parsons one of mules and mares, and Bryson and Webb two of hogs. All good stuff, and should bring their owners good money. On account of not having plenty of cars on time to accommodate the stock a special train was sent here. Two trains a day sounds pretty big.

BOULDER, COLO., CHAUTAUQUA

The ladies of the M. E. church will give a picture show at the Electric Theatre on Friday night, the 27th, depicting the life of the Chautauqua as held at Boulder, Colo., and giving the scenes of the Boulder country, all of which will be explained in a reading given by one of the ladies. Given for the benefit of the Missionary Society. Let everybody attend, enjoy the evening's entertainment, and help the ladies.

PREACHING SUNDAY

Rev. A. R. Lyson of Fort Worth will preach at the Baptist church Sunday morning and night. He has just closed a successful meeting at Rowden. Everybody is cordially invited to attend these services.

FROM STATE SUPERINTENDENT

Austin, Texas,
September 30, 1916
Supt. H. L. Gantz,
Cross Plains, Texas.

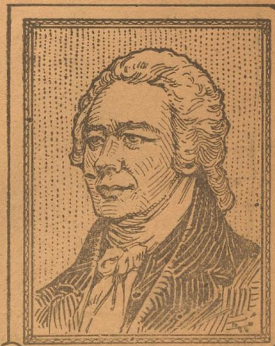

Dear Sir:

I am in receipt of your letter of September 27, and am pleased to learn of the splendid work of yourself and the trustees, together with the public spirited citizens of Cross Plains community in raising funds to purchase adequate equipment for Cross Plains high school so that it can increase its efficiency and raise its classification to that of a high school of the second class. As soon as the board has purchased adequate equipment for effective work in one unit of high school science and has standardized the school library, this school will receive recognition from the State Department of Education as a high school of the second class. I trust that this work can be accomplished for the school in time for it to be listed in the new classification bulletin with its higher classification.

If this school meets the requirements of a high school of the second class and receives such recognition from the State Department of Education, the reputation of the school and of the community as an educational center will be materially enhanced, the efficiency of the school increased, the work of the school accepted by the State normals, A. & M. C. I. A. and other higher institutions of the State, the school entitled to application for State aid in establishing vocational departments, either in agriculture, domestic economy, or manual training, and the foundation laid for building up the standards of the school so that it can ultimately be classified as a high school of the first class.

Permit me to state that the action of the board in limiting the work of the school to ten grades for the present is eminently wise until the teaching force and equipment of the school can be materially increased. By limiting the work in keeping with the equipment and teaching force the teachers will have time to render more effective service to the pupils and the community. High school teachers as a rule should not attempt to offer instruction in more than six daily recitations, nor should high school pupils undertake as a rule to carry more than four subjects at a time. If this policy be followed the pupils and teachers can do more intensive and thorough work than if attempting to carry a higher number of subjects. Also,

MONTHLY SUPPLEMENT

The Review is glad to announce that in a short time, probably next week, it will begin again the issuing of the Semi-Monthly Supplement. It will be recalled that this supplement was very popular the few weeks we had it last winter. It will be printed on good paper, will have ten pages or more, and carry the best fiction written, from such writers as Robert W. Chambers, Randall Parrish, etc., than whom there is none better. Ask those who read the best magazines about these writers. Look our for the supplement. It will be given now only once a month. An absolute gift to our readers.

MONDAY A GOOD TRADES DAY

The season of year and Sunday's rain all conspired to make Trades Day a good one. If there is anything in numbers, it was certainly a good day. The merchants all report good business, and The Review's subscription receipts were the best for one day for the year.

Poultry management, marketing of eggs.

Silo and dipping vats. Silo crops. Farm building.

Boys' Agriculture Club work. Marketing of farm produce thru farmers clubs.

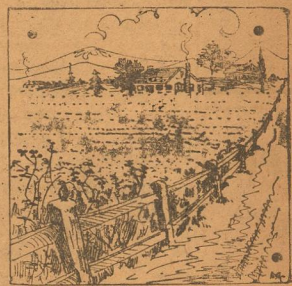

Call and see me if I can assist you in any of these problems.

I trust that I shall have your support and influence in helping make this county one of the most prosperous in the state of Texas, by good farming and stock raising. I am well pleased with the interest I have found along that line.

I stand ready to serve you at any and all times.

We club The Review with all papers and magazines.

Ten years hence we will have Third-Monday jitney days—snides will be gone; that is, of the equine species.

If you see anybody sick this week the trouble is likely sea sickness, caused from the unusual presence of water on the ground.

Regardless of the rain, peanuts are being marketed daily this week. The price is too tempting and the nuts have to be moved.

Since the European war everything has advanced except the price of The Review and postage stamps—and we are looking for advances in these commodities.

Cotton is higher than it has been since the time the mind of man (living young man) runneth not to the contrary. New advances every day, and nothing thought of it.

That old smile that used to be spoken of that "wouldn't off" has made its appearance, and it is still ineffaceable. A little water is a great thing in the salvation of the country—to say nothing of the soul.

Cotton is too nearly picked out to suffer very much. All grain that may have been sowed should do well now. Grass will have a chance to revive. All in all, our prospects are in a better because of the rain.

Don't go wild because you are making money. After this the deluge, it is said. In the time of plenty you had better save. These high prices for all kinds of produce will not always hold. At least, big crops of everything will not always be made

The Review labors under peculiarly hard conditions. To do justice to the county it has to keep in touch with all its industries and its crops, which is some Herculean task, if number and variety are to count. There is cotton, the king crop of the South, a big thing with us; wheat and oats, sold here in 150-car load lots during the year; peanuts enough to supply a city, seventy-five cars or more a year; a car of hogs or cattle every week on the average; mules and horses not inconsiderable; then a few cars of apples, potatoes, peaches, plums, and every kind of garden crop that can be consumed; corn, and other feedstuffs to supply the big demand of the country. Other small-town papers, having a one-crop country to keep up with, are fortunate—and yet, because of the condition of their country, are unfortunate. Cross Plains and her territory for diversification, please. Come here and prosper and at the same time supply your table with the best viands known in the temperate zone

[continued from first page] the decision of the board to carry out as far as practicable departmental work in the school is in keeping with modern educational plans.

During the course of the current school year it is the purpose of the Department to have the high school supervisors visit as many of the high schools of the State as possible, including Cross Plains high school; also to request specimens of written work of high school pupils, to the end that the Department may be in position to cooperate more effectively with the schools in increasing their efficiency.

May I urge that you seek the immediate co-operation of the board in placing orders for new equipment for the school so that the pupils can receive full benefits from use of new equipment during the current school year, and to the end that the school may be properly accredited in forthcoming high school bulletin? It is very important that the board act promptly, and favorably, and that the Department be supplied with information relative thereto if this school is to receive due recognition in the bulletin to which I have referred.

Sincerely,
W. F. Doughty,
State Superintendent.

What
F. P. Shackelford of Cross Plains

has to say about cream separators this week.

When you use a De Laval Separator you not only get more cream, but better cream as well

THE best evidence of this is that during the last twenty-five years butter made from De Laval separated cream has invariably scored the highest at all important contests and state fairs.

Practically all the cream entered in the International Milk and Cream Show held in connection with the Panama-Pacific Exposition was separated by De Laval's, and every first prize, and most all the other prizes, were won by De Laval separated cream.

These facts are simply further proof of De Laval supremacy in everything that goes to make a good cream separator.

Don't buy any separator until you give us an opportunity to let you see and try a De Laval. We will be glad to send one out to your farm on trial any time you say.

Just phone, send a post card, or call and we will be glad to give you all the information you wish.

COMPARISONS ARE ?

Lockney, Texas,
Oct. 5, 1916.

Mr. Henslee:
You know how you critised the Lockney paper. Bill said that they had a little hand press. They have a linotype machine, a job press, an Advance paper cutter, and two or three more machines. That linotype machine knocks me out of a job. Their shop is not as big as yours but their paper and machinery are larger. They put out from four to eight pages per week. A woman is the editor and a man is the publisher (they are married). Do not brag so much the next time.

Your printer,
Otis D. Carter.

P. S. Tell me what Bill has to say about this paper.

Has Helped Thousands.

Thousands Of Yards Of Goods at Last Year's Prices.

Owing to the fact that we bought enormous quantities of goods last February when goods of all kinds were much cheaper than they are now, is the reason why we can afford to sell you this merchandise at last year's prices.

Our customers who buy early from us now, are the ones who will reap the advantage of our foresight and wisdom of early buying. Our present low prices can be maintained only so long as these goods last. We can not buy some of these goods to-day at the prices we are offering them to our customers; consequently, when we have to re-order, the prices at which we can sell them will be much higher.

At present we have a fair supply of Domestic, bleach and brown, Outings, Cotton Flannels, Sheeting, Ticking, Gingham, Blankets, Cotton Checks, and other staple articles. When the supply of these is exhausted we will have to advance our present prices. Do your fall and winter buying now and avoid having to pay much higher prices.
