Rowden Sector News

By Mrs. N. V. Gibbs

The summer holiday, 4th of July was quietly spent by most families in the community. Some were busy in hay fields while some had gardening chores. Irish potatoes were being harvested on the Gibbs place. Potatoes did not have a good year. Many said their vines died before making, and potatoes seem to have spots, possibly caused by underground insects.

On Tuesday morning, dark clouds came up from the north east and all concentrated in one small area of the community. The down pour measured 5 inches at the Tony Steele house, then across the Gatson Wylie and Horner Moon places. Tanks in that area filled and the road north of the Rowden store has lost some of its topping.

Visitors in the N. V. Gibbs home Monday were Corrie Lou Darby of Baird and Buddie and Ruth Gibbs of California.

Many from the community attended the funeral of Raymond Gibbs Friday in Baird. Raymond had lived in the old place on the hill all of his life with the exception of a few years when he had employment in West Texas. He had moved to Baird to live with his sister, Corrie Lou Darby recently. He is survived by one other sister, Ruby Russell of the Baird nursing home and Buddie Gibbs of San Diego, Calif. and nieces and nephews. We extend our love to this family.

Those visiting in the Gene Mauldin home during the week were the Roland Mauldin family of Denton Valley, Bert Vickers and Scott McMellon of Abilene. Then on Thursday, Irene Masters of Snyder and daughter, Melinda Møninger of Lubbock came with material to make a quilted bedspread. The three ladies put it together and quilted the spread while there.

Visitors in the Robert Watson home during the week were Mrs. Cheryl Summers of Baird and Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Foster and Allie Montgomery of Cross Plains.

The Tony Steele family spent the 4th of July week end at Lake

Proctor with the Lee Jernigan family. Fishing was enjoyed there at the lake.

Members of the Gene Mauldin family celebrated birthdays recently were Mrs. Mauldin and grandson, Kenneth Mauldin. Each event was enjoyed in the Roland Mauldin home with special dinner and home made ice cream. Other visitors present were Mrs. N. L. Simmons of Abilene and Carolyn Burns and children Mark and Brigitte of Potosi.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hunter of Coleman visited Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Harris Friday night.

The Robert Watson family had supper with the Bill McMillan family in Clyde on the 4th of July.

Mrs. Gene Mauldin and Mrs. Roland Mauldin visited Mrs. LaRue Reeves in Abilene Wednesday.

Granvel and Parlee Gibbs drove to Houston Sunday where he will have a check up at M. D. Anderson clinic on Monday.

Mrs. Leila Gibbs had visitors from her family at the Baird rest home last week. Her sister, Elveda Sikes and Ernest Sikes of Abilene were by to see her earlier in the week.

LOCAL HOME HOSTS MANY VISITORS DURING WEEK

Visiting in the R. H. (Pete) Golson home this past week were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pope, Dwayne and Charlie Bill, of Prattville, Ark., Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Haller, Brian and Jana, of Sheridan, Ark., Glenn and Carolyn Golson and Chancey of Lawn, Billy Golson of Potosi, Kathy Syms of View and Bob and Sandy Golson of Cross Plains.

All of the above mentioned attended the Pope reunion in Balinger on Saturday.

Visitors in the Thomas Buckner home for the Fourth of July holidays included Mr. and Mrs. Brook Potter, Ron and Russ, of Midland, Phil Squyres and daughter, Chelsea Marie from Sherman Oakes, Calif. Chelsea will spend two weeks with her grandparents.

State Capital HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

Texas youthful new Land Commissioner Garry Mauro has shown in his first six months of office that he doesn't hide from controversy or new ideas.

In fact, sometimes he appears to be the only statewide elected official who thrives in the hot seat.

Last week, Mauro, who manages state oil lands among other duties, called for federal import tax on OPEC-produced oil to regulate domestic oil markets and energy independence from foreign influences.

When the press wrote headlines linking South Texas rancher Clinton Manges' multi-million dollar contributions to political candidates up and down the ballot, implying attempts to buy enormous amounts of political influence, most candidates who were recipients of Manges' money laid low until the storm abated.

Manges To Pay

Not Mauro two months after he took office, he closed a dubious loophole whereby Manges had avoided paying the state close to $1 million in royalties on state oil land he had leased from the previous Land Commissioner, Bob Armstrong.

Then he negotiated out of court with Manges, who agreed to pay the state the full amount of questionable money. Manges had given $60,000 to Mauro's campaign, but Mauro had vowed to the press that Manges would pay... and so would others who had used that loophole.

A few days later, Mauro announced that powerful Exxon Corp. had also agreed to reimburse the state $4 million in cash, plus other concessions in out of court settlement of a dispute over a 50-year-old lease of land on Manges ranch.

The Manges and Exxon money goes into the Permanent School Fund, the interest on which pays for much of the Texas public education system.

Mattox Probe

The Travis County District Attorney, the man who prosecutes state officials accused of any wrongdoing, announced he will investigate Texas Atty. Gen. Jim Mattox's campaign finances.

The DA, Ronnie Earle, caught some flek earlier this year for not investigating Speaker Gib Lewis' failure to disclose several financial dealings. Lewis pleaded no contest and paid a fine, and, it turned out, the DA was also remiss in his financial reporting and also paid a small fine.

Other missteps by him have prompted the Travis County grand jury to act independently, so Earle is now under the gun to make a thorough probe of Mattox.

Human Rights Commission Governor Mark White last week signed into law the first bill creating the Texas Commission on Human Rights.

The commission which was won in the recent special session by a coalition of minority and liberal legislators who had threatened to kill the much-needed state brucellosis testing bill, allows the state to take over discrimination complaints involving employment.

Those complaints are now handled by a federal agency, but will be turned over to the new state agency after Sept. 1.

Behind On Appointments

White will appoint six commissioners to the new agency, but curiously enough, he has neither replaced nor reappointed about 200 officials whose terms have ended since he took office in January. Already he is being unfavorably compared with his predecessor, Bill Clements, who was timely with his appointments, and compared with former Gov. Dolph Briscoe who was considered consistently late in naming new people.

"Resigned" DPS Officers

Reporters digging into Department of Public Safety files last week that many state troopers apparently guilty of misconduct are not charged but allowed to resign instead.

The honorable resignation masks cases of alleged wrongdoing that records show includes rape, tampering with government records and civil rights violations in 17 instances.

DPS director Col. Jim Adams told reporters the resignation is favored because it gets the trooper off the payroll quicker and diminishes the chances of a lawsuit.

M. F. Dill Will Be Honored On Sunday

M. F. (Merritt) Dill of Cross Plains will be honored with an open house on the occasion of his 65th birthday Sunday, July 17, from 2 to 4 p.m. at his home three miles north of Cross Plains on FM Road 83 (Cottonwood Highway).

The reception will be hosted by Fred Dill and family of Irving, one of two sons of the local Mr. and Mrs. Dill.

All friends and acquaintances of Mr. Dill are being invited to attend the open house, and call during the appointed hours. Both the hosts and the honoree ask no gifts, please.

Born July 20, 1898, near Rising Star, he married Suma Shook Sept. 15, 1917, in Rising Star. The two have lived at the present site 62 years, since January 1921.

MRS. BOB ROADY HAS MAJOR SURGERY FRIDAY

Cash Flow.

In 1803, America found herself up the river. The Mississippi, that is, that is, the mighty Mississippi was our only link to the sea. But the outlet in New Orleans belonged to France. So President Jefferson sent agents to Paris to negotiate for the addition of New Orleans. Surprisingly, Napoleon offered to sell the entire Louisiana Territory for only $15,000,000. And that included what is today Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Louisiana, Oklahoma, most of Minnesota, and parts of Wyoming and Colorado. Thanks to Americans taking stock in their new country by buying over $11,000,000 in government securities, we made the purchase. And doubled our size overnight. Today, Americans still take stock in their country by buying U.S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan. They know there's no safer way to save for an education, vacation or retirement. And they know that while they're helping themselves, they're helping America, too. So buy U.S. Savings Bonds. And help your cash flow into savings.

Take
stock

U.S. Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/4% the first year). Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

When you next call The Review, 725-6111, to place a classified ad, remember that words are your business. Words properly put together in an ad mean more phone calls and more sales for you. Follow the rules below and get more and faster results.

- Put in the address
Many out-of-town readers will write you, but will not spend money for a long distance call.
- Put in the phone number
Many readers will call you but will not find it convenient to come to your home or business.
- Avoid use of blind boxes
Avoid them if possible. They are difficult to answer and people prefer to deal directly.
- Put in the price, by all means
Surveys show that many people will not answer an ad unless the price is given.
- Keep the readers from guessing
On important details it is better to include them if they are relevant to a sale.
- Be available
If you advertise your phone and address, be sure you are not absent when the ad appears so as to accommodate the reader.
