You Need a Tonic

There are times in every woman's life when she needs a tonic to help her over the hard places. When that time comes to you, you know what tonic to take—Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is composed of purely vegetable ingredients, which act gently, yet surely, on the weakened womanly organs, and helps build them back to strength and health. It has benefited thousands and thousands of weak, ailing women in its past half century of wonderful success, and it will do the same for you.

She rose at once and went into the "reception room;" there was a flurry of whispering, and the sound of tiptoeing in the hall—Edith and her sultor changing quarters to a more distant room. Mrs. Sheridan returned to her chair in the library.

"They won't bother you any more, papa," she said, in a comforting voice. "She told me at lunch he'd 'phoned he wanted to come up this evening, and I said I thought he'd better wait a few days, but she said she'd already told him he could." She paused, then added, rather guiltily: "I got kind of a notion maybe Roscoe don't like him as much as he used to. Maybe—maybe you better ask Roscoe, papa." And as Sheridan nodded solemnly, she concluded, in haste: "Don't say I said to. I might be wrong about it, anyway."

"Not now," returned Lamhorn, shortly.

"I'm not, either" said. "O Know. You've had so much experience, yourself?"

"I'm not, either," sald Bibbs. "It was getting cloudler than usual, I noticed, just before dark, and there was wind from the southwest. Rain tomorrow, I shouldn't be surprised."

He seemed to feel that he had begun a conversation the support of which had now become the pleasurable duty of other parties; and he sat expectantly, looking first at his sister, then at Lamhorn, as If implying that it was their turn to speak. Edith returned his gaze with a mixture of astonishment and increasing anger, while Mr. Lamhorn was obviously disturbed, though Bibbs had been as considerate as possible in presenting the weather as a toplc. Bibbs had perceived that Lamhorn had nothing in his mind at any time except "personalities"—he could talk about people and he could make love. Bibbs, wishing to be courteous, offered the weather.

Lamhorn refused it, and concluded from Bibbs' luxurious attitude in the leather chair that this half-crazy brother was a permanent fixture for the rest of the evening. There was no reason to hope that he would move, and Lamhorn found himself in danger of looking silly.

To Prevent Texas Fever rid your pasture of ticks and do not buy tick infected cattle. Ticks may be cradicated by dipping or spraying with a standard solution at regular intervals during the season.

To Prevent Anthrax vaccinate all grown stock in the latter part of the spring or early summer. Separate all sick stock from the well. When the animal is dead, burn the can cass, scatter straw or leaves on the place where it has been while sick Lee Black of Hansford is visiting and burn it. The burning of pas tures, the killing of buzzards, and Misses Frances Green and Lorena stray dogs and wolves, will lesson double dose system of vaccination is used, do not mix then or use the No. 2 first. This vaccine matter will produce a mild form of the disease and should be handled by a scientific veterinarian only. The container and all the instruments should be burnt after the vaccination

To Prevent Blackleg vaccinate all stuff under 2 years of age in the spring. Vaccination for Blackleg is a very simple matter to an experenced vaccinator, but should be handled with care by the inexper-
