Rain Showers Give Area Places Boost

Showers have roamed over the Cross Plains countryside leaving widely varying amounts of rainfall throughout the sector.

A good example of that is the Rowden community where 2.75 inches were recorded at the Warren Price place Sunday while only .50 of an inch was gauged at the N. V. Gibbs home. Another shower fell in that area Monday afternoon.

The small showers, which began to roam over this part of the state on Sunday, would dump heavy amounts of rain on part of a community, and leave another part almost totally dry. There has, however, been no reported threatening weather with the clouds. Where the moisture has fallen it will benefit the crops and pastures.

Another example of the varying of amounts of moisture was in the Cottonwood sector where totals on Monday ranged from 2.20 inches in downtown Cottonwood to about .60 of an inch in another part of the community. D. R. McInnis, four miles northwest of the community, reported 1.60 on Monday.

It was reported here Monday that Burkett received 3.25 inches Sunday, but Freeda Burkett, Review correspondent there, said the dry weather there was broken when something over 2.50 inches was measured. Roger Watson, who has a lease a few miles north of Burkett, reported he got 2.00 inches Sunday.

Evelyn Coker, Sabanno correspondent, reports over one inch to a little less fell in that area.

The J. T. Beggs farm had received 1.50 inches by Monday morning, and got another inch that afternoon.

Nathna Foster at Atwell reported .80 of an inch on Monday morning, and totals in Cross Cut ranged from .50 of an inch at the O. B. Byrd place to Mrs. Lee Byrd's .30 of an inch.

Cross Plains netted a total of .50 of an inch from light showers Sunday, Monday and Tuesday morning. Cloudy weather Tuesday and cool temperatures reminded that the fall season will be approaching.

The .50 of an inch added to the .17 of an inch received previously in the month made the August total stand at .67 of an inch. The year's aggregate stood at 19.04 inches at noon Tuesday.

Mrs. Strickland has long been associated with the post office at Burkett.

NAME IS CORRECTED IN RECENT CEMETERY STORY

In the story printed in the August 5, 1981, issue of the Review, about donations to the Cross Cut Cemetery a memorial gift of $10 was listed as coming from Mary Dell Moore in memory of Jonathan Swift.

The name should have been Jonathan Smith, and should have read, in part, . . . and a memorial gift of $10 for Jonathan Smith from Mary Dell Moore.

The Lord has a job for us
But we have so much to do
We ask Him to get someone else
Or wait till we get through.
Whenever the Lord has a job,
We shouldn't try to shirk.
We should drop whatever we have on hand to do the good Lord's work.
Our affairs can run along
And wait till we get through,
Because there is no one else
That can do the work
The Lord lays out for you.

Ringhoffer-Combs Vows Said In Baptist Church At Baird

Karen Kail Ringhoffer and Johnny Doyle Combs were united in marriage Saturday, August 3, 1981, in the First Baptist Church of Baird with the bridegroom's father officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Ringhoffer of Baird. The Rev. and Mrs. Doyle K. Combs of Grand Prairie are the parents of the bridegroom.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents.

The organist was Mrs. Vera Peek. The pianist was Miss Diane Davis of Boling. Miss Davis also sang "God Has Chosen You for Me." Miss Nancy Arth of College Station sang "The Wedding Song," "The Lord's Prayer," and "More."

Colleen Townsend of Rule was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Pam Burns Honea of Moody and Sherri Combs of Grand Prairie, sister of the bridegroom.

Beth Ringhoffer and Karen Park lighted candles.

Kyle Kayle of College Station was best man. Groomsmen were Skip Landis of Fort Worth, and the bride's brother, Jay Ringhoffer of Jacksboro.

Seating guests were Stan Blair of Mission and Brad Burgess of Fort Worth.

The bride chose a dress of white organza over taffeta, styled with an empire waistline and chapel-length train trimmed with lace around the bottom. There were lace appliques on the sleeves, bodice and accenting the Queen Anne neckline. The mantilla was outlined in lace applique. She carried a cascade of yellow silk peonies and freesia. For something old the bride carried a handkerchief that was her grandmother Montgomery's. Something new was her bridal gown. Something borrowed was a string of pearls belonging to Mrs. Robert Park and something blue was the traditional blue garter.

The bridegroom chose white tails with a white tucked shirt.

The bride's attendants and candlelighters wore dresses of yellow promise satin styled with an empire waist sheer overblouse. They carried a long-stem yellow peony with brown forget-me-nots and yellow streamers.

The groomsmen wore brown tuxedos trimmed in dark brown velvet and white shirts with brown edged ruffles.

Mrs. Jay Ringhoffer registered guests. Serving at the bride's table were Miss Sheila Smauley and Mrs. Terry Hunter. Mrs. Brenda Waters and Mrs. Jay Ringhoffer served at the groom's table. Sharon and Brenda Park passed out rice bags.

Members of the house party were Mrs. Bill Cason, Mrs. Emil Ringhoffer Jr., Mrs. Robert Park, Mrs. James Grant and Mrs. Darlene King.

Parents of the bride hosted the reception in fellowship hall of the church.

The bridegroom's parents were hosts for the rehearsal dinner in fellowship hall.

The bride chose a white linen dress with white accessories for their wedding trip to Austin. Following the trip the couple will live in College Station.

A graduate of Baird High School the bride attended Angelo State University one year and received a B.S. degree in horticulture from Texas A. & M. University. She is employed with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in College Station.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Boling High School, Newgulf, and is a senior civil engineering student at Texas A. & M. He is employed by R. B. Butler Construction Company in Bryan.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ringhoffer of Cross Plains and the late Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Montgomery.

The good word is Rain! We are so thankful. We in this area received from over an inch of rain to a little less, but it was so good. It had rained all around us so many times that we dared to think we were going to receive any, when we began to hear the thunder our hopes were fulfilled. Reports indicate that Burkett received four inches or more.

Chris and Jody Brown were overnight guests of Matt Strickland on Friday. Jerry and Linda Strickland and Matt visited the Bill Stricklands on Sunday afternoon.

Visiting the Jeff Cokers on Saturday were Ethel Collier and sons Darrell and Jason. Brent Key and Jeff visited on Sunday afternoon.

Truit and Oddie Dawkins attended the Annual Comanche County Meeting in Comanche. Going with them were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Pettiet. Oddie visited her sister and her daughter Glenda of Cisco on Thursday. Other visitors in their home were Jack Smith, Ruby Booth and Fred Phillips. Oddie was to see her doctor in Abilene this Monday morning. We hope she will receive a good report.

Alma and Josie Morris had as visitors this week Laquitta Rankin, Mrs. Truitt Parsons and Mrs. Sylvia Brown and Tamara. Alma is to see an eye specialist in Abilene this week. We hope he can help her for it is so bad to want to read and can't. So good luck, Alma.

Nora Green's brother, Bill Luttrell and wife of Abilene, visited in their home this past week. Nora reported that she has spent a few days with Jim and Rose in Clyde as Rose hasn't been feeling well. We do hope she can get to feeling better real soon. We know that to feel well is the greatest gift of all.

A few words for thought:

"Sticky Fingers"
Grandma is like a sunny day. Complaints I've never heard her say. Our fingerprints are on her wall, and on the mirror in the hall. "Go wash your hands," we hear from mother, but grandma says, "Oh, don't bother. It shows my darlings have been here, which makes each print so very dear. I'm happy when they all come, to dirty my house and then some. When you're a grandma, daughter dear, you'll understand my feelings clear. Sticky fingers mean they're fine, and growing like a flowering vine."

The $5,015 street maintainer recently purchased by the city of Cross Plains will be shipped from Indianapolis, Ind., in October, city officials were assured by Adams Machinery Co., manufacturers.

Visitors with the Kenneth Brooks this week were her mother, Letha Moore, and an aunt, Edna McCombs, both of Fairchild. Lou was in Brownwood on business Friday.

There was a surprise wedding last week at Bryan of Richard Taff of Pioneer and Shelley Andrews of Cross Plains. We wish this happy pair a long, satisfying life. Her aunt, Vinita Robertson, spent several days with the Taffs last week. The two women went to Breckenridge and Baird on a shopping tour. Mrs. Mikeal Lyn Moore

Richardson - Moore Vows Said In Church At Winters

Dana Kay Richardson and Mikeal Lyn Moore were married Saturday, August 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Winters. Larry Keene of Winters performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Louis Richardson of Rising Star and Mrs. Dolores Magee of Odessa. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Moore of Winters.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a candlelight satin gown overlaid with chiffon and embroidered lace. She wore a matching lace hat with a floor-length veil. She carried a bouquet of orchids and candlelight silk flowers. For something old she wore the gold wedding band of her grandmother, the late Mrs. J. L. Byrd of Cross Cut. Something new was her gown. She borrowed from her aunt, Mrs. A. B. Hubbard of Odessa, a lavalier that had also belonged to her grandmother. The necklace had been worn by her grandmother and mother at their weddings. The traditional blue garter was handmade by Mrs. C. M. Garrett of Cross Plains.

The groom wore a candlelight tuxedo with a ruffled shirt. His boutonniere was a silk gardenia with baby's breath and fern.

Jill Richardson of Odessa, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Connie Ruggs of Abilene, Kim Smart of McCallen, and Rhonda James of Fort Worth. Their crowns were made of orchid lace with pleated shirts and matching jackets. Each one carried a candlelight lace fan.

John Parramore of Winters was best man. Groomsmen were Glen Osburn and Donald Rogers of Winters and Marvin Moore of San Angelo. They each wore a pale gray tuxedo and a white ruffled shirt.

Shanda Mabee of Odessa, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Nephew of the groom, Shannon Pammonis of Austin, served as ring bearer.

Traditional wedding music was provided by Susan Conner of Winters. Soloist Susan McAdams of Abilene sang "Longer" and "Dear Father."

Lighting the candles and serving as ushers were Jaime Hutchins of Odessa and Robert Englert of Winters. Guests were registered by Sylvia Moore of Austin.

Following the ceremony the parents of the bride hosted a reception in the fellowship hall of the church. A four-tiered wedding cake and pineapple punch were served by Tracy Dillard of Cross Plains, Carah Moody of San Angelo, Elizabeth Glass of Houston, and Edna Hibbitts of Midland. Rice was distributed by Angie and Leslie Magee of Odessa.

Earlier the bride was honored with a shower given by Gamma Sigma of McMurry College in Abilene. Showers were also given in the home of Mrs. Marvin Bedford of Winters and in the First United Methodist Church of Cross Plains.

Dana is a 1978 graduate of Cross Plains High School. She attended McMurry College and will continue working toward her physics degree at Angelo State University at San Angelo this fall.

Mike is a 1975 graduate of Winters High School and attended the University of Texas at Austin. He is employed with the production department of Exxon Company, U.S.A.

After a short wedding trip the couple will live in Bronte. They plan to honeymoon in the Caribbean this winter.

LAKEWOOD LADIES SLATE LUNCHEON FOR FRIDAY

A covered dish luncheon will be held at the clubhouse at Lakewood Recreation Center sponsored by the Lakewood Ladies Association Friday, Aug. 22. Starting time is 12 noon.

All ladies who are members of Lakewood are invited and urged to attend the monthly luncheon, which is usually held the third Friday of each month.

WE THANK YOU ALL!

The beautiful floral offering provided by you, the ones who D. C. coached in baseball while he was a part of the baseball program and the Cross Plains community, was deeply appreciated by us all. Your kind remembrance of him and us eased the grief we felt at his tragic passing. He loved you all and had fond memories of each of you. We're asking God through prayer to bless those who were thoughtful enough to remember our loved one. Thank you.

Coleman Rites For Burkett Known Lady

Funeral service was held at 2 p.m. Monday at Stevens Funeral Home Chapel in Coleman for Mrs. Mike (Leacy) Burroughs, 77, of Big Spring, formerly of Coleman, and a longtime resident of Coleman County in the Burkett area.

Mrs. Burroughs died at 2:47 p.m. Friday in a Lubbock hospital following surgery.

Officiating the final rites was the Rev. Fred Smith, a Baptist minister from Colorado City, and the Rev. Mike Patrick, pastor of the Baptist Temple in Big Spring, assisted. Burial was in Coleman Cemetery.

Born May 8, 1904, in San Saba County, she married Mike Burroughs Nov. 28, 1925, in Brownwood. The couple had lived at the Knox Ranch in Coleman County for 34 years where Mr. Burroughs was foreman. They moved to Coleman when he retired in 1966 and to Big Spring last April. She was a member of First Baptist Church and the Women's Missionary Union.

Mr. Burroughs preceded her in death in April.

Survivors include a son, Wade Burroughs of Big Spring; two sisters, Bamah Liddell of Tyler and Lila Livingston of Seattle, Wash.; four grandchildren, and several nieces and nephews.

Pallbearers were Bennie Porter Sr., Beck Knox, Jack Knox, Chris Knox and Clifford Pove.

Steve and John Marshall of Durango, Colo., and Kyle and Kim Marshall of Dallas are visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Marshall.

Burkett News Items

By Freeda Burkett

The dry weather was broken this weekend when we received something over 2.5 inches of rainfall on Sunday. Because of the good rains, further up toward the head of the Pecan Bayou it is filled up here and running on down toward Lake Brownwood. However, it is not overflowing much but it's always a time of rejoicing when the bayou fills up because it is the source of our city water supply.

The Burkett-Adams Cemetery Association reports recent donations totaling $327.09. Donors were Wayne Newton and the C. D. Baker estate $50.00 each; Mrs. A. N. Wells, $10.00; Garvice Boyle, $20.00; Mattie Webb estate $37.09; W. B. Bludworth, $25.00; Roy Don Biehl, $35.00, and one anonymous gift of $100.00.

These generous gifts are appreciated very much. Your donations and the many others each year are used to keep the cemetery clean and for the implements and other expenses necessary to do this job well.

We are sorry that Mrs. Orah Hoover is a patient at Overall Morris Memorial Hospital where she was taken last week. A friend, Mildred Jennings, called her and learned she was ill and had fallen on the floor by the telephone. She immediately went to see about her and called her sister and husband, Pete and Oma Walker, who asked her to call an ambulance while they drove the four or five miles out to Ora's home. Ora hasn't been feeling too well for a long time. I especially want to express appreciation for Mildred Jennings for the nice things she does for others. When someone is in need it seems Mildred is there.

Mrs. B. W. Adams returned home Sunday evening after spending eleven days attending her family reunion at Houston. She has six sisters and a brother. Two sisters were unable to attend but the others visited them. She reports a happy reunion though all the nephews and nieces and their children were not able to attend.

Mrs. Ona Evans and three friends, Mrs. Lottie Sooter, Mrs. Hazel Coursey, and Mrs. Eula Eldridge enjoyed a dutch treat lunch at a cafe after worship services in Cross Plains Sunday. They visited in the Osa and Edna Gattis home and then attended the Church of Christ worship service at Colonial Oaks Nursing Home in the afternoon.

Hulan Harris of Big Springs spent the week end with his mother, Mrs. Lillian Harris.

Mr. and Mrs. Brad Walker of Cross Plains are the parents of a 7-pound 11-ounce girl, Claireca Beth, born July 30. The baby is the first grandchild of Sterling and June Walker of Nacogdoches. The Sterling Walkers had made their home in Burkett several years before they moved to Nacogdoches, a few months ago where he is preaching for the Lamar Street Church of Christ. We are all happy for this new member of their family.

Bruce Adams and two friends and their wives were in Aransas Pass recently where they went deep-sea fishing and scuba diving. They had some serious and exciting experience when they launched one of their boats, and about six miles out in the Gulf their boat began to leak and it filled fast enough that they had to work very hard and fast to keep the water bailed out until they reached shore again. Bruce says they were indeed fortunate to keep the boat afloat. They exchanged boats and headed out to deep water again. The were all scuba divers so they enjoyed that very much and Bruce brought a 40-pound kingfish home with him. It was not learned how many fish they all caught.

Bevo and Dorothy Webb were in Fort Worth two weeks ago when Bevo had a regular check-up on his knees at Harris Memorial Hospital where he underwent surgery on them a year ago. He got a good report and has been able to be up and on his feet and feeling much better since recovery from the surgery.

B. W. Adams accompanied Bevo and Dorothy to Fort Worth for a check-up on his knee that has been very painful for a long time. His physician made an appointment for him to enter the hospital next week for an extensive check-up for other things that could relate to his leg and knee trouble. B. W. has suffered severely for a long time and we hope his trouble will be found and something can be done to help him.

Mr. and Mrs. Judy Whitley of San Saba honored her father, Lat Mountain, with a birthday dinner Sunday. Those helping him celebrate were Mrs. Mountain and Jack and Lovera Strickland of Burkett and Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Whitley and Michael Todd of San Saba.

Charlie Ferguson of Memphis, Tenn., visited his aunt and he son, Birdie and Gill Helms Tuesday of last week. Charlie is the son of the former Mary Lou Harris, and was en route to San Angelo to visit his aunts and other relatives.

Luncheon guests in the home of Virgil and Freeda Burkett Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Cowan Hutton of the Sabanna area and Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Jaggars of Cross Plains rural. They all attended the Church of Christ services at Colonial Oaks Home in the afternoon.

Mrs. Addie C. Rhoads of Coleman spent Saturday with her aunt, Mrs. Ona Evans.

Mrs. Yuna V. Burkett and Mrs. Mildred Jennings spent Saturday a week ago in Dallas where they attended sessions throughout the day at Christ for the Nation Retreat.

Mrs. Bernice Harmes of Grosvonor, a close friend of Mildred Jennings, is a patient in a San Angelo hospital for a heart problem. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Walker of San Angelo spent week end before last at their home here working around their place and visiting relatives and friends.

For City Police or Emergency Medical Service phone 725-6666.

Mrs. Eddie Brent Holden

Higginbottom-Holden Vows Said At Rising Star Aug. 15

Janna Lynette Higginbottom and Eddie Brent Holden were united in marriage Saturday Aug. 15, in the First Baptist Church in Rising Star, with the Rev. Williams officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeeRoy Higginbottom of Cross Plains, and the groom is the son of Eddie Holden of Comanche and Mrs. Kay Bark of Odessa.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of organza sheer, embellished with pearls on the neckline, which was high rise sheer neck, and bows of lace, circled low on an off-shouldered effect. All lace Victorian sleeves featured a cuff. There was a repeat of lace on the semi-flow skirt and chapel train with Florence ruffle marking the hemline. She carried a bouquet of pink roses, and blue and white carnations. Her something old and borrowed was her grandmother's brooch; something new was her wedding apparel, and something blue was her garter.

Leisa Rayburn served as maid of honor. The other bridesmaids were Leesa Higginbottom, sister of the bride; Vernetta Rhodes, and Jessie Stancil. They all wore long pink off-shoulder dresses trimmed with white lace. They each carried a long-stemmed blue carnation, and wore an initialed locket, gift of the bride. Charlesea Ethington registered guests.

The best man was Shannon Childers, and groomsmen were Joe McCollum, Mike Fraley, and David Watson. Eric White seated guests, and Kerry and Brian Holden, brothers of the groom, were candlelighters.

Wedding music was played by Becky Stone, and Dorothy Reynolds sang "I Pledge My Love"
