Moraw Announces For Commissioner

A resident of Bailey County for the past 32 years, Rudolph Moraw, of the Needmore community, has announced his candidacy for the post of County Commissioner in Precinct Four.

Moraw moved to the Baileyboro community in 1938. He was with a gin there until 1940 when he farmed for a year. In 1941, he managed a gin at Goodland and moved to Needmore in 1945 where he was a gin manager for eight years. He is a farmer near Needmore where he and his wife, the former Janie Garth, make their home. They have three children, Elizabeth Wells and George Moraw, both of Houston, and Charles who has just returned home from West Texas State University to farm with his father. The Moraws also have two grandchildren, Richard and Donita Wells.

Rudolph Moraw is a member of Immaculate Conception of Mary Catholic Church, is active in Needmore community affairs, a member of the Muleshoe Roping Club and is Honorary chapter farmer member of the Muleshoe FFA.

He said of his candidacy: "If I am elected, I will strive for better roads and fair and impartial treatment for all the people, not only in Precinct Four, but the entire county. Wins To Three

NOW, FELLAS, THIS ONE IS MINE--Ducking down with the ball is a Mighty Mule, who has just rebounded while surrounded by a couple of Demons. The Mules and the Demons fought it out Friday night, with the Muleshoe team downing the Dumas team in a close game.

Roses Instead Of Brickbats For Police

Most of the time, an officer of the law is in for abuse, heaped and piled upon his shoulders. If he does the job he is hired to do, he is too strict and unfair, and if he doesn't do the job he is hired to do, he is either lazy or paid off or worse.

Occasionally, an officer will receive a "pat on the back" and a letter to Muleshoe City Police Chief Harold White received this week is no rule, but an exception, which proves that officers are appreciated, . . . sometimes.

The letter reads as follows: "Dear Harold:

On several occasions lately and through the past few months while working at night and passing the lumber yard, I have seen your patrolmen keeping a close watch on our property. Kenny and I wanted to say 'Thanks' to you and your patrolmen for a job well done.

Sincerely,
R.E. Shafer
Heathington Lumber Co."

You can believe that a proud chief of police has the letter posted on the bulletin board in the law enforcement center as such letters or any words of praise are few and far between.

the Muleshoe Mules were seen to beam each time they looked into the seating section at the Muleshoe-Dumas game. The entire home side of the stands was packed and many Muleshoe people were noted sitting on the visitor side of the gym. A student cheering section cheered, . . . and cheered. . . and cheered. The varsity cheerleaders exhibited an enthusiasm seldom seen in recent times.

With less than a minute and half left in the game, Dumas took the lead for the first time and the score was 57-56. Muleshoe tied up with them at 1:14 of the fourth and with 50 seconds left to play in the game it was Muleshoe 58-57. The Demons did not give up their tenacious hold and slipped by again with 23 seconds on the clock and led 59-58. In the final six seconds, the Mules pulled out with a field goal and free shot and finalized their win 62-59.

For the second game in a row, wildly cheering fans hit the basketball court immediately after the game and everyone congratulated everyone at random. Varsity basketball coach Raymond Schroeder

The banquet will be held Saturday, February 28 in the Muleshoe High School cafeteria. Tickets will be available to students at $1.25 per plate. Entertainment will be provided, and the entertainment is said to be different than any presented to a Muleshoe group. Theme of the banquet will be kept a secret until the night it is held. Administrator Cites Reasons For Action

Doctors Object To Early Visitors Children Under 12 Not To Visit

With the recent hospital administration change at West Plains Memorial Hospital, the new administrator, Marshall Cook, is carrying out several things which were in the talking stages prior to the resignation of Administrator Eddie Faust.

The first thing will be a 'tightening up' of hospital visiting hour regulations. Administrator Cook said the visiting hours of 2-4 p.m. and 6-8 p.m. have not been stringently enforced in the past, but will be enforced strictly in the future. Cook said that no serious effort has been made in recent times to enforce the visiting rule regulation, which has long been posted in the halls of the hospital.

"A lot of people have made mornings," said Cook, "and this has caused doctors to object as it has become increasingly difficult for them to examine or talk to patients, for nurses to give baths and change beds, administer medications or treatment, and certainly takes from necessary rest for the patient."

He continued, "With almost all surgery being done in the mornings, the doctors said they find it objectionable to attempt to move surgical patients in and out of the operating room and down the halls due to the great number of early visitors."

"With the enforcement of the visiting hours, this does not mean there will not be extenuating circumstances, such as a parent needing to be with a small child or infant, and at times, a doctor will ask that a member of a patient's family be present at all times," added the administrator.

He said West Plains Memorial Hospital is asking that only two visitors enter a patient's room at a time, and stated that no children under the age of 12 years will be allowed in the patient area at any time. Cook emphasized that this is for the protection of the child as well as for the protection of the patient.

Members of the immediate family of any patient is asked to observe the visiting hour regulations unless otherwise instructed by the doctor of the patient.

Cook said they were not attempting to cause any difficulty

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

While in Lubbock last week three cotton-buying executives from the Southeast expressed concern that cotton producers on the High Plains might be on the verge of "backsliding".

"The High Plains is reported to have made substantial progress over the last few years toward producing uniform, known variety cotton in a range of staple lengths that we can use and depend on to perform consistently in our mills," said Ben Tipton, Vice President for Raw Material Purchases of Dan River Mills.

He added "That's why we're here," but went on to say he was appalled by the reports he had heard of farmers catching gin-run seed and of other indications farmers might be in a mood to abandon efforts to turn out a quality fiber.

Dan River is one of the nation's largest textile companies with six mills in Alabama, three in Virginia and two each in Georgia, North and South Carolina. The conversation took place in the office of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Tipton said "If the Plains expects to maintain our interest and the interest of other mills it will require a continuation and an increase in the attention paid to using pure seed of improved varieties, block ginning and quality control in general."

He commented specifically on planting seed, stressing that varietyally pure seed are a first and indispensable step in the production of uniform lint. "Growers," he said, "should always know the origin of their seed and the source should be as close to the breeder as possible to avoid varietal mixtures and the possibility of deterioration in varietal characteristics. And this holds true whatever the variety to be planted."

As others have done before him, Tipton characterized the demand for low quality cotton on the Plains in the current season as a supply-demand situation "which in all likelihood will be of a very temporary nature."

He went on to say "These year to year situations will occur, but year in and year out our mills and other mills will be looking for the most uniform, highest quality available, whether the staple length be 15's or inch and a sixteenth. And the area that can offer such cottons will be the area we'll send our buyers to."

Tipton was accompanied on his trip to Lubbock by his assistant, Ralph Hoisington and by Ashley Jewell, Manager of Dan River's Crystal Springs mill in Georgia.

Bob Poteet, Executive Vice President of the Lubbock Cotton Exchange, later told PCG that Tipton had asked one of the local merchants to buy for him a 100-bale lot of a given short-stapled variety. But at last report the merchant had not been able to locate such a lot that he could be sure was of the variety named.

Which, according to PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson, points up the fact that much progress is yet to be made before the Plains can consistently offer mills cotton known to be produced from varietyally pure seed and harvested and ginned in a manner to preserve lint purity.

Certainly there is no room for "backsliding" on progress already made. Textile mills are no different from other buyers -- they won't continue to shop where they don't find what they want.

It is no secret that Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin came into office with a decidated affinity for massive, whole-farm land retirement as the key to solving this nation's agricultural capacity to produce in excess of market demand.

Now, many are saying he has abandoned that philosophy. But a close look at his "set aside" approach brings on second thoughts.

His proposal to date has asked for unbridled authority to require, as a prerequisite to program participation and without compensation, that farmers take out of production or "set aside" from 25 to 50 percent of their grain sorghum base and from 50 to 100 percent of their domestic cotton allotment, which he prefers to call a "base" allotment.

Consider the possibilities under this proposition.

According to the U. S. Bureau of Census report for 1964, the latest available, Lubbock County has approximately 650,000 acres in farms. That's not just acreage in cotton and grain sorghum, but total acreage in farms.

The county has a grain sorghum base of about 255,000 acres according to the County ASCS office, and a cotton allotment of about 227,000 acres, 147,550 acres of which is now designated as the "domestic" allotment.

Assuming the Secretary required the minimum percentage of set aside acreage, he would be retiring from production 63,750 acres (25 percent of the grain sorghum base), plus 73,775 acres (50 percent of the domestic cotton allotment). That totals up to 137,525 acres taken out of production -- 21 percent of the total land in farms.

On the top side he asks for authority to retire 127,500 acres from grain sorghum and 147,550 acres from cotton. This would mean 275,050 idled acres in the county from which farmers could derive no income. And that's 42 percent of the land in Lubbock County farms.

In addition, there would be a set-aside requirement for wheat.

From these figures it would appear that the Secretary may have given up on the "whole farm" concept, but that "land retirement" is still very much on his mind. And taking out of production 21 percent or 42 percent or any in-between percentage of total farm acreage can surely be termed "massive" land retirement.

(Note: The story below was taken from the Thursday, January 29 issue of "The Plains Review", Plains, Texas newspaper.)

"At the Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Plains State Bank held in Plains, Texas on January 21, 1970 the Board of Directors was increased from six to seven and the following directors were elected for the coming year: R.M. Carothers, A.B. Carpenter, Glenn Cleveland, Roy Fitzgerald, John J. Kenderick, B.E. Loyd and Lee F. York. After the adjournment of the stockholders meeting the New Board of Directors made the following changes in the officials of the bank and they are: B.E. Loyd, President of the Plains State Bank since its beginning April 6, 1957 was elected to Chairman of the Board, and R.M. Carothers was elected President.

was heard to comment, "I couldn't feel any better if we had already won district." The comment was made as his team was showered and dressed and everyone was replaying the tight conference game.

Many of the varsity players chimed in with "Boy, it sure looked good to see all the people and hear them cheering for us."

Several of the boys commented that it was easier to play with the back-up support of local people.

As emotions were high, and referees called the game fairly close, four of the top Muleshoe players fouled out before the end of the game. Coach Schroeder, who has only a limited number of students on his team, played every player before the final buzzer sounded. Had the game lasted a few more minutes, with the high foul calls, the outcome could have been reversed, according to the coach.

The team traveled to Perryton Saturday for an afternoon game.

The administrator said many hospitals have gone to the locked door system, uniformed guards and pass systems. He commented that he was hopeful that with the cooperation of the local people, this would not be necessary in Muleshoe.

In an effort to utilize the personnel and nursing staff to best advantage at the hospital, a remodeling process is underway at this time. Where the former x-ray room was located near the front of the hospital, remodeling is progressing toward a central nursing station. The west wing nurse station and the east wing nurse station will be consolidated into one station and all shift nurses will operate out of the central station.

The administrator said this will facilitate patient care and enable more attention to be paid to those seriously ill patients who require special care. It will free the LVNs from the desk to move about for more efficient operation and to supervise the patients' care more closely.

There are some people who arouse our suspicions everytime they try to be friendly.

As of Thursday morning, the contributions totaled $2,800 which is slightly more than half of the minimum $4,500 needed for the necessary equipment.

The two recent purchases include a defibrillator and an automatic-start electrocardiograph machine. He said he was hopeful to add a nurses station monitor which will cost a minimum of $1,075 and possibly another mobile monitor for the patient which costs $784.

The first pieces of heart monitoring equipment were secured in December when B.H. 'Burel' Black entered the hospital after having a heart attack.

The administrator of the hospital said contributions will continue to be accepted for the heart monitor machine fund. They can be mailed or taken to the hospital and marked 'heart emergency fund.'

ENTRUST YOUR SILK & FORMAL WEAR TO LAMBERT'S.

We have the special skill and knowledge of fabrics to give your silks and formal wear that touch of perfection. We use the Sanitone Dry Cleaning Process to make whites whiter and colors brighter WITHOUT Dryclean Odors. Shown is Eva Gutierrez opening seams of a garment before finishing.

Lambert's can PERMANENTIZE your wedding gowns. Fabric experts advise against hanging, sealing, or exposing wedding gowns. Hanging will stretch fragile gowns. Sealing causes moisture (with changes in humidity). Exposing gowns to light and air are two chief causes of deterioration. A box is the best means to preserve a precious garment as an heirloom. Lambert Cleaners will clean, press, deodorize, sanitize, moth-proof, and protect your gown by storing it in a special box.

Ladies' Auxiliary Opens Membership Drive

Not yet three years old, the Ladies Auxiliary of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce has chalked up quite a list of accomplishments. True to its name (both of them), its only purpose is service to the community and everything the group does is for and through the Chamber of Commerce. Currently, the Ladies Auxiliary is seeking new members in order to widen the scope of its work and in order to be able to accomplish still more for the good of Muleshoe. Muleshoe Area Women's Service (MAWS) was organized May 25, 1967, with Mrs. Horace Hutton serving as the first chairman. The program of work and proposed projects in the beginning revolved around supporting the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce in its efforts to promote Muleshoe and the surrounding area. During 1967, MAWS was responsible for several parade projects and worked on the January, 1968 Chamber banquet.

Other officers serving with Mrs. Hutton were Mrs. Eddie Faust, vice chairman; Mrs. Vic Benedict, secretary; and advisors, Mrs. Don Harmon, Mrs. James Warren, Mrs. Robert Hunt, and Mrs. Royce Turner.

Mrs. Joe Pat Wagon was elected Chairman of MAWS for the year 1968. During the year, MAWS worked on the Memorial Day parade, July Fourth pageant, Christmas parade and program as well as the annual Chamber banquet. Also, the MAWS worked with the Chamber of Commerce on a campaign to "Clean-Up, paint-up and fix-up" the area in order that Muleshoe might be recognized as a "Blue Ribbon City". Recognition was received.

Serving with Mrs. Wagon that year were Mrs. Eddie Faust, vice chairman; Mrs. Robin Taylor, secretary; and advisors Mrs. Horace Hutton, Mrs. W.Q. Casey, Mrs. Thurman White and Mrs. J.G. Arnn.

1969 Chairman was Mrs. Wayne Williams. Again, the MAWS worked on a "Clean-up" campaign and gave awards for the "Yard of the Month".

In May, 1969, the organization changed its name to Ladies' Auxiliary of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce.

During the year, the Ladies' Auxiliary was helpful in various July Fourth activities and worked on an "Art Display" for the Fourth which proved quite successful. The Auxiliary worked on the Halloween and Christmas parades and were again responsible for the Chamber Banquet decorations and meal planning.

Working with Mrs. Williams were Mrs. John Young, vice chairman; Mrs. Robin Taylor, secretary-treasurer; assistant secretary, Mrs. Horace Hutton; and Mrs. Don Harmon, publicity chairman.

Elected chairman for the year 1970 is Mrs. Gid Howell. Vice Chairman is Miss Pat Keesee and Secretary-treasurer is Mrs. Bud Gilliland.

Plans for the year of 1970 are just beginning. First on the agenda is a Membership Drive headed by Miss Pat Keesee.

"The Ladies' Auxiliary is a supporting part of the Chamber of Commerce. There are numerous ways in which we, as ladies, can assist the Chamber of Commerce in supporting and promoting Muleshoe and our area. We would like to encourage and invite all ladies who are interested in our area to come to our meetings. With new ideas and assistance, we can help to make Muleshoe an even better place to live", said Miss Keesee.

Dues are $12.00 per year. Meetings are held on the fourth Tuesday of each month from 12:00 to 1:00 a.m., usually at the Corral Restaurant.

THE PRIZE....Mrs. Ronnie Spies displays the Valentine candy, complete with $20.00 attached, which Jaycee-Ettes will be giving away February 14 at 2:00 p.m. in Perry Bros. Variety Store. Chances are being sold by Jaycee-ette members and at Perry Bros. Mrs. Spies, chairman of the project, says the money earned by Jaycee-ettes will be used for civic projects of the Club.

Mrs. Gragg Leads Circle Study

Mrs. Keith Taylor was hostess to Joyce Hill Circle of United Methodist Church Wednesday afternoon.

Special guest at the meeting were Mrs. Byron Gwyn, the Circle's nominee for the DIANA Award given by ESA Sorority. Mrs. Gwyn was one of the five finalists in the contest.

Others attending were Mrs. Jack Rennels, Mrs. Reagan Cox, Mrs. Kenneth LaTue, Mrs. Marcia Gragg and the hostess.

The meeting was opened with the Prayer Circle, after which Mrs. Gragg presented the study on the 9th Chapter of Revelations.

She stressed the 20th and 21st verses of Rev. 9.

Quoting from the textbook, Mrs. Gragg said, "In spite of dramatic judgment inflicted by this invading military force, those who survive are declared to be unrepentant. Such is the hardness of the human heart, even though faced by worldwide destruction and judgment from God and a clear testimony of God's power to deal summarily with their human soul. They do not repent of the evil works of their hand".

The annual Sweetheart banquet of WSCS and WSG is to be February 11. Members are to bring wedding pictures of themselves, and a covered dish.

Because of the banquet, the next regular meeting has been changed to February 10, in the home of Mrs. Buddy Black.

A discussion was held concerning the attendance at General WSCS meetings. Joyce Hill Circle members pledged themselves to attend the February 3 meeting.

A meeting is to be held February 26 at 2:00 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Keith Taylor to prepare for the March general WSCS program, to be presented by Joyce Hill Circle.

The Circle decided to finance the baby sitting necessary for their members and to return the money advanced for this quarter.

A sharing time was held at the conclusion of the meeting, after which the hostess served coffee, iced tea and dessert.

YOU'RE ON THE LIST....Miss Pat Keesee, membership chairman, and Mrs. Gid Howell, chairman of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Chamber of Commerce look over a list of prospective members who will be contacted in the near future. The Auxiliary currently is conducting a membership drive among women of the Muleshoe area who are interested in the growth of the city and the surrounding trade territory.

That's how little we charge for a Volkswagen. Of course you don't get certain things with it. Like a drive shaft. (The engine's in the rear.) Or a radiator (It's air-cooled.)

Also, because a VW gets about 27 mpg, you don't get a whopping bill at the end of every month. Come in and take a look. We think you'll like what you see.

'What's Happening' In MHS Math Classes

Editorial

Spirit-'A Happening'

by Betty Harbin

Earlier in this year, a special tribute was paid every week to two people who had shown outstanding spirit concerning activities of Muleshoe High School. The program was discontinued at the end of football season. However, the editors of this page, having given the matter extra consideration, realize that many happenings in our active school deserve the attention and support of the entire student body. The sports program is on the rise once again and many other functions are moving in and out of the spotlight from time to time that need the backing of everyone. Realizing this, the editors will, beginning next week salute a boy and girl who have shown extra interest in promoting spirit concerning all happenings in Muleshoe High School.

Science Happenings Spark MHS Students

by David Henderson

Two University of California Professors Hannes Alfvén and Gustav Arrhenius, have proposed that man's next target in space should be one of the thousands of asteroids that orbit the sun between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter.

Asteroids were once thought to be debris of a planet which mysteriously broke apart. Now more scientists think that the debris are pre-planetary particles that did not form into a planet due to the powerful gravitational force of Jupiter. Most asteroids are only a few miles in diameter. They are also too small to have experienced geological activities that has hidden traces of early events on earth and other planets. The two scientists suggest that an expedition to one of these asteroids might find clues to the primordial history of the solar system.

The expedition would avoid many of the hardships of planetary exploration. The asteroids, traveling in eccentric orbits, occasionally pass millions of miles closer to earth than either Mars or Jupiter. There would be only a small need for fuel to land or blast off of the small asteroids. The gravitational pull would be so small that the spacecraft's exertion would be small.

Asteroid walks would be high adventure because of the weak gravity. A person could leap great distances at a time, and perhaps he could circumnavigate the asteroid within a few hours. With great leaps, a person might reach escape velocity and soar into space.

There is little time to lose in starting such an expedition.

In 1975, an asteroid will come within 14 million miles of the earth. It is 15 miles long and five miles wide and travels at only 5,600 mph relative to the earth.

However there is little doubt that NASA will have to pass up the opportunity because of criticism and budgetary cutbacks which were announced recently.

Seniors Name Candidates For Pageant

by Debra Hayes

Tuesday, January 20th, the Senior Class met for its regularly scheduled class meeting. Suggestions concerning the gift which the class of '70 will leave to the school were made and discussed.

Senior candidates for the annual beauty pageant were also selected. Candidates for "Most Beautiful" are Patti Camp, Dawna Locke, Melanie Precure, and Narssia Otwell. Chosen as candidates for "Most Handsome" were John Woodard, Leland Ferris, and Dennis Beene. There will be a run-off to choose the fourth candidate.

ROBERT H. FINCH

Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, commending the tobacco industry's decision to end all broadcast advertising. "The department has long felt, and I personally have shared the opinion, that television and radio advertising of cigarettes has a special impact upon young people."

The boys played an outstanding game against Hereford to defeat them in an overtime 45 to 41. At the end of the first quarter, trailing 12 to 11 it would have been easy to say that we just haven't got it tonight. Instead the boys retained their poise and came back the second quarter and outscored Hereford 20 to 5 to take a 21 to 17 halftime lead. This is one of the biggest thrill a coach can have to see a team not take "no" for an answer and come back like they did in the second quarter. This group of boys have more character and are more determined to do well than any team I've had. All of Muleshoe can be proud of the way these boys are representing us on the basketball court. They have gained a lot of respect not only for themselves but for the whole community.

Teachers Challenge Today's Students

Never in history have mathematics teachers faced greater challenges than those faced today. The cries of these times is for more and better trained mathematics student. In a great many ways the world's scientific and engineering progress in the years ahead depends upon the ability of today's mathematics teachers to meet this challenge by training our young people.

The learning of algebra is effective to the degree that its facts and procedures have meaning to those studying the subject. For this reason, an attempt is made to guide each student into developing basic rules when possible rather than memorizing them, thus leading to a better understanding to mathematics. A mathematical vocabulary is used to reinforce correct terminology. Special emphasis is put upon problem solving, including intelligent reading and checking results. A spiral arrangement of topics is presented, permitting the student to meet topics again and again. This procedure gradually deepens his understanding of the topics covered. Filmstrips, cardboard cut-outs, and the overhead projector are some of the visual aids used to reinforce certain basic concepts. In order to reinforce understanding, facts and procedures learning must be followed by practice. This is true in any endeavor, and particularly in mathematics. The material covered in Algebra I provides a basic understanding of Algebraic concepts, thus permitting each student to continue through Alg. II with greater ease.

The basic course in Algebra I consists of the following topics:

1. Numbers and Number Relations.

'Spirit' Talked By Juniors During Meeting

by Nedra Woodard
Bonnie Chandler gave the junior class a "SPIRIT" talk, and if that doesn't jar some of the juniors into showing some spirit, I don't know what will.

The first, and only, most important order of business attended to by the junior class in their meeting Thursday was an energetic "pep" talk given by a spirited Miss Bonnie Chandler. She urged her classmates to show spirit for their school and that, they did.

2. Mathematical Sentences.
3. Formulas
4. Positive and Negative Numbers
5. Solving Equations
6. Operations with Polynomials
7. Graphs
8. Factoring
9. Fractions and Fractional Equations
10. Powers, Roots and Radicals

The course in Algebra II consists of a review by each student of the topics covered in Algebra I, and then applying his knowledge and skill in the use of these topics to take up the following new concepts:

1. Functional Relations, Graphs, and Linear Functions
2. Systems of Linear Equations.
3. Ratio, Proportion, and Variation
4. Exponents, Radicals, and Imaginaries
5. Quadratic Functions and Equations
6. Progressions
7. The Binomial Theorem
8. Determinants

To provide for individual differences, many students who have a basic understanding of mathematical concepts are working at their own individual rates. Each student sets his own pace, working at a topic until he feels he is ready to move on to the next. An assignment sheet is given each student as he begins a new chapter. Included in the assignment sheets are explanations of any material which may be difficult. When the chapter's work is completed, the student takes a comprehensive examination over that chapter's work. Thus a student who plans to go into math or science as a career has an opportunity to have an introduction to advanced topics, such as calculus and Trig if he works ahead.

In further providing for individual differences, a course in Related Math II is offered to those students who are exceptionally weak in Mathematics. This course offers most of the basic concepts presented in the Algebra I course, but is presented at a slower rate.

FAMILIAR TUNE

It is so soothing, comforting, and pleasing to listen to our favorite tunes when played by capable artists. These tunes can make our minds wander back to pleasant memories of days gone by, and also awake us to new joys. Each Sunday we have the opportunity to be thrilled by the preaching of God's word, and the story of God's great love for us. Attend church Sunday and enjoy worshipping God with others.

NO APPOINTMENT NECESSARY

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Think about it. Your biggest complaint about washday is probably the clothesline routine. With a family, it gets to be a hang up. You can spend a big part of your life hanging out T-shirts, mini-skirts and Hubby's socks. And sheets, and jackets, sweaters, bedspreads... even curtains. Not to mention the unmentionables.

You don't like lifting, lugging and wrestling loads of heavy, wet wash to the backyard. Then there's always the weather. Now's the time to do something about this bundle of problems with a GAS clothes dryer. A gas dryer does five loads of clothes for the price of one load in an electric dryer. So, dry up with gas.
