Robbers Loot Cottonwood Post Office Early Monday Morning

Robbers who invaded the Cottonwood post office early Monday morning probably chose the most difficult fourth class office in Texas to loot. In fact their night's work, although undisturbed, netted no profit whatsoever.

Entrance to the building was secured by knocking out a pane in the front door. Once inside though, their work had only started. The little Cottonwood office is equipped with bank fixtures, double steel door vault, safe and all, and the robbers were never able to cut their way into the safe.

Acetylene torch equipment was left where they abandoned it after cutting through doors of the vault. The safe too, had been tampered with but not opened. Only loss was approximately $40 belonging to the Cottonwood Methodist Church which the postmistress, Miss Hazel Respass, was keeping there in her capacity of treasurer of the church.

The robbery was first noticed by Miss Respass, who has been postmistress at Cottonwood since August 12, 1918, when she came to work Monday morning, however, a neighbor, R. A. Maddux reports that he was disturbed shortly after one o'clock Monday morning by barking dogs and it is believed that this was the time of the robbery. Maddux got up and turned on lights but noticed nothing unusual and went back to bed.

Miss Respass found where windows of the post office had been shaded from the light of the cutting torch, and it is believed that this is the reason Maddux was unable to see anything abnormal. A raincoat belonging to the invaders was left over a west window. Too, there was evidence where an avron belonging to the postmistress had been placed over a south window.

G. W. Morrow, of Abilene, post office inspector, was notified immediately after the robbery was detected and came to Cottonwood to investigate the incident. Local peace officers too inspected the premises and are assisting federal officials. FBI men are expected to give the matter attention too, particularly in view of the fact that this is the second small community post office to be invaded in the past week. The post office at Tye was looted Saturday night.

Equipment left behind by the robbers at Cottonwood is valued at far more than the loot, however, it becomes property of the federal government and is being held as evidence.

Miss Respass was doing a first class job of handling the mail early Monday morning without disturbing anything the robbers had handled. She permitted nothing to be touched that might contain fingerprint evidence.

Equipment in use at the Cottonwood post office is that formerly used by that community's only bank. The bank in Cottonwood closed in 1918 when the cashier was called to military duty during World War I and the vault, safe and equipment was purchased shortly thereafter by Miss Respass when she became postmistress.

Acetylene torch and equipment used to rob the Cottonwood post office was stolen from a garage at Boerne—west of New Braunfels—the Review learned Wednesday morning. FBI men notified the Boerne garageman and he came for the equipment Tuesday night. He reported that it had been stolen between 10:30 Saturday night and six o'clock Sunday morning. Nothing else was taken from his garage, although it was well supplied with new automobile tires and batteries.

Cross Plains friends of the Cottonwood church upon hearing of the loss of church funds quickly made up $45 and delivered it to Miss Respass in a gesture of neighborliness.

Visitors in the home of Mrs. Eula were and son of Pioneer, last Monday, were her sister and children. Mrs. Eva Huntington and Patty were of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Huntington and daughter of Bishop, and Mr. and Mrs. Dickie Huntington and children of Waco.

JOAN HALL

Miss Joan Hall Is Crowned Queen At Picnic Celebration

Miss Joan Hall, Cross Plains high school senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Hall, was acclaimed queen of the local fire department in coronation ceremonies at the picnic Friday night. She had been chosen by secret balloting a week earlier and the results unknown until Friday night.

Miss Hall was presented a handsome piece of luggage by the firemen and will be Cross Plains official representative at inter-city social functions during the ensuing year.

Coronation of the queen was the climax to an interesting program which included talented local entertainers. Fire Chief V. C. Walker said yesterday: "In behalf of all men of the fire department, I wish to thank everyone who helped in any way to the making of this year's picnic celebration a success. Particularly are we grateful to those who served on committees and worked untiringly with no compensation whatsoever."

After expenses are paid the firemen will realize a profit of less than $20 from this year's celebration. The Review was told by L. W. Tyson, treasurer of the volunteer organization.

Woman's work is never done!

WOMAN'S WORK IS NEVER DONE—that's not just idle talk. The average housewife works 63 hours a week. And she performs 70 different tasks in one day's work, which is proof positive (if anybody needs it!) that housekeeping is a rugged job!

Of course, today's housewife has many electric helpers to lend a hand and take much heavy work out of housework. But even the finest appliances need something else—low-cost, dependable electric service to give them life and usefulness.

That's why it's a compliment that West Texas housewives take electric service for granted. You flip a switch and know your electric helpers are ready.

You can take its economy for granted, too. For your electric service is just about the smallest item in your family budget. It costs less than a pack of cigarettes a day, yet it helps you sew, cook, clean, wash and iron, guards your health, cools your home, heats water, entertains you. What else gives you so much living value—at such little cost?

strator of veterans affairs for the Waco region where direct loans are made available are the following counties: Anderson, Bastrop, Bosque, Burleson, Burnet, Cherokee, Coleman, Comanche, Concho, Coryell, Erath, Falls, Fayette, Freestone, Hamilton, Hill, Lampasas, Lee, Leon, Limestone, Llano, Madison, Milam, Mills, Navarro, Robertson, Runnels, San Saba and Wil-lamson.

Conditions for Eligibility
In addition to location in the designated areas, the following conditions must be met:
1. The veteran must not previously have used any part of his GI loan guaranty entitlement.
2. The loan may not exceed $10-000.
3. The veteran must be a satisfactory credit risk, and the monthly payments on his mortgage must bear a proper relationship to his income.
4. He must show that he is unable to obtain four per cent financing from other sources, including loans from the secretary of agriculture in the case of farm housing.

30 Years to Repay Loan
As in the case of other GI loans,
the Veterans Administration direct loan bears four per cent interest, may be made repayable over a period up to 30 years, and the veteran receives a gratuity credit of four per cent of the amount which ordinarily would have been guaranteed by Veterans Administration, up to a maximum of $160.
Veterans who wish to apply for a direct home loan in the Waco region should write to the Loan Guaranty Officer, Veterans Administration Regional Office, Waco, Texas, stating the location and price of the property and the amount of the loan which will be required to finance the purchase or construction of the home and the Veterans Administration will supply the required forms for making the application.

Veterans Administration stressed that the mere submission of an application for a direct loan does not assure that it will be granted even if the property desired is in a designated area. Both the property and the credit of the veteran will have to meet Veterans Administration standards. Veterans should not invest in land or maaterials or make a deposit on the assumption that he will receive a direct loan. Every applicant should wait until he hears from the Veterans Administration regional office handling his application.

A limited amount of funds has been allotted to the Waco office to assist veterans in the Central Texas counties mentioned.

Mrs. Ann Poling, 609 Delaware St., Indianapolis, Indiana, who was suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron, and Niacin, smiles as she pours herself another cup of coffee. Mrs.
Poling says life lately is like it used to be years ago... "that is,
of course, since I've been taking HADACOL." She can't get over what a difference HADACOL has made in her outlook on life.

Mrs. Poling says: "Three months ago a good friend of mine told me about HADACOL—she knew how much stomach distress I have had. Any type of food that was fried or that had acid in it I just couldn't eat. It affected my sleep, too. In fact, I couldn't have been in a worse condition. When I ate what I wanted to I felt miserable and when I didn't eat these things—I didn't have a proper diet and still felt bad. Then, when I started taking HADACOL—I felt better immediately. I've got a bottle in the house now—and will continue to keep HADACOL from now on. I have told many folks about HADACOL—and they all thank me for telling them about HADACOL. They all have gotten wonderful results from HADACOL like I have. Now I eat anything I want and get a good night's sleep. I can't praise HADACOL enough."

HADACOL Can Help You, Too!
... as it has helped thousands of others whose systems lacked Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin.
Yes, even hundreds of doctors have recommended HADACOL to their patients. The HADACOL formula is so effective for stomach distress, nervousness, insomnia, constipation, aches and pains of neuritis, and a general run-down condition caused by such deficiencies.

Make Up Your Mind
... to give HADACOL a chance to help you, as it has helped countless thousands of others. Remember, there are no substitutes for HADACOL. Always insist on the genuine HADACOL. No risk involved. Buy a bottle of HADA-COL, either the trial size, $1.25,
or the large family or hospital size, $3.50, and if HADACOL does not help you your money will be refunded.

Since it is impossible to see each of you personally, I am using this method to thank you for the vote given me on July 22, and ask your continued support in the runoff election to be held on August 26.

Sincerely,
B. C. Chrisman

TO THE PEOPLE OF CROSS PLAINS AND SURROUNDING AREAS:

I wish to express my deep appreciation for the fine support given in my behalf in the recent primary election. Although with strong opposition and not having lived here but some two years I am proud of the votes given me. The race was lost in counted votes, however, I have the satisfaction of knowing each vote cast for me was each individuals desire.

My family and I sincerely enjoyed living in Cross Plains the two years we were there and the excellent vote shows us we made many friends in that short time.

Again I say thank you for your friendship and your vote.

Fourth House Goes Up In New Addition

Another new house is now being built in the Edgewood addition to the city of Cross Plains. It is to be a four room and bath structure.

Federal Housing Administration approval is now being secured for two more dwellings, and construction of these will likely get underway within the next week or 10 days.

Three houses are already completed in the addition.

George Steakley, president of the Key City Builders, the firm conducting the development, told the Review last week that he expected between 25 and 30 houses to eventually be built in the subdivision.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Booth and Mrs. Cordie Booth were visitors in Kerrville last Saturday.

More Accidents At Home Than Any One Other Single Place

Your home is the top rated accident trap. At least, so say safety experts. But you can make it a less dangerous place with a few simple precautions recommended by Texas State College for Women physics director, Albert Ford.

You may live longer if you pay attention to Professor Ford's advice and don't use a chair for a stepladder; permit marbles, skates, cars and other small toys on floors or steps or have throw rugs on waxed floors.

You can also improve your chances for long life and good health by grounding such electrical appliances as mixers, washing machines, and refrigerators to a cold water pipe to prevent shock; by periodically examining wall plugs and extension cords and by keeping available an emergency supply of spare fuses of proper amperage.

"While you are at it," Ford says, "check those gas jets regularly. All this sounds very commonplace," Ford admits, "but a lot of people get hurt or killed for failure to take such simple precautions."

Mrs. John Ivey, of Penwell, visited friends and relatives in Cross Plains and Cottonwood this week.

Mrs. Eva Huntington and daughter, Patti Sue, and sons, B. W., of South Texas, and M. W. and wife and children, of Waco, visited friends and relatives here last week.

Up or Down?

Failure To Sign For Draft Will Bring Severe Penalty

Severe penalties are provided by law against men who fail to register with their Selective Service Board upon reaching the age of 18 years. Georgia Singletary, clerk of the Taylor-Callahan board, said:

"I have reason to believe that there are many of these youths who are not registering as required," she asserted.

"They are not to receive any official notice of the necessity of their registering, but are required by law to take care of that themselves when they reach 18 years of age. They must register within five days after their 18th birthday."

Miss Singletary said the law also requires employers to give workers sufficient time off from their jobs to register.

Office hours of the Taylor-Callahan board—located in Room 301 of the Abilene post office building—are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. The office is not open on Saturday.

The clerk also reminded registrants that the office cannot take changes of address over the telephone.

She said registrants remain under the jurisdiction of the boards at which they originally registered and should report any change of status or change of address to those boards.

Only men born on or since September 1, 1922, are required to register. They must register regardless of whether they are members of the National Guard or a military reserve organization.

High Quality Eggs In Strong Demand

College Station—In many areas in Texas this summer, egg producers will have an opportunity to take advantage of the better prices offered for quality eggs. According to F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist of Texas A&M College, the egg grading programs in these areas are showing just how important environment, especially heat and humidity, are to the production and marketing of quality eggs.

The temperature of the freshly laid egg, he says is above 100 degrees Fahrenheit and if quality is to be maintained, rapid and thorough cooling of the fresh egg is a must. Beanblossom points out that eggs will cool from 100 degrees Fahrenheit to 50 degrees Fahrenheit in three hours when they are spread out on a wire tray. It will take five hours for them to cool, if held in a wire egg basket, 12 hours when held in solid nails and 18 to 20 hours when held in an egg case.

Here is what excess heat does to egg quality. He says eggs 100 days old may be better than some eggs that are only three days old because eggs held at 88.6 degrees F. drop to "B" grade in three days or less. Eggs held at 77 degrees F. will usually hold up for at least eight days; when held at 45 degrees F., they retained their top quality for 100 days. This, he says, clearly indicates that age does not affect the quality of eggs as directly nor as rapidly as does the environment the egg receives.

RAIN DELAYS PEANUT HARVEST

Rain delayed peanut harvesting in South Texas this week but helped growing crops, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration.

Demand for peanuts was active and markets turned stronger. There were no reports of shellers starting to shell light supplies of new crop peanuts harvested during the previous week in South Texas. Offerings of old crop peanuts were light and many mills withdrew quotations.

Shelled Spanish peanuts brought mostly 17½ cents a pound for No. 1 grades. Few sales went up to 17½ and 18 cents.

Crop conditions were generally favorable in the country's southeastern and Virginia-Carolina sections.

Light supplies of peanut meal and oil also found active demand. Markets strengthened to parallel a generally stronger tone in oil-seed, feed and fats and oils market.

Scattered sales of 41 per cent protein content peanut meal ranged from $77 to $83 a ton, f.o.b., south-west mills. One tank of prime crude peanut oil sold at 16¼ cents a pound.

Sabanno H. D. Club In Recent Meeting

(contributed)
 The Sabanno Home Demonstration Club met last Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Truett Dawkins. The agent, Miss Ethel Woodard, met with us. We all recited the club pledge together.

Eight members answered the roll call. Mrs. Dawkins read the minutes of last meeting.

Our club is sponsoring an ice cream supper next Thursday night, July 27, at Sabanno to raise money to help support Sally Hicks who is to represent our club at the "Old Rip" Horned Frog Derby in Eastland August 12.

Some unfinished business was cared for after which Mrs. Woodard gave a demonstration on baking spoon bread. Everyone should have or know this recipe. It's delicious.

Mrs. Dawkins served bottled drinks, sandwiches and cookies. After a visit we adjourned. Hope to have a good crowd at our ice cream supper.

Conservation For Animals Requested

Austin—The record number of 1950 summer school workshops on conservation education has produced a heavy response for teachers' literature, according to the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission.

Several score teachers attend the wildlife classes at various Texas higher education institutions have written to the Commission headquarters in Austin for literature.

This is primarily because of the appearance at the summer schools of the Supervisor of Wildlife Conservation Education for the Commission. He is spending most of his time now briefing the workshop classes in methods of teaching wildlife conservation in the various public school grades.

Extra momentum for the increased interest in conservation education recently was stimulated when Texas, through its Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, was cited nationally for its aggressive and thorough program.

Teachers writing to the Commission headquarters in Austin for the standard material are provided with a packet of data. Typical items in this assortment is a pamphlet with suggested procedures for teaching conservation of natural resources in the public schools, a description of a wildlife conservation unit using the Cardinal as an approach to the primary level, a brief chronology of wildlife in Texas, a list of conservation education literature, a two-act play "Mr. Farmer Learns a Lesson," a digest of the State Game and Fish laws, a description of major Texas lakes, and individual pages describing animal and bird species and showing their range in color on maps of the state.

One direct result of the increased interest in wildlife conservation according to the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, will be a surge of classroom emphasis when Texas youngsters return to school looking for new scholastic fields to conquer.

Texas Hunters May Shoot Antelope In State This Autumn

Austin—Antelope will be legal quarry for Texas hunters this fall for the first time since 1948, the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission ruled yesterday.

A nine day season, beginning October 2, and covering the area west of the Pecos River was approved. The number of permits was not set but the commission said regulations would be patterned on the 1948 special season when 703 permits were drawn by lot.

The commission also approved game and fish seasons for the 28 county Panhandle area. They call for a deer and turkey season from November 17 to 26 except in Armstrong, Randall and Briscoe counties, which were exempted.

The bag limit in the Panhandle was set at one buck and two gobblers.

In statewide action, the commission recommended a straight 45 day waterfowl season, beginning November 10. A split season has been the rule in recent years.
