Marching Buffalo Band Wins Return To State

By Wanda Flippin

"The Pride of Cross Plains, the Buffalo Marching Band," has again won the honor of going back to Austin to compete in state marching contests.

Band instructor, Mr. Ron Boley, took the band to Abilene last Tuesday, Nov. 1, where they again received a Division I Rating or Superb Rating.

Our band is great and has worked hard for all this year. The kids could not have done it without Mr. Boley. He deserves as much credit as they. He also deserves our thanks and appreciation.

We are going to need financial help for the band to go to Austin. They will be leaving Sunday morning, on the 13th of November, and will be competing Monday, Nov. 14.

They will take the support of not only our local business people but everyone who can and is willing to help out. Large or small donations are welcome.

To make a donation, anyone can contact Wanda Flippin at 725-6466, Connie Kirkham, president of the Band Booster Club, at 725-6500, Kay Horan at 725-6472 or any Band Booster Club member.

Friday, Nov. 11 is Veterans Day. Following is an answer to what Veterans Day is from a Veterans Administration News Letter.

Q—What is Veterans Day?

A—It is the day set aside by law during which the nation honors the sacrifice and service of its 29 million living veterans and millions of other veterans who have served and died in military uniform. Originally designated on November 11th to commemorate the end of World War I in 1918 and the signing of the Armistice on the "11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month" Armistice Day was re-designated Veterans Day after World War II to honor U. S. Veterans of all wars. In 1968, the federal observance of Veterans Day was changed to the fourth Monday in October. In 1978, it was returned by Congress to the traditional date of November 11th.

Coleman Girl Known Here Says Wedding Vows In Church

The First Presbyterian Church was the setting for the September tenth wedding of Leslie Ann Barr and I. G. Janca, III. Dr. Harry Sables of Gainsville and Rev. Steven Newton of Coleman performed a double ring ceremony at six o'clock in the evening.

Leslie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Barr of Coleman and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Barr of Cross Plains and Mrs. Maurine Barr of Coleman.

I. G. is the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Janca, II of Elgin, Texas and grandson of Mrs. Albina Janca of Austin.

Altar decorations included a white arch, flanked on each side with baskets of white flowers and standing white candelabras filled with white candles. Pews were marked with white wicker baskets holding red and white flowers highlighted with red satin bows and streamers. At the register table, the bride's book was placed before a white wicker basket of red and white flowers with red satin streamers inscribed "Leslie and I. G." Two red candles accented the arrangement. This table was attended by Mrs. Sylvia Edington of Coleman and Cindy Schmidt of Austin.

Mrs. Helen Jones, organist, accompanied Mrs. D'Ann Tisdale as she sang "Sun Rise, Sunset" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was escorted to the altar by her parents. Her white formal gown was fashioned in silk chiffon featuring a Queen Anne neckline, lace sleeves and bodice enhanced with pearls and iridescences. The full bouffant skirt featured a triple flounce trimmed in Chantilly lace that fell into a chapel length train.

To complete her bridal ensemble, Leslie chose a two-tiered fingertip veil of English illusion attached to a lace head-piece accented with pearls and iridescences. She selected a cascading bouquet of white silk roses encircled with white lace adorned with pearls and iridescences. White lace and satin ribbon streamers completed the design of the bouquet.

For something old, the bride wore a string of pearls, a gift on her eighteenth birthday from her aunt, Sandra Barr. For something new, her wedding gown, for something both blue and borrowed, a hankiechief belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. Maurine Barr, also carried on her wedding day by her aunt, Mrs. Jean Guilbeau of Lafayette, Louisiana.

Maid of honor was Cindy Sossomon of Fort Worth. Other bridal attendants were Sandra Barr of Coleman, the bride's aunt, Linda Janca of San Antonio, the groom's sister, Renea McMillon of Novice and Cheryl Moonen of Thornton.

While the organist played "Trumpet Voluntary", the bride's attendants entered the chapel wearing formal gowns of white moire' taffeta. Red satin sashes accented the waist. The dresses had long gathered skirts, and a fitted bodice with full elbow length sleeves. Each carried a white wicker basket decorated with red satin bows and streamers, filled with red tulips and white roses accented with baby's breath.

Best man was Dutch Short of Cameron. Groomsmen were Jody Barr of Coleman, brother of the bride, Neil Scott of Rising Star, Dave Schrock of Abilene and James Cato of Dumas.

The groom wore a white tuxedo with tails, white shirt and white double rose boutonniere. The groom's attendants wore black tuxedos with tails, white shirts, red bow ties and cummerbunds, and a red rose boutonniere. Mr. Barr and Mr. Janca wore black tuxedos, white shirts, black tie and a white rose boutonniere.

Jay Davis, head usher, seated guests and family members. He was assisted by Jody Barr and James Cato.

For her daughters wedding, Mrs. Barr chose a gold chiffon gown accented with gold beads on the bodice. She wore a gold corsage. Mrs. Janca wore a grey chiffon dress with a chiffon silver beaded jacket. Her flower was a white rose wrist corsage.

RECEPTION

The reception was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Barr at the Coleman Country Club. The bride's table, centered with a basket of white and silver candelabra, was laid with a tiered white lace cloth. The three tiered wedding cake was topped with white bells and decorated with cupids and white roses. The cake was served by Kathy Vaughan of Early while Viki Hambright served a fruit-flavored sparkling punch from a silver punch bowl. White chocolate mints and nuts were served in silver dishes. Assisting at the bride's table was Karen Bryant of Mozelle. Napkins were white embossed in silver with the couple's name and wedding date.

A two-tiered chocolate cake featuring a pair of white wedding bells was on the groom's table. The table was covered in white satin, adorned with a white wicker basket of red flowers and on each side there were red candles in silver candle holders, a gift from the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Janca of Austin. Coffee was served from a silver service belonging to the bride's grandmother, Mrs. C. A. Barr of Cross Plains.

Serving the groom's cake was Julie Gentry of Austin. Suzanne Ryan of Talpa poured coffee and Tracey Stepp of Justin assisted at the groom's table.

Pat Hambright, Sue Hemphill and Ellen Jo Johnson were house-party members.

Rice bags were passed out from a white wicker basket decorated with red ribbon bows and flowers.

Leslie was wearing a burgandy two-piece suit with burgandy accessories when the couple left for their wedding trip to South Padre Island. She is a graduate of Texas A & M University, majoring in agricultural journalism. I. G., a 1983 graduate of Texas A & M, is joining his father in farming and the Green Line Chemical Company of Elgin. The couple will live in Elgin.

REHEARSAL DINNER

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Janca, II, at the Gallery Restaurant in Coleman. Tables were covered with white cloths and decorated with white candles in brass candle sticks surrounded by white and red roses. The head table featured a brass candelabra decorated with red and white roses.

French-fried mushrooms, boiled shrimp and green salads were served as appetizers while baked potatoes, steaks and warm baked cherry and peach cobbler completed the meal. This was attended by the wedding party, ministers, parents, grandparents, organist and soloist.

BRIDESMAID'S LUNCHEON

A bridesmaid's luncheon was given by Maedelle Rodgers, Carol Parker and Neta Wilson at the home of Neta Wilson. A salad plate with cucumber sandwiches was served to the bride, her bridesmaids, aunts, mother, grandmothers, organist and soloist. A wedding day cake was prepared by the hostesses to complete the meal. For a remembrance of the party, Leslie was given the centerpiece, a wicker basket of red carnations. Bridal attendants were presented gifts from the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pancake and Brandi of St. Eustatius Isle, Netherlands Antilles visited here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lemoine Pancake and with other relatives and friends recently.

State Capital HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

(Intended for last week)

AUSTIN — Governor Mark White last week backed away from his previously stated intent to call an early session to raise teachers salaries.

Instead, White said the special session will be postponed until after the spring primary elections, when lawmakers may be more willing to enact the legislation he wants. As late as a month ago, he wanted to call lawmakers back to Austin just few weeks before the primary — an act tantamount to holding their feet to the political fire.

White's latest posture came on the heels of an Austin press conference announcement by Dallas computer millionaire H. Ross Perot, who predicted legislators would be too concerned with reelection to consider far-reaching education reforms and teacher pay raises.

Perot chairs the select committee studying Texas' public education system and expects to hand the Legislature a long list of reform recommendations when the panel completes its work.

Although White told reporters he agreed with Perot's opinion on the date of the special session, he didn't admit he has suffered yet another setback in his attempts to raise teachers salaries.

No Budgeting
 Perot's statement to the press carried this meaning; he and his committee will not be rushed to judgement, which is what White has tried to make them do. Several times the Governor has said publicly he wanted the panel to finish its work so he could call lawmakers early into special session.

White also wanted lawmakers to raise taxes to fund the pay raises last session, but the Legislature refused to budge despite his personal lobbying efforts. White pledged then to spend his own campaign funds for state-wide media to promote the pay raise, but he soon backed away from that vow.

By going along with Perot's directive, White is admitting that he still does not have the votes in the Legislature to raise taxes, a risky business right before primary elections. And, he was likely to make more than a handful of enemies if he forced lawmakers into that position.

Energy Conference

Texas Railroad Commissioner Mark Wallace in a letter to President Ronald Reagan called for a bipartisan national energy conference to outline steps "to secure America's energy future."

Wallace told Reagan the nation's energy situation is "equal to, if not worse" than the days of the Arab oil embargo of 1973.

He said the 350 million barrels of oil in the Strategic Petroleum Reserve would last only 10 weeks if foreign oil were cut off.

Wallace urged a return to a goal of energy self-sufficiency.

Grain Inquiry

Meanwhile, as West Texas counties struggle to recover from the devastating summer drought, Texas Agricultural Commissioner Jim Hightower and U. S. Sec. of Agriculture John Block showed no signs of ending their stalemate.

Hightower, a liberal Democrat, wants Block to release what he calls rotting grain stores to feed the cattle. Block, a Republican, says the grain is not rotting, but he won't fight federal legislation to disperse the grain to needy ranchers.

Block is trying to avoid dumping grain which would result in lower grain prices prior to a Reagan campaign year, and Hightower has waded in with a steady barrage of public criticisms which are at least partially designed to discredit Reagan's farm policy.

The bickering has gone on for weeks now, but U. S. Senator Lloyd Bentson last week called for an inquiry to see, ultimately, who is correct: Hightower, who charges that taxpayers are paying millions to store rotting grain, or Block, who says the grain is too valuable to use for feed.

Glenn vs. Mondale

Presidential hopeful Walter Mondale is winning the battle of endorsements by top Texas Democratic Party officials, but his chief opponent, John Glenn, is winning the fundraising by two-to-

SSI Payments For Children Available

Supplemental security income (SSI) payments can be made to disabled or blind children as well as to adults, Glyn Hemmons, Social Security district manager in Abilene said recently.

SSI is a federal program that provides a basic cash income to people 65 or over or blind or disabled who do not have much income and do not own much in the way of personal property. Although SSI is administered by Social Security, all payments are made with funds from general Treasury revenues, not Social Security taxes.

There is no age limit for SSI payments to people who are disabled or blind. Young children can qualify as well as people who are beyond 65.

For a child under 18 to be eligible, he or she must have an impairment comparable in severity to one which would prevent an adult from working for a year or more. Blindness is defined as central visual acuity of 20/200 or less in the better eye with glasses or restriction of the visual field to 20 degrees or less.

In addition to meeting the disability requirements, a child must also meet the income and resources tests to get payments. The parents' income and resources count toward the child's eligibility after certain allowances are made. Generally a person living in a public institution throughout a month cannot get SSI payments for that month. But people living in a publicly operated community residence serving no more than 16 people may be eligible.

The maximum federal SSI payment in the Lone Star State.

Glenn has raised over half a million dollars to date, and hopes to raise that much again at an Austin fundraiser in December.

Mondale, meanwhile, has garnered a majority of support from the State Democratic Executive Committee members and Party Chairman Bob Slagle. Since Texas will not have a presidential primary and will select its favorite to the party convention, Mondale's lead is no insignificant feat as far as Texas is concerned.

When winter comes, the temperature isn't the only thing that goes down. So does the nutritional level of your pasture grass.

Your cattle need extra help then. So let them graze on ACCO's range — a hard working line of supplemental feeds that cover the range from quality to economy.

Like 20% Paymaster or 21% Breeder Range Cubes. These are low fiber, highly digestible, high energy cubes especially adaptable for supplemental winter feeding. They're packed with phosphorus, trace minerals and vitamins A, D and E.

They contain 20,000 units of vitamin A in every pound. And they're available with either natural or equivalent protein.

So let ACCO feeds give your herd a hand this winter. If you've got the cattle, we've got the range.

Rising Star Beats Buffs On Single Bonus Points

Rising Star's Sam Scott successfully kicked three extra points last Friday to defeat the Cross Plains Buffaloes 21-18 in a District 8-A football game.

The victors opening the scoring in the first quarter when Lowell Bishop returned a 15-yard pass for a touchdown and quarterback Sam Scott kicked the point after for a 7-0 lead.

With 40 left in the initial period of play Cross Plains scored when cornerback Lance Clawson stole a wildcat aerial and returned it 71 yards untouched up the sideline for a touch-down. Clawson swiped the pass into the clear and outran pursuers. A pass fell incomplete on the two-point conversion attempt.

Rising Star went to the dressing rooms at halftime with a 14-6 lead when Scott capped a 74-yard drive by crossing the double string on a one-yard sneak with 6:09 left in the second period.

Friday's host increased their lead to 21-6 in the third when Bishop scored on a 20-yard run after the wildcats had blocked a punt at the Bison 20. Scott again kicked the point after for the 21-6 score.

Cross Plains put together a drive that carried to the Rising Star 4, primarily on the strength of a long pass from quarterback Devin Koenig to end Ronald Hilburn. Halfback Tommy Johnston carried in from four yards out. On a conversion pass, referees called that the Buffalo receiver was not in control of the ball as he went out of bounds.

With three minutes left Cross Plains tallied again on a 56-yard pass to Johnston who took the pass on the sideline and outran everyone on defense. For the third time a pass fell incomplete on the conversion attempt.

Buffaloes kicked deep, but did not hold the holds and Rising Star ran out the clock.

Tometa will end the 1983 football season for the Bisons here Friday with a District 8-A contest starting at 7:30 p.m.

The Hornets are reported to be "pretty" big and physical, owning a 5-4 season mark. They beat Blanket, but also lost to Goldthwaite, Gorman and Santa Anna.

Winterize your home for lower electric bills.

Follow Reddy's tips this winter to help you save money on your electric bills:

CALL YOUR HEATING SERVICE SPECIALIST NOW.

Have your heating unit checked NOW by a qualified specialist to put it into top operating condition. Not only will you minimize the possibility of a costly and uncomfortable breakdown in the middle of winter, you also will help to keep down home operating costs. Have it serviced early, before your serviceman or dealer has a waiting list.

SET YOUR THERMOSTAT AT 68 DEGREES OR LOWER.
Leave your thermostat at 68 degrees or lower in the winter during the daytime, and turn it down a few degrees when you retire at night.

ADD TO THE INSULATION IN YOUR CEILING AND WALLS.
Insulation comes in rolls, loose fill or batts. The "Resistance-value", or "R-value", indicates the ability of a material to keep heat from passing through it. The higher the "R-value", the more heat the insulation will keep inside in winter and outside in summer. Values up to R-30 in the ceiling and R-16 in the walls are recommended in these areas.

KEEP CAULKING AND WEATHERSTRIPPING IN GOOD SHAPE.
Sealing of cracks around doors, windows, pipes and wiring should be done to help you save on both heating and cooling costs. Polyurethane or similar caulking, plus felt or foam rubber products, come in easy-to-install form at most hardware stores and will help to draft-proof your home.

WINTERIZING YOUR HOME FOR ENERGY-EFFICIENCY WILL HELP YOU HAVE A MORE COMFORTABLE WINTER WITH LOWER ELECTRIC BILLS

"Give Me Your Roses" was a poem which appeared in this column on October 19, and did not give an author's name. I did not know who to credit it to since no author was mentioned on the copy I received. I have since found out that the poem was written by Mrs. Ethel Brown of the Pioneer community and she certainly deserves mention for the very meaningful poem. Ethel, your friends, one of which notified us, felt that it should be mentioned and I fully agree with them. Bless you for your talent.

Cash Flow.

In 1803, America found herself up the river. The Mississippi, that is, Valuable goods were being produced in the Midwest, and the mighty Mississippi was our only link to the sea. But the outlet in New Orleans belonged to France.

So President Jefferson sent agents to Paris to negotiate for the addition of New Orleans. Surprisingly, Napoleon offered to sell the entire Louisiana Territory for only $15,000,000.

And that included what is today Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Louisiana, Oklahoma, most of Minnesota, and parts of Wyoming and Colorado.

Thanks to Americans taking stock in their new country by buying over $11,000,000 in government securities, we made the purchase. And doubled our size overnight. Today, Americans still take stock in their country by buying U.S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan. They know there's no safer way to save for an education, vacation or retirement. And they know that while they're helping themselves, they're helping America, too. So buy U.S. Savings Bonds. And help your cash flow into savings.

Take stock in America.

U.S. Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.
