'Creative' Writing

By DON TABOR
Publisher

Out of the mouths of babes. Clyde Post Office staffer Amanda Waggoner the other day brought in an essay her sixth-grade son, Gabe, had written.

Like most moms, she thought it was pretty good creative writing, especially for a sixth-grader. His teacher, June Park, agreed in a note in the margin. They're right, it is, and it's reprinted below:

If I could hang a saying in every home, it would be the golden rule. It says: "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." If this were hung in every single home, maybe the world would be a little better than it is now. Then maybe the possibility of war with any other foreign country would be eliminated. Also, a much smaller problem might be solved. And I think it's one most all of us have heard of many times before.

It's the problem of brothers and sisters fighting. It is a chemical imbalance. You've heard of the saying "Vinegar and oil don't mix." Just put brothers instead of vinegar, sisters instead of oil, and instead of saying that they don't mix we say that they explode. Just like TNT. Well, if the golden rule were hung in every home, that would probably cease. Then there are the women. I just talked about brothers and sisters don't mix. Well!! Women and men don't mix either. Women are always losing their tempers and using the so-called "power" in their tears. They always try to soften up men into buying something for them. And then when a husband walks into the door with his paycheck, the wife absentmindedly says "Thank you, dear" and takes his paycheck right out of his tired hands. She rushes out the door and says "be back in a few hours, honey, dinner is in the microwave." If the golden rule were hung here, that would stop, too. Well, anyway, the golden rule (in my opinion) is a good thing to live by.

FINISH

(Mom interjected that the part in the essay about wives grabbing their husbands' paychecks and promptly spending them was, as far as her family is concerned, an example of "creative" writing in its finest form by her son.)

Brownie Troop Plans Rummage Sale Friday

The Brownie Troop is having a two-day Rummage Sale Friday and Saturday at the Cross Plains Oil Field Supply building in front of the Dairy Queen. The proceeds of the sale will be used to buy uniforms for approximately 35 girls.

All mothers of Brownies and anyone interested in supporting this project bring your items to Jeannett Oliver (two houses south of Buy-Rite on Main) by Wednesday, October 28. They are in need of household items, furniture, and nick nacks for the rummage sale. The sale will be inside so everyone is invited to come by and shop. For further information call Jeannett at 725-6761.

Please help the Brownies demonstrate pride in their Troop by securing the uniforms suggested by the dress code.

Former CP Man Helps In Rescue

Jim Reynolds, a detective for the Midland Police Department, was active in installing listening devices in the well and the additional hole drilled in the rescue attempt for Jessica McClure.

He stated that police equipment was used at first, but didn't really perform as expected. Volunteers brought additional equipment which was used more effectively.

Reynolds was involved with the men drilling the second hole relaying messages. He stated that the communications with Jessica were crucial in that they would determine the state of her health and well being.

"The volunteers who participated seemed to become so personally attached that they would not leave the scene until Jessica was removed," Reynolds remarked. He stated that he was glad to be a part of the rescue. He said he had never seen a volunteer effort of such magnitude, or people give of themselves so freely.

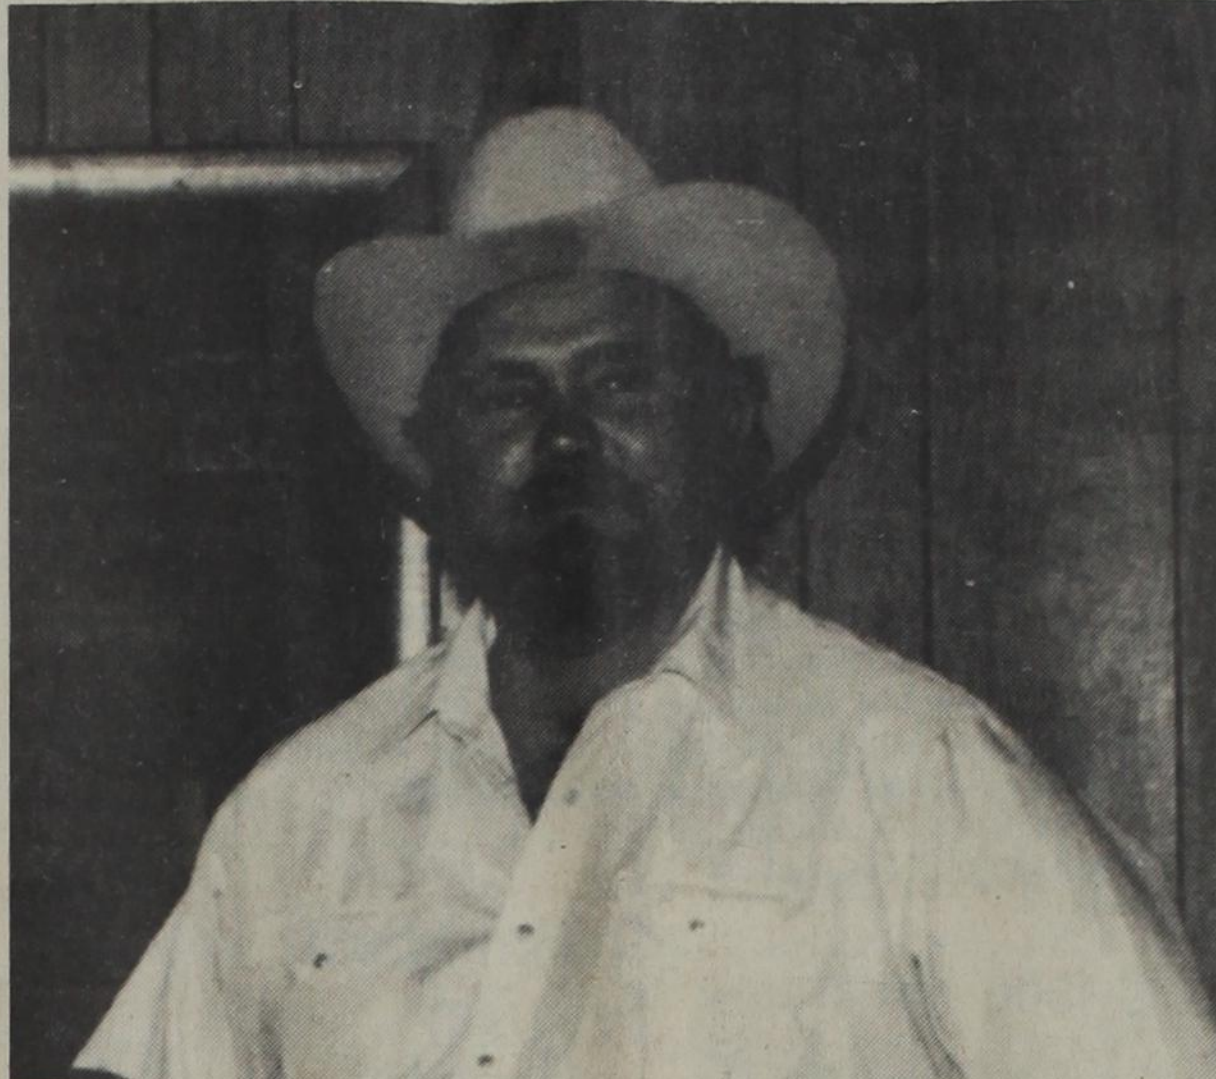

He is a former graduate of Cross Plains School, and has been a detective at Midland for seven years. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Reynolds of the Rowden Community.

United Fund At $4,069

A total of $4,069 has been collected locally for the United Fund. Approximately $650 is still needed to reach the goal set for $4,700.

Representatives of the United Fund are optimistic that the goal will be met. If you have not had an opportunity to contribute to this worthy cause, please make your donations at the Citizens State Bank.

Billie Loving would like to recognize Kathy Chesshir who served as Co-Chairman for the drive. Appreciation is expressed to all who helped in any way from the directors of the United Fund Drive.

GIFT TO JESSICA— Rick Potter wrote a lovely song about Jessica's plight. His creation will benefit her financially.

Cross Plains Man Composes Song For Jessica McClure

By VANDA KING
Editor

Rick Potter of Cross Plains was touched by the tragedy of little Jessica McClure who was trapped in a well at Midland. He was so moved that he composed a song in her honor and the volunteers who worked so diligently to free her.

Having four children of his own, Potter could relate to the fears the parents were experiencing and their hope that she would be recovered.

Potter remarked, "Watching the television broadcasts inspired me with a desire to do something to help. He stated that the cooperation of the volunteers was heartwarming and he felt like the people of Midland should know that others cared.

After Jessica was rescued, he began writing the song from notes he had taken during the episode. He accomplished the feat in 5 hours on Saturday, October 17.

The next day, Sunday, he went to Longhorn Sound Productions of Clyde, owned by Randy McCoy, to show him the song. McCoy felt strong about the touching lyrics.

Jeff Roach, a singer from Mangum,

Oklahoma, was brought in to record "58 Hours for Jessica." Roach records for RCA in Nashville, has performed on the Grand Ole Opry, and has a standing invitation on the Louisiana Hay Ride.

Roach not only sings, but plays every musical instrument recorded. Roach and Potter wrote the music together.

Copies of the song were delivered to all the Midland radio stations and the tune caught on. Since then television appearances on Channel 7 at Midland and Channel 32 at Abilene have promoted its popularity.

Potter wrote the song with the intentions that all the proceeds will benefit Jessica McClure. The more requests for the song, the more financial aid the child will receive.

Cassettes will be available for purchase at Dal-Mar Energy on October 28.

Jeff Roach will perform live on November 12 at the United Way program at Midland in order to raise more funds.

Potter made the statement, "Why do we need a disaster to show our affections to others?" Maybe we will all remember this situation.

Jim Ned Next For Cross Plains Wrecking Crew

By VANDA KING
Editor

The Buffaloes fought a good fight Friday night against the San Saba Armadillos. It was an exciting and close game.

The Armadillos made the first score of the night, leading 7-0.

In the second quarter, Gregg Weiss scored on a quarterback sneak on the 1-yard line and Darin Apple kicked the extra point for a 7-6 lead.

The Buffs made an offside kick and recovered the ball and things were looking up. The Buffaloes made a score, but it was called back on a penalty.

San Saba scored another touchdown before the half to bring the score to 12-7.

The Armadillos remained unbeaten at 5-0 in District 8-2A and Cross Plains is 3-2.

The Buffalo fans sat in the intermittent rain backing the boys and hoping for the victory. They played a good game and I know they could beat them on another occasion.

Jim Ned is the next team to beat on Friday, October 30, at Jim Ned at 7:30 p.m. Let's all make plans to drive over to support the Buffaloes.

Blood Pressure Check Tuesday

The Blood Pressure Clinic will be held at the Cross Plains Multi-Purpose Center on Tuesday, November 3, from 10 to 11 a.m.

Anyone in need of the service is invited to come by. Records are kept of all readings.

Band Gets Division II

By VANDA KING
Editor

The Cross Plains Buffalo Marching Band performed at U.I.L. Marching Contest Saturday evening at Shotwell Stadium in Abilene. The band presented a very sharp routine and secured a II Division rating in the contest. They were 4th place out of eleven bands.

In the 8-2A divisions there were three I Divisions, three II Divisions, three III Divisions, and 2 IV Divisions given.

One of the judges, O.T. Ryan, made this comment, "One of the most effective bands I've heard in a long time." He noted that they just needed more players.

The band performed a precision drill to a drum and bell tune. They played "My Favorite Things" and the flags were featured. They finished the routine with a patriotic "Stars and Stripes" and the presentation of red, white, and blue flags that made chill bumps. The entire audience seemed very receptive to the performance.

The degree of progress made this year has been impressive and the band students and Mr. Taylor certainly deserve the credit.

A large crowd was on hand to cheer the band and raise posters in their support. Taylor said he had never seen so many people come out to back a band program.

Mr. Taylor wanted to express his appreciation for the support demonstrated by the school system, teachers, parents, football team, cheerleaders and other well wishers who came to the performance. Taylor remarked, "Everyone wants a good band and that is so encouraging." He stated that it really felt good to be back in a school where everyone works together as a team, and he appreciated that.

Cross Plains Students To Trick Or Treat For UNICEF Group

If you could save a life, wouldn't you?

A silent emergency of disease and malnutrition is killing 38,500 children in the developing world every day. There is something we can do to help this Halloween, National UNICEF Day by Presidential Proclamation.

The seventh and eighth graders at Cross Plains school are going to be trick-or-treating for UNICEF on Halloween night in an effort to help UNICEF reach its goal of Universal Child Immunization by 1990.

Each year 3.5 million children, enough to extend from New York to Denver, die from preventable diseases, including measles, polio, tuberculosis, and whooping cough. It only costs $5.00 to immunize a child for life.

When a properly identified trick-or-treater knocks at your door this Halloween night, please contribute what you can to help Cross Plains' children help the world's children.

Our students are participating in this activity willingly, knowing their only immediate reward will be the good feeling they get from knowing they have helped someone less fortunate than they. Their long-range reward will be growing up and raising their children in a healthier, happier world.

Bazaar Added To Lord's Acre

The Lord's Acre at the United Methodist Church will feature a table of bazaar-priced items this year. These handmade projects, generally priced under $5, will be available during dinner serving hours at the church.

Members of the Youth groups and Sunday School classes, as well as individuals, are busy making small items to appeal to the entire family. There are a lot of ideas for "stocking stuffers" already showing up.

Profits from this Annual Fall Festival are used for general operating funds for the church. A large portion goes for missions, with smaller amounts being used for building upkeep, program supplies, utilities and youth ministries. A retaining wall has just been completed on the east end of the parking lot with money from last year's event. O.B. Edmondson will again kick off the auction at 7:00 sharp. Assisting him will be Ray Conner, Wade Stevens, and Bobby Golson.

Tickets are now available from any church member for the November 7 turkey dinner. All tickets are $4, as in the past. People are urged to get their tickets as soon as possible, so the amount of food can be more closely planned.

MINUTE MUSINGS

By ESTHLOY S. DICKSON

Minute, as in "small", and musings, as in "meditative."

For all intents and purposes, this is a NEW column as you can see, I'm not easily discouraged.

Now, I will not need to apologize to Ricky Neal or Jerry Cole, and a host of others who have expressed their personal enjoyment in reading "Mrs. Dickson's Column".

I was especially elated last Sunday morning when that sweet Beverly Tatom Ross stated that she looked forward to reading this column each week, bless her heart!

I've lost track of the length of time I've been writing the Pioneer News between two and three years, I guess. I didn't keep copies of my earliest columns. I wish I had!

I want to say, right here, that I sincerely appreciate the beautiful cooperation of my good neighbors.

When I heard on TV that this is the 60th Anniversary of the famous Lindbergh flight, I recalled that I was a sophomore in College at the time.

We were alerted that the colonel would be flying into Dallas and Fort Worth, and that he would fly over Denton. Our classes were dismissed, and soon some 200 girls in white uniforms were out on the grounds to see him.

When he "buzzed" the Campus, our Dean of Women jumped up and down, squealed and waved her little hanky. She was sincerely thrilled, and was proud of his salute to our school.

Bob and Sue McNeil of Baird visited Bobby and Sally Roady on Thursday evening. They played "42" and had a lot of fun. Joe and Beverly Roady of Brownwood visited on Saturday. They had dinner with Ms. Nettie on Sunday, celebrated her birthday.

On Thursday of last week, Mr. C.T. Barton of Pioneer visited with J.T. Beggs for awhile. On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Smith of Fort Worth came in, will spend a few days. They will be working a field of peanuts.

James Henry Brown of Fort Worth spent last Saturday here with his mother, Mrs. Ethel Brown. Her other visitors were Marie Panckake of Pioneer, Lou Grider of Cross Plains, and Ms. Helen Tillotson, her close neighbor, on Sunday.

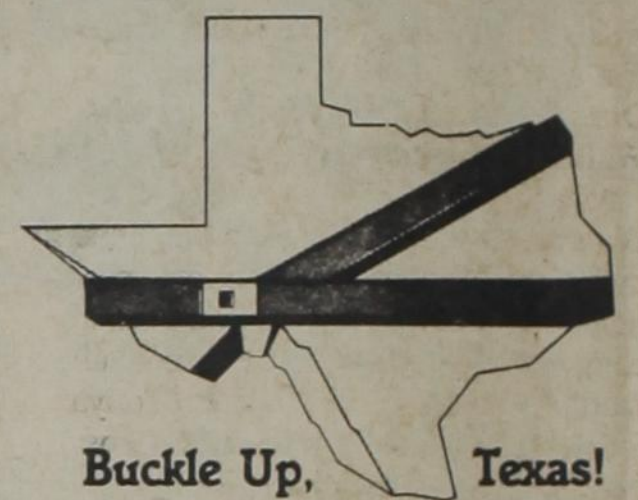

I called Mrs. Tillotson. I knew they had been away from home for quite some time. In fact, they were gone five weeks, they traveled 5,000 miles. They visited friends and relatives in Georgia, North Carolina, Illinois, and Iowa. She said there were "highlights" in every state. They visited a daughter, Colene Tillotson, in Barstow, California.

Please, sweet neighbors, call me any time and let me know when you have news for this column. I need you, I love!

ROWDEN NEWS

By MRS. N.V. GIBBS

Sunday was the last weekend of October and yards are covered with fallen leaves, soon frost will be here to remind us of winter.

Sprinkles of rain fell in the area, but not enough to water the grain fields.

Irene Masters of Snyder drove her parents, Gene and Vernie Belle Mauldin, to Temple last Monday where Gene underwent tests at Scott and White Clinic. Their other daughter, Marjorie Brown, of San Antonio met them there. They came home Tuesday afternoon, but returned to Temple Thursday for a report. He is now on medication and they hope he will soon be feeling better. Visitors in their home during the week were Rev. Robert Sutton, his wife, Becky, and their three children, Robbie, Rachel, and Regan of Baird. Blain Odom also visited Gene on Monday.

Carl and Mable Mauldin returned to their home in Rogers, Arkansas after spending part of last week in the Gene Mauldin home. Roland and Faye Mauldin, their son, Kenneth and his friend, Stacy Jinkens, of Abilene also visited in the home last week. Other visitors last Sunday were Bill and Dorothy Cason and her mother, Mrs. Walker, all of Baird.

Meridith Odom, along with Cody Watson and Judy Dye, were band members of the Baird school participating in U.I.L. Marching Band competition held at the Shotwell Stadium Saturday in Abilene. Tonya Steele participated with the Cross Plains band in the same event.

Dorothy Reynolds, Joyce Odom, Edna Dye, and this writer attended the funeral of Loreta Lutzenberger in Cross Plains Tuesday afternoon.

Nell and Gundy Gunderson of Minneapolis, Minnesota arrived Wednesday afternoon to visit in the Sterling Odom and Claribel Gibbs homes.

They had spent a week with their son, Barry Gunderson and family in Gambier, Ohio and from here will stop in Marble Falls for visits with friends before going on to McAllen where they will spend the winter.

Vernie Belle Mauldin was a recent visitor of her daughter-in-law, Betty Mauldin, and her mother, LaRue Reeves, in Abilene.

Emma Johnson reported only two visitors this week, but the week before, Nellie Arrington of Stephenville stopped for a visit with her two sons, Tommy and Carol Burks, of Abilene.

Sterling and Joyce Odom, Gundy and Nell Gunderson and this writer were in Baird Friday for a family reunion in the home of a cousin, Nila Towler. Also present were her brother, Leonard Appleton, of Deming, New Mexico and her sister, Lois Bounds of Alpine, and an aunt, Faye White, of Baird. Also Roy Bryant of Baird. It was a day spent in renewing family ties as some had not seen each other in 40 years or more.

Visitors at the Community Center supper and games Saturday night were Bill and Jane Coots of Clyde; Glen and Ruthie Lawrence and daughter, Tamara of Elmdale; Dale, Curtis and Velma Springfield of Azle; and Gundy and Nell Gunderson. The meal and games were enjoyed by all attending.

Those stopping by the N.V. Gibbs home Saturday afternoon to visit with Gundy and Nell Gunderson were Jenny Trevey and children, David, Scott, and Jennifer of Snyder, and Ivon Odom of Pioneer. Friday night visitors were Judy Steele and children, Bill and Connie Steele. Also Curtis and Velma Springfield of Azle.

Postmaster Announces Holiday Mailing Dates

For those with relatives in the armed services stationed overseas, and those who wish to mail holiday greetings and packages to others living in foreign countries, now is the time to plan for holiday mailings, according to Cross Plains Postmaster, Joe Hanke.

"Parcels sent to military personnel in Far East, South, and East Asia have to be mailed by October 16 if shipped by surface mail, the least expensive form of shipment," said Postmaster Hanke.

"November is the month when most parcels shipped via Parcel Airlift Mail (PAL) should be sent," added Postmaster Hanke. "PAL packages are airlifted domestically to a gateway facility, then airlifted on a space available basis from the gateway to the APO (Army or Air Force Post Office)."

Packages up to 30 pounds and 60 inches in combined length and girth may be sent by PAL. Mailers pay the regular Parcel Post rate to the U.S. exit port or from the port of entry, plus a fee for air service. The air service fee is 30 cents for parcels weighing two pounds or less, 60 cents for two to three pounds, 90 cents for three to four pounds, and $1.20 for four to 30 pounds.

November mailers can also ship military parcels by Space Available Mail (SAM). Items shipped by SAM are transported by surface means in the contiguous 48 states and flown on a space available basis from the U.S. to the overseas destination or from the overseas destination to the U.S.

Packages up to 15 pounds and 60 inches in combined length and girth may be sent by SAM for regular Parcel Post rates to the U.S. exit port or from the U.S. port of entry.

When mailed from a military post office outside the 48 contiguous states, the weight of any piece cannot be more than 70 pounds and the size cannot exceed 100 inches in length and girth combined.

Treasures Of Truth

"Flee fornication. Every sin that a man doeth is without the body; but he that committeth fornication sinneth against his own body. (1 Cor. 6:18).

Whether adulterer, fornicator or a so-called gay, all involve sinful illicit sexual relationships with another. A base and grievous sin against ones own body; for below standards of decent human life. A flagrant disrespect for the Holy will of God.

Nothing can cheapen and degrade a person young or old more than illicit sex with another. If you are single, be true to God and yourself and wait until you are married. You won't ever regret it.

If you are married, be true to God and your mate. "Marriage is honorable in all, and the bed undefiled: but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge." (Heb. 13:4)

Boo!

By REGIE BROWN

Around town you may have noticed a few stores and the school getting prepared for Halloween. Well, there is another "group" that is also getting prepared for Halloween. This "group", of course is the seniors at Cross Plains High School.

The seniors again this year, are planning a very successful Halloween carnival. It is to be held at the skating rink located on Main Street in Cross Plains, same as last year.

There are to be a number of different booths at the carnival. These booths include: the football throw, basketball toss, balloon shave, water balloon throw, the "jail", pie throw, treasure hunt, lucky duck, go-fishing, face painting, bobbing for apples, cake walk, and the famed "haunted" house.

The Halloween Carnival will be held this Saturday, October 31st. It will start at 6 p.m. and close at 10 p.m. The Haunted House will start at 10:30 p.m. Admission to the Carnival will be $1.25 for adults and .75 cents for students.

There will also be a "best costume" contest at the Carnival in which the winner will be recognized at 7 p.m.

Another event of the carnival is the crowning of the Halloween King and Queen, which will take place at 7 p.m. also. The candidates are as follows:

- For Queen:
 Lori Bishop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Bishop.
 April Potter, daughter of Tommy and Connie Potter.
 Lindy Merryman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Merryman.
 Brandi Richey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Richey.
 Randee Wren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Wren.
For King:
 Clint Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robby Bailey.
 Seth Potter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Potter.
 Kyle McClure, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike McClure, Jr.
 Coby Richards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Monty Richards.
 Jaden Winfrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Winfrey.

There are only 3 more days left to "vote" for your favorite candidates. You vote by making a donation to one of the jars with the candidate's picture on it. These jars are in various businesses around Cross Plains.

Hamburgers will also be available at the Carnival. The Senior Class invites everyone to come enjoy the evening at the Carnival.

Seniors Take ASVAB Test

By DARLENE HINESLEY

On Monday, October 19, two representatives from the Army came to Cross Plains High School to give the Seniors yet another test.

This test was the Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery (more commonly known as the ASVAB). The test was given to all the Seniors in the high school library, running from first period to fourth period.

The test is given to Seniors all over the United States. It is designed to give the students an idea in what career areas they may have a certain aptitude. The test is free and is given as a public service by the military.

The results of the career-oriented test will be back in 2 to 3 months.

James Alexander Joins Cross Plains Staff

The Cross Plains I.S.D. School Board in a recent meeting hired James Alexander to teach half day at the high school. He is taking over the classes that were being taught by the late Coach Bill McKinney.

Mr. Alexander is well known in the Cross Plains community and to the school system. He is actually "retired" from education, but obviously he couldn't resist the temptation to teach again. He had retired as principal at Rising Star High School at the end of the 1986-87 school year. His wife, Jean Alexander, retired two years ago as second grade teacher at Cross Plains.

His classes will include two Senior government classes and a Sophomore health class. He started back to work on Wednesday, October 21.

FFA Elects 1987-88 Officers

Thursday, October 22, the Cross Plains Future Homemakers of America met for a short meeting after lunch. The purpose of the meeting was to elect officers.

According to Julia Wheeler, FHA sponsor, the officers for this year are: President Kami Hargrove (Junior); Vice-President Beverly Weiss (Junior); Secretary Pam Strength (Junior); and FHA Beau Curtis Wyatt (Junior).

More Pictures Taken At Cross Plains

Miller Studio from Stephenville will be at Cross Plains again on Thursday, October 29. The photographer was at Cross Plains last week to take various group pictures. Tomorrow he will be taking "re-takes" of school pictures, and high school band pictures, Student Council, FHA, and FFA groups. Other groups such as basketball, track, etc., are scheduled for later in the year.

Concerning the "re-takes," notes were sent home Monday, October 26, with the information.

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin—Wall Street's rapid recovery made up some ground on $2 billion worth of paper losses on state assets last week.

Managers of state government trust funds said they were shielded by long-term diversified strategies.

Meanwhile, State Comptroller Bob Bullock put his analysts to work in an effort to spot any indirect effect of the market's plunge on state revenues.

Officials said despite the initial 22 percent plunge in the Dow Jones industrial average, losses were held to about five percent, much of which was regained in the ensuing recovery.

They pointed out that, in most cases, dividend payments were remaining steady.

Bullock's office said his forecast all along has been based on a modest economic recovery.

Whether a national recession will lead Texas to fare better or worse than other states is a question that cannot be answered now, but some predict the battered oil industry would provide a powerful shield.

Bullock vs. Alwin

Bullock last week accused State Auditor Lawrence Alwin of overstepping his authority in recommending the comptroller push for legislation to scrap or restrict the incentive for businesses to turn in tax collections on time.

In response to a draft report recommending the "timely filer discount" be eliminated or capped at a certain dollar amount, Bullock is seeking an opinion from Attorney General Jim Mattox on whether the auditor can direct a state official to seek changes in state law.

The provision, in effect since the sales tax was enacted in 1961, permits businesses to keep one-half of one percent of collections if they remit them on time.

The draft audit says the discount cost the state $36 million in fiscal 1987, and that $7.6 million was lost due to the advance payment provision.

House Speaker Gib Lewis defended the auditor's actions. "Part of the auditor's duty is to make recommendations to every state agency," he said.

Not in Sync

Some observe the price of oil did not fall over 20 percent in conjunction with the stocks, while others point out the Texas economy is driven by fluctuations in the commodities market, not highs and lows in the national economy.

An SMU economist said commodity prices could actually come back in oil, gold, silver and foodstuffs.

Certainly, Texas isn't immune. But the severe downturn that Texans have been going through was fueled by the international petroleum market, not the national market.

Mexican Oil Slick

Petroleum side effects not expected to harm Texas were the 3,000 barrels of oil a day gushing from a Mexican national oil company well in the Bay of Campeche.

Coast Guard officials said the 60-mile-long oil slick was moving west to Vera Cruz but was not expected to hit Texas beaches.

The well is some 500 miles south of Brownsville, and prevailing currents should sweep any northbound slicks out to sea.

Border Waste Policy

State Sen. Judith Zaffirini, D-Laredo, wants the state to pursue a uniform policy on toxic and radioactive wastes.

Zaffirini is concerned with public transportation of such waste between Texas and Mexico, considering the on-going efforts to locate low-level radioactive waste dumps in South Texas.

She and other state officials have been working with the Texas congressional delegation to eliminate raw sewage from the Rio Grande.

A bill passed in the House last week allows the U. S. to enter into an effort with Mexico to clean up the river, but awaits specific funding.

Mattox Fights PUC Rule

After returning from his trip to the Soviet Union, Mattox vowed to fight a ruling which prohibits his intervention in utility rate cases.

The Public Utility Commission barred the attorney general from representing state agencies in rate cases, saying it conflicted with his interest in defending the commission in lawsuits about its rate decisions.

Mattox verbally ripped the PUC's newest member, Marta Greytok, as a Republican who doesn't know very much about the rate-making process.

Greytok had singled out Mattox, a consumer-oriented Democrat, for criticism when the decision was handed down.

The PUC contends that state agencies can still be represented without Mattox by using in-house or outside lawyers, and commissioners pointed out that Mattox has also been barred from intervening in cases before the Railroad Commission and State Board of Insurance.

Mattox has asked the State Supreme Court to overturn the decision.

Callahan County Soil Conservation Service Funds

Cost-share funds are now available and applications are being taken to carry out conservation measures in Callahan County. The Soil Conservation Service office in Baird recently received notice that their Area Office in Stephenville had been allocated $200,000.00 for the Great Plains Conservation Program and $20,000.00 for the Watershed/Critical Area Treatment Program for the first quarter of the 1988 fiscal year. The cost-share funds are made available through Land Treatment-Long Term Contracts (LT-LTC's) administered by the Soil Conservation Service, stated Steve Usselton, District Conservationist in Baird.

The LT-LTC (Long Term Contract) covers conservation practices installed either in the Great Plains Conservation Program or the Watershed/Critical Area Treatment Program. A LTC is in force for a minimum of 3 to a maximum of 10 years and the maximum government cost-share is limited to $35,000.00. A LTC requires that the participants carry out the prescribed conservation measures with his or her own resources or contract for the work to be done. The local Soil Conservation Service office in Baird cooperating with the Callahan Divide Soil and Water Conservation District will provide technical assistance when requested for developing plans and assist in installing scheduled conservation practices.

Operators participating in the Great Plains Conservation Program may receive cost-share assistance for such practices as cross-fences, ponds, brush management, grassed waterways, terraces, diversions, livestock water wells and pipelines, and for critical area shaping and grass plantings. These practices will be cost-shared at a rate ranging from 50 to 75% of the actual cost to install the practice. Operators participating in the Watershed/Critical Area Treatment Program may receive cost-share assistance on such practices as Critical Area Shaping and Vegetating, Diversions, Fencing, and Grade Stabilization Structures. These practices are cost shared at the rate of 80%. The Great Plains Conservation Program is available to anyone who operates agricultural land in Callahan County but the Watershed/Critical Area Treatment is only available to those who operate land within the Colorado River Watershed, (basically the southern half of the county.) Two years of proper management are required following the installation of practices to ensure adequate establishment of the practices. Cost-sharing is limited to installing permanent conservation practices such as those previously mentioned.

Another program which local landowners and operators may participate in is the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP). The CRP is part of the 1985 Food Security Act and enables landowners to plant highly erodible cropland fields to grass and receive 50% cost-share for the practice installation. Following establishment of the grass the landowner leases the planted acreage to the government for a period of 10 years in which it will lay idle. The landowner may ease the land for hunting also but no use may be made of the land such as hay harvesting, livestock grazing, or commercial seed harvesting. The current annual least payment is $35.00 per acre per year in Callahan County.

These and other programs and assistance are available through the local Soil Conservation Service office in Baird and the Callahan Divide Soil and Water Conservation District. The services are available to anyone regardless of race, creed, color, sex, religion or national origin.

For additional information or assistance contact the local SCS office in Baird at 854-1349 or call a representative of the local Soil and Water Conservation District.

Card of Thanks
Elmer and I want to let all of our beautiful friends know how much your expressions of love on our 64th Anniversary and Elmer's birthday meant to us. All of the cards, gifts, and your presence with us on our "special day," we will cherish forever. So accept our "thank you" with our love from the bottom of our hearts.
Elmer and Mattie Peavy

Card of Thanks
Words are not adequate enough to express our appreciation for the kindness and concern shown to us because of the death of our loved one. The flowers, food, calls, visits, and prayers helped us bear this time of sorrow. A special thanks to Mattie Faye Wilson and Vondean Hutchins who provided the music to the Ladies at the First Baptist Church, and to Bro. Michael Hale for the service and visits.
May God Bless You

Card of Thanks
We wish to express our appreciation to friends who sent beautiful get well cards, for visits to the hospital, and to those who showed their concern in other ways. One can never have too many friends.
A special thank you goes to the E.M.S. God Bless each of you.
Mrs. Kathryn Morris

Card of Thanks
We would like to take this means to thank the Cross Plains Fire Department for the great job they did, when Mrs. Ed Petty's house caught on fire. They were at the scene within 5 minutes after the call was made. Also, the ladies (take a bow Balinda & Cheryl) were very helpful. They were responsible for cleaning up after the firemen, and they did a fine job, too.
We hope that no one has an occasion to need them, but if you do, you are in excellent hands.
Mrs. Ed Petty
Eddie and Dorothy
Hubert and Sis

Card Of Thanks
We would like to express our sincere appreciation to our dear friends for each expression of sympathy extended to us since the loss of our loved one.
Your thoughtfulness will long be remembered.

The family of Josie Morris acknowledges with grateful appreciation the prayers, food, cards, calls, all love and concern of those friends and neighbors during the lonely hours of sorrow. Thank you, God, for friends and for the touch of your hand that lifts us up and carries us through these lonely days.
Thanks to all those at the Rising Star Nursing Center that has helped us with Josie and to all those that visited with her from time to time to help make her last days brighter. You are all great. Thank you.

Free Show Coming Soon

It won't be long until Circus day is here. The staff of Franzen Bros. Circus, invite everyone to come and watch as the Callahan County Sheriff's Posse Rodeo Grounds is transformed right before your eyes, into an enchanting land of make believe.

Approximately 8 a.m. the Circus trucks will be arriving. Each truck designed to function at an unusual task, or to transport unique cargo. Part of the crew goes to work immediately, stretching canvas across the grounds, as a separate crew begins to unload, feed, and water the Circus Menagerie.

Once you have an eyeful of the Circus Zoo, you might enjoy watching as the massive tent poles begin to push the canvas high into the air. Hey, I know who that is helping those men with that tent pole. It's Okha, the Circus Elephant. Helping to put the Circus Tent up, is one of Okha's jobs. This is definitely something you don't want to miss.

Does this all sound to unusual to be true? Some say it's impossible. Some say it's magic. Whatever the case, you are invited to gather up your family, bring your camera, and watch in amazement, as th Circus comes to life in your town, on Friday, October 30, 1987.

Constitutional Amendments Review

By Rodney S. Lewallen,
Chief Appraiser
Callahan County Appraisal District

The 1987 sessions of the regular and called 70th State Legislature proposed 28 constitutional amendments, seven of which will affect the property taxes we pay here in Callahan County. These seven amendments will appear on the November 3rd ballot. The following is a brief synopsis of these amendments and a few of the arguments for and against each.

Amendment #2 proposes to raise the maximum tax rate that a rural fire prevention district may levy after an election of its voters.

For: The current three cent maximum levy is inadequate for some rural areas with large populations and since voter approval is necessary voters may limit the amounts of any proposed increases.

Against: Higher taxes will increase the overall tax burdens of taxpayers in these districts and the law would apply only to the six most populous counties and therefore would not provide any relief to truly rural fire districts.

Note: There are currently no rural fire prevention districts in existence in Callahan County.

Amendment #3 proposes to limit school tax increases on the residence homestead of the surviving spouse of an elderly person (over 65).

For: This law would prohibit a sudden and possibly large school tax increase on the residence homestead of a widowed person under age 65 but of retirement age.

Against: This proposed law was not written to consider such events as remarriage of the widowed spouse or sharing of the home with another wage earner. Considering the current financial strain on our schools due to limited availability of state funds, any tax break not based on ability to pay may be inappropriate.

Amendment #10 proposes to exempt from taxation certain personal property not used to produce income; ie boats, aircraft, and recreational vehicles.

For: The administration of property taxes on boats, etc. is extremely inaccurate and inequitable. Those craft registered within the county would be taxed while others may escape taxation and since this type property is movable it is difficult to locate and appraise accurately.

Against: Exemptions from property taxes shift the tax burden to business and home owners. This exemption represents a regressive tax policy since those with the most expensive aircraft or yachts would benefit the most.

Note: Callahan County has not taxed these items in recent years past. The appraisal district put plans for placing these items on the tax roll in 1987 on hold until the outcome of the upcoming election.

Amendment #11 relates to the exemption from taxation of certain goods and products that are imported from out of state and leave the state within 175 days.

For: This free port exemption would allow the state to compete with other neighboring states that allow this exemption and the jobs and revenue added from capital improvements would more than offset the taxes lost through this exemption.

Against: This exemption may not be fair to other businesses who do not import materials or goods or to businesses that use materials originating within the state. These businesses would continue to pay property taxes while the exempted businesses would enjoy the same benefits and services without paying their fair share of the tax burden.

Amendment #13 creates emergency medical service districts and allows them to levy a property tax to subsidize their services.

For: This would give all areas of the state the ability to provide emergency medical services, especially rural areas.

Against: This amendment would add to the already numerous special districts allowed to levy property taxes such as water districts, junior college districts, etc and would add to the already heavy tax burden.

Amendment #18 authorizes the creation of jail districts and financing them through property tax levies.

For: The state is under federal court order to reduce overcrowding in our state penitentiary system and turning over facilities built under this amendment to be run by county jail districts may help alleviate this condition. The law would allow several counties to cooperate in financing these facilities.

Against: This would create yet another special taxing district and because there is no limit on the amount of tax that could be imposed by the voters, it is conceivable that a large tax could be levied in a county with a large number of voters who are not property owners and would not share in the tax burden. These jail districts would actually do little to solve the overcrowding problem since they would not house felony prisoners.

Amendment #20 would exempt from taxation certain offshore drilling equipment that is not in use.

For: This would encourage storage of idle drilling rigs in Texas, providing some business and jobs in areas where they are stored and would provide needed tax relief to the oil industry when prices and drilling activities are low.

Against: Even in hard economic times, the oil industry should bear the same burden as other businesses in continuing to support our schools and local taxing authorities. In addition, the benefits of exempting drilling rigs while still taxing refineries and other oil related installations would be insignificant and would not provide any meaningful relief to the oil industry.

These amendments will appear on your November 3rd ballot along with many others. I believe that the democratic form of government is only as effective as the voter that is willing to inform himself, make up his own mind, and then vote. See you at the polls November 3rd!

Nobody asked, but...

Dear Coach Landry,

Mr. Tom Landry
Head Coach Dallas Cowboys
In The Cellar
NFC Eastern Division

Dear Coach Landry,

We are writing this letter because, frankly, we are very concerned about you. Now while there may be a great many reasons for us to be concerned about your future in football, we are concerned about your continued opposition to legalized pari-mutuel betting in Texas.

Tom, we have just read where you are a part of a group called 'Texans Who Care', which is opposed to legalizing betting in Texas. Recently your group sponsored a talk by some guy named Zig Zigar who told his audience all sorts of horror stories about bringing betting to Texas.

First of all Tom, we don't think you should be associating with anybody named 'Zig' in the first place. Secondly, this guy doesn't have a clue about what he's talking about. He is more confused than your offense.

This guy Zig talks about how racing will abuse animals, invite organized crime, loan sharking, drug abuse and wife abuse. Where does this guy get this stuff?

Now Tom, it is our guess that you have spent as much time around race tracks and racing people as we have around in your locker room. Just where do you get off taking a stand against something you know absolutely nothing about? That would be like us telling you what plays to run. (By the way you should go long more often).

You say that gambling is immoral. Geez Tom, how much money do you think is bet on football games every Sunday. If they do get pari-mutuel betting in Texas, any track would be happy to do a fraction of what is bet on the Cowboys every week.

And this stuff about abusing animals. Hey Tom, how many human knees have you watched being injected with cortisone in your life? And this junk about horse racing leading to immorality. We hate to bring this up Tom, but who's kicking field goals for you this year?

If you want to find immorality Tom, just take a walk through your locker room. You've got your old field goal kicker out because of child abuse, you've got your old linebacker Hollywood Henderson writing books about his drug abusing days and your old lineman Harvey Martin, who stole $64,000 from his mother! Now racing people may have their faults but we don't steal from our mothers.

And as far as racing leading to wife abuse. How many wives do you think have had a Coors can bounced off their head because they walked in front of the set during a big Sunday game?

Tom, horse racing is a great game, believe us. Just ask your boss Tex Schramm. He owns a quarter horse.

We're worried about you Tom. As we write this you are 0-1 after blowing a game to the St. Louis Cardinals. I mean Tom come on, the St. Louis Cardinals?

Tom, take it from us, go back to coaching and let people who know what they're talking about decide the pari-mutuel issue in Texas. From the looks of your team, you've got a full time job right there in Dallas.

Your friends,
