PREMIUM FOR SCHOOL PUPILS

To the first school boy or girl sending us two new subscriptions to The Review for one year each we will send The Youth's Companion until the first of 1916. The Youth's Companion is beyond parley the best paper published for young folks and good for older people. If you are not first we will see that you are liberally rewarded for your efforts, anyway.

THE POULTRY CAR

If you have chickens to sell do you think you can do better than to sell hens for 10c and roosters 4c a pound? Read Neeb's on last page of The Review.

Note Shackelford's ad this week; also read Davis-Garner & Co.'s ad.

JUMBO BANANAS

MOVE BACK HERE

Rev. T. H. Davis and family of Buffalo Gap have moved back to Cross Plains and are occupying their home which they have owned all the while, the place until recently occupied by Clint Rutherford. Rev. Davis was pastor of M. E. church here for some time preceeding Rev. Sisk, and is at present Missionary for the Abilene district. The Review, upon behalf of the town and the community, is glad to welcome them to their former home.

Large pail of lard, $1.00.—McCord.

NOTICE TO MEMBERS HOG CLUB

There will be a call meeting of the club Monday, March 15th, at 2 p. m. Something special and would like for all members to be present.

W. A. Albin, Secy.

It has been said that McCord would not sell any more Red Top Axle Grease at 5c. But a big shipment received at the same old price of FIVE PENNIES.

TO SHOW HORSES

W. B. Duncan informs us that owners of stallions of this territory will have their horses here on next Trades Day for the purpose of showing them off and bragging on them. All owners are invited to bring in their horses and be prepared to defend his horse's merits against all other horses.

6,700 BALES

There have been weighed to date 6,700 bales of cotton, nearly, with little prospect of more being brought in soon. When in a recent issue we prophesied that we likely would get 7,500 bales we erred somewhere. Of course, we took the advise of somebody who should have known the conditions. Anyway, this is the largest number of bales that has ever been weighed here, and as such should be appreciated.

The Review $1.00 per year.

READY FOR TRADES DAY

Big shipments of the following have arrived this week:

SERIOUS CUTTING AFFRAY

Near-tragedy Occurs Near Sabanno

In a deplorable difficulty Monday about 4, p. m., just north of Sabanno creek Tom Pinkstun received a severe wound from a knife allegedly in the hands of L O Browning, Ot Peevy, deputy in an effort at intervention receiving a stab in the arm. Mr. Pinkstun who was stabbed in the back over the right lung was at first said to be in a very serious condition, but is now doing well. Mr. Browning readily made bond in the sum of $2,500.00 the cause of the trouble was a misunderstanding between Mr. Browning and Mr. Pinkstun.

Good Hogs

Mr. Whiting of Atwell was here Saturday. He was finishing a delivery of hogs he and Mr. Dunk Jones had sold to Frank Bryson and Andy Hudson. He informs us that the six shoats they delivered the first of the week averaged 285 lbs., four of them being April and two August pigs. He says they were raised on scraps and peanuts, and cost but little money. They were Poland China and Berkshire.

The Split Log Drag

The Oyalo Eagle says: "The split log drag has contributed more toward the economic maintenance of public highways than any implement of modern usage. It does not require special acts of the legislature, bond issues nor expensive educational campaigns to make it available, as is usually the case with construction work. A drag can be built or purchased for twenty dollars, and it is easily operated by any one who can drive a team. We need more drags in this state."

It Snows

"It snows," cries the school boy, as went the poem of old, the largest for years and the prettiest, so we've been told. Boys and girls native born more than half of maturity have reached who never before saw the earth with the driven snow so bleached. And the urchin, they that enjoy the heyday, of youth, the man of dignity, he who goes in strength of years, for sooth, all forget the past and think not of future, and truly live as of old, and force every man thru this crucible, this melting pot and roll all, from the stranger to the most exalted resident whom haply they find upon the street, into this cold element. Who has not received his baptism of this whitened rarity has not been born into this, into man's parity. Let them become as the child, Youth or aged, reserved and cold, who cannot become a boy is most prematurely old.—Bard Parace.

Hogs Should Be Finished on Grain

R. C. Brauer, salesman for Davis Spears Commission Co. of Ft. Worth, in an article in a recent issue of the Sta-Telegram, says that peanuts are probably the most perfect single ration food for hogs, that hogs mature and thrive remarkably well upon them alone, but that hogs finished upon this feed are worth $1.00 per hundred pounds less to the packers. Without comment upon the causes of this difference in the finished hog, we will merely add that he says that all hogs should be finished upon corn, maize, feteita, kaffir or wheat, any of which is a good finishing feed for hogs.

COULD SCARCELY WALK ABOUT

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Housework.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst.

I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my housework.

I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off.

I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it.

After I began taking Cardui, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely.

I fattened up, and grew so much stronger in three months, I felt like another person altogether."

Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks, fresh and rosy.

Cardui has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardui today.

Write to: Chattanooga Medicine Co., Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions on your case and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper.

Sabanno News

The people of the Sabanno community have enjoyed better health this winter than usual.

The people out this way are going pretty strong on cabbage culture, which we hope will mean a good time to kraut lovers.

The people should let the lowly peanut, the humble bean and the dazzling Duroc have prominent places on the farms this year.

Homer Brown has bought a new incubator. He will raise more chickens and less cotton.

J. H. Harris is having a nice lot of stove wood cut. He is one of our most progressive farmers. He checks his corn and cotton, raises red hogs and fine Jersey cattle.

E. D. Rhone's gin has closed down after ginning 729 bales of cotton.

Marion Erwin of Nimrod was a visitor at Sabanno last Sunday.

J. D. Pierce, our telephone manager, is putting in phones almost every week.

Rev. Mr. Vanzant filled his regular appointment at the M. E. church last Sunday. Mr. T. E. Minix is the superintendent of the Sunday-school at the M. E. church.

The Young Peoples Christian Association of Sabanno hold their service in the afternoon every Sunday. Lee White is president, Laura Marshall secretary.

Rev. S. P. Collins filled his regular appointment at the Presbyterian church last Sunday.

Mrs. S. B. Webb and Mrs. J. D. Walker visited the family of W. N. Black last Friday afternoon.

We took Jno. I. Harris' subscription for the Review and Farm & Ranch last Saturday.

C. M. Wood has been buying mules lately. Long ears look good to Charley.

G. M. Clark bought a 7-power gasoline engine.

J. N. Duke of Dalls has bought a portion of the W. I. Duke farm north of Sabanno.

Jno. Holder of Cross Plains was a visitor in our community last week.

After an absence of four years, Jack Darden is visiting his sister Mrs. G. R. Erwin.

See Scott the tract for a quick deal.

George Scott and Lenton Brown attended the Literay Society at Curtis last Friday night.

Mrs. J. W. Brown and sons, Lenton and Chester, visited friends at Scranton Saturday and Sunday.

S. B. Webb and Jack Lacy made a business trip to Scranton last Wednesday.

Jno. H. Duke is the new clerk at the Baptist church.

Mrs. W. R. Irvin and daughters visited the family of Willis Brown, March the 7th.

Bud Cade of Salt Tank was in our town Saturday.

Miss Ray Erwin of Scranton Academy visited home folks at Sabanno March 7th.

Cross Cut Items

Farm work has been greatly hindered by the rainy weather.

The people of Cross Cut community met Saturday morning to work the new school ground. Work on the new building will be started at once. Mr. Woods of Blake will build the new house.

The Cross Cut girls played basketball with the Blake girls Saturday afternoon. The score was 11 to 1 in favor of the Cross Cut girls.

The Cross Cut boys and the Blake boys also played. The score in that game was 26 to 1 in favor of Cross Cut.

Misses Madie Belle Byrd and Deoma Chambers visited at W. H. G. Chambers' Saturday night.

WHAT NEXT?

To Teachers and Those Contemplating Teaching.

Public schools will soon close. Teachers have had an average of about six months on the pay roll at perhaps an average salary of $60 per month, netting them $360 for the year, or an equivalent of $30 per month for the year. In other words, the educated teacher's salary for the year is less than that of the uneducated day laborer. 6,000 teachers quit the profession in Texas annually. Can you blame them, when you compare their annual earning capacity with that of any other class of educated men and women. The bookkeeper, stenographer, private secretary or operator gets, as a beginner, from $50 to $75 per month twelve months in the year, and soon receive an advance in salary and it is long, if they are made of the right kind of stuff, before they are prompted to to assistant managers or managers of large business concerns where they draw salaries that soon enables them to lay up a comfortable living for old age.

The teaching profession is a noble charitable one, but are you content to work in the charity department of your state when they allow you no pension or protection in old age, or will you go into the great broad field of business where you can lay up something for rainy day and provide your own protection for old age.

Make a comparison of the teacher who after graduated from the high school, spent two to three years in a state normal and hundreds of dollars preparing himself, and has been teaching five years in the public schools, with the bookkeeper, stenographer operator who has only spent from three to six months in obtaining his education after graduating in the high school and from $100 to $200 and has had five years experience in the business world, and you will find that the one who has spent only a few months in obtaining his education, and a couple of hundred dollars, is drawing twice the salary of the teacher who spent some three or four years preparing for his profession at a cost of from $500 to $1,000.

More evidence on this subject can be had by writing the Tyler Commercial College of Tyler, Texas, for their large illustrated catalog giving full particulars regarding America's largest commercial training school with more than 2,000 enrollments annually, and read what teachers say who have attended this institution, of the advantages it offers to those entering the business world where they can greatly increase their earning capacity, enabling them to own homes of their own, and enjoy the comforts that should rightly be theirs.

FORESAW WARFARE IN AIR

Horace Walpole Recognized the Value of the Balloon, While It Was in Its Infancy.

A remarkable prediction of the part that aerial machines would one day play in warfare was made by Horace Walpole—described by Lord Macaulay as the best letter writer in the English language—in a letter written from his famous Gothic "castle," Strawberry Hill, to the countess of Upper Ossory on October 23, 1784.

Not only did Walpole forecast the use of airships in war, but he also suggested the century in which such warfare would be waged. He wrote: "Balloons is a subject I did not intend to tap. If they can be improved into anything more than Brodding-nag kites, it must be in a century or two after I shall be laid low. A century in my acceptation, means a hundred years hence. . . . After one ceases to be, all duration is of the same length; and everything that one guesses will happen after oneself is no more is equally a vision."

Walpole goes on to speak of the "airy vehicles" with which the atmosphere may be peopled hereafter, and says he does not care to discuss the question.

"How much more expeditiously the East, West or South will be ravaged and butchered than they have been by the old-fashioned clumsy method of navigation."

"I smile," says Walpole, "at the adoration paid to these aerial Quixotes. . . . I observe that no improvements of science or knowledge makes the world a jot wiser."

The first successful ascents in a balloon had been made by Montgolfier in 1782.

GREAT LIBRARY OF LEMBERG

The Latest Statistics of the University Collections in the European War Zone.

The last report of the Lemberg University library was printed in No. 3 of the Polish Monthly Ksiązka. It records an increase of 5,505 titles in the library in 7,950 volumes, making a total of 240,000 volumes. Of these, 1,644 volumes came as gifts from the Galician libraries, 1,983 volumes from institutions and 1,278 government publications and private institutions. Individuals or readers used 220,317 volumes, 67,935 reading rooms and 8,917 readers called for 17,710 volumes for outside reading, making a total of 76,852 readers and 237,183 volumes. The increase in circulation was 1,455, thanks to easier access to the improved card catalogue and handy catalogue of periodicals and publications in the library.

The University library of Lemberg was founded in 1774 by Joseph II from the books of the confiscated cloisters of Galicia. In 1848 it was almost completely destroyed by fire. Its collection was restored from contributions of duplicates from the Biblioteka Ossolinskich and the collection of S. Borzkowski so that in 1898 it once more contained 100,000 volumes.

Why He Didn't Contribute.

"About the very poorest excuse I have ever heard for a rich man not to make a contribution to charity, a specific case where a lot of us were trying to do something for an excellent local cause," said a Bronxite, the New York Sun remarks, "was handed out to me by a wealthy friend on whom I had been sent to call by the committee because he was my friend. I stated the case to him and asked him for $100—little enough considering what he had—but did I get it? Not any. Neither did I get anything, and his excuse was that his income tax was so heavy he really couldn't afford to spend any money except for personal necessities. He was dead serious about it, too, and didn't see anything incongruous in it even when I gave him the laugh. He isn't an altogether stingy man, either, but that income tax somehow had got on his nerves."

It would surprise you to know how much publicity you can get by placing just a small local in the column of the Review. Regardless of what you have to sell, provided there is any likelihood of there being anybody in the country who may want it, write it concisely and send to The Review. The price can be figured this way: 1 cent for each word for the first insertion and 1-2 a cent for each word for each following insertion, counting initials, figures and all. We have by this means helped sell horses, mules, hogs, pianos, guns, helped rent farms, etc., etc. Chickens and eggs, turkeys, have changed hands thru this instrumentality. If you want to try to sell something to the people in this territory, we offer you decidedly the best and the cheapest means of finding a market. Just think of reaching 500 and more prospective buyers for a few cents! It would take you several days to see them individually. Phone or write your wants to us.

A nice residence in Cross Plains for sale or trade for live stock. See The Review.

Cottonwood

Editor Review:—Owing to the fact that we have been in the clutches of the "Grippe" for the past two weeks we have failed to write anything for the columns of The Review or in fact to do anything else but grunt. We claim the premium for the best grunter in the community. Well, the weather continues bad and the little oats look badly and the farmers are growing somewhat discouraged and in fact the whole business is getting in fine condition to appreciate a "whole lot" of sunshine. We have been wanting to visit the Terminal for several days but have been unable up to the present writing to get our physical conditions in uniaon with the weather; when the weather is good we are sick and when we are well the weather is bad. See?

Eld. A. P. Koen of Hamilton, the pastor of the Primitive Baptist church at Cottonwood filled his regular appointment in Cottonwood last fourth Sunday and Saturday before.

The serenity of our town was somewhat disturbed one day last week. Some of the boys became a little belligerent and tried to display their combativeness, but no blood was shed or bones broken. Some of the parties became penitent afterwards and contributed to Judge Ayres' missionary box while others more obstinate are awaiting the result of a hearing in Justice Court. Boys when you wish to confess your sins you will find Judge Ayres at his office and always ready for a little remuneration, to hear your confessions and requite you of your wrongs to the laws of your country, and the best way is always to "fess" up.

Mr. Homer Shanks, formerly tax collector of our county, but now cashier of the bank of Cottonwood, has moved from Baird to Cottonwood and is now a citizen of our town.

J. C. Murdock, who occupied the house now occupied by Mr. Shanks, moved out of town north about a mile and now occupies the Ted Archer house.

Mr. Am Foster and wife, his son and wife and Mrs. Tucker of Coleman county, attended the Primitive Baptist meeting on last fourth Sunday and Saturday before.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Foster's baby who has been quite sick for some time was reported better Monday.

Mr. Bostick and son of Scranton and Levi Everett of Rising Star were all attendants at the Primitive Baptist meeting.

Grandpa and Grandma Foster, who have been on an extended visit to their son's Am Foster's south of Dressy and to relatives at Duster, have returned to their home near Cottonwood. They report a pleasant visit.

Since we began writing, news has reached us that some one attacked Mr. Peevy our constable with a knife and perpaps inflicted a slight wound, but not being able to obtain authentic information relative to the matter we are unable to vouch for the authenticity of the report.

A game of basket ball was played at Cottonwood last Saturday between the Cottonwood girls and Atwell girls resulting in defeat for the Cottonwood girls. We fear our girls are not up on their practice.

Well, next Monday is Trades Day and if a opportunity presents itself we probably will be on hand.

Since we began writing we have had a heavy fall of snow and this morning the outside world is wrapped in the mantle of white and it is still snowing. Our fruit trees are wrapped up in snow with the biggest crop of fruit ever known most of them. We are forced to the conclusion that unless some unforeseen accident happens we will have fruit plenty. Up to Sunday the peaches were intact.

Will say for the benefit of those who feel interested that there will be Primitive Baptist preaching every fourth Sunday and Saturday before in Cottonwood.

More anon,
 Queer Fellow.
